ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Proposition A will give city and county workers a basic right. It will give them the same right that workers in other large counties and cities have had for years: the right to bargain with their employer for benefits. Benefits such as a family health plan, dental coverage, life insurance, and disability insurance.

This basic right will give workers and their families a measure of security. It will bring labor relations in San Francisco up to date. And because a secure worker is likely to be more satisfied with the job, it will slow turnover among public workers. And that means a better-run city.

Give city workers a fair deal. Vote yes on Proposition A.

Honorable Art Agnos
Member, California State Assembly

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

A vote for PROPOSITION “A” is a vote to keep San Francisco great!

It is a vote to keep public employees from leaving San Francisco for cities where they can bargain for such basic benefits as dental coverage, family health plans, life insurance and disability insurance.

A vote for PROPOSITION “A” will keep San Francisco’s best, most productive, and hardest-working public employees in San Francisco. It will help our city run more efficiently, and it will help our city get, and keep, the best workers available.

Vote for a hard-working government. Vote YES on PROPOSITION “A”.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

San Francisco is falling behind the times in its treatment of public employees.

Every major county in California, except San Francisco, bargains with its public employees for basic benefits. As a result, some of our best public employees have begun looking elsewhere. And it’s harder to attract bright, talented workers when other cities and counties appear to offer better conditions.

Better public employees make a better city government, and that makes for a more pleasant city for everyone.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

A vote for Proposition A is a vote for a better-run City.

Proposition A will attract the hardest-working, most dedicated and talented workers to San Francisco. And it will keep them here.

Proposition A locks the City into nothing. If negotiations are unsuccessful, then any benefits for public employees would still go before the voters.

Proposition A will benefit everyone — especially the taxpayers of San Francisco.

Vote for good city government and help keep San Francisco great. Vote yes on Proposition A.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

During my years as Chief of Police and as a member of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors, I learned the great responsibility city managers have to attract and retain skilled, dedicated workers.

PROPOSITION A will provide city managers with more flexibility to do just that. We will all profit by more effective delivery of services and more efficient city government.

We cannot afford to lose the best police officers and fire fighters. Let’s hold our city managers accountable for the quality of service to taxpayers.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

To keep local government running smoothly, San Francisco needs good people working for it.

It needs people who are talented, well-trained and well-versed in their duties. Satisfied workers stay in their jobs. And an experienced workforce knows how to get things done, and get them done efficiently.

PROPOSITION “A” will help San Francisco maintain such a workforce by giving employees what almost all public employees have: the right to bargain for job benefits. Basic benefits such as dental plans and family health coverage. PROPOSITION “A” will attract the brightest, hardest-working public employees to the greatest city in the world, San Francisco. And it will keep them here!

Vote for good local government. Vote YES on PROPOSITION “A”.

Wendy Nelder
President, SF Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

San Francisco lacks what businesses everywhere regard as a responsible, worthwhile practice: bargaining for job benefits with its employees for basic benefits, such as a family health plan, dental coverage, and insurance in case of death or disability.

Proposition A doesn’t give public employees these benefits, but it does give them the right to bargain for them. In the event the city and its employees reach no agreement, the final decision would be left up to the voters. Proposition A does not obligate the city to spend any extra on public employees.

Proposition A is a much-needed reform to modernize San Francisco’s labor relations. Now and in the long run, Proposition A is unquestionably in the city’s best interests. Because the best workers go to the best jobs.

Getting and keeping the best public employees helps maintain the quality of San Francisco’s basic services — services such as transportation, police and fire protection, and city planning. A more efficient work force means less waste. And that saves the taxpayers money.

Support a well-run San Francisco. Vote yes on Proposition A.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Every city needs dedicated, hard-working police officers and fire fighters.

San Francisco is no exception. To attract and retain the finest public servants, San Francisco must not lag behind other cities in providing an attractive job atmosphere.

Police and firemen can bargain for benefits in virtually every major U.S. city. We cannot afford to have our fine police and fire departments gutted by deflections to these cities.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

PROPOSITION “A” will give San Francisco much needed flexibility in negotiating with public employee unions.

PROPOSITION “A” would not obligate the city to pay public employees any more than they are paid now. It could even save the city money. PROPOSITION “A” would enable local government to explore new proposals.

PROPOSITION “A” would not lead to binding contract negotiations. If the city and employees reach an impasse, the ultimate decision on benefits would still rest with the voters.

PROPOSITION “A” gives away nothing. It could save the city money, and that means it could save taxpayers money, too!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Public employees in San Francisco are denied a basic right. It’s the right to bargain with their employer for benefits. Public employees lack health coverage for their families, dental plans, and life insurance. And they can’t negotiate with the city to get them.

Proposition A will give public employees that right. And ultimately, Proposition A could save the city, and taxpayers, money. If the city pays for some preventive health care, we all avoid the far greater cost to society of expensive hospital treatment.

Nothing in Proposition A forces the city to spend more on public employees. If negotiations are unsuccessful, the ultimate decision on employee benefits still lies with the voters.

But by giving public employees the right to bargain with the city, Proposition A will keep the best city workers here in San Francisco. Those workers will have no incentive to leave for other cities, cities that already allow bargaining for benefits. And a more talented and dedicated public sector helps everyone in the long run, because an efficient city runs more cheaply.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Vote Yes on Proposition A. Right now, the men and women who work for San Francisco City and County are unable to protect their families adequately because they have no family health insurance. Lost time off the job, and loss in service to the taxpayers, is the result.

Proposition A will enable the City to correct this deficiency, but does not require it to do so. In the long run it’s fair, and it will mean a better City for all of us.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

PROPOSITION “A” will help San Francisco city services grow as the city does.

San Francisco’s police must be the best available to keep our neighborhoods safe. Its fire fighters must be dedicated and hardworking, and all city and county workers must be satisfied that San Francisco is the best city possible to work in.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Imagine if your boss told you that bargaining for basic job benefits was out of the question because the law wouldn’t allow it.

Imagine if you had to pay for your family’s health care and your dental treatment out of your own pocket. Public employees in San Francisco know what it’s like to have a job that doesn’t cover these costly services.

Proposition A would give public employees the right to bargain with the city for these benefits. It would let them bargain for their security, and for the security of their families.

Every major county in California gives public employees this right. So do most major U.S. cities. It’s time San Francisco did, too. Vote yes on Proposition A.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Vote Yes on A for more effective delivery of services to San Francisco neighborhoods.

Improved City service for our neighborhoods is our top priority. To get good service, you have to provide standard benefits.

We urge a Yes vote on Proposition A because the time has come to upgrade service to our neighborhoods.

Reverend Cecil Williams

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

How would you feel if you and your family were not covered by health insurance?
Basic benefits such as a family health plan, dental coverage, life insurance and disability. You might worry about your future.

All San Franciscans should be worried about their future — the future of their city government. For San Francisco does not even give its public employees the right to bargain for these basic benefits. And the best public employees, the most talented, will be considering cities and counties where the jobs are more attractive, where they have the right to bargain for benefits.

Proposition A can keep San Francisco from falling behind other cities. Proposition A would not force the city to pay any money. But it would give it flexibility in negotiating with city workers. And those workers would be able to bargain for benefits. If an impasse occurred, the last word would still belong with the voters.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

San Francisco is in danger of allowing its public sector workforce to deteriorate.

San Francisco is one of the few great cities of the United States in denying its public employees the privilege of bargaining for job benefits. San Francisco is falling behind the cities that give workers this privilege, because these cities can offer public employees more attractive working conditions. Our best public servants are beginning to look elsewhere.

Proposition A does not obligate the city to pay any sum of money. But it would elevate San Francisco back among the leaders in its relations with public employees.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

I strongly urge you to vote NO on Proposition “A”.

This Charter Amendment circumvents all existing Charter sections that would permit you, the voter, to approve all new costly employee fringe benefits. Instead, the Board of Supervisors would be permitted to “collectively bargain” for any and all benefits and working conditions, including life insurance, disability insurance, and a dental plan for more than 24,000 employees.

This Charter Amendment can and will cost you, the voters, literally, tens of millions of dollars — and very fast.

You will lose your present right to vote on each benefit.

Proposals for fringe benefits should be submitted to the voters one at a time, and I am prepared to do just that. Pay and benefits for our employees should be comparable with surrounding counties, many of which already provide dental coverage and life and disability insurance. Proposition “A” would open wholesale the floodgates to increased costs while removing your and my basic right to know and control these costs. This Amendment not only would open up all fringe benefits for miscellaneous workers, but also for Police, Fire and Municipal Railway employees. Its costs could exceed $25 million in just a year or two.

Frankly, as Mayor, I cannot continue to recommend budgets to expand your library, police, park, health and social services unless I have some say in controlling the size and timing of large pay and fringe benefit packages.

This Amendment makes prudent budgeting much more difficult, and will increase your costs dramatically in unprecedented ways.

So, keep your basic right to vote on employee fringe benefits and to know their costs before you are saddled with the bills.

Vote NO on Proposition “A”.

Dianne Feinstein

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION A

In 1975 and 1976, San Francisco voters finally achieved some control over runaway salaries and compensation benefits for city employees and give-away supervisors. A number of Charter reforms were adopted. Now, there is a threat one such reform will be repealed unless you vote “NO” on Proposition A.

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION A

Non-salary benefits for city employees are now set by Charter. Voter approval is required for any increased or new benefits. Proposition A would deprive voters of their right to say “yes” or “no” to higher or new benefits for city employees.

The Civil Service Commission does not recommend Proposition A. The head of civil service also recommended no endorsement. The Controller said to the Board of Supervisors on March 5, 1984 that this could substantially affect the cost of government, meaning in his own words, at least $500,000 per year in higher costs to taxpayers. The manager of civil service also said on March 5th that Proposition A will “open up the world” on non-salary benefits. In fact, it will eliminate voter review power over 22 different charter compensation benefit provisions. The Employee Relations Division of the Board of Supervisors states its operating costs would in effect be increased 75% if Proposition A passes.

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION A

Don’t let the Board of Supervisors eliminate your power over people who work for you. Don’t let the Board add to taxpayer burdens. Vote “NO” on Proposition A and maintain stable and equitable salary and non-salary benefits for our employees.

Supervisor Quentin L. Kopp
Employee Benefit Formula

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

Vote No on Proposition A. Presently only the voters of San Francisco determine the fringe benefit package for City Civil Service employees. Proposition A will allow City Civil Service employees to negotiate their own benefit package.

In the mid 1970's, after experiencing a series of major City employee strikes resulting from unresolved labor negotiations, the voters approved a formula system for setting employee salaries.

By opening fringe benefits to negotiations, the City treasury will be vulnerable to unspecific and unidentified costs which cannot be predetermined. This is financially unsound.

John H. Jacobs
San Francisco Chamber of Commerce

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

Whose economic judgement do you trust the most? The City’s voters and taxpayers who currently must APPROVE and PAY for new fringes, or the historically SPAGHETTI-SPINED Board of Supervisors?

Giving this power to pusillanimous past Boards proved to be a municipal DISASTER! How do you think we got HIDDEN fringe costs HIGHER for some City employees than their base pay check?

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION A

I authored or co-authored all of the city employee benefit reforms of 1975-76. Now, Supervisor Molinari, in an election year give-away, has introduced Proposition A which will undo the Charter reforms you approved overwhelmingly. Reforms which kept our city from insolvency and even higher taxes.

This measure would allow the Board of Supervisors to repeat the fiscal blunders of the 1960’s by providing additional compensation benefits over and above salary increases, even if voters have rejected such compensation benefits.

Dental benefits are but one of many examples. Voters have disapproved them twice since 1977; under Proposition A, voters won’t have power anymore to approve or disapprove such benefits in the future. The Board of Supervisors ballot argument is intellectually dishonest. It never once tells you that your power over city employee non-salary compensation will be lost if Proposition A passes.

Despite the significant additional costs referred to in the contractor’s statement, Supervisor Molinari with union prodding, got the Board of Supervisors to put this on the ballot. Why? Because self-serving Supervisors like Molinari can’t stand up to special interest pressure, especially in an election year.

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Police officers are paid for a 40-hour week. The pay is the same whether these hours are worked during the daytime or at night.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition B says that police officers who work between 5 p.m. and 7 a.m. will get an extra 6.25% of their base pay. This additional night pay will not increase their retirement benefits.

A YES VOTE MEANS that you want police officers who work at night to get an additional 6.25% of their base pay.

A NO VOTE MEANS that you want police officers who work at night to get no additional pay for night work.

How Supervisors Voted on “B”

On March 5 the Board of Supervisors voted 9-1 on the question of placing Proposition B on the ballot.
The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisor Richard Hongisto.

Controller’s Statement on “B”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition B:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it would, based on current staffing patterns and salary levels, increase the cost of government by approximately $1,275,000 per year.”

Police Night Pay

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Proposition "B" will bring fairness and equity to the City’s work force. Most City employees are now entitled to a 6.25% night differential pay if they work between 5:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m. Our police officers are presently not eligible for this differential. Proposition "B" would extend this benefit to police officers.

There are 799 civilian employees working in the police department. If their work assignment falls between 5:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m., they receive a 6.25% night differential. But our sworn police officers, many of whom work between 5:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m., are denied this benefit. This disparity creates a major inequity.

Proposition "B" grants to police officers, who work during the night time providing public safety and security, the same night differential benefit for which over 20,000 other City employees are eligible if assigned to night work.

Vote YES on Proposition "B". It is fair to provide equal benefits to our police officers. It is fair to compensate police officers for the extra danger they encounter during night work.

Submitted by the Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Your "YES" vote on Proposition B will ensure our city more effective police protection because police officers will be able to receive the same kind of extra pay that other City employees do for night work.

The City's Charter presently prohibits policemen from negotiating for pay or benefits increases. As a result, they do not yet enjoy the extra compensation for night duty that is standard for other City law officers — such as employees of the Sheriff's Department or Airport Police — and for most civilian employees as well.

Proposition B would eradicate this inequity by allowing

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Police Department officers to be compensated at a standard 6.25% above base pay, during the hours of 5:00 P.M. and 7:00 A.M. No additional expenses to the City, such as increased retirement benefits, would accrue.

Currently, most night patrol officers have less experience than those working the day shift, because there is no inducement for officers with seniority to work night hours. Pay differential would provide that inducement, and assure that better prepared policemen are patrolling our streets at all hours.

City employees in the criminal justice system, such as deputy sheriffs, park patrol officers, museum guards, airport police and building and grounds officers, now receive a 6¼% premium for night work, but our own San Francisco Police Department police officers do not.

Supervisor Quentin L. Kopp

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Night differential in one form or another is a standard for police officers throughout the state of California. In San Francisco, night differential is standard for all employees including those that are sworn peace officers (i.e. airport, sheriffs, etc.) The only police officers not receiving night differential are the San Francisco Police Officers. Your vote will correct this inequity.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

YES ON B

As members of the Police Commission, it is our responsibility to organize and administer the police department in order to make it the most efficient law enforcement agency it can be.

One of the major concerns facing the department at this time is that the element of experience amongst the rank and file officers is unequally distributed, leaving the evening and night time shifts to be covered by relatively less experienced officers. Though qualified to do the job, these younger officers are in need of the guidance and direction that only seasoned officers can provide.

Proposition B is a fair charter amendment which would help to capitalize on the vital element of experience by attracting senior officers to work when they are needed most; the “high crime” evening and night time hours.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Proposition B presents the voters of San Francisco with an opportunity to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of this city’s Police Department. This measure will provide an extra 6.25% in pay for officers who must work between the hours of 5:00 P.M. and 7:00 A.M. — those hours when the level of experience an officer brings to the job is critical. This incentive will help bring more experienced officers to the night shifts at a time when the officers now serving on those shifts have been employed about 3 years or less. San Francisco’s Police Department provides round-the-clock protection and service, with officers assigned to one of three shifts based upon seniority; length of service in the Department. While employees of other city departments who work night shifts have long enjoyed an incentive for having to work these odd hours, police officers have been shortchanged in this benefit area. The concept of "NIGHT PREMIUM PAY" for police work is preposterous!

Every job applicant knows in advance that working at night to catch felons and protect the citizenry "goes with the territory"! It is one of the reasons why a regular "entry rank" Q2 Patrolman’s annual "pay package" is $60,101.81 including a medical plan and retirement costs at 96% of base pay! In addition, ALL Police Department personnel will receive substantial AUTOMATIC pay raises again in July.

PROPOSITION C

Shall entry level firefighters who have completed ten years of satisfactory service receive 2 1/2% additional compensation, after fifteen years service 5% and after twenty years service 7 1/2%, providing that the additional compensation shall not increase their retirement benefits?

Analysis

by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: San Francisco firefighters join the Fire Department at the entry-rank (H2). After entry-rank firefighters reach the top step of their pay scale, they do not receive additional pay based on the number of years they have been with the department.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition C would provide additional pay for entry-rank firefighters after they have performed their duties satisfactorily for a number of years. These increases would be:
- 2 1/2% over base pay after 10 years of service,
- 5% over base pay after 15 years of service,
- 7 1/2% over base pay after 20 years of service.

The additional pay would not increase their retirement benefits.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want entry-rank firefighters to get additional pay after they have worked satisfactorily for the department for at least 10 years.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want entry-rank firefighters to get additional pay based on length of satisfactory service.

How Supervisors Voted on “C”

On March 5 the Board of Supervisors voted 7-3 on the question of placing Proposition C on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisors Quentin Kopp, Bill Maher and Louise Renne.

Controller’s Statement on “C”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition C:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it would, based on the present length of service and salaries of current members of the Fire Department, increase the cost of government by approximately $550,000 per year.”

Firefighter Longevity Pay

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Proposition C is a simple matter of fairness.

Presently, Fire Fighters do not receive additional pay based on the number of years they have been with the department. While common sense dictates that this most hazardous of jobs increases exposure to accident over time, there is no merit pay increase for years spent “on-the-front line” fighting fires here in San Francisco.

This is neither fair nor equitable. Teachers, military personnel, private industry... and even other fire departments — grant merit pay increases for satisfactory job performance over the years.

A cross-section of California cities with some sort of time-on-the-job merit pay increases include: Los Angeles City, Los Angeles County, Burlingame, Daly City, Healdsburg, La Habre, National City, Oxnard, Redondo Beach, Sacramento, San Joaquin County, Santa Clara, South San Francisco, Stockton, and Torrance.

This merit pay formula does not count toward retirement benefits and excludes officers, who receive time and merit pay increases through promotion. Further, any Fire Fighter suspended or otherwise disciplined by the Fire Chief or Fire Commission does not qualify for merit pay for a set period of time.

This fairness issue rewards rank-and-file Fire Fighters for years of faithful service, creates incentive for experienced fire fighters to stay “on-the-front line”, and puts us in line with other fire fighters state-wide.

We urge a Yes Vote on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

The Members of the Fire Commission listed below, and the Fire Chief, are opposed to Proposition “C”, a plan to establish longevity pay for certain uniformed members of the Fire Department.

The proposed Charter amendment is unfair and exclusionary as it would apply only to firefighters, excluding all other uniformed members of the Department. Thus, creating a potential morale problem. Also, longevity is usually enacted to assure the retention of trained and experienced firefighters, a problem which does not exist in the San Francisco Fire Department, as witnessed by the fact that during the last seven years only thirty-two firefighters have resigned.

We urge you to vote NO on Proposition “C”.

Fire Chief Emmet Condon
Fire Commission President Henry Berman
Fire Commissioner Juanita Del Carlo
Fire Commissioner Anne Howden
Fire Commissioner Robert Nicco

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

This bizarre “TIME SERVED” proposal would raise each fireman’s pay an additional $756.68, $1,513.36, or $2,270.05 respectively. Their current annual “pay package” for a regular “entry rank” H2 Hoseman is already $62,825.86 including a medical plan and retirement costs at 105% of base pay! In addition, ALL Fire Department personnel will receive substantial AUTOMATIC pay increases again in July!

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

This Charter Amendment would cost taxpayers $561,200 the FIRST YEAR to solve a fictional, non-existent “RAPID TURNOVER” problem perceived solely by the Fire Fighter’s Union! The cost in future years will obviously be higher!

In the Fire Department, there is virtually NO TURNOVER! In the last FIVE YEARS there have been only twenty-nine resignations from a budgeted force of 1569 firemen!

The Fire Chief, the Fire Commission, and the Civil Service Commission ALL oppose proposition “C”.

If passed, this “longevity of service” premium pay concept will immediately be demanded by ALL other City workers at an annual cost of millions!

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION “C”.
SAN FRANCISCO TAXPAYERS ASSOCIATION
W.F. O’Keeffe, Sr., PRESIDENT.
Robert Guichard, VICE PRESIDENT.
ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

I urge you to vote NO on Proposition "C".

The City has been generous to our firefighters, both in the department's annual budget requests and in wage and benefit increases. However, I oppose this special salary increase for firefighters.

Our City Charter provides a formula to guarantee that firefighters receive an annual salary increase. This keeps them paid at the average rate of the largest cities of California and I think this is fair and proper. It has served us well and it has been good to our firefighters. During the last five years that I have been Mayor, the Charter formula has increased firefighter salaries by almost $9,000. The current salary is over $30,000 a year, which is sufficiently high to attract thousands of job applicants.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

Vote NO on Proposition C. The stated intent of this Charter amendment is to prevent early retirement and retain senior firemen. Yet both the Fire Chief and the Fire Commission say there is no retention problem and are opposed to this measure. And if passed, Proposition C will cost the City an estimated $484,000 annually though it will not accomplish its stated goal.

The City Charter has established a fair and equitable method of setting wage scales comparable to the major city fire departments in California. Our Charter provides a proven method that is both fair to the firemen and fair to the public, those who pay the bills.

San Francisco's firemen have one of the most generous wage and benefits packages in California. Yet year after year the voters are presented with measures designed to increase their already superior renumeration. If the "problem" alleged in Proposition C does not exist, then this is just another raid on the City treasury.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CHARTER AMENDMENT

PROPOSITION C

The rates of compensation, fixed in said ordinance:

1. for the fourth year of service and thereafter for police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers the compensation shall be fixed at a rate which is the average maximum wage paid to the police officers or patrolmen classifications in regular service in the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission. "Average wage" as used in this paragraph shall mean the sum of the maximum averages certified by the civil service commission divided by the number of police officer classifications in said city;

2. for the first, second and third year of service for police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers shall be established in accordance with the general percentage differential between seniority steps found in the salary ranges included in the cities certified by the civil service commission for the same class;

3. for said members of the police department other than police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers shall include the same percent of adjustment as that established by said ordinance for police officers in the fourth year of service; and

4. shall be set at the dollar amount nearest the fractional amount which may result from percentage adjustment specified in this section, half dollars being taken to the next higher dollar amount.

Hetch Hetchy Financing

PROPOSITION E

Shall the Public Utilities Commission be authorized to issue Hetch Hetchy revenue bonds for reconstruction and replacement of existing facilities by a three-fourths vote of the Board of Supervisors and need voter approval for issuing revenue bonds for new facilities?

YES 226

NO 227

Analysis

by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Hetch Hetchy project is the City’s water transport and power generating facility. If the Public Utilities Commission wants to sell revenue bonds to acquire, build, improve or develop water and electric power facilities it must submit the bond issue to the voters. These bonds are repaid from Hetch Hetchy income. A majority of the voters must approve the sale of the bonds.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition E says that with the approval of 3/4 of the Board of Supervisors, the Public Utilities Commission could issue revenue bonds for reconstruction and replacement of existing facilities. All other Hetch Hetchy bond issues would require voter approval. Proposition E would also set up a Hetch Hetchy Revenue Fund to pay off the revenue bonds and to operate the Hetch Hetchy Project.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Public Utilities Commission, with the approval of 3/4 of the Board of Supervisors, to be able to sell revenue bonds for reconstruction and replacement. All other Hetch Hetchy bond issues would require voter approval.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want all Hetch Hetchy revenue bonds to be submitted to the voters for approval.

How Supervisors Voted on "E"

On March 5 the Board of Supervisors voted 10-0 on the question of placing Proposition E on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

None of the Supervisors present voted "No."

Controller’s Statement on “E”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition E: “Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it would not, in and of itself, affect the cost of government. However, as a result of its possible future application, revenue bonds could be issued in specified circumstances to finance certain Hetch Hetchy Projects. The effect, if any, of these possible future actions on the cost of government can not be estimated at this time.”

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION E BEGINS ON PAGE 37
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

Vote YES on Proposition “E”.

Proposition “E” would allow our Hetch Hetchy Hydroelectric Power System to issue revenue bonds, thus providing an efficient, economical method of financing the repair or replacement of worn out facilities whenever funds for such replacements would be needed.

Proposition “E” would amend the Charter to allow the sale of bonds to finance the replacement of existing facilities without a vote of the people, but only with approval of three-fourths of the members of the Board of Supervisors. It prohibits the sale of bonds for any new facilities without a specific vote of approval by the people.

Proposition “E” would cost NOTHING to the taxpayers generally since Hetch Hetchy is fully self-supporting. In fact, the project makes a significant contribution to the City’s General Fund each year, funds which are used to support police and fire services, recreation, library and the other services supported by the General Fund. Thus, the necessary investments made to secure Hetch Hetchy’s facilities, and thus its earning power, are a benefit to the general tax base.

Currently, a technicality in the law precludes Hetch Hetchy from selling revenue bonds. Proposition “E” would remedy this without removing the people’s power to approve at the polls any new proposed facilities.

We urge you to Vote YES on Proposition “E”.

Submitted by the Board of Supervisors.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

I urge you to vote YES on Proposition “E”.

Proposition “E” would allow our Hetch Hetchy system to issue revenue bonds to pay for the replacement of machinery and structures or the building of new facilities.

This amendment would modernize Charter language to allow Hetch Hetchy the ability to issue revenue bonds in a manner similar to other City revenue-making departments.

Bonds issued to pay for replacement of worn or damaged equipment or structures would require the approval of both 3/4 of the Board of Supervisors (9 members) and the Mayor and no bonds for new facilities could be sold without a vote of the citizens of San Francisco.

Any bonds issued would be repaid by Hetch Hetchy revenues from its sale of electricity. The citizens of San Francisco would not pay for the bonds, no new taxes would result and the City would not be obligated to use existing tax dollars.

Without this amendment, our hydro-electric power system would be unable to quickly replace facilities that might be damaged or need replacement. Protect our historic investment in the Hetch Hetchy system.

Vote YES on Proposition “E”.

PROPOSITION E

NOTE: These sections are entirely new.

6.407-2 Hetch Hetchy Revenue Fund

(a) Subject to the budget and fiscal provisions of this charter whenever revenue bonds issued by the public utilities commission pursuant to section 7.313 are outstanding, the entire gross revenue of the Hetch Hetchy project shall be set aside and deposited into a fund in the city and county treasury to be known as the “Hetch Hetchy Revenue Fund.” All amounts paid into said fund shall be maintained by the treasurer separate and apart from all other city and county funds and shall be secured by the treasurer’s official bond or bonds. Separate accounts shall be kept of said fund with respect to receipts and disbursements. Said fund shall be exempt from section 6.407(a).

(b) Monies in the Hetch Hetchy revenue fund, including earnings thereon, shall be appropriated, transferred, expended or used for the following purposes pertaining to the financing, maintenance and operation of the Hetch Hetchy project and related facilities owned, operated or controlled by the commission and only in accordance with the following priority: (1) the payment of operation and maintenance expenses for such utility and related facilities; (2) the payment of pension charges and proportionate payments to such compensation and other insurance or outside reserve funds as the commission may establish or the board of supervisors may require with respect to employees of the commission; (3) the payment of principal, interest, reserve, sinking funds, and other mandatory funds created to secure revenue bonds hereafter issued by the commission for the acquisition, construction or extension of Hetch Hetchy or related facilities.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition F says that with the approval of 3/4 of the Board of Supervisors, the Public Utilities Commission could issue revenue bonds for reconstruction and replacement of existing facilities. ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

I urge you to vote YES on Proposition “F”.

Proposition “F” would allow our Water Department to issue revenue bonds to pay for replacement and improvement of its facilities.

Like Proposition “E”, this Charter amendment is necessary so that our Water Department can issue revenue bonds. These bonds would be paid out of the revenues of the Water Department and not from your tax dollars.

Your YES vote for Proposition “E” only allows the Water Department to issue bonds to replace worn, damaged or outdated equipment and facilities if 2/3 of the Board of Supervisors (9 members) and the Mayor agree. Any bonds for new facilities would require a vote of the people.

Proposition “F” will result in no new taxes and the City would not be obligated to use existing tax dollars.

It will insure the continued trouble-free operation of our water system.

I urge you to vote YES on Proposition “F”.

Dianne Feinstein, Mayor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote Yes on Proposition “F”.

Proposition “F” would provide a method for the Board of Supervisors or the people to approve the issuance of revenue bonds by our San Francisco Water Department. Proposition “F” would provide an efficient, economical method of financing the repair or replacement of worn-out facilities whenever funds for such replacements would be needed.

Proposition “F” would amend the Charter to allow the sale of bonds to finance the replacement of existing facilities without a vote of the people, but only with approval of three-fourths of the members of the Board of Supervisors. It prohibits the sale of bonds for any new facilities without a specific further vote of approval by the people.

Proposition “F” would cost NOTHING to the taxpayers generally since the Water Department is fully self-supporting. We already have an enormous investment in the pipelines, dams, filtration plants and other facilities of our water distribution network. A prudent repair/replacement policy for the major assets of the Water Department is a sure way to protect against unjustifyable rate increases to finance unanticipated facility replacement costs.

Currently, a technicality in the law precludes the Water Department from selling revenue bonds. Proposition “F” would remedy this without removing the people’s power to approve at the polls any new proposed facilities.

We urge you to Vote YES on Proposition “F”.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

VOTE “YES” ON PROPOSITION G

Proposition G is designed to provide the Retirement Board the means to more effectively administer the Retirement System and to manage a comprehensive, diversified Retirement Fund.

By any standard, the Retirement System today is a large-scale business enterprise. In addition to administering a number of comprehensive pension plans covering over 35,000 active and retired members, Retirement Board members serve as fiduciaries of a pension fund whose assets exceed $1.6 billion. The effective management of that fund, in competition with similar funds throughout the United States, requires substantial pension plan and investment management experience and expertise.

The Retirement Board, in its role as fiduciaries of the fund, acts in the capacity of trust and is accountable for the breach of that trust. It is therefore essential that the Board possess the authority to appoint and remove at its pleasure a General Manager and a Chief Investment Officer who shall carry out and implement Board policies on the management and disposition of plan funds.

As a matter of record, although the current charter provides for the civil service appointment of a Secretary-General Manager, the position, since its inception in 1922, has never been filled by the civil service process. In addition, of the 16 board and commissions in City and County Service whose members are appointed by the Mayor, the Retirement Board is the only Board that lacks authority to appoint its chief executive officer; all other chief executive officers serve at the pleasure of the respective boards and commissions.

Proposition G will provide the Retirement Board an effective tool in evaluating the on-going management of the System and the performance of the all-important investment fund. The Legislature of the State of California, recognizing the same needs for the State Public Employees’ Retirement System fund, has placed on the June 1984 state ballot a similar proposition.

The Retirement Board, Mayor Dianne Feinstein, the Board of Supervisors and the Civil Service Commission support Proposition G.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION G

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION G

Proposition G was just defeated by the voters in 1982. It shouldn’t be on the ballot again. This is another example of hoping to wear the voters out. The Charter was amended to make the head of the Retirement System part of the Civil Service System. Instead of holding a civil service test in the past two years to re-place the retired incumbent who gave notice two years ago, this measure is placed on the ballot. The Retirement System Board already was given the power to pick any one of the top three people who place on the civil service test. Don’t weaken our city’s merit system. Vote NO on Proposition G.

Shall the authority to combine the Office of the Recorder with the Office of the Registrar of Voters be eliminated and the Recorder made a separate officer of the City under the Chief Administrative Officer?

Analysis

by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Under the City Charter, the Recorder and the Registrar of Voters are two separate offices. The Chief Administrative Officer can appoint one person to serve as both the Recorder and the Registrar of Voters. Currently, one person holds both offices.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition H would require that the Recorder be a separate officer of the city and county under the Chief Administrative Officer. The Chief Administrative Officer could not appoint one person to serve as both the Recorder and the Registrar of Voters.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Recorder to be a separate officer of the city and county.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the Chief Administrative Officer to have the power to appoint one person to serve as both the Recorder and the Registrar of Voters.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION H

Proposition H creates a separate position for the Recorder. Until now, the Registrar of Voters, who also serves as Recorder, has made those duties his lowest priority. Proposition H will take the Recorder’s duties out of the realm of the Registrar of Voters—where they never belonged in the first place. The Recorder will be an independent office and directly responsible to the Chief Administrative Officer.

This reorganization is necessary to insure good government.

The Recorder’s office collects $13,000,000 annually. Last year it became apparent that the office was mishandled and poorly managed. San Francisco cannot afford to have such an important office go unsupervised. Establishing a separate position of Recorder is a logical method of improving accountability and streamlining the operation. It will not cost citizens anything and will greatly increase the quality of service.

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION H

Supervisor Quentin L. Kopp

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

As it is now, the same person holds the offices of Recorder and Registrar of Voters of the City and County of San Francisco. This official juggles both jobs simultaneously, and not always satisfactorily. Late last year there were disclosures of copious problems encountered by citizens attempting to record real estate documents, and revelations that the Registrar of Voters was spending but 10% of his time managing the Recorder’s Office. Proposition H would separate the Office of the Recorder from the Registrar of Voters and make one person in charge of that office as Recorder. The Recorder would be accountable directly to the Chief Administrative Officer.

The Recorder’s job is vital to our City. It is simply illogical to lump the Recorder with the Registrar of Voters. Administering elections is different than managing an office which deals with often complex real estate transactions. It’s like mixing apples and oranges. The Recorder collects approximately $13,000,000 each year. The job is too important to be allowed to take a back seat to the City’s elections office. It is in the best interest of a well run city that the Recorder’s office be carefully, independently administered on a full time basis and not neglected. Giving direct responsibility for its operation to the Chief Administrative Officer will insure that the office functions efficiently and serves the City in the best way possible.

Proposition H will make city government more effective and eliminate “red tape”, delays and legal disputes about the recording of documents by citizens.

Reduce Board of Supervisors

PROPOSITION I

Shall the Board of Supervisors be reduced from eleven members to nine members following the November 1984 election and be further reduced to seven members following the November 1986 election, and shall elections for Supervisors be changed from even-numbered to odd-numbered years?

YES 244

NO 245

Analysis

by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: There are eleven members on the Board of Supervisors. Elections for supervisor are held at the general election in November of every even-numbered year. Six members will be elected in November 1984 for a four-year term. Five members will be elected in November 1986 for a four-year term.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition I provides that four supervisors instead of six would be elected in November 1984, each for a three-year term. The November 1984 election would reduce the members from eleven to nine members. In the November 1986 election three supervisors instead of five would be elected for a three-year term. This would reduce the members from nine to seven members. Thereafter, elections for Supervisor would be held in November of every odd-numbered year and each would be elected for four-year terms.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Board of Supervisors to have seven members, elected in odd-numbered years.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the Board of Supervisors to continue to have eleven members, elected in even-numbered years.

Controller’s Statement on “I”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition I:

"Should the proposed initiative Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, based on 1983-84 salary and staffing levels, the cost of government could be reduced by approximately $331,000 per year when the measure is fully implemented in 1987."

How “I” Got on Ballot

On October 22, Registrar of Voters Jay Patterson certified that the initiative petition calling for a seven member Board of Supervisors had a sufficient number of signatures to be placed on the ballot.

Robert Guichard, the proponent of the petition, had gathered 31,354 signatures which he turned in to the Registrar on September 22.

A check of each of the signatures showed that 23,401 of the signatures were valid. This is more than the 22,834 signatures needed to qualify an initiative Charter amendment for the ballot.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

For 10 years, San Francisco has been politically torn apart by seven propositions changing the rules on how we elect our Board of Supervisors. These conflicting propositions have pitted San Franciscans against San Franciscans. Stop this needless turmoil by voting NO on Proposition I.

Continuous attempts to change the election rules have disrupted the orderly working of our legislative body. Candidates for election focus on short-term political gains. Thoughtful and coherent long-range policies for the overall good of the city are lost in the concern for campaigning. City Hall must be allowed to focus on managing our great city, and not be distracted by ever-changing rules of running for office. We are proud of our ethnic, cultural and social diversity. This diversity makes San Francisco great. An eleven member Board of Supervisors provides greater opportunity for this diversity to be represented.

Eliminate political turmoil and disruption. Support a Board that is more responsive and representative of a cosmopolitan city.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

Vote NO on Proposition "I".

Once again, a small band of political opportunists is trying to change the way we elect the Board of Supervisors.

In just the fourteen years since my election to the Board, there have been ten ballot measures to change the method of election to the Board. This constant pulling and tugging has created divisions within our City and undermined the stability of government.

Now, again, this year, another attempt is being made drastically to alter our system of representative government. This latest charter revision would reduce the number of Supervisors from eleven to seven. Not only is it bad legislation, but it is undemocratic and unfair.

Vote No on Proposition "I".

Additionally, Proposition "I" would shift elections from even-numbered years, when major state and national candidates and issues are on the ballot, to odd-numbered years, when voter turnout historically is lowest. This is a blatant power-grab to limit voting to the smallest number of voters possible, all so they can be more easily targeted and manipulated by high-powered campaign tactics.

Vote NO on Proposition "I".

Proposition "I" would concentrate power in fewer hands, and give greater authority to the small special interests who can back their chosen candidates with big contributions. Many neighborhoods now represented on the Board would be voiceless, and whole sectors of our City would effectively be unrepresented.

Vote NO on Proposition "I".

The proponents throw up a smoke screen that the proposition would save money, as if democratic rights should be bargained in dollars. Their bluff is that the favored seven supervisors would need less staff, when, in fact, they would have much more work to do and would be clamoring for more staff.

We need a stable and truly representative City and County government. This initiative will be disruptive, divisive, and reduce representation.

I urge you to vote NO on Proposition "I".

Dianne Feinstein, Mayor

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

Good government — government that pays attention to the people who pay for it and serves their needs — requires citizen participation. Taxpayers and voters have a right to reach their elected officials when they need help, and to participate in making the decisions that affect them.

We urge you to VOTE NO on Proposition I. This harmful proposition will severely limit citizen participation in government in many important ways.

Proposition I would move the time we elect Supervisors to years when a much smaller number of people vote. That means that many voters will be excluded from electing Supervisors, and will lose control over the decisions those Supervisors make. City policies and programs will be set by a minority of San Franciscans.

Because San Francisco is a City and County, our Board of Supervisors is charged with many more responsibilities than any other Board or City Council in the State. Reducing the number of our Board members will make it more difficult to take care of the combined responsibilities of our Board. The voters will have fewer of their problems taken care of by a Board too small to handle an overload of business.

Proposition I would also eliminate staff of the Board responsible for solving the many day-to-day problems that taxpayers and voters call City Hall for help with. Right now, when a San Franciscan needs contact with a member of the Board to discuss a problem or law, they have access to their offices. If Proposition I passes, it will be more and more difficult to talk with members of the Board, and the Board’s decisions will be less reflective of the voters’ thinking.

The goal of our city government should be to make sure all San Franciscans have a voice at City Hall, working to solve their problems. But the smaller the Board of Supervisors, the less likely that all points of view will be represented.

To assure a government with the strength to manage our problems, and keep all citizens involved in running our city, VOTE NO on Proposition I.

Reduce Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

I hope that all responsible San Francisco citizens will vote against Proposition I.

This disruptive Initiative will damage the stability of the Board of Supervisors. It will severely limit the ability of minority communities to receive fair representation.

The initiative also limits the current inadequate part-time character of the Board. To reduce the number of members to seven part-time positions would greatly reduce the effectiveness of the Board.

Our City and County needs a full-time, not part-time, hardworking Board of Supervisors, committed to serving the needs of San Francisco.

I urge you to vote NO on Proposition I.

Wendy Nelder
President, Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

In the last ten years San Francisco voters have voted seven times on how to elect a Board of Supervisors. The current system of eleven members elected at large is consistent with political tradition and affords adequate representation for this, the only consolidated city and county in California.

As someone who has served 13 years on our Board of Supervisors and notwithstanding the sincere intent of the proponents to save money on the operation of the Board, I intend to vote "NO" on Proposition I.

Supervisor Quentin L. Kopp

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

WE URGE YOU TO VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION I

Everything about this Proposition is contrary to the fair thinking of San Francisco's voters.

The people behind this proposition aren't telling the truth about what they want to do to our city. In addition to reducing the Board of Supervisors to a nine-person body, they want to elect Supervisors in off-election years, when a significantly smaller number of San Franciscans vote. That means that our Supervisors, and the decisions they make, will not reflect the thinking of most San Franciscans.

Proposition I means San Franciscans won't be well represented on the Board of Supervisors. Reducing the number of Supervisors reduces the likelihood that all San Franciscans will have a voice on the Board of Supervisors. While San Franciscans are justly proud of the diversity of our city, representation of the different groups that make up our city's ethnic, minority, neighborhood and small business — would become virtually impossible.

Proposition I means city government won't work as well. By eliminating four members of the Board of Supervisors, the crush of city business will take over, and we will see a decline in the way our city runs. Proposition I won't make our Supervisors work full-time. Seven Supervisors just can't run a city as large and complex as San Francisco.

Proposition I will result in chaos and instability in government. In the last ten years, San Franciscans have changed the way we elect Supervisors seven times. It's time to give our system a chance to work, and stop the interruptions that keep the Supervisors from doing the work we elected them to do.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

We live in San Francisco, love the City, and want to have our businesses prosper here. We believe that stable and representative government is essential to the continued economic health of our City.

The current structure of the Board of Supervisors — with eleven members — best serves economic and civic health. The City’s finances are sound. Our economy continues to:

• grow
• provide jobs
• raise the tax revenues our government needs

Yet another attempt to alter the form and election of the Board of Supervisors threatens this stability and prosperity.

We join the many other San Franciscans who urge you to vote NO on this disruptive and destructive proposition.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

It is in the city’s best interest to VOTE NO on Proposition I. Small businesses in San Francisco need a stable, representative and hard-working Board of Supervisors. But Proposition I would throw our city government into turmoil.

By making the Board of Supervisors smaller, we would reduce the chance that our neighborhoods, and the small businesses that serve them, will have a person to take care of our needs in City Hall.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

Our Board of Supervisors can only do its work for the people of the city if it is large enough and has the staff to assure that our complex city government is well run. That job requires eleven members.

The best way to get a hard-working Board, assuring that all communities receive services they need, is to leave the Board at its current size.

Everyone wants to have a Board that guarantees us good government. The way to build a strong Board is by electing the best possible people to office, not by reducing the number of members.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

Each year, the Board of Supervisors must examine many ordinances and funding requests which effect the Hispanic community. We must look to the Board to take the care, time and effort to assure that our community needs are not ignored. Proposition I by radically reducing the number of Supervisors would mean that our needs and concerns would have less of a chance of being heard at City Hall.

We can’t afford to have a Board of Supervisors which spends less time on our community’s interests. The problems of affordable housing, transportation, police services and other community issues would take a back seat at a seven member board. Reduced members would mean that public hearings would not take place. We would have to fight twice as hard just to preserve basic services.

San Francisco needs a Board of Supervisors which represents all of our diverse communities. Proposition I rejects this diversity in favor of short-sighted, narrow political interests.

Proposition I is a bad idea for all San Franciscans, and an even worse idea for the Hispanic community. Vote NO on PROPOSITION I.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

Proposition I is a direct attack on democracy.

Through many years of hard fought election battles, the diverse segments of our community have been able to work together to elect a Board of Supervisors that reflects the character of our City. Proposition I would destroy this balance.

This proposition would create disunity where harmony now exists. Proposition I challenges the very root of American democracy, which is based on an equal and chance for all citizens to participate as elected members of our government.

The real purpose of Proposition I is to deny whole segments of our City fair representation in City Hall, and concentrate authority in the hands of a few power brokers. Proposition I would place the well-funded, special interest candidates in a better position than the community-oriented candidates, who must depend on small contributions and volunteers to get elected.

We urge all San Franciscans who care about preserving equal access to the political process to vote NO on Proposition I.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

We urge all San Franciscans to vote NO on Proposition I.

Proposition I would move elections from even numbered years to odd numbered years when the electorate is significantly smaller, and less reflective of the thinking of all San Franciscans.

Proposition I will give us a Board of Supervisors less progress-}

PROPOSITION J

Shall San Francisco adopt an ordinance providing for the collection of costs of incarceration in a county jail or other local detention facility from a defendant whom the Court finds financially able to pay?

YES 249
NO 250

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: State law says that when someone serves time in a county jail after conviction of a crime, the court may order the person to pay all or part of what it costs to keep him in jail, depending on his ability to pay. This law does not apply locally, however, unless a local ordinance is adopted. San Francisco has not adopted this ordinance.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition J would adopt an ordinance to put this state law into effect in San Francisco. The ordinance puts the Director of the Adult Probation Department in charge of setting up and administering the program in the county.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the court to be able to order someone who has been convicted of a crime to pay all or part of the costs of his stay in a county jail, if the person has the financial ability to pay.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you don’t want the court to be able to order someone convicted of a crime to pay all or part of the costs of his stay in the county jail.

How “J” Got on Ballot

On September 20, Registrar of Voters Jay Patterson certified that the initiative petition calling for prisoners to reimburse the City for the cost of incarceration had a sufficient number of signatures to be placed on the ballot.

Quentin Kopp, the proponent of the petition, had gathered 12,400 signatures which he turned in to the Registrar on September 7.

A random check of the signatures showed that 11,620 of the signatures were valid. This is more than the 9,679 signatures needed to qualify an initiative ordinance for the ballot.

Controller’s Statement on “J”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition J:

“Should the proposed Initiative Ordinance be adopted, in my opinion, there could be an increase in revenues, the amount of which, being dependent on each inmate’s ability to pay, cannot be determined at this time.”

Many people who are convicted of misdemeanors and are serving time in the county jail can afford to repay the taxpayers of San Francisco for what it costs to confine them at our expense. Sure, some people are unable to pay, and shouldn’t have to pay, but there are many others who can.

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION J
There is no reason why law-abiding citizens should put up with the hazards of drunk drivers, and then have to pay for their time in jail when they themselves can afford to pay. Other counties in California have passed such a law after the legislature in 1982 gave counties the power to do so, including Alameda and Los Angeles — and it’s working! As the author of this initiative, I respectfully urge you to vote YES on Proposition J — Let’s put this sensible law into action in San Francisco.

Supervisor Quentin L. Kopp

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION J
Each year, it costs the taxpayers of San Francisco $22,000,000 to keep convicted criminals in the county jail. While many of them cannot afford to pay the $47,000 a night the Sheriff certifies it costs to be there, some convicts can. Proposition J will allow San Francisco to charge convicted prisoners what it costs to keep them in jail when a judge decides they’re able to pay.

Even if the plan doesn’t result in a lot of money, it makes an important point. Convicted lawbreakers should help pay the costs instead of making taxpayers pay their penalties.

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION J.

Cheryl Arenson

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

In 1982, the California Legislature authorized every county in California to adopt an ordinance requiring county jail prisoners who are financially able to do so to reimburse taxpayers for the cost of confinement. Prisoners who can’t afford to would be exempt from paying. People convicted of misdemeanors, like drunk driving and other charges, who have the financial capacity to pay, should reimburse the taxpayer.

Over 15,000 San Francisco voters had to sign initiative petitions to secure enactment of a law which other major counties in California have adopted by single vote of their Board of Supervisors. San Francisco’s Board of Supervisors had to be different, however. Our Board of Supervisors refused to enact such a law because Supervisors Britt, Hongisto, Kennedy, Mahler, Renne, Silver, Walker and Ward voted against it.

It is unfair for taxpayers to bear the burden of incarceration costs for prisoners who are capable financially.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION J
Proposition J would allow San Francisco to recover the costs of housing prisoners. The decision to determine if a prisoner can pay, and how much, would be left to the judge as part of sentencing.

Some people argue that most prisoners are poor and the amount of money raised by such a program would be insignificant. Proposition J would not require people who do not have the money, to pay. But business and professional people who drink and drive, or commit other crimes, will find that they must pay San Franciscans for their wrongdoing.

As much as $100,000 a year could be generated by charging prisoners room and board. And while this may seem like a small amount compared to the entire cost of running a jail, it could free scarce city funds for other services, like parks, libraries, repair of potholes and more police.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION J

Proposition J would require people convicted of crimes to pay for all or part of the costs of their incarceration based on their ability to do so. Taxpayers can't be expected to go picking up the tab after tab.

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION J

People of means who can well afford to pay for their time in jail are being convicted for drunk driving, white collar and other types of crimes. The average cost to taxpayers for someone in the county jail is $47,000 per day. PROPOSITION J

NOTE: All sections are new.

AMENDING ARTICLE V, CHAPTER 10, OF THE SAN FRANCISCO ADMINISTRATIVE CODE BY ADDING SECTION 10.39-2 THERETO TO PROVIDE FOR THE COLLECTION OF COSTS OF INCARCERATION IN A COUNTY JAIL OR OTHER LOCAL DETENTION FACILITY.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section 1. Article V, Chapter 10, of the San Francisco Administrative Code is hereby amended by adding Section 10.39-2 thereto, reading as follows:

Sec. 10.39-2 Director of Adult Probation Department to Recover Costs of Incarceration.

The director of the adult probation department is designated as the county officer of San Francisco responsible for collection of monies ordered by the courts pursuant to Section 1203.1c of the California Penal Code, and shall make inquiry into the ability of the defendant to pay all or a portion of the costs of incarceration, develop a scale for determining a defendant's ability to pay such costs, develop payment schedules, receive payments, and deposit into the general fund through the county treasurer any funds determined by a court to be the amounts to be reimbursed by such defendant to the county in a manner in which the court believes reasonable and compatible with the defendant's financial ability.

The director of the adult probation department shall base the costs of incarceration, including costs of booking, upon a determination made by the Sheriff and approved by the controller, to be reviewed annually by the board of supervisors, of the average per-day costs of incarceration in the county jail or other local detention facility. The board of supervisors may adopt such further legislation as is necessary to effectuate the purpose of this ordinance, but not to repeal the collection of monies pursuant to Section 1203.1c of the California Penal Code.

PROPOSITION K

Shall an ordinance be adopted prohibiting building permits for certain structures which will cast a substantial shadow on Recreation and Park Department property, except on prior approval of the City Planning Commission pursuant to the ordinance, with certain exceptions?

Analysis

by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City Planning Commission sometimes asks a developer to modify plans for a building if it blocks the sunlight in recreational areas like parks and playgrounds. But no permanent standards exist for this now.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition K says the City Planning Commission may not approve any building project which causes significant shading of recreational areas like parks and playgrounds. Exceptions would include certain projects in progress, buildings less than 40 feet high, buildings constructed for recreational or park-related purposes, or buildings which only cause shade during the first hour after sunrise and/or the last hour before sunset. Also, any building already constructed when this ordinance goes into effect could be rebuilt to the same height in the same location, if the need arises.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to require the City Planning Commission to reject any building project which causes significant shading of a park or playground.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the City Planning Commission to set up these permanent standards for shading of recreational areas.

Controller’s Statement on “K”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition K: “Should the proposed Ordinance be adopted, in my opinion, it should have no impact on the cost of government. However, as a result of its possible future application certain costs may be incurred, the amount of which can not be determined at this time.”

How “K” Got on Ballot

On March 14, an ordinance signed by several supervisors was delivered to the Registrar of Voters with instructions that it be placed on the ballot. A copy of that ordinance appears at the end of this pamphlet.

The City Charter allows four or more supervisors to submit an ordinance to the voters by signing their names to it and delivering it to the Registrar. Ordinances submitted in this manner need not go through the legislative process.

The Park Shadowing Ordinance was signed by Supervisors Nancy Walker, John Molinari, Carol Ruth Silver, Doris Ward, Willie Kennedy, Harry Britt, Louise Renne and Bill Maher.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION K

Preserve sunlight in the parks; vote YES on Proposition “K”.
Support Proposition “K”.
San Francisco is a beautiful City. It was built with care by people with foresight and concern, with an appreciation of human needs.
This tradition has been carried on in the repair of the cable cars, the restoration of Golden Gate Park, the passage of Proposition “J” to acquire and maintain adequate open space, and in overwhelmingly passing a Charter amendment to protect playgrounds and parks from sale without public consent.

We have dealt with the need to maintain ownership of our open spaces, but we need to protect the public’s right to enjoy those spaces. There was recently a major battle over sunlight in Chinese Playground. Now there are problems at other parks, including Union Square, Portsmouth Square and several others.
No one goes to the park to sit in the shade and get windburn.
To take the sunlight out of our parks in shortsighted environmental vandalism. Dark parks are dead parks.

Support our parks! Support our heritage! Support Proposition “K”. Vote YES on Proposition “K”.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION K

VOTE “YES” ON PROPOSITION K!
A “YES” vote on Proposition K is a vote for sunshine. Pure and simple. It will assure that the precious legacy of this City’s green parks and open spaces is handed on to our children.
The measure would establish an ordinance outlawing all structures over 40 feet in height which cast shade on City parks and all Recreation and Park Commission property during any but the first and last hours of the day.

Our park space should be protected for all our children, seniors, those who enjoy spending their lunch hours in our downtown public squares and all who enjoy our parks.

I urge all voters to join me in keeping our parks and public squares warm and bright.

San Franciscans spend millions of tax dollars on neighborhood parks. Sunlight, greenery and good recreational equipment are essential components. Recently, some parks have been threatened with shading by highrise buildings. We must have policies to ensure protection from shading parks now and for future generations. If we let some developer completely shadow and thereby ruin this existing Chinatown playground, practical “common sense” politics dictates that the taxpayers will inevitably be obliged to buy and build some additional new playgrounds nearby at a cost of millions! Let’s save the taxpayers some money right now, and let the sun continue to shine on our most important product!

Unfortunately this measure doesn’t go far enough. But it is a step in the right direction. City Hall has to adopt tougher controls on runaway downtown office growth and on shading of all open spaces. Not just a few as this measure does. Give us our sun. Vote yes on K.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

Our city’s parks and playgrounds are among our most precious possessions, oases in a busy city. We must preserve and protect them. However, Proposition K is not the best way to protect our parks from shadows cast by tall buildings. Sunlight in parks is not the only issue facing San Francisco — other concerns, such as jobs, affordable housing, better and more parks and playgrounds should have at least equal footing in building permit decisions. Proposition K would rob our planning process of needed flexibility and cast into law a rigid formula which will not necessarily be the best thing for our parks or the people who use them. Proposition K could not be changed except by another vote of the electorate, which makes it doubly inflexible.

In public testimony both the City Planning Director and the Recreation and Parks General Manager stated that they would prefer a situation which would allow them maximum flexibility in dealing with sunlight in parks as well as other factors affecting our urban environment.

Let’s approach the park shadowing problem with a city planning code amendment that would allow city officials to negotiate the best possible deal for the parks — and the people — of San Francisco. It’s entirely within our power to stop skyscrapers from spoiling our sunny parks and playgrounds. Let’s do it in the most intelligent, advantageous way possible.

Vote No on Proposition K.

Supervisor Richard Hongisto

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

I grew up in San Francisco; my children are growing up here. All of us love San Francisco’s many parks and open spaces — and we certainly want them to have adequate sunlight. However, Proposition K is not the way to achieve this goal.

Proposition K is bad policy because:

1. Proposition K could prevent construction of apartments and other buildings many blocks away from a park because during morning and evening hours even a four-story apartment building will cast long shadows. Proposition K means less housing, fewer jobs and less economic growth for San Francisco.

2. Proposition K would hobble creation of new parks; since neighboring property owners would fight to avoid its restrictions.

3. Proposition K mainly benefits a few downtown parks, some of which are used only by office workers for a few hours on weekdays. But Proposition K will cost San Francisco residents millions of dollars, because property owners whose property is taken by Proposition K will sue the City and recover for their loss. Money that should be devoted to vital City services, including maintenance and improvement of parks throughout the City, adding new parks and playgrounds in our residential areas, and repairing the potholes in our streets, will vanish under a tide of litigation. Our entire City surplus of more than $100 million could evaporate under this burden, so thoughtlessly imposed by advocates of Proposition K. The hard-earned tax dollars of San Franciscans should not be squandered in this way.

4. Proposition K elevates sunlight in parks above all other social and economic issues. This is not sound policy. San Francisco has many problems — affordable housing, sufficient jobs, minority advancement, to name a few. In deciding whether new residential or other buildings should be built, these concerns, as well as sunlight in parks, should be taken into account. Proposition K is inflexible and cannot be changed without another vote of the people. Its many faults will be very difficult to correct.

Please vote “NO” on Proposition K.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION K

This is a well-intended measure. However, it is the wrong means to achieve a laudable end. The undersigned supports the end, but not the means, which are counter-productive. First, in the opinion of the City Planning Director, this measure will preclude negotiation with property owners to add sunlight to city parks. An initiative ordinance is inflexible, unlike a regular planning ordinance which is adopted only after adequate, open, public hearing before the Planning Commission and the Board of Supervisors, after proper public notification. If future prob-problems occur, amendments can be made, problems adjusted. For example, Proposition K would exempt 40-foot buildings. However, even 40-foot buildings can cast shadows in open areas in early morning and late afternoon, particularly during low sun periods in winter months.
Park Shadow Ban

VOTE NO ON “K”

Secondly, some developments over 40 feet are exempted from this measure and others are not. Thirdly, the measure also ignores steps by builders to mitigate shadows.

As an initiative ordinance (by Supervisors, not by voter signatures, incidentally) Proposition K sidesteps public hearings and freezes planning requirements into formulae.

I pledge support to a regular planning ordinance to enhance sunlight in City parks which is now almost ready for enactment, not something which shuts out the public and can have an opposite effect than that which is intended.

Let’s do it right — Vote NO on K.

Supervisor Quentin L. Kopp

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

We encourage a NO vote on Proposition K.

To protect public open spaces from shadows, San Francisco’s architecture, business and development communities support reasonable and technically workable sunlight access regulations. And such regulations are included in the Department of City Planning’s Downtown Plan.

The Department of City Planning and University of California’s School of Environmental Design constructed a precise model of San Francisco to establish sunlight preservation rules for all downtown public open spaces and shopping streets. These regulations have been thoroughly tested in the university’s simulation laboratory. The Downtown Plan’s sunlight access rules are based upon this careful analysis.

The Downtown Plan’s innovative sunlight preservation regulations are nationally recognized. These regulations have not been incorporated in Proposition K, a poorly analyzed and technically flawed proposition. Vote NO on Proposition K.

Proposition K is a well intentioned but badly written law which opposes and conflicts with critical urban and building design portions of the Downtown Plan.

Without a shadow of a doubt, Proposition K is faulty public policy. Show your support for strong and responsible sunlight preservation rules by voting NO on Proposition K.

John H. Jacobs
San Francisco Chamber of Commerce

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

Proposition K is unnecessary, inconsistent and confusing.

This ill-conceived measure would allow, indeed encourage, the development of a 39-foot building that will completely shade a children’s playground — all day. At the same time, Proposition K would not permit construction of a four-story apartment building a full block away from a park and recreation gymnasium if it casts even a partial shadow on the gymnasium for only 3 hours a day, a few days during the year. In a city facing a major rental housing crisis, Proposition K is a ridiculous idea. Vote NO on K.

If the objectives of Proposition K were included in the city planning code where they belong, we would not have conflicts between sunlight and jobs, sunlight and housing, sunlight and city revenues, sunlight and parks. Vote NO on K.

Proposition K will destroy our progress toward a more livable city. Imagine San Francisco without landmarks like Mission Dolores, Coit Tower, Ghirardelli Square, City College, City Hall, Park Merced Apartments, and the St. Francis Hotel. Proposition K would prevent their being built today. Vote NO on K.

San Francisco is a city that is “supposed” to know how. Passing hastily prepared, poorly thought out ordinances only invites lawsuits — lawsuits that will be contested at taxpayer expense. It is not the way to build a better city. Vote NO on K.

(d) Whenever in the judgment of the chief of police public interest or necessity requires the services of any member to serve in excess of the basic week of service during any week, the chief of police may permit said service, and said member shall be compensated therefor or shall receive equivalent time credited to him in lieu thereof in accordance with this sub-section. For service performed in excess of the basic week, member shall, as requested by the member, be compensated on the basis of time and one-half in accordance with the ratio which said excess service bears to the basic week of service and the annual compensation provided therefor in section 3.531 or in lieu thereof equivalent time off duty with pay at the rate of time and one-half.
(e) Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to interfere with a vacation, as provided for in section 8.440 of this charter, or the normal days off per week; provided, however, that when in the judgment of the chief of police public interest or necessity requires the services of any member to serve on his vacation, or part thereof, or normal days off, and he shall receive additional compensation for the period so served. (b) Notwithstanding the provisions of any of the foregoing sub-sections, the members of the police department shall be entitled to the days declared to be holidays for employees whose compensations are fixed on a monthly basis in the schedules of compensations adopted by the board of supervisors pursuant to the provisions of section 8.401 of the charter as additional days off with pay. (j) Any member who actually performs services between the hours of 5:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m. shall be entitled to an additional 6.25% of the compensation otherwise payable for the base pay thereof for all such hours worked; provided, however, that such additional compensation shall not be included for purposes of retirement benefit calculation or contributions provided elsewhere in this charter.

The provisions of this sub-section shall become effective in the manner provided by law, but in no event prior to July 1, 1984.

The rates of compensation set forth in the budget estimates, the budget and the annual salary ordinance shall be those fixed by the board of supervisors as in this section provided and appropriations therefor shall be based thereon.

The expression "rates of compensation", as used in this section in relation to said survey, is hereby declared to apply only to a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, and does not include such working benefits as might be set up by any other city by way of holidays, vacations, other permitted absences of any type whatsoever, overtime, night or split shift, or pay for specialized services within a classification or rank, or other premium pay differentials of any type whatsoever. The foregoing enumeration is not exclusive, but it is the intent of this section that nothing other than a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, is to be included within the meaning of "rates of compensation".

Working benefits and premium pay differential of any type shall be allowed or paid to members of the police department referred to herein only as is otherwise provided in this charter.

For all purposes of the retirement system, the expression "rates of compensation" as used in this section, shall mean "salary attached to the rank" as used in section 166 of the charter of 1932, as amended, and, with the addition of $15.00 per month now provided in subsection (b) with respect to members assigned to two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty, shall also mean "compensation variable" as used in section 8.549.

The term "police officers or patrolmen" as used in this section shall mean the persons employed in the police departments of said cities of 350,000 population or over or of the City and County of San Francisco, to perform substantially the duties being performed on the effective date of this section by police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers in the San Francisco Police Department.

In determining years of service necessary for a police officer, woman protective officer and police patrol driver to receive the annual compensation as provided for herein, service rendered prior to the effective date of this amendment shall be given full credit and allowed.

The absence of any police officer, woman protective officer, or police patrol driver on military leave, as defined by section 8.361 of this charter, shall be reckoned a part of his service under the city and county, for the purpose of computing years of service in gaining added compensation as provided for herein.

On the recommendation of the chief of police, the commission may reward any member of the department for heroic or meritorious conduct. The form or amount of said reward to be discretionary with the commission, but not to exceed one month's salary in any one instance.

If any member of the department appointed as an assistant inspector is a sergeant at the time of the appointment or is appointed a sergeant thereafter, he shall receive the rate of compensation attached to the rank of sergeant.

(b) Not later than the 1st day of August of each year the civil service commission shall survey, and certify to the board of supervisors, additional rates of pay paid to members assigned to two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty in the respective police departments of all cities of 350,000 population or over in the State of California, based upon the latest federal decennial census. For the purpose of the civil service commission's survey and certification the additional rates for two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty shall include the average additional amount paid to members assigned to two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty in the cities surveyed.

Thereupon the board of supervisors shall have power, and it shall be its duty, by ordinance, to fix the additional rate of pay for the members of the police department who are assigned two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty. The additional rate of pay will be determined by the average additional wage paid to members in regular service in the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission who are assigned to two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty. "Average wage" as used in this paragraph shall mean the sum of the additional rates of pay certified by the civil service commission divided by the number of cities in said certification. Said additional rates shall be in lieu of said annual compensations and shall be effective from the first day of July of the current fiscal year.

Said rate of pay shall be in addition to the rate of compensation provided for in subsection (a).

In no event shall the additional rate so fixed be less than $15.00 per month.

(c) Not later than the 1st day of August of each year, the civil service commission shall survey and certify to the board of supervisors rates of compensation paid firemen employed in the respective fire departments of all cities of 350,000 population or over in the State of California, based upon the latest federal decennial census. For the purpose of the civil service commission's survey and certification the rates contained in said certification shall be the average of the maximum rates paid to each fireman classification performing the same or essentially the same duties as firemen in the City and County of San Francisco.

Thereupon, the board of supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, by ordinance, to fix rates of compensation for the members of the fire department whose annual compensations are set forth or otherwise provided in section 3.542 of this charter, and said rates shall be in lieu of said annual compensations and shall be effective from the 1st day of July of the current fiscal year.

The rates of compensation, fixed in said ordinance, (1) for the fourth year of service and thereafter the rate of compensation shall be fixed at a rate which is the average of the maximum compensation paid firemen classifications in regular service in the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission. "Average wage" as used in this paragraph shall mean the sum of the maximum averages certified by the civil service commission divided by the number of firemen classifications in cities in said certification;

(2) for the first, second and third year of service for firemen shall be established in accordance with the general percentage differential between seniority steps found in the salary ranges included in the cities certified by the civil service commission for the same class;

(3) for said members of the fire department other than firemen shall include the same percent of adjustment as that established by said ordinance for firemen in the fourth year of service; and

(4) shall be set at the dollar amount nearest the fractional amount which may result from percentage adjustment specified in this section, half dollars being taken to the next higher dollar amount.

The expression "rates of compensation" as used in this section, in relation to said survey, is hereby declared to apply only to a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, and does not include such working benefits as might be set up by any other city by way of holidays, vacations, other permitted absences for any type whatsoever, overtime, night or split shift, or pay for specialized services within a classification or rank, or other premium pay differentials of any type whatsoever. The foregoing enumeration is not exclusive, but it is the intent of this section that nothing other than a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, is to be included within the meaning of "rates of compensation".

Working benefits and premium pay differentials of any type shall be allowed or paid to members of the fire department referred to herein only as is otherwise provided in this charter.

For all purposes of the retirement system, the expression "rates of compensation", as used in subsections (c) and (d) of this section shall mean "salary attached to the rank" as used in section 169 of the charter of 1932, as amended and "compensation earnable" as used in section 8.549.

The term "firemen" as used in this section shall mean the persons employed, in the fire departments of said cities of 350,000 population or over or of the City and County of San Francisco, to perform substantially the duties being performed on the effective date of this section by drivers, strokers, fillermen, truckmen, or hosenmen, in the San Francisco fire department.

The expression "members of the fire department" does not include members of the fire commission.

The absence of any officer or member of the fire department on military leave of absence, as defined by section 8.361 of this charter shall be reckoned a part of his service under the city and county, for the purpose of computing years of service in gaining added compensation as provided in this charter.

On the recommendation of the chief of department, the commission may reward any officer or member of the department for heroic or meritorious conduct, the form or amount of said award to be discretionary with the fire commission, but not to exceed one month's salary in any one instance.

The rates of compensation for the ranks of captain, bureau of fire prevention and public safety, and lieutenant, bureau of fire prevention and public safety, and lieutenant, bureau of fire investigation, shall be thirteen percent above the compensation established for the ranks of captain and lieutenant as provided for in this section. The rates of compensation for the ranks of inspector, bureau of fire prevention and public safety, and investigator, bureau of fire investigation, shall be ten percent above the compensation established for the rank of chief's operator as provided for in this section. The rate of compensation shall be set at the dollar amount nearest the fractional amount which may result from percentage adjustment specified in this subsection, half dollars being taken to the next higher dollar amount.

The rates of compensation fixed pursuant to the provisions of subsection (a) (1), (2) and (3) and the rates of compensation fixed pursuant to the provisions of subsection (c) (1), (2) and (3) shall be the same. Such rates shall not exceed the highest average rate of compensation fixed pursuant to subsections (a) (1), (2) and (3) and (c) (1), (2) and (3) above, whether it be paid to police officers, patrolmen, or firemen; provided, further, that the minimum rate of compensation attached to the rank of sergeant in the police department shall be equal to the rate of compensation attached to the rank of lieutenant in the fire department.

(e) Not later than the 25th of August the board of supervisors shall have the power and it shall be its duty, subject to the fiscal provisions of the charter but, without reference or amendment to the annual budget, to amend the annual appropriation ordinance and the annual salary ordinance as necessary to include the provisions of paying the rates of compensation fixed by the board of supervisors as in this section provided for uniformed members of the police and fire departments for the then current fiscal year.

(f) Not later than the 1st day of August of each year, the civil service commission shall determine and certify to the board of supervisors the percentage of increase or decrease in the cost of living during the twelve-month period ending March 31st of that same year as shown by the Consumer Price Index, All Items San Francisco, and the percentage of increase or decrease in the cost of living during the same period as shown by the Consumer Price Index, All Items, in the cities included in the certified report of said commission. The Consumer Price Index referred to herein is defined as that certain index issued by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and published in the Monthly Labor Review or a successor publication. In the event the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics discontinues the compilation and publication of said indexes, the board of supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to appoint a statistical fact finding committee to determine the same data pursuant to the methods theretofore used by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. The cost of living adjustments as hereinafter provided shall be based upon the percentage of such increases or decreases. The board of supervisors may, in addition to the rates of compensation as established herein, and at the same time said rates of compensation are established, increase said rates of compensation by an amount equal to the difference between the average cost of living increase of the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission and the actual cost of living increase for San Francisco. In the event the board of supervisors elects not to grant such cost of living increase in any year in which any such increase might be granted, the board of supervisors shall, upon a written request filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors not later than the 10th day of September of said year by representatives of the uniformed members of the police and fire departments, as designated by the police and fire commissions, respectively, submit the question of said cost of living increase to the qualified electors of the city and county at the next succeeding citywide election. If in the event said cost of living increase is approved by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon, said cost of living increase shall be effective as of the first day of the then current fiscal year.

(g) Notwithstanding any of the provisions contained in this section, no uniformed member of the police or fire department employed before July 1, 1976, whose compensation is fixed pursuant to the formula contained herein, shall suffer a salary reduction by the application of any new compensation schedules, and the rates for fiscal year 1975-76 shall continue until such time as the new schedules equal or exceed the current salary increment schedules, provided, however, that such time shall not be extended beyond June 30, 1982, and provided further that this prohibition against reduction of compensation for the designated employees shall not be deemed to supersede the provisions of section 8.406 of this charter.

(h) Notwithstanding any of the provisions contained in this section, no uniformed member of the police or fire department, whose compensation is fixed pursuant to the formula contained herein, shall suffer a salary reduction by the application of the compensation schedules provided for herein. Provided, however, that this prohibition against reduction of compensation for the designated employees shall not be deemed to supersede the provisions of section 8.406 of this charter.

(i) Notwithstanding the provisions of any of the foregoing sub-sections, members of the fire department employed in the entry rank thereof (H-2) who have completed specified years of satisfactory service shall be entitled to additional compensation as herein provided.

Service shall not qualify as "satisfactory" if the member has been suspended or otherwise disciplined pursuant to the authority granted in section 8.343 during the five year period immediately preceding initial qualification for the additional compensation provided for herein. Any member who shall be so suspended or otherwise disciplined while receiving such additional compensation shall cease to be entitled thereto for a period of two years from the date of decision by the chief of department or the fire commission as appropriate.

Additional compensation as herein provided shall not be included for purposes of retirement benefit calculation or contributions provided elsewhere in this charter.

In determining the years of service necessary to qualify for additional compensation as provided herein, service rendered prior to the effective date of this section as amended shall be given full credit and allowed.

(1) Upon the completion of ten and until the completion of fifteen years of aggregate service, an amount equal to 2 1/2 percent above the rates of compensation as defined and provided for this section shall be paid;

proposed ordinance

PROPOSITION K

NOTE: This section is entirely new.

Be it ordained by the people of San Francisco:

No building permit authorizing the construction of any structure that will cast any shade or shadow upon any property under the jurisdiction of, or designated for acquisition by, the Recreation and Park Commission may be issued except upon prior action of the City Planning Commission pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance; provided, however, that the provisions of this ordinance shall not apply to building permits authorizing: structures which do not exceed 40 feet in height; structures which cast a shade or shadow upon property under the jurisdiction of, or designated for acquisition by, the Recreation and Park Commission only during the first hour after sunrise and/or the last hour before sunset; structures to be constructed on property under the jurisdiction of the Recreation and Park Commission for recreational and park-related purposes; structures of the same height and in the same location as structures in place on June 6, 1984; projects for which a building permit application has been filed and either (i) a public hearing has been held prior to March 5, 1984 on a draft environmental impact report published by the Department of City Planning, or (ii) a Negative Declaration has been published by the Department of City Planning prior to the date of adoption of this initiative ordinance; or projects for which a building permit application and an application for environmental evaluation have been filed prior to March 5, 1984 and which involve physical integration of new construction with rehabilitation of a building designated as historic either by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors as a historical landmark or by the State Historic Preservation Officer as a State Historic Landmark, or placed by the United States Department of the Interior on the National Register of His- toric Places and which are located on sites that, but for separation by a street or alley, are adjacent to such historic building. The City Planning Commission shall conduct a hearing and shall disapprove the issuance of any building permit governed by the provisions of this ordinance if it finds that the proposed project will have any adverse impact on the use of the property under the jurisdiction of, or designated for acquisition by, the Recreation and Park Commission because of the shading or shadowing that it will cause, unless it is determined that the impact would be insignificant. The City Planning Commission shall not make the determination required by the provisions of this subsection until the general manager of the Recreation and Park Department in consultation with the Recreation and Park Commission has had an opportunity to review and comment to the City Planning Commission upon the proposed project. The City Planning Commission and the Recreation and Park Commission, after a joint meeting, shall adopt criteria for the implementation of the provisions of this ordinance. The zoning administrator shall determine which applications for building permits propose structures which will cast a shade or shadow upon property under the jurisdiction of, or designated for acquisition by, the Recreation and Park Commission. As used in this subsection, "property designated for acquisition by the Recreation and Park Commission" shall mean property which a majority of each of the Recreation and Park Commission and the City Planning Commission meeting jointly, with the concurrence of the Board of Supervisors, have recommended for acquisition from the open space acquisition and park renovation fund which property is to be placed under the jurisdiction of the Recreation and Park Commission. The provisions of this ordinance shall also be incorporated into the City Planning Code.

PROPERTY TAX POSTPONEMENT. DISABLED PERSON. Authorizes Legislature to postpone property tax payments on owner occupied principal residence by disabled person. Fiscal Impact: State expenditures estimated to be less than $2 million annually which would be recovered, with interest, when the homes are sold.

PROPERTY TAXATION. HISTORIC STRUCTURE EXCLUSION. Excludes from property tax reassessment certain new construction on owner occupied principal residence historic structures. Fiscal Impact: Local governments property tax revenue loss of less than $100,000 annually. State government expenditure of about 32% of this to compensate local school districts for property tax revenue losses.

(Proposition 35 has been withdrawn from the ballot)

TAXATION. Amends Proposition 13 adding restrictions on real property taxation, new tax measures, and charging fees. Provides specified tax refunds. Fiscal Impact: State revenues reduced at least $100 million, net, over first two-year period. State costs increased up to $750 million over first two-year period and by about $150 million annually in subsequent years to replace revenue losses to schools. Local agencies other than schools property tax and other revenue losses of about $2.8 billion, net, over first two-year period and of about $1.1 billion annually in subsequent years.

STATE LOTTERY. Establishes state-operated lottery. Revenue use: prizes, 50%; expenses, not more than 16%; public education, at least 34%. Fiscal Impact: Cannot be predicted with certainty. Estimated yield for public education would be about $500 million annually, with less the first two years. Estimated division: K-12, 80%; Community Colleges, 13%; California State University, 5%; University of California, 2%.

VOTING MATERIALS. ENGLISH ONLY. Requires Governor urge federal officials amend law so that voting materials be printed in English only. Fiscal Impact: Insignificant.
CIUDAD Y CONDADO DE SAN FRANCISCO, ELECCIÓN GENERAL, 6 DE NOVIEMBRE DE 1984

33. POSTERGACIÓN DEL IMPUESTO A LA PROPIEDAD. PERSONAS INHABILITADAS. Autoriza a la Legislatura a posponer el pago del impuesto a la propiedad sobre una residencia principal ocupada por su dueño quien sea una persona inhabilitada. Impacto fiscal: Gastos estatales calculados en menos de $2 millones anuales, los cuales serían recuperados con intereses, cuando las residencias sean vendidas.

34. FIJACIÓN DE IMPUESTOS A LA PROPIEDAD. EXCLUSIÓN DE ESPECIALIDAD EDUCATIVA. Exime del recaudado el impuesto a la propiedad ciertas construcciones o trabajos nuevos efectuados en residencias que son estructuras históricas ocupadas por sus dueños como el principal lugar de residencia. Impacto fiscal: Pérdidas para los gobiernos locales en los ingresos del impuesto a la propiedad de menos de $100,000 anuales. Gastos gubernamentales alrededor del 32% de esta suma para compensar a los distritos escolares locales por la pérdida de ingresos del impuesto a la propiedad.

35. La Proposición número 35 no será usada en esta elección.

36. FIJACIÓN DE IMPUESTOS. Emenda la Proposición 13 añadiendo restricciones en la fijación de impuestos a la propiedad inmueble, nuevas medidas de impuestos y honorarios a cobrar. Dispone reembolsos especificados de impuestos. Impacto fiscal: Reducción en los ingresos estatales por lo menos $100 millones netos, durante el primer periodo de dos años. Aumento en los costos estatales de hasta $750 millones durante el primer periodo de dos años y en unos $150 millones anuales en años subsecuentes para reemplazar la pérdida de ingresos para las escuelas. Pérdidas para otras agencias locales, además de para las escuelas, del impuesto a la propiedad y otras pérdidas de ingresos de alrededor de $2.6 mil millones netos, durante el primer periodo de dos años y de alrededor de $1.1 mil millones anualmente en años subsecuentes.

37. LOTERÍA ESTATAL. Establece una lotería operada por el estado. Uso de los ingresos: premios, el 50%; gastos, no más del 16%; educación pública, por lo menos el 34%. Impacto fiscal: No puede ser predicho con certeza. El rendimiento que se calcula para la educación pública sería de alrededor de $500 millones anuales, siendo menor los dos primeros años. División que se calcula: jardín de niños al 12º grado, el 80%; universidades de la comunidad, el 13%; Universidad Estatal de California, el 5%; Universidad de California, el 2%.

38. MATERIALES DE VOTACIÓN. INGLÉS SOLAMENTE. Requiere que el Gobernador urja a los oficiales federales a que emiendan la ley para que los materiales para votación sean impresos en inglés solamente. Impacto fiscal: Insignificante.
REAPPORTIONMENT. Provides reapportioning Senate, Assembly, Congressional, Equalization districts for 1986 and subsequent elections by new commission composed of former justices. Fiscal Impact: Commission costs of up to $3.5 million before 1986 election. Costs of $10,000 to $20,000 each to relocate an unknown number of district legislative offices. County costs of about $500,000 for 1986 election materials. County savings of about $300,000 in 1986 for printing costs, and $200,000 every two years thereafter. Future reappor- tionments will probably cost less than under existing law.

CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS. Limits contributors and contributions to elective state office candidates. Opposition candidate's personal expenditures matched by limited public funding. Fiscal Impact: Reduce state revenues by about $100,000 each fiscal year and increase state expenditures by approximately up to $1,650,000 each fiscal year.

PUBLIC AID, MEDICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS. Creates Public Assistance Commission. Limits benefit expenditures to national average plus 10%. Legislative amendments permitted. Fiscal Impact: Net effect would be combined state and county expenditure reduction beginning July 1, 1986. Size of reduction and impact at different levels of government impossible to determine. Substantial reductions under specified programs would be partially offset to an unknown extent by increased costs under other programs and reduced tax revenues resulting from reduced federal expenditures within the state. Likely, state expenditures would be reduced and county expenditures increased.

CITY & COUNTY PROPOSITIONS

A Shall the Port Commission be authorized to issue $42,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance construction and improvements of Port facilities?

B Shall the Public Utilities Commission be authorized to issue $104,000,000 in revenue bonds to finance acquisition and construction of facilities for the operation of the Water Department?

C Shall a Health Commission consisting of seven members appointed by the Mayor be created to manage and control City and County hospitals and all other county health services and appoint a Director of Public Health?
REDISTRIBUCIÓN. Dispone redistribución para los distritos del Senado, Asamblea, Congreso y de la Junta de Revisión de Avalúos para 1986 y para las elecciones subsiguientes mediante una comisión compuesta de anteriores jueces. Impacto fiscal: Costos de la comisión de hasta $3.5 millones antes de la elección de 1986. Costos de $10,000 a $20,000 cada uno para reubicar un número desconocido de oficinas legislativas en los distritos. Costos del condado alrededor de $500,000 para materiales para la elección de 1986. Aportes para el condado alrededor de $300,000 en 1986 por costos de impresión y $200,000 cada dos años de allí en adelante. Las redistribuciones futuras probablemente costarán menos que baja la ley actual.

CONTRIBUCIONES PARA COMPAÑÍAS. Limita a los contribuyedores y las contribuciones a candidatos a cargos políticos electivos, iguala con fondos públicos limitados los gastos personales del candidato de oposición. Impacto fiscal: Reducir los gastos estatales en unos $100,000 cada año de ejercicio fiscal y aumenta los gastos estatales en aproximadamente hasta $1,850,000 cada año de ejercicio fiscal.

AYUDA PÚBLICA, PROGRAMAS DE ASISTENCIA MÉDICA. Crea Comisión de Asistencia Pública. Limita gastos de beneficio al promedio nacional más el 10%. Permite emiendas legislativas, Impacto fiscal: la reducción de los gastos combinados del estado y condados comenzando el 1º de julio de 1986. El tamaño de la reducción y su impacto en los diferentes niveles del gobierno es imposible determinarse en este momento. Reducciones substanciales bajo Programas especificados serían parcialmente compensadas hasta un grado desconocido mediante el aumento de otros gastos bajo otros programas y por ingresos de impuestos reducidos que resulten de gastos federales reducidos dentro del estado. Es factible que los gastos estatales serían reducidos y que los gastos de condados aumentarían.

PROPOSICIONES DE CIUDAD Y CONDADO

A. ¿Deberá autorizarse a la Comisión del Puerto a emitir $42,500,000 en bonos de ingresos para financiar la construcción y mejoras de las instalaciones portuarias?

B. ¿Deberá autorizarse a la Comisión de Servicios Públicos a emitir $104,000,000 en bonos de ingresos para financiar la adquisición y construcción de instalaciones para el Departamento de Aguas?

YOUR RIGHTS AS A VOTER
by Ballot Simplification Committee

Q—Who can vote?
A—You can vote at this election only if you registered to vote by October 9, 1984.

Q—Who can register to vote?
A—You can register to vote if you:
• are a U.S. Citizen,
• are at least 18 years of age on election day,
• are a resident of California, and
• are not imprisoned or on parole for the conviction of a felony

Q—How do I register?
A—Phone the Registrar of Voters at 558-3417.

Q—Do I have to belong to a political party?
A—Only if you want to. If you don’t want to tell what political party you consider yours you can check the box on the form saying that you “Decline to State.”

Q—If I have picked a party, can I vote for candidates of another political party?
A—At a general election, such as this one, you can vote for any candidate whose name appears on your ballot.

Q—Once I have signed up, do I have to do it again?
A—Only if you have moved.

Q—If I have been convicted of a felony, can I sign up to vote?
A—Yes, if you have served your sentence and parole.

Q—What candidates will voters be choosing at this election?
A—President, Congress, State Legislature, Supervisors, B.A.R.T., College Governing Board and Board of Education.

Q—Where do I go to vote?
A—Your voting place is printed above your name and address sent with this Voters’ Pamphlet (back cover).

Q—If I don’t know what to do when I get to my voting place, is there someone there to help me?
A—Yes, the workers at the voting place will help you. If they can’t help you, call 558-3061.

Q—When do I vote?
A—The election will be Tuesday, November 6, 1984. Your voting place is open from 7 A.M. to 8 P.M. that day.

Q—What do I do if my voting place is not open?
A—Call 558-3061.

Q—Can I take my sample ballot into the voting booth even if I’ve written on it?
A—Yes. Writing on your sample ballot will aid you in voting and will eliminate long lines at the polls.

Q—Can I vote for someone whose name is not on the ballot?
A—Yes. This is called a “write-in”. If you want to and don’t know how, ask one of the workers to help you. The poll workers will have a list of eligible write-ins.

Q—What do I do if I cannot work the voting machine?
A—Ask the workers and they will help you.

Q—Can a worker at the voting place ask me to take any test?
A—No.

Q—Is there any way to vote besides going to the polls on election day?
A—Yes. You can vote early by:
• Going to the Registrar of Voters office in City Hall and voting there, or
• mailing in the application sent with this voters’ handbook (see enclosed card).

Q—What can I do if I do not have an application form?
A—You can send a letter or postcard asking for an absentee ballot. This letter or postcard should be sent to the Registrar of Voters, City Hall, San Francisco 94102.

Q—What do I say when I ask for an absentee ballot?
A—You must write:
• your address when you signed up to vote,
• the address where you want the ballot mailed,
• then sign your name, and also clearly print your name underneath.

Q—When do I mail my absentee ballot back to the Registrar of Voters?
A—You should mail your absentee ballot back to the Registrar of Voters as soon as possible. You must be sure your absentee ballot gets to the Registrar of Voters by 8 P.M. on election day, November 6, 1984.
WORDS YOU NEED TO KNOW
by Ballot Simplification Committee

Here are a few of the words that you will need to know:

BALLOT—A list of candidates and propositions.

ABSENTEE BALLOT—If you wish to vote by mail you can get a special ballot to fill out. This ballot is called an absentee ballot. You can get this ballot from the Registrar of Voters at City Hall. Please refer to the insert card in the pamphlet.

VOTE BY MAIL—See Absentee Ballot, above.

POLL—The place where you go to vote.

PROPOSITION—This means any issue that you vote on. If it deals with City & County government it will have a letter, such as Proposition A. If it deals with State government it will have a number, such as Proposition 1. State propositions are numbered 25 through 41 because in June the numbers were 16 through 24.

CHALLENGE—Officers at the polls can challenge a voter for various reasons, such as living in a different precinct from the one in which he or she is voting.

SUPERVISORS—Elected members of the governing legislative body for the City and County of San Francisco.

CHARTER AMENDMENT—The charter is the basic set of laws for the city government. A charter amendment changes one of those basic laws. It takes a vote of the people to change the charter. It cannot be changed again without another vote of the people.

ORDINANCE—A law of the city and county, which is passed by the Board of Supervisors or approved by the voters.

DECLARATION OF POLICY—A declaration of policy asks a question: Do you agree or disagree with a certain idea? If a majority of the voters approve of a declaration of policy, the supervisors must carry out the policy, to the extent legally possible.

INITIATIVE—This is a way for voters to put a proposition on the ballot for people to vote on. An initiative is put on the ballot by getting a certain number of voters to sign a petition. Each initiative ordinance needs signatures from 7,334 qualified voters. An ordinance passed by the people cannot be changed again without another vote of the people, unless the initiative expressly gives the Board of Supervisors the power to change the law.

PETITION—A list of signatures of voters who agree that a certain idea or question should be on the ballot.

BONDS—Contracts to borrow and repay money.

RIGHTS OF THE HANDICAPPED VOTER

1. Persons unable to mark their ballot may bring one or two persons with them into the voting booth to assist them.

2. If architectural barriers prevent a handicapped voter from entering the polling place then the voter will be allowed to vote a ballot on the sidewalk in front of the polling place (Section 14234, Elections Code).

3. A recent law allows the handicapped to apply as “Permanent Absentee Voters”. A permanent absentee voter will receive a ballot in the mail at all future elections. A permanent absentee application appears as part of the regular absentee application enclosed in this book.
"It appears to be one end of the November 7 San Francisco ballot..."

My qualifications for office are: I am a Hispanic-Filipina (English/Spanish-speaking) administrative-secretarial San Francisco worker and Muni commuter and have been a resident voter since 1968.

RICHARD BRADLEY

My address is 1 Ardath Court

My age is 34
My qualifications for office are: As a supporter of the Spartacist League I twice tore down the Confederate flag of slavery which flies no more in Civic Center. Spikes Reagan’s anti-Soviet war plans and union-busting austerity drive by mass strike action! U.S. imperialism—hands off Central America! Smash Klan/Nazi terror through labor/black action! Break with Democrats—enemies of labor/minorities! Build a workers party that will stop at nothing short of socialist revolution and a workers government!

ROBERT DANIEL INGRAHAM

My address is 1637 Noriega Street
My occupation is Political Consultant
My age is 33

My qualifications for office are: Over one hundred years ago two great men, David Broderick and Edward Baker, gave their lives to save this Republic.

I ask you voters to compare these two San Franciscans with the small minded politicians of today.

Pathetic Wendy Nelder says “Fluoride causes AIDS”; degraded Willie Brown corrupts us with “Oh What a Night” baccalalia; Feinstein lusts for higher office, and the rest are worse.

San Francisco can play an historic role in the development of the Pacific Basin. But you, our citizens, must decide. I urge you: Join with me and other candidates of Lyndon LaRouche’s NDPC in our fight.

RUBY T. JIMENEZ

My address is 961 Delano Avenue
My occupation is Directory Sales Representative
My age is 45

My qualifications for office are: A San Francisco resident since, 1948 and a naturalized American of Mexican descent, I consider myself an earnest interpreter of human needs for the Hispanic community and other minorities. Misinterpretations, injustices, lack of communication and mutual respect must be addressed and aired. These human needs for minorities and others can be solved if we end the current world depression. The humane world economic policies of Lyndon LaRouche, particularly his proposal for joint economic development between the United States and Iberia-America (Operation Juarez) can end this depression. The port of San Francisco should be expanded to become a strong world trade center.

QUENTIN L. KOPP
My address is 68 Country Club Drive
My occupation is Attorney/Member, Board of Supervisors

My qualifications for office are: Local government is us, because we depend upon it to provide essential services and wise leadership. For 13 years I’ve fought to cut governmental waste and excessive taxation, to keep government honest and on its toes. My efforts have already saved taxpayers over $250,000,000 and I’m proud to be the one supervisor who watches how every dollar is spent. This year City government will spend an average $4,500,000 a day, every day. I want to continue my role as your “financial watchdog” in City Hall and add a needed balance to the Board. I would very much appreciate your support.

DAVID C. SMITH

My address is 2567 Alemany Blvd
My occupation is Administrator, Service Agency
My age is 34
My qualifications for office are: I am a San Francisco State graduate in journalism, married, with a deep affection for this place. For seven years my wife and I have counseled families and individuals from every neighborhood in San Francisco—an investment and commitment to the future. Dealing with these problems has increased my awareness of this city's growing preoccupation with rights and shrinking concern for responsibilities. The solution includes a return to basics, to strong family units, to solid values, to the worth of all human life. I will be a voice for those who feel excluded, especially exploited children and the disadvantaged.

KEVIN STARR

My address is 445 Chestnut Street
My occupation is Businessman, Communicator, Professor
My age is 44
My qualifications for office are: Born in San Francisco, I relish the past, present and future of this great city. I know it from a variety of perspectives—as executive aide to Mayor Alioto, as City Librarian, as a newspaper columnist, as a professor, as a businessman, and as a person active in many civic causes. I now wish to bring my talents and experience to the Board of Supervisors. I believe I can be of unique service as the centrist advocate of this city as it looks to its future. That future, the well-being of each of us, will be my greatest concern.

SYLVIA WEINSTEIN
My address is 489 27th Street
My occupation is Staff-writer for Socialist Action newspaper
My age is 58

My qualifications for office are: My program:

Courts, cops and strikebreaking injunctions; two-gate, two-tiered, union-busting tactics, are helping employers depress living standards. Escalating health, housing and food costs are forcing working people—especially Blacks and Latinos—out of San Francisco. Corporate condos and highrises replace workers' residences.

Door-key children of working parents, denied childcare, are left to roam the streets. Abortion clinics are under siege.

Only united labor—employed, unemployed, black, white—can change this condition. An independent labor party, based on the unions, must be built to replace the callous politicians of the two ruling capitalist parties.

Jobs not war!

DAVE WHARTON

My address is 5031 Diamond Heights Blvd.
My occupation is Community Service Attorney
My age is 44

It’s time for housing expansion, for transit, traffic, parking overhaul. Time for better City services, especially for seniors and youth. Time to strengthen economy, create jobs, control taxes. Time for neighborhood revitalization, parking relief. Time for human rights advancement, efficient and humane police services. Experiment with Board meetings in neighborhoods.

It’s time for goals, results, citizen participation. San Francisco is world class city, small town; lose either, be neither. I build bridges, not barriers. Join our common sense coalition.

LIBBY DENEBEIM
My address is 200 St. Francis Blvd.
My occupation is Incumbent School Board Member
My qualifications for office are: Four years ago you elected me to the school board. I am deeply grateful.
I have worked hard. Student achievement scores improved, enrollment stabilized. We strengthened significantly special programs and alternative schools.
There remains much work to do. As a mother of six public school educated children, former teacher and experienced school board member, I know how our schools should work.
Many children today will finish school in the 21st Century. For all our children we must plan for the future, reaffirm our commitment to excellence, use school dollars prudently and ensure the momentum for improvement in our schools continues.

Candidates for School Board

TERRY HUGUNIN
My address is 1824 Noriega Street
My occupation is Consultant
My age is 37

My qualifications for office are: Those of us who were teenagers during President Kennedy's Appolo Space Program thought there was nothing we and our nation might not accomplish: "We're going to the moon in ten years!" Thanks to outfits like the National Education Association, the science oriented New Frontiers of the 60's have given way to the "other-directedness" of the Aquarian Age. Their goal: form a society of androgynous pacifists—study their literature. Mine is to restore the problem-solving orientation appropriate to Judeo-Christian culture. Help me mobilize our schools to implement the Strategic Defense Initiative and overcome the nuclear war threat.

Terry Hugunin

JAMES LEGARE
My address is 254 Oak Street
My occupation is Motor Truck Operator
My age is 57

My qualifications for office are: I am committed to installing a sound educational program in our schools as the basis for getting our country and economy moving again—in the American tradition. We need to develop young minds through a program of classical education and to protect them by wiping out drugs in the schools and in the nation.

I propose to reform the school system along these lines:
1) Classical geometry and physics, as typified by Plato, Archimedes, Cusa Kepler, and Leibniz
2) Classical poetry, music, and drama, exemplified by Homer, Aeschylus, Dante, Shakespeare, Schiller, Bach, and Beethoven

Candidates for School Board

JO ANNE MILLER

My address is 1920 Quint Street
My occupation is Parent and Teacher

My qualifications for office are: I am the mother of two children in San Francisco Public Schools. I believe in the Public School System, and have a personal interest in its quality and effectiveness. I am a teacher of the blind. I am President of the Glen Park School Site Advisory Committee, and hold other elected civic offices.

The lack of parent representation on the School Board has contributed to a lack of parent and citizen involvement, a lack of long-term planning and vision in school administration, and a failure to commit the School District to a plan and goal of excellence for all children.

JoAnne Miller

BEN TOM

My address is 1717 Jones Street
My occupation is Transportation Analyst

My qualifications for office are: I believe I have provided outstanding leadership during my eight years on the San Francisco Board of Education. This is evidenced by the fact that test scores have improved and new programs have attracted students back from private schools.

As an active parent, I know San Francisco's schools first-hand. I have worked conscientiously for our children's future. I have the vision and I have gained the practical skills necessary to continue building our school district into one of the best large urban districts in the nation.

Port Revenue Bonds

PROPOSITION A

Shall the Port Commission be authorized to issue $42,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance construction and improvements of Port facilities?

YES 253
NO 254

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Port Commission operates the Port of San Francisco. When funds are needed for Port construction or improvements, the Commission may issue revenue bonds to raise funds. A majority of the voters must approve these bonds before they can be issued. The revenue bonds are then paid from Port revenues.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition A would allow the Port Commission to issue up to $42,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance several improvements of Port property. These improvements include modernizing container handling facilities, upgrading various piers, constructing a breakwater at Fisherman’s Wharf, and renovating certain other Port structures and property. The bonds would then be paid off from Port revenues.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Port Commission to issue up to $42,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance improvements of Port property.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the Port Commission to issue revenue bonds for this purpose.

Controller’s Statement on “A”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition A:

“Should the proposed bond issue be authorized and when all bonds shall have been issued on a twenty-five year basis, and after consideration of the interest rates related to current municipal bond sales, in my opinion, it is estimated that approximate costs would be as follows:

- Bond redemption $42,500,000
- Bond interest $81,761,400
- Total debt service requirement $124,261,400

“Based on a three year construction program and a bond redemption schedule beginning four years after the sale of each issue, the estimated amount required to pay the interest thereon and the redemption thereof, would range from approximately $4,462,000 to a maximum of $5,760,000 annually for twenty-seven years.

“In my opinion, the servicing of the proposed bonded debt will be paid from Port revenues and will not affect the tax rate of the City and County of San Francisco, provided that there are sufficient revenues from Port sources to cover operating and all debt service costs of the Port. Analysis of projected resources available to the Port indicates that, in my judgment, sufficient revenues will be available to provide debt service costs in future years.”

How Supervisors Voted on “A”

On July 30 the Board of Supervisors voted 7-1 on a motion placing Proposition A on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisor Quentin Kopp.

TEXT OF PROPOSITION A APPEARS ON PAGE 51.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

The revitalization of the Port of San Francisco will bring new jobs and new tax revenue to the City. A healthy port, with increased ship traffic, will bring millions each year to the San Francisco economy.

By delaying modernizations in the past, the Port of San Francisco lost the bulk of its maritime business to other Bay Area and West Coast cities. The same mistakes must not be made twice. We must allow the Port to use revenues to finance continued improvements.

Proposition A does not authorize any new taxes. Proposition A simply authorizes the Port to use revenues to finance improvements and expansion.

Proposition A will allow for the modernization of existing container cargo terminals on the southern waterfront. These improved facilities will retain current business and will bring new lines to San Francisco. The return of the shipping business will bring back long lost blue collar jobs to the waterfront as well as white collar jobs.

In addition, Proposition A will provide for expansion of the passenger facility, a new breakwater to protect the commercial fishing fleet, and improved rail access to the port. In all, Proposition A will upgrade and modernize San Francisco Port facilities so as to make them competitive with other ports across the Bay and throughout the West Coast.

The complete modernization effort will be done at no cost to the taxpayers. Instead, the Port of San Francisco's income will be used to finance long-term revenue bonds.

The people of San Francisco deserve a first-rate port. We urge all San Franciscans to vote YES on Proposition A.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Vote YES on Proposition A.

As Mayor, I have worked hard to restore our port to its historic pre-eminence as a major gateway to the Far East.

Once again, major shipping lines are docking in San Francisco. Just recently, two of the largest container vessel operators, China Ocean Shipping Corporation and Columbus Lines, signed agreements to use this port.

Not only modern cargo carriers, but passenger liners as well are being drawn to San Francisco in a remarkable renaissance of maritime commerce.

But if there is to be a lasting renewal of our waterfront, the port must be competitive with other port cities anxiously contending for the burgeoning Pacific trade. The port, if it is to prosper, must modernize and enlarge its basic maritime facilities.

That's the purpose of Proposition A.

Proposition A will make the Port of San Francisco truly and vigorously competitive. And it will not cost the taxpayers a penny.

Proposition A will authorize $42.5 million in revenue bonds for vital waterfront projects, including the conversion of Pier 80 into a modern, state-of-the-art container facility and the enlargement and modernization of cargo operations at Piers 94 and 96.

Additionally, Proposition A will provide funds for repairing the now deteriorating Jefferson Street Seawall and will match Federal dollars for construction of a much-needed breakwater to protect the City's fishing fleet at Fisherman's Wharf.

Proposition A also will finance expansion of the passenger terminal at Pier 35.

Proposition A is a prudent investment in the City's future. And these bonds are payable only from port revenues—your taxes will not be increased.

More ships, with more cargo and more passengers, mean more jobs and greater economic vitality for our city.

Proposition A will make our port, once again, a strong and lasting competitor for the commerce of the Pacific Basin. Vote YES on Proposition A.

Dianne Feinstein
Mayor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

San Francisco needs a good, working port. Vote yes on Proposition A and help bring it about.

Supervisor Richard Hongisto

Arguments printed on this page are the opinion of the authors and have not been checked for accuracy by any official agency.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Citizens of San Francisco are worried about the deterioration of the port. Most of us can remember when the port was a thriving, bustling commercial enterprise, and the docks were maintained, clean, efficient, and busy.

But, the port has not adapted to container cargo and may be losing the few shipping lines that it now serves.

We must restructure the docks for active container shipping, and bring in railway lines to service the docks.

We have one of the few deep water ports in America, an essential for modern shipping. LET'S DO SOMETHING ABOUT BEING ONE OF THE BEST PORTS IN THE WEST AGAIN!

VOTE YES ON PROP A!

Wendy Nelder
President of the Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

A YES vote on Proposition A will permit the Port of San Francisco to issue bonds to finance needed construction and improvements. This would give the Port the same financing ability the Airport now has.

Through the issuance of revenue bonds, the Port would be able to undertake necessary improvements AT NO COST TO TAXPAYERS.

San Francisco deserves a modern, thriving port. Proposition A will help us build modern terminals, a breakwater at Fisherman's Wharf which will help keep commercial fishermen in San Francisco, repair the seawall at Jefferson Street and expand our Passenger Terminal to handle increased cruise business that brings millions of dollars into our local economy.

Proposition A will give the Port of San Francisco the ability to make these kinds of improvements. Please join me in voting YES.

Salu Burton,
Member of Congress

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Proposition A offers San Franciscans the opportunity to direct the future of the Port of San Francisco.

This measure will provide our Port with the key to the future.

We must keep pace with new developments, increase cargo and create new jobs. For every fifty new containers we move, 1.67 new jobs will be created.

This measure also includes funding for construction of the Fisherman's Wharf Breakwater, which is critically needed and long overdue.

Take part in the future of our Port. Join with me in voting YES on Proposition A.

Milton Marks,
State Senator

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

San Francisco has always been a waterfront city. We have a superb natural harbor, which is also one of the few really deep water harbors—vital for modern deep water cargo ships.

We have used our badly deteriorating and long unimproved pier facilities to their maximum efficiency. But . . . times are changing. We must move NOW to keep pace with new developments, or risk enormous losses in cargo shipping, commercial fishing, and tourist trade.

It is ESSENTIAL that we adapt to container cargo that can be moved by train, truck, and ship.

Research has been done on what could give us the greatest increase in efficiency and profits for the very least amount of money. And the answer is: modernizing the South Terminal for adaptation to container cargo; providing rail access to the docks; protecting the commercial fishing fleet with a breakwater; and expanding passenger-handling facilities for cruise passenger tourists.

Prop A will provide these improvements RIGHT NOW. And . . . AT NO COST TO THE TAXPAYER!

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION A.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

The opportunity is NOW!

Our Northern Waterfront is alive with activity—increase in passenger ships, thriving commercial developments.

Let us fuse that energy into our Southern Waterfront and take advantage of our natural deep water. That means newer, deeper draft merchant ships, increased cargoes and new jobs.

Missed opportunities cannot be recaptured. So act now! Don’t let this opportunity get away.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

San Francisco has always been a great port city. And the San Francisco Port has always been a leading employer of minorities. But the Port has sadly deteriorated. It has not kept up with modernizations and improvements. And what is even worse, it has not kept up with the competition. The Port MUST adapt to container cargo, and put in railway access to the docks. With your vote YES ON A, we can take advantage of our deep water harbor, attract more shipping trade, increase cargoes, and produce many more jobs.

And . . . AT NO COST TO THE TAXPAYER!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Our Port now needs $42 million to develop San Francisco’s maritime facilities to compete with ports such as Oakland, Seattle and San Diego.

These improved facilities are vital to San Francisco’s competition for jobs and trade for the Pacific. Currently all major west coast ports are building to meet the growing needs of America’s Pacific Trade. These ports have each spent an average of $57 million on recent container cargo expansion while San Francisco has spent nothing.

San Francisco must have at least comparable facilities in order to compete in this market. If the port is not developed for container cargo, San Francisco can forget about being a major port on the west coast as well as lose the jobs and revenue that a modern port could produce.

The Chamber of Commerce strongly recommends that you vote to bring San Francisco the jobs and business that will be created by these revenue bonds. The bonds will be paid off from Port revenue and there is no taxpayer risk.

If you want to see the Port continue to grow and prosper vote yes on Proposition A.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

When something is railroaded through City Hall on a "fast track", it is always difficult not to join the stampede. This, however, is a bond issue in an amount larger than necessary to perform the actual work contemplated; not backed by written leases; and not backed even by "letter agreements" with corporations which supposedly will use Piers 80, 94 and 96 if improvements are made. This bond issue was rushed through the Board of Supervisors. Transmitted to the Board on July 24th, a scant six days later (on July 30th) and without a specific noticed public hearing, the Board voted 7-1 to place it on the ballot. I dissented because more time was needed for a proper analysis and public input.

Presently, the Port has a debt service requirement of approximately $104,000,000.00. This proposed revenue bond issue would increase the debt service requirement to $228,261,400.00; a staggering rise. The $42,500,000.00 bond issue would produce but $40,202,000.00 in net proceeds. The Port has a surplus of about $19,000,000.00, of which approximately $15,000,000.00 is available for capital projects. The Controller says $49,254,660.00, would thus be available for capital projects costing $41,610,000.00.

The Port is borrowing $7,644,660.00 more than is needed for these seven capital projects. Why? The Port admits it has no long-term written commitments for Piers 80, 94 and 96 which account for $37,570,000.00 of the total bond issue. How can we be assured that the bondholders will be repaid by revenues from those piers if there are no-long term commitments?

Moreover, the Port hasn't even secured written "letter agreements" from corporations to assure that if those improvements are made, they will sign long-term commitments. Ironically, but $4,000,000.00 of the bond issue would be spent on needed improvements for Fisherman's Wharf tenants, who generate almost 50% of net Port income, money which would be used to repay the money borrowed for Piers 80, 94 and 96. It's like the tail wagging the dog.

Selling bonds is nothing more than borrowing money. Why borrow more money than you have to, and why borrow money for projects which don't have long-term tenants? Be assured that even if this passes, I intend to persist in making Port officials answer those very questions.

Supervisor Quentin L. Kopp

MOTION AUTHORIZING
PROPOSITION A

MOTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO A MEASURE AUTHORIZING THE PORT COMMISSION OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO TO ISSUE REVENUE BONDS TO FINANCE THE CONSTRUCTION, RENOVATION AND MODERNIZATION OF CERTAIN PORT FACILITIES TO BE LOCATED AT THE PORT OF SAN FRANCISCO.

The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby orders submitted to the qualified electors of said City and County at an election to be held therein on November 6, 1984 a measure authorizing the Port Commission of the City and County of San Francisco to issue revenue bonds, all as set forth in the following measure, to wit:

Shall the Port Commission of the City and County of San Francisco issue revenue bonds in an amount not to exceed $42,500,000 the proceeds of which will be used to modernize container handling facilities and to upgrade various other marine time-oriented facilities at the Port of San Francisco's piers 35, 80, 94 and 96 and at the Jefferson Street seawall, to construct a breakwater at Fisherman's Wharf, to construct an intermodal container transfer facility, to install a backflow prevention system at various locations, to replace various transformers and capacitors throughout the port, and to acquire, construct or renovate certain works, property or structures necessary or convenient for the operation of, and at, the Port of San Francisco, which facilities are operated by the Port Commission?
PROPOSITION B

Shall the Public Utilities Commission be authorized to issue $104,000,000 in revenue bonds to finance acquisition and construction of facilities for the operation of the Water Department?

YES 256 ▼
NO 257 ▼

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Public Utilities Commission operates the San Francisco Water Department. When the Commission needs funds to acquire, improve or develop Water Department facilities, it may issue revenue bonds to raise the funds. Before the Commission can issue revenue bonds, a majority of the voters must approve. The revenue bonds are then paid from Water Department revenues.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition B would allow the Public Utilities Commission to issue up to $104,000,000 in revenue bonds. Funds from the sale of the bonds would be used to acquire, improve or develop facilities necessary for the operation of the Water Department, including filtration plants and reservoirs. The bonds would be paid off from the revenues of the Water Department.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Public Utilities Commission to issue up to $104,000,000 in revenue bonds to finance Water Department improvements.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the Public Utilities Commission to issue revenue bonds for this purpose.

Controller’s Statement on “B”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition B:

“Should the proposed bond issue be authorized and when all bonds shall have been issued on a thirty year basis, and after consideration of the interest rates related to current municipal bond sales, in my opinion, it is estimated that approximate costs would be as follows:

Bond redemption $104,000,000
Bond interest 169,260,000
Total debt service requirement $273,260,000

“Based on a five year construction program and a bond redemption schedule beginning one year after the sale of each issue, the estimated amount required to pay the interest thereon and the redemption thereof, would range from approximately $3,467,000 to a maximum of $14,022,000 annually for thirty-one years.

“In my opinion, the servicing of the proposed bonded debt will be paid from Water Department revenues and will not affect the tax rate of the City and County of San Francisco, provided that there are sufficient revenues from Water Department sources to cover operating and all debt service costs of the Water Department. Analysis of projected resources available to the Water Department indicates that, in my judgment, sufficient revenues will be available to provide debt service costs in future years.”

How Supervisors Voted on “B”

On August 6 the Board of Supervisors voted 11-0 on a resolution placing Proposition B on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

None of the Supervisors voted “No.”

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

The money from these bonds will be used to assure that drinking water we take from our Crystal Springs and San Andreas reservoirs on the Peninsula is pure and meets all health standards. The bonds will be repaid from revenues of our Water Department. Not a penny will be charged on the property tax rolls or to the general taxpayers.

We have two huge lakes along side I-280 on the Peninsula, the Crystal Springs and San Andreas reservoirs. About 15% of our drinking water in normal times comes from these lakes and others in Alameda County. For decades we used this water without filtration. Now, however, health officials tell us that all of the water from our Peninsula lakes must be filtered before it can be used. We now have a very limited filtering capacity which means that if, for any reason, our water supply from the Sierras were interrupted or reduced and we would need more local water, we would be unable to make full use of Crystal Springs water. There is now no filter plant at Crystal Springs. Whatever water we use from there must be pumped up to a small filtration plant at San Andreas before it can enter the system. This very severely limits the amount of drinking water we can draw from our nearest supply, and it is expensive. Passage of Proposition B would change all that.

By voting YES on B, you will provide for water system improvements including a new filtration plant right at Crystal Springs, for the expansion of the small plant at San Andreas, and for a necessary storage reservoir.

Your YES on B vote is an investment in the quality of our drinking water—an assurance that water from our nearest supply will be available to us pure, meeting all health requirements, when we need it.

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION B.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Vote YES on Proposition B.

Generations ago, San Franciscans had the foresight to build one of the most magnificent water systems in the world—Hetch Hetchy, which brings water to San Francisco from the High Sierras.

Now, we must modernize the system to keep pace with higher standards of water quality.

Proposition B will authorize the San Francisco Water Department to issue $104 million in revenue bonds.

The money will be used to improve the system by expanding existing plants and by building additional filtration, treatment and holding facilities on Water Department properties on the Peninsula.

These facilities will provide safe drinking water for future generations of San Franciscans. Presently, if any of the existing facilities suffered a breakdown, the City could be forced to rely upon unfiltered water from Crystal Springs. The State Department of Public Health has directed the Water Department to upgrade facilities to meet future needs.

Our water is safe. It meets all state and Federal quality standards, and we want to keep it that way. Proposition B will assure low turbidity (silt content), reduce asbestos content, and prevent the spread of giardia lamblia, a virus not now found in our water system, but which could be brought in as watershed areas become more populated.

Proposition B, which will not have any effect on our tax structure, is a prudent investment, protecting our drinking water into the future. Vote YES on Proposition B.

PROPOSITION C

Shall a Health Commission consisting of seven members appointed by the Mayor be created to manage and control City and County hospitals and all other county health services and appoint a Director of Public Health?

YES 259

NO 260

Analysis

by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The San Francisco Department of Public Health operates the county hospitals, such as San Francisco General and Laguna Honda, and all other county public health services. The Department is run by a Public Health Director, who is appointed by the City’s Chief Administrative Officer and who is responsible to the Chief Administrative Officer.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition C would create a Health Commission, and place the Department of Public Health under the control of the Commission. The Commission would have seven members, appointed by the Mayor; no more than three members would be doctors, nurses, hospital administrators or other health care professionals. The Commission would appoint a Public Health Director, responsible to the Commission, to administer the Department. The Public Health Director could appoint and remove deputies to help administer the Department.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the San Francisco Department of Public Health to be under the control of a Health Commission appointed by the Mayor, and to be run by a Public Health Director, appointed by the Health Commission.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the San Francisco Department of Public Health to be under the control of the Chief Administrative Officer and to be run by a Public Health Director appointed by the Chief Administrative Officer.

How Supervisors Voted on “C”

On July 23 the Board of Supervisors voted 8-3 on the question of placing Proposition C on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisors Richard Hongisto, Quentin Kopp and Wendy Nelder.

Controller’s Statement on “C”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition C:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it would increase the cost of government, based on current costs of the Health Department, by approximately $8,400 per year.”

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION C APPEARS ON PAGE 82.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The Public Health Department has a budget of over $270 million and a staff of 5000, making it the largest agency in City government. Its responsibilities are many and far-reaching: San Francisco General Hospital and Laguna Honda Hospital; emergency medical services; mental health services; sanitation; public health education; district health centers; inspection of public and private facilities. The list is long and growing.

In recent years, the list of problems facing departmental administrators has, unfortunately, also grown. Emergency Aid stations were closed. Ambulance service was drastically altered. Proposals to reorganize community mental health services were promoted and rejected, causing confusion for all. The AIDS crisis. The investigations at San Francisco General Hospital. And on and on.

Too often, these decisions and these issues were considered in a vacuum, without public input, without public debate, and without public scrutiny.

Why? In order to protect the Department of Public Health from the graft and corruption that plagued our City at the turn of the century, the Charter placed the department under the Chief Administrative Officer's auspices rather than a commission. Fifty years later, the department has outgrown this cumbersome arrangement. It is time to bring the administration of this important agency into the 20th Century, mirroring the management of other City departments.

Proposition C will establish a seven-member Health Commission, appointed by the Mayor, to set policy and supervise the Public Health Department. The commission will include both providers and consumers of health services. It will bring the Department more directly under the Mayor's control, allowing for more timely responses to issues and problems. Most importantly, it will ensure that the department is publicly accountable for its actions.

We urge a YES vote on Proposition C.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Public health policy has changed and the governance of our public health department must change too.

In the past few years the state and federal governments have shifted more and more of the responsibility for public health management to local governments.

Recent experience shows that our health department is not presently equipped to manage public health programs in the most effective manner.

Proposition C will streamline management—cutting two levels of bureaucracy while opening up our public health policy to the public itself.

I urge a "yes" vote on Proposition C.

Assemblyman Art Agnos

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Since 1971, the Department of Public Health has been plagued with problems and crises at its hospitals, clinics and emergency aid stations. Most recently, we again faced the threat of San Francisco General losing its accreditation. These many incidents are deeply disturbing, raising troubling questions in the public mind: Why do these problems persist? Why can't something be done about them once and for all?

In 1979, the national organization that accredits all hospitals reported that San Francisco General's "major problems . . . are related to the lack of an effective governing body free from the political decision-making process which results in delayed activity, inadequate funding, etc."

Last January, the State auditors also cited the absence of "a governing body legally responsible for hospital governance" as a cause for "ineffective management.

No other hospital in California operates without a board of directors. Only one other department in San Francisco (Public Works) operates without a commission. Instead, San Francisco General and the Health Department are run by a bureaucracy, insulated from public accountability.

Proposition C establishes a commission for the Health Department, one that will hold public hearing, make public decisions, and be publicly accountable. Vote YES.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

San Francisco’s population is aging. In a few short years, a greater percentage of our citizens will be seniors—most living independently on fixed incomes, many frail and over 75—than those of other California cities. They will need nutritional information, home health care, and a broad range of coordinated social services.

The Department of Health, San Francisco General, Laguna Honda, the District Health Centers—these are critical providers of senior services. And as more and more state and federal programs are shifted to local agencies, the Department’s role and responsibilities will dramatically increase.

How will the Department respond to this increased responsibility? How can we ensure that it will develop policies and programs that meet seniors’ needs? And how can we be sure that these programs operate efficiently and effectively?

Proposition C is a big step in the right direction. VOTE YES!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Proposition C is important for women.

Women provide the majority of services offered by the Health Department. Indeed public health is traditionally the domain of women and nurses. And while the many crises at General are too often blamed on nursing care, nurses virtually have no role in planning or organizing service delivery.

Women are also the major consumers of the Depart-
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The policies governing San Francisco General affect every consumer and provider of health services in the City, yet there is little accountability to San Francisco taxpayers. No private hospital with General's size and influence operates without a board of trustees or directors. Indeed, no private organization of any kind with a $270 million annual budget—business, corporation, non-profit foundation, whatever—operates without a governing board. Why does General?

As General bounces from one crisis to the next, with state and federal agencies threatening increasingly drastic actions, the weakness of the current management structure becomes clear to all. The Hospital and the Health Department need a commission, where public hearings can surface problems and issues in a timely fashion; where policies can be developed with the cooperation of private providers and consumers. The Health Commission will not be a watchdog meddling in day-to-day affairs, but an advocate for General, one providing continuity, stability and a rational decision-making process with regular rules and procedures.

We urge a YES vote on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The Health Department is obligated to ensure that all San Francisco communities have access to medical services. The AIDS crisis brought the health care needs of gay men to the forefront of public discussion. It brought home the importance of a Department flexible and responsive to quickly emerging problems and epidemics, one capable of quickly reallocating resources to dire community needs.

The general health needs of gay men and women, however, are largely unrecognized. The Health Commission will give our community the voice it needs in the health planning processes. It will ensure that the diversity of our City is represented in the consideration of these important issues.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Hispanics in San Francisco strongly support Proposition C, the Health Commission Charter Amendment.

Health is vital to the Latino Community of San Francisco. We are a younger population, with larger families and with special health needs, such as those of Central American refugees. In recent years, federal and state funding for health programs has decreased, leaving community health programs in a difficult financial situation. Recent changes in Medically Indigent Adult services have also negatively impacted our community.

In addition, the need for better and expanded bilingual medical services continues to be a top priority in San Francisco.

Vote YES on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The chief opposition to Proposition C comes from two sources: The Chief Administrative Officer and the officials of the University of California Medical Center.

The CAO's opposition is understandable. He simply doesn't want to lose control of the Health Department and SF General.

UC's opposition is more puzzling, until you realize that it receives $10-15 million from the City each year for staffing at General Hospital without a publicly reviewed contract! Why is UC afraid of having its relationship with General publicly scrutinized by a Health Commission?

Let's clear the air. Vote YES on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Community clinics provide thousands of San Franciscans with access to essential primary health care and preventive health services. Yet, these community-based institutions, as well as the neighborhoods and people they represent, have been excluded from participation in health policy decision-making in San Francisco. Excluded, too, is any public debate on alternatives to hospital-based health delivery and financing systems that could prove cost-effective and could better serve the people of San Francisco.

Proposition C, The Health Commission Charter Amendment, offers a forum for public discussion of local health policy issues. By giving the neighborhoods and communities input into health policy decisions, the Health Commission will enable San Franciscans to create a new community of interest and new community action in the area of health service delivery.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The Health Department is a key source of medical services in the black community, both directly through General Hospital and the district health centers, and indirectly through community and mental health clinics. But our special problems—an infant mortality rate significantly above rates in other Bay Area counties, for example—are not often heard by the Department's policy-makers, for they are insulated and isolated from our community.

Our concerns must be heard if they are to be addressed. Proposition C gives us a platform from which to speak. Vote YES.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

This proposal to put politics into the Department of Public Health by creating a "commission" to direct it is an example of the misguided philosophy of attacking governmental problems by throwing bureaucracy at them. It should be soundly defeated. Currently, the City's health officials report to one person, the Chief Administrative Officer, who can respond swiftly to any crisis and set consistent policy. The responsibility for the Department lies with the CAO, not a group of political appointees. When our Charter was adopted in 1932, the freeholders explained the rationale of giving the CAO management responsibility over the Health Department. The idea was "to provide reasonable safeguards AGAINST POLITICAL MANIPULATION." (Emphasis added) Their report stated the office of CAO was designed to be "protected from political influence as largely as possible..." and "it is intended that this officer shall be entirely independent in discharging the function of the office, and particularly, to be free from interference of the mayor, because the latter is subjected to political influence." Although the Charter was adopted in 1932, its logic still makes powerful sense. Besides blurring lines of responsibility, this iniquitous proposal contradicts health management practices in California and the United States. In fact, the same idea was evaluated in 1971 by a committee established by the supervisors, which concluded that the commission concept, a "seemingly attractive alternative at first blush, would likely constitute merely another bureaucratic layer in an already cluttered city administrative structure." To paraphrase The Progress, the Muni is the best proof that "the presence of a commission does not guarantee good management." Vote NO on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

The enactment of Proposition C would set the clock back on health care delivery in San Francisco to the 1920s. As proposed, the measure would almost exactly duplicate the system of Health Care abandoned by The City in 1932 because it had become corrupt, politicized and incapable of effectively responding to the growing challenges of modern health care administration.

In 1973 the Board of Supervisors itself considered and rejected a similar Health Commission option. The board’s reason was that commissions do not make effective management tools. “The Commission, seemingly an attractive alternative at first blush, would likely constitute merely another layer in an already cluttered City administrative structure.”

The commission concept also goes counter to sound health management practices. Earlier this year, a team of top Bay Area health care professionals was asked to identify the leading municipal hospitals in the county. None of the institutions identified uses a commission form of administration largely because commissions, while perhaps capable of overseeing some urban systems such as mass transit, have proven ineffective and cumbersome.

The argument has been advanced that a commission would allow for greater citizen input into the health department. The fact is that the Department of Health already has some 440 individuals serving on 27 Citizen Advisory Committees—more than with any other city department. The proposed seven member commission would be insufficient in both size and technical competence to do other than deal with the health care in San Francisco on a “crisis-to-crisis” basis.

As we move into the 21st Century, the administration of San Francisco’s health care systems will only become more challenging. A form of governance that proved inadequate 50 years ago and was rejected by the Board of Supervisors eleven years ago as inappropriate, is not the best way to provide for our city’s health care needs of the future. We urge you to vote “No” on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

A vote for Proposition C is a vote to politicize health care in San Francisco. The authors of the 1932 City Charter foresaw this when they abolished the city’s highly politicized seven member health commission and placed the Department of Health under the jurisdiction of the Chief Administrative Officer. Proposition C would return San Francisco to the pre-1932 system of politicized health care management.

In writing the 1932 Charter, the authors recognized the need to balance executive authority by splitting it between the Mayor and the CAO. Departments, such as health, which were thought to be best managed if protected from direct political influence, were placed under the jurisdiction of the CAO, who is appointed for a fixed 10 year term to remove the office from political pressure.

Despite the occurrence of problems the system has worked well. San Francisco General has perhaps the best Trauma Unit in the country. The hospital’s AIDS unit is unquestionably the best and most humane in the nation.

Moving control of the city’s health care budget from the Chief Administrative Officer to the Executive will create a “strong mayor” type of government which the Charter was designed to prevent. Health commissioners would necessarily be beholden to the political factions or individuals which lobbied for their appointment and to the mayor who appoints them.

There are alternatives to a Health Commission. Several have already been recommended by a blue ribbon panel of health management experts appointed following the report on General Hospital. We believe these recommendations and perhaps others, including a variation on the health commission concept, deserve further study.

Proposition C would bring about a radical restructuring of government and health care delivery in San Francisco. Both issues are far too important to be decided hastily. We urge a No vote on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

I oppose Proposition C because:
1. It puts the Health Department under the control of politically appointed non-professionals. I cannot agree that this should be done. It brings in politics and throws out expertise.
2. It adds an extra layer of bureaucracy making government more expensive and management more difficult.

Supervisor Richard Hongisto

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

Your City Hall representatives would have you believe that by replacing our present Health System with a Health Commission, composed of seven members, at a recompense of $100 per month, will improve the services.

Hogwash. Just another layer of government.

With a budget of $270 millions, 5000 employees would you put your faith in the hands of seven and still maintain the same Health Director?

What we need is a clean sweep of the present management; new faces; new ideas. The Charter provides for this, let's do it—"Now," not later.

Vote NO on PROPOSITION C

Marguerite A. Warren

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

By creating a health commission for the Public Health Department, the city of San Francisco would create more problems rather than solve them.

Past experience has indicated a need to separate politics from health care. San Francisco would be turning the clock back to a situation in the 1920s when the city had a seven member commission appointed by the Mayor that oversaw the management of the Public Health Department. The delivery of effective health care was seriously compromised by the politicized department which was a direct consequence of the department's health commission.

For this reason, the citizens of San Francisco at that time passed a charter reform that removed the Health Department from the politically appointed commission and placed it in a newly created Chief Administrative Officer who would be secured against political pressures.

The creation of the Health Commission would take 40% of the budget of the Chief Administrative Officer's budget and place it under the control of a politically appointed Commission, thus negating the intent of the Chief Administrative Officer's Department which was created to administer departments that should be removed from political concerns.

Do not politicize San Francisco's health care. Vote No on Proposition C.

Retirement Board Investments

PROPOSITION D
Shall the Retirement Board be authorized to make investments of retirement funds as a prudent person instead of investments legal for insurance companies?

YES 261
NO 262

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Retirement Board has complete authority to invest the funds of the Retirement System for city employees. The Retirement Board must make only investments which are legal for insurance companies in California.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition D would remove the requirement that the Retirement Board must make only investments which are legal for insurance companies in California. Instead, the proposition would require the Retirement Board to make investments with the care and skill that a prudent person would make under similar circumstances.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to change the way the Retirement Board invests pension money. Instead of making only those investments which are legal for insurance companies, the Board would be able to make any investments that a prudent person would make.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the Retirement Board to keep making only the same kind of investments which are legal for insurance companies.

On August 6 the Board of Supervisors voted 6-5 on the question of placing Proposition D on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors Richard Hongisto, Quentin Kopp, Bill Maher, Carol Ruth Silver, Nancy Walker and Doris Ward.

Controller’s Statement on “D”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition D:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it should not, in and of itself, increase the cost of government. However, as a result of its authorizing additional flexibility for investments, earnings may be higher or lower than what could have occurred absent this amendment.”

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION D APPEARS ON PAGE 63.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION D

Vote YES on Proposition D.

The purpose of Proposition D is to clarify the investment responsibility of the Retirement Board and to add language expressly to comply with the recently enacted State Constitutional amendment on fiduciary standards for public pension plans (Proposition 21, June 1984).

Since 1932, the charter has referred to the Insurance Code as the guideline for pension investments. Insurance Code investment requirements are unsuitable to current pension fund investment practices and severely restrict the ability of the Retirement Board to manage the fund to achieve the best possible investment return for the City and County of San Francisco and the members of the Retirement System.

The added new language will establish firm guidelines for the Retirement Board to discharge its responsibility as the fiduciary for the Retirement Fund. This new language will also serve as increased protection for members of the Retirement System by applying recognized fiduciary standards for which there is considerable statutory and case law.

In summary, the proposed charter amendment serve a dual purpose: it removes obsolete and ambiguous language and brings the Retirement System into compliance with the State Constitution. Both changes will enhance and improve the System's investment capabilities and the ability to achieve its goals and objectives.

Proposition D is endorsed and supported by the Retirement Board and the Board of Supervisors.

Vote YES on Proposition D.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION D

This is a worthwhile Charter amendment which updates obsolete and ambiguous provisions on how the Retirement Board can invest funds. It institutes standards consistent with a recent voter-approved amendment to the California Constitution. Investment practices have been refined dramatically in the past 50 years, and income and appreciation choices have increased tremendously. The investment professionals working for the Retirement System now are prevented from making the very most prudent investments possible, and City employees and taxpayers are, thus, prejudiced and hurt.

Present investment rules are based upon the State Insurance Code, which contravenes contemporary investment practices. Proposition D will give more latitude in making high-return investments, but will also retain vigorous guidelines on investment of Retirement System funds while increasing the protection of City employees. It will save money for taxpayers by enabling a better return on Retirement System assets. It's logical. That's why I recommend a "yes" vote.

Surviving Spouse Benefits

PROPOSITION E

Shall the City subsidize the surviving spouse of active retired employees on the same basis that the City subsidizes the active or retired employees in the health service system?

NO 265

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City contributes to a health care fund for active and retired employees. The City’s contribution to this fund equals the average amount contributed to health care funds for each employee of the ten most populated California counties except San Francisco. The City does not contribute anything for spouses of active or retired employees.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition E would provide that the City contribute to the health care fund for the surviving spouse of a deceased employee. The surviving spouse must have been married to the employee for a least one year prior to the employee’s death. The amount of the contribution would be the same as that made by the City to the health care fund for active and retired employees.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the City to contribute to the health care fund for the surviving spouse of a deceased employee.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the City to contribute to the health care fund for the surviving spouse of a deceased employee.

How Supervisors Voted on "E"

On July 23 the Board of Supervisors voted 8-2 on the question of placing Proposition E on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisors Quentin Kopp and Bill Maher.

Controller’s Statement on “E”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition E:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it would increase the cost of government, based on current costs and present membership data of the Health Service System, in excess of $990,000 per year.”

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION E APPEARS ON PAGE 67.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

This charter amendment calls for extending a limited measure of aid from the City and County of San Francisco for the health care of the surviving spouse of an active or retired City employee.

Under existing statute, the City and County and its employees, active or retired, share the cost of health care for the employee, their spouse and children. However, upon the death of the employee, the City and County’s share of payments to the health care system stops.

Thus, the surviving spouse is compelled to pick up the entire cost for the health care plan while struggling to survive on a reduced family income and, at the same time, contend with ever increasing medical/hospital expenses and everyday living costs for themselves and eligible family dependents.

Proposition E will allow the City and County to continue paying its share into the health care system and not force the surviving spouse and eligible family dependents to assume the entire financial burden for health care payments.

Since the number of surviving spouses affected is very small, less than 1400, the cost to the taxpayer for the City and County is minimal.

The changes proposed by Proposition E should have been made many years ago; it is long overdue. We urge you to support this important measure.

Vote YES on Proposition E.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

Justice tempered with compassion. VOTE YES. Surviving spouses of City workers receive an automatic 50% cut in retirement pay upon the death of their partners. Why further burden this small group by withdrawing subsidy for health care?

The Retirement System actuary has officially confirmed that the average pension check for this group is $300.00 per month; incidentally, below the nationally quoted poverty level.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

The Health Service Board which administers the health benefits provided to active and retired employees and their dependents fully recognizes the financial problem imposed on the surviving spouse upon the death of a retired employee.

This financial problem is especially acute because a surviving spouse's pension is cut by 50% at the death of the employee and because of the high cost of medical insurance. Medical cost increases have outpaced general inflation rates over the last three (3) years by about two to one.

We urge your "YES" vote on Proposition "E" on the basis of need and equity.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

Surviving spouses of city employees need this for a relatively comfortable widowhood. Let's extend a small measure of consideration to those who are left on their own.

Supervisor Richard Hongisto

NOTE: YOUR POLLING PLACE MAY HAVE CHANGED. PLEASE REFER TO MAILING LABEL ON BACK COVER.

Arguments printed on this page are the opinion of the authors and have not been checked for accuracy by any official agency.
ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION E

Proposition E if approved would require the city to subsidize the health premiums of the surviving spouses of non-uniformed city employees. The cost to the city would amount to $900,000 per year and give city employees a benefit that is not normally enjoyed by workers in private industry.

The majority of private employees have health plans that allow surviving spouses to be members of such plans but the employer does not subsidize the premiums of these survivors in anyway. Being permitted to join a group plan that provides comprehensive coverage at a reasonable rate is a sufficient benefit in and of itself.

If this amendment is approved it will violate the spirit of the Charter provision that sets city employee salaries and benefits at the average of that which prevails in the metropolitan Bay Area. We believe in fair treatment and compensation for city employees and our current rules provide exactly that.

Vote No on Proposition E.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CHARTER AMENDMENT
PROPOSITION E

NOTE: Additions or substitutions are indicated by bold face type; deletions are indicated by strikethrough type.

8.428 Health Service System Fund

There is hereby created a health service system fund. The costs of the health service system shall be borne by the members of the system and retired persons, the City and County of San Francisco because of its members and retired persons and because of members and retired persons of the parking authority of the City and County of San Francisco, the San Francisco Unified School District because of its members and retired persons and the San Francisco Community College District because of its members and retired persons. A retired person as used in this section means a former member of the health service system retired under the San Francisco City and County Employees' Retirement System, and the surviving spouse of an active employee and the surviving spouse of a retired employee, provided that the surviving spouse and the active or retired employee have been married for a period of at least one year prior to the death of the active or retired employee.

The city and county, the school district and the community college district shall each contribute to the health service fund amounts sufficient for the following purposes, and subject to the following limitations:

(a) All funds necessary to efficiently administer the health service system.

(b) For the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1973, the city and county, the school district and the community college district shall contribute to the health service system fund any sums, except as hereinafter set forth, on account of participation in the health service system fund since the date of adoption of this amendment and the provisions of section 8.423. For the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1974, and each fiscal year thereafter, the city and county, the school district and the community college district shall contribute to the health service system fund with respect to each of their members an amount equal to "the average contribution," as certified by the health service board in accordance with the provisions of section 8.423, for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1974, and each fiscal year thereafter, the city and county, the school district and the community college district shall contribute to the health service system fund with respect to each of their members an amount equal to "the average contribution," as certified by the health service board in accordance with the provisions of section 8.423.

(c) Monthly contributions required from retired persons and the surviving spouses of active employees and retired persons participating in the system shall be equal to the monthly contributions required from members in the system, except that the total contributions required from retired persons who are also covered under medicare shall be reduced by an amount equal to the amount contributed monthly by such persons to medicare; provided, however, that for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1973, and for each fiscal year thereafter, the city and county, the school district and the community college district shall contribute funds sufficient to defray the difference in cost to the system in providing the same health coverage to retired persons and the surviving spouses of active employees and retired persons as is provided for active employee members.

(d) The city and county, the San Francisco Unified School District and the San Francisco Community College District shall not contribute to the health service system fund any sums, except as hereinafter set forth, on account of participation in the health service system fund since the date of adoption of this amendment and the provisions of section 8.423, for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1974, and each fiscal year thereafter, the city and county, the school district and the community college district shall contribute funds sufficient to defray the difference in cost to the system in providing the same health coverage to retired persons and the surviving spouses of active employees and retired persons as is provided for active employee members. The contributions to the health service system fund shall be charged against the general fund or the special fund concerned.

The amendments of this section contained in the proposition therefore submitted to the electorate on November 7, 1972 and November 6, 1984 shall be effective July 1, 1973 and 1985.

Employee Death Benefits

PROPOSITION F

Shall a death benefit of twelve months salary be paid to miscellaneous officers and employees who die from an external and violent bodily injury in the course and scope of employment?

YES 267
NO 268

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: A City employee, other than a police officer or firefighter, who is a member of the Retirement System is entitled to a death benefit of six months salary if he or she dies, regardless of cause, before retirement. The benefit is paid to the employee’s estate or designated beneficiary.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition F would provide that if an officer or employee, other than a police officer or firefighter, is injured through external and violent means in the course of employment and the employee dies within 180 days of the injury, an additional benefit of 12 months salary would be paid to the employee’s estate or designated beneficiary.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to pay an additional benefit of 12 months salary to a city employee who dies from an injury caused by external and violent means in the course of employment.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to provide an additional death benefit to these city employees who die from external and violent means in the course of employment.

How Supervisors Voted on “F”

On August 6 the Board of Supervisors voted 11-0 on the question of placing Proposition F on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

None of the Supervisors voted “No.”

Controller’s Statement on “F”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition F:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, there would be an increase in the cost of government, the amount of which is dependent upon the number of employees and their respective salary rates which qualify for payment under the provisions of this proposed amendment. Based on experience to date, the cost of this additional amount should not be substantial.”

TEXT OF PROPOSITION F APPEARS ON PAGE 69.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Proposition F provides a small compensation for the survivor of a city employee (non Police or Fire) killed in the line of duty. Let's agree to this minor expenditure for the survivors of those who have died in city service.

Richard Hongisto, Supervisor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote YES on Proposition F.

Only rarely is a city employee killed in the line of duty, but death can come with fierce suddenness.

Two Muni workers were crushed by cable car machinery in 1978; the following year, two Water Department employees were murdered at the Lake Merced Pumping Station; and in March 1981, a Hetchy Hetchy lineman fell to his death.

For the families of the vast majority of city workers, there is little protection when death comes. Police officers and fire fighters already have special death benefits.

Dianne Feinstein, Mayor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote YES on Proposition F.

Proposition F is designed to correct a serious inequity on behalf of miscellaneous members of the Retirement System who are killed in line of duty or who die as a result of a violent or traumatic job-incurred injury.

Under current charter provisions, a designated beneficiary of a member who dies in the course of employment from any cause receives the member's contributions to the system, plus six months' salary.

Proposition F focuses only on those members who are killed in the line of duty or who die within 180 days from a violent or traumatic job-incurred injury. Beneficiaries of such members will be accorded an additional insurance benefit of twelve months' salary.

The payment of additional compensation to a designated beneficiary will be subject to the independent hearing officer process as set forth in the City charter.

Proposition F is fair and equitable and, based on actuarial projections, the cost is minimal.

Proposition F is sponsored and endorsed by the Retirement Board, unanimously approved by the Board of Supervisors, and strongly supported by Mayor Dianne Feinstein.

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Police officers entering the Police Department serve a one-year probationary period. During the first 32 weeks, the police officer goes through the police training program. After successfully completing training, the officer is then assigned to regular police duties. The Police Department has 20 weeks to evaluate the officer while on regular police duty. After this 20 week period, the probation is complete.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition G would extend the probationary period beyond 84 weeks from the date of entry. Any termination for breach of duty or misconduct would require charges and a hearing before the Police Commission.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the probationary period for a police officer to be extended to one year after completing the police training course but not to exceed 84 weeks.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the probationary period for a police officer to remain one year after the date of entry into the department.

How Supervisors Voted on “G”

On August 6 the Board of Supervisors voted 11-0 on the question of placing Proposition G on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

None of the Supervisors voted “No.”

Controller’s Statement on “G”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition G:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it would have no effect on the cost of government.”

Police Probationary Period

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

Your YES vote for this amendment will enable the Police Department to provide more effective police services by ensuring that after officers graduate from the Academy and complete a field training program, an adequate probationary evaluation period exists to determine an officer's fitness to perform police duties. Society demands much from its police officers. As the nature of police work has become increasingly complex, training and performance evaluation functions must meet the needs of an ever-evolving profession.

Great expenditure of time and money are invested in training police officers. Presently, if a recruit is not deemed ready for duty, the probationary period can be completed during any retraining, thus making it difficult and costly to determine ultimate fitness for duty.

By voting YES, you will give the Chief of Police time necessary to adequately train and evaluate an officer's performance and to better ensure quality police services. The Police Department has met and conferred with the Police Officers' Association regarding this amendment and has obtained that organization's support for its passage.

Vote YES on Proposition G.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

The Police Chief asked for a longer probationary period because it is needed. Vote yes.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

I urge you to vote YES on Proposition G. In recent years, because San Francisco has had the financial strength to do so, we've steadily expanded the size of the Police Department.

It is now the largest ever, with 1987 officers.

More and more officers are being assigned to our neighborhoods on beats and in patrol cars. We want the best officers possible.

That's why Proposition G is so important. It will give the Department greater ability to screen out officers who do not measure up to the strict standards of professionalism this city demands.

Proposition G will extend the probation period for a new officer to one complete year following completion of his or her field training.

Presently, probation starts when an officer is first inducted into the Department, before 18 weeks of class work in the City's outstanding Police Academy and another 14 weeks of field training.

As strenuous as the class work and the training may be, the real test of an officer is on the street.

That's where his or her coolness, competence and compassion—in fact, all the qualities that this city wants in a superior police department—can be observed and tested.

Proposition G will give the department a full year to evaluate an officer in uniform and on the job.

Those who don't measure up can be dismissed after a departmental hearing. Protected will be the City's rightful concern that our police officers can truly be described as the City's finest.

Proposition G is a common-sense measure, sought by the Chief of Police, that will strengthen the San Francisco Police Department. Vote YES on Proposition G.

Dianne Feinstein, Mayor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

This is probably the most important proposition on this Fall's ballot, a common sense measure. It deals with the Police Department, which has the ultimate responsibility for the protection of persons and property in our community. It increases the probationary period of police officers by one year. It is intended to ensure that the men and women who protect us are of the highest quality possible. Right now, police officers actually have only a four month probationary period. That's because they spend over 12 months probation in class and training, and only four months on the streets and on the job.

Police commanders need more time to evaluate the recruits' "street" performance. Proposition G does that by extending the on-the-job probationary period up to one year. For the sake of our children, neighbors and all San Franciscans, I want to be sure that a police officer is fully competent from a practical standpoint, not merely because of a classroom perspective. Therefore, I support Proposition G, and I urge you to vote for it, too.

Police Motorcycle Pay

PROPOSITION H

Shall additional rates of pay be paid to members of the Police Department assigned to all two-wheel motorcycle duty based on the average paid in California cities of 350,000 and over population?

YES 274
NO 275

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: San Francisco police officers who ride two-wheel motorcycles as part of their job and who are assigned to the Traffic Division get bonus pay. Police officers who ride motorcycles as part of their job, but who are assigned to duties other than traffic, do not get bonus pay.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition H would give all San Francisco police officers who ride two-wheel motorcycles as part of their job the same bonus pay, whether or not they are assigned to the Traffic Division.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want all San Francisco police officers who ride two-wheel motorcycles as part of their job to get the same bonus pay, whether or not they are assigned to the Traffic Division.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want only those San Francisco police officers who ride two-wheel motorcycles as part of their job and are assigned to the Traffic Division to get bonus pay.

How Supervisors Voted on “H”

On August 6 the Board of Supervisors voted 11-0 on the question of placing Proposition H on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

None of the Supervisors voted “No.”

Controller’s Statement on “H”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition H:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, based on current rates of pay, staffing and assignments by the police department, the cost of government would be increased by approximately $74,000 per year.”

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

The Honda Motorcycle Unit of the San Francisco Police Department has, because of antiquated charter language, been denied payment of the hazard pay which is currently given to the two-wheel motorcycle officers in the Traffic Division.

Because the primary function of the Honda Motorcycle Unit is crime fighting and not traffic enforcement, the word “traffic” must be deleted from the charter in order to compensate equally all officers who perform hazardous motorcycle duty.

Please join us in voting YES for this very fair charter amendment.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

In 1970, the San Francisco Police Department created a unit of light weight motorcycles to patrol Golden Gate Park and the beaches surrounding the City. In 1977 these duties were drastically changed to counteract rising street crimes around the Western Addition. Neighborhood associations, seeing the effectiveness of the unit, also requested additional patrols by these motorcycle officers. Since 1977 the Honda Unit (as it is known now) has been assigned to virtually every neighborhood in the City to reduce purse snatches, “red light” robberies, drag racing, and street narcotics traffic, along with demonstrations, marches, parades, and sporting events all over the City.

Also occurring since 1977 have been injuries to these highly visible, highly vulnerable motorcycle officers. Some of these injuries include one officer hit head on, and another officer suffering a leg broken by an auto which ran a red light. There have been numerous officers struck by other vehicles causing injuries, and injuries due to other road hazards (oil slicks, pothole etc.). These have increased sharply since the Honda Unit has been assigned to primarily street patrol. One officer was shot twice while patrolling the Western Addition for purse snatches.

It is obvious that these officers are no longer “just” patrolling the parks and beaches as they were initially intended, but are now assigned to patrol the streets of the most crime-ridden areas of the City combating street crimes and enforcing traffic laws. These officers on prior occasions have requested Motorcycle Hazard Pay (which traffic enforcement two-wheel motorcycle officers already receive) for their patrol of these neighborhoods and streets on the two-wheel motorcycles but have been denied because of outdated wording in the Charter. Passage of this amendment would correct this inequity.

Al Casciato
President, S.F.P.O.A.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

All police officers who ride motorcycles in the course of duty face special danger and deserve the premium pay already allowed for motorcycle traffic officers.

Supervisor Richard Hongisto

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

A police officer on a two-wheeler is often the first on the scene of a major crime or emergency. Day after day, there is no more hazardous duty for our police.

Whether on a motorcycle in pursuit of a felon on city streets, or on a motorbike on patrol in the remote areas of the City’s parklands, an officer lives with danger. Because they can cut through traffic, the two-wheelers often are first to arrive at a shooting or bank robbery or car crash.

The City Charter has long recognized the dangers inherent in this essential police work and has provided hazard-pay for motorcycle officers of the Traffic Division. Proposition H simply extends hazard-pay to the 17 or so officers on the equally-perilous motorbike detail.

The amount of money involved is small—only $178 a month for each officer. Proposition H is small recognition of the dangers the police daily face in the line of duty. Vote YES on Proposition H.

Military & Social Spending Initiative

PROPOSITION I

(Initiative Ordinance): Shall San Francisco request whether they wish any part of their taxes used for excessive military spending and have the City publish an annual report on federal taxes collected from San Francisco and the portions used for excessive military purposes and for social needs?

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City and County of San Francisco does not have an official position on whether federal taxes should be used for certain kinds of defense spending.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition I says the Board of Supervisors must inform the President and certain other federal officials that the people of San Francisco think all taxpayers should be asked whether they want their tax dollars used for certain kinds of "excessive military expenditures", as defined in the measure. Proposition I also says the City's Chief Administrative Officer must publish an annual report on the amount of federal taxes collected from San Francisco residents, what portion of these taxes are used for military spending, and what portion are used for social or human needs. The Board of Supervisors would appoint a seven-member Citizens' Advisory Committee to oversee the preparation of the report.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you think federal officials should be told that the people of San Francisco think all taxpayers should be asked whether their tax dollars should be used for certain kinds of defense spending. You also want the City to publish an annual report on how federal tax dollars collected from San Francisco residents are spent.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you don't think taxpayers should be asked whether their tax dollars should be used for certain kinds of defense spending, and you don't want the City to publish an annual report on federal taxes collected from San Francisco residents.

How "I" Got on Ballot

On August 24 Registrar of Voters Jay Patterson certified that the initiative petition relating to military and social expenditures had a sufficient number of signatures to be placed on the ballot.

The proponents of the petition had gathered 12,271 signatures which they turned in to the Registrar on August 2. The proponents are officially listed as G.C. Barnes, L.J. Crowe, H.J. Hobi and R.A. Wall.

A random check of the petition showed that 8,304 of the signatures were valid. This is more than the 7,332 signatures needed to qualify an initiative ordinance for the ballot.

Controller's Statement on "I"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition I:

"Should the proposed initiative ordinance be adopted, in my opinion, there would be an increase in the cost of government, the amount of which cannot be determined at this time but should not be substantial."

TEXT OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE PROPOSITION I

Be it ordained by the people of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section 1. Definitions. For the purpose of this ordinance, the following terms are defined:
(a) Excessive military expenditures: any part of the federal budget from any agency or department that is destined for research, development, and production of tactical and strategic nuclear weapons; research, development, and production of outer space laser-beam technology weapons (popularly known as “star-war” weapons); research, development, and production of chemical and biological warfare; military aid, both overt and covert, to undemocratic and/or repressive governments (governments that violate the basic human rights as defined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted in 1948 by the United Nations).
(b) Social or human needs: any part of the federal budget from any agency or department that is used for education, housing, health and human services, public transportation, and the arts.
(c) San Francisco taxpayer: any individual who pays federal taxes and who reports his or her principal place of residence within the San Francisco city limits; and any corporation who is considered by the Internal Revenue Service as residing in San Francisco.
(d) portion of revenues in 3(a) budgeted for social or human needs;
(e) average individual tax contribution;
(f) average individual tax contribution allocated to (1) excessive military expenditures and (2) social needs.

The Board of Supervisors shall appoint a Citizen’s Advisory Committee every year to oversee the preparation of the report and to ensure that its findings are accurate and impartial. The Citizen’s Advisory Committee shall consist of seven members, at least three of whom shall be volunteers from renowned Peace organizations in San Francisco.

The report shall use the most current figures available from the federal government at the time of publication, citing the sources for the computations. If the necessary tax and budgetary breakdowns for San Francisco were not available, the report shall base itself upon tax revenue and budgetary figures for the entire nation (or subdivision thereof) and produce accurate extrapolations.

The Chief Administrative Officer shall publish the report in the two newspapers of largest circulation in San Francisco, no earlier than 14 days before but no later than the normal deadline for the filing of federal income taxes for individuals.
PROPOSITION J

(Declaration of Policy): Shall it be the policy of San Francisco that no pension funds administered by the City be invested in business entities that do business in South Africa until apartheid is abolished and black people are given full political and civil rights in South Africa?

YES 283
NO 284

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City and County of San Francisco has no policy about the investment of pension funds with organizations that do business in South Africa.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition J would make it the official policy of the City and County of San Francisco and its agencies not to invest pension funds in corporations or other organizations that do business in South Africa. This would be the official policy until Black people are given full political and civil rights by the government of South Africa.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want it to be the official policy of the City and County of San Francisco not to invest pension funds in corporations or other organizations that do business in South Africa.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the City and County of San Francisco to have an official policy against investing pension funds with organizations that do business in South Africa.

How “J” Got on Ballot

On August 24 Registrar of Voters Jay Patterson certified that the initiative petition on South African investment policy had a sufficient number of signatures to be placed on the ballot.

Julianne Malveaux, the official proponent of the petition drive, had gathered 11,404 signatures which she turned in to the Registrar on August 8.

A random check of the petition showed that 8,520 of the signatures were valid. This is more than the 7,332 signatures needed to qualify an initiative declaration of policy for the ballot.

Controller’s Statement on “J”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition J:

“Should the proposed initiative measure be adopted, in my opinion, it would not, in and of itself, affect the cost of government. However, as a product of its application, investment income may be affected in an indeterminate but possibly substantial amount.”

POLLS ARE OPEN FROM 7 A.M. TO 8 P.M.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

We support removing city pension funds from companies that do business with South Africa because we believe the city of San Francisco should not support the reprehensible institution of apartheid. Non-whites in South Africa are denied freedom of association, freedom of mobility, freedom of speech, and voting rights. San Franciscans support this inequality when city pension funds are invested in companies that do business with South Africa.

This investment is also a very risky investment since any civil unrest in South Africa may lower the value of the investment. Other investment possibilities will equal or exceed current yields on the pension portfolio.

We support this initiative because we support equal rights for all, and because we believe in prudent investment of city pension funds.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

By supporting Proposition J, San Franciscans join citizens from fourteen other cities, including Washington, D.C., Boston, and Berkeley, in removing city pension funds from companies that do business with South Africa. Our support strikes a blow against the apartheid policy that has denied Black and non-white people equal rights in South Africa.

Removing pension funds from South Africa makes good economic sense. International investment advisors recommend against such investment because of the frailty of the South African political situation. Significantly, none of the cities that have divested funds from South Africa have had lower earnings since divestment.

It is both morally just and fiscally sound to vote YES for Proposition J!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

As Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, I am proud that we were the first state in the nation to vote to sell from our public pension fund portfolio all investments in firms doing business in South Africa. Since the passage of this landmark legislation, it has been our experience that divestiture makes not only a strong moral statement against apartheid, but divestiture has proven to have had no negative impact on our pension earnings.

I urge San Franciscans to give serious consideration to both the moral and the financial arguments as you consider divestiture as a policy of your great city.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

For over a decade individuals and institutional investors, including local and state governments, universities, foundations, churches, Taft-Hartley pension funds and health and welfare plans have refused to invest in, and divested from corporations and financial institutions economically supporting apartheid in South Africa. They are investing and earning competitive returns in housing, small business, alternative energy, and other socially productive investments which create employment and prevent capital from being exported to South Africa. It is fiduciarily irresponsible to risk beneficiaries’ pension assets by investing in companies in South Africa.

Many trade and corporate risk analysts have recommended no investment exposure in South Africa. The Rockefeller Study Commission on U.S. policy toward Southern Africa, recently recommended no new corporate investments in that white, minority ruled country.

Vote to create jobs, housing and small business in your community, not apartheid in South Africa. Vote YES on Proposition J.

"For the sake of the children of all South Africans, black and white, for God's sake, for the sake of world peace, the international community must take action, it must exert pressure on South Africa — political pressure, diplomatic pressure and above all, economic pressure." (Bishop Desmond Tutu, General Secretary-South African Council of Churches, 1981)

The apartheid system continues because of Western support. The South African Council of Churches has said "foreign investors must know they are investing to buttress one of the most vicious systems since Nazism." As members of the international religious community, we can no longer let others make decisions which contradict all that we believe in. We urge San Franciscans to vote yes on Proposition J as a specific, responsible way to express their moral rejection of apartheid.

South African apartheid is condemned the world over. Even the Reagan Administration expresses opposition.

Yet South Africa and apartheid continue to flourish, subjecting all non-whites to the vilest humiliations, discrimination, and exploitation.

San Francisco supports apartheid through our investment of municipal pension funds in companies that do business in South Africa. By their very presence there, these companies maintain the status quo. Otherwise, the ruling white minority would not welcome these investments! We allow apartheid to continue, despite all the rhetoric we direct at South Africa.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, as follows:

Section 1. A special revenue bond election is hereby ordered and will be held in the City and County of San Francisco on Tuesday, November 6, 1984, at which election there shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the City and County the proposition of issuing revenue bonds pursuant to Section 7.312 of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco for the purpose of providing funds for acquiring, constructing, financing, improving and developing San Francisco Water Department facilities, under the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission of the City and County of San Francisco, all as set forth in the following proposition:

Public Utilities Commission Revenue Bonds

Shall the Public Utilities Commission of the City and County of San Francisco issue revenue bonds in the principal amount of $104,000,000 pursuant to Charter Section 7.312 to provide funds for acquiring, constructing, financing, improving and developing additions, betterments and improvements to the San Francisco Water Department water supply, storage and distribution system, including filtration and treatment works and plants, reservoirs and other water supply, storage and distribution facilities, lands and equipment necessary or convenient for the San Francisco Water Department water supply, storage and distribution system?

Section 2. Said revenue bonds in the principal amount of $104,000,000 (herein called the "Bonds") are proposed to be issued to finance improvements to an enterprise (herein called the "Enterprise") which is herein defined to be the City and County of San Francisco municipal water supply, storage and distribution systems of the San Francisco Water Department, including all of the presently existing municipal water system of the City and County and all additions, betterments, extensions and improvements thereto. Said existing water system and the proposed improvements thereto shall constitute a single, unified integrated enterprise, and the revenues therefrom shall be pledged to the payment of the bonds. It is hereby found and determined that said municipal water system is necessary to enable the City and County to exercise its municipal powers and functions, namely, to furnish sufficient water for any present or future beneficial use of the City and County.

(a) The purpose for which the Bonds are proposed to be issued is to provide funds for acquiring, constructing, financing, improving and developing San Francisco Water Department facilities, including any expenses incidental thereto or connected therewith.

(b) The estimated costs of the acquisition, construction, financing, improvement and development is $104,000,000. Said estimated cost includes all costs and expenses incidental thereto or connected therewith, engineering, inspection, legal and fiscal agents' fees, cost of the revenue bond election and of the issuance of the Bonds, bond reserve funds, and working capital and bond interest estimated to accrue during the construction period and for a period of not to exceed 12 months after completion of construction.

(c) The maximum principal amount of the Bonds proposed to be issued is $104,000,000.

Section 3. The Board of Supervisors hereby submits to the qualified voters of the City and County of San Francisco at said special revenue bond election the proposition set forth in Section 1 of this resolution, and designates and refers to said proposition in the form of ballot hereinafter prescribed for use at said election.

(a) Said special revenue bond election shall be held and conducted, and the votes thereafter canvassed and the returns thereof made, and the result thereof ascertained and determined as herein provided; and in all particulars not described by this resolution, said special election shall be held and the votes canvassed pursuant to law for general municipal elections in the City and County and pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 52 of the San Francisco Administrative Code.

(b) All persons qualified to vote at municipal elections in the City and County upon the date of the election herein provided for shall be qualified to vote upon the proposition submitted at said special revenue bond election.

In no event shall a member's retirement allowance exceed seventy-five percent of his average final compensation.

Before the first payment of a retirement allowance is made, a member retired under this subsection or subsection G (g) of this section, may elect to receive the actuarial equivalent of his allowance, partly in an allowance to be received by him throughout his life, and partly in other benefits payable after his death to another person or persons, provided that such election shall be subject to all the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors to govern similar elections by other members of the retirement system, including the character and amount, of such other benefits; provided, however, that at any time within thirty 30 days after the date on which his compulsory retirement would otherwise have become effective, a member who has attained the age of sixty-five 65 years may elect, without right to revocation, to withdraw his accumulated contributions, said election to be exercised in writing on a form furnished by the retirement system and filed at the office of said system and a member so electing shall be considered as having terminated his membership in said system on the date immediately preceding the date on which his compulsory retirement would otherwise have become effective and he shall be paid forthwith his accumulated contributions, with interest credited thereon. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 8.514 of the charter, the portion of service retirement allowance provided by the city and county's contributions shall be not less than one hundred ($100) dollars per month upon retirement after thirty years of service and after attaining the age of sixty years, and provided further that as to any member within fifteen years or more of service at the compulsory retirement age of sixty-five, the portion of the service retirement allowance provided by the city and county's contribution shall be such that the total retirement allowance shall not be less than one hundred ($100) dollars per month. In the calculations under this subsection of the retirement allowance of a member having credit for service in a position in the evening schools and service in any other position, separate retirement allowances shall be calculated, in the manner prescribed for each class of service, the average final compensation in each case being that for the respective class of service; provided that the aggregate retirement allowance shall be taken into account in applying the provisions of this subsection providing for a minimum retirement allowance. Part time service and compensation shall be reduced to full time service and compensation in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, and when so reduced shall be applied on full time service and compensation in the calculation of retirement allowances.

E (e) Any member who becomes incapacitated for performance of duty because of disability determined by the retirement board to be of extended and uncertain duration, and who shall have completed at least ten years of service credited in the retirement system in the aggregate, computed as provided in subsection G (g) hereof, shall be retired upon an allowance of one and eight-tenths percent of the average final compensation of said member, as defined in subsection A (a) hereof for each year of credited service, if such retirement allowance exceeds forty percent of his average final compensation; otherwise one and eight-tenths percent of his average final compensation multiplied by the number of years of city-service which would be credited to him were such city-service to continue until attainment by him of age sixty, but such retirement allowance shall not exceed forty percent of such average final compensation. In the calculation under this subsection of the retirement allowance of a member having credit for service in a position in the evening schools and service in any other position, separate retirement allowance shall be calculated, in the manner prescribed for each class of service, the average final compensation in each case being that for the respective class of service; provided that the average final compensation upon which the minimum total retirement allowance is calculated in such case shall be based on the compensation earnable by the member in the classes of service rendered by him during the one (1) year immediately preceding his retirement. Part time service and compensation shall be reduced to full time service and compensation in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, and when so reduced shall be applied as full time service and compensation in the calculation of retirement allowances. The question of retiring a member under this subsection may be brought before the retirement board on said board's own motion, by recommendation of any commission or board, or by said member or his guardian. If his disability shall cease, his retirement allowance shall cease, and he shall be restored to service in the position or classification he occupied at the time of his retirement.

D (d) No modification of benefits provided in this section shall be made because of any amounts payable to or on account of any member under workers' compensation laws of the State of California.

E (e) If a member shall die, before his retirement, regardless of cause:

(1) If no benefit is payable under subdivision (2) of this subsection E (e):

(A) Regardless of cause, a death benefit shall be paid to his the member's estate or designated beneficiary consisting of the compensation earnable by him the member during the six months immediately preceding death, plus his the member's contributions and interest credited thereon.

(B) If a member sustains a traumatic bodily injury through external and violent means in the course and scope of employment and death results within 180 days of such injury, an additional insurance benefit of twelve months of compensation earnable shall be paid to the member's estate or designated beneficiary.

(2) If, at the date of his death, he was qualified for service retirement by reason of service and age under the provisions of subsection B (b) of this section, and he has designated as beneficiary his surviving spouse, who was married to him for at least one full year immediately prior to the date of his death, one-half of the retirement allowance to which the member would have been entitled if he had retired for service on the date of his death shall be paid to such surviving spouse who was his designated beneficiary at the date of his death, until such spouse's death or remarriage, or if there be no surviving spouse, to the unmarried child or children of such member under the age of eighteen years, collectively, until every such child dies, marries or attains the age of eighteen years, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of eighteen years. If, at the death of such surviving spouse, who was receiving an allowance under this subdivision (2), there be one or more unmarried children of such member under the age of eighteen years, such allowance shall cease to such child or children collectively, until every such child dies, marries or attains the age of eighteen years, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of eighteen years. If the total of the payments of allowance made pursuant to this subdivision (2) is less than the benefit which was otherwise payable under subdivision (1) of this subsection, the amount of said benefit payable under subdivision (1) less an amount equal to the total of the payments of allowance made pursuant to this subdivision (2) shall be paid in a lump sum as follows:

(a) If the person last entitled to said allowance is the remarried surviving spouse of such member, to such spouse.

(b) Otherwise, to the surviving children of the member, share and share alike, or if there are no such children, to the estate of the person last entitled to said allowance.

The surviving spouse may elect, on a form provided by the retirement system and filed in the office of the retirement system before the first payment of the allowance provided herein, to receive the benefit provided in subdivision (1) of this subsection in lieu of the allowance which otherwise would be payable under the provisions of this subdivision. If a surviving spouse, who was entitled to make the election herein provided, shall die before or after making such election but before receiving any payment pursuant to such election, then the legally appointed guardian of the unmarried children of the member under the age of eighteen years may make the election herein provided before any benefit has been paid under this subsection E (e), for and on behalf of such children if in his judgment it appears to be in their interest and advantage and the election so made shall be binding and conclusive upon all parties in interest.

If any person other than such surviving spouse shall have and be paid a community property interest in any portion of any benefit provided under this subsection E (e), any allowance payable under this subdivision (2) shall be reduced the actuarial equivalent, at the date of the member’s death, of the amount of benefits paid to such other person.

Upon the death of a member after retirement and regardless of the cause of death, a death benefit shall be paid to his estate or designated beneficiary in the manner and subject to the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors for the payment of a similar death benefit upon the death of other retired members.

F (f) Should any miscellaneous member cease to be employed as such a member, through any cause other than death or retirement, all of his contributions, with interest credited thereon, shall be refunded to him subject to the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors to cover similar terminations of employment and reemployment with and without redeposit of withdrawn accumulated contributions of other members of the retirement system; provided that if such member is entitled to be credited with at least ten years of service or if his accumulated contributions exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), he shall have the right to elect, without right of revocation and within ninety 90 days after said termination of service, or if the termination was by lay-off, ninety 90 days after the retirement board determines the termination to be permanent, whether to allow his accumulated contributions to remain in the retirement fund and to receive benefits only as provided in this paragraph. Failure to make such election shall be deemed an irrevocable election to withdraw his accumulated contributions. A person who elects to allow his accumulated contributions to remain in the retirement fund shall be subject to the same age requirements as apply to other members under this section for service retirement but he shall not be subject to a minimum service requirement. Upon the qualification of such member for retirement by reason of age, he shall be entitled to receive a retirement allowance which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions and an equal amount of the contributions of the city and county, plus one and two-thirds (1 2/3) percent of his average final compensation for each year of service credited to him as rendered prior to his first membership in the retirement system. Upon the death of such member prior to retirement, his contributions with interest credited thereon shall be paid to his estate or designated beneficiary.

G (g) The following time and service shall be included in the computation of the service to be credited to a member for the purpose of determining whether such member qualifies for retirement and calculating benefits:

(1) Time during which said member is a member of the retirement system and during and for which said member is entitled to receive compensation because of services as a miscellaneous officer or employee.

(2) Service in the fire and police departments which is not credited as service of a member under this section shall count under this section upon transfer of a member of either of such departments to employment entitling him to membership in the retirement system under this section, provided that the accumulated contribution standing to the credit of such member shall be adjusted by refund to the member or by payment of the member to bring the account at the time of such transfer to the amount which would have been credited to it had the member been a miscellaneous employee throughout the period of his service in either of such departments at the compensation he received in such departments.

the experience under the system shall be made every odd-numbered year.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subdivision 5 (4), any additional liabilities created by the amendments of this section 8.509 contained in the proposition therefor submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1973, shall be amortized over a period of thirty 30 years.

(5) To promote the stability of the retirement system, through a joint participation in the result of variations in the experience under mortality, investment and other contingencies, the contributions of both members and the city and county, held by the system to provide the benefits under this section, shall be a part of the fund in which all other assets of said system are included. Nothing in the section shall affect the obligations of the city and county to pay to the retirement system any amounts which may or shall become due under the provision of the charter prior to the effective date hereof, and which are represented on July 1, 1947, in the accounts of said system by debts against the city and county.

(k) Any section or part of any section in this charter, insofar as it should conflict with this section, or with any part thereof, shall be superseded by the contents of this section. In the event that any word, phrase, clause or subsection of this section shall be adjudged unconstitutional, the remainder thereof shall remain in full force and effect.

(M) The amendments of this section contained in the proposition therefor submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1973, shall be effective on the first day of the month next following their ratification by the State Legislature. Said amendments do not and shall not increase any allowance first in effect prior to the effective date of said amendments, nor shall they give any person retired prior to said effective date, or his successors in interest, any claim against the city and county for any increase in any retirement allowance paid or payable for time prior to said effective date.

The amendment of Section 8.509 contained in the proposition submitted to the electorate on November 2, 1982 shall be effective July 1, 1983.

(n) The amendments of this section contained in the proposition submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1984 are hereby declared to be prospective and shall not give any person a claim against the city and county relating to a death prior to ratification of this amendment by the State Legislature.

8.584-5 Death Benefit

If a member shall die, before his retirement, regardless of cause:

(a) If no benefit is payable under Subsection B (b) of this section:

(1) Regardless of cause, a death benefit shall be paid to his the member's estate or designated beneficiary consisting of the compensation earnable by him the member during the six months immediately preceding death, plus his the member's contributions and interest credited thereon.

(2) If a member sustains a traumatic bodily injury through external and violent means in the course and scope of employment and death results within 180 days of such injury, an additional insurance benefit of twelve months of compensation earnable shall be paid to the member's estate or designated beneficiary.

(b) If, at the date of his death, he was qualified for service retirement by reason of service and age under the provisions of Section 8.584-2, and he has designated as beneficiary his surviving spouse, who was married to him for at least one full year immediately prior to the date of his death, one-half of the retirement allowance to which the member would have been entitled if he had retired for service on the date of his death, shall be paid to such surviving spouse who was his designated beneficiary at the date of his death, until such spouse's death or remarry, or if there be no surviving spouse, to the unmarried child or children of such member under the age of 18 eighteen years, collectively, until every such child dies, marries or attains the age of 18 eighteen years, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of 18 eighteen years. If, at the death of such surviving spouse, who was receiving an allowance under this subsection (b), there be one or more unmarried children of such member under the age of 18 eighteen years, such allowance shall continue to such child or children, collectively, until every such child dies, marries or attains the age of 18 eighteen years, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of 18 eighteen years. If the total of the payments of allowance made pursuant to this subsection (b) is less than the benefit which was otherwise payable under subsection (a) of this section, the amount of said benefit payable under subsection (a) less an amount equal to the total of the payments of allowance made pursuant to this subsection (b) shall be paid in a lump sum as follows:

(1) If the person last entitled to said allowance is the remarried surviving spouse of such member, to such spouse.

(2) Otherwise, to the surviving children of the member, share and share alike, or if there are no such children, to the estate of the person last entitled to said allowance.

The surviving spouse may elect, on a form provided by the retirement system and filed in the office of the retirement system before the first payment of the allowance provided herein, to receive the benefit provided in subsection (a) of this section in lieu of the allowance which otherwise would be payable under the provisions of this subdivision. If a surviving spouse, who was entitled to make the election herein provided, shall die before or after making such election but before receiving any payment pursuant to such election, then the legally appointed guardian of the unmarried children of the member under the age of 18 eighteen years may make the election herein provided before any benefit has been paid under this section, for and on behalf of such children if in his judgment it appears to be in their interest and advantage, and the election so made shall be binding and conclusive upon all parties in interest.

If any person other than such surviving spouse shall have and be paid a community property interest in any portion of any benefit provided under this section, any allowance payable under this Subsection (b) shall be reduced by the actuarial equivalent, at the date of the member's death, of the amount of benefits paid to such other person.

Upon the death of a member after retirement and regardless of the cause of death, a death benefit shall be paid to his estate or designated beneficiary in the manner and subject to the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors for the payment of a similar death benefit upon the death of other retired members.

Upon the death of a member after retirement, an allowance, in addition to the death benefit provided in the immediately preceding paragraph, shall be paid to his surviving spouse, until such surviving spouse's death or remarriage, equal to one-half of his retirement allowance as it was prior to optional modification and prior to reduction as provided in Subsection (a) of Section 8.514 of this charter, but exclusive of the part of such allowance which was provided by additional contributions. No allowance, however, shall be paid under this paragraph to a surviving spouse unless such surviving spouse was married to said member at least one year prior to his retirement. If such retired person leaves no such surviving spouse, or if such surviving spouse should die or remarry before every child of such deceased retired person attains the age of 18 eighteen years, the allowance which such surviving spouse would have received had he or she lived and not remarried shall be paid to retired person's child or children under said age, collectively, to continue until every such child dies or attains said age, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of 18 eighteen years.

The amendments of this section contained in the proposition submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1984 are hereby declared to be prospective and shall not give any person a claim against the city and county relating to a death prior to ratification of this amendment by the State Legislature.

If the appointment resulted from a promotional examination the employee shall have the right of appeal and hearing before the civil service commission. The commission shall render a decision within thirty days after receipt of the notice of termination and (a) may declare such person dismissed; or (b) order such person reinstated in his position without prejudice, and the commission may in its discretion order that the employee be paid salary from the time of the termination of his the appointment; or (c) order the return of such person to a position in the classification from which he that person was promoted and may reestablish the employee's eligibility to a list of eligibles for the same promotional classification under such conditions as the commission may deem just. The decision of the commission shall be final. Immediately prior to the expiration of the probationary period the appointing officer shall report to the civil service commission as to the competence of the probationer for the position, and if competent, shall recommend permanent appointment. Nothing in this section shall preclude the civil service commission from reviewing terminations for the purpose of future employability including terminations in the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments.

(a) Not later than the 1st day of August of each year, the civil service commission shall survey and certify to the board of supervisors rates of compensation paid police officers or patrolmen patrol officers employed in the respective police departments in all cities of 350,000 population or over in the State of California, based upon the latest federal decennial census. For the purpose of the civil service commission's survey and certification the rates contained in said certification shall be the average of the maximum rates paid to each police officer or patrolman patrol officer classification performing the same or essentially the same duties as police officers or patrolmen patrol officers in the City and County of San Francisco.

Thereupon the Board of Supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, by ordinance, to fix rates of compensation for the members of the police department whose annual compensations are set forth in Section 3.531 of this Charter and said rates shall be in lieu of said annual compensations and shall be effective from the first day of July of the current fiscal year.

The rates of compensation, fixed in said ordinance,
(1) for the fourth year of service and thereafter for police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers the compensation shall be fixed at a rate which is the average maximum wage paid to the police officers or patroilmen patrol officer classifications in regular service in the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission. "Average wage" as used in this paragraph shall mean the sum of the maximum averages certified by the civil service commission divided by the number of police officer classifications in cities in said certification;

(2) for the first, second and third year of service for police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers shall be established in accordance with the general percentage differential between seniority steps found in the salary ranges included in the cities certified by the civil service commission for the same class;

(3) for said members of the police department other than police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers shall include the same percent of adjustment as that established by said ordinance for police officers in the fourth year of service; and

(4) shall be set at the dollar amount nearest the fractional amount which may result from percentage adjustment specified in this section, half dollars being taken to the next higher dollar amount.

The rates of compensation set forth in the budget estimates, the budget and the annual salary ordinance shall be those fixed by the board of supervisors as in this section provided and appropriations thereof shall be based thereon.

The expression "rates of compensation", as used in this section in relation to said survey, is hereby declared to apply only to a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, and does not include such working benefits as might be set up by any other city by way of holidays, vacations, other permitted absences of any type whatsoever, overtime, night or split shift, or pay for specialized services within a classification or rank, or other premium pay differentials of any type whatsoever. The foregoing enumeration is not exclusive, but it is the intent of this section that nothing other than a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, is to be included within the meaning of "rates of compensation".

Working benefits and premium pay differential of any type shall be allowed or paid to members of the police department referred to herein only as is otherwise provided in this charter.

For all purposes of the retirement system, the expression "rates of compensation" as used in this section, shall mean "salary attached to the rank" as used in Section 166 of the charter of 1932, as amended, and, with the addition of fifteen dollars ($15.00) per month now provided in Section (b) with respect to members assigned to two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty, shall also mean "compensation earnable" as used in Section 8.549.

The absence of any police officer, woman protective officer or police patrol driver on military leave, as defined by Section 8.361 of this Charter, shall be reckoned a part of his service under the city and county, for the purpose of computing years of service in gaining added compensation as provided for herein.

On the recommendation of the chief of police, the commission may reward any member of the department for heroic or meritorious conduct. The form or amount of said reward is to be discretionary with the commission, but not to exceed one month's salary in any one instance.

"Average wage" as used in this paragraph shall mean the sum of the additional rates of pay certified by the civil service commission divided by the number of cities in said certification. Said additional rates shall be in lieu of said annual compensations and shall be effective from the first day of July of the current fiscal year.

For the purpose of the civil service commission's survey and certification the rates contained in said certification shall be the average of the maximum rates paid to each fireman firefighter classification performing the same or essentially the same duties as firemen firefighters in the City and County of San Francisco.

Thereupon, the board of supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, by ordinance, to fix rates of compensation for the members of the fire department whose annual compensations are set forth or otherwise provided in section 3.542 of this charter, and said rates shall be in lieu of said annual compensations and shall be effective from the first day of July of the current fiscal year.

The rates of compensation, fixed in said ordinance,
(1) for the fourth year of service and thereafter the rate of compensation shall be fixed at a rate which is the average of the maximum compensation paid firemen firefighter classifications in regular service in the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission. “Average wage” as used in this paragraph shall mean the sum of the maximum averages certified by the civil service commission divided by the number of firemen firefighter classifications in cities in said certification.

(2) for the first, second and third year of service for firemen firefighters shall be established in accordance with the general percentage differential between seniority steps found in the salary ranges included in the cities certified by the civil service commission for the same class;

(3) for said members of the fire department other than firemen firefighters shall include the same percent of adjustment as that established by said ordinance for firemen firefighters in the fourth year of service; and

(4) shall be set at the dollar amount nearest the fractional amount which may result from percentage adjustment specified in this section, half dollars being taken to the next higher dollar amount.

The expression “rates of compensation” as used in this section, in relation to said survey, is hereby declared to apply only to a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, and does not include such working benefits as might be set up by any other city by way of holidays, vacations, other permitted absences for any type whatsoever, overtime, night or split shift, or pay for specialized services within a classification or rank, or other premium pay differentials of any type whatsoever. The foregoing enumeration is not exclusive, but it is the intent of this section that nothing other than a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, is to be included within the meaning of “rates of compensation”.

Working benefits and premium pay differentials of any type shall be allowed or paid to members of the fire department referred to herein only as is otherwise provided in this charter. For all purposes of the retirement system, the expression “rates of compensation”, as used in subsections (c) and (d) of this section shall mean “salary attached to the rank” as used in section 169 of the charter of 1932, as amended and “compensation earnable” as used in section 8.549.

The expression “members of the fire department” does not include members of the fire commission.

The absence of any officer or member of the fire department on military leave of absence, as defined by section 8.361 of this charter, shall be reckoned a part of his such member's service under the city and county, for the purpose of computing years of service in gaining added compensation as provided in this charter.

On the recommendation of the chief of department, the commission may reward any officer or member of the department for heroic or meritorious conduct, the form or amount of said award to be discretionary with the fire commission, but not to exceed one month’s salary in any one instance.

(d) The rates of compensation fixed pursuant to the provisions of subsection (a) (1), (2) and (3) and the rates of compensation fixed pursuant to the provisions of subsection (c) (1), (2) and (3) shall be the same. Such rates shall not exceed the highest average rate of compensation fixed pursuant to subsections (a) (1), (2) and (3) and (c) (1), (2) and (3) above, whether it be paid to police officers, patrolmen, patrol officers or firemen firefighters; provided, further, that the minimum rate of compensation attached to the rank of sergeant in the police department shall be equal to the rate of compensation attached to the rank of lieutenant in the fire department.

(e) Not later than the 25th day of August the board of supervisors shall have the power and it shall be its duty, subject to the fiscal provisions of the charter but, without reference or amendment to the annual budget, to amend the annual appropriation ordinance and the annual salary ordinance as necessary to include the provisions of paying the rates of compensation fixed by the board of supervisors as in this section provided for uniformed members of the police and fire departments for the then current fiscal year.

The Consumer Price Index referred to herein is defined as that certain index issued by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and published in the Monthly Labor Review or a successor publication. In the event the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics discontinues the compilation and publication of said indexes, the board of supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to appoint a statistical fact finding committee to determine the same data pursuant to the methods theretofore used by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. The cost of living adjustments as hereinafter provided shall be based upon the percentage of such increases or decreases. The board of supervisors may, in addition to the rates of compensation as established herein, and at the same time said rates of compensation are established, increase said rates of compensation by an amount equal to the difference between the average cost of living increase of the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission and the actual cost of living increase for San Francisco. In the event the board of supervisors elects not to grant such cost of living increase in any year in which any such increase might be granted, the board of supervisors shall, upon a written request filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors not later than the 10th day of September of said year by representatives of the uniformed members of the police and fire departments, as designated by the police and fire commissions, respectively, submit the question of said cost of living increase to the qualified electors of the city and county at the next succeeding city-wide election. In the event said cost of living increase is approved by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon, said cost of living increase shall be effective as of the first day of the then current fiscal year.

(g) Notwithstanding any of the provisions contained in this section, no uniformed member of the police or fire department employed before July 1, 1976, whose compensation is fixed pursuant to the formula contained herein, shall suffer a salary reduction by the application of any new compensation schedules, and the rates for fiscal year 1975–76 shall continue until such time as the new schedules equal or exceed the current salary increment schedules, provided, however, that such time shall not be extended beyond June 30, 1982, and provided further that this prohibition against reduction of compensation for the designated employees shall not be deemed to supersede the provisions of section 8.406 of this charter.

Provided, however, that this prohibition against reduction of compensation for the designated employees shall not be deemed to supersede the provisions of section 8.406 of this charter.

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT VOTING

You can vote for any candidate, regardless of party. This is a General Election and you can vote for any candidate on your ballot. Political party restrictions only apply at Primary Elections (in June).

Do not vote for more than the authorized number of candidates or none of your votes for that contest will be counted. Most candidate contests specify "Vote for one" but you can vote for up to six supervisors and up to four School and College Board members. If you make a mistake and vote for more than six candidates for supervisor you can get a replacement ballot.

If you move, you must re-register. The most common complaint we get on election day is that someone can’t vote because they have moved and not re-registered. If you have moved, your name will probably not be on the rolls anymore and even if it is, it is not legal to vote using your old polling place (except in certain rare circumstances). Next time you move, don’t leave your vote behind; remember to re-register.

You don’t have to be sick or out-of-town to get an absentee ballot. Any voter can request an absentee ballot for any reason, or for no reason. To become a "permanent" absentee voter you must be disabled but ordinary absentee voters do not have to have a reason.

Your registration will not necessarily be cancelled if you don’t vote but chances of that happening will increase if you don’t vote. After the election, we will send a postcard confirming the address of all nonvoters. If the Post Office or the current resident says you don’t live there anymore, your registration will be cancelled. No one is automatically cancelled for not voting at any election.

It is not necessary to re-register before each election. Your registration is permanent and will remain in effect until you move, die or are convicted of a felony.

POLL WORKERS NEEDED

Earn $49 to $58 (plus bonuses)!
Meet Your Neighbors!
Serve Your Community!

There is a shortage of poll workers in most San Francisco neighborhoods. Voters who are interested in this important work are encouraged to apply as soon as possible at the Registrar’s Office at City Hall. If you apply while there still is a large selection of vacancies, it is probable that you will be assigned to a poll in your own neighborhood.

The Registrar is trying to build a permanent corps of polling officials, therefore housewives and retired people, as well as others who are interested in community service are particularly urged to apply.

The higher-paying and more responsible positions will be reserved for persons who apply in person. Others may mail in the application form provided below:

(The workday is from 6:45 a.m. to about 8:30 p.m., with breaks for lunch and dinner.)

APPLICATION FOR ABSENTEE VOTER'S BALLOT
APLICACION DE BALOTA DE VOTANTE AUSENTE

I hereby apply for an absent voter's ballot:
Por la presente, solicito una balota de votante ausente:

Por favor envíe la balota por correo:

Please print clearly or your request will not be honored.
El pedido no sera considerado si no se escribe claramente.

EXTRA APPLICATION FOR ABSENTEE BALLOT

Since this page would have been blank anyway, we have used the space to reprint an extra copy of the absentee ballot application form.

Your "real" absentee ballot application appears as a postcard inserted into this book. We would prefer that you use the postcard form because it is easier to process and less likely to get lost.

If two persons in your household are requesting absentee ballots, you may put both postcard forms into an envelope in order to save postage.

The disabled may apply as permanent absentee voters by completing the little box at the bottom of the form. Disabilities that qualify for permanent absentee status include circulatory problems and mobility impairments as well as more severe disabilities.

If you have not yet received your absentee ballot, then you are probably not on our permanent absentee mailing list. The permanent absentee voters' ballots were mailed out the week of October 9th.

To vote on any measure, punch the ballot card in the hole at the point of the arrow after the "YES" or after the word "NO".

Para votar sobre cualquier medida, perfure la balota en el circulo que señala la flecha después de la palabra "Sí" o después de la palabra "No".

Todas las marcas o borraduras están prohibidas e invalidan el voto. Si usted equivocadamente perfura, rompe o estropea la balota, o rompe o estropea el sobres, devuelvalo al miembro del consejo del precinto y obtenga otra.

PUBLIC AID, MEDICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS
Creates Public Assistance Commission. Limits benefit expenditures to national average plus 10%. Legislative amendments permitted. Fiscal Impact: Net effect would be combined state and county expenditure reduction beginning July 1, 1986. Size of reduction and impact at different levels of government impossible to determine. Substantial reductions under specified programs would be partially offset to an unknown extent by increased costs under other programs and reduced tax revenues resulting from reduced federal expenditures within the state. Likely, state expenditures would be reduced and county expenditures increased.

Impacto fiscal. Costos de la comisión de hasta $3.5 millones antes de la elección de 1986. Costos de $10,000 a $20,000 cada uno para reubicar un número desconocido de oficinas legislativas en los distritos. Costos del condado alrededor de $500,000 para materiales para la elección de 1986. Ahores para el condado alrededor de $300,000 en 1986 por costos de impresión y $250,000 cada dos años de ahi en adelante. Las redistribuciones futuras probablemente costarán menos que bajo la ley actual.

CONTRIBUCIONES PARA COMPAÑÍAS. Limita a los contribuyentes y las contribuciones a candidatos a cargos políticos electivos. Iguala con fondos públicos limitados las gastos personales del candidato de oposición. Impacto fiscal. Reduce los ingresos estatales en unos $100,000 cada año de ejercicio fiscal y aumenta los gastos estatales en aproximadamente hasta $1,650,000 cada año de ejercicio fiscal.

AYUDA PÚBLICA, PROGRAMAS DE ASISTENCIA MÉDICA. Crea Comisión de Asistencia Pública. Limita gastos de beneficio al promedio nacional más el 10%. Permite cambios legislativos. Impacto fiscal: el efecto neto sería la reducción de los gastos combinados del estado y condados comenzando el 1ro de julio de 1986. El tamaño de la reducción impacto en los diferentes niveles del gobierno es imposible determinarse en este momento. Reducciones substanciales bajo Programas específicos serían parciales; se compensarían hasta un grado en seguida mediante el aumento de gastos bajo otros programas y por ingresos de impuestos reducidos que resulten de gastos federales reducidos dentro del estado. Es factible que los gastos estatales serían reducidos y que los gastos de condados aumentarían.

Q—Once I have signed up, do I have to do it again?

WORDS YOU NEED TO KNOW
by Ballot Simplification Committee

Here are a few of the words that you will need to know:

BALLOT—A list of candidates and propositions.

ABSENTEE BALLOT—If you wish to vote by mail you can get a special ballot to fill out. This ballot is called an absentee ballot. You can get this ballot from the Registrar of Voters at City Hall. Please refer to the insert card in the pamphlet.

VOTE BY MAIL—See Absentee Ballot, above.

POLL—The place where you go to vote.

PROPOSITION—This means any issue that you vote on. If it deals with City & County government it will have a letter, such as Proposition A. If it deals with State government it will have a number, such as Proposition 1. State propositions are numbered 25 through 41 because in June the numbers were 16 through 24.

CHALLENGE—Officers at the polls can challenge a voter for various reasons, such as living in a different precinct from the one in which he or she is voting.

SUPERVISORS—Elected members of the governing legislative body for the City and County of San Francisco.

CHARTER AMENDMENT—The charter is the basic set of laws for the city government. A charter amendment changes one of those basic laws. It takes a vote of the people to change the charter. It cannot be changed again without another vote of the people.

ORDINANCE—A law of the city and county, which is passed by the Board of Supervisors or approved by the voters.

DECLARATION OF POLICY—A declaration of policy asks a question: Do you agree or disagree with a certain idea? If a majority of the voters approve of a declaration of policy, the supervisors must carry out the policy, to the extent legally possible.

INITIATIVE—This is a way for voters to put a proposition on the ballot for people to vote on. An initiative is put on the ballot by getting a certain number of voters to sign a petition. Each initiative ordinance needs signatures from 7,334 qualified voters. An ordinance passed by the people cannot be changed again without another vote of the people, unless the initiative expressly gives the Board of Supervisors the power to change the law.

PETITION—A list of signatures of voters who agree that a certain idea or question should be on the ballot.

BONDS—Contracts to borrow and repay money.

RIGHTS OF THE HANDICAPPED VOTER

1. Persons unable to mark their ballot may bring one or two persons with them into the voting booth to assist them.

2. If architectural barriers prevent a handicapped voter from entering the polling place then the voter will be allowed to vote a ballot on the sidewalk in front of the polling place (Section 14234, Elections Code).

3. A recent law allows the handicapped to apply as "Permanent Absentee Voters". A permanent absentee voter will receive a ballot in the mail at all future elections. A permanent absentee application appears as part of the regular absentee application enclosed in this book.

My occupation is Administrative Secretary
My age is 38

My qualifications for office are: I am a Hispanic-Filipina (English/Spanish-speaking) administrative-secretarial San Francisco worker and Muni commuter and have been a resident voter since 1968.

I believe San Franciscans would be better served if suitable inquiry and evaluation preceded passage of locally needed and desired legislation and tax revenue expenditures to assure anticipated results. San Francisco's Charter permits supervisorial inquiry into expenditures. I strongly support thoroughly researched legislation and tax revenue use to benefit the peoples of San Francisco.

All of my sponsors know me to be a capable, persistent fighter for principles and public benefit and believe I would be an excellent supervisor.

ROBERT DANIEL INGRAHAM
My address is 1637 Noriega Street
My occupation is Political Consultant
My age is 33
My qualifications for office are: Over one hundred years ago two great men, David Broderick and Edward Baker, gave their lives to save this Republic.

I ask you voters to compare these two San Franciscans with the small minded politicians of today.

Pathetic Wendy Nelder says "Fluoride causes AIDS"; degraded Willie Brown corrupts us with "Oh What a Night" bacalaiila; Feinstein lusts for higher office, and the rest are worse.

San Francisco can play an historic role in the development of the Pacific Basin. But you, our citizens, must decide. I urge you: Join with me and other candidates of Lyndon LaRouche's NDPC in our fight.

RUBY T. JIMENEZ
My address is 961 Delano Avenue
My occupation is Directory Sales Representative
My age is 45
My qualifications for office are: A San Francisco resident since, 1948 and a naturalized American of Mexican decent, I consider myself an earnest interpreter of human needs for the Hispanic community and other minorities. Misinterpretations, injustices, lack of communication and mutual respect must be addressed and aired. These human needs for minorities and others can be solved if we end the current world depression. The humane world economic policies of Lyndon LaRouche, particularly his proposal for joint economic development between the United States and Ibero-America (Operation Juarez) can end this depression. The port of San Francisco should be expanded to become a strong world trade center.

My address is 2567 Alemany Blvd

My age is 34
My qualifications for office are: I am a San Francisco State graduate in journalism, married, with a deep affection for this place. The solution includes a return to basics, to strong family units, to solid values, to the worth of all human life. I will be a voice for those who feel excluded, especially exploited children and the disadvantaged.

SYLVIA WEINSTEIN

My address is 489 27th Street
My occupation is Staff-writer for Socialist Action newspaper
My age is 58
My qualifications for office are: My program:

Courts, cops and strikebreaking injunctions; two-gate, two-tiered, union-busting tactics, are helping employers depress living standards. Escalating health, housing and food costs are forcing working people—especially Blacks and Latinos—out of San Francisco. Corporate condos and highrises replace workers’ residences.

Door-key children of working parents, denied childcare, are left to roam the streets. Abortion clinics are under siege.

Only united labor—employed, unemployed, black, white—can change this condition. An independent labor party, based on the unions, must be built to replace the callous politicians of the two ruling capitalist parties.

Jobs not war!

DAVE WHARTON

My address is 5031 Diamond Heights Blvd.
My occupation is Community Service Attorney
My age is 44

It's time for housing expansion, for transit, traffic, parking overhaul. Time for better City services, especially for seniors and youth. Time to strengthen economy, create jobs, control taxes. Time for neighborhood revitalization, parking relief. Time for human rights advancement, efficient and humane police services. Experiment with Board meetings in neighborhoods.

It's time for goals, results, citizen participation. San Francisco is world class city, small town; lose either, be neither. I build bridges, not barriers. Join our common sense coalition.

LIBBY DENEBEIM

My address is 200 St. Francis Blvd.
My occupation is Incumbent School Board Member

My qualifications for office are: Four years ago you elected me to the school board. I am deeply grateful.

I have worked hard. Student achievement scores improved, enrollment stabilized. We strengthened significantly special programs and alternative schools.

There remains much work to do. As a mother of six public school educated children, former teacher and experienced school board member, I know how our schools should work.

Many children today will finish school in the 21st Century. For all our children we must plan for the future, reaffirm our commitment to excellence, use school dollars prudently and ensure the momentum for improvement in our schools continues.

TERRY HUGUNIN

My address is 1824 Noriega Street
My occupation is Consultant
My age is 37
My qualifications for office are: Those of us who were teenagers during President Kennedy's Appolo Space Program thought there was nothing we and our nation might not accomplish: "We're going to the moon in ten years!" Thanks to outfits like the National Education Association, the science oriented New Frontiers of the 60's have given way to the "other-directedness" of the Aquarian Age. Their goal: form a society of androgynous pacifists—study their literature. Mine is to restore the problem-solving orientation appropriate to Judeo-Christian culture. Help me mobilize our schools to implement the Strategic Defense Initiative and overcome the nuclear war threat.

JAMES LEGARE

My address is 254 Oak Street
My occupation is Motor Truck Operator
My age is 57
My qualifications for office are: I am committed to installing a sound educational program in our schools as the basis for getting our country and economy moving again—on the American tradition. We need to develop young minds through a program of classical education and to protect them by wiping out drugs in the schools and in the nation.

I propose to reform the school system along these lines:
1) Classical geometry and physics, as typified by Plato, Archimedes, Cusa Kepler, and Leibniz
2) Classical poetry, music, and drama, exemplified by Homer, Aeschylus, Dante, Shakespeare, Schiller, Bach, and Beethoven

JO ANNE MILLER

My address is 1920 Quint Street
My occupation is Parent and Teacher
My qualifications for office are: I am the mother of two children in San Francisco Public Schools. I believe in the Public School System, and have a personal interest in its quality and effectiveness. I am a teacher of the blind. I am President of the Glen Park School Site Advisory Committee, and hold other elected civic offices.

The lack of parent representation on the School Board has contributed to a lack of parent and citizen involvement, a lack of long-term planning and vision in school administration, and a failure to commit the School District to a plan and goal of excellence for all children.

Port Revenue Bonds

PROPOSITION A
Shall the Port Commission be authorized to issue $42,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance construction and improvements of Port facilities?

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Port Commission operates the Port of San Francisco. When funds are needed for Port construction or improvements, the Commission may issue revenue bonds to raise funds. A majority of the voters must approve these bonds before they can be issued. The revenue bonds are then paid from Port revenues.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition A would allow the Port Commission to issue up to $42,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance several improvements of Port property. These improvements include modernizing container handling facilities, upgrading various piers, constructing a breakwater at Fisherman’s Wharf, and renovating certain other Port structures and property. The bonds would then be paid off from Port revenues.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Port Commission to issue up to $42,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance improvements of Port property.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the Port Commission to issue revenue bonds for this purpose.

Controller’s Statement on “A”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition A:

“Should the proposed bond issue be authorized and when all bonds shall have been issued on a twenty-five year basis, and after consideration of the interest rates related to current municipal bond sales, in my opinion, it is estimated that approximate costs would be as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Amount</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bond redemption</td>
<td>$42,500,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bond interest</td>
<td>81,761,400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total debt service requirement</td>
<td>$124,261,400</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

“Based on a three year construction program and a bond redemption schedule beginning four years after the sale of each issue, the estimated amount required to pay the interest thereon and the redemption thereof, would range from approximately $4,462,000 to a maximum of $5,760,000 annually for twenty-seven years.

“In my opinion, the servicing of the proposed bonded debt will be paid from Port revenues and will not affect the tax rate of the City and County of San Francisco, provided that there are sufficient revenues from Port sources to cover operating and all debt service costs of the Port. Analysis of projected resources available to the Port indicates that, in my judgment, sufficient revenues will be available to provide debt service costs in future years.”

How Supervisors Voted on “A”

On July 30 the Board of Supervisors voted 7-1 on a motion placing Proposition A on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisor Quentin Kopp.

TEXT OF PROPOSITION A APPEARS ON PAGE 51.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

The revitalization of the Port of San Francisco will bring new jobs and new tax revenue to the City. A healthy port, with increased ship traffic, will bring millions each year to the San Francisco economy.

By delaying modernizations in the past, the Port of San Francisco lost the bulk of its maritime business to other Bay Area and West Coast cities. The same mistakes must not be made twice. We must allow the Port to use revenues to finance continued improvements.

Proposition A does not authorize any new taxes. Proposition A simply authorizes the Port to use revenues to finance improvements and expansion.

Proposition A will allow for the modernization of existing container cargo terminals on the southern waterfront. These improved facilities will retain current business and will bring new lines to San Francisco. The return of the shipping business will bring back long lost blue collar jobs to the waterfront as well as white collar jobs.

In addition, Proposition A will provide for expansion of the passenger facility, a new breakwater to protect the commercial fishing fleet, and improved rail access to the port. In all, Proposition A will upgrade and modernize San Francisco Port facilities so as to make them competitive with other ports across the Bay and throughout the West Coast.

The complete modernization effort will be done at no cost to the taxpayers. Instead, the Port of San Francisco's income will be used to finance long-term revenue bonds.

The people of San Francisco deserve a first-rate port. We urge all San Franciscans to vote YES on Proposition A.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Vote YES on Proposition A.

As Mayor, I have worked hard to restore our port to its historic pre-eminence as a major gateway to the Far East.

Once again, major shipping lines are docking in San Francisco. Just recently, two of the largest container vessel operators, China Ocean Shipping Corporation and Columbus Lines, signed agreements to use this port.

Not only modern cargo carriers, but passenger liners as well are being drawn to San Francisco in a remarkable renaissance of maritime commerce.

But if there is to be a lasting renewal of our waterfront, the port must be competitive with other port cities anxiously contending for the burgeoning Pacific trade. The port, if it is to prosper, must modernize and enlarge its basic maritime facilities.

That's the purpose of Proposition A.

Proposition A will make the Port of San Francisco truly and vigorously competitive. And it will not cost the taxpayers a penny.

Proposition A will authorize $42.5 million in revenue bonds for vital waterfront projects, including the conversion of Pier 80 into a modern, state-of-the-art container facility and the enlargement and modernization of cargo operations at Piers 94 and 96.

Additionally, Proposition A will provide funds for repairing the now deteriorating Jefferson Street Seawall and will match Federal dollars for construction of a much-needed breakwater to protect the City's fishing fleet at Fisherman's Wharf.

Proposition A also will finance expansion of the passenger terminal at Pier 35.

Proposition A is a prudent investment in the City's future. And these bonds are payable only from port revenues—your taxes will not be increased.

More ships, with more cargo and more passengers, mean more jobs and greater economic vitality for our city.

Proposition A will make our port, once again, a strong and lasting competitor for the commerce of the Pacific Basin. Vote YES on Proposition A.

Dianne Feinstein
Mayor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

San Francisco needs a good, working port. Vote yes on Proposition A and help bring it about.

Supervisor Richard Hongisto
Port Revenue Bonds

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Citizens of San Francisco are worried about the deterioration of the port. Most of us can remember when the port was a thriving, bustling commercial enterprise, and the docks were maintained, clean, efficient, and busy.

But, the port has not adapted to container cargo and may be losing the few shipping lines that it now serves.

We must restructure the docks for active container shipping, and bring in railway lines to service the docks.

We have one of the few deep water ports in America, an essential for modern shipping. LET'S DO SOMETHING ABOUT BEING ONE OF THE BEST PORTS IN THE WEST AGAIN!

VOTE YES ON PROP A!

Wendy Nelder
President of the Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

A YES vote on Proposition A will permit the Port of San Francisco to issue bonds to finance needed construction and improvements. This would give the Port the same financing ability the Airport now has.

Through the issuance of revenue bonds, the Port would be able to undertake necessary improvements AT NO COST TO TAXPAYERS.

San Francisco deserves a modern, thriving port. Proposition A will help us build modern terminals, a breakwater at Fisherman’s Wharf which will help keep commercial fishermen in San Francisco, repair the seawall at Jefferson Street and expand our Passenger Terminal to handle increased cruise business that brings millions of dollars into our local economy.

Proposition A will give the Port of San Francisco the ability to make these kinds of improvements. Please join me in voting YES.

Salu Burton,
Member of Congress

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Proposition A offers San Franciscans the opportunity to direct the future of the Port of San Francisco.

This measure will provide our Port with the key to the future.

We must keep pace with new developments, increase cargo and create new jobs. For every fifty new containers we move, 1.67 new jobs will be created.

This measure also includes funding for construction of the Fisherman’s Wharf Breakwater, which is critically needed and long overdue.

Take part in the future of our Port. Join with me in voting YES on Proposition A.

Milton Marks,
State Senator

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

San Francisco has always been a waterfront city. We have a superb natural harbor, which is also one of the few really deep water harbors—vital for modern deep water cargo ships.

We have used our badly deteriorating and long unimproved pier facilities to their maximum efficiency. But . . . times are changing. We must move NOW to keep pace with new developments, or risk enormous losses in cargo shipping, commercial fishing, and tourist trade.

It is ESSENTIAL that we adapt to container cargo that can be moved by train, truck, and ship.

Research has been done on what could give us the greatest increase in efficiency and profits for the very least amount of money. And the answer is: modernizing the South Terminal for adaptation to container cargo; providing rail access to the docks; protecting the commercial fishing fleet with a breakwater; and expanding passenger-handling facilities for cruise passenger tourists.

Prop A will provide these improvements RIGHT NOW. And . . . AT NO COST TO THE TAXPAYER! VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION A.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

The opportunity is NOW!

Our Northern Waterfront is alive with activity—increase in passenger ships, thriving commercial developments.

Let us fuse that energy into our Southern Waterfront and take advantage of our natural deep water. That means newer, deeper draft merchant ships, increased cargoes and new jobs.

Missed opportunities cannot be recaptured. So act now! Don't let this opportunity get away.

Vote YES on Proposition A.

Our waterfront is an outstandingly beautiful and profitable aspect of San Francisco. The port has been badly neglected, however. We need to VOTE YES ON PROP A to improve and rebuild cargo and passenger facilities.

PROP A will guarantee increased maritime activities, new jobs, the revival of our fishing industry, and the safety of shoreline areas.

And...AT NO COST TO THE TAXPAYER!

Port Revenue Bonds

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

San Francisco has always been a great port city. And the San Francisco Port has always been a leading employer of minorities.

But the Port has sadly deteriorated. It has not kept up with modernizations and improvements. And what is even worse, it has not kept up with the competition. The Port MUST adapt to container cargo, and put in railway access to the docks. With your vote YES ON A, we can take advantage of our deep water harbor, attract more shipping trade, increase cargoes, and produce many more jobs.

And... AT NO COST TO THE TAXPAYER!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Our Port now needs $42 million to develop San Francisco’s maritime facilities to compete with ports such as Oakland, Seattle and San Diego.

These improved facilities are vital to San Francisco’s competition for jobs and trade for the Pacific. Currently all major west coast ports are building to meet the growing needs of America’s Pacific Trade. These ports have each spent an average of $57 million on recent container cargo expansion while San Francisco has spent nothing.

San Francisco must have at least comparable facilities in order to compete in this market. If the port is not developed for container cargo, San Francisco can forget about being a major port on the west coast as well as lose the jobs and revenue that a modern port could produce.

The Chamber of Commerce strongly recommends that you vote to bring San Francisco the jobs and business that will be created by these revenue bonds. The bonds will be paid off from Port revenue and there is no taxpayer risk.

If you want to see the Port continue to grow and prosper vote yes on Proposition A.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

When something is railroaded through City Hall on a “fast track”, it is always difficult not to join the stampede. This, however, is a bond issue in an amount larger than necessary to perform the actual work contemplated; not backed by written leases; and not backed even by “letter agreements” with corporations which supposedly will use Piers 80, 94 and 96 if improvements are made. This bond issue was rushed through the Board of Supervisors. Transmitted to the Board on July 24th, a scant six days later (on July 30th) and without a specific noticed public hearing, the Board voted 7-1 to place it on the ballot. I dissented because more time was needed for a proper analysis and public input.

Presently, the Port has a debt service requirement of approximately $104,000,000.00. This proposed revenue bond issue would increase the debt service requirement to $228,261,400.00; a staggering rise. The $42,500,000.00 bond issue would produce but $40,202,000.00 in net proceeds. The Port has a surplus of about $19,000,000.00, of which approximately $15,000,000.00 is available for capital projects. The Controller says $49,254,660.00, would thus be available for capital projects costing $41,610,000.00.

The Port is borrowing $7,644,660.00 more than is needed for these seven capital projects. Why? The Port admits it has no long-term written commitments for Piers 80, 94 and 96 which account for $37,570,000.00 of the total bond issue. How can we be assured that the bondholders will be repaid by revenues from those piers if there are no-long term commitments?

Moreover, the Port hasn’t even secured written “letter agreements” from corporations to assure that if those improvements are made, they will sign long-term commitments. Ironically, but $4,000,000.00 of the bond issue would be spent on needed improvements for Fisherman’s Wharf tenants, who generate almost 50% of net Port income, money which would be used to repay the money borrowed for Piers 80, 94 and 96. It’s like the tail wagging the dog.

Selling bonds is nothing more than borrowing money. Why borrow more money than you have to, and why borrow money for projects which don’t have long-term tenants? Be assured that even if this passes, I intend to persist in making Port officials answer those very questions.

Supervisor Quentin L. Kopp

MOTION AUTHORIZING PROPOSITION A

MOTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO A MEASURE AUTHORIZING THE PORT COMMISSION OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO TO ISSUE REVENUE BONDS TO FINANCE THE CONSTRUCTION, RENOVATION AND MODERNIZATION OF CERTAIN PORT FACILITIES TO BE LOCATED AT THE PORT OF SAN FRANCISCO.

The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby orders submitted to the qualified electors of said City and County at an election to be held therein on November 6, 1984 a measure authorizing the Port Commission of the City and County of San Francisco to issue revenue bonds, all as set forth in the following measure, to wit:

Shall the Port Commission of the City and County of San Francisco issue revenue bonds in an amount not to exceed $42,500,000 the proceeds of which will be used to modernize container handling facilities and to upgrade various other maritime-oriented facilities at the Port of San Francisco’s piers 35, 80, 94 and 96 and at the Jefferson Street seawall, to construct a breakwater at Fisherman’s Wharf, to construct an intermodal container transfer facility, to install a backflow prevention system at various locations, to replace various transformers and capacitors throughout the port, and to acquire, construct or renovate certain works, property or structures necessary or convenient for the operation of, and at, the Port of San Francisco, which facilities are operated by the Port Commission?

Water Revenue Bonds

PROPOSITION B

Shall the Public Utilities Commission be authorized to issue $104,000,000 in revenue bonds to finance acquisition and construction of facilities for the operation of the Water Department?

YES 256  NO 257

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Public Utilities Commission operates the San Francisco Water Department. When the Commission needs funds to acquire, improve or develop Water Department facilities, it may issue revenue bonds to raise the funds. Before the Commission can issue revenue bonds, a majority of the voters must approve. The revenue bonds are then paid from Water Department revenues.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition B would allow the Public Utilities Commission to issue up to $104,000,000 in revenue bonds. Funds from the sale of the bonds would be used to acquire, improve or develop facilities necessary for the operation of the Water Department, including filtration plants and reservoirs. The bonds would be paid off from the revenues of the Water Department.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Public Utilities Commission to issue up to $104,000,000 in revenue bonds to finance Water Department improvements.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the Public Utilities Commission to issue revenue bonds for this purpose.

Controller’s Statement on “B”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition B:

“Should the proposed bond issue be authorized and when all bonds shall have been issued on a thirty year basis, and after consideration of the interest rates related to current municipal bond sales, in my opinion, it is estimated that approximate costs would be as follows:

- Bond redemption  $104,000,000
- Bond interest      169,260,000
- Total debt service requirement $273,260,000

“Based on a five year construction program and a bond redemption schedule beginning one year after the sale of each issue, the estimated amount required to pay the interest thereon and the redemption thereof, would range from approximately $3,467,000 to a maximum of $14,022,000 annually for thirty-one years.

“In my opinion, the servicing of the proposed bonded debt will be paid from Water Department revenues and will not affect the tax rate of the City and County of San Francisco, provided that there are sufficient revenues from Water Department sources to cover operating and all debt service costs of the Water Department. Analysis of projected resources available to the Water Department indicates that, in my judgment, sufficient revenues will be available to provide debt service costs in future years.”

How Supervisors Voted on “B”

On August 6 the Board of Supervisors voted 11-0 on a resolution placing Proposition B on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

None of the Supervisors voted “No.”

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

The money from these bonds will be used to assure that drinking water we take from our Crystal Springs and San Andreas reservoirs on the Peninsula is pure and meets all health standards. The bonds will be repaid from revenues of our Water Department. Not a penny will be charged on the property tax rolls or to the general taxpayers.

We have two huge lakes along side I-280 on the Peninsula, the Crystal Springs and San Andreas reservoirs. About 15% of our drinking water in normal times comes from these lakes and others in Alameda County. For decades we used this water without filtration. Now, however, health officials tell us that all of the water from our Peninsula lakes must be filtered before it can be used. We now have a very limited filtering capacity which means that if, for any reason, our water supply from the Sierras were interrupted or reduced and we would need more local water, we would be unable to make full use of Crystal Springs water. There now is no filter plant at Crystal Springs. Whatever water we use from there must be pumped up to a small filtration plant at San Andreas before it can enter the system. This very severely limits the amount of drinking water we can draw from our nearest supply, and it is expensive. Passage of Proposition B would change all that.

By voting YES on B, you will provide for water system improvements including a new filtration plant right at Crystal Springs, for the expansion of the small plant at San Andreas, and for a necessary storage reservoir.

Your YES on B vote is an investment in the quality of our drinking water—an assurance that water from our nearest supply will be available to us pure, meeting all health requirements, when we need it.

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION B.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Vote YES on Proposition B.

Generations ago, San Franciscans had the foresight to build one of the most magnificent water systems in the world—Hetch Hetchy, which brings water to San Francisco from the High Sierras.

Now, we must modernize the system to keep pace with higher standards of water quality.

Proposition B will authorize the San Francisco Water Department to issue $104 million in revenue bonds.

The money will be used to improve the system by expanding existing plants and by building additional filtration, treatment and holding facilities on Water Department properties on the Peninsula.

These facilities will provide safe drinking water for future generations of San Franciscans. Presently, if any of the existing facilities suffered a breakdown, the City could be forced to rely upon unfiltered water from Crystal Springs. The State Department of Public Health has directed the Water Department to upgrade facilities to meet future needs.

Our water is safe. It meets all state and Federal quality standards, and we want to keep it that way. Proposition B will assure low turbidity (silt content), reduce asbestos content, and prevent the spread of giardia lamblia, a virus not now found in our water system, but which could be brought in as watershed areas become more populated.

Proposition B, which will not have any effect on our tax structure, is a prudent investment, protecting our drinking water into the future. Vote YES on Proposition B.

PROPOSITION C
Shall a Health Commission consisting of seven members appointed by the Mayor be created to manage and control City and County hospitals and all other county health services and appoint a Director of Public Health?

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The San Francisco Department of Public Health operates the county hospitals, such as San Francisco General and Laguna Honda, and all other county public health services. The Department is run by a Public Health Director, who is appointed by the City’s Chief Administrative Officer and who is responsible to the Chief Administrative Officer.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition C would create a Health Commission, and place the Department of Public Health under the control of the Commission. The Commission would have seven members, appointed by the Mayor; no more than three members would be doctors, nurses, hospital administrators or other health care professionals. The Commission would appoint a Public Health Director, responsible to the Commission, to administer the Department. The Public Health Director could appoint and remove deputies to help administer the Department.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the San Francisco Department of Public Health to be under the control of a Health Commission appointed by the Mayor, and to be run by a Public Health Director, appointed by the Health Commission.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the San Francisco Department of Public Health to be under the control of the Chief Administrative Officer and to be run by a Public Health Director appointed by the Chief Administrative Officer.

How Supervisors Voted on “C”

On July 23 the Board of Supervisors voted 8-3 on the question of placing Proposition C on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisors Richard Hongisto, Quentin Kopp and Wendy Nelder.

Controller’s Statement on “C”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition C:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it would increase the cost of government, based on current costs of the Health Department, by approximately $8,400 per year.”

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION C APPEARS ON PAGE 82.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The Public Health Department has a budget of over $270 million and a staff of 5000, making it the largest agency in City government. Its responsibilities are many and far-reaching: San Francisco General Hospital and Laguna Honda Hospital; emergency medical services; mental health services; sanitation; public health education; district health centers; inspection of public and private facilities. The list is long and growing.

In recent years, the list of problems facing departmental administrators has, unfortunately, also grown. Emergency Aid stations were closed. Ambulance service was drastically altered. Proposals to reorganize community mental health services were promoted and rejected, causing confusion for all. The AIDS crisis. The investigations at San Francisco General Hospital. And on and on.

Too often, these decisions and these issues were considered in a vacuum, without public input, without public debate, and without public scrutiny.

Why? In order to protect the Department of Public Health from the graft and corruption that plagued our City at the turn of the century, the Charter placed the department under the Chief Administrative Officer’s auspices rather than a commission. Fifty years later, the department has outgrown this cumbersome arrangement. It is time to bring the administration of this important agency into the 20th Century, mirroring the management of other City departments.

Proposition C will establish a seven-member Health Commission, appointed by the Mayor, to set policy and supervise the Public Health Department. The commission will include both providers and consumers of health services. It will bring the Department more directly under the Mayor’s control, allowing for more timely responses to issues and problems. Most importantly, it will ensure that the department is publicly accountable for its actions.

We urge a YES vote on Proposition C.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Public health policy has changed and the governance of our public health department must change too.

In the past few years the state and federal governments have shifted more and more of the responsibility for public health management to local governments.

Recent experience shows that our health department is not presently equipped to manage public health programs in the most effective manner.

Proposition C will streamline management—cutting two levels of bureaucracy while opening up our public health policy to the public itself.

I urge a “yes” vote on Proposition C.

Assemblyman Art Agnos

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Since 1971, the Department of Public Health has been plagued with problems and crises at its hospitals, clinics and emergency aid stations. Most recently, we again faced the threat of San Francisco General losing its accreditation. These many incidents are deeply disturbing, raising troubling questions in the public mind: Why do these problems persist? Why can’t something be done about them once and for all?

In 1979, the national organization that accredits all hospitals reported that San Francisco General’s “major problems . . . are related to the lack of an effective governing body free from the political decision-making process which results in delayed activity, inadequate funding, etc.” Last January, the State auditors also cited the absence of “a governing body legally responsible for hospital governance” as a cause for “ineffective management.”

No other hospital in California operates without a board of directors. Only one other department in San Francisco (Public Works) operates without a commission. Instead, San Francisco General and the Health Department are run by a bureaucracy, insulated from public accountability.

Proposition C establishes a commission for the Health Department, one that will hold public hearing, make public decisions, and be publicly accountable. Vote YES.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

San Francisco’s population is aging. In a few short years, a greater percentage of our citizens will be seniors—most living independently on fixed incomes, many frail and over 75—than those of other California cities. They will need nutritional information, home health care, and a broad range of coordinated social services.

The Department of Health, San Francisco General, Laguna Honda, the District Health Centers—these are critical providers of senior services. As more and more state and federal programs are shifted to local agencies, the Department’s role and responsibilities will dramatically increase.

How will the Department respond to this increased responsibility? How can we ensure that it will develop policies and programs that meet seniors’ needs? And how can we be sure that these programs operate efficiently and effectively?

Proposition C is a big step in the right direction. VOTE YES!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Proposition C is important for women.

Women provide the majority of services offered by the Health Department. Indeed public health is traditionally the domain of women and nurses. And while the many crises at General are too often blamed on nursing care, nurses virtually have no role in planning or organizing service delivery.

Women are also the major consumers of the Department’s services. As more and more block grants transfer health programs from the state and federal levels to local governments, the Department will become an increasingly important provider to women.

Proposition C gives women an opportunity to make their voices heard at the highest levels of the Health Department. And our voices must be heard if services are to be organized efficiently and responsively.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The policies governing San Francisco General affect every consumer and provider of health services in the City, yet there is little accountability to San Francisco taxpayers. No private hospital with General's size and influence operates without a board of trustees or directors. Indeed, no private organization of any kind with a $270 million annual budget—business, corporation, nonprofit foundation, whatever—operates without a governing board. Why does General?

As General bounces from one crisis to the next, with state and federal agencies threatening increasingly drastic actions, the weakness of the current management structure becomes clear to all. The Hospital and the Health Department need a commission, where public hearings can surface problems and issues in a timely fashion; where policies can be developed with the cooperation of private providers and consumers. The Health Commission will not be a watchdog meddling in day-to-day affairs, but an advocate for General, one providing continuity, stability and a rational decision-making process with regular rules and procedures.

We urge a YES vote on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The Health Department is obliged to ensure that all San Francisco communities have access to medical services. The AIDS crisis brought the health care needs of gay men to the forefront of public discussion. It brought home the importance of a Department flexible and responsive to quickly emerging problems and epidemics, one capable of quickly reallocating resources to dire community needs.

The general health needs of gay men and women, however, are largely unrecognized. The Health Commission will give our community the voice it needs in the health planning processes. It will ensure that the diversity of our City is represented in the consideration of these important issues.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Hispanics in San Francisco strongly support Proposition C, the Health Commission Charter Amendment.

Health is vital to the Latino Community of San Francisco. We are a younger population, with larger families and with special health needs, such as those of Central American refugees. In recent years, federal and state funding for health programs has decreased, leaving community health programs in a difficult financial situation. Recent changes in Medically Indigent Adult services have also negatively impacted our community.

In addition, the need for better and expanded bilingual medical services continues to be a top priority in San Francisco.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The chief opposition to Proposition C comes from two sources: The Chief Administrative Officer and the officials of the University of California Medical Center.

The CAO's opposition is understandable. He simply doesn't want to lose control of the Health Department and SP General.

UC's opposition is more puzzling, until you realize that it receives $10–15 million from the City each year for staffing at General Hospital without a publicly reviewed contract! Why is UC afraid of having its relationship with General publicly scrutinized by a Health Commission? Let's clear the air. Vote YES on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Community clinics provide thousands of San Franciscans with access to essential primary health care and preventive health services. Yet, these community-based institutions, as well as the neighborhoods and people they represent, have been excluded from participation in health policy decision-making in San Francisco. Excluded, too, is any public debate on alternatives to hospital-based health delivery and financing systems that could prove cost-effective and could better serve the people of San Francisco.

Proposition C, The Health Commission Charter Amendment, offers a forum for public discussion of local health policy issues. By giving the neighborhoods and communities input into health policy decisions, the Health Commission will enable San Franciscans to create a new community of interest and new community of action in the area of health service delivery.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The Health Department is a key source of medical services in the black community, both directly through General Hospital and the district health centers, and indirectly through community and mental health clinics.

But our special problems—an infant mortality rate significantly above rates in other Bay Area counties, for example—are not often heard by the Department's policy-makers, for they are insulated and isolated from our community.

Our concerns must be heard if they are to be ad-dressed. Proposition C gives us a platform from which to speak. Vote YES.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

This proposal to put politics into the Department of Public Health by creating a “commission” to direct it is an example of the misguided philosophy of attacking governmental problems by throwing bureaucracy at them. It should be soundly defeated. Currently, the City’s health officials report to one person, the Chief Administrative Officer, who can respond swiftly to any crisis and set consistent policy. The responsibility for the Department lies with the CAO, not a group of political appointees. When our Charter was adopted in 1932, the freeholders explained the rationale of giving the CAO management responsibility over the Health Department. The idea was “to provide reasonable safeguards AGAINST POLITICAL MANIPULATION.” (Emphasis added) Their report stated the office of CAO was designed to be “protected from political influence as largely as possible...” and “it is intended that this officer shall be entirely independent in discharging the function of the office, and particularly, to be free from interference of the mayor, because the latter is subjected to political influence.” Although the Charter was adopted in 1932, its logic still makes powerful sense. Besides blurring lines of responsibility, this iniquitous proposal contradicts health management practices in California and the United States. In fact, the same idea was evaluated in 1971 by a committee established by the supervisors, which concluded that the commission concept, a “seemingly attractive alternative at first blush, would likely constitute merely another bureaucratic layer in an already cluttered city administrative structure.” To paraphrase The Progress, the Muni is the best proof that “the presence of a commission does not guarantee good management.” Vote NO on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

The enactment of Proposition C would set the clock back on health care delivery in San Francisco to the 1920s. As proposed, the measure would almost exactly duplicate the system of Health Care abandoned by The City in 1932 because it had become corrupt, politicized and incapable of effectively responding to the growing challenges of modern health care administration.

In 1973 the Board of Supervisors itself considered and rejected a similar Health Commission option. The board's reason was that commissions do not make effective management tools. "The Commission, seemingly an attractive alternative at first blush, would likely constitute merely another layer in an already cluttered City administrative structure."

The commission concept also goes counter to sound health management practices. Earlier this year, a team of top Bay Area health care professionals was asked to identify the leading municipal hospitals in the country. None of the institutions identified uses a commission form of administration largely because commissions, while perhaps capable of overseeing some urban systems such as mass transit, have proven ineffective and cumbersome.

The argument has been advanced that a commission would allow for greater citizen input into the health department. The fact is that the Department of Health already has some 440 individuals serving on 27 Citizen Advisory Committees—more than with any other city department. The proposed seven member commission would be insufficient in both size and technical competence to do other than deal with the health care in San Francisco on a "crisis-to-crisis" basis.

As we move into the 21st Century, the administration of San Francisco's health care systems will only become more challenging. A form of governance that proved inadequate 50 years ago and was rejected by the Board of Supervisors eleven years ago as inappropriate, is not the best way to provide for our city's health care needs of the future. We urge you to vote "No" on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

A vote for Proposition C is a vote to politicize health care in San Francisco. The authors of the 1932 City Charter foresaw this when they abolished the city's highly politicized seven member health commission and placed the Department of Health under the jurisdiction of the Chief Administrative Officer. Proposition C would return San Francisco to the pre-1932 system of politicized health care management.

In writing the 1932 Charter, the authors recognized the need to balance executive authority by splitting it between the Mayor and the CAO. Departments, such as health, which were thought to be best managed if protected from direct political influence, were placed under the jurisdiction of the CAO, who is appointed for a fixed 10 year term to remove the office from political pressure.

Despite the occurrence of problems the system has worked well. San Francisco General has perhaps the best Trauma Unit in the country. The hospital's AIDS unit is unquestionably the best and most humane in the nation.

Moving control of the city's health care budget from the Chief Administrative Officer to the Executive will create a "strong mayor" type of government which the Charter was designed to prevent. Health commissioners would necessarily be beholden to the political factions or individuals which lobbied for their appointment and to the mayor who appoints them.

There are alternatives to a Health Commission. Several have already been recommended by a blue ribbon panel of health management experts appointed following the report on General Hospital. We believe these recommendations and perhaps others, including a variation on the health commission concept, deserve further study.

Proposition C would bring about a radical restructuring of government and health care delivery in San Francisco. Both issues are far too important to be decided hastily. We urge a No vote on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

I oppose Proposition C because:
1. It puts the Health Department under the control of politically appointed non-professionals. I cannot agree that this should be done. It brings in politics and throws out expertise.
2. It adds an extra layer of bureaucracy making government more expensive and management more difficult.

Supervisor Richard Hongisto

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

Your City Hall representatives would have you believe that by replacing our present Health System with a Health Commission, composed of seven members, at a recompense of $100 per month, will improve the services.

Hogwash. Just another layer of government.

With a budget of $270 millions, 5000 employees would you put your faith in the hands of seven and still maintain the same Health Director?

What we need is a clean sweep of the present management; new faces; new ideas. The Charter provides for this, let’s do it—“Now,” not later.

Vote NO on PROPOSITION C

Marguerite A. Warren

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

By creating a health commission for the Public Health Department, the city of San Francisco would create more problems rather than solve them.

Past experience has indicated a need to separate politics from health care. San Francisco would be turning the clock back to a situation in the 1920s when the city had a seven member commission appointed by the Mayor that oversaw the management of the Public Health Department. The delivery of effective health care was seriously compromised by the politicized department which was a direct consequence of the department’s health commission.

For this reason, the citizens of San Francisco at that time passed a charter reform that removed the Health Department from the politically appointed commission and placed it in a newly created Chief Administrative Officer who would be secured against political pressures.

The creation of the Health Commission would take 40% of the budget of the Chief Administrative Officer’s budget and place it under the control of a politically appointed Commission, thus negating the intent of the Chief Administrative Officer’s Department which was created to administer departments that should be removed from political concerns.

Do not politicize San Francisco’s health care. Vote No on Proposition C.

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Retirement Board has complete authority to invest the funds of the Retirement System for city employees. The Retirement Board must make only investments which are legal for insurance companies in California.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition D would remove the requirement that the Retirement Board must make only investments which are legal for insurance companies in California. Instead, the proposition would require the Retirement Board to make investments with the care and skill that a prudent person would make under similar circumstances.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to change the way the Retirement Board invests pension money. Instead of making only those investments which are legal for insurance companies, the Board would be able to make any investments that a prudent person would make.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the Retirement Board to keep making only the same kind of investments which are legal for insurance companies.

On August 6 the Board of Supervisors voted 6-5 on the question of placing Proposition D on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors Richard Hongisto, Quentin Kopp, Bill Maher, Carol Ruth Silver, Nancy Walker and Doris Ward.

Controller’s Statement on “D”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition D:

"Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it should not, in and of itself, increase the cost of government. However, as a result of its authorizing additional flexibility for investments, earnings may be higher or lower than what could have occurred absent this amendment.”

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION D APPEARS ON PAGE 63.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION D

Vote YES on Proposition D.

The purpose of Proposition D is to clarify the investment responsibility of the Retirement Board and to add language expressly to comply with the recently enacted State Constitutional amendment on fiduciary standards for public pension plans (Proposition 21, June 1984).

Since 1932, the charter has referred to the Insurance Code as the guideline for pension investments. Insurance Code investment requirements are unsuitable to current pension fund investment practices and severely restrict the ability of the Retirement Board to manage the fund to achieve the best possible investment return for the City and County of San Francisco and the members of the Retirement System.

The added new language will establish firm guidelines for the Retirement Board to discharge its responsibility as the fiduciary for the Retirement Fund. This new language will also serve as increased protection for members of the Retirement System by applying recognized fiduciary standards for which there is considerable statutory and case law.

In summary, the proposed charter amendment serves a dual purpose: it removes obsolete and ambiguous language and brings the Retirement System into compliance with the State Constitution. Both changes will enhance and improve the System's investment capabilities and the ability to achieve its goals and objectives.

Proposition D is endorsed and supported by the Retirement Board and the Board of Supervisors.

Vote YES on Proposition D.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION D

This is a worthwhile Charter amendment which updates obsolete and ambiguous provisions on how the Retirement Board can invest funds. It institutes standards consistent with a recent voter-approved amendment to the California Constitution. Investment practices have been refined dramatically in the past 50 years, and income and appreciation choices have increased tremendously. The investment professionals working for the Retirement System now are prevented from making the very most prudent investments possible, and City employees and taxpayers are, thus, prejudiced and hurt.

Present investment rules are based upon the State Insurance Code, which contravenes contemporary investment practices. Proposition D will give more latitude in making high-return investments, but will also retain rigorous guidelines on investment of Retirement System funds while increasing the protection of City employees. It will save money for taxpayers by enabling a better return on Retirement System assets. It's logical. That's why I recommend a "yes" vote.

PROPOSITION E

Shall the City subsidize the surviving spouse of active retired employees on the same basis that the City subsidizes the active or retired employees in the health service system?

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City contributes to a health care fund for active and retired employees. The City's contribution to this fund equals the average amount contributed to health care funds for each employee of the ten most populated California counties except San Francisco. The City does not contribute anything for spouses of active or retired employees.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition E would provide that the City contribute to the health care fund for the surviving spouse of a deceased employee. The surviving spouse must have been married to the employee for at least one year prior to the employee's death. The amount of the contribution would be the same as that made by the City to the health care fund for active and retired employees.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the City to contribute to the health care fund for the surviving spouse of a deceased employee.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the City to contribute to the health care fund for the surviving spouse of a deceased employee.

How Supervisors Voted on "E"

On July 23 the Board of Supervisors voted 8-2 on the question of placing Proposition E on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisors Quentin Kopp and Bill Maher.

Controller's Statement on "E"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition E:

"Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it would increase the cost of government, based on current costs and present membership data of the Health Service System, in excess of $990,000 per year."

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION E APPEARS ON PAGE 67.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

This charter amendment calls for extending a limited measure of aid from the City and County of San Francisco for the health care of the surviving spouse of an active or retired City employee.

Under existing statute, the City and County and its employees, active or retired, share the cost of health care for the employee, their spouse and children. However, upon the death of the employee, the City and County’s share of payments to the health care system stops.

Thus, the surviving spouse is compelled to pick up the entire cost for the health care plan while struggling to survive on a reduced family income and, at the same time, contend with ever increasing medical/hospital expenses and everyday living costs for themselves and eligible family dependents.

Proposition E will allow the City and County to continue paying its share into the health care system and not force the surviving spouse and eligible family dependents to assume the entire financial burden for health care payments.

Since the number of surviving spouses affected is very small, less than 1400, the cost to the taxpayer for the City and County is minimal.

The changes proposed by Proposition E should have been made many years ago; it is long overdue. We urge you to support this important measure.

Vote YES on Proposition E.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

Justice tempered with compassion. VOTE YES. Surviving spouses of City workers receive an automatic 50% cut in retirement pay upon the death of their partners. Why further burden this small group by withdrawing subsidy for health care?

The Retirement System actuary has officially confirmed that the average pension check for this group is $300.00 per month; incidentally, below the nationally quoted poverty level.

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION E

Submitted by William T. Reed, Chairman

City & County of San Francisco
Helen McAtee, Chairperson
Philip Kearney, President, and retired manager of the Health Service

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

The Health Service Board which administers the health benefits provided to active and retired employees and their dependents fully recognizes the financial problem imposed on the surviving spouse upon the death of a retired employee.

This financial problem is especially acute because a surviving spouse’s pension is cut by 50% at the death of the employee and because of the high cost of medical insurance. Medical cost increases have outpaced general inflation rates over the last three (3) years by about two to one.

We urge your “YES” vote on Proposition “E” on the basis of need and equity.

Abraham Bernstein, M.D., President
Health Service Board of the City and County of San Francisco

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

Surviving spouses of city employees need this for a relatively comfortable widowhood. Let’s extend a small measure of consideration to those who are left on their own.

Supervisor Richard Hongisto

NOTE: YOUR POLLING PLACE MAY HAVE CHANGED.
PLEASE REFER TO MAILING LABEL ON BACK COVER.
ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION E

Proposition E if approved would require the city to subsidize the health premiums of the surviving spouses of non-uniformed city employees. The cost to the city would amount to $990,000 per year and give city employees a benefit that is not normally enjoyed by workers in private industry.

The majority of private employees have health plans that allow surviving spouses to be members of such plans but the employer does not subsidize the premiums of these survivors in anyway. Being permitted to join a group plan that provides comprehensive coverage at a reasonable rate is a sufficient benefit in and of itself.

If this amendment is approved it will violate the spirit of the Charter provision that sets city employee salaries and benefits at the average of that which prevails in the metropolitan Bay Area. We believe in fair treatment and compensation for city employees and our current rules provide exactly that.

PROPOSITION E

8.428 Health Service System Fund

There is hereby created a health service system fund. The costs of the health service system shall be borne by the members of the system and retired persons, the City and County of San Francisco because of its members and retired persons and because of members and retired persons of the parking authority of the City and County of San Francisco, the San Francisco Unified School District because of its members and retired persons and the San Francisco Community College District because of its members and retired persons. A retired person as used in this section means a former member of the health service system retired under the San Francisco City and County Employees' Retirement System, and the surviving spouse of an active employee and the surviving spouse of a retired employee, provided that the surviving spouse and the active or retired employee have been married for a period of at least one year prior to the death of the active or retired employee.

The city and county, the school district and the community college district shall each contribute to the health service fund amounts sufficient for the following purposes, and subject to the following limitations:

(a) All funds necessary to efficiently administer the health service system.

(b) For the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1973, the city and county, the school district and the community college district shall contribute to the health service system fund with respect to each of their members an amount equal to one-half of “the average contribution,” as certified by the health service board in accordance with the provisions of section 8.423. For the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1974, and each fiscal year thereafter, the city and county, the school district and the community college district shall contribute to the health service system fund with respect to each of their members an amount equal to “the average contribution,” as certified by the health service board in accordance with the provisions of section 8.423.

(c) Monthly contributions required from retired persons and the surviving spouses of active employees and retired persons participating in the system shall be equal to the monthly contributions required from members in the system, except that the total contributions required from retired persons who are also covered under medicare shall be reduced by an amount equal to the amount contributed monthly by such persons to medicare; provided, however, that for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1973, and for each fiscal year thereafter, the city and county, the school district and the community college district shall contribute funds sufficient to defray the difference in cost to the system in providing the same health coverage to retired persons and the surviving spouses of active employees and retired persons as is provided for active employee members.

(d) The city and county, the San Francisco Unified School District and the San Francisco Community College District shall not contribute to the health service system fund any sums, except as hereinafter set forth, on account of participation in the benefits of the system by members' dependents except surviving spouses, retired persons' dependents except surviving spouses, persons who retired and elected not to receive benefits from San Francisco City and County Employees' Retirement System and resigned employees and teachers defined in section 8.425, and any employee whose compensation is fixed in accordance with sections 8.401, 8.403, or 8.404 of this charter and whose compensation therein includes an additional amount for health and welfare benefits or whose health service costs are reimbursed through any fund established for said purpose by ordinance of the board of supervisors.

It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors, the board of education and the governing board of the community college district annually to appropriate to the health service system fund such amounts as are necessary to cover the respective obligations of the city and county, the San Francisco Unified School District and the San Francisco Community College District hereby imposed. Contributions to the health service system fund of the city and county, of the school district and of the community college district shall be charged against the general fund or the school, utility, bond or other special fund concerned.

The amendments of this section contained in the proposition therefore submitted to the electorate on November 7, 1972 6, 1984 shall be effective July 1, 1973 1985.

Analysis

by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: A City employee, other than a police officer or firefighter, who is a member of the Retirement System is entitled to a death benefit of six months salary if he or she dies, regardless of cause, before retirement. The benefit is paid to the employee’s estate or designated beneficiary.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition F would provide that if an officer or employee, other than a police officer or firefighter, is injured through external and violent means in the course of employment and the employee dies within 180 days of the injury, an additional benefit of 12 months salary would be paid to the employee’s estate or designated beneficiary.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to pay an additional benefit of 12 months salary to a city employee who dies from an injury caused by external and violent means in the course of employment.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to provide an additional death benefit to these city employees who die from external and violent means in the course of employment.

On August 6 the Board of Supervisors voted 11-0 on the question of placing Proposition F on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

None of the Supervisors voted “No.”

Controller’s Statement on “F”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition F:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, there would be an increase in the cost of government, the amount of which is dependent upon the number of employees and their respective salary rates which qualify for payment under the provisions of this proposed amendment. Based on experience to date, the cost of this additional amount should not be substantial.”
Employee Death Benefits

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Proposition F provides a small compensation for the survivor of a city employee (non Police or Fire) killed in the line of duty. Let's agree to this minor expenditure for the survivors of those who have died in city service.

Richard Hongisto, Supervisor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote YES on Proposition F.

Only rarely is a city employee killed in the line of duty, but death can come with fierce suddenness.

Two Muni workers were crushed by cable car machinery in 1978; the following year, two Water Department employees were murdered at the Lake Merced Pumping Station; and in March 1981, a Hetch Hetchy lineman fell to his death.

For the families of the vast majority of city workers, there is little protection when death comes. Police officers and fire fighters already have special death benefits.

Dianne Feinstein, Mayor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote YES on Proposition F.

Proposition F is designed to correct a serious inequity on behalf of miscellaneous members of the Retirement System who are killed in line of duty or who die as a result of a violent or traumatic job-incurred injury.

Under current charter provisions, a designated beneficiary of a member who dies in the course of employment from any cause receives the member's contributions to the system, plus six months' salary.

Proposition F focuses only on those members who are killed in the line of duty or who die within 180 days from a violent or traumatic job-incurred injury. Beneficiaries of such members will be accorded an additional insurance benefit of twelve months' salary.

The payment of additional compensation to a designated beneficiary will be subject to the independent hearing officer process as set forth in the City charter.

Proposition F is fair and equitable and, based on actuarial projections, the cost is minimal.

Proposition F is sponsored and endorsed by the Retirement Board, unanimously approved by the Board of Supervisors, and strongly supported by Mayor Dianne Feinstein.

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Police officers entering the Police Department serve a one-year probationary period. During the first 32 weeks, the police officer goes through the police training program. After successfully completing training, the officer is then assigned to regular police duties. The Police Department has 20 weeks to evaluate the officer while on regular police duty. After this 20 week period, the probation is complete.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition G would extend the probationary period of the police officer to one year after the completion of the training. In no event would it extend the probationary period beyond 84 weeks from the date of entry. Any termination for breach of duty or misconduct would require charges and a hearing before the Police Commission.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the probationary period for a police officer to be extended to one year after completing the police training course but not to exceed 84 weeks.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the probationary period for a police officer to remain one year after the date of entry into the department.

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION G APPEARS ON PAGE 89.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

Your YES vote for this amendment will enable the Police Department to provide more effective police services by ensuring that after officers graduate from the Academy and complete a field training program, an adequate probationary evaluation period exists to determine an officer's fitness to perform police duties. Society demands much from its police officers. As the nature of police work has become increasingly complex, training and performance evaluation functions must meet the needs of an ever-evolving profession.

Great expenditure of time and money are invested in training police officers. Presently, if a recruit is not deemed ready for duty, the probationary period can be completed during any retraining, thus making it difficult and costly to determine ultimate fitness for duty.

By voting YES, you will give the Chief of Police time necessary to adequately train and evaluate an officer's performance and to better ensure quality police services.

The Police Department has met and conferred with the Police Officers' Association regarding this amendment and has obtained that organization's support for its passage.

THE WAY IT IS NOW: San Francisco police officers who ride two-wheel motorcycles as part of their job and who are assigned to the Traffic Division get bonus pay. Police officers who ride motorcycles as part of their job, but who are assigned to duties other than traffic, do not get bonus pay.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition H would give all San Francisco police officers who ride two-wheel motorcycles as part of their job the same bonus pay, whether or not they are assigned to the Traffic Division.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want all San Francisco police officers who ride two-wheel motorcycles as part of their job to get the same bonus pay, whether or not they are assigned to the Traffic Division.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want only those San Francisco police officers who ride two-wheel motorcycles as part of their job and are assigned to the Traffic Division to get bonus pay.

How Supervisors Voted on “H”

On August 6 the Board of Supervisors voted 11-0 on the question of placing Proposition H on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

None of the Supervisors voted “No.”

Controller’s Statement on “H”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition H:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, based on current rates of pay, staffing and assignments by the police department, the cost of government would be increased by approximately $74,000 per year.”

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

The Honda Motorcycle Unit of the San Francisco Police Department has, because of antiquated charter language, been denied payment of the hazard pay which is currently given the two-wheel motorcycle officers in the Traffic Division.

Because the primary function of the Honda Motorcycle Unit is crime fighting and not traffic enforcement, the word “traffic” must be deleted from the charter in order to compensate equally all officers who perform hazardous motorcycle duty.

Please join us in voting YES for this very fair charter amendment.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

In 1970, the San Francisco Police Department created a unit of light weight motorcycles to patrol Golden Gate Park and the beaches surrounding the City. In 1977 these duties were drastically changed to counteract rising street crimes around the Western Addition. Neighborhood associations, seeing the effectiveness of the unit, also requested additional patrols by these motorcycle officers. Since 1977 the Honda Unit (as it is known now) has been assigned to virtually every neighborhood in the City to reduce purse snatchers, “red light” robberies, drag racing, and street narcotics traffic, along with demonstrations, marches, parades, and sporting events all over the City.

Also occurring since 1977 have been injuries to these highly visible, highly vulnerable motorcycle officers. Some of these injuries include one officer hit head on, and another officer suffering a leg broken by an auto which ran a red light. There have been numerous officers struck by other vehicles causing injuries, and injuries due to other road hazards (oil slicks, pothole etc.). These have increased sharply since the Honda Unit has been assigned to primarily street patrol. One officer was shot twice while patrolling the Western Addition for purse snatchers.

It is obvious that these officers are no longer “just” patrolling the parks and beaches as they were initially intended, but are now assigned to patrol the streets of the most crime-ridden areas of the City combating street crimes and enforcing traffic laws. These officers on prior occasions have requested Motorcycle Hazard Pay (which traffic enforcement two-wheel motorcycle officers already receive) for their patrol of these neighborhoods and streets on the two-wheel motorcycles but have been denied because of outdated wording in the Charter. Passage of this amendment would correct this inequity.

Al Casiato
President, S.F.P.O.A.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

All police officers who ride motorcycles in the course of duty face special danger and deserve the premium pay already allowed for motorcycle traffic officers.

Supervisor Richard Hongisto

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

A police officer on a two-wheeler is often the first on the scene of a major crime or emergency. Day after day, there is no hazardous duty for our police.

Whether on a motorcycle in pursuit of a felon on city streets, or on a motorbike on patrol in the remote areas of the City’s parklands, an officer lives with danger. Because they can cut through traffic, the two-wheelers often are first to arrive at a shooting or bank robbery or car crash.

The City Charter has long recognized the dangers inherent in this essential police work and has provided hazard-pay for motorcycle officers of the Traffic Division. Proposition H simply extends hazard-pay to the 17 or so officers on the equally-perilous motorbike detail.

The amount of money involved is small—only $178 a month for each officer. Proposition H is small recognition of the dangers the police daily face in the line of duty. Vote YES on Proposition H.

PROPOSITION I

(Initiative Ordinance): Shall San Francisco request that the federal government question all taxpayers whether they wish any part of their taxes used for excessive military spending and have the City publish an annual report on federal taxes collected from San Francisco and the portions used for excessive military purposes and for social needs?

YES 278

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City and County of San Francisco does not have an official position on whether federal taxes should be used for certain kinds of defense spending.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition I says the Board of Supervisors must inform the President and certain other federal officials that the people of San Francisco think all taxpayers should be asked whether they want their tax dollars used for certain kinds of “excessive military expenditures”, as defined in the measure. Proposition I also says the City’s Chief Administrative Officer must publish an annual report on the amount of federal taxes collected from San Francisco residents, what portion of these taxes are used for military spending, and what portion are used for social or human needs. The Board of Supervisors would appoint a seven-member Citizens’ Advisory Committee to oversee the preparation of the report.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you think federal officials should be told that the people of San Francisco think all taxpayers should be asked whether their tax dollars should be used for certain kinds of defense spending. You also want the City to publish an annual report on how federal tax dollars collected from San Francisco residents are spent.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you don’t think taxpayers should be asked whether their tax dollars should be used for certain kinds of defense spending, and you don’t want the City to publish an annual report on federal taxes collected from San Francisco residents.

How “I” Got on Ballot

On August 24 Registrar of Voters Jay Patterson certified that the initiative petition relating to military and social expenditures had a sufficient number of signatures to be placed on the ballot.

The proponents of the petition had gathered 12,271 signatures which they turned in to the Registrar on August 2. The proponents are officially listed as G.C. Barnes, L.J. Crowe, H.J. Hobi and R.A. Wall.

A random check of the petition showed that 8,304 of the signatures were valid. This is more than the 7,332 signatures needed to qualify an initiative ordinance for the ballot.

Controller’s Statement on “I”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition I:

“Should the proposed initiative ordinance be adopted, in my opinion, there would be an increase in the cost of government, the amount of which cannot be determined at this time but should not be substantial.”

TEXT OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE PROPOSITION I

Be it ordained by the people of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section 1. Definitions. For the purpose of this ordinance, the following terms are defined:
(a) Excessive military expenditures: any part of the federal budget from any agency or department that is destined for research, development, and production of tactical and strategic nuclear weapons; research, development, and production of outer space laser-beam technology weapons (popularly known as “star-war” weapons); research, development, and production of chemical and biological warfare; military aid, both overt and covert, to undemocratic and/or repressive governments (governments that violate the basic human rights as defined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted in 1948 by the United Nations).
(b) Social or human needs: any part of the federal budget from any agency or department that is used for education, housing, health and human services, public transportation, and the arts.
(c) San Francisco taxpayer: any individual who pays federal taxes and who reports his or her principal place of residence within the San Francisco city limits; and any corporation who is considered by the Internal Revenue Service as residing in San Francisco.

Section 2. The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco shall notify the President of the United States, the Vice-President, all members of the President's Cabinet, and all members of Congress: that it is the policy of the people of San Francisco to call on the Federal Government to ask all Federal taxpayers, at the time they report their federal taxes, whether they wish that any part of their tax contribution be used for excessive military expenditures. This policy shall also be published for the people of San Francisco in major city newspapers.

Section 3. The Chief Administrative Officer shall be responsible for the publication of an annual report citing the amount of all federal tax monies collected from San Francisco taxpayers. This annual report shall include the following amounts:
(a) total federal tax revenues contributed by all San Francisco taxpayers;
(b) portion of the revenues in (a) budgeted for any type of military expenditures;
(c) portion of revenues in (a) budgeted for excessive military expenditures;
(d) portion of revenues in (a) budgeted for social or human needs;
(e) average individual tax contribution;
(f) average individual tax contribution allocated to (1) excessive military expenditures and (2) social needs.

The Board of Supervisors shall appoint a Citizen's Advisory Committee every year to oversee the preparation of the report and to ensure that its findings are accurate and impartial. The Citizen's Advisory Committee shall consist of seven members, at least three of whom shall be volunteers from renowned Peace organizations in San Francisco.

The report shall use the most current figures available from the federal government at the time of publication, citing the sources for the computations. If the necessary tax and budgetary breakdowns for San Francisco were not available, the report shall base itself upon tax revenue and budgetary figures for the entire nation (or subdivision thereof) and produce accurate extrapolations.

The Chief Administrative Officer shall publish the report in the two newspapers of largest circulation in San Francisco, no earlier than 14 days before but no later than the normal deadline for the filing of federal income taxes for individuals.
South African Investment Policy

(Declaration of Policy): Shall it be the policy of San Francisco that no pension funds administered by the City be invested in business entities that do business in South Africa until apartheid is abolished and black people are given full political and civil rights in South Africa?

YES 283

NO 284

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City and County of San Francisco has no policy about the investment of pension funds with organizations that do business in South Africa.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition J would make it the official policy of the City and County of San Francisco and its agencies not to invest pension funds in corporations or other organizations that do business in South Africa. This would be the official policy until Black people are given full political and civil rights by the government of South Africa.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want it to be the official policy of the City and County of San Francisco not to invest pension funds in corporations or other organizations that do business in South Africa.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the City and County of San Francisco to have an official policy against investing pension funds with organizations that do business in South Africa.

How “J” Got on Ballot

On August 24 Registrar of Voters Jay Patterson certified that the initiative petition on South African investment policy had a sufficient number of signatures to be placed on the ballot.

Julianne Malveaux, the official proponent of the petition drive, had gathered 11,404 signatures which she turned in to the Registrar on August 8.

A random check of the petition showed that 8,520 of the signatures were valid. This is more than the 7,332 signatures needed to qualify an initiative declaration of policy for the ballot.

Controller’s Statement on “J”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition J:

“Should the proposed initiative measure be adopted, in my opinion, it would not, in and of itself, affect the cost of government. However, as a product of its application, investment income may be affected in an indeterminable but possibly substantial amount.”

POLLS ARE OPEN FROM 7 A.M. TO 8 P.M.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

We support removing city pension funds from companies that do business with South Africa because we believe the city of San Francisco should not support the reprehensible institution of apartheid. Non-whites in South Africa are denied freedom of association, freedom of mobility, freedom of speech, and voting rights. San Franciscans support this inequality when city pension funds are invested in companies that do business with South Africa.

This investment is also a very risky investment since any civil unrest in South Africa may lower the value of the investment. Other investment possibilities will equal or exceed current yields on the pension portfolio.

We support this initiative because we support equal rights for all, and because we believe in prudent investment of city pension funds.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

By supporting Proposition J, San Franciscans join citizens from fourteen other cities, including Washington, D.C., Boston, and Berkeley, in removing city pension funds from companies that do business with South Africa. Our support strikes a blow against the apartheid policy that has denied Black and non-white people equal rights in South Africa.

Removing pension funds from South Africa makes good economic sense. International investment advisors recommend against such investment because of the frailty of the South African political situation. Significantly, none of the cities that have divested funds from South Africa have had lower earnings since divestment.

It is both morally just and fiscally sound to vote YES for Proposition J!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

As Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, I am proud that we were the first state in the nation to vote to sell from our public pension fund portfolio all investments in firms doing business in South Africa. Since the passage of this landmark legislation, it has been our experience that divestiture makes not only a strong moral statement against apartheid, but divestiture has proven to have had no negative impact on our pension earnings.

I urge San Franciscans to give serious consideration to both the moral and the financial arguments as you consider divestiture as a policy of your great city.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

For over a decade individuals and institutional investors, including local and state governments, universities, foundations, churches, Taft-Hartley pension funds and health and welfare plans have refused to invest in, and divested from corporations and financial institutions economically supporting apartheid in South Africa.

They are investing and earning competitive returns in housing, small business, alternative energy, and other socially productive investments which create employment and prevent capital from being exported to South Africa.

It is fiduciarily irresponsible to risk beneficiaries' pension assets by investing in companies in South Africa.

Many trade and corporate risk analysts have recommended no investment exposure in South Africa. The Rockefeller Study Commission on U.S. policy toward Southern Africa, recently recommended no new corporate investments in that white, minority ruled country.

Vote to create jobs, housing and small business in your community, not apartheid in South Africa. Vote YES on Proposition J.

"For the sake of the children of all South Africans, black and white, for God's sake, for the sake of world peace, the international community must take action, it must exert pressure on South Africa—political pressure, diplomatic pressure and above all, economic pressure.

(Bishop Desmond Tutu, General Secretary-South African Council of Churches, 1981)

The apartheid system continues because of Western support. The South African Council of Churches has said "foreign investors must know they are investing to buttress one of the most vicious systems since Nazism." As members of the international religious community, we can no longer let others make decisions which contradict all that we believe in. We urge San Franciscans to vote yes on Proposition J as a specific, responsible way to express their moral rejection of apartheid.

The Rainbow Coalition and all members, support this initiative. Stop investments of San Francisco pension funds in companies that do business in South Africa. Support Human Rights. People have a right to know that their pension funds are being used to support a racist, repressive, apartheid system, that denies basic human and civil rights to 24 million Africans. We have a right to know that a Black man can be detained in the South African penal system for as long as two years, for not having identification. ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

South African apartheid is condemned the world over. Even the Reagan Administration expresses opposition.

Yet South Africa and apartheid continue to flourish, subjecting all non-whites to the vilest humiliations, discrimination, and exploitation.

San Francisco supports apartheid through our investment of municipal pension funds in companies that do business in South Africa. By their very presence there, these companies maintain the status quo. Otherwise, the ruling white minority would not welcome these investments! We allow apartheid to continue, despite all the rhetoric we direct at South Africa.

San Franciscans can make responsible investments elsewhere. Voting YES on J, we join other cities in cutting the taproot—foreign finance—which allows the horrors of South Africa to go on, and on, and on. . . . End it! Vote YES, against apartheid!

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, as follows:

Section 1. A special revenue bond election is hereby ordered and will be held in the City and County of San Francisco on Tuesday, November 6, 1984, at which election there shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the City and County the proposition of issuing revenue bonds pursuant to Section 7.312 of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco for the purpose of providing funds for acquiring, constructing, financing, improving and developing San Francisco Water Department facilities, under the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission of the City and County of San Francisco, all as set forth in the following proposition:

Public Utilities Commission Revenue Bonds

Shall the Public Utilities Commission of the City and County of San Francisco issue revenue bonds in the principal amount of $104,000,000 pursuant to Charter Section 7.312 to provide funds for acquiring, constructing, financing, improving and developing additions, betterments and improvements to the San Francisco Water Department water supply, storage and distribution system, including filtration and treatment works and plants, reservoirs and other water supply, storage and distribution facilities, lands and equipment necessary or convenient for the San Francisco Water Department water supply, storage and distribution system?

Section 2. Said revenue bonds in the principal amount of $104,000,000 (herein called the "Bonds") are proposed to be issued to finance improvements to an enterprise (herein called the "Enterprise") which is herein defined to be the City and County of San Francisco municipal water supply, storage and distribution systems of the San Francisco Water Department, including all of the presently existing municipal water system of the City and County and all additions, betterments, extensions and improvements thereto. Said existing water system and the proposed improvements thereto shall constitute a single, unified integrated enterprise, and the revenues therefrom shall be pledged to the payment of the bonds. It is hereby found and determined that said municipal water system is necessary to enable the City and County to exercise its municipal powers and functions, namely, to furnish sufficient water for any present or future beneficial use of the City and County.

(a) The purpose for which the Bonds are proposed to be issued is to provide funds for acquiring, constructing, financing, improving and developing San Francisco Water Department facilities, including any expenses incidental thereto or connected therewith.

(b) The estimated costs of the acquisition, construction, financing, improvement and development is $104,000,000. Said estimated cost includes all costs and expenses incidental thereto or connected therewith, engineering, inspection, legal and fiscal agents' fees, cost of the revenue bond election and of the issuance of the Bonds, bond reserve funds, and working capital and bond interest estimated to accrue during the construction period and for a period of not to exceed 12 months after completion of construction.

(c) The maximum principal amount of the Bonds proposed to be issued is $104,000,000.

Section 3. The Board of Supervisors hereby submits to the qualified voters of the City and County of San Francisco at said special revenue bond election the proposition set forth in Section 1 of this resolution, and designates and refers to said proposition in the form of ballot hereinafter prescribed for use at said election.

(a) Said special revenue bond election shall be held and conducted, and the votes thereafter canvassed and the returns thereof made, and the result thereof ascertained and determined as herein provided; and in all particulars not described by this resolution, said special election shall be held and the votes canvassed pursuant to law for general municipal elections in the City and County and pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 52 of the San Francisco Administrative Code.

(b) All persons qualified to vote at municipal elections in the City and County upon the date of the election herein provided for shall be qualified to vote upon the proposition submitted at said special revenue bond election.

(c) Said special revenue bond election is hereby consolidated with the general municipal election to be held in the City and County on November 6, 1984, pursuant to the Charter of the City and County. The precincts, polling places and officers of election for said special revenue bond election shall be the same as those established.

Reference is hereby made to the notice of election by the Registrar of Voters setting forth the precincts, polling places and officers of election for said general municipal election, to be published on or about October 15, 1984 for more particular description of said precincts, polling places and officers of election.

(d) The ballot used at said general municipal election and said special revenue bond election hereby consolidated therewith shall have printed thereon, in addition to all other matters required by law, the proposition set forth in Section 1 of this resolution.

(e) Each voter to vote for said proposition hereby submitted and in favor of the issuance of the Bonds, shall stamp a cross (X) in the blank space opposite the word "YES" on the ballot to the right of said proposition, and to vote against said proposition and against the issuance of the Bonds shall stamp a cross (X) in the blank space opposite the word "NO" on the ballot to the right of said proposition. All absent voters ballots, the cross (X) may be marked with pen or pencil.

And to the extent that voting machines are used at said special revenue bond election such machines shall be so arranged so that any qualified voter may vote for said proposition by pulling down a lever over the word "YES" under or near a statement of said proposition appearing on cardboard, paper or other material placed on the front of the machine, and said act shall constitute a vote for said proposition, and may vote against it by pulling down a lever over the word "NO" under or near a statement of said proposition appearing on cardboard, paper or other material placed on the front of the machine, and said act shall constitute a vote against said proposition. The statement of said proposition appearing on cardboard, paper or other material used in voting machines shall read substantially as follows:

$104,000,000 San Francisco Water Department Revenue Bonds.

Said voting machines and the preparation of the same shall comply in all respects with law.

Section 4. If the proposition set forth in Section 1 of this resolution shall be authorized by the qualified voters of the City and County by the votes of a majority of all the voters voting on said proposition, the Bonds may be issued and sold for the purpose set forth in Section 2 of this resolution.

The Bonds are to be revenue bonds, payable exclusively from the revenues of the Enterprise and such other funds from any source as may be legally available for such purpose and may be used by the City and County for such purpose without incurring indebtedness. The Bonds are not to be secured by the taxing power of the City and County, and shall be issued under Section 7.312 of the Charter of the City and County. The principal of and interest on the Bonds and any premiums upon the redemption of any thereof shall not constitute a debt of the City and County, nor a legal or equitable pledge, charge, lien or encumbrance upon any of its property, or upon any of its income, receipts or revenues except the revenues of the Enterprise and any other funds that may be legally applied, pledged or otherwise made available to their payment. The Bonds, if authorized, shall be special obligations of the Public Utilities Commission and shall be secured by a pledge and shall be a charge upon, and shall be payable, as to the principal thereof, interest thereon, and any premiums upon the redemption of any thereof, solely from and secured by a lien upon the revenues of the Enterprise and such funds as may be described in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the Bonds.

The Bonds shall not constitute or evidence indebtedness of the City and County but shall constitute and evidence only an indebtedness of the Public Utilities Commission payable solely out of revenues received by the Public Utilities Commission from San Francisco Water Department facilities operated or controlled by it. The Bonds shall not be included in the bonded debt limit provided for in Section 6.401 of the Charter.

Section 5. This resolution shall be printed in the voters' pamphlet and mailed to each registered voter pursuant to Section 9.105 of the Charter of the City and County.

In no event shall a member’s retirement allowance exceed seventy-five percent of his average final compensation.

Before the first payment of a retirement allowance is made, a member retired under this subsection or subsection C (c) of this section, may elect to receive the actuarial equivalent of his allowance, partly in an allowance to be received by him throughout his life, and partly in other benefits payable after his death to another person or persons, provided that such election shall be subject to all the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors to govern similar elections by other members of the retirement system, including the character and amount, of such other benefits; provided, however, that at any time within thirty 30 days after the date on which his compulsory retirement would otherwise have become effective, a member who has attained the age of sixty-five 65 years may elect, without right to revocation, to withdraw his accumulated contributions, said election to be exercised in writing on a form furnished by the retirement system and filed at the office of said system and a member so electing shall be considered as having terminated his membership in said system on the date immediately preceding the date on which his compulsory retirement would otherwise have become effective and he shall be paid forthwith his accumulated contributions, with interest credited thereon. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 8.514 of the charter, the portion of service retirement allowance provided by the city and county’s contributions shall be not less than one hundred ($100) dollars per month upon retirement after thirty years of service and after attaining the age of sixty years, and provided further that as to any member within fifteen years or more of service at the compulsory retirement age of sixty-five, the portion of the service retirement allowance provided by the city and county’s contribution shall be such that the total retirement allowance shall not be less than one hundred ($100) dollars per month. In the calculations under this subsection of the retirement allowance of a member having credit for service in a position in the evening schools and service in any other position, separate retirement allowances shall be calculated, in the manner prescribed for each class of service, the average final compensation in each case being that for the respective class of service; provided that the aggregate retirement allowance shall be taken into account in applying the provisions of this subsection providing for a minimum retirement allowance. Part time service and compensation shall be reduced to full time service and compensation in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, and when so reduced shall be applied on full time service and compensation in the calculation of retirement allowances.

E (e) Any member who becomes incapacitated for performance of duty because of disability determined by the retirement board to be of extended and uncertain duration, and who shall have completed at least ten years of service credited in the retirement system in the aggregate, computed as provided in subsection G (g) hereof, shall be retired upon an allowance of one and eight-tenths percent of the average final compensation of said member, as defined in subsection A (a) hereof for each year of credited service, if such retirement allowance exceeds forty percent of his average final compensation; otherwise one and eight-tenths percent of his average final compensation multiplied by the number of years of city-service which would be credited to him were such city-service to continue until attainment by him of age sixty, but such retirement allowance shall not exceed forty percent of such average final compensation. In the calculation under this subsection of the retirement allowance of a member having credit for service in a position in the evening schools and service in any other position, separate retirement allowance shall be calculated, in the manner prescribed for each class of service, the average final compensation in each case being that for the respective class of service; provided that the average final compensation upon which the minimum total retirement allowance is calculated in such case shall be based on the compensation earnable by the member in the classes of service rendered by him during the one (1) year immediately preceding his retirement. Part time service and compensation shall be reduced to full time service and compensation in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, and when so reduced shall be applied as full time service and compensation in the calculation of retirement allowances. The question of retiring a member under this subsection may be brought before the retirement board on said board's own motion, by recommendation of any commission or board, or by said member or his guardian. If his disability shall cease, his retirement allowance shall cease, and he shall be restored to service in the position or classification he occupied at the time of his retirement.

D (d) No modification of benefits provided in this section shall be made because of any amounts payable to or on account of any member under workmen's compensation laws of the State of California.

E (e) If a member shall die, before his retirement, regardless of cause:

(1) If no benefit is payable under subdivision (2) of this subsection E (e):

(A) Regardless of cause, a death benefit shall be paid to his the member's estate or designated beneficiary consisting of the compensation earnable by him the member during the six months immediately preceding death, plus his the member's contributions and interest credited thereon.

(B) If a member sustains a traumatic bodily injury through external and violent means in the course and scope of employment and death results within 180 days of such injury, an additional insurance benefit of twelve months of compensation earnable shall be paid to the member's estate or designated beneficiary.

(2) If, at the date of his death, he was qualified for service retirement by reason of service and age under the provisions of subsection B (b) of this section, and he has designated as beneficiary his surviving spouse, who was married to him for at least one full year immediately prior to the date of his death, one-half of the retirement allowance to which the member would have been entitled if he had retired for service on the date of his death shall be paid to such surviving spouse who was his designated beneficiary at the date of his death, until such spouse's death or remarriage, or if there be no surviving spouse, to the unmarried child or children of such member under the age of eighteen years, collectively, until every such child dies, marries or attains the age of eighteen years, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of eighteen years. If, at the death of such surviving spouse, who was receiving an allowance under this subdivision (2), there be one or more unmarried children of such member under the age of eighteen years, such allowance shall continue to such child or children collectively, until every such child dies, marries or attains the age of eighteen years, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of eighteen years. If the total of the payments of allowance made pursuant to this subdivision (2) is less than the benefit which was otherwise payable under subdivision (1) of this subsection, the amount of said benefit payable under subdivision (1) less an amount equal to the total of the payments of allowance made pursuant to this subdivision (2) shall be paid in a lump sum as follows:

a (A) If the person last entitled to said allowance is the remarried surviving spouse of such member, to such spouse.

b (B) Otherwise, to the surviving children of the member, share and share alike, or if there are no such children, to the estate of the person last entitled to said allowance.

The surviving spouse may elect, on a form provided by the retirement system and filed in the office of the retirement system before the first payment of the allowance provided herein, to receive the benefit provided in subdivision (1) of this subsection in lieu of the allowance which otherwise would be payable under the provisions of this subdivision. If a surviving spouse, who was entitled to make the election herein provided, shall die before or after making such election but before receiving any payment pursuant to such election, then the legally appointed guardian of the unmarried children of the member under the age of eighteen years may make the election herein provided before any benefit has been paid under this subsection E (e), for and on behalf of such children if in his judgment it appears to be in their interest and advantage and the election so made shall be binding and conclusive upon all parties in interest.

If any person other than such surviving spouse shall have and be paid a community property interest in any portion of any benefit provided under this subsection E (e), any allowance payable under this subdivision (2) shall be reduced by the actuarial equivalent, at the date of the member's death, of the amount of benefits paid to such other person.

Upon the death of a member after retirement and regardless of the cause of death, a death benefit shall be paid to his estate or designated beneficiary in the manner and subject to the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors for the payment of a similar death benefit upon the death of other retired members;

F (f) Should any miscellaneous member cease to be employed as such a member, through any cause other than death or retirement, all of his contributions, with interest credited thereon, shall be refunded to him subject to the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors to cover similar terminations of employment and reemployment with and without redeposit of withdrawn accumulated contributions of other members of the retirement system, provided that if such member is entitled to be credited with at least ten years of service or if his accumulated contributions exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), he shall have the right to elect, without right of revocation and within ninety days after said termination of service, or if the termination was by lay-off, ninety days after the retirement board determines the termination to be permanent, whether to allow his accumulated contributions to remain in the retirement fund and to receive benefits only as provided in this paragraph. Failure to make such election shall be deemed an irrevocable election to withdraw his accumulated contributions. A person who elects to allow his accumulated contributions to remain in the retirement fund shall be subject to the same age requirements as apply to other members under this section for service retirement but he shall not be subject to a minimum service requirement. Upon the qualification of such member for retirement by reason of age, he shall be entitled to receive a retirement allowance which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions and an equal amount of the contributions of the city and county, plus one and two-thirds (1 2/3) percent of his average final compensation for each year of service credited to him as rendered prior to his first membership in the retirement system. Upon the death of such member prior to retirement, his contributions with interest credited thereon shall be paid to his estate or designated beneficiary.

G (g) The following time and service shall be included in the computation of the service to be credited to a member for the purpose of determining whether such member qualifies for retirement and calculating benefits:

1. Time during which said member is a member of the retirement system and during and for which said member is entitled to receive compensation because of services as a miscellaneous officer or employee.

2. Service in the fire and police departments which is not credited as service of a member under this section shall count under this section upon transfer of a member of either of such departments to employment entitling him to membership in the retirement system under this section, provided that the accumulated contribution standing to the credit of such member shall be adjusted by refund to the member or by payment of the member to bring the account at the time of such transfer to the amount which would have been credited to it had the member been a miscellaneous employee throughout the period of his service in either of such departments at the compensation he received in such departments.

3. Time during which said member is absent from a status included in paragraphs (1) or (2) next preceding which is not deemed absence from service under the provisions of section 8.520 of the charter and for which such member is entitled to receive credit as service for the city and county by virtue of contributions made in accordance with the provisions of such section.

4. Prior service determined and credited as prescribed by the board of supervisors for persons who are members under section 8.507.

5. The board of supervisors, by ordinance enacted by a three-fourths vote of its members, may provide for the crediting as service under the retirement system of service, other than military service, rendered as an employee of the federal government and services rendered as an employee of the State of California or any public entity or public agency in the State of California. Said ordinance shall provide that all contributions required as the result of the crediting of such service shall be made by the member and that no contributions therefore shall be required of the city and county.

H (h) All payments provided under this section shall be made from funds derived from the following sources, plus interest earned on said funds:

1. There shall be deducted from each payment of compensation made to a member under section 8.509 a sum equal to seven and one-half (7 1/2) percent of such payment of compensation. The sum so deducted shall be paid forthwith to the retirement system. Said contribution shall be credited to the individual account of the member from whose salary it was deduced, and the total of said contributions, together with interest credited thereon in the same manner as is prescribed by the board of supervisors for crediting interest to contributions of other members of the retirement system, shall be applied to provide part of the retirement allowance granted to, or allowance granted on account of said member under section 8.509, or shall be paid to said member or his estate or beneficiary as provided in sections 8.509(c) and 8.509(f).

2. Contributions based on time included in paragraphs (1) and (3) of subsection G (g), and deducted prior to July 1, 1947, from compensation of persons who become members under this section, and standing with interest thereon, to the credit of such members on the records of the retirement system on said date, shall continue to be credited to the individual accounts of said members and shall be combined with and administered in the same manner as the contributions deducted after said date.

3. The total contributions, with interest thereon, made by or charged against the city and county and standing to its credit, on July 1, 1948, in the accounts of the retirement system, on account of persons who become members under this section, shall be applied to provide the benefits under this section.

4. The city and county shall contribute to the retirement system such amounts as may be necessary, when added to the contributions referred to in the preceding paragraphs of this subsection H (h), to provide the benefits payable under this section. Such contributions of the city and county to provide the portion of the benefits hereunder which shall be based on service rendered by each member prior to the date upon which his rate of contribution is determined in paragraph (1) of subsection H (h), shall not be less during any fiscal year than the amount of such benefits paid during said year. Such contributions of the city and county to provide the portion of the benefits hereunder which shall be based on service rendered by respective members and after the date stated in the next preceding sentence, shall be made in annual installments, and the installment to be paid in any year shall be determined by the application of a percentage to the total salaries paid during said year, to persons who are members under this section, said percentage to be the ratio of the value of the effective date hereof, or at the later date of a periodical actuarial valuation and investigation into the experience under the system, of the benefits thereafter to be paid under this section, from contributions of the city and county, less the amount of such contributions, and plus accumulated interest thereon, then held by said system to provide said benefits on account of service rendered by respective member after the date stated in the sentence next preceding, to the value at said respective dates of salaries thereafter payable to said members. Said values shall be determined by the actuary, who shall take into account the interest which shall be earned on said contributions, the compensation experience of members, and the probabilities of separation by all causes, of members from service before retirement and of death after retirement. Said percentage shall be changed only on the basis of said periodical actuarial valuation and investigation into the experience under the system. Said actuarial valuation shall be made every even-numbered year and said investigation into the experience under the system shall be made every odd-numbered year.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subdivision § (4), any additional liabilities created by the amendments of this section 8.509 contained in the proposition therefore submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1973, shall be amortized over a period of thirty 30 years.

(5) To promote the stability of the retirement system, through a joint participation in the result of variations in the experience under mortality, investment and other contingencies, the contributions of both members and the city and county, held by the system to provide the benefits under this section, shall be a part of the fund in which all other assets of said system are included. Nothing in the section shall affect the obligations of the city and county to pay to the retirement system any amounts which may or shall become due under the provision of the charter prior to the effective date herof, and which are represented on July 1, 1947, in the accounts of said system by debits against the city and county.

(1) Upon the completion of the years of service set forth in Subsection B (b) of this section as requisite to retirement, a member shall be entitled to retire at any time thereafter in accordance with the provisions of said subsection B (b), and nothing shall deprive said member of said right.

(2) No person retired under this section, for service or disability and entitled to receive a retirement allowance under the retirement system, shall serve in any elective or appointive position in the city and county service, including membership on boards and commissions, nor shall such persons receive any payment for service rendered to the city and county after retirement, provided that service as a election officer or juror shall not be affected by this section.

(3) Any section or part of any section in this charter, insofar as it should conflict with this section, or with any part thereof, shall be superseded by the contents of this section. In the event that any word, phrase, clause or subsection of this section shall be adjudged unconstitutional, the remainder thereof shall remain in full force and effect.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections B (b), e (e), F (f) and (l) (i) of this section, any member convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, committed in connection with his duties as an officer or employee of the City and County of San Francisco, shall, upon his removal from office or employment pursuant to the provisions of this charter, forfeit all rights to any benefits under the retirement system except refund of his accumulated contributions; provided, however, that if such member is qualified for service retirement by reason of service and age under the provisions of subsection B (b) of this section, he shall have the right to elect, without right of revocation and within ninety 90 days after his removal from office or employment, whether to withdraw all of his accumulated contributions or to receive as his sole benefit under the retirement system any annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions at the time of such removal from office or employment.

(M) The amendments of this section contained in the proposition therefore submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1973, shall be effective on the first day of the month next following their ratification by the State Legislature. Said amendments do not and shall not increase any allowance first in effect prior to the effective date of said amendments, nor shall they give any person retired prior to said effective date, or his successors in interest, any claim against the city and county for any increase in any retirement allowance paid or payable for time prior to said effective date.

The amendment of Section 8.509 contained in the proposition submitted to the electorate on November 2, 1982 shall be effective July 1, 1983.

(m) The amendments of this section contained in the proposition submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1984 are hereby declared to be prospective and shall not give any person a claim against the city and county relating to a death prior to ratification of this amendment by the State Legislature.

8.584-5 Death Benefit

If a member shall die, before his retirement, regardless of cause:

(a) If no benefit is payable under Subsection B (b) of this section:

(1) Regardless of cause, a death benefit shall be paid to his the member's estate or designated beneficiary consisting of the compensation earnable by him the member during the six months immediately preceding death, plus his the member's contributions and interest credited thereon.

(2) If a member sustains a traumatic bodily injury through external and violent means in the course and scope of employment and death results within 180 days of such injury, an additional insurance benefit of twelve months of compensation earnable shall be paid to the member's estate or designated beneficiary.

(b) If, at the date of his death, he was qualified for service retirement by reason of service and age under the provisions of Section 8.584-2, and he has designated as beneficiary his surviving spouse, who was married to him for at least one full year immediately prior to the date of his death, one-half of the retirement allowance to which the member would have been entitled if he had retired for service on the date of his death, shall be paid to such surviving spouse who was his designated beneficiary at the date of his death, until such spouse's death or remarriage, or if there be no surviving spouse, to the unmarried child or children of such member under the age of 48 eighteen years, collectively, until every such child dies, marries or attains the age of 48 eighteen years, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of 48 eighteen years. If, at the death of such surviving spouse, who was receiving an allowance under this subsection (b), there be one or more unmarried children of such member under the age of 48 eighteen years, such allowance shall continue to such child or children, collectively, until every such child dies, marries or attains the age of 48 eighteen years, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of 48 eighteen years. If the total of the payments of allowance made pursuant to this subsection (b) is less than the benefit which was otherwise payable under subsection (a) of this section, the amount of said benefit payable under subsection (a) less an amount equal to the total of the payments of allowance made pursuant to this subsection (b) shall be paid in a lump sum as follows:

(1) If the person last entitled to said allowance is the remarried surviving spouse of such member, to such spouse.

(2) Otherwise, to the surviving children of the member, share and share alike, or if there are no such children, to the estate of the person last entitled to said allowance.

The surviving spouse may elect, on a form provided by the retirement system and filed in the office of the retirement system before the first payment of the allowance provided herein, to receive the benefit provided in subsection (a) of this section in lieu of the allowance which otherwise would be payable under the provisions of this subdivision. If a surviving spouse, who was entitled to make the election herein provided, shall die before or after making such election but before receiving any payment pursuant to such election, then the legally appointed guardian of the unmarried children of the member under the age of 48 eighteen years may make the election herein provided before any benefit has been paid under this section, for and on behalf of such children if in his judgment it appears to be in their interest and advantage, and the election so made shall be binding and conclusive upon all parties in interest.

If any person other than such surviving spouse shall have and be paid a community property interest in any portion of any benefit provided under this section, any allowance payable under this Subsection (b) shall be reduced by the actuarial equivalent, at the date of the member's death, of the amount of benefits paid to such other person.

Upon the death of a member after retirement and regardless of the cause of death, a death benefit shall be paid to his estate or designated beneficiary in the manner and subject to the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors for the payment of a similar death benefit upon the death of other retired members.

Upon the death of a member after retirement, an allowance, in addition to the death benefit provided in the immediately preceding paragraph, shall be paid to his surviving spouse, until such surviving spouse's death or remarriage, equal to one-half of his retirement allowance as it was prior to optional modification and prior to reduction as provided in Subsection (a) of Section 8.514 of this charter, but exclusive of the part of such allowance which was provided by additional contributions. No allowance, however, shall be paid under this paragraph to a surviving spouse unless such surviving spouse was married to said member at least one year prior to his retirement. If such retired person leaves no such surviving spouse, or if such surviving spouse should die or remarry before every child of such deceased retired person attains the age of 18 eighteen years, the allowance which such surviving spouse would have received had he or she lived and not remarried shall be paid to retired person's child or children under said age, collectively, to continue until every such child dies or attains said age, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of 18 eighteen years.

The amendments of this section contained in the proposition submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1984 are hereby declared to be prospective and shall not give any person a claim against the city and county relating to a death prior to ratification of this amendment by the State Legislature.

8.340 Dismissal During Probation Period

Any person appointed to a permanent position shall serve a probationary period.

The civil service commission shall by rule establish a probationary period of not less than six months' service and up to a maximum of twelve months' service for each classification, provided that the probationary period for entrance positions in the uniformed ranks of the police department fire department, sheriff's department and San Francisco International Airport police force shall be for one-year twelve months except that, with respect to members of the uniformed ranks of the police department, the probationary period shall be completed after twelve months' service from the day following completion of the prescribed department field training officer program, but in no case to exceed eighty-four weeks from the date of appointment; provided further that probationary members of the uniformed ranks of the police department charged with breach of duty or misconduct shall be afforded the procedural rights set forth in section 8.343 for such charges. Probationary periods of twelve months and up to a maximum of twenty-four months may be established for executive and management classifications. At any time during the probationary period the appointing officer may terminate the appointment upon giving written notice of such termination to the employee and to the civil service commission specifying the reasons for such termination. Except in the case of members of the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments, the civil service commission shall review the termination. The civil service commission shall by rule establish the procedures for such review. If the appointment resulted from an entrance examination the commission may declare such person dismissed or may return the name to the list of eligibles under such conditions for further appointment as the commission may deem just. If the appointment resulted from a promotional examination the employee shall have the right of appeal and hearing before the civil service commission. The commission shall render a decision within thirty days after receipt of the notice of termination and (a) may declare such person dismissed; or (b) order such person reinstated in his to the position without prejudice, and the commission may in its discretion order that the employee be paid salary from time of the termination of his the appointment; or (c) order the return of such person to a position in the classification from which he that person was promoted and may reestablish the employee's eligibility to a list of eligibles for the same promotive classification under such conditions as the commission may deem just. The decision of the commission shall be final. Immediately prior to the expiration of the probationary period the appointing officer shall report to the civil service commission as to the competence of the probationer for the position, and if competent, shall recommend permanent appointment. Nothing in this section shall preclude the civil service commission from reviewing terminations for the purpose of future employability including terminations in the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments.

8.405 Salaries of Uniformed Forces in the Police and Fire Departments.

(a) Not later than the first day of August of each year, the civil service commission shall survey and certify to the board of supervisors rates of compensation paid police officers or patrolmen patrol officers employed in the respective police departments in all cities of 350,000 population or over in the State of California, based upon the latest federal decennial census. For the purpose of the civil service commission's survey and certification the rates contained in said certification shall be the average of the maximum rates paid to each police officer or patrolman patrol officer classification performing the same or essentially the same duties as police officers or patrolmen patrol officers in the City and County of San Francisco.

Thereupon the Board of Supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, by ordinance, to fix rates of compensation for the members of the police department whose annual compensations are set forth in Section 3.531 of this Charter and said rates shall be in lieu of said annual compensations and shall be effective from the first day of July of the current fiscal year.

The rates of compensation, fixed in said ordinance,

(1) for the fourth year of service and thereafter for police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers the compensation shall be fixed at a rate which is the average maximum wage paid to the police officers or patrician patrol officer classifications in regular service in the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission. “Average wage” as used in this paragraph shall mean the sum of the maximum average certified by the civil service commission divided by the number of police officer classifications in cities in said certification;

(2) for the first, second and third year of service for police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers shall be established in accordance with the general percentage differential between seniority steps found in the salary ranges included in the cities certified by the civil service commission for the same class;

(3) for said members of the police department other than police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers shall include the same percent of adjustment as that established by said ordinance for police officers in the fourth year of service; and

(4) shall be set at the dollar amount nearest the fractional amount which may result from percentage adjustment specified in this section, half dollars being taken to the next higher dollar amount.

The rates of compensation set forth in the budget estimates, the budget and the annual salary ordinance shall be those fixed by the board of supervisors as in this section provided and appropriations therefore shall be based thereon.

The expression “rates of compensation”, as used in this section in relation to said survey, is hereby declared to apply only to a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, and does not include such working benefits as might be set up by any other city by way of holidays, vacations, other permitted absences of any type whatsoever, overtime, night or split shift, or pay for specialized services within a classification or rank, or other premium pay differentials of any type whatsoever. The foregoing enumeration is not exclusive, but it is the intent of this section that nothing other than a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, is to be included within the meaning of “rates of compensation”.

Working benefits and premium pay differential of any type shall be allowed or paid to members of the police department referred to herein only as is otherwise provided in this charter.

For all purposes of the retirement system, the expression “rates of compensation” as used in this section, shall mean “salary attached to the rank” as used in Section 166 of the charter of 1932, as amended, and, with the addition of fifteen dollars ($15.00) per month now provided in Subsection (b) with respect to members assigned to two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty, shall also mean “compensation earnable” as used in Section 8.549.

The term “police officers or patrician patrol officers” as used in this section shall mean the persons employed in the police departments of said cities of 350,000 population or over or of the City and County of San Francisco, to perform substantially the duties being performed on the effective date of this section by police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers in the San Francisco Police Department.

In determining years of service necessary for a police officer, woman protective officer and police patrol driver to receive the annual compensation as provided for herein, service rendered prior to the effective date of this amendment shall be given full credit and allowed.

The absence of any police officer, woman protective officer or police patrol driver on military leave, as defined by Section 8.361 of this Charter, shall be reckoned a part of his service under the city and county, for the purpose of computing years of service in gaining added compensation as provided for herein.

On the recommendation of the chief of police, the commission may reward any member of the department for heroic or meritorious conduct. The form or amount of said reward is to be discretionary with the commission, but not to exceed one month's salary in any one instance.

If any member of the department appointed as an assistant inspector is a sergeant at the time of the appointment or is appointed a sergeant thereafter, he such member shall receive the rate of compensation attached to the rank of sergeant.

(b) Not later than the first day of August of each year the civil service commission shall survey, and certify to the board of supervisors, additional rates of pay paid to members assigned to all two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty in the respective police departments of all cities of 350,000 population or over in the State of California, based upon the latest decennial census. For the purpose of the civil service commission's survey and certification the additional rates for two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty shall include the average additional amount paid to members assigned to two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty in the cities surveyed.

Thereupon the board of supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, by ordinance, to fix the additional rate of pay for the members of the police department who are assigned two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty. The additional rate of pay will be determined by the average additional wage paid to members in regular service in the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission who are assigned to two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty. “Average wage” as used in this paragraph shall mean the sum of the additional rates of pay certified by the civil service commission divided by the number of cities in said certification. Said additional rates shall be in lieu of said annual compensations and shall be effective from the first day of July of the current fiscal year.

Said rate of pay shall be in addition to the rate of compensation provided for in Subsection (a).

In no event shall the additional rate so fixed be less than fifteen dollars ($15.00) per month.

(c) Not later than the first day of August of each year, the civil service commission shall survey and certify to the board of supervisors rates of compensation paid firemen firefighters employed in the respective fire departments of all cities of 350,000 population or over in the State of California, based upon the latest federal decennial census. For the purpose of the civil service commission's survey and certification the rates contained in said certification shall be the average of the maximum rates paid to each fireman firefighter classification performing the same or essentially the same duties as firemen firefighters in the City and County of San Francisco.

Thereupon, the board of supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, by ordinance, to fix rates of compensation for the members of the fire department whose annual compensations are set forth or otherwise provided in section 3.542 of this charter, and said rates shall be in lieu of said annual compensations and shall be effective from the first day of July of the current fiscal year.

The rates of compensation, fixed in said ordinance,

(1) for the fourth year of service and thereafter the rate of compensation shall be fixed at a rate which is the average of the maximum compensation paid firemen classification in regular service in the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission. "Average wage" as used in this paragraph shall mean the sum of the maximum averages certified by the civil service commission divided by the number of firemen classification in cities in said certification;

(2) for the first, second and third year of service for firemen shall be established in accordance with the general percentage differential between seniority steps found in the salary ranges included in the cities certified by the civil service commission for the same class;

(3) for said members of the fire department other than firemen shall include the same percent of adjustment as that established by said ordinance for firemen in the fourth year of service; and

(4) shall be set at the dollar amount nearest the fractional amount which may result from percentage adjustment specified in this section, half dollars being taken to the next higher dollar amount.

The expression "rates of compensation" as used in this section, in relation to said survey, is hereby declared to apply only to a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, and does not include such working benefits as might be set up by any other city by way of holidays, vacations, other permitted absences for any type whatsoever, overtime, night or split shift, or pay for specialized services within a classification or rank, or other premium pay differentials of any type whatsoever. The foregoing enumeration is not exclusive, but it is the intent of this section that nothing other than a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, is to be included within the meaning of "rates of compensation".

Working benefits and premium pay differentials of any type shall be allowed or paid to members of the fire department referred to herein only as is otherwise provided in this charter. For all purposes of the retirement system, the expression "rates of compensation", as used in subsections (c) and (d) of this section shall mean "salary attached to the rank" as used in section 169 of the charter of 1932, as amended and "compensation earnable" as used in section 8.549.

The term "firemen" "firefighters" as used in this section shall mean the persons employed, in the fire departments of said cities of 350,000 population or over or of the City and County of San Francisco, to perform substantially the duties being performed on the effective rate of this section by drivers, stokers, tillermen, truckmen, or hosemen, in the San Francisco Fire Department.

The expression "members of the fire department" does not include members of the fire commission.

The absence of any officer or member of the fire department on military leave of absence, as defined by section 8.361 of this charter, shall be reckoned a part of his such member's service under the city and county, for the purpose of computing years of service in gaining added compensation as provided in this charter.

On the recommendation of the chief of department, the commission may reward any officer or member of the department for heroic or meritorious conduct, the form or amount of said award to be discretionary with the fire commission, but not to exceed one month's salary in any one instance.

The rates of compensation for the ranks of captain, bureau of fire prevention and public safety, and lieutenant, bureau of fire investigation, shall be thirteen percent (13%) above the compensation established for the ranks of captain and lieutenant as provided for in this section. The rates of compensation of the ranks of inspector, bureau of fire prevention and public safety, and investigator, bureau of fire investigation, shall be ten percent (10%) above the compensation established for the rank of chief's operator as provided for in this section. The rate of compensation shall be set at the dollar amount nearest the fractional amount which may result from percentage adjustment specified in this subsection, half dollars being taken to the next higher dollar amount.

(d) The rates of compensation fixed pursuant to the provisions of subsection (a) (1), (2) and (3) and the rates of compensation fixed pursuant to the provisions of subsection (c) (1), (2) and (3) shall be the same. Such rates shall not exceed the highest average rate of compensation fixed pursuant to subsections (a) (1), (2) and (3) and (c) (1), (2) and (3) above, whether it be paid to police officers, patrolmen, patrol officers or firemen; firefighters; provided, further, that the minimum rate of compensation attached to the rank of sergeant in the police department shall be equal to the rate of compensation attached to the rank of lieutenant in the fire department.

(e) Not later than the 25th day of August the board of supervisors shall have the power and it shall be its duty, subject to the fiscal provisions of the charter but, without reference or amendment to the annual budget, to amend the annual appropriation ordinance and the annual salary ordinance as necessary to include the provisions of paying the rates of compensation fixed by the board of supervisors as in this section provided for uniformed members of the police and fire departments for the then current fiscal year.

(f) Not later than the first day of August of each year, the civil service commission shall determine and certify to the board of supervisors the percentage of increase or decrease in the cost of living during the twelve-month period ending March 31st of that same year as shown by the Consumer Price Index, All Items San Francisco, and the percentage of increase or decrease in the cost of living during the same period as shown by the Consumer Price Index, All Items, in the cities included in the certified report of said commission. The Consumer Price Index referred to herein is defined as that certain index issued by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and published in the Monthly Labor Review or a successor publication. In the event the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics discontinues the compilation and publication of said indexes, the board of supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to appoint a statistical fact finding committee to determine the same data pursuant to the methods therefore used by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. The cost of living adjustments as hereinafter provided shall be based upon the percentage of such increases or decreases. The board of supervisors may, in addition to the rates of compensation as established herein, and at the same time said rates of compensation are established, increase said rates of compensation by an amount equal to the difference between the average cost of living increases for the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission and the actual cost of living increase for San Francisco. In the event the board of supervisors elects not to grant such cost of living increase in any year in which any such increase might be granted, the board of supervisors shall, upon a written request filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors not later than the 10th day of September of said year by representatives of the uniformed members of the police and fire departments, as designated by the police and fire commissions, respectively, submit the question of said cost of living increase to the qualified electors of the city and county at the next succeeding city-wide election. In the event said cost of living increase is approved by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon, said cost of living increase shall be effective as of the first day of the then current fiscal year.

(g) Notwithstanding any of the provisions contained in this section, no uniformed member of the police or fire department employed before July 1, 1976, whose compensation is fixed pursuant to the formula contained herein, shall suffer a salary reduction by the application of the compensation schedules provided for herein. Provided, however, that this prohibition against reduction of compensation for the designated employees shall not be deemed to supersede the provisions of section 8.406 of this charter.

(h) Notwithstanding any of the provisions contained in this section, no uniformed member of the police or fire department, whose compensation is fixed pursuant to the formula contained herein, shall not be extended beyond June 30, 1982, and provided further that this prohibition against reduction of compensation for the designated employees shall not be deemed to supersede the provisions of section 8.406 of this charter.

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT VOTING

You can vote for any candidate, regardless of party. This is a General Election and you can vote for any candidate on your ballot. Political party restrictions only apply at Primary Elections (in June).

Do not vote for more than the authorized number of candidates or none of your votes for that contest will be counted. Most candidate contests specify "Vote for one" but you can vote for up to six supervisors and up to four School and College Board members. If you make a mistake and vote for more than six candidates for supervisor you can get a replacement ballot.

If you move, you must re-register. The most common complaint we get on election day is that someone can't vote because they have moved and not re-registered. If you have moved, your name will probably not be on the rolls anymore and even if it is, it is not legal to vote using your old polling place (except in certain rare circumstances). Next time you move, don't leave your vote behind; remember to re-register.

You don't have to be sick or out-of-town to get an absentee ballot. Any voter can request an absentee ballot for any reason, or for no reason. To become a "permanent" absentee voter you must be disabled but ordinary absentee voters do not have to have a reason.

Your registration will not necessarily be cancelled if you don't vote but chances of that happening will increase if you don't vote. After the election, we will send a postcard confirming the address of all nonvoters. If the Post Office or the current resident says you don't live there anymore, your registration will be cancelled. No one is automatically cancelled for not voting at any election.

It is not necessary to re-register before each election. Your registration is permanent and will remain in effect until you move, die or are convicted of a felony.

POLL WORKERS NEEDED

Earn $49 to $58 (plus bonuses)!
Meet Your Neighbors!
Serve Your Community!

There is a shortage of poll workers in most San Francisco neighborhoods. Voters who are interested in this important work are encouraged to apply as soon as possible at the Registrar’s Office at City Hall. If you apply while there still is a large selection of vacancies, it is probable that you will be assigned to a poll in your own neighborhood.

The Registrar is trying to build a permanent corps of polling officials, therefore housewives and retired people, as well as others who are interested in community service are particularly urged to apply.

The higher-paying and more responsible positions will be reserved for persons who apply in person. Others may mail in the application form provided below:

(The workday is from 6:45 a.m. to about 8:30 p.m., with breaks for lunch and dinner.)

EXTRA APPLICATION FOR ABSENTEE BALLOT

Since this page would have been blank anyway, we have used the space to reprint an extra copy of the absentee ballot application form.

Your "real" absentee ballot application appears as a postcard inserted into this book. We would prefer that you use the postcard form because it is easier to process and less likely to get lost.

If two persons in your household are requesting absentee ballots, you may put both postcard forms into an envelope in order to save postage.

The disabled may apply as permanent absentee voters by completing the little box at the bottom of the form. Disabilities that qualify for permanent absentee status include circulatory problems and mobility impairments as well as more severe disabilities.

If you have not yet received your absentee ballot, then you are probably not on our permanent absentee mailing list. The permanent absentee voters' ballots were mailed out the week of October 9th.

División que se calcula: Jardín de Infantes al 12º grado, el 80%; universidades de la comunidad, el 13%; Universidad Estatal de California, el 5%; Universidad de California, el 2%.

CITY & COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO, GENERAL ELECTION, NOVEMBER 6, 1984

REAPPORTIONMENT
Provides reapportioning Senate, Assembly, Congressional, Equalization districts for 1986 and subsequent elections by new commission composed of former justices. Fiscal Impact: Commission costs of up to $3.5 million before 1986 election. Costs of $10,000 to $20,000 each to relocate an unknown number of district legislative offices. County costs of about $500,000 for 1986 election materials. County savings of about $300,000 in 1986 for printing costs, and $200,000 every two years thereafter. Future reapportionments will probably cost less than under existing law.

CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS
Limits contributors and contributions to elective state office candidates. Opposition candidate's personal expenditures matched by limited public funding. Fiscal Impact: Reduce state revenues by about $100,000 each fiscal year and increase state expenditures by approximately up to $1,650,000 each fiscal year.

PUBLIC AID, MEDICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS
Creates Public Assistance Commission. Limits benefit expenditures to national average plus 10%. Legislative amendments permitted. Fiscal Impact: Net effect would be combined state and county expenditure reduction beginning July 1, 1986. Size of reduction and impact at different levels of government impossible to determine. Substantial reductions under specified programs would be partially offset to an unknown extent by increased costs under other programs and reduced tax revenues resulting from reduced federal expenditures within the state. Likely, state expenditures would be reduced and county expenditures increased.

REDISTRIBUCIÓN. Dispone redistribución para los distritos del Senado, Asamblea, Congreso y de la Junta de Revisión de Avalúos para 1986 y para las elecciones subsecuentes mediante nueva comisión compuesta de las autoridades del impacto fiscal. Costos de la comisión de hasta $3.5 millones antes de la elección de 1986. Costos de $10,000 a $20,000 cada uno para reubicar un director de oficinas legales en los distritos. Costos del condado alrededor de $500,000 para materiales para la elección de 1986. Ahorros para el condado alrededor de $300,000 en 1986 por costos de impresión y $200,000 cada dos años de allí en adelante. Las redistribuciones futuras probablemente costarán menos que bajo la ley actual.

CONTRIBUCIONES PARA COMPANÍAS. Limita a los contribuyentes y las contribuciones a candidatos a cargos políticos efectivos. Iguala con fondos públicos limitados los gastos personales del candidato de oposición, impacto fiscal. Reduce los ingresos estatales en unos $100,000 cada año de ejercicio fiscal y aumenta los gastos estatales en aproximadamente hasta $1,850,000 cada año de ejercicio fiscal.

AYUDA PÚBLICA, PROGRAMAS DE ASISTENCIA MÉDICA. Crea Comisión de Asistencia Pública. Limita gastos de beneficio al promedio nacional más el 10%. Permite enmiendas legislativas. Impacto fiscal: el efecto neto sería la reducción de los gastos combinados del estado y condados comenzando el 1º de julio de 1986. El manejo de la redención y su impacto en los diferentes niveles del gobierno es imposible determinarse en este momento. Reducciones sustanciales bajos Programas específicos serían necesario desconocimiento de hasta grados en los que: los montos de gastos a bajos ingresos y por ingresos de impuestos reducidos que resulten de gastos federales reducidos dentro del estado. Es factible que los gastos estatales serían reducidos y que los gastos de condados aumentarían.

Q—Once I have signed up, do I have to do it again?

WORDS YOU NEED TO KNOW
by Ballot Simplification Committee

Here are a few of the words that you will need to know:

BALLOT—A list of candidates and propositions.

ABSENTEE BALLOT—If you wish to vote by mail you can get a special ballot to fill out. This ballot is called an absentee ballot. You can get this ballot from the Registrar of Voters at City Hall. Please refer to the insert card in the pamphlet.

VOTE BY MAIL—See Absentee Ballot, above.

POLL—The place where you go to vote.

PROPOSITION—This means any issue that you vote on. If it deals with City & County government it will have a letter, such as Proposition A. If it deals with State government it will have a number, such as Proposition 1. State propositions are numbered 25 through 41 because in June the numbers were 16 through 24.

CHALLENGE—Officers at the polls can challenge a voter for various reasons, such as living in a different precinct from the one in which he or she is voting.

SUPERVISORS—Elected members of the governing legislative body for the City and County of San Francisco.

CHARTER AMENDMENT—The charter is the basic set of laws for the city government. A charter amendment changes one of those basic laws. It takes a vote of the people to change the charter. It cannot be changed again without another vote of the people.

ORDINANCE—A law of the city and county, which is passed by the Board of Supervisors or approved by the voters.

DECLARATION OF POLICY—A declaration of policy asks a question: Do you agree or disagree with a certain idea? If a majority of the voters approve of a declaration of policy, the supervisors must carry out the policy, to the extent legally possible.

INITIATIVE—This is a way for voters to put a proposition on the ballot for people to vote on. An initiative is put on the ballot by getting a certain number of voters to sign a petition. Each initiative ordinance needs signatures from 7,334 qualified voters. An ordinance passed by the people cannot be changed again without another vote of the people, unless the initiative expressly gives the Board of Supervisors the power to change the law.

PETITION—A list of signatures of voters who agree that a certain idea or question should be on the ballot.

BONDS—Contracts to borrow and repay money.

RIGHTS OF THE HANDICAPPED VOTER

1. Persons unable to mark their ballot may bring one or two persons with them into the voting booth to assist them.

2. If architectural barriers prevent a handicapped voter from entering the polling place then the voter will be allowed to vote a ballot on the sidewalk in front of the polling place (Section 14234, Elections Code).

3. A recent law allows the handicapped to apply as “Permanent Absentee Voters”. A permanent absentee voter will receive a ballot in the mail at all future elections. A permanent absentee application appears as part of the regular absentee application enclosed in this book.
RODNEY JOHNSON
My age is 35
My occupation is a lawyer
My education and qualifications are: I am an attorney for Stanford University. Each day I help make decisions on financial matters, lawsuits, personnel issues, and policy for Stanford, which has an operating budget greater than $500 million. This involves matters ranging from running a hospital, to building 1000 units of new housing for faculty and staff. Additionally, I studied transportation while in college.

The BART representative should work for transportation solutions for San Francisco, and not just for BART. Can you find a seat on the bus? A parking place? I not only will work to manage BART more efficiently but also for San Francisco to obtain its fair share of money and consideration from federal, state, and local agencies in solving these problems.

I know the responsibilities of a public official. Elected to the 1978 Charter Commission, I served as its secretary and was appointed by Governor Brown to the regional Coastal Commission. I have worked to improve my neighborhood as a member of the Board of Directors of the Richmond District Neighborhood Center and the S.F. Local Development Corporation.

My endorsers include Assemblyman Art Agnos, former Police Chief Tom Cahill, Supervisors Britt, Silver, and Walker, and former Supervisors Lau and Morrison.

John H. Kirkwood
My age is 37
My occupation is BART Director/Incumbent
My education and qualifications are: 13 years experience in transit. Graduate: Lick-Wilmerding, Stanford University. Since my 1974 election to the BART Board, I have consistently pushed BART to improve and function more efficiently. BART has doubled the number of cars in service; increased access for handicapped people and bicyclists; increased on-time performance from 45% to 95%; stopped fare evasion; increased opportunities for minorities and women; kept per-mile costs down; given employees more flexible schedules; and drastically improved fire and safety procedures (BART has run 5 billion passenger miles without a single passenger fatality, the best record in the nation.)

I constantly review transit professional journals and the trade press. I spend countless hours analyzing budgets and operating plans to find errors and false assumptions. My ambition is to be the best possible BART Director, not to seek higher office. If you have questions, call me at 362-2939.

My supporters include:
Dianne Feinstein, Mayor
John Molinari, Supervisor
Louise Renne, Supervisor
Bill Maher, Supervisor
Agnes I. Chan, Former Charter Commissioner
Nancy Lenoir, President, Public Utilities Commission
Doris Kahn, Metropolitan Transportation Commissioner
Eugene Garfinkle, BART Director
Margaret Pryor, BART Director
Arlo Smith, District Attorney
Willie L. Brown, Jr., Speaker, California Assembly

Aron Vieira
My age is 21
My occupation is Computer Technician
My education and qualifications are: As a founding member of The Community for Human Development in San Francisco, I am running for this office out of my deep concern for the Board's undemocratic policies and suspicious behavior. Although all of us in District 9 pay for BART few of us are informed about the decisions and operations of the BART Board. Meetings are not widely publicized. When was the last time you were informed about a BART meeting? In fact the BART Board exercises a monopoly over BART decision making by closing its doors to active citizen participation.

If elected, my first priority will be to Open Up the BART Board meetings to public scrutiny. All meetings will be held at times and places convenient to San Francisco voters.

Public Transportation should be by and for the people!

Humanize the BART!!

JOHN SALEH ABDULLA
My address is 2533 Folsom Street
My occupation is Licensed Real Estate Salesman
My age is 30
My qualifications for office are: I graduated at a local public high school. I also attended private business schools. I am presently a licensed real estate salesman.

Knowing the city's acute housing and employment problems, I am deeply concerned of the these problems and would like to be in a position to find solutions to these problems. While I have no immediate solutions; if elected, I promise the people of San Francisco that I will devote all of my time to finding solutions to these problems by utilizing all resources available to public officials in solving these problems.

SUZANNE ALBERTO
My address is 25 Pinto Avenue
My occupation is Administrative Secretary
My age is 38
My qualifications for office are: I am a Hispanic-Filipina (English/Spanish-speaking) administrative-secretarial San Francisco worker and Muni commuter and have been a resident voter since 1968.

I believe San Franciscans would be better served if suitable inquiry and evaluation preceded passage of locally needed and desired legislation and tax revenue expenditures to assure anticipated results. San Francisco's Charter permits supervisory inquiry into expenditures. I strongly support thoroughly researched legislation and tax revenue use to benefit the peoples of San Francisco.

All of my sponsors know me to be a capable, persistent fighter for principles and public benefit and believe I would be an excellent supervisor.

Candidates for Supervisor

ROBERT DANIEL INGRAHAM

My address is 1537 Noriega Street
My occupation is Political Consultant
My age is 33
My qualifications for office are: Over one hundred years ago two great men, David Broderick and Edward Baker, gave their lives to save this Republic.

I ask you voters to compare these two San Franciscans with the small minded politicians of today.

Pathetic Wendy Nelder says “Fluoride causes AIDS”; degraded Willie Brown corrups us with “Oh What a Night” baccinalia; Feinstein lusts for higher office, and the rest are worse.

San Francisco can play an historic role in the development of the Pacific Basin. But you, our citizens, must decide. I urge you: Join with me and other candidates of Lyndon LaRouche’s NDPC in our fight.

RUBY T. JIMENEZ

My address is 961 Delano Avenue
My occupation is Directory Sales Representative
My age is 45
My qualifications for office are: A San Francisco resident since, 1948 and a naturalized American of Mexican decent, I consider myself an earnest interpreter of human needs for the Hispanic community and other minorities. Misinterpretations, injustices, lack of communication and mutual respect must be addressed and aired. These human needs for minorities and others can be solved if we end the current world depression. The humane world economic policies of Lyndon LaRouche, particularly his proposal for joint economic development between the United States and Ibero-America (Operation Juarez) can end this depression. The port of San Francisco should be expanded to become a strong world trade center.

My occupation is Criminology Student
My age is 57

My qualifications for office are: I have been a respected citizen and server of San Francisco for 25 years. I've been appointed to sit on the board of such organizations as "Mission Coalition, Mission Model Neighborhood and the Mission Education program, (appointed by Mayor Moscone). WILLIE B. KENNEDY

My address is 950 Duncan Street
My occupation is Member, Board of Supervisors

I initiated a campaign to control the tragic increase in child abuse; and am working hard on the problem of decreased employment, particularly for youth.

I want to continue serving your interests in making this the most liveable city in the United States.

QUENTIN L. KOPP

My address is 68 Country Club Drive
My occupation is Attorney/Member, Board of Supervisors

My qualifications for office are: Local government is us, because we depend upon it to provide essential services and wise leadership. For 13 years I've fought to cut governmental waste and excessive taxation, to keep government honest and on its toes. My efforts have already saved taxpayers over $250,000,000 and I'm proud to be the one supervisor who watches how every dollar is spent. This year City government will spend an average of $4,500,000 a day, every day. I want to continue my role as your “financial watchdog” in City Hall and add a needed balance to the Board. I would very much appreciate your support.

CANDIDATES FOR SUPERVISOR

DAVID C. SMITH
My address is 2567 Alemany Blvd
My occupation is Administrator, Service Agency
My age is 34
My qualifications for office are: I am a San Francisco State graduate in journalism, married, with a deep affection for this place. For seven years my wife and I have counseled families and individuals from every neighborhood in San Francisco—an investment and commitment to the future. Dealing with these problems has increased my awareness of this city's growing preoccupation with rights and shrinking concern for responsibilities. The solution includes a return to basics, to strong family units, to solid values, to the worth of all human life. I will be a voice for those who feel excluded, especially exploited children and the disadvantaged.

KEVIN STARR
My address is 445 Chestnut Street
My occupation is Businessman, Communicator, Professor
My age is 44

I know it from a variety of perspectives—as executive aide to Mayor Alioto, as City Librarian, as a newspaper columnist, as a professor, as a businessman, and as a person active in many civic causes. I now wish to bring my talents and experience to the Board of Supervisors. I believe I can be of unique service as the centrist advocate of this city as it looks to its future. That future, the well-being of each of us, will be my greatest concern.

My address is 118C Connecticut Street
My occupation is Attorney
My age is 50

My qualifications for office are: I have a 20 year record of voluntary, unpaid public service to San Francisco. I have worked with all levels of City government, with people in all parts of the City. Examples of my public service include being a Judge Pro Tem of the San Francisco Municipal Court, 9 years of service on the Board of the San Francisco Council of Churches, service on the Pride Foundation Board, and service to veterans.

I am dedicated to ensuring affordable places to live, a responsible and unprejudiced police department, decent jobs, and dependable transportation.

I am independent of special interest club politics.

John E. Wahl

SYLVIA WEINSTEIN

My address is 489 27th Street
My occupation is Staff-writer for Socialist Action newspaper
My age is 58

My qualifications for office are: My program:

Courts, cops and strikebreaking injunctions; two-gate, two-tiered, union-busting tactics, are helping employers depress living standards. Escalating health, housing and food costs are forcing working people—especially Blacks and Latinos—out of San Francisco. Corporate condos and highrises replace workers’ residences.

Door-key children of working parents, denied child-care, are left to roam the streets. Abortion clinics are under siege.

Only united labor—employed, unemployed, black, white—can change this condition. An independent labor party, based on the unions, must be built to replace the callous politicians of the two ruling capitalist parties.

Jobs not war!

DAVE WHARTON

My address is 5031 Diamond Heights Blvd.
My occupation is Community Service Attorney
My age is 44

It’s time for housing expansion, for transit, traffic, parking overhaul. Time for better City services, especially for seniors and youth. Time to strengthen economy, create jobs, control taxes. Time for neighborhood revitalization, parking relief. Time for human rights advancement, efficient and humane police services. Experiment with Board meetings in neighborhoods.

It’s time for goals, results, citizen participation. San Francisco is world class city, small town; lose either, be neither. I build bridges, not barriers. Join our common sense coalition.

LIBBY DENEBEIM

My address is 200 St. Francis Blvd.
My occupation is Incumbent School Board Member

My qualifications for office are: Four years ago you elected me to the school board. I am deeply grateful.

I have worked hard. Student achievement scores improved, enrollment stabilized. We strengthened significantly special programs and alternative schools.

There remains much work to do. As a mother of six public school educated children, former teacher and experienced school board member, I know how our schools should work.

Many children today will finish school in the 21st Century. For all our children we must plan for the future, reaffirm our commitment to excellence, use school dollars prudently and ensure the momentum for improvement in our schools continues.

TERRY HUGUNIN

My address is 1824 Noriega Street
My occupation is Consultant
My age is 37

My qualifications for office are: Those of us who were teenagers during President Kennedy's Appolo Space Program thought there was nothing we and our nation might not accomplish: "We're going to the moon in ten years!" Thanks to outfits like the National Education Association, the science oriented New Frontiers of the 60's have given way to the "other-directedness" of the Aquarian Age. Their goal: form a society of androgynous pacifists—study their literature. Mine is to restore the problem-solving orientation appropriate to Judeo-Christian culture. Help me mobilize our schools to implement the Strategic Defense Initiative and overcome the nuclear war threat.

JAMES LEGARE

My address is 254 Oak Street
My occupation is Motor Truck Operator
My age is 57

My qualifications for office are: I am committed to installing a sound educational program in our schools as the basis for getting our country and economy moving again—in the American tradition. We need to develop young minds through a program of classical education and to protect them by wiping out drugs in the schools and in the nation.

I propose to reform the school system along these lines:

1) Classical geometry and physics, as typified by Plato, Archimedes, Cusa Kepler, and Leibniz

2) Classical poetry, music, and drama, exemplified by Homer, Aeschylus, Dante, Shakespeare, Schiller, Bach, and Beethoven

JO ANNE MILLER
My address is 1920 Quint Street
My occupation is Parent and Teacher
My qualifications for office are: I am the mother of two children in San Francisco Public Schools. I believe in the Public School System, and have a personal interest in its quality and effectiveness. I am a teacher of the blind. I am President of the Glen Park School Site Advisory Committee, and hold other elected civic offices.

The lack of parent representation on the School Board has contributed to a lack of parent and citizen involvement, a lack of long-term planning and vision in school administration, and a failure to commit the School District to a plan and goal of excellence for all children.

JoAnne Miller

BEN TOM
My address is 1717 Jones Street
My occupation is Transportation Analyst
My qualifications for office are: I believe I have provided outstanding leadership during my eight years on the San Francisco Board of Education. This is evidenced by the fact that test scores have improved and new programs have attracted students back from private schools.

As an active parent, I know San Francisco's schools first-hand. I have worked conscientiously for our children's future. I have the vision and I have gained the practical skills necessary to continue building our school district into one of the best large urban districts in the nation.

Port Revenue Bonds

PROPOSITION A

Shall the Port Commission be authorized to issue $42,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance construction and improvements of Port facilities?

YES 253
NO 254

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Port Commission operates the Port of San Francisco. When funds are needed for Port construction or improvements, the Commission may issue revenue bonds to raise funds. A majority of the voters must approve these bonds before they can be issued. The revenue bonds are then paid from Port revenues.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition A would allow the Port Commission to issue up to $42,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance several improvements of Port property. These improvements include modernizing container handling facilities, upgrading various piers, constructing a breakwater at Fisherman’s Wharf, and renovating certain other Port structures and property. The bonds would then be paid off from Port revenues.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Port Commission to issue up to $42,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance improvements of Port property.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the Port Commission to issue revenue bonds for this purpose.

Controller’s Statement on “A”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition A:

“Should the proposed bond issue be authorized and when all bonds shall have been issued on a twenty-five year basis, and after consideration of the interest rates related to current municipal bond sales, in my opinion, it is estimated that approximate costs would be as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Amount</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bond redemption</td>
<td>$42,500,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bond interest</td>
<td>81,761,400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total debt service requirement</td>
<td>$124,261,400</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

“Based on a three year construction program and a bond redemption schedule beginning four years after the sale of each issue, the estimated amount required to pay the interest thereon and the redemption thereof, would range from approximately $4,462,000 to a maximum of $5,760,000 annually for twenty-seven years.

“In my opinion, the servicing of the proposed bonded debt will be paid from Port revenues and will not affect the tax rate of the City and County of San Francisco, provided that there are sufficient revenues from Port sources to cover operating and all debt service costs of the Port. Analysis of projected resources available to the Port indicates that, in my judgment, sufficient revenues will be available to provide debt service costs in future years.”

How Supervisors Voted on “A”

On July 30 the Board of Supervisors voted 7-1 on a motion placing Proposition A on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisor Quentin Kopp.

TEXT OF PROPOSITION A APPEARS ON PAGE 51.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

The revitalization of the Port of San Francisco will bring new jobs and new tax revenue to the City. A healthy port, with increased ship traffic, will bring millions each year to the San Francisco economy.

By delaying modernizations in the past, the Port of San Francisco lost the bulk of its maritime business to other Bay Area and West Coast cities. The same mistakes must not be made twice. We must allow the Port to use revenues to finance continued improvements.

Proposition A does not authorize any new taxes. Proposition A simply authorizes the Port to use revenues to finance improvements and expansion.

Proposition A will allow for the modernization of existing container cargo terminals on the southern waterfront. These improved facilities will retain current business and will bring new lines to San Francisco. The return of the shipping business will bring back long lost blue collar jobs to the waterfront as well as white collar jobs.

In addition, Proposition A will provide for expansion of the passenger facility, a new breakwater to protect the commercial fishing fleet, and improved rail access to the port. In all, Proposition A will upgrade and modernize San Francisco Port facilities so as to make them competitive with other ports across the Bay and throughout the West Coast.

The complete modernization effort will be done at no cost to the taxpayers. Instead, the Port of San Francisco’s income will be used to finance long-term revenue bonds.

The people of San Francisco deserve a first-rate port. We urge all San Franciscans to vote YES on Proposition A.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Vote YES on Proposition A.

As Mayor, I have worked hard to restore our port to its historic pre-eminence as a major gateway to the Far East.

Once again, major shipping lines are docking in San Francisco. Just recently, two of the largest container vessel operators, China Ocean Shipping Corporation and Columbus Lines, signed agreements to use this port.

Not only modern cargo carriers, but passenger liners as well are being drawn to San Francisco in a remarkable renaissance of maritime commerce.

But if there is to be a lasting renewal of our waterfront, the port must be competitive with other port cities anxiously contending for the burgeoning Pacific trade. The port, if it is to prosper, must modernize and enlarge its basic maritime facilities.

That’s the purpose of Proposition A.

Proposition A will make the Port of San Francisco truly and vigorously competitive. And it will not cost the taxpayers a penny.

Proposition A will authorize $42.5 million in revenue bonds for vital waterfront projects, including the conversion of Pier 80 into a modern, state-of-the-art container facility and the enlargement and modernization of cargo operations at Piers 94 and 96.

Additionally, Proposition A will provide funds for repairing the now deteriorating Jefferson Street Seawall and will match Federal dollars for construction of a much-needed breakwater to protect the City’s fishing fleet at Fisherman’s Wharf.

Proposition A also will finance expansion of the passenger terminal at Pier 35.

Proposition A is a prudent investment in the City’s future. And these bonds are payable only from port revenues—your taxes will not be increased.

More ships, with more cargo and more passengers, mean more jobs and greater economic vitality for our city.

Proposition A will make our port, once again, a strong and lasting competitor for the commerce of the Pacific Basin. Vote YES on Proposition A.

Dianne Feinstein
Mayor

Port Revenue Bonds

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Citizens of San Francisco are worried about the deterioration of the port. Most of us can remember when the port was a thriving, bustling commercial enterprise, and the docks were maintained, clean, efficient, and busy.

But, the port has not adapted to container cargo, and may be losing the few shipping lines that it now serves. We must restructure the docks for active container shipping, and bring in railway lines to service the docks.

We have one of the few deep water ports in America, an essential for modern shipping. LET'S DO SOMETHING ABOUT BEING ONE OF THE BEST PORTS IN THE WEST AGAIN!

VOTE YES ON PROP A!

Wendy Nelder
President of the Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

A YES vote on Proposition A will permit the Port of San Francisco to issue bonds to finance needed construction and improvements. This would give the Port the same financing ability the Airport now has.

Through the issuance of revenue bonds, the Port would be able to undertake necessary improvements AT NO COST TO TAXPAYERS.

San Francisco deserves a modern, thriving port. Proposition A will help us build modern terminals, a breakwater at Fisherman’s Wharf which will help keep commercial fishermen in San Francisco, repair the seawall at Jefferson Street and expand our Passenger Terminal to handle increased cruise business that brings millions of dollars into our local economy.

Proposition A will give the Port of San Francisco the ability to make these kinds of improvements. Please join me in voting YES.

Sala Burton,
Member of Congress

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Proposition A offers San Franciscans the opportunity to direct the future of the Port of San Francisco.

This measure will provide our Port with the key to the future.

We must keep pace with new developments, increase cargo and create new jobs. For every fifty new containers we move, 1.67 new jobs will be created.

This measure also includes funding for construction of the Fisherman’s Wharf Breakwater, which is critically needed and long overdue.

Take part in the future of our Port. Join with me in voting YES on Proposition A.

Milton Marks,
State Senator

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

San Francisco has always been a waterfront city. We have a superb natural harbor, which is also one of the few really deep water harbors—vital for modern deep water cargo ships.

We have used our badly deteriorating and long unimproved pier facilities to their maximum efficiency. But . . . times are changing. We must move NOW to keep pace with new developments, or risk enormous losses in cargo shipping, commercial fishing, and tourist trade.

It is ESSENTIAL that we adapt to container cargo that can be moved by train, truck, and ship.

Research has been done on what could give us the greatest increase in efficiency and profits for the very least amount of money. And the answer is: modernizing the South Terminal for adaptation to container cargo; providing rail access to the docks; protecting the commercial fishing fleet with a breakwater; and expanding passenger-handling facilities for cruise passenger tourists.

Prop A will provide these improvements RIGHT NOW. And . . . AT NO COST TO THE TAXPAYER! VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION A.

A YES vote on Proposition A will provide the needed financing to build the long awaited breakwater to ensure the safety of our commercial fishing fleet, create new berths and new jobs.

A YES vote on Proposition A will repair the Jefferson Street Seawall before it becomes a dangerous hazard to our visitors and to our community.

A YES vote will insure the economic vitality of Fisherman’s Wharf as well as the entire San Francisco Waterfront.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

The opportunity is NOW!

Our Northern Waterfront is alive with activity—increase in passenger ships, thriving commercial developments.

Let us fuse that energy into our Southern Waterfront and take advantage of our natural deep water. That means newer, deeper draft merchant ships, increased cargoes and new jobs.

Missed opportunities cannot be recaptured. So act now! Don’t let this opportunity get away.

Vote YES on Proposition A.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Our waterfront is an outstandingly beautiful and profitable aspect of San Francisco. The port has been badly neglected, however. We need to VOTE YES ON PROP A to improve and rebuild cargo and passenger facilities.

PROP A will guarantee increased maritime activities, new jobs, the revival of our fishing industry, and the safety of shoreline areas.

And . . . AT NO COST TO THE TAXPAYER!

For our neighborhood, and for our City, VOTE YES ON PROP A!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

San Francisco has always been a great port city. And the San Francisco Port has always been a leading employer of minorities.

But the Port has sadly deteriorated. It has not kept up with modernizations and improvements. And what is even worse, it has not kept up with the competition. The Port MUST adapt to container cargo, and put in railway access to the docks. With your vote YES ON A, we can take advantage of our deep water harbor, attract more shipping trade, increase cargoes, and produce many more jobs.

And . . . AT NO COST TO THE TAXPAYER! VOTE YES ON PROP A!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Our Port now needs $42 million to develop San Francisco's maritime facilities to compete with ports such as Oakland, Seattle and San Diego.

These improved facilities are vital to San Francisco's competition for jobs and trade for the Pacific. Currently all major west coast ports are building to meet the growing needs of America's Pacific Trade. These ports have each spent an average of $57 million on recent container cargo expansion while San Francisco has spent nothing.

San Francisco must have at least comparable facilities in order to compete in this market. If the port is not developed for container cargo, San Francisco can forget about being a major port on the west coast as well as lose the jobs and revenue that a modern port could produce.

The Chamber of Commerce strongly recommends that you vote to bring San Francisco the jobs and business that will be created by these revenue bonds. The bonds will be paid off from Port revenue and there is no taxpayer risk.

If you want to see the Port continue to grow and prosper vote yes on Proposition A.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

When something is railroaded through City Hall on a "fast track", it is always difficult not to join the stampede. This, however, is a bond issue in an amount larger than necessary to perform the actual work contemplated; not backed by written leases; and not backed even by "letter agreements" with corporations which supposedly will use Piers 80, 94 and 96 if improvements are made. This bond issue was rushed through the Board of Supervisors. Transmitted to the Board on July 24th, a scant six days later (on July 30th) and without a specific noticed public hearing, the Board voted 7-1 to place it on the ballot. I dissented because more time was needed for a proper analysis and public input.

Presently, the Port has a debt service requirement of approximately $104,000,000.00. This proposed revenue bond issue would increase the debt service requirement to $228,261,400.00; a staggering rise. The $42,500,000.00 bond issue would produce but $40,202,000.00 in net proceeds. The Port has a surplus of about $19,000,000.00, of which approximately $15,000,000.00 is available for capital projects. The Controller says $49,254,660.00, would thus be available for capital projects costing $41,610,000.00.

The Port is borrowing $7,644,660.00 more than is needed for these seven capital projects. Why? The Port admits it has no long-term written commitments for Piers 80, 94 and 96 which account for $37,570,000.00 of the total bond issue. How can we be assured that the bondholders will be repaid by revenues from those piers if there are no long-term commitments?

Moreover, the Port hasn't even secured written "letter agreements" from corporations to assure that if those improvements are made, they will sign long-term commitments. Ironically, but $4,000,000.00 of the bond issue would be spent on needed improvements for Fisherman's Wharf tenants, who generate almost 50% of net Port income, money which would be used to repay the money borrowed for Piers 80, 94 and 96. It's like the tail wagging the dog.

Selling bonds is nothing more than borrowing money. Why borrow more money than you have to, and why borrow money for projects which don't have long-term tenants? Be assured that even if this passes, I intend to persist in making Port officials answer those very questions.

MOTION AUTHORIZING PROPOSITION A

MOTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO A MEASURE AUTHORIZING THE PORT COMMISSION OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO TO ISSUE REVENUE-BONDS TO FINANCE THE CONSTRUCTION, RENOVATION AND MODERNIZATION OF CERTAIN PORT FACILITIES TO BE LOCATED AT THE PORT OF SAN FRANCISCO.

The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby order the qualified electors of said City and County at an election to be held therein on November 6, 1984 a measure authorizing the Port Commission of the City and County of San Francisco to issue revenue bonds, all as set forth in the following measure, to wit:

Shall the Port Commission of the City and County of San Francisco issue revenue bonds in an amount not to exceed $42,500,000 the proceeds of which will be used to modernize container handling facilities and to upgrade various other maritime-oriented facilities at the Port of San Francisco's piers 35, 80, 94 and 96 and at the Jefferson Street seawall, to construct a breakwater at Fisherman's Wharf, to construct an intermodal container transfer facility, to install a backflow prevention system at various locations, to replace various transformers and capacitors throughout the port, and to acquire, construct or renovate certain works, property or structures necessary or convenient for the operation of, and at, the Port of San Francisco, which facilities are operated by the Port Commission?

PROPOSITION B

Shall the Public Utilities Commission be authorized to issue $104,000,000 in revenue bonds to finance acquisition and construction of facilities for the operation of the Water Department?

YES 256  NO 257

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Public Utilities Commission operates the San Francisco Water Department. When the Commission needs funds to acquire, improve or develop Water Department facilities, it may issue revenue bonds to raise the funds. Before the Commission can issue revenue bonds, a majority of the voters must approve. The revenue bonds are then paid from Water Department revenues.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition B would allow the Public Utilities Commission to issue up to $104,000,000 in revenue bonds. Funds from the sale of the bonds would be used to acquire, improve or develop facilities necessary for the operation of the Water Department, including filtration plants and reservoirs. The bonds would be paid off from the revenues of the Water Department.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Public Utilities Commission to issue up to $104,000,000 in revenue bonds to finance Water Department improvements.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the Public Utilities Commission to issue revenue bonds for this purpose.

Controller's Statement on "B"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition B:

"Should the proposed bond issue be authorized and when all bonds shall have been issued on a thirty year basis, and after consideration of the interest rates related to current municipal bond sales, in my opinion, it is estimated that approximate costs would be as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Amount</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bond redemption</td>
<td>$104,000,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bond interest</td>
<td>169,260,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total debt service requirement</td>
<td>$273,260,000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

"Based on a five year construction program and a bond redemption schedule beginning one year after the sale of each issue, the estimated annual debt service payments, which pay the interest thereon and the redemption thereof, would range from approximately $3,467,000 to a maximum of $14,022,000 annually for thirty-one years.

"In my opinion, the servicing of the proposed bonded debt will be paid from Water Department revenues and will not affect the tax rate of the City and County of San Francisco, provided that there are sufficient revenues from Water Department sources to cover operating and all debt service costs of the Water Department. Analysis of projected resources available to the Water Department indicates that, in my judgment, sufficient revenues will be available to provide debt service costs in future years."

The money from these bonds will be used to assure that drinking water we take from our Crystal Springs and San Andreas reservoirs on the Peninsula is pure and meets all health standards. The bonds will be repaid from revenues of our Water Department. Not a penny will be charged on the property tax rolls or to the general taxpayers.

We have two huge lakes along side I-280 on the Peninsula, the Crystal Springs and San Andreas reservoirs. About 15% of our drinking water in normal times comes from these lakes and others in Alameda County. For decades we used this water without filtration. Now, however, health officials tell us that all of the water from our Peninsula lakes must be filtered before it can be used. We now have a very limited filtering capacity which means that if, for any reason, our water supply from the Sierras were interrupted or reduced and we would need more local water, we would be unable to make full use of Crystal Springs water. There is now no filter plant at Crystal Springs. Whatever water we use from there must be pumped up to a small filtration plant at San Andreas before it can enter the system. This very severely limits the amount of drinking water we can draw from our nearest supply, and it is expensive. Passage of Proposition B would change all that.

By voting YES on B, you will provide for water system improvements including a new filtration plant right at Crystal Springs, for the expansion of the small plant at San Andreas, and for a necessary storage reservoir.

Your YES on B vote is an investment in the quality of our drinking water—an assurance that water from our nearest supply will be available to us pure, meeting all health requirements, when we need it.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Vote YES on Proposition B.

Generations ago, San Franciscans had the foresight to build one of the most magnificent water systems in the world—Hetch Hetchy, which brings water to San Francisco from the High Sierras.

Now, we must modernize the system to keep pace with higher standards of water quality.

Proposition B will authorize the San Francisco Water Department to issue $104 million in revenue bonds.

The money will be used to improve the system by expanding existing plants and by building additional filtration, treatment and holding facilities on Water Department properties on the Peninsula.

These facilities will provide safe drinking water for future generations of San Franciscans. Presently, if any of the existing facilities suffered a breakdown, the City could be forced to rely upon unfiltered water from Crystal Springs. The State Department of Public Health has directed the Water Department to upgrade facilities to meet future needs.

Our water is safe. It meets all state and Federal quality standards, and we want to keep it that way. Proposition B will assure low turbidity (silt content), reduce asbestos content, and prevent the spread of giardia lamblia, a virus not now found in our water system, but which could be brought in as watershed areas become more populated.

Proposition B, which will not have any effect on our tax structure, is a prudent investment, protecting our drinking water into the future. Vote YES on Proposition B.

Shall a Health Commission consisting of seven members appointed by the Mayor be created to manage and control City and County hospitals and all other county health services and appoint a Director of Public Health?

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The San Francisco Department of Public Health operates the county hospitals, such as San Francisco General and Laguna Honda, and all other county public health services. The Department is run by a Public Health Director, who is appointed by the City's Chief Administrative Officer and who is responsible to the Chief Administrative Officer.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition C would create a Health Commission, and place the Department of Public Health under the control of the Commission. The Commission would have seven members, appointed by the Mayor; no more than three members would be doctors, nurses, hospital administrators or other health care professionals. The Commission would appoint a Public Health Director, responsible to the Commission, to administer the Department. The Public Health Director could appoint and remove deputies to help administer the Department.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the San Francisco Department of Public Health to be under the control of a Health Commission appointed by the Mayor, and to be run by a Public Health Director, appointed by the Health Commission.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the San Francisco Department of Public Health to be under the control of the Chief Administrative Officer and to be run by a Public Health Director appointed by the Chief Administrative Officer.

How Supervisors Voted on "C"

On July 23 the Board of Supervisors voted 8-3 on the question of placing Proposition C on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisors Richard Hongisto, Quentin Kopp and Wendy Nelder.

Controller's Statement on "C"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition C:

"Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it would increase the cost of government, based on current costs of the Health Department, by approximately $8,400 per year."

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION C APPEARS ON PAGE 82.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The Public Health Department has a budget of over $270 million and a staff of 5000, making it the largest agency in City government. Its responsibilities are many and far-reaching: San Francisco General Hospital and Laguna Honda Hospital; emergency medical services; mental health services; sanitation; public health education; district health centers; inspection of public and private facilities. The list is long and growing.

In recent years, the list of problems facing departmental administrators has, unfortunately, also grown. Emergency Aid stations were closed. Ambulance service was drastically altered. Proposals to reorganize community mental health services were promoted and rejected, causing confusion for all. The AIDS crisis. The investigations at San Francisco General Hospital. And on and on.

Too often, these decisions and these issues were considered in a vacuum, without public input, without public debate, and without public scrutiny.

Why? In order to protect the Department of Public Health from the graft and corruption that plagued our City at the turn of the century, the Charter placed the department under the Chief Administrative Officer's auspices rather than a commission. Fifty years later, the department has outgrown this cumbersome arrangement. It is time to bring the administration of this important agency into the 20th Century, mirroring the management of other City departments.

Proposition C will establish a seven-member Health Commission, appointed by the Mayor, to set policy and supervise the Public Health Department. The commission will include both providers and consumers of health services. It will bring the Department more directly under the Mayor's control, allowing for more timely responses to issues and problems. Most importantly, it will ensure that the department is publicly accountable for its actions.

We urge a YES vote on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Public health policy has changed and the governance of our public health department must change too.

In the past few years the state and federal governments have shifted more and more of the responsibility for public health management to local governments.

Recent experience shows that our health department is not presently equipped to manage public health programs in the most effective manner.

Proposition C will streamline management—cutting two levels of bureaucracy while opening up our public health policy to the public itself.

I urge a "yes" vote on Proposition C.

Assemblyman Art Agnos

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Since 1971, the Department of Public Health has been plagued with problems and crises at its hospitals, clinics and emergency aid stations. Most recently, we again faced the threat of San Francisco General losing its accreditation. These many incidents are deeply disturbing, raising troubling questions in the public mind: Why do these problems persist? Why can't something be done about them once and for all?

In 1979, the national organization that accredits all hospitals reported that San Francisco General's "major problems . . . are related to the lack of an effective governing body free from the political decision-making process which results in delayed activity, inadequate funding, etc." Last January, the State auditors also cited the absence of "a governing body legally responsible for hospital governance" as a cause for "ineffective management."

No other hospital in California operates without a board of directors. Only one other department in San Francisco (Public Works) operates without a commission. Instead, San Francisco General and the Health Department are run by a bureaucracy, insulated from public accountability.

Proposition C establishes a commission for the Health Department, one that will hold public hearing, make public decisions, and be publicly accountable. Vote YES.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

San Francisco's population is aging. In a few short years, a greater percentage of our citizens will be seniors—most living independently on fixed incomes, many frail and over 75—than those of other California cities. They will need nutritional information, home health care, and a broad range of coordinated social services.

The Department of Health, San Francisco General, Laguna Honda, the District Health Centers—these are critical providers of senior services. And as more and more state and federal programs are shifted to local agencies, the Department's role and responsibilities will dramatically increase.

How will the Department respond to this increased responsibility? How can we ensure that it will develop policies and programs that meet seniors' needs? And how can we be sure that these programs operate efficiently and effectively?

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Proposition C is important for women.

Women provide the majority of services offered by the Health Department. Indeed public health is traditionally the domain of women and nurses. And while the many crises at General are too often blamed on nursing care, nurses virtually have no role in planning or organizing service delivery.

Women are also the major consumers of the Department's services. As more and more block grants transfer health programs from the state and federal levels to local governments, the Department will become an increasingly important provider to women.

Proposition C gives women an opportunity to make their voices heard at the highest levels of the Health Department. And our voices must be heard if services are to be organized efficiently and responsively.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The policies governing San Francisco General affect every consumer and provider of health services in the City, yet there is little accountability to San Francisco taxpayers. No private hospital with General's size and influence operates without a board of trustees or directors. Indeed, no private organization of any kind with a $270 million annual budget—business, corporation, nonprofit foundation, whatever—operates without a governing board. Why does General?

As General bounces from one crisis to the next, with state and federal agencies threatening increasingly drastic actions, the weakness of the current management structure becomes clear to all. The Hospital and the Health Department need a commission, where public hearings can surface problems and issues in a timely fashion; where policies can be developed with the cooperation of private providers and consumers. The Health Commission will not be a watchdog meddling in day-to-day affairs, but an advocate for General, one providing continuity, stability and a rational decision-making process with regular rules and procedures.

The Health Department is obligated to ensure that all San Francisco communities have access to medical services. The AIDS crisis brought the health care needs of gay men to the forefront of public discussion. It brought home the importance of a Department flexible and responsive to quickly emerging problems and epidemics, one capable of quickly reallocating resources to dire community needs.

The general health needs of gay men and women, however, are largely unrecognized. The Health Commission will give our community the voice it needs in the health planning processes. It will ensure that the diversity of our City is represented in the consideration of these important issues.

Health is vital to the Latino Community of San Francisco. We are a younger population, with larger families and with special health needs, such as those of Central American refugees. Recent changes in Medically Indigent Adult services have also negatively impacted our community.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The chief opposition to Proposition C comes from two sources: The Chief Administrative Officer and the officials of the University of California Medical Center.

The CAO’s opposition is understandable. He simply doesn’t want to lose control of the Health Department and SF General.

UC’s opposition is more puzzling, until you realize that it receives $10–15 million from the City each year for staffing at General Hospital without a publicly reviewed contract! Why is UC afraid of having its relationship with General publicly scrutinized by a Health Commission?

Community clinics provide thousands of San Franciscans with access to essential primary health care and preventive health services. Yet, these community-based institutions, as well as the neighborhoods and people they represent, have been excluded from participation in health policy decision-making in San Francisco. Excluded, too, is any public debate on alternatives to hospital-based health delivery and financing systems that could prove cost-effective and could better serve the people of San Francisco.

Proposition C, The Health Commission Charter Amendment, offers a forum for public discussion of local health policy issues. By giving the neighborhoods and communities input into health policy decisions, the Health Commission will enable San Franciscans to create a new community of interest and new community action in the area of health service delivery.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

This proposal to put politics into the Department of Public Health by creating a “commission” to direct it is an example of the misguided philosophy of attacking governmental problems by throwing bureaucracy at them. It should be soundly defeated. Currently, the City’s health officials report to one person, the Chief Administrative Officer, who can respond swiftly to any crisis and set consistent policy. The responsibility for the Department lies with the CAO, not a group of political appointees. When our Charter was adopted in 1932, the freeholders explained the rationale of giving the CAO management responsibility over the Health Department. The idea was “to provide reasonable safeguards AGAINST POLITICAL MANIPULATION.” (Emphasis added) Their report stated the office of CAO was designed to be “protected from political influence as largely as possible . . . ” and “it is intended that this officer shall be entirely independent in discharging the function of the office, and particularly, to be free from interference of the mayor, because the latter is subjected to political influence.” Although the Charter was adopted in 1932, its logic still makes powerful sense. Besides blurring lines of responsibility, this iniquitous proposal contradicts health management practices in California and the United States. In fact, the same idea was evaluated in 1971 by a committee established by the supervisors, which concluded that the commission concept, a “seemingly attractive alternative at first blush, would likely constitute merely another bureaucratic layer in an already cluttered city administrative structure.” To paraphrase The Progress, the Muni is the best proof that “the presence of a commission does not guarantee good management.” Vote NO on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

The enactment of Proposition C would set the clock back on health care delivery in San Francisco to the 1920s. As proposed, the measure would almost exactly duplicate the system of Health Care abandoned by The City in 1932 because it had become corrupt, politicized and incapable of effectively responding to the growing challenges of modern health care administration.

In 1973 the Board of Supervisors itself considered and rejected a similar Health Commission option. The board's reason was that commissions do not make effective management tools. "The Commission, seemingly an attractive alternative at first blush, would likely constitute merely another layer in an already cluttered City administration structure."

The commission concept also goes counter to sound health management practices. Earlier this year, a team of top Bay Area health care professionals was asked to identify the leading municipal hospitals in the country. None of the institutions identified uses a commission form of administration largely because commissions, while perhaps capable of overseeing some urban systems such as mass transit, have proven ineffective and cumbersome.

The argument has been advanced that a commission would allow for greater citizen input into the health department. The fact is that the Department of Health already has some 440 individuals serving on 27 Citizen Advisory Committees—more than with any other city department. The proposed seven member commission would be insufficient in both size and technical competence to do other than deal with the health care in San Francisco on a "crisis-to-crisis" basis.

As we move into the 21st Century, the administration of San Francisco's health care systems will only become more challenging. A form of governance that proved inadequate 50 years ago and was rejected by the Board of Supervisors eleven years ago as inappropriate, is not the best way to provide for our city's health care needs of the future. We urge you to vote "No" on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

A vote for Proposition C is a vote to politicize health care in San Francisco. The authors of the 1932 City Charter foresaw this when they abolished the city's highly politicized seven member health commission and placed the Department of Health under the jurisdiction of the Chief Administrative Officer. Proposition C would return San Francisco to the pre-1932 system of politicized health care management.

In writing the 1932 Charter, the authors recognized the need to balance executive authority by splitting it between the Mayor and the CAO. Departments, such as health, which were thought to be best managed if protected from direct political influence, were placed under the jurisdiction of the CAO, who is appointed for a fixed 10 year term to remove the office from political pressure.

Despite the occurrence of problems the system has worked well. San Francisco General has perhaps the best Trauma Unit in the country. The hospital's AIDS unit is unquestionably the best and most humane in the nation.

Moving control of the city's health care budget from the Chief Administrative Officer to the Executive will create a "strong mayor" type of government which the Charter was designed to prevent. Health commissioners would necessarily be beholden to the political factions or individuals which lobbied for their appointment and to the mayor who appoints them.

There are alternatives to a Health Commission. Several have already been recommended by a blue ribbon panel of health management experts appointed following the report on General Hospital. We believe these recommendations and perhaps others, including a variation on the health commission concept, deserve further study.

Proposition C would bring about a radical restructuring of government and health care delivery in San Francisco. Both issues are far too important to be decided hastily. We urge a No vote on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

I oppose Proposition C because:
1. It puts the Health Department under the control of politically appointed non-professionals. I cannot agree that this should be done. It brings in politics and throws out expertise.
2. It adds an extra layer of bureaucracy making government more expensive and management more difficult.

 Supervisor Richard Hongisto

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

Your City Hall representatives would have you believe that by replacing our present Health System with a Health Commission, composed of seven members, at a recompense of $100 per month, will improve the services. Hogwash. Just another layer of government.
With a budget of $270 millions, 5000 employees would you put your faith in the hands of seven and still maintain the same Health Director?
What we need is a clean sweep of the present management; new faces; new ideas. The Charter provides for this, let’s do it—“Now,” not later.
Vote NO on PROPOSITION C.

Marguerite A. Warren

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

By creating a health commission for the Public Health Department, the city of San Francisco would create more problems rather than solve them.
Past experience has indicated a need to separate politics from health care. San Francisco would be turning the clock back to a situation in the 1920s when the city had a seven member commission appointed by the Mayor that oversaw the management of the Public Health Department. The delivery of effective health care was seriously compromised by the politicized department which was a direct consequence of the department’s health commission.
For this reason, the citizens of San Francisco at that time passed a charter reform that removed the Health Department from the politically appointed commission and placed it in a newly created Chief Administrative Officer who would be secured against political pressures.
The creation of the Health Commission would take 40% of the budget of the Chief Administrative Officer’s budget and place it under the control of a politically appointed Commission, thus negating the intent of the Chief Administrative Officer’s Department which was created to administer departments that should be removed from political concerns.
Do not politicize San Francisco’s health care. Vote No on Proposition C.

PROPOSITION D
Shall the Retirement Board be authorized to make investments of retirement funds as a prudent person instead of investments legal for insurance companies?

YES 261
NO 262

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Retirement Board has complete authority to invest the funds of the Retirement System for city employees. The Retirement Board must make only investments which are legal for insurance companies in California.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition D would remove the requirement that the Retirement Board must make only investments which are legal for insurance companies in California. Instead, the proposition would require the Retirement Board to make investments with the care and skill that a prudent person would make under similar circumstances.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to change the way the Retirement Board invests pension money. Instead of making only those investments which are legal for insurance companies, the Board would be able to make any investments that a prudent person would make.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the Retirement Board to keep making only the same kind of investments which are legal for insurance companies.

How Supervisors Voted on “D”

On August 6 the Board of Supervisors voted 6-5 on the question of placing Proposition D on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors Richard Hongisto, Quentin Kopp, Bill Maher, Carol Ruth Silver, Nancy Walker and Doris Ward.

Controller’s Statement on “D”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition D:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it should not, in and of itself, increase the cost of government. However, as a result of its authorizing additional flexibility for investments, earnings may be higher or lower than what could have occurred absent this amendment.”

The Text of Proposition D appears on page 63.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION D

Vote YES on Proposition D.

The purpose of Proposition D is to clarify the investment responsibility of the Retirement Board and to add language expressly to comply with the recently enacted State Constitutional amendment on fiduciary standards for public pension plans (Proposition 21, June 1984).

Since 1932, the charter has referred to the Insurance Code as the guideline for pension investments.

Insurance Code investment requirements are unsuitable to current pension fund investment practices and severely restrict the ability of the Retirement Board to manage the fund to achieve the best possible investment return for the City and County of San Francisco and the members of the Retirement System.

The added new language will establish firm guidelines for the Retirement Board to discharge its responsibility as the fiduciary for the Retirement Fund. This new language will also serve as increased protection for members of the Retirement System by applying recognized fiduciary standards for which there is considerable statutory and case law.

In summary, the proposed charter amendment serves a dual purpose: it removes obsolete and ambiguous language and brings the Retirement System into compliance with the State Constitution. Both changes will enhance and improve the System's investment capabilities and the ability to achieve its goals and objectives.

Proposition D is endorsed and supported by the Retirement Board and the Board of Supervisors.

Vote YES on Proposition D.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION D

This is a worthwhile Charter amendment which updates obsolete and ambiguous provisions on how the Retirement Board can invest funds. It institutes standards consistent with a recent voter-approved amendment to the California Constitution. Investment practices have been refined dramatically in the past 50 years, and income and appreciation choices have increased tremendously. The investment professionals working for the Retirement System now are prevented from making the very prudent investments possible, and City employees and taxpayers are, thus, prejudiced and hurt.

Present investment rules are based upon the State Insurance Code, which contravenes contemporary investment practices. Proposition D will give more latitude in making high-return investments, but will also retain vigorous guidelines on investment of Retirement System funds while increasing the protection of City employees. It will save money for taxpayers by enabling a better return on Retirement System assets. It's logical. That's why I recommend a "yes" vote.

Surviving Spouse Benefits

PROPOSITION E

Shall the City subsidize the surviving spouse of active retired employees on the same basis that the City subsidizes the active or retired employees in the health service system?

YES 264
NO 265

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City contributes to a health care fund for active and retired employees. The City’s contribution to this fund equals the average amount contributed to health care funds for each employee of the ten most populated California counties except San Francisco. The City does not contribute anything for spouses of active or retired employees.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition E would provide that the City contribute to the health care fund for the surviving spouse of a deceased employee. The surviving spouse must have been married to the employee for a least one year prior to the employee’s death. The amount of the contribution would be the same as that made by the City to the health care fund for active and retired employees.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the City to contribute to the health care fund for the surviving spouse of a deceased employee.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the City to contribute to the health care fund for the surviving spouse of a deceased employee.

How Supervisors Voted on “E”

On July 23 the Board of Supervisors voted 8-2 on the question of placing Proposition E on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisors Quentin Kopp and Bill Maher.

Controller’s Statement on “E”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition E:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it would increase the cost of government, based on current costs and present membership data of the Health Service System, in excess of $990,000 per year.”

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION E APPEARS ON PAGE 67.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

This charter amendment calls for extending a limited measure of aid from the City and County of San Francisco for the health care of the surviving spouse of an active or retired City employee.

Under existing statute, the City and County and its employees, active or retired, share the cost of health care for the employee, their spouse and children. However, upon the death of the employee, the City and County's share of payments to the health care system stops.

Thus, the surviving spouse is compelled to pick up the entire cost for the health care plan while struggling to survive on a reduced family income and, at the same time, contend with ever increasing medical/hospital expenses and everyday living costs for themselves and eligible family dependents.

Proposition E will allow the City and County to continue paying its share into the health care system and not force the surviving spouse and eligible family dependents to assume the entire financial burden for health care payments.

Since the number of surviving spouses affected is very small, less than 1400, the cost to the taxpayer for the City and County is minimal.

The changes proposed by Proposition E should have been made many years ago; it is long overdue. We urge you to support this important measure.

Vote YES on Proposition E.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

Justice tempered with compassion. VOTE YES. Surviving spouses of City workers receive an automatic 50% cut in retirement pay upon the death of their partners. Why further burden this small group by withdrawing subsidy for health care?

The Retirement System actuary has officially confirmed that the average pension check for this group is $300.00 per month; incidentally, below the nationally quoted poverty level.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION E

Submitted by William T. Reed, Chairman Legislative Committee, Retired Employees City & County of San Francisco Helen McAtee, Chairperson Philip Kearney, President, and retired manager of the Health Service

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

The Health Service Board which administers the health benefits provided to active and retired employees and their dependents fully recognizes the financial problem imposed on the surviving spouse upon the death of a retired employee.

This financial problem is especially acute because a surviving spouse's pension is cut by 50% at the death of the employee and because of the high cost of medical insurance. Medical cost increases have outpaced general inflation rates over the last three (3) years by about two to one.

We urge your “YES” vote on Proposition “E” on the basis of need and equity.

Abraham Bernstein, M.D., President Health Service Board of the City and County of San Francisco

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

Surviving spouses of city employees need this for a relatively comfortable widowhood. Let's extend a small measure of consideration to those who are left on their own.

Supervisor Richard Hongisto

NOTE: YOUR POLLING PLACE MAY HAVE CHANGED. PLEASE REFER TO MAILING LABEL ON BACK COVER.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION E

Proposition E if approved would require the city to subsidize the health premiums of the surviving spouses of non-uniformed city employees. The cost to the city would amount to $990,000 per year and give city employees a benefit that is not normally enjoyed by workers in private industry.

The majority of private employees have health plans that allow surviving spouses to be members of such plans but the employer does not subsidize the premiums of these survivors in any way. Being permitted to join a group plan that provides comprehensive coverage at a reasonable rate is a sufficient benefit in and of itself.

If this amendment is approved it will violate the spirit of the Charter provision that sets city employee salaries and benefits at the average of that which prevails in the metropolitan Bay Area. We believe in fair treatment and compensation for city employees and our current rules provide exactly that.

8.428 Health Service System Fund

There is hereby created a health service system fund. The costs of the health service system shall be borne by the members of the system and retired persons, the City and County of San Francisco because of its members and retired persons and because of members and retired persons of the parking authority of the City and County of San Francisco, the San Francisco Unified School District because of its members and retired persons and the San Francisco Community College District because of its members and retired persons. A retired person as used in this section means a former member of the health service system retired under the San Francisco City and County Employees' Retirement System, and the surviving spouse of an active employee and the surviving spouse of a retired employee, provided that the surviving spouse and the active or retired employee have been married for a period of at least one year prior to the death of the active or retired employee.

The city and county, the school district and the community college district shall each contribute to the health service fund amounts sufficient for the following purposes, and subject to the following limitations:

(a) All funds necessary to efficiently administer the health service system shall contribute to the health service system fund with respect to each of their members an amount equal to one-half of “the average contribution,” as certified by the health service board in accordance with the provisions of section 8.423. For the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1974, and each fiscal year thereafter, the city and county, the school district and the community college district shall contribute to the health service system fund with respect to each of their members an amount equal to “the average contribution,” as certified by the health service board in accordance with the provisions of section 8.423.

(c) Monthly contributions required from retired persons and the surviving spouses of active employees and retired persons participating in the system shall be equal to the monthly contributions required from members in the system, except that the total contributions required from retired persons who are also covered under medicare shall be reduced by an amount equal to the amount contributed monthly by such persons to medicare; provided, however, that for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1973, and for each fiscal year thereafter, the city and county, the school district and the community college district shall contribute funds sufficient to defray the difference in cost to the system in providing the same health coverage to retired persons and the surviving spouses of active employees and retired persons as is provided for active employee members.

(d) The city and county, the San Francisco Unified School District and the San Francisco Community College District shall not contribute to the health service system fund any sums, except as hereinafter set forth, on account of participation in the benefits of the system by members' dependents except surviving spouses, retired persons' dependents except surviving spouses, persons who retired and elected not to receive benefits from San Francisco City and County Employees' Retirement System and resigned employees and teachers defined in section 8.425, and any employee whose compensation is fixed in accordance with sections 8.401, 8.403, or 8.404 of this charter and whose compensation therein includes an additional amount for health and welfare benefits or whose health service costs are reimbursed through any fund established for said purpose by ordinance of the board of supervisors.

It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors, the board of education and the governing board of the community college district annually to appropriate to the health service system fund such amounts as are necessary to cover the respective obligations of the city and county, the San Francisco Unified School District and the San Francisco Community College District hereby imposed. Contributions to the health service system fund of the city and county, of the school district and of the community college district shall be charged against the general fund, or the school, utility, bond or other special fund concerned.

The amendments of this section contained in the proposition therefore submitted to the electorate on November 7, 1972 shall be effective July 1, 1973 1985.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition F would provide that if an officer or employee, other than a police officer or firefighter, is injured through external and violent means in the course of employment and the employee dies within 180 days of the injury, an additional benefit of 12 months salary would be paid to the employee’s estate or designated beneficiary.

Employee Death Benefits

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Proposition F provides a small compensation for the survivor of a city employee (non Police or Fire) killed in the line of duty. Let’s agree to this minor expenditure for the survivors of those who have died in city service.

Richard Hongisto, Supervisor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote YES on Proposition F.
Only rarely is a city employee killed in the line of duty, but death can come with fierce suddenness.
Two Muni workers were crushed by cable car machinery in 1978; the following year, two Water Department employees were murdered at the Lake Merced Pumping Station; and in March 1981, a Hetch Hetchy lineman fell to his death.
For the families of the vast majority of city workers, there is little protection when death comes. Police officers and fire fighters already have special death benefits.

Proposition F would cover all other workers in the City Retirement System. Proposition F will afford some measure of protection to city workers killed in the performance of their duties.
Proposition F will provide to beneficiaries an additional full year salary to the half-year presently provided, for a total of 18 months.
This is a small amount for a life given in the service of our city. Vote YES on Proposition F.

Dianne Feinstein, Mayor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote YES on Proposition F.
Proposition F is designed to correct a serious inequity on behalf of miscellaneous members of the Retirement System who are killed in line of duty or who die as a result of a violent or traumatic job-incurred injury.
Under current charter provisions, a designated beneficiary of a member who dies in the course of employment from any cause receives the member’s contributions to the system, plus six months’ salary.
Proposition F focuses only on those members who are killed in the line of duty or who die within 180 days from a violent or traumatic job-incurred injury. Beneficiaries of such members will be accorded an additional insurance benefit of twelve months’ salary.
The payment of additional compensation to a designated beneficiary will be subject to the independent hearing officer process as set forth in the City Charter.
Proposition F is fair and equitable and, based on actuarial projections, the cost is minimal.
Proposition F is sponsored and endorsed by the Retirement Board, unanimously approved by the Board of Supervisors, and strongly supported by Mayor Dianne Feinstein.

Police Probationary Period

PROPOSITION G

Shall the probationary period for police officers be extended from one-year from entry to one year after completion of training but not to exceed eighty-four weeks?

YES  270
NO   271

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Police officers entering the Police Department serve a one-year probationary period. During the first 32 weeks, the police officer goes through the police training program. After successfully completing training, the officer is then assigned to regular police duties. The Police Department has 20 weeks to evaluate the officer while on regular police duty. After this 20 week period, the probation is complete.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition G would extend the probationary period of the police officer to one year after the completion of the training. In no event would it, extend the probationary period beyond 84 weeks from the date of entry. Any termination for breach of duty or misconduct would require charges and a hearing before the Police Commission.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the probationary period for a police officer to be extended to one year after completing the police training course but not to exceed 84 weeks.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the probationary period for a police officer to remain one year after the date of entry into the department.

Controller’s Statement on "G"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition G:

"Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it would have no effect on the cost of government."

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION G APPEARS ON PAGE 89.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

Your YES vote for this amendment will enable the Police Department to provide more effective police services by ensuring that after officers graduate from the Academy and complete a field training program, an adequate probationary evaluation period exists to determine an officer's fitness to perform police duties. Society demands much from its police officers. As the nature of police work has become increasingly complex, training and performance evaluation functions must meet the needs of an ever-evolving profession.

Great expenditure of time and money are invested in training police officers. Presently, if a recruit is not deemed ready for duty, the probationary period can be completed during any retraining, thus making it difficult and costly to determine ultimate fitness for duty.

By voting YES, you will give the Chief of Police time necessary to adequately train and evaluate an officer's performance and to better ensure quality police services.

The Police Department has met and conferred with the Police Officers' Association regarding this amendment and has obtained that organization's support for its passage.

Richard Hongisto, Supervisor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

I urge you to vote YES on Proposition G.

In recent years, because San Francisco has had the financial strength to do so, we've steadily expanded the size of the Police Department.

It is now the largest ever, with 1987 officers.

More and more officers are being assigned to our neighborhoods on beats and in patrolcars. We want the best officers possible.

That's why Proposition G is so important. It will give the Department greater ability to screen out officers who do not measure up to the strict standards of professionalism this city demands.

Proposition G will extend the probation period for a new officer to one complete year following completion of his or her field training.

Presently, probation starts when an officer is first inducted into the Department, before 18 weeks of class work in the City's outstanding Police Academy and another 14 weeks of field training.

As strenuous as the class work and the training may be, the real test of an officer is on the street.

That's where his or her coolness, competence and compassion—in fact, all the qualities that this city wants in a superior police department—can be observed and tested.

Proposition G will give the department a full year to evaluate an officer in uniform and on the job.

Those who don't measure up can be dismissed after a departmental hearing. Protected will be the City's rightful concern that our police officers can truly be described as the City's finest.

Proposition G is a common-sense measure, sought by the Chief of Police, that will strengthen the San Francisco Police Department. Vote YES on Proposition G.

Dianne Feinstein, Mayor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

This is probably the most important proposition on this Fall's ballot, a common sense measure. It deals with the Police Department, which has the ultimate responsibility for the protection of persons and property in our community. It increases the probationary period of police officers by one year. It is intended to ensure that the men and women who protect us are of the highest quality possible. Right now, police officers actually have only a four month probationary period. That's because they spend over 12 months probation in class and training, and only four months on the streets and on the job.

Police commanders need more time to evaluate the recruits' "street" performance. Proposition G does that by extending the on-the-job probationary period up to one year. For the sake of our children, neighbors and all San Franciscans, I want to be sure that a police officer is fully competent from a practical standpoint, not merely because of a classroom perspective. Therefore, I support Proposition G, and I urge you to vote for it, too.

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, based on current rates of pay, staffing and assignments by the police department, the cost of government would be increased by approximately $74,000 per year.”

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

The Honda Motorcycle Unit of the San Francisco Police Department has, because of antiquated charter language, been denied payment of the hazard pay which is currently given the two-wheel motorcycle officers in the Traffic Division.

Because the primary function of the Honda Motorcycle Unit is crime fighting and not traffic enforcement, the word “traffic” must be deleted from the charter in order to compensate equally all officers who perform hazardous motorcycle duty.

Please join us in voting YES for this very fair charter amendment.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

In 1970, the San Francisco Police Department created a unit of light weight motorcycles to patrol Golden Gate Park and the beaches surrounding the City. In 1977 these duties were drastically changed to counteract rising street crimes around the Western Addition. Neighborhood associations, seeing the effectiveness of the unit, also requested additional patrols by these motorcycle officers. Since 1977 the Honda Unit (as it is known now) has been assigned to virtually every neighborhood in the City to reduce purse snatchers, “red light” robberies, drag racing, and street narcotics traffic, along with demonstrations, marches, parades, and sporting events all over the City.

Also occurring since 1977 have been injuries to these highly visible, highly vulnerable motorcycle officers. Some of these injuries include one officer hit head on, and another officer suffering a leg broken by an auto which ran a red light. There have been numerous officers struck by other vehicles causing injuries, and injuries due to other road hazards (oil slicks, pothole etc.). These have increased sharply since the Honda Unit has been assigned to primarily street patrol. One officer was shot twice while patrolling the Western Addition for purse snatchers.

It is obvious that these officers are no longer “just” patrolling the parks and beaches as they were initially intended, but are now assigned to patrol the streets of the most crime-ridden areas of the City combating street crimes and enforcing traffic laws. These officers on prior occasions have requested Motorcycle Hazard Pay (which traffic enforcement two-wheel motorcycle officers already receive) for their patrol of these neighborhoods and streets on the two-wheel motorcycles but have been denied because of outdated wording in the Charter. Passage of this amendment would correct this inequity.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

All police officers who ride motorcycles in the course of duty face special danger and deserve the premium pay already allowed for motorcycle traffic officers.

Supervisor Richard Hongisto

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

A police officer on a two-wheeler is often the first on the scene of a major crime or emergency. Day after day, there is no more hazardous duty for our police.

Whether on a motorcycle in pursuit of a felon on city streets, or on a motorbike on patrol in the remote areas of the City's parklands, an officer lives with danger. Because they can cut through traffic, the two-wheelers often are first to arrive at a shooting or bank robbery or car crash.

The City Charter has long recognized the dangers inherent in this essential police work and has provided hazard-pay for motorcycle officers of the Traffic Division. Proposition H simply extends hazard-pay to the 17 or so officers on the equally perilous motorbike detail.

The amount of money involved is small—only $178 a month for each officer. Proposition H is small recognition of the dangers the police daily face in the line of duty.

PROPOSITION I

(Initiative Ordinance): Shall San Francisco request that the federal government question all taxpayers whether they wish any part of their taxes used for excessive military spending and have the City publish an annual report on federal taxes collected from San Francisco and the portions used for excessive military purposes and for social needs?

YES 278
NO 279

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City and County of San Francisco does not have an official position on whether federal taxes should be used for certain kinds of defense spending.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition I says the Board of Supervisors must inform the President and certain other federal officials that the people of San Francisco think all taxpayers should be asked whether they want their tax dollars used for certain kinds of “excessive military expenditures”, as defined in the measure. Proposition I also says the City’s Chief Administrative Officer must publish an annual report on the amount of federal taxes collected from San Francisco residents, what portion of these taxes are used for military spending, and what portion are used for social or human needs. The Board of Supervisors would appoint a seven-member Citizens’ Advisory Committee to oversee the preparation of the report.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you think federal officials should be told that the people of San Francisco think all taxpayers should be asked whether their tax dollars should be used for certain kinds of defense spending. You also want the City to publish an annual report on how federal tax dollars collected from San Francisco residents are spent.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you don’t think taxpayers should be asked whether their tax dollars should be used for certain kinds of defense spending, and you don’t want the City to publish an annual report on federal taxes collected from San Francisco residents.

How “I” Got on Ballot

On August 24 Registrar of Voters Jay Patterson certified that the initiative petition relating to military and social expenditures had a sufficient number of signatures to be placed on the ballot.

The proponents of the petition had gathered 12,271 signatures which they turned in to the Registrar on August 2. The proponents are officially listed as G.C. Barnes, L.J. Crowe, H.J. Hobi and R.A. Wall.

A random check of the petition showed that 8,304 of the signatures were valid. This is more than the 7,332 signatures needed to qualify an initiative ordinance for the ballot.

Controller’s Statement on “I”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition I:

“Should the proposed initiative ordinance be adopted, in my opinion, there would be an increase in the cost of government, the amount of which cannot be determined at this time but should not be substantial.”

TEXT OF PROPOSITION I APPEARS ON PAGE 75.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION I

This initiative should be passed because it educates people about excessive military spending and sends a clear message to the Federal Government that people want a choice as to how their taxes are spent.

TEXT OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE
PROPOSITION I

Be it ordained by the people of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section 1. Definitions. For the purpose of this ordinance, the following terms are defined:
(a) Excessive military expenditures: any part of the federal budget from any agency or department that is destined for research, development, and production of tactical and strategic nuclear weapons; research, development, and production of outer space laser-beam technology weapons (popularly known as "star-war" weapons); research, development, and production of chemical and biological warfare; military aid, both overt and covert, to undemocratic and/or repressive governments (governments that violate the basic human rights as defined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted in 1948 by the United Nations).
(b) Social or human needs: any part of the federal budget from any agency or department that is used for education, housing, health and human services, public transportation, and the arts.
(c) San Francisco taxpayer: any individual who pays federal taxes and who reports his or her principal place of residence within the San Francisco city limits; and any corporation who is considered by the Internal Revenue Service as residing in San Francisco.
(d) portion of revenues in 3(a) budgeted for social or human needs;
(e) average individual tax contribution;
(f) average individual tax contribution allocated to (1) excessive military expenditures and (2) social needs.

Section 2. The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco shall notify the President of the United States, the Vice-President, all members of the President's Cabinet, and all members of Congress: that it is the policy of the people of San Francisco to call on the Federal Government to ask all Federal taxpayers, at the time they report their federal taxes, whether they wish that any part of their tax contribution be used for excessive military expenditures. This policy shall also be published for the people of San Francisco in major city newspapers.

Section 3. The Chief Administrative Officer shall be responsible for the publication of an annual report citing the amount of all federal tax monies collected from San Francisco taxpayers. This annual report shall include the following amounts:
(a) total federal tax revenues contributed by all San Francisco taxpayers;
(b) portion of the revenues in 3(a) budgeted for any type of military expenditures;
(c) portion of revenues in 3(a) budgeted for excessive military expenditures;
(d) portion of revenues in 3(a) budgeted for social or human needs;
(e) average individual tax contribution;
(f) average individual tax contribution allocated to (1) excessive military expenditures and (2) social needs.

The Board of Supervisors shall appoint a Citizen's Advisory Committee every year to oversee the preparation of the report and to ensure that its findings are accurate and impartial. The Citizen's Advisory Committee shall consist of seven members, at least three of whom shall be volunteers from renowned Peace organizations in San Francisco.

The report shall use the most current figures available from the federal government at the time of publication, citing the sources for the computations. If the necessary tax and budgetary breakdowns for San Francisco were not available, the report shall base itself upon tax revenue and budgetary figures for the entire nation (or subdivision thereof) and produce accurate extrapolations.

The Chief Administrative Officer shall publish the report in the two newspapers of largest circulation in San Francisco, no earlier than 14 days before but no later than the normal deadline for the filing of federal income taxes for individuals.

PROPOSITION J

(Declaration of Policy): Shall it be the policy of San Francisco that no pension funds administered by the City be invested in business entities that do business in South Africa until apartheid is abolished and black people are given full political and civil rights in South Africa?

YES 283

NO 284

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City and County of San Francisco has no policy about the investment of pension funds with organizations that do business in South Africa.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition J would make it the official policy of the City and County of San Francisco and its agencies not to invest pension funds in corporations or other organizations that do business in South Africa. This would be the official policy until Black people are given full political and civil rights by the government of South Africa.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want it to be the official policy of the City and County of San Francisco not to invest pension funds in corporations or other organizations that do business in South Africa.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the City and County of San Francisco to have an official policy against investing pension funds with organizations that do business in South Africa.

How “J” Got on Ballot

On August 24 Registrar of Voters Jay Patterson certified that the initiative petition on South African investment policy had a sufficient number of signatures to be placed on the ballot.

Julianne Malveaux, the official proponent of the petition drive, had gathered 11,404 signatures which she turned in to the Registrar on August 8.

A random check of the petition showed that 8,520 of the signatures were valid. This is more than the 7,332 signatures needed to qualify an initiative declaration of policy for the ballot.

Controller’s Statement on “J”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition J:

“Should the proposed initiative measure be adopted, in my opinion, it would not, in and of itself, affect the cost of government. However, as a product of its application, investment income may be affected in an indeterminate but possibly substantial amount.”
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

We support removing city pension funds from companies that do business with South Africa because we believe the city of San Francisco should not support the reprehensible institution of apartheid. Non-whites in South Africa are denied freedom of association, freedom of mobility, freedom of speech, and voting rights. San Franciscans support this inequality when city pension funds are invested in companies that do business with South Africa.

This investment is also a very risky investment since any civil unrest in South Africa may lower the value of the investment. Other investment possibilities will equal or exceed current yields on the pension portfolio.

We support this initiative because we support equal rights for all, and because we believe in prudent investment of city pension funds.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

By supporting Proposition J, San Franciscans join citizens from fourteen other cities, including Washington, D.C., Boston, and Berkeley, in removing city pension funds from companies that do business with South Africa. Our support strikes a blow against the apartheid policy that has denied Black and non-white people equal rights in South Africa.

Removing pension funds from South Africa makes good economic sense. International investment advisors recommend against such investment because of the frailty of the South African political situation. Significantly, none of the cities that have divested funds from South Africa have had lower earnings since divestment.

It is both morally just and fiscally sound to vote YES for Proposition J!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

As Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, I am proud that we were the first state in the nation to vote to sell from our public pension fund portfolio all investments in firms doing business in South Africa. Since the passage of this landmark legislation, it has been our experience that divestiture makes not only a strong moral statement against apartheid, but divestiture has proven to have had no negative impact on our pension earnings.

I urge San Franciscans to give serious consideration to both the moral and the financial arguments as you consider divestiture as a policy of your great city.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

For over a decade individuals and institutional investors, including local and state governments, universities, foundations, churches, Taft-Hartley pension funds and health and welfare plans have refused to invest in, and divested from corporations and financial institutions economically supporting apartheid in South Africa.

They are investing and earning competitive returns in housing, small business, alternative energy, and other socially productive investments which create employment and prevent capital from being exported to South Africa.

It is fiduciarily irresponsible to risk beneficiaries' pension assets by investing in companies in South Africa.

Many trade and corporate risk analysts have recommended no investment exposure in South Africa. The Rockefeller Study Commission on U.S. policy toward Southern Africa, recently recommended no new corporate investments in that white, minority ruled country.

Vote to create jobs, housing and small business in your community, not apartheid in South Africa. Vote YES on Proposition J.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

"For the sake of the children of all South Africans, black and white, for God's sake, for the sake of world peace, the international community must take action, it must exert pressure on South Africa—political pressure, diplomatic pressure and above all, economic pressure." (Bishop Desmond Tutu, General Secretary-South African Council of Churches, 1981)

The apartheid system continues because of Western support. The South African Council of Churches has said "foreign investors must know they are investing to buttress one of the most vicious systems since Nazism." As members of the international religious community, we can no longer let others make decisions which contradict all that we believe in. We urge San Franciscans to vote yes on Proposition J as a specific, responsible way to express their moral rejection of apartheid.

I support Proposition J and encourage a statewide effort to remove pension funds from companies that do business with South Africa.

As unionists and human rights advocates we support this measure.

Disregard any self-serving statements by Peter Ashe, Meta Stanley, and their controversial Retirement Board in connection with Proposition J.

The Rainbow Coalition and all members, support this initiative. Stop investments of San Francisco pension funds in companies that do business in South Africa. Support Human Rights. People have a right to know that their pension funds are being used to support a racist, repressive, apartheid system, that denies basic human and civil rights to 24 million Africans. We have a right to know that a Black man can be detained in the South African penal system for as long as two years, for not having identification. That Black people there are denied the right to vote, buy or sell land, and the right to live or work where they choose. Support Human Rights. Vote in favor of prop. J.

The government of South Africa, like the government of El Salvador, denies its people the most basic human rights: freedom from arbitrary arrest and torture; freedom of speech and association; and the right to a decent standard of living.

In 1983, San Franciscans said no to military aid to El Salvador. In 1984, let us say no to investments in South Africa.

Timothy J. Twomey

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

South African apartheid is condemned the world over. Even the Reagan Administration expresses opposition.

Yet South Africa and apartheid continue to flourish, subjecting all non-whites to the vilest humiliations, discrimination, and exploitation.

San Francisco supports apartheid through our investment of municipal pension funds in companies that do business in South Africa. By their very presence there, these companies maintain the status quo. Otherwise, the ruling white minority would not welcome these investments! We allow apartheid to continue, despite all the rhetoric we direct at South Africa.

San Franciscans can make responsible investments elsewhere. Voting YES on J, we join other cities in cutting the taproot—foreign finance— which allows the horrors of South Africa to go on, and on, and on. . . . End it! Vote YES, against apartheid!

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, as follows:

Section 1. Public Utilities Commission Revenue Bonds

Shall the Public Utilities Commission of the City and County of San Francisco issue revenue bonds in the principal amount of $104,000,000 pursuant to Charter Section 7.312 to provide funds for acquiring, constructing, financing, improving and developing additions, betterments and improvements to the San Francisco Water Department water supply, storage and distribution system, including filtration and treatment works and plants, reservoirs and other water supply, storage and distribution facilities, lands and equipment necessary or convenient for the San Francisco Water Department water supply, storage and distribution system?

Section 2. Said revenue bonds in the principal amount of $104,000,000 (herein called the “Bonds”) are proposed to be issued to finance improvements to an enterprise (herein called the “Enterprise”) which is herein defined to be the City and County of San Francisco municipal water supply, storage and distribution systems of the San Francisco Water Department, including all of the presently existing municipal water system of the City and County and all additions, betterments, extensions and improvements thereto. Said existing water system and the proposed improvements thereto shall constitute a single, unified integrated enterprise, and the revenues therefrom shall be pledged to the payment of the bonds. It is hereby found and determined that said municipal water system is necessary to enable the City and County to exercise its municipal powers and functions, namely, to furnish sufficient water for any present or future beneficial use of the City and County.

(a) The purpose for which the Bonds are proposed to be issued is to provide funds for acquiring, constructing, financing, improving and developing San Francisco Water Department facilities, including any expenses incidental thereto or connected therewith.

(b) The estimated costs of the acquisition, construction, financing, improvement and development is $104,000,000. Said estimated cost includes all costs and expenses incidental thereto or connected therewith, engineering, inspection, legal and fiscal agents’ fees, cost of the revenue bond election and of the issuance of the Bonds, bond reserve funds, and working capital and bond interest estimated to accrue during the construction period and for a period of not to exceed 12 months after completion of construction.

(c) The maximum principal amount of the Bonds proposed to be issued is $104,000,000.

Section 3. The Board of Supervisors hereby submits to the qualified voters of the City and County of San Francisco at said special revenue bond election the proposition set forth in Section 1 of this resolution, and designates and refers to said proposition in the form of ballot hereinafter prescribed for use at said election.

(a) Said special revenue bond election shall be held and conducted, and the votes thereafter canvassed and the returns thereof made, and the result thereof ascertained and determined as herein provided; and in all particulars not described by this resolution, said special election shall be held and the votes canvassed pursuant to law for general municipal elections in the City and County and pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 52 of the San Francisco Administrative Code.

(b) All persons qualified to vote at municipal elections in the City and County upon the date of the election herein provided for shall be qualified to vote upon the proposition submitted at said special revenue bond election.

(c) Said special revenue bond election is hereby consolidated with the general municipal election to be held in the City and County on November 6, 1984, pursuant to the Charter of the City and County. The precincts, polling places and officers of election for said special revenue bond election shall be the same as those established.

If and to the extent that voting machines are used at said special revenue bond election such machines shall be so arranged that any qualified voter may vote for said proposition by pulling down a lever over the word “YES” under or near a statement of said proposition appearing on cardboard, paper or other material placed on the front of the machine, and said act shall constitute a vote for said proposition, and may vote against it by pulling down a lever over the word “NO” under or near a statement of said proposition appearing on cardboard, paper or other material placed on the front of the machine, and said act shall constitute a vote against said proposition. The statement of said proposition appearing on cardboard, paper or other material used in voting machines shall read substantially as follows:

$104,000,000 San Francisco Water Department Revenue Bonds.

Said voting machines and the preparation of the same shall comply in all respects with law.

Section 4. If the proposition set forth in Section 1 of this resolution shall be authorized by the qualified voters of the City and County by the votes of a majority of all the voters voting on said proposition, the Bonds may be issued and sold for the purpose set forth in Section 2 of this resolution.

The Bonds are to be revenue bonds, payable exclusively from the revenues of the Enterprise and such other funds from any source as may be legally available for such purpose and may be used by the City and County for such purpose without incurring indebtedness. The Bonds are not to be secured by the taxing power of the City and County, and shall be issued under Section 7.312 of the Charter of the City and County. The principal of and interest on the Bonds and any premiums upon the redemption of any thereof shall not constitute a debt of the City and County, nor a legal or equitable pledge, charge, lien or encumbrance upon any of its property, or upon any of its income, receipts or revenues except the revenues of the Enterprise and any other funds that may be legally applied, pledged or otherwise made available to their payment. The Bonds, if authorized, shall be special obligations of the Public Utilities Commission and shall be secured by a pledge and shall be a charge upon, and shall be payable, as to the principal thereof, interest thereon, and any premiums upon the redemption of any thereof, solely from and secured by a lien upon the revenues of the Enterprise and such funds as may be described in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the Bonds.

The Bonds shall not constitute or evidence indebtedness of the City and County but shall constitute and evidence only an indebtedness of the Public Utilities Commission payable solely out of revenues received by the Public Utilities Commission from San Francisco Water Department facilities operated or controlled by it. The Bonds shall not be included in the bonded debt limit provided for in Section 6.401 of the Charter.

Section 5. This resolution shall be printed in the voters' pamphlet and mailed to each registered voter pursuant to Section 9.105 of the Charter of the City and County.

In no event shall a member's retirement allowance exceed seventy-five percent of his average final compensation.

Before the first payment of a retirement allowance is made, a member retired under this subsection or subsection E (e) of this section, may elect to receive the actuarial equivalent of his allowance, partly in an allowance to be received by him throughout his life, and partly in other benefits payable after his death to another person or persons, provided that such election shall be subject to all the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors to govern similar elections by other members of the retirement system, including the character and amount, of such other benefits; provided, however, that at any time within thirty 30 days after the date on which his compulsory retirement would otherwise have become effective, a member who has attained the age of sixty-five 65 years may elect, without right to revocation, to withdraw his accumulated contributions, said election to be exercised in writing on a form furnished by the retirement system and filed at the office of said system and a member so electing shall be considered as having terminated his membership in said system on the date immediately preceding the date on which his compulsory retirement would otherwise have become effective and he shall be paid forthwith his accumulated contributions, with interest credited thereon. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 8.514 of the charter, the portion of service retirement allowance provided by the city and county's contributions shall be not less than one hundred ($100) dollars per month upon retirement after thirty years of service and after attaining the age of sixty years, and provided further that as to any member within fifteen years or more of service at the compulsory retirement age of sixty-five, the portion of the service retirement allowance provided by the city and county's contribution shall be such that the total retirement allowance shall not be less than one hundred ($100) dollars per month. In the calculations under this subsection of the retirement allowance of a member having credit for service in a position in the evening schools and service in any other position, separate retirement allowances shall be calculated, in the manner prescribed for each class of service, the average final compensation in each case being that for the respective class of service; provided that the aggregate retirement allowance shall be taken into account in applying the provisions of this subsection providing for a minimum retirement allowance. Part time service and compensation shall be reduced to full time service and compensation in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, and when so reduced shall be applied on full time service and compensation in the calculation of retirement allowances.

\(\text{E (e)}\) Any member who becomes incapacitated for performance of duty because of disability determined by the retirement board to be of extended and uncertain duration, and who shall have completed at least ten years of service credited in the retirement system in the aggregate, computed as provided in subsection \(\text{G (g)}\) hereof, shall be retired upon an allowance of one and eight-tenths percent of the average final compensation of said member, as defined in subsection \(\text{A (a)}\) hereof for each year of credited service, if such retirement allowance exceeds forty percent of his average final compensation; otherwise one and eight-tenths percent of his average final compensation multiplied by the number of years of city-service which would be credited to him were such city-service to continue until attainment by him of age sixty, but such retirement allowance shall not exceed forty percent of such average final compensation. In the calculation under this subsection of the retirement allowance of a member having credit for service in a position in the evening schools and service in any other position, separate retirement allowance shall be calculated, in the manner prescribed for each class of service, the average final compensation in each case being that for the respective class of service; provided that the average final compensation upon which the minimum total retirement allowance is calculated in such case shall be based on the compensation earnable by the member in the classes of service rendered by him during the one (1) year immediately preceding his retirement. Part time service and compensation shall be reduced to full time service and compensation in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, and when so reduced shall be applied as full time service and compensation in the calculation of retirement allowances. The question of retiring a member under this subsection may be brought before the retirement board on said board's own motion, by recommendation of any commission or board, or by said member or his guardian. If his disability shall cease, his retirement allowance shall cease, and he shall be restored to service in the position or classification he occupied at the time of his retirement.

\(\text{D (d)}\) No modification of benefits provided in this section shall be made because of any amounts payable to or on account of any member under \text{workers' workers' compensation laws of the State of California.}

\(\text{(1)}\) If no benefit is payable under subdivision (2) of this subsection \(\text{E (e)}\):

\(\text{A (A)}\) Regardless of cause, a death benefit shall be paid to his \text{the member's estate or designated beneficiary consisting of the compensation earnable by him the member during the six months immediately preceding death, plus his the member's contributions and interest credited thereon.}

\(\text{B (B)}\) If a member sustains a traumatic bodily injury through external and violent means in the course and scope of employment and death results within 180 days of such injury, an additional insurance benefit of twelve months of compensation earnable shall be paid to the member's estate or designated beneficiary.

\(\text{(2)}\) If, at the date of his death, he was qualified for service retirement by reason of service and age under the provisions of subsection \(\text{B (b)}\) of this section, and he has designated as beneficiary his surviving spouse, who was married to him for at least one full year immediately prior to the date of his death, one-half of the retirement allowance to which the member would have been entitled if he had retired for service on the date of his death shall be paid to such surviving spouse who was his designated beneficiary at the date of his death, until such spouse's death or remarriage, or if there be no surviving spouse, to the unmarried child or children of such member under the age of eighteen years, collectively, until every such child dies, marries or attains the age of eighteen years, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of eighteen years. If, at the death of such surviving spouse, who was receiving an allowance under this subdivision (2), there be one or more unmarried children of such member under the age of eighteen years, such allowance shall continue to such child or children collectively, until every such child dies, marries or attains the age of eighteen years, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of eighteen years. If the total of the payments of allowance made pursuant to this subdivision (2) is less than the benefit which was otherwise payable under subdivision (1) of this subsection, the amount of said benefit payable under subdivision (1) less an amount equal to the total of the payments of allowance made pursuant to this subdivision (2) shall be paid in a lump sum as follows:

\(\text{a (A)}\) If the person last entitled to said allowance is the remarried surviving spouse of such member, to such spouse.

\(\text{b (B)}\) Otherwise, to the surviving children of the member, share and share alike, or if there are no such children, to the estate of the person last entitled to said allowance.

The surviving spouse may elect, on a form provided by the retirement system and filed in the office of the retirement system before the first payment of the allowance provided herein, to receive the benefit provided in subdivision (1) of this subsection in lieu of the allowance which otherwise would be payable under the provisions of this subdivision. If a surviving spouse, who was entitled to make the election herein provided, shall die before or after making such election but before receiving any payment pursuant to such election, then the legally appointed guardian of the unmarried children of the member under the age of eighteen years may make the election herein provided before any benefit has been paid under this subsection \(\text{E (e)}\), for and on behalf of such children if in his judgment it appears to be in their interest and advantage and the election so made shall be binding and conclusive upon all parties in interest.

If any person other than such surviving spouse shall have and be paid a community property interest in any portion of any benefit provided under this subsection \(\text{E (e)}\), any allowance payable under this subdivision (2) shall be reduced by the actuarial equivalent, at the date of the member's death, of the amount of benefit paid to such other person.

Upon the death of a member after retirement and regardless of the cause of death, a death benefit shall be paid to his estate or designated beneficiary in the manner and subject to the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors for the payment of a similar death benefit upon the death of other retired members.

\(\text{F (f)}\) Should any miscellaneous member cease to be employed as such a member, through any cause other than death or retirement, all of his contributions, with interest credited thereon, shall be refunded to him subject to the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors to cover similar terminations of employment and reemployment with and without redeposit of withdrawn accumulated contributions of other members of the retirement system.
provided that if such member is entitled to be credited with at least ten years of service or if his accumulated contributions exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), he shall have the right to elect, without right of revocation and within ninety 90 days after said termination of service, or if the termination was by lay-off, ninety 90 days after the retirement board determines the termination to be permanent, whether to allow his accumulated contributions to remain in the retirement fund and to receive benefits only as provided in this paragraph. Failure to make such election shall be deemed an irrevocable election to withdraw his accumulated contributions. A person who elects to allow his accumulated contributions to remain in the retirement fund shall be subject to the same age requirements as apply to other members under this section for service retirement but he shall not be subject to a minimum service requirement. Upon the qualification of such member for retirement by reason of age, he shall be entitled to receive a retirement allowance which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions and an equal amount of the contributions of the city and county, plus one and two-thirds (1 2/3) percent of his average final compensation for each year of service credited to him as rendered prior to his first membership in the retirement system. Upon the death of such member prior to retirement, his contributions with interest credited thereon shall be paid to his estate or designated beneficiary.

G (g) The following time and service shall be included in the computation of the service to be credited to a member for the purpose of determining whether such member qualifies for retirement and calculating benefits:

(1) Time during which said member is a member of the retirement system and during for which said member is entitled to receive compensation because of services as a miscellaneous officer or employee.

(2) Service in the fire and police departments which is not credited as service of a member under this section shall count under this section upon transfer of a member of either of such departments to employment entitling him to membership in the retirement system under this section, provided that the accumulated contribution standing to the credit of such member shall be adjusted by refund to the member or by payment of the member to bring the account at the time of such transfer to the amount which would have been credited to it had the member been a miscellaneous employee throughout the period of his service in either of such departments at the compensation he received in such departments.

(3) Time during which said member is absent from a status included in paragraphs (1) or (2) next preceding which is not deemed absence from service under the provisions of section 8.520 of the charter and for which such member is entitled to receive credit as service for the city and county by virtue of contributions made in accordance with the provisions of such section.

(4) Prior service determined and credited as prescribed by the board of supervisors for persons who are members under section 8.507.

(5) The board of supervisors, by ordinance enacted by a three-fourths vote of its members, may provide for the crediting as service under the retirement system of service, other than military service, rendered as an employee of the federal government and services rendered as an employee of the State of California or any public entity or public agency in the State of California. Said ordinance shall provide that all contributions required as the result of the crediting of such service shall be made by the member and that no contributions therefore shall be required of the city and county.

H (h) All payments provided under this section shall be made from funds derived from the following sources, plus interest earned on said funds:

(1) There shall be deducted from each payment of compensation made to a member under section 8.509 a sum equal to seven and one-half (7-1/2) percent of such payment of compensation. The sum so deducted shall be paid forthwith to the retirement system. Said contribution shall be credited to the individual account of the member from whose salary it was deducted, and the total of said contributions, together with interest credited thereon in the same manner as is prescribed by the board of supervisors for crediting interest to contributions of other members of the retirement system, shall be applied to provide part of the retirement allowance granted to, or allowance granted on account of said member under section 8.509, or shall be paid to said member or his estate or beneficiary as provided in sections 8.509(e) and 8.509(f).

(2) Contributions based on time included in paragraphs (1) and (3) of subsection G (g), and deducted prior to July 1, 1947, from compensation of persons who become members under this section, and standing with interest thereon, to the credit of such members on the records of the retirement system on said date, shall continue to be credited to the individual account of said members and shall be combined with and administered in the same manner as the contributions deducted after said date.

(3) The total contributions, with interest thereon, made by or charged against the city and county and standing to its credit, on July 1, 1948, in the accounts of the retirement system, on account of persons who become members under this section, shall be applied to provide the benefits under this section.

(4) The city and county shall contribute to the retirement system such amounts as may be necessary, when added to the contributions referred to in the preceding paragraphs of this subsection H (h), to provide the benefits payable under this section. Such contributions of the city and county to provide the portion of the benefits hereunder which shall be based on service rendered by each member prior to the date upon which his rate of contribution is determined in paragraph (1), subsection H (h), shall not be less during any fiscal year than the amount of such benefits paid during said year. Such contributions of the city and county to provide the portion of the benefits hereunder which shall be based on service rendered by respective members on and after the date stated in the next preceding sentence, shall be made in annual installments, and the installment to be paid in any year shall be determined by the application of a percentage to the total salaries paid during said year, to persons who are members under this section, said percentage to be the ratio of the value of the effective date hereof, or at the later date of a periodical actuarial valuation and investigation into the experience under the system, of the benefits thereafter to be paid under this section, from contributions of the city and county, less the amount of such contributions, and plus accumulated interest thereon, then held by said system to provide said benefits on account of service rendered by respective member after the date stated in the sentence next preceding, to the value at said respective dates of salaries thereafter payable to said members. Said values shall be determined by the actuary, who shall take into account the interest which shall be earned on said contributions, the compensation experience of members, and the probabilities of separation by all causes, of members from service before retirement and of death after retirement. Said percentage shall be changed only on the basis of said periodical actuarial valuation and investigation into the experience under the system. Said actuarial valuation shall be made every even-numbered year and said investigation into the experience under the system shall be made every odd-numbered year.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subdivision 5 (4), any additional liabilities created by the amendments of this section 8.509 contained in the proposition therefore submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1973, shall be amortized over a period of thirty 30 years.

(5) To promote the stability of the retirement system, through a joint participation in the result of variations in the experience under mortality, investment and other contingencies, the contributions of both members and the city and county, held by the system to provide the benefits under this section, shall be a part of the fund in which all other assets of said system are included. Nothing in the section shall affect the obligations of the city and county to pay to the retirement system any amounts which may or shall become due under the provision of the charter prior to the effective date herof, and which are represented on July 1, 1947, in the accounts of said system by debits against the city and county.

† (i) Upon the completion of the years of service set forth in Subsection B (b) of this section as requisite to retirement, a member shall be entitled to retire at any time thereafter in accordance with the provisions of said subsection B (b), and nothing shall deprive said member of said right.

† (j) No person retired under this section, for service or disability and entitled to receive a retirement allowance under the retirement system, shall serve in any elective or appointive position in the city and county service, including membership on boards and commissions, nor shall such persons receive any payment for service rendered to the city and county after retirement, provided that service as a election officer or juror shall not be affected by this section.

(6) (k) Any section or part of any section in this charter, insofar as it should conflict with this section, or with any part thereof, shall be superseded by the contents of this section. In the event that any word, phrase, clause or subsection of this section shall be adjudged unconstitutional, the remainder thereof shall remain in full force and effect.

(7) (l) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections B (b), e (c), F (f) and † (i) of this section, any member convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, committed in connection with his duties as an officer or employee of the City and County of San Francisco, shall, upon his removal from office or employment pursuant to the provisions of this charter, forfeit all rights to any benefits under the retirement system except refund of his accumulated contributions; provided, however, that if such member is qualified for service retirement by reason of service and age under the provisions of subsection B (b) of this section, he shall have the right to elect, without right of revocation and within ninety 90 days after his removal from office or employment, whether to withdraw all of his accumulated contributions or to receive as his sole benefit under the retirement system an annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions at the time of such removal from office or employment.

(M) The amendments of this section contained in the proposition therefore submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1973, shall be effective on the first day of the month next following their ratification by the State Legislature. Said amendments do not and shall not increase any allowance first in effect prior to the effective date of said amendments, no shall they give any person retired prior to said effective date, or his successors in interest, any claim against the city and county for any increase in any retirement allowance paid or payable for time prior to said effective date.

The amendment of Section 8.509 contained in the proposition submitted to the electorate on November 2, 1982 shall be effective July 1, 1983.

(m) The amendments of this section contained in the proposition submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1984 are hereby declared to be prospective and shall not give any person a claim against the city and county relating to a death prior to ratification of this amendment by the State Legislature.

8.584-5 Death Benefit

If a member shall die, before his retirement, regardless of cause:

(a) If no benefit is payable under Subsection B (b) of this section:

(1) Regardless of cause, a death benefit shall be paid to his the member’s estate or designated beneficiary consisting of the compensation earnable by him the member during the six months immediately preceding death, plus his the member’s contributions and interest credited thereon.

(2) If a member sustains a traumatic bodily injury through external and violent means in the course and scope of employment and death results within 180 days of such injury, an additional insurance benefit of twelve months of compensation earnable shall be paid to the member’s estate or designated beneficiary.

(b) If, at the date of his death, he was qualified for service retirement by reason of service and age under the provisions of Section 8.584-2, and he has designated as beneficiary his surviving spouse, who was married to him for at least one full year immediately prior to the date of his death, one-half of the retirement allowance to which the member would have been entitled if he had retired for service on the date of his death, shall be paid to such surviving spouse who was his designated beneficiary at the date of his death, until such spouse’s death or remarriage, or if there be no surviving spouse, to the unmarried child or children of such member under the age of 18 eighteen years, collectively, until every such child dies, marries or attains the age of 18 eighteen years, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of 18 eighteen years. If, at the death of such surviving spouse, who was receiving an allowance under this subsection (b), there be one or more unmarried children of such member under the age of 18 eighteen years, such allowance shall continue to such child or children, collectively, until every such child dies, marries or attains the age of 18 eighteen years, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of 18 eighteen years. If the total of the payments of allowance made pursuant to this subsection (b) is less than the benefit which was otherwise payable under subsection (a) of this section, the amount of said benefit payable under subsection (a) less an amount equal to the total of the payments of allowance made pursuant to this subsection (b) shall be paid in a lump sum as follows:

(1) If the person last entitled to said allowance is the remarried surviving spouse of such member, to such spouse.

(2) Otherwise, to the surviving children of the member, share and share alike, or if there are no such children, to the estate of the person last entitled to said allowance.

The surviving spouse may elect, on a form provided by the retirement system and filed in the office of the retirement system before the first payment of the allowance provided herein, to receive the benefit provided in this subsection (a) of this section in lieu of the allowance which otherwise would be payable under the provisions of this subdivision. If a surviving spouse, who was entitled to make the election herein provided, shall die before or after making such election but before receiving any payment pursuant to such election, then the legally appointed guardian of the unmarried children of the member under the age of 18 eighteen years may make the election herein provided before any benefit has been paid under this section, for and on behalf of such children if in his judgment it appears to be in their interest and advantage, and the election so made shall be binding and conclusive upon all parties in interest. If any person other than such surviving spouse shall have and be paid a community property interest in any portion of any benefit provided under this section, any allowance payable under this subsection (b) shall be reduced by the actuarial equivalent, at the date of the member's death, of the amount of benefits paid to such other person.

Upon the death of a member after retirement and regardless of the cause of death, a death benefit shall be paid to his estate or designated beneficiary in the manner and subject to the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors for the payment of a similar death benefit upon the death of other retired members.

Upon the death of a member after retirement, an allowance, in addition to the death benefit provided in the immediately preceding paragraph, shall be paid to his surviving spouse, until such surviving spouse's death or remarriage, equal to one-half of his retirement allowance as it was prior to optional modification and prior to reduction as provided in subsection (a) of Section 8.514 of this charter, but exclusive of the part of such allowance which was provided by additional contributions. No allowance, however, shall be paid under this paragraph to a surviving spouse unless such surviving spouse was married to said member at least one year prior to his retirement. If such retired person leaves no such surviving spouse, or if such surviving spouse should die or remarry before every child of such deceased retired person attains the age of eighteen years, the allowance which such surviving spouse would have received had he or she lived and not remarried shall be paid to retired person's child or children under said age, collectively, to continue until every such child dies or attains said age, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of eighteen years.

The amendments of this section contained in the proposition submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1984 are hereby declared to be prospective and shall not give any person a claim against the city and county relating to a death prior to ratification of this amendment by the State Legislature.

The decision of the commission shall be final. Immediately prior to the expiration of the probationary period the appointing officer shall report to the civil service commission as to the competence of the probationer for the position, and if competent, shall recommend permanent appointment. Nothing in this section shall preclude the civil service commission from reviewing terminations for the purpose of future employability including terminations in the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments.

NOTE: Additions or substitutions are indicated by bold-face type; deletions are indicated by strike-out type.

8.405 Salaries of Uniformed Forces in the Police and Fire Departments.

(a) Not later than the 1st day of August of each year, the civil service commission shall survey and certify to the board of supervisors rates of compensation paid police officers or patrolmen patrol officers employed in the respective police departments in all cities of 350,000 population or over in the State of California, based upon the latest federal decennial census. For the purpose of the civil service commission's survey and certification the rates contained in said certification shall be the average of the maximum rates paid to each police officer or patrolman patrol officer classification performing the same or essentially the same duties as police officers or patrolmen patrol officers in the City and County of San Francisco.

Thereupon the Board of Supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, by ordinance, to fix rates of compensation for the members of the police department whose annual compensations are set forth in Section 3.531 of this Charter and said rates shall be in lieu of said annual compensations and shall be effective from the first day of July of the current fiscal year.

The rates of compensation, fixed in said ordinance,

(1) for the fourth year of service and thereafter for police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers the compensation shall be fixed at a rate which is the average maximum wage paid to the police officers or patroinen patrol officer classifications in regular service in the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission. "Average wage" as used in this paragraph shall mean the sum of the maximum averages certified by the civil service commission divided by the number of police officer classifications in cities in said certification;

(2) for the first, second and third year of service for police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers shall be established in accordance with the general percentage differential between seniority steps found in the salary ranges included in the cities certified by the civil service commission for the same class;

(3) for said members of the police department other than police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers shall include the same percent of adjustment as that established by said ordinance for police officers in the fourth year of service; and

(4) shall be set at the dollar amount nearest the fractional amount which may result from percentage adjustment specified in this section, half dollars being taken to the next higher dollar amount.

The rates of compensation set forth in the budget estimates, the budget and the annual salary ordinance shall be those fixed by the board of supervisors as in this section provided and appropriations therefor shall be based thereon.

The expression "rates of compensation", as used in this section in relation to said survey, is hereby declared to apply only to a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, and does not include such working benefits as might be set up by any other city by way of holidays, vacations, other permitted absences of any type whatsoever, overtime, night or split shift, or pay for specialized services within a classification or rank, or other premium pay differentials of any type whatsoever. The foregoing enumeration is not exclusive, but it is the intent of this section that nothing other than a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, is to be included within the meaning of "rates of compensation".

Working benefits and premium pay differential of any type shall be allowed or paid to members of the police department referred to herein only as is otherwise provided in this charter.

For all purposes of the retirement system, the expression "rates of compensation" as used in this section, shall mean "salary attached to the rank" as used in Section 166 of the charter of 1932, as amended, and, with the addition of fifteen dollars ($15.00) per month now provided in Subsection (b) with respect to members assigned to two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty, shall also mean compensation "earnable" as used in Section 8.549.

The term "police officers or patroinen patrol officers" as used in this section shall mean the persons employed in the police departments of said cities of 350,000 population or over or of the City and County of San Francisco, to perform substantially the duties being performed on the effective date of this section by police officers, police patrol drivers and women protective officers in the San Francisco Police Department.

In determining years of service necessary for a police officer, woman protective officer and police patrol driver to receive the annual compensation as provided for herein, service rendered prior to the effective date of this amendment shall be given full credit and allowed.

The absence of any police officer, woman protective officer or police patrol driver on military leave, as defined by Section 8.361 of this Charter, shall be reckoned a part of his service under the city and county, for the purpose of computing years of service in gaining added compensation as provided for herein.

On the recommendation of the chief of police, the commission, may reward any member of the department for heroic or meritorious conduct. The form or amount of said reward is to be discretionary with the commission, but not to exceed one month's salary in any one instance.

If any member of the department appointed as an assistant inspector is a sergeant at the time of the appointment or is appointed a sergeant thereafter, he such member shall receive the rate of compensation attached to the rank of sergeant.

(b) Not later than the first day of August of each year the civil service commission shall survey, and certify to the board of supervisors, additional rates of pay paid to members assigned to all two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty in the respective police departments of all cities of 350,000 population or over in the State of California, based upon the latest decennial census. For the purpose of the civil service commission's survey and certification the additional rates for two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty shall include the average additional amount paid to members assigned to two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty in the cities surveyed.

Thereupon the board of supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, by ordinance, to fix the additional rate of pay for the members of the police department who are assigned two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty. The additional rate of pay will be determined by the average additional wage paid to members in regular service in the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission who are assigned to two-wheel motorcycle traffic duty. "Average wage" as used in this paragraph shall mean the sum of the additional rates of pay certified by the civil service commission divided by the number of cities in said certification. Said additional rates shall be in lieu of said annual compensations and shall be effective from the first day of July of the current fiscal year.

Said rate of pay shall be in addition to the rate of compensation provided for in Subsection (a).

In no event shall the additional rate so fixed be less than fifteen dollars ($15.00) per month.

(c) Not later than the first day of August of each year, the civil service commission shall survey and certify to the board of supervisors rates of compensation paid fireman firefighters employed in the respective fire departments of all cities of 350,000 population or over in the State of California, based upon the latest federal decennial census. For the purpose of the civil service commission's survey and certification the rates contained in said certification shall be the average of the maximum rates paid to each fireman firefighter classification performing the same or essentially the same duties as fireman firefighters in the City and County of San Francisco.

Thereupon, the board of supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, by ordinance, to fix rates of compensation for the members of the fire department whose annual compensations are set forth or otherwise provided in section 3.542 of this charter, and said rates shall be in lieu of said annual compensations and shall be effective from the first day of July of the current fiscal year.

The rates of compensation, fixed in said ordinance,

(1) for the fourth year of service and thereafter the rate of compensation shall be fixed at a rate which is the average of the maximum compensation paid firemen firefightert classifications in regular service in the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission. "Average wage" as used in this paragraph shall mean the sum of the maximum averages certified by the civil service commission divided by the number of firemen firefightert classifications in cities in said certification;

(2) for the first, second and third year of service for firemen firefightert shall be established in accordance with the general percentage differential between seniority steps found in the salary ranges included in the cities certified by the civil service commission for the same class;

(3) for said members of the fire department other than firemen firefightert shall include the same percent of adjustment as that established by said ordinance for firemen firefightert in the fourth year of service; and

(4) shall be set at the dollar amount nearest the fractional amount which may result from percentage adjustment specified in this section, half dollars being taken to the next higher dollar amount.

The expression "rates of compensation" as used in this section, in relation to said survey, is hereby declared to apply only to a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, and does not include such working benefits as might be set up by any other city by way of holidays, vacations, other permitted absences for any type whatsoever, overtime, night or split shift, or pay for specialized services within a classification or rank, or other premium pay differentials of any type whatsoever. The foregoing enumeration is not exclusive, but it is the intent of this section that nothing other than a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, is to be included within the meaning of "rates of compensation". Working benefits and premium pay differentials of any type shall be allowed or paid to members of the fire department referred to herein only as is otherwise provided in this charter. For all purposes of the retirement system, the expression "rates of compensation", as used in subsections (c) and (d) of this section shall mean "salary attached to the rank" as used in section 169 of the charter of 1932, as amended and "compensation comparable" as used in section 8.549.

The term firemen "firefighters" as used in this section shall mean the persons employed, in the fire departments of said cities of 350,000 population or over or of the City and County of San Francisco, to perform substantially the duties being performed on the effective rate of this section by drivers, stokers, fillermen, truckmen, or horsemen, in the San Francisco Fire Department.

The expression "members of the fire department" does not include members of the fire commission.

The absence of any officer or member of the fire department on military leave of absence, as defined by section 8.361 of this charter, shall be reckoned a part of his such member's service under the city and county, for the purpose of computing years of service in gaining added compensation as provided in this charter.

On the recommendation of the chief of department, the commission may reward any officer or member of the department for heroic or meritorious conduct, the form or amount of said award to be discretionary with the fire commission, but not to exceed one month's salary in any one instance.

The rates of compensation for the ranks of captain, bureau of fire prevention and public safety, and lieutenant, bureau of fire investigation, shall be thirteen percent (13%) above the compensation established for the ranks of captain and lieutenant as provided for in this section. The rates of compensation for the ranks of inspector, bureau of fire prevention and public safety, and investigator, bureau of fire investigation, shall be ten percent (10%) above the compensation established for the rank of chief's operator as provided for in this section. The rate of compensation shall be set at the dollar amount nearest the fractional amount which may result from percentage adjustment specified in this subsection, half dollars being taken to the next higher dollar amount.

(d) The rates of compensation fixed pursuant to the provisions of subsection (a) (1), (2) and (3) and the rates of compensation fixed pursuant to the provisions of subsection (c) (1), (2) and (3) shall be the same. Such rates shall not exceed the highest average rate of compensation fixed pursuant to subsections (a) (1), (2) and (3) and (c) (1), (2) and (3) above, whether it be paid to police officers, patrolmen, patrol officers or firemen; firefighters; provided, further, that the minimum rate of compensation attached to the rank of sergeant in the police department shall be equal to the rate of compensation attached to the rank of lieutenant in the fire department.

(e) Not later than the 25th day of August the board of supervisors shall have the power and it shall be its duty, subject to the fiscal provisions of the charter but, without reference or amendment to the annual budget, to amend the annual appropriation ordinance and the annual salary ordinance as necessary to include the provisions of paying the rates of compensation fixed by the board of supervisors as in this section provided for uniformed members of the police and fire departments for the then current fiscal year.

(f) Not later than the first day of August of each year, the civil service commission shall determine and certify to the board of supervisors the percentage of increase or decrease in the cost of living during the twelve-month period ending March 31st of that same year as shown by the Consumer Price Index, All Items San Francisco, and the percentage of increase or decrease in the cost of living during the same period as shown by the Consumer Price Index, All Items, in the cities included in the certified report of said commission. The Consumer Price Index referred to herein is defined as that certain index issued by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and published in the Monthly Labor Review or a successor publication. In the event the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics discontinues the compilation and publication of said indexes, the board of supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to appoint a statistical fact finding committee to determine the same data pursuant to the methods theretofore used by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. The cost of living adjustments as hereinafter provided shall be based upon the percentage of such increases or decreases. The board of supervisors may, in addition to the rates of compensation as established herein, and at the same time said rates of compensation are established, increase said rates of compensation by an amount equal to the difference between the average cost of living increase of the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission and the actual cost of living increase for San Francisco. In the event the board of supervisors elects not to grant such cost of living increase in any year in which any such increase might be granted, the board of supervisors shall, upon a written request filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors not later than the 10th day of September of said year by representatives of the uniformed members of the police and fire departments, as designated by the police and fire commissions, respectively, submit the question of said cost of living increase to the qualified electors of the city and county at the next succeeding city-wide election. In the event said cost of living increase is approved by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon, said cost of living increase shall be effective as of the first day of the then current fiscal year.

(g) Notwithstanding any of the provisions contained in this section, no uniformed member of the police or fire department employed before July 1, 1976, whose compensation is fixed pursuant to the formula contained herein, shall suffer a salary reduction by the application of any new compensation schedules, and the rates for fiscal year 1975–76 shall continue until such time as the new schedules equal or exceed the current salary increment schedules, provided, however, that such time shall not be extended beyond June 30, 1982, and provided further that this prohibition against reduction of compensation for the designated employees shall not be deemed to supersede the provisions of section 8.406 of this charter.

(h) Notwithstanding any of the provisions contained in this section, no uniformed member of the police or fire department, whose compensation is fixed pursuant to the formula contained herein, shall suffer a salary reduction by the application of the compensation schedules provided for herein. Provided, however, that this prohibition against reduction of compensation for the designated employees shall not be deemed to supersede the provisions of section 8.406 of this charter.

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT VOTING

You can vote for any candidate, regardless of party. This is a General Election and you can vote for any candidate on your ballot. Political party restrictions only apply at Primary Elections (in June).

Do not vote for more than the authorized number of candidates or none of your votes for that contest will be counted. Most candidate contests specify "Vote for one" but you can vote for up to six supervisors and up to four School and College Board members. If you make a mistake and vote for more than six candidates for supervisor you can get a replacement ballot.

If you move, you must re-register. The most common complaint we get on election day is that someone can't vote because they have moved and not re-registered. If you have moved, your name will probably not be on the rolls anymore and even if it is, it is not legal to vote using your old polling place (except in certain rare circumstances). Next time you move, don't leave your vote behind; remember to re-register.

You don't have to be sick or out-of-town to get an absentee ballot. Any voter can request an absentee ballot for any reason, or for no reason. To become a "permanent" absentee voter you must be disabled but ordinary absentee voters do not have to have a reason.

Your registration will not necessarily be cancelled if you don't vote but chances of that happening will increase if you don't vote. After the election, we will send a postcard confirming the address of all nonvoters. If the Post Office or the current resident says you don't live there anymore, your registration will be cancelled. No one is automatically cancelled for not voting at any election.

It is not necessary to re-register before each election. Your registration is permanent and will remain in effect until you move, die or are convicted of a felony.

POLL WORKERS NEEDED

Earn $49 to $58 (plus bonuses)!
Meet Your Neighbors!
Serve Your Community!

There is a shortage of poll workers in most San Francisco neighborhoods. Voters who are interested in this important work are encouraged to apply as soon as possible at the Registrar's Office at City Hall. If you apply while there still is a large selection of vacancies, it is probable that you will be assigned to a poll in your own neighborhood.

The Registrar is trying to build a permanent corps of polling officials, therefore housewives and retired people, as well as others who are interested in community service are particularly urged to apply.

The higher-paying and more responsible positions will be reserved for persons who apply in person. Others may mail in the application form provided below:

(The workday is from 6:45 a.m. to about 8:30 p.m., with breaks for lunch and dinner.)

| EXTRA APPLICATION FOR ABSENTEE BALLOT |

Since this page would have been blank anyway, we have used the space to reprint an extra copy of the absentee ballot application form.

Your "real" absentee ballot application appears as a postcard inserted into this book. We would prefer that you use the postcard form because it is easier to process and less likely to get lost.

If two persons in your household are requesting absentee ballots, you may put both postcard forms into an envelope in order to save postage.

The disabled may apply as permanent absentee voters by completing the little box at the bottom of the form. Disabilities that qualify for permanent absentee status include circulatory problems and mobility impairments as well as more severe disabilities.

If you have not yet received your absentee ballot, then you are probably not on our permanent absentee mailing list. The permanent absentee voters' ballots were mailed out the week of October 9th.

CREDITS
The analyses of the ballot measures which appear in this publication were prepared by the San Francisco Ballot Simplification Committee, a non-partisan group appointed by the Mayor and the Board of Supervisors. The members of the Committee are Dick Robertson (Chair), Suzanne Guyette, Roberto Boranovio, Stephanie Salter and Susan Kwock. They were assisted by Thomas Toomey of the City Attorney's Office.
PUNCH OUT BALLOT CARD ONLY WITH PUNCHING DEVICE ATTACHED TO VOTE RECORDER; NEVER WITH PEN OR PENCIL.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS:

To vote for any candidate of your selection, punch the ballot card in the hole at the point of the arrow opposite that candidate's name. Where two or more candidates for the same office are to be elected, punch the ballot card in the hole at the point of the arrow opposite the names of all candidates for the office for whom you desire to vote, not to exceed, however, the number of candidates to be elected.

To vote for a qualified write-in candidate, write the title of the office and the person's name in the blank space provided for that purpose on the Write-In Ballot Envelope.

To vote on any measure, punch the ballot card in the hole at the point of the arrow after the "YES" or after the word "NO".

All distinguishing marks or erasures are forbidden and make the ballot void.

If you wrongly punch, tear, or deface the ballot card, or tear or deface the Write-In Ballot Envelope, return it to the precinct board member and obtain another.

PERFORE LA TARETA DE VOTO UNICAMENTE CON EL PICADOR ATADO EN LA CUERDA AL REGISTRADOR; NO USE PLUMA NI LAPIZ.

INSTRUCCIONES A LOS VOTANTES:

Para votar por candidato de su selección, perforé la balota en el círculo que señala la flecha opuesta al nombre del candidato. Cuando han de ser elegidos dos o más candidatos para el mismo cargo, perforé la balota en el círculo que señala la flecha opuesta de los nombres de todos los candidatos para el cargo por quienes usted desea votar, sin exceder al número de candidatos que ha de ser elegido.

Para votar por un candidato (write-in) calificado, escriba el título del cargo y el nombre de la persona en los espacios en blanco provistos para este fin en el Sobre de la Balota.

Para votar sobre cualquier medida, perforé la balota en el círculo que señala la flecha después de la palabra "SÍ" o después de la palabra "NO".

Todas las marcas o borradoras están prohibidas e invalidan el voto. Si usted equivocadamente perfora, rompe o estropea la balota, o rompe o estropea el sobre, devuélvala al miembro del consejo del precinct y obtenga otra.

選票上若有書寫污點或破損者，選票即作廢。

Fiscal Impact: Commission costs of up to $3.5 million before 1986 election. Costs of $10,000 to $20,000 each to relocate an unknown number of district legislative offices. County costs of about $500,000 for 1986 election materials. County savings of about $300,000 in 1986 for printing costs, and $200,000 every two years thereafter. Future reapportionments will probably cost less than under existing law.

Fiscal Impact: Reduce state revenues by about $100,000 each fiscal year and increase state expenditures by approximately up to $1,650,000 each fiscal year.

| 40 | YES 242 | NO 243 |

PUBLIC AID, MEDICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

Creates Public Assistance Commission. Limits benefit expenditures to national average plus 10%. Legislative amendments permitted. Fiscal Impact: Net effect would be combined state and county expenditure reduction beginning July 1, 1986. Size of reduction and impact at different levels of government impossible to determine. Substantial reductions under specified programs would be partially offset to an unknown extent by increased costs under other programs and reduced tax revenues resulting from reduced federal expenditures within the state. Likely, state expenditures would be reduced and county expenditures increased.

REDISTRIBUCIÓN. Dispone redistribución para los distritos del Senado, Asamblea, Congreso y de la Junta de Revisión de Avalúos para 1986 y para las elecciones subsequentes mediante nueva comisión compuesta de antiguos jueces. Impacto fiscal: Costos de la comisión de hasta $3.5 millones antes de la elección de 1986. Ahorros para el condado alrededor de $300,000 en 1986 por costos de impresión y $200,000 cada dos años de allí en adelante. Las redistribuciones futuras probablemente costarán menos que bajo la ley actual.

CONTRIBUCIONES PARA COMPANÍAS. Limita a los contribuidores y las contribuciones a candidatos a cargos públicos electivos. Iguala con fondos públicos limitados a partidas obedeciendo la comisión de oposición. Impacto fiscal: Reduce los ingresos estatales en unos $100,000 cada año de ejercicio fiscal y aumenta los gastos estatales en aproximadamente $1,650,000 cada año de ejercicio fiscal.

AYUDA PÚBLICA, PROGRAMAS DE ASISTENCIA MÉDICA. Crea Comisión de Asistencia Pública. Limita gastos de beneficio al promedio nacional más el 10%. Permite enmiendas legislativas, impacto fiscal: el efecto neto sería la reducción de los gastos contribuidos del estado y condados comenzando el 1º de julio de 1986. El tamaño de la reducción y su impacto en los diferentes gabinetes del gobierno se puede determinar en este momento. Reducciones subsecuentes bajo programas especificados serían parcialmente compensadas hasta un grado desconocido mediante el aumento de gastos de otros programas y por ingresos de impuestos de los contribuidos de gastos federales reducidos dentro del estado. Es factible que los gastos estatales serían reducidos y que los gastos de condados aumentaran.

A—At a general election, such as this one, you can vote for any candidate whose name appears on your ballot.

Q—Once I have signed up, do I have to do it again?
A—Only if you have moved.

Q—If I have been convicted of a felony, can I sign up to vote?

WORDS YOU NEED TO KNOW
by Ballot Simplification Committee

Here are a few of the words that you will need to know:

BALLOT—A list of candidates and propositions.

ABSENTEE BALLOT—If you wish to vote by mail you can get a special ballot to fill out. This ballot is called an absentee ballot. You can get this ballot from the Registrar of Voters at City Hall. Please refer to the insert card in the pamphlet.

VOTE BY MAIL—See Absentee Ballot, above.

POLL—The place where you go to vote.

PROPOSITION—This means any issue that you vote on. If it deals with City & County government it will have a letter, such as Proposition A. If it deals with State government it will have a number, such as Proposition 1. State propositions are numbered 25 through 41 because in June the numbers were 16 through 24.

CHALLENGE—Officers at the polls can challenge a voter for various reasons, such as living in a different precinct from the one in which he or she is voting.

SUPERVISORS—Elected members of the governing legislative body for the City and County of San Francisco.

CHARTER AMENDMENT—The charter is the basic set of laws for the city government. A charter amendment changes one of those basic laws. It takes a vote of the people to change the charter. It cannot be changed again without another vote of the people.

ORDINANCE—A law of the city and county, which is passed by the Board of Supervisors or approved by the voters.

DECLARATION OF POLICY—A declaration of policy asks a question: Do you agree or disagree with a certain idea? If a majority of the voters approve of a declaration of policy, the supervisors must carry out the policy, to the extent legally possible.

INITIATIVE—This is a way for voters to put a proposition on the ballot for people to vote on. An initiative is put on the ballot by getting a certain number of voters to sign a petition. Each initiative ordinance needs signatures from 7,334 qualified voters. An ordinance passed by the people cannot be changed again without another vote of the people, unless the initiative expressly gives the Board of Supervisors the power to change the law.

PETITION—A list of signatures of voters who agree that a certain idea or question should be on the ballot.

BONDS—Contracts to borrow and repay money.

---

RIGHTS OF THE HANDICAPPED VOTER

1. Persons unable to mark their ballot may bring one or two persons with them into the voting booth to assist them.

2. If architectural barriers prevent a handicapped voter from entering the polling place then the voter will be allowed to vote a ballot on the sidewalk in front of the polling place (Section 14234, Elections Code).

3. A recent law allows the handicapped to apply as “Permanent Absentee Voters”. A permanent absentee voter will receive a ballot in the mail at all future elections. A permanent absentee application appears as part of the regular absentee application enclosed in this book.

My age is 35
My occupation is a lawyer
My education and qualifications are: I am an attorney for Stanford University. Each day I help make decisions on financial matters, lawsuits, personnel issues, and policy for Stanford, which has an operating budget greater than $500 million. This involves matters ranging from running a hospital, to building 1000 units of new housing for faculty and staff. Additionally, I studied transportation while in college.

The BART representative should work for transportation solutions for San Francisco, and not just for BART. Can you find a seat on the bus? A parking place? I not only will work to manage BART more efficiently but also for San Francisco to obtain its fair share of money and consideration from federal, state, and local agencies in solving these problems.

I know the responsibilities of a public official. Elected to the 1978 Charter Commission, I served as its secretary and was appointed by Governor Brown to the regional Coastal Commission. I have worked to improve my neighborhood as a member of the Board of Directors of the Richmond District Neighborhood Center and the S.F. Local Development Corporation.

My endorsers include Assemblyman Art Agnos, former Police Chief Tom Cahill, Supervisors Britt, Silver, and Walker, and former Supervisors Lau and Morrison.

My occupation is BART Director/Incumbent
My education and qualifications are: 13 years experience in transit. Graduate: Lick-Wilmerding, Stanford University. Since my 1974 election to the BART Board, I have consistently pushed BART to improve and function more efficiently. BART has doubled the number of cars in service; increased access for handicapped people and bicyclists; increased on-time performance from 45% to 95%; stopped fare evasion; increased opportunities for minorities and women; kept per-mile costs down; given employees more flexible schedules; and drastically improved fire and safety procedures (BART has run 5 billion passenger miles without a single passenger fatality, the best record in the nation.)

I constantly review transit professional journals and the trade press. I spend countless hours analyzing budgets and operating plans to find errors and false assumptions. My ambition is to be the best possible BART Director, not to seek higher office. If you have questions, call me at 362-2939.

My age is 21
My occupation is Computer Technician
My education and qualifications are: As a founding member of The Community for Human Development in San Francisco, I am running for this office out of my deep concern for the Board's undemocratic policies and suspicious behavior. Although all of us in District 9 pay for BART few of us are informed about the decisions and operations of the BART Board.

Meetings are not widely publicized. When was the last time you were informed about a BART meeting? In fact the BART Board exercises a monopoly over BART decision making by closing its doors to active citizen participation.

If elected, my first priority will be to Open Up the BART Board meetings to public scrutiny. All meetings will be held at times and places convenient to San Francisco voters.

Public Transportation should be by and for the people!

Humanize the BART!!

San Francisco's Charter permits supervisory inquiry into expenditures. I strongly support thoroughly researched legislation and tax revenue use to benefit the peoples of San Francisco.

Candidates for Supervisor

ROGER BOSCHETTI
My address is 20 Carnelian Way
My occupation is Television Producer, Host, Writer, and Labor Consultant
My qualifications for office are: 25 years of involvement with working men, women, and young people, and as a concerned citizen, I will work to implement laws which will benefit all the people of San Francisco, such as reducing payroll and business tax, so as to encourage small businesses to come or stay in San Francisco, thereby creating more jobs. Will implement constructive changes in muni for speedier, safer and effective service, I will also create better programs to help the needs of our young men and women, I would like more police foot patrol, and more affordable housing, with more concern for our senior citizen

My address is 1 Ardath Court
My occupation is Building Maintenance Mechanic
My age is 34
My qualifications for office are: As a supporter of the Spartacist League I twice tore down the Confederate flag of slavery which flies no more in Civic Center. The American Civil War did not complete its historic mission. It will take a third American revolution, a socialist revolution, to liberate black people.

Spike Reagan’s anti-Soviet war plans and union-busting austerity drive by mass strike action! U.S. imperialism—hands off Central America! Smash Klan/Nazi terror through labor/black action! Break with Democrats—enemies of labor/minorities! Build a workers party that will stop at nothing short of socialist revolution and a workers government!

Candidates for Supervisor

ROBERT DANIEL INGRAHAM
My address is 1637 Noriega Street
My occupation is Political Consultant
My age is 33
My qualifications for office are: Over one hundred years ago two great men, David Broderick and Edward Baker, gave their lives to save this Republic.
I ask you voters to compare these two San Franciscans with the small minded politicians of today.
Pathetic Wendy Nelder says “Fluoride causes AIDS”; degraded Willie Brown corrupts us with “Oh What a Night” bacchanalia; Feinstein lusts for higher office, and the rest are worse.
San Francisco can play an historic role in the development of the Pacific Basin. But you, our citizens, must decide. I urge you: Join with me and other candidates of Lyndon LaRouche’s NDPC in our fight.

Robert Daniel Ingraham

RUBY T. JIMENEZ
My address is 961 Delano Avenue
My occupation is Directory Sales Representative
My age is 45
My qualifications for office are: A San Francisco resident since, 1948 and a naturalized American of Mexican decent, I consider myself an earnest interpreter of human needs for the Hispanic community and other minorities. Misinterpretations, injustices, lack of communication and mutual respect must be addressed and aired. These human needs for minorities and others can be solved if we end the current world depression. The humane world economic policies of Lyndon LaRouche, particularly his proposal for joint economic development between the United States and Ibero-America (Operation Juarez) can end this depression. The port of San Francisco should be expanded to become a strong world trade center.

My address is 950 Duncan Street

My address is 1901 Noriega Street
My occupation is Management Consultant
My age is 40
My qualifications for office are: I am a graduate of Oregon State University, a Vietnam Veteran, and a former candidate for California State Assembly. I have resided in the Sunset district with my wife Susan for five years.

I stand for a strong defense policy including the Beam Weapon anti-missile defense and the technology boom this new "Apollo" program will bring to the local economy.

San Francisco must become a center for science, classical culture, and trade, bringing blue-collar families and industry back to this city. We must expand the Port of San Francisco and launch the Pacific Basin development strategy proposed by economist Lyndon LaRouche.

QUENTIN L. KOPP

My address is 68 Country Club Drive
My occupation is Attorney/Member, Board of Supervisors
My qualifications for office are: Local government is us, because we depend upon it to provide essential services and wise leadership. For 13 years I've fought to cut governmental waste and excessive taxation, to keep government honest and on its toes. My efforts have already saved taxpayers over $250,000,000 and I'm proud to be the one supervisor who watches how every dollar is spent. This year City government will spend an average $4,500,000 a day, every day. I want to continue my role as your "financial watchdog" in City Hall and add a needed balance to the Board. I would very much appreciate your support.

DAVID C. SMITH
My address is 2567 Alemany Blvd
My occupation is Administrator, Service Agency
My age is 34
My qualifications for office are: I am a San Francisco State graduate in journalism, married, with a deep affection for this place. For seven years my wife and I have counseled families and individuals from every neighborhood in San Francisco—an investment and commitment to the future. Dealing with these problems has increased my awareness of this city's growing preoccupation with rights and shrinking concern for responsibilities. The solution includes a return to basics, to strong family units, to solid values, to the worth of all human life. I will be a voice for those who feel excluded, especially exploited children and the disadvantaged.

I know it from a variety of perspectives—as executive aide to Mayor Alioto, as City Librarian, as a newspaper columnist, as a professor, as a businessman, and as a person active in many civic causes. I now wish to bring my talents and experience to the Board of Supervisors. I believe I can be of unique service as the centrist advocate of this city as it looks to its future. That future, the well-being of each of us, will be my greatest concern.

JOHN E. WAHL

My address is 118C Connecticut Street
My occupation is Attorney
My age is 50
My qualifications for office are: I have a 20 year record of voluntary, unpaid public service to San Francisco. I have worked with all levels of City government, with people in all parts of the City. Examples of my public service include being a Judge Pro Tem of the San Francisco Municipal Court, 9 years of service on the Board of the San Francisco Council of Churches, service on the Pride Foundation Board, and service to veterans. I am dedicated to ensuring affordable places to live, a responsible and unprejudiced police department, decent jobs, and dependable transportation. I am independent of special interest club politics.

John E. Wahl

SYLVIA WEINSTEIN

My address is 489 27th Street
My occupation is Staff-writer for Socialist Action newspaper
My age is 58
My qualifications for office are: My program: Courts, cops and strikebreaking injunctions; two-gate, two-tiered, union-busting tactics, are helping employers depress living standards. Escalating health, housing and food costs are forcing working people—especially Blacks and Latinos—out of San Francisco. Corporate condos and highrisers replace workers’ residences.

Door-key children of working parents, denied childcare, are left to roam the streets. Abortion clinics are under siege.

Only united labor—employed, unemployed, black, white—can change this condition. An independent labor party, based on the unions, must be built to replace the callous politicians of the two ruling capitalist parties. Jobs not war!

DAVE WHARTON

My address is 5031 Diamond Heights Blvd.
My occupation is Community Service Attorney
My age is 44

It's time for housing expansion, for transit, traffic, parking overhaul. Time for better City services, especially for seniors and youth. Time to strengthen economy, create jobs, control taxes. Time for neighborhood revitalization, parking relief. Time for human rights advancement, efficient and humane police services. Experiment with Board meetings in neighborhoods.

It's time for goals, results, citizen participation. San Francisco is world class city, small town; lose either, be neither. I build bridges, not barriers. Join our common sense coalition.

LIBBY DENEBEIM
My address is 200 St. Francis Blvd.
My occupation is Incumbent School Board Member
My qualifications for office are: Four years ago you elected me to the school board. I am deeply grateful.
I have worked hard. Student achievement scores improved, enrollment stabilized. We strengthened significantly special programs and alternative schools.
There remains much work to do. As a mother of six public school educated children, former teacher and experienced school board member, I know how our schools should work.
Many children today will finish school in the 21st Century. For all our children we must plan for the future, reaffirm our commitment to excellence, use school dollars prudently and ensure the momentum for improvement in our schools continues.

Candidates for School Board

TERRY HUGUNIN
My address is 1824 Noriega Street
My occupation is Consultant
My age is 37
My qualifications for office are: Those of us who were teenagers during President Kennedy’s Appolo Space Program thought there was nothing we and our nation might not accomplish: “We’re going to the moon in ten years!” Thanks to outfits like the National Education Association, the science oriented New Frontiers of the 60’s have given way to the “other-directedness” of the Aquarian Age. Their goal: form a society of androgynous pacifists—study their literature. Mine is to restore the problem-solving orientation appropriate to Judeo-Christian culture. Help me mobilize our schools to implement the Strategic Defense Initiative and overcome the nuclear war threat.

Terry Hugunin

JAMES LEGARE
My address is 254 Oak Street
My occupation is Motor Truck Operator
My age is 57
My qualifications for office are: I am committed to installing a sound educational program in our schools as the basis for getting our country and economy moving again—in the American tradition. We need to develop young minds through a program of classical education and to protect them by wiping out drugs in the schools and in the nation.

I propose to reform the school system along these lines:
1) Classical geometry and physics, as typified by Plato, Archimedes, Cusa Kepler, and Leibniz
2) Classical poetry, music, and drama, exemplified by Homer, Aeschylus, Dante, Shakespeare, Schiller, Bach, and Beethoven

Candidates for School Board

JO ANNE MILLER
My address is 1920 Quint Street
My occupation is Parent and Teacher
My qualifications for office are: I am the mother of two children in San Francisco Public Schools. I believe in the Public School System, and have a personal interest in its quality and effectiveness. I am a teacher of the blind. I am President of the Glen Park School Site Advisory Committee, and hold other elected civic offices.

The lack of parent representation on the School Board has contributed to a lack of parent and citizen involvement, a lack of long-term planning and vision in school administration, and a failure to commit the School District to a plan and goal of excellence for all children.

JoAnne Miller

BEN TOM
My address is 1717 Jones Street
My occupation is Transportation Analyst
My qualifications for office are: I believe I have provided outstanding leadership during my eight years on the San Francisco Board of Education. This is evidenced by the fact that test scores have improved and new programs have attracted students back from private schools.

As an active parent, I know San Francisco's schools first-hand. I have worked conscientiously for our children's future. I have the vision and I have gained the practical skills necessary to continue building our school district into one of the best large urban districts in the nation.

Port Revenue Bonds

PROPOSITION A

Shall the Port Commission be authorized to issue $42,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance construction and improvements of Port facilities?

Analysis

by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Port Commission operates the Port of San Francisco. When funds are needed for Port construction or improvements, the Commission may issue revenue bonds to raise funds. A majority of the voters must approve these bonds before they can be issued. The revenue bonds are then paid from Port revenues.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition A would allow the Port Commission to issue up to $42,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance several improvements of Port property. These improvements include modernizing container handling facilities, upgrading various piers, constructing a breakwater at Fisherman’s Wharf, and renovating certain other Port structures and property. The bonds would then be paid off from Port revenues.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Port Commission to issue up to $42,500,000 in revenue bonds to finance improvements of Port property.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the Port Commission to issue revenue bonds for this purpose.

Controller’s Statement on “A”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition A:

"Should the proposed bond issue be authorized and when all bonds shall have been issued on a twenty-five year basis, and after consideration of the interest rates related to current municipal bond sales, in my opinion, it is estimated that approximate costs would be as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Amount</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bond redemption</td>
<td>$ 42,500,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bond interest</td>
<td>81,761,400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total debt service requirement</td>
<td>$124,261,400</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

"Based on a three year construction program and a bond redemption schedule beginning four years after the sale of each issue, the estimated amount required to pay the interest thereon and the redemption thereof, would range from approximately $4,462,000 to a maximum of $5,760,000 annually for twenty-seven years.

"In my opinion, the servicing of the proposed bonded debt will be paid from Port revenues and will not affect the tax rate of the City and County of San Francisco, provided that there are sufficient revenues from Port sources to cover operating and all debt service costs of the Port. Analysis of projected resources available to the Port indicates that, in my judgment, sufficient revenues will be available to provide debt service costs in future years."

How Supervisors Voted on “A”

On July 30 the Board of Supervisors voted 7-1 on a motion placing Proposition A on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors Harry Britt, Richard Hongisto, Bill Maher, John Molinari, Carol Ruth Silver, Nancy Walker and Doris Ward.

NO: Supervisor Quentin Kopp.

TEXT OF PROPOSITION A APPEARS ON PAGE 51.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

The revitalization of the Port of San Francisco will bring new jobs and new tax revenue to the City. A healthy port, with increased ship traffic, will bring millions each year to the San Francisco economy.

By delaying modernizations in the past, the Port of San Francisco lost the bulk of its maritime business to other Bay Area and West Coast cities. The same mistakes must not be made twice. We must allow the Port to use revenues to finance continued improvements.

Proposition A does not authorize any new taxes. Proposition A simply authorizes the Port to use revenues to finance improvements and expansion.

Proposition A will allow for the modernization of existing container cargo terminals on the southern waterfront. These improved facilities will retain current business and will bring new lines to San Francisco. The return of the shipping business will bring back long lost blue collar jobs to the waterfront as well as white collar jobs.

In addition, Proposition A will provide for expansion of the passenger facility, a new breakwater to protect the commercial fishing fleet, and improved rail access to the port. In all, Proposition A will upgrade and modernize San Francisco Port facilities so as to make them competitive with other ports across the Bay and throughout the West Coast.

The complete modernization effort will be done at no cost to the taxpayers. Instead, the Port of San Francisco’s income will be used to finance long-term revenue bonds.

The people of San Francisco deserve a first-rate port. We urge all San Franciscans to vote YES on Proposition A.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Vote YES on Proposition A.

As Mayor, I have worked hard to restore our port to its historic pre-eminence as a major gateway to the Far East.

Once again, major shipping lines are docking in San Francisco. Just recently, two of the largest container vessel operators, China Ocean Shipping Corporation and Columbus Lines, signed agreements to use this port.

Not only modern cargo carriers, but passenger liners as well are being drawn to San Francisco in a remarkable renaissance of maritime commerce.

But if there is to be a lasting renewal of our waterfront, the port must be competitive with other port cities anxiously contending for the burgeoning Pacific trade. The port, if it is to prosper, must modernize and enlarge its basic maritime facilities.

That’s the purpose of Proposition A.

Proposition A will make the Port of San Francisco truly and vigorously competitive. And it will not cost the taxpayers a penny.

Proposition A will authorize $42.5 million in revenue bonds for vital waterfront projects, including the conversion of Pier 80 into a modern, state-of-the-art container facility and the enlargement and modernization of cargo operations at Piers 94 and 96.

Additionally, Proposition A will provide funds for repairing the now deteriorating Jefferson Street Seawall and will match Federal dollars for construction of a much-needed breakwater to protect the City’s fishing fleet at Fisherman’s Wharf.

Proposition A also will finance expansion of the passenger terminal at Pier 35.

Proposition A is a prudent investment in the City’s future. And these bonds are payable only from port revenues—your taxes will not be increased.

More ships, with more cargo and more passengers, mean more jobs and greater economic vitality for our city.

Proposition A will make our port, once again, a strong and lasting competitor for the commerce of the Pacific Basin. Vote YES on Proposition A.

Port Revenue Bonds

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Citizens of San Francisco are worried about the deterioration of the port. Most of us can remember when the port was a thriving, bustling commercial enterprise, and the docks were maintained, clean, efficient, and busy. But, the port has not adapted to container cargo, and may be losing the few shipping lines that it now serves. We must restructure the docks for active container shipping, and bring in railway lines to service the docks.

We have one of the few deep water ports in America, an essential for modern shipping. LET'S DO SOMETHING ABOUT BEING ONE OF THE BEST PORTS IN THE WEST AGAIN!

VOTE YES ON PROP A!

Wendy Nelder
President of the Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

A YES vote on Proposition A will permit the Port of San Francisco to issue bonds to finance needed construction and improvements. This would give the Port the same financing ability the Airport now has.

Through the issuance of revenue bonds, the Port would be able to undertake necessary improvements AT NO COST TO TAXPAYERS.

San Francisco deserves a modern, thriving port. Proposition A will help us build modern terminals, a breakwater at Fisherman's Wharf which will help keep commercial fishermen in San Francisco, repair the seawall at Jefferson Street and expand our Passenger Terminal to handle increased cruise business that brings millions of dollars into our local economy.

Proposition A will give the Port of San Francisco the ability to make these kinds of improvements. Please join me in voting YES.

Sala Burton,
Member of Congress

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Proposition A offers San Franciscans the opportunity to direct the future of the Port of San Francisco.

This measure will provide our Port with the key to the future.

We must keep pace with new developments, increase cargo and create new jobs. For every fifty new containers we move, 1.67 new jobs will be created.

This measure also includes funding for construction of the Fisherman's Wharf Breakwater, which is critically needed and long overdue.

Take part in the future of our Port. Join with me in voting YES on Proposition A.

Milton Marks,
State Senator

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

San Francisco has always been a waterfront city. We have a superb natural harbor, which is also one of the few really deep water harbors—vital for modern deep water cargo ships.

We have used our badly deteriorating and long unimproved pier facilities to their maximum efficiency. But... times are changing. We must move NOW to keep pace with new developments, or risk enormous losses in cargo shipping, commercial fishing, and tourist trade.

It is ESSENTIAL that we adapt to container cargo that can be moved by train, truck, and ship.

Research has been done on what could give us the greatest increase in efficiency and profits for the very least amount of money. And the answer is: modernizing the South Terminal for adaptation to container cargo; providing rail access to the docks; protecting the commercial fishing fleet with a breakwater; and expanding passenger-handling facilities for cruise passenger tourists.

Prop A will provide these improvements RIGHT NOW. And... AT NO COST TO THE TAXPAYER!

The opportunity is NOW!

Our Northern Waterfront is alive with activity—increase in passenger ships, thriving commercial developments.

Let us fuse that energy into our Southern Waterfront and take advantage of our natural deep water. That means newer, deeper draft merchant ships, increased cargoes and new jobs.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

San Francisco has always been a great port city. And the San Francisco Port has always been a leading employer of minorities.

But the Port has sadly deteriorated. It has not kept up with modernizations and improvements. And what is even worse, it has not kept up with the competition. The Port MUST adapt to container cargo, and put in railway access to the docks. With your vote YES ON A, we can take advantage of our deep water harbor, attract more shipping trade, increase cargoes, and produce many more jobs.

And . . . AT NO COST TO THE TAXPAYER!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Our Port now needs $42 million to develop San Francisco’s maritime facilities to compete with ports such as Oakland, Seattle and San Diego. These improved facilities are vital to San Francisco’s competition for jobs and trade for the Pacific. Currently all major west coast ports are building to meet the growing needs of America’s Pacific Trade. These ports have each spent an average of $57 million on recent container cargo expansion while San Francisco has spent nothing.

San Francisco must have at least comparable facilities in order to compete in this market. If the port is not developed for container cargo, San Francisco can forget about being a major port on the west coast as well as lose the jobs and revenue that a modern port could produce.

The Chamber of Commerce strongly recommends that you vote to bring San Francisco the jobs and business that will be created by these revenue bonds. The bonds will be paid off from Port revenue and there is no taxpayer risk.

If you want to see the Port continue to grow and prosper vote yes on Proposition A.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

When something is railroaded through City Hall on a “fast track”, it is always difficult not to join the stampede. This, however, is a bond issue in an amount larger than necessary to perform the actual work contemplated; not backed by written leases; and not backed even by “letter agreements” with corporations which supposedly will use Piers 80, 94 and 96 if improvements are made. This bond issue was rushed through the Board of Supervisors. Transmitted to the Board on July 24th, a scant six days later (on July 30th) and without a specific noticed public hearing, the Board voted 7-1 to place it on the ballot. I dissented because more time was needed for proper analysis and public input.

Presently, the Port has a debt service requirement of approximately $104,000,000.00. This proposed revenue bond issue would increase the debt service requirement to $228,261,400.00; a staggering rise. The $42,500,000.00 bond issue would produce but $40,202,000.00 in net proceeds. The Port has a surplus of about $19,000,000.00, of which approximately $15,000,000.00 is available for capital projects. The Controller says $49,254,660.00, would thus be available for capital projects costing $41,610,000.00.

The Port is borrowing $7,644,660.00 more than is needed for these seven capital projects. Why? The Port admits it has no long-term written commitments for Piers 80, 94 and 96 which account for $37,570,000.00 of the total bond issue. How can we be assured that the bondholders will be repaid by revenues from those piers if there are no-long term commitments?

Moreover, the Port hasn’t even secured written “letter agreements” from corporations to assure that if those improvements are made, they will sign long-term commitments. Ironically, but $4,000,000.00 of the bond issue would be spent on needed improvements for Fisherman’s Wharf tenants, who generate almost 50% of net Port income, money which would be used to repay the money borrowed for Piers 80, 94 and 96. It’s like the tail wagging the dog.

Selling bonds is nothing more than borrowing money. Why borrow more money than you have to, and why borrow money for projects which don’t have long-term tenants? Be assured that even if this passes, I intend to persist in making Port officials answer these very questions.

MOTION AUTHORIZING PROPOSITION A

MOTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO A MEASURE AUTHORIZING THE PORT COMMISSION OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO TO ISSUE REVENUE BONDS TO FINANCE THE CONSTRUCTION, RENOVATION AND MODERNIZATION OF CERTAIN PORT FACILITIES TO BE LOCATED AT THE PORT OF SAN FRANCISCO.

The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby orders submitted to the qualified electors of said City and County at an election to be held therein on November 6, 1984 a measure authorizing the Port Commission of the City and County of San Francisco to issue revenue bonds, all as set forth in the following measure, to wit:

Shall the Port Commission of the City and County of San Francisco issue revenue bonds in an amount not to exceed $42,500,000 the proceeds of which will be used to modernize container handling facilities and to upgrade various other maritime-oriented facilities at the Port of San Francisco’s piers 35, 80, 94 and 96 and at the Jefferson Street seawall, to construct a breakwater at Fisherman’s Wharf, to construct an intermodal container transfer facility, to install a backflow prevention system at various locations, to replace various transformers and capacitors throughout the port, and to acquire, construct or renovate certain works, property or structures necessary or convenient for the operation of, and at, the Port of San Francisco, which facilities are operated by the Port Commission?

Water Revenue Bonds

PROPOSITION B

Shall the Public Utilities Commission be authorized to issue $104,000,000 in revenue bonds to finance acquisition and construction of facilities for the operation of the Water Department?

YES 256

NO 257

Analysis

by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Public Utilities Commission operates the San Francisco Water Department. When the Commission needs funds to acquire, improve or develop Water Department facilities, it may issue revenue bonds to raise the funds. Before the Commission can issue revenue bonds, a majority of the voters must approve. The revenue bonds are then paid from Water Department revenues.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition B would allow the Public Utilities Commission to issue up to $104,000,000 in revenue bonds. Funds from the sale of the bonds would be used to acquire, improve or develop facilities necessary for the operation of the Water Department, including filtration plants and reservoirs. The bonds would be paid off from the revenues of the Water Department.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Public Utilities Commission to issue up to $104,000,000 in revenue bonds to finance Water Department improvements.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the Public Utilities Commission to issue revenue bonds for this purpose.

Controller’s Statement on “B”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition B:

“Should the proposed bond issue be authorized and when all bonds shall have been issued on a thirty year basis, and after consideration of the interest rates related to current municipal bond sales, in my opinion, it is estimated that approximate costs would be as follows:

| Bond redemption  | $104,000,000 |
| Bond interest    | 169,260,000  |
| Total debt service requirement | $273,260,000 |

“Based on a five year construction program and a bond redemption schedule beginning one year after the sale of each issue, the estimated amount required to pay the interest thereon and the redemption thereof, would range from approximately $3,467,000 to a maximum of $14,022,000 annually for thirty-one years.

“In my opinion, the servicing of the proposed bonded debt will be paid from Water Department revenues and will not affect the tax rate of the City and County of San Francisco, provided that there are sufficient revenues from Water Department sources to cover operating and all debt service costs of the Water Department. Analysis of projected resources available to the Water Department indicates that, in my judgment, sufficient revenues will be available to provide debt service costs in future years.”

How Supervisors Voted on “B”

On August 6 the Board of Supervisors voted 11-0 on a resolution placing Proposition B on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

None of the Supervisors voted “No.”

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

The money from these bonds will be used to assure that drinking water we take from our Crystal Springs and San Andreas reservoirs on the Peninsula is pure and meets all health standards. The bonds will be repaid from revenues of our Water Department. Not a penny will be charged on the property tax rolls or to the general taxpayers.

We have two huge lakes alongside I-280 on the Peninsula, the Crystal Springs and San Andreas reservoirs. About 15% of our drinking water in normal times comes from these lakes and others in Alameda County. For decades we used this water without filtration. Now, however, health officials tell us that all of the water from our Peninsula lakes must be filtered before it can be used. We now have a very limited filtering capacity which means that if, for any reason, our water supply from the Sierras were interrupted or reduced and we would need more local water, we would be unable to make full use of Crystal Springs water. There now is no filter plant at Crystal Springs. Whatever water we use from there must be pumped up to a small filtration plant at San Andreas before it can enter the system. This very severely limits the amount of drinking water we can draw from our nearest supply, and it is expensive. Passage of Proposition B would change all that.

By voting YES on B, you will provide for water system improvements including a new filtration plant right at Crystal Springs, for the expansion of the small plant at San Andreas, and for a necessary storage reservoir.

Your YES on B vote is an investment in the quality of our drinking water—an assurance that water from our nearest supply will be available to us pure, meeting all health requirements, when we need it.

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION B.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Vote YES on Proposition B.

Generations ago, San Franciscans had the foresight to build one of the most magnificent water systems in the world—Hetch Hetchy, which brings water to San Francisco from the High Sierras.

Now, we must modernize the system to keep pace with higher standards of water quality.

Proposition B will authorize the San Francisco Water Department to issue $104 million in revenue bonds.

The money will be used to improve the system by expanding existing plants and by building additional filtration, treatment and holding facilities on Water Department properties on the Peninsula.

These facilities will provide safe drinking water for future generations of San Franciscans. Presently, if any of the existing facilities suffered a breakdown, the City could be forced to rely upon unfiltered water from Crystal Springs. The State Department of Public Health has directed the Water Department to upgrade facilities to meet future needs.

Our water is safe. It meets all state and Federal quality standards, and we want to keep it that way. Proposition B will assure low turbidity (silt content), reduce asbestos content, and prevent the spread of giardia lamblia, a virus not now found in our water system, but which could be brought in as watershed areas become more populated.

Proposition B, which will not have any effect on our tax structure, is a prudent investment, protecting our drinking water into the future. Vote YES on Proposition B.

PROPOSITION C
Shall a Health Commission consisting of seven members appointed by the Mayor be created to manage and control City and County hospitals and all other county health services and appoint a Director of Public Health?

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The San Francisco Department of Public Health operates the county hospitals, such as San Francisco General and Laguna Honda, and all other county public health services. The Department is run by a Public Health Director, who is appointed by the City’s Chief Administrative Officer and who is responsible to the Chief Administrative Officer.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition C would create a Health Commission, and place the Department of Public Health under the control of the Commission. The Commission would have seven members, appointed by the Mayor; no more than three members would be doctors, nurses, hospital administrators or other health care professionals. The Commission would appoint a Public Health Director, responsible to the Commission, to administer the Department. The Public Health Director could appoint and remove deputies to help administer the Department.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the San Francisco Department of Public Health to be under the control of a Health Commission appointed by the Mayor, and to be run by a Public Health Director, appointed by the Health Commission.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the San Francisco Department of Public Health to be under the control of the Chief Administrative Officer and to be run by a Public Health Director appointed by the Chief Administrative Officer.

How Supervisors Voted on “C”
On July 23 the Board of Supervisors voted 8-3 on the question of placing Proposition C on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisors Richard Hongisto, Quentin Kopp and Wendy Nelder.

Controller’s Statement on “C”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition C:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it would increase the cost of government, based on current costs of the Health Department, by approximately $8,400 per year.”

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION C APPEARS ON PAGE 82.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The Public Health Department has a budget of over $270 million and a staff of 5000, making it the largest agency in City government. Its responsibilities are many and far-reaching: San Francisco General Hospital and Laguna Honda Hospital; emergency medical services; mental health services; sanitation; public health education; district health centers; inspection of public and private facilities. The list is long and growing.

In recent years, the list of problems facing departmental administrators has, unfortunately, also grown. Emergency Aid stations were closed. Ambulance service was drastically altered. Proposals to reorganize community mental health services were promoted and rejected, causing confusion for all. The AIDS crisis. The investigations at San Francisco General Hospital. And on and on.

Too often, these decisions and these issues were considered in a vacuum, without public input, without public debate, and without public scrutiny.

Why? In order to protect the Department of Public Health from the graft and corruption that plagued our City at the turn of the century, the Charter placed the department under the Chief Administrative Officer’s auspices rather than a commission. Fifty years later, the department has outgrown this cumbersome arrangement. It is time to bring the administration of this important agency into the 20th Century, mirroring the management of other City departments.

Proposition C will establish a seven-member Health Commission, appointed by the Mayor, to set policy and supervise the Public Health Department. The commission will include both providers and consumers of health services. It will bring the Department more directly under the Mayor’s control, allowing for more timely responses to issues and problems. Most importantly, it will ensure that the department is publicly accountable for its actions.

We urge a YES vote on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Public health policy has changed and the governance of our public health department must change too.

In the past few years the state and federal governments have shifted more and more of the responsibility for public health management to local governments.

Recent experience shows that our health department is not presently equipped to manage public health programs in the most effective manner.

Proposition C will streamline management—cutting two levels of bureaucracy while opening up our public health policy to the public itself.

I urge a “yes” vote on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Since 1971, the Department of Public Health has been plagued with problems and crises at its hospitals, clinics and emergency aid stations. Most recently, we again faced the threat of San Francisco General losing its accreditation. These many incidents are deeply disturbing, raising troubling questions in the public mind: Why do these problems persist? Why can’t something be done about them once and for all?

In 1979, the national organization that accredits all hospitals reported that San Francisco General’s “major problems . . . are related to the lack of an effective governing body free from the political decision-making process which results in delayed activity, inadequate funding, etc.” Last January, the State auditors also cited the absence of “a governing body legally responsible for hospital governance” as a cause for “ineffective management.”

No other hospital in California operates without a board of directors. Only one other department in San Francisco (Public Works) operates without a commission. Instead, San Francisco General and the Health Department are run by a bureaucracy, insulated from public accountability.

Proposition C establishes a commission for the Health Department, one that will hold public hearing, make public decisions, and be publicly accountable. Vote YES.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

San Francisco's population is aging. In a few short years, a greater percentage of our citizens will be seniors—most living independently on fixed incomes, many frail and over 75—than those of other California cities. They will need nutritional information, home health care, and a broad range of coordinated social services.

The Department of Health, San Francisco General, Laguna Honda, the District Health Centers—these are critical providers of senior services. And as more and more state and federal programs are shifted to local agencies, the Department's role and responsibilities will dramatically increase.

How will the Department respond to this increased responsibility? How can we ensure that it will develop policies and programs that meet seniors' needs? And how can we be sure that these programs operate efficiently and effectively?

Proposition C is a big step in the right direction. VOTE YES!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Proposition C is important for women.

Women provide the majority of services offered by the Health Department. Indeed public health is traditionally the domain of women and nurses. And while the many crises at General are too often blamed on nursing care, nurses virtually have no role in planning or organizing service delivery.

Women are also the major consumers of the Department's services. As more and more block grants transfer health programs from the state and federal levels to local governments, the Department will become an increasingly important provider to women.

Proposition C gives women an opportunity to make their voices heard at the highest levels of the Health Department. And our voices must be heard if services are to be organized efficiently and responsibly.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The policies governing San Francisco General affect every consumer and provider of health services in the City, yet there is little accountability to San Francisco taxpayers. No private hospital with General's size and influence operates without a board of trustees or directors. Indeed, no private organization of any kind with a $270 million annual budget—business, corporation, nonprofit foundation, whatever—operates without a governing board. Why does General?

As General bounces from one crisis to the next, with state and federal agencies threatening increasingly drastic actions, the weakness of the current management structure becomes clear to all. The Hospital and the Health Department need a commission, where public hearings can surface problems and issues in a timely fashion; where policies can be developed with the cooperation of private providers and consumers. The Health Commission will not be a watchdog meddling in day-to-day affairs, but an advocate for General, one providing continuity, stability and a rational decision-making process with regular rules and procedures.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The Health Department is obligated to ensure that all San Francisco communities have access to medical services. The AIDS crisis brought the health care needs of gay men to the forefront of public discussion. It brought home the importance of a Department flexible and responsive to quickly emerging problems and epidemics, one capable of quickly reallocating resources to dire community needs.

The general health needs of gay men and women, however, are largely unrecognized. The Health Commission will give our community the voice it needs in the health planning processes. It will ensure that the diversity of our City is represented in the consideration of these important issues.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Hispanics in San Francisco strongly support Proposition C, the Health Commission Charter Amendment.

Health is vital to the Latino Community of San Francisco. We are a younger population, with larger families and with special health needs, such as those of Central American refugees. In recent years, federal and state funding for health programs has decreased, leaving community health programs in a difficult financial situation. Recent changes in Medically Indigent Adult services have also negatively impacted our community.

In addition, the need for better and expanded bilingual medical services continues to be a top priority in San Francisco.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

The chief opposition to Proposition C comes from two sources: The Chief Administrative Officer and the officials of the University of California Medical Center.

The CAO's opposition is understandable. He simply doesn't want to lose control of the Health Department and SF General.

UC's opposition is more puzzling, until you realize that it receives $10–15 million from the City each year for staffing at General Hospital without a publicly reviewed contract! Why is UC afraid of having its relationship with General publicly scrutinized by a Health Commission?

Let's clear the air. Vote YES on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Community clinics provide thousands of San Franciscans with access to essential primary health care and preventive health services. Yet, these community-based institutions, as well as the neighborhoods and people they represent, have been excluded from participation in health policy decision-making in San Francisco. Excluded, too, is any public debate on alternatives to hospital-based health delivery and financing systems that could prove cost-effective and could better serve the people of San Francisco.

Proposition C, The Health Commission Charter Amendment, offers a forum for public discussion of local health policy issues. By giving the neighborhoods and communities input into health policy decisions, the Health Commission will enable San Franciscans to create a new community of interest and new community of action in the area of health service delivery.

The Health Department is a key source of medical services in the black community, both directly through General Hospital and the district health centers, and indirectly through community and mental health clinics.

But our special problems—an infant mortality rate significantly above rates in other Bay Area counties, for example—are not often heard by the Department's policy-makers, for they are insulated and isolated from our community.

Our concerns must be heard if they are to be ad-

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

This proposal to put politics into the Department of Public Health by creating a "commission" to direct it is an example of the misguided philosophy of attacking governmental problems by throwing bureaucracy at them. It should be soundly defeated. Currently, the City's health officials report to one person, the Chief Administrative Officer, who can respond swiftly to any crisis and set consistent policy. The responsibility for the Department lies with the CAO, not a group of political appointees. When our Charter was adopted in 1932, the freeholders explained the rationale of giving the CAO management responsibility over the Health Department. The idea was "to provide reasonable safeguards AGAINST POLITICAL MANIPULATION." (Emphasis added) Their report stated the office of CAO was designed to be "protected from political influence as largely as possible . . ." and "it is intended that this officer shall be entirely independent in discharging the function of the office, and particularly, to be free from interference of the mayor, because the latter is subjected to political influence." Although the Charter was adopted in 1932, its logic still makes powerful sense. Besides blurring lines of responsibility, this iniquitous proposal contradicts health management practices in California and the United States. In fact, the same idea was evaluated in 1971 by a committee established by the supervisors, which concluded that the commission concept, a "seemingly attractive alternative at first blush, would likely constitute merely another bureaucratic layer in an already cluttered city administrative structure." To paraphrase The Progress, the Muni is the best proof that "the presence of a commission does not guarantee good management." Vote NO on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

The enactment of Proposition C would set the clock back on health care delivery in San Francisco to the 1920s. As proposed, the measure would almost exactly duplicate the system of Health Care abandoned by The City in 1932 because it had become corrupt, politicized and incapable of effectively responding to the growing challenges of modern health care administration.

In 1973 the Board of Supervisors itself considered and rejected a similar Health Commission option. The board's reason was that commissions do not make effective management tools. "The Commission, seemingly an attractive alternative at first blush, would likely constitute merely another layer in an already cluttered City administrative structure."

The commission concept also goes counter to sound health management practices. Earlier this year, a team of top Bay Area health care professionals was asked to identify the leading municipal hospitals in the country. None of the institutions identified uses a commission form of administration largely because commissions, while perhaps capable of overseeing some urban systems such as mass transit, have proven ineffective and cumbersome.

The argument has been advanced that a commission would allow for greater citizen input into the health department. The fact is that the Department of Health already has some 440 individuals serving on 27 Citizen Advisory Committees—more than with any other city department. The proposed seven member commission would be insufficient in both size and technical competence to do other than deal with the health care in San Francisco on a "crisis-to-crisis" basis.

As we move into the 21st Century, the administration of San Francisco's health care systems will only become more challenging. A form of governance that proved inadequate 50 years ago and was rejected by the Board of Supervisors eleven years ago as inappropriate, is not the best way to provide for our city's health care needs of the future. We urge you to vote "No" on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

A vote for Proposition C is a vote to politicize health care in San Francisco. The authors of the 1932 City Charter foresaw this when they abolished the city's highly politicized seven member health commission and placed the Department of Health under the jurisdiction of the Chief Administrative Officer. Proposition C would return San Francisco to the pre-1932 system of politicized health care management.

In writing the 1932 Charter, the authors recognized the need to balance executive authority by splitting it between the Mayor and the CAO. Departments, such as health, which were thought to be best managed if protected from direct political influence, were placed under the jurisdiction of the CAO, who is appointed for a fixed 10 year term to remove the office from political pressure.

Despite the occurrence of problems the system has worked well. San Francisco General has perhaps the best Trauma Unit in the country. The hospital's AIDS unit is unquestionably the best and most humane in the nation.

Moving control of the city's health care budget from the Chief Administrative Officer to the Executive will create a "strong mayor" type of government which the Charter was designed to prevent. Health commissioners would necessarily be beholden to the political factions or individuals which lobbied for their appointment and to the mayor who appoints them.

There are alternatives to a Health Commission. Several have already been recommended by a blue ribbon panel of health management experts appointed following the report on General Hospital. We believe these recommendations and perhaps others, including a variation on the health commission concept, deserve further study.

Proposition C would bring about a radical restructuring of government and health care delivery in San Francisco. Both issues are far too important to be decided hastily. We urge a No vote on Proposition C.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

I oppose Proposition C because:
1. It puts the Health Department under the control of politically appointed non-professionals. I cannot agree that this should be done. It brings in politics and throws out expertise.
2. It adds an extra layer of bureaucracy making government more expensive and management more difficult.

 Supervisor Richard Hongisto

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

Your City Hall representatives would have you believe that by replacing our present Health System with a Health Commission, composed of seven members, at a recompense of $100 per month, will improve the services. Hogwash. Just another layer of government.

With a budget of $270 millions, 5000 employees would you put your faith in the hands of seven and still maintain the same Health Director?

What we need is a clean sweep of the present management; new faces; new ideas. The Charter provides for this, let's do it—"Now," not later.

Vote NO on PROPOSITION C

Marguerite A. Warren

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

By creating a health commission for the Public Health Department, the city of San Francisco would create more problems rather than solve them.

Past experience has indicated a need to separate politics from health care. San Francisco would be turning the clock back to a situation in the 1920s when the city had a seven-member commission appointed by the Mayor that oversaw the management of the Public Health Department. The delivery of effective health care was seriously compromised by the politicized department which was a direct consequence of the department's health commission.

For this reason, the citizens of San Francisco at that time passed a charter reform that removed the Health Department from the politically appointed commission and placed it in a newly created Chief Administrative Officer who would be secured against political pressures.

The creation of the Health Commission would take 40% of the budget of the Chief Administrative Officer's budget and place it under the control of a politically appointed Commission, thus negating the intent of the Chief Administrative Officer's Department which was created to administer departments that should be removed from political concerns.

Do not politicize San Francisco's health care. Vote No on Proposition C.

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Retirement Board has complete authority to invest the funds of the Retirement System for city employees. The Retirement Board must make only investments which are legal for insurance companies in California.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition D would remove the requirement that the Retirement Board must make only investments which are legal for insurance companies in California. Instead, the proposition would require the Retirement Board to make investments with the care and skill that a prudent person would make under similar circumstances.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to change the way the Retirement Board invests pension money. Instead of making only those investments which are legal for insurance companies, the Board would be able to make any investments that a prudent person would make.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the Retirement Board to keep making only the same kind of investments which are legal for insurance companies.

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition D:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it should not, in and of itself, increase the cost of government. However, as a result of its authorizing additional flexibility for investments, earnings may be higher or lower than what could have occurred absent this amendment.”

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION D APPEARS ON PAGE 63.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION D

Vote YES on Proposition D.
The purpose of Proposition D is to clarify the investment responsibility of the Retirement Board and to add language expressly to comply with the recently enacted State Constitutional amendment on fiduciary standards for public pension plans (Proposition 21, June 1984).

Since 1932, the charter has referred to the Insurance Code as the guideline for pension investments.

Insurance Code investment requirements are unsuitable to current pension fund investment practices and severely restrict the ability of the Retirement Board to manage the fund to achieve the best possible investment return for the City and County of San Francisco and the members of the Retirement System.

The added new language will establish firm guidelines for the Retirement Board to discharge its responsibility as the fiduciary for the Retirement Fund. This new language will also serve as increased protection for members of the Retirement System by applying recognized fiduciary standards for which there is considerable statutory and case law.

In summary, the proposed charter amendment serves a dual purpose: it removes obsolete and ambiguous language and brings the Retirement System into compliance with the State Constitution. Both changes will enhance and improve the System’s investment capabilities and the ability to achieve its goals and objectives.

Proposition D is endorsed and supported by the Retirement Board and the Board of Supervisors.

Vote YES on Proposition D.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION D

This is a worthwhile Charter amendment which updates obsolete and ambiguous provisions on how the Retirement Board can invest funds. It institutes standards consistent with a recent voter-approved amendment to the California Constitution. Investment practices have been refined dramatically in the past 50 years, and income and appreciation choices have increased tremendously. The investment professionals working for the Retirement System now are prevented from making the very most prudent investments possible, and City employees and taxpayers are, thus, prejudiced and hurt.

Present investment rules are based upon the State Insurance Code, which contravenes contemporary investment practices. Proposition D will give more latitude in making high-return investments, but will also retain vigorous guidelines on investment of Retirement System funds while increasing the protection of City employees. It will save money for taxpayers by enabling a better return on Retirement System assets. It’s logical. That’s why I recommend a “yes” vote.

PROPOSITION E

Shall the City subsidize the surviving spouse of active retired employees on the same basis that the City subsidizes the active or retired employees in the health service system?

YES 264

NO 265

Analysis

by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City contributes to a health care fund for active and retired employees. The City's contribution to this fund equals the average amount contributed to health care funds for each employee of the ten most populated California counties except San Francisco. The City does not contribute anything for spouses of active or retired employees.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition E would provide that the City contribute to the health care fund for the surviving spouse of a deceased employee. The surviving spouse must have been married to the employee for a least one year prior to the employee’s death. The amount of the contribution would be the same as that made by the City to the health care fund for active and retired employees.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the City to contribute to the health care fund for the surviving spouse of a deceased employee.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the City to contribute to the health care fund for the surviving spouse of a deceased employee.

How Supervisors Voted on “E”

On July 23 the Board of Supervisors voted 8-2 on the question of placing Proposition E on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisors Quentin Kopp and Bill Maher.

Controller’s Statement on “E”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition E:

"Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it would increase the cost of government, based on current costs and present membership data of the Health Service System, in excess of $990,000 per year."

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION E APPEARS ON PAGE 67.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

This charter amendment calls for extending a limited measure of aid from the City and County of San Francisco for the health care of the surviving spouse of an active or retired City employee.

Under existing statute, the City and County and its employees, active or retired, share the cost of health care for the employee, their spouse and children. However, upon the death of the employee, the City and County’s share of payments to the health care system stops.

Thus, the surviving spouse is compelled to pick up the entire cost for the health care plan while struggling to survive on a reduced family income and, at the same time, contend with ever increasing medical/hospital expenses and everyday living costs for themselves and eligible family dependents.

Proposition E will allow the City and County to continue paying its share into the health care system and not force the surviving spouse and eligible family dependents to assume the entire financial burden for health care payments.

Since the number of surviving spouses affected is very small, less than 1400, the cost to the taxpayer for the City and County is minimal.

The changes proposed by Proposition E should have been made many years ago; it is long overdue. We urge you to support this important measure.

Vote YES on Proposition E.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

Justice tempered with compassion. VOTE YES. Surviving spouses of City workers receive an automatic 50% cut in retirement pay upon the death of their partners. Why further burden this small group by withdrawing subsidy for health care?

The Retirement System actuary has officially confirmed that the average pension check for this group is $300.00 per month; incidentally, below the nationally quoted poverty level.

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION E

Submitted by William T. Reed, Chairman Legislative Committee, Retired Employees City & County of San Francisco Helen McAtee, Chairperson Philip Kearney, President, and retired manager of the Health Service

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

The Health Service Board which administers the health benefits provided to active and retired employees and their dependents fully recognizes the financial problem imposed on the surviving spouse upon the death of a retired employee.

This financial problem is especially acute because a surviving spouse's pension is cut by 50% at the death of the employee and because of the high cost of medical insurance. Medical cost increases have outpaced general inflation rates over the last three (3) years by about two to one.

We urge your “YES” vote on Proposition “E” on the basis of need and equity.

Abraham Bernstein, M.D., President Health Service Board of the City and County of San Francisco

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

Surviving spouses of city employees need this for a relatively comfortable widowhood. Let’s extend a small measure of consideration to those who are left on their own.

Supervisor Richard Hongisto

NOTE: YOUR POLLING PLACE MAY HAVE CHANGED. PLEASE REFER TO MAILING LABEL ON BACK COVER.
ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION E

Proposition E if approved would require the city to subsidize the health premiums of the surviving spouses of non-uniformed city employees. The cost to the city would amount to $990,000 per year and give city employees a benefit that is not normally enjoyed by workers in private industry.

The majority of private employees have health plans that allow surviving spouses to be members of such plans but the employer does not subsidize the premiums of these survivors in anyway. Being permitted to join a group plan that provides comprehensive coverage at a reasonable rate is a sufficient benefit in and of itself.

If this amendment is approved it will violate the spirit of the Charter provision that sets city employee salaries and benefits at the average of that which prevails in the metropolitan Bay Area. We believe in fair treatment and compensation for city employees and our current rules provide exactly that.

8.428 Health Service System Fund

There is hereby created a health service system fund. The costs of the health service system shall be borne by the members of the system and retired persons, the City and County of San Francisco because of its members and retired persons and because of members and retired persons of the parking authority of the City and County of San Francisco, the San Francisco Unified School District because of its members and retired persons and the San Francisco Community College District because of its members and retired persons. A retired person as used in this section means a former member of the health service system retired under the San Francisco City and County Employees' Retirement System, and the surviving spouse of an active employee and the surviving spouse of a retired employee, provided that the surviving spouse and the active or retired employee have been married for a period of at least one year prior to the death of the active or retired employee.

The city and county, the school district and the community college district shall each contribute to the health service fund amounts sufficient for the following purposes, and subject to the following limitations:

(a) All funds necessary to efficiently administer the health service system.

(b) For the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1973, the city and county, the school district and the community college district shall contribute to the health service system fund with respect to each of their members an amount equal to one-half of “the average contribution,” as certified by the health service board in accordance with the provisions of section 8.423. For the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1974, and each fiscal year thereafter, the city and county, the school district and the community college district shall contribute to the health service system fund with respect to each of their members an amount equal to “the average contribution,” as certified by the health service board in accordance with the provisions of section 8.423.

(c) Monthly contributions required from retired persons and the surviving spouses of active employees and retired persons participating in the system shall be equal to the monthly contributions required from members in the system, except that the total contributions required from retired persons who are also covered under medicare shall be reduced by an amount equal to the amount contributed monthly by such persons to medicare; provided, however, that for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1973, and for each fiscal year thereafter, the city and county, the school district and the community college district shall contribute funds sufficient to defray the difference in cost to the system in providing the same health coverage to retired persons and the surviving spouses of active employees and retired persons as is provided for active employee members.

(d) The city and county, the San Francisco Unified School District and the San Francisco Community College District shall not contribute to the health service system fund any sums, except as hereinafter set forth, on account of participation in the benefits of the system by members' dependents except surviving spouses, retired persons' dependents except surviving spouses, persons who retired and elected not to receive benefits from San Francisco City and County Employees' Retirement System and resigned employees and teachers defined in section 8.425, and any employee whose compensation is fixed in accordance with sections 8.401, 8.403, or 8.404 of this charter and whose compensation therein includes an additional amount for health and welfare benefits or whose health service costs are reimbursed through any fund established for said purpose by ordinance of the board of supervisors.

It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors, the board of education and the governing board of the community college district annually to appropriate to the health service system fund such amounts as are necessary to cover the respective obligations of the city and county, the San Francisco Unified School District and the San Francisco Community College District hereby imposed. Contributions to the health service system fund of the city and county, of the school district and of the community college district shall be charged against the general fund or the school, utility, bond or other special fund concerned.

The amendments of this section contained in the proposition referred to submitted to the electorate on November 7, 1972 and 1984 shall be effective July 1, 1973 1985.

Employee Death Benefits

PROPOSITION F

Shall a death benefit of twelve months salary be paid to miscellaneous officers and employees who die from an external and violent bodily injury in the course and scope of employment?

YES 267 ▼
NO 268 ▼

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: A City employee, other than a police officer or firefighter, who is a member of the Retirement System is entitled to a death benefit of six months salary if he or she dies, regardless of cause, before retirement. The benefit is paid to the employee's estate or designated beneficiary.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition F would provide that if an officer or employee, other than a police officer or firefighter, is injured through external and violent means in the course of employment and the employee dies within 180 days of the injury, an additional benefit of 12 months salary would be paid to the employee's estate or designated beneficiary.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to pay an additional benefit of 12 months salary to a city employee who dies from an injury caused by external and violent means in the course of employment.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to provide an additional death benefit to these city employees who die from external and violent means in the course of employment.

How Supervisors Voted on "F"

On August 6 the Board of Supervisors voted 11-0 on the question of placing Proposition F on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

None of the Supervisors voted "No."

Controller's Statement on "F"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition F:

"Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, there would be an increase in the cost of government, the amount of which is dependent upon the number of employees and their respective salary rates which qualify for payment under the provisions of this proposed amendment. Based on experience to date, the cost of this additional amount should not be substantial."
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Proposition F provides a small compensation for the survivor of a city employee (non Police or Fire) killed in the line of duty. Let’s agree to this minor expenditure for the survivors of those who have died in city service.

Richard Hongisto, Supervisor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote YES on Proposition F.

Only rarely is a city employee killed in the line of duty, but death can come with fierce suddenness.

Two Muni workers were crushed by cable car machinery in 1978; the following year, two Water Department employees were murdered at the Lake Merced Pumping Station; and in March 1981, a Hetch Hetchy lineman fell to his death.

For the families of the vast majority of city workers, there is little protection when death comes. Police officers and fire fighters already have special death benefits.

Dianne Feinstein, Mayor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote YES on Proposition F.

Proposition F is designed to correct a serious inequity on behalf of miscellaneous members of the Retirement System who are killed in line of duty or who die as a result of a violent or traumatic job-incurred injury.

Under current charter provisions, a designated beneficiary of a member who dies in the course of employment from any cause receives the member’s contributions to the system, plus six months’ salary.

Proposition F focuses only on those members who are killed in the line of duty or who die within 180 days from a violent or traumatic job-incurred injury. Benefitaries of such members will be accorded an additional insurance benefit of twelve months’ salary.

The payment of additional compensation to a designated beneficiary will be subject to the independent hearing officer process as set forth in the City charter.

Proposition F is fair and equitable and, based on actuarial projections, the cost is minimal.

Proposition F is sponsored and endorsed by the Retirement Board, unanimously approved by the Board of Supervisors, and strongly supported by Mayor Dianne Feinstein.

8.509 Retirement—Miscellaneous Officers and Employees On and After July 1, 1947

Miscellaneous officers and employees, as defined in this section, who are members of the retirement system under this section of the charter on February 1, 1969, shall be members of the retirement system, subject to the following provisions of this section, in addition to the provisions contained in Sections 3.670, 3.672, 8.500, 8.510 and 8.520 of this charter notwithstanding the provisions of any other section of the charter, provided that the retirement system shall be applied to persons employed on a part-time, temporary or substitute basis only as the board of supervisors shall determine by ordinance enacted by three-fourths vote of all members of the board. Miscellaneous officers and employees of the said departments who are members of the retirement system under section 8.507 of the charter on February 1, 1969 shall continue to be members of the system under section 8.507 and shall not be subject to any of the provisions of this section, except as specifically provided in this section.

Police Probationary Period

PROPOSITION G

Shall the probationary period for police officers be extended from one-year from entry to one year after completion of training but not to exceed eighty-four weeks?

YES 270
NO 271

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Police officers entering the Police Department serve a one-year probationary period. During the first 32 weeks, the police officer goes through the police training program. After successfully completing training, the officer is then assigned to regular police duties. The Police Department has 20 weeks to evaluate the officer while on regular police duty. After this 20 week period, the probation is complete.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition G would extend the probationary period of the police officer to one year after the completion of the training. In no event would it extend the probationary period beyond 84 weeks from the date of entry. Any termination for breach of duty or misconduct would require charges and a hearing before the Police Commission.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the probationary period for a police officer to be extended to one year after completing the police training course but not to exceed 84 weeks.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the probationary period for a police officer to remain one year after the date of entry into the department.

How Supervisors Voted on "G"

On August 6 the Board of Supervisors voted 11-0 on the question of placing Proposition G on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

None of the Supervisors voted "No."

Controller's Statement on "G"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition G:

"Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, it would have no effect on the cost of government."

THE TEXT OF PROPOSITION G APPEARS ON PAGE 89.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

Your YES vote for this amendment will enable the Police Department to provide more effective police services by ensuring that after officers graduate from the Academy and complete a field training program, an adequate probationary evaluation period exists to determine an officer's fitness to perform police duties. Society demands much from its police officers. As the nature of police work has become increasingly complex, training and performance evaluation functions must meet the needs of an ever-evolving profession.

Great expenditure of time and money are invested in training police officers. Presently, if a recruit is not deemed ready for duty, the probationary period can be completed during any retraining, thus making it difficult and costly to determine ultimate fitness for duty.

By voting YES, you will give the Chief of Police time necessary to adequately train and evaluate an officer's performance and to better ensure quality police services.

The Police Department has met and conferred with the Police Officers' Association regarding this amendment and has obtained that organization's support for its passage.

Vote YES on Proposition G.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

The Police Chief asked for a longer probationary period because it is needed. Vote yes.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

I urge you to vote YES on Proposition G.

In recent years, because San Francisco has had the financial strength to do so, we've steadily expanded the size of the Police Department.

It is now the largest ever, with 1987 officers.

More and more officers are being assigned to our neighborhoods on beats and in patrolcars. We want the best officers possible.

That's why Proposition G is so important. It will give the Department greater ability to screen out officers who do not measure up to the strict standards of professionalism this city demands.

Proposition G will extend the probation period for a new officer to one complete year following completion of his or her field training.

Presently, probation starts when an officer is first inducted into the Department, before 18 weeks of class work in the City's outstanding Police Academy and another 14 weeks of field training.

As strenuous as the class work and the training may be, the real test of an officer is on the street.

That's where his or her coolness, competence and compassion—in fact, all the qualities that this city wants in a superior police department—can be observed and tested.

Proposition G will give the department a full year to evaluate an officer in uniform and on the job.

Those who don't measure up can be dismissed after a departmental hearing. Protected will be the City's rightful concern that our police officers can truly be described as the City's finest.

Proposition G is a common-sense measure, sought by the Chief of Police, that will strengthen the San Francisco Police Department. Vote YES on Proposition G.

Dianne Feinstein, Mayor

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

This is probably the most important proposition on this Fall's ballot, a common sense measure. It deals with the Police Department, which has the ultimate responsibility for the protection of persons and property in our community. It increases the probationary period of police officers by one year. It is intended to ensure that the men and women who protect us are of the highest quality possible. Right now, police officers actually have only a four month probationary period. That's because they spend over 12 months probation in class and training, and only four months on the streets and on the job.

Police commanders need more time to evaluate the recruits' "street" performance. Proposition G does that by extending the on-the-job probationary period up to one year. For the sake of our children, neighbors and all San Franciscans, I want to be sure that a police officer is fully competent from a practical standpoint, not merely because of a classroom perspective. Therefore, I support Proposition G, and I urge you to vote for it, too.

Police Motorcycle Pay

PROPOSITION H

Shall additional rates of pay be paid to members of the Police Department assigned to all two-wheel motorcycle duty based on the average paid in California cities of 350,000 and over population?

YES 274
NO 275

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: San Francisco police officers who ride two-wheel motorcycles as part of their job and who are assigned to the Traffic Division get bonus pay. Police officers who ride motorcycles as part of their job, but who are assigned to duties other than traffic, do not get bonus pay.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition H would give all San Francisco police officers who ride two-wheel motorcycles as part of their job the same bonus pay, whether or not they are assigned to the Traffic Division.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want all San Francisco police officers who ride two-wheel motorcycles as part of their job to get the same bonus pay, whether or not they are assigned to the Traffic Division.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want only those San Francisco police officers who ride two-wheel motorcycles as part of their job and are assigned to the Traffic Division to get bonus pay.

How Supervisors Voted on “H”

On August 6 the Board of Supervisors voted 11-0 on the question of placing Proposition H on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

None of the Supervisors voted “No.”

Controller’s Statement on “H”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition H:

“Should the proposed Charter amendment be adopted, in my opinion, based on current rates of pay, staffing and assignments by the police department, the cost of government would be increased by approximately $74,000 per year.”

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

The Honda Motorcycle Unit of the San Francisco Police Department has, because of antiquated charter language, been denied payment of the hazard pay which is currently given to the two-wheel motorcycle officers in the Traffic Division.

Because the primary function of the Honda Motorcycle Unit is crime fighting and not traffic enforcement, the word “traffic” must be deleted from the charter in order to compensate equally all officers who perform hazardous motorcycle duty.

Please join us in voting YES for this very fair charter amendment.

Submitted by Board of Supervisors

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

In 1970, the San Francisco Police Department created a unit of light weight motorcycles to patrol Golden Gate Park and the beaches surrounding the City. In 1977 these duties were drastically changed to counteract rising street crimes around the Western Addition. Neighborhood associations, seeing the effectiveness of the unit, also requested additional patrols by these motorcycle officers. Since 1977 the Honda Unit (as it is known now) has been assigned to virtually every neighborhood in the City to reduce purse snatches, “red light” robberies, drag racing, and street narcotics traffic, along with demonstrations, marches, parades, and sporting events all over the City.

Also occurring since 1977 have been injuries to these highly visible, highly vulnerable motorcycle officers. Some of these injuries include one officer hit head on, and another officer suffering a leg broken by an auto which ran a red light. There have been numerous officers struck by other vehicles causing injuries, and injuries due to other road hazards (oil slicks, pothole etc.). These have increased sharply since the Honda Unit has been assigned to primarily street patrol. One officer was shot twice while patrolling the Western Addition for purse snatches.

It is obvious that these officers are no longer “just” patrolling the parks and beaches as they were initially intended, but are now assigned to patrol the streets of the most crime-ridden areas of the City combating street crimes and enforcing traffic laws. These officers on prior occasions have requested Motorcycle Hazard Pay (which traffic enforcement two-wheel motorcycle officers already receive) for their patrol of these neighborhoods and streets on the two-wheel motorcycles but have been denied because of outdated wording in the Charter. Passage of this amendment would correct this inequity.

Al Cusciato
President, S.F.P.O.A.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

All police officers who ride motorcycles in the course of duty face special danger and deserve the premium pay already allowed for motorcycle traffic officers.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

A police officer on a two-wheeler is often the first on the scene of a major crime or emergency. Day after day, there is no more hazardous duty for our police.

Whether on a motorcycle in pursuit of a felon on city streets, or on a motorbike on patrol in the remote areas of the City’s parklands, an officer lives with danger. Because they can cut through traffic, the two-wheelers often are first to arrive at a shooting or bank robbery or car crash.

The City Charter has long recognized the dangers inherent in this essential police work and has provided hazard-pay for motorcycle officers of the Traffic Division. Proposition H simply extends hazard-pay to the 17 or so officers on the equally-perilous motorbike detail.

The amount of money involved is small—only $178 a month for each officer. Proposition H is small recognition of the dangers the police daily face in the line of duty. Vote YES on Proposition H.

Military & Social Spending Initiative

PROPOSITION I

(Initiative Ordinance): Shall San Francisco request that the federal government question all taxpayers whether they wish any part of their taxes used for excessive military spending and have the City publish an annual report on federal taxes collected from San Francisco and the portions used for excessive military purposes and for social needs?

YES 278

NO 279

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City and County of San Francisco does not have an official position on whether federal taxes should be used for certain kinds of defense spending.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition I says the Board of Supervisors must inform the President and certain other federal officials that the people of San Francisco think all taxpayers should be asked whether they want their tax dollars used for certain kinds of “excessive military expenditures”, as defined in the measure. Proposition I also says the City’s Chief Administrative Officer must publish an annual report on the amount of federal taxes collected from San Francisco residents, what portion of these taxes are used for military spending, and what portion are used for social or human needs. The Board of Supervisors would appoint a seven-member Citizens’ Advisory Committee to oversee the preparation of the report.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you think federal officials should be told that the people of San Francisco think all taxpayers should be asked whether their tax dollars should be used for certain kinds of defense spending. You also want the City to publish an annual report on how federal tax dollars collected from San Francisco residents are spent.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you don’t think taxpayers should be asked whether their tax dollars should be used for certain kinds of defense spending, and you don’t want the City to publish an annual report on federal taxes collected from San Francisco residents.

How “I” Got on Ballot

On August 24 Registrar of Voters Jay Patterson certified that the initiative petition relating to military and social expenditures had a sufficient number of signatures to be placed on the ballot.

The proponents of the petition had gathered 12,271 signatures which they turned in to the Registrar on August 2. The proponents are officially listed as G.C. Barnes, L.J. Crowe, H.J. Hobi and R.A. Wall.

A random check of the petition showed that 8,304 of the signatures were valid. This is more than the 7,332 signatures needed to qualify an initiative ordinance for the ballot.

Controller’s Statement on “I”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition I:

“Should the proposed initiative ordinance be adopted, in my opinion, there would be an increase in the cost of government, the amount of which cannot be determined at this time but should not be substantial.”

TEXT OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE

PROPPOSITION I

Be it ordained by the people of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section 1. Definitions. For the purpose of this ordinance, the following terms are defined:

(a) Excessive military expenditures: any part of the federal budget from any agency or department that is destined for research, development, and production of nuclear weapons; research, development, and production of outer space laser-beam technology weapons (popularly known as "star-war" weapons); military aid, both overt and covert, to undemocratic and/or repressive governments (governments that violate the basic human rights as defined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted in 1948 by the United Nations);

(b) Social or human needs: any part of the federal budget from any agency or department that is used for education, housing, health and human services, public transportation, and the arts.

(c) San Francisco taxpayer: any individual who pays federal taxes and who reports his or her principal place of residence within the San Francisco city limits; and any corporation who is considered by the Internal Revenue Service as residing in San Francisco.

Section 2. The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco shall notify the President of the United States, the Vice-President, all members of the President's Cabinet, and all members of Congress that it is the policy of the people of San Francisco to call on the Federal Government to ask all federal taxpayers, at the time they report their federal taxes, whether they wish that any part of their tax contribution be used for excessive military expenditures. This policy shall also be published for the people of San Francisco in major city newspapers.

Section 3. The Chief Administrative Officer shall be responsible for the publication of an annual report citing the amount of federal tax monies collected from San Francisco taxpayers. This annual report shall include the following amounts:

(a) Total federal tax revenues contributed by all San Francisco taxpayers;

(b) Portion of the revenues in 3(a) budgeted for any type of military expenditures;

(c) Portion of revenues in 3(a) budgeted for military expenditures;

(d) Portion of revenues in 3(a) budgeted for social or human needs;

(e) Average individual tax contribution;

(f) Average individual tax contribution allocated to (1) excessive military expenditures and (2) social needs.

The Board of Supervisors shall appoint a Citizens' Advisory Committee every year to oversee the preparation of the report and to ensure that its findings are accurate and impartial. The Citizens' Advisory Committee shall consist of seven members, at least three of whom shall be volunteers from renowned peace organizations in San Francisco.

The report shall use the most current figures available from the federal government at the time of publication, citing the sources for the computations. If the necessary tax and budgetary breakdowns for San Francisco were not available, the report shall base itself upon tax revenue and budgetary figures for the entire nation (or subdivision thereof) and produce accurate extrapolations.

The Chief Administrative Officer shall publish the report in the two newspapers of largest circulation in San Francisco, no earlier than 14 days before but no later than the normal deadline for the filing of federal income taxes for individuals.
South African Investment Policy

PROPOSITION J

YES 283

NO 284

Analysis
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City and County of San Francisco has no policy about the investment of pension funds with organizations that do business in South Africa.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition J would make it the official policy of the City and County of San Francisco and its agencies not to invest pension funds in corporations or other organizations that do business in South Africa. This would be the official policy until Black people are given full political and civil rights by the government of South Africa.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want it to be the official policy of the City and County of San Francisco not to invest pension funds in corporations or other organizations that do business in South Africa.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the City and County of San Francisco to have an official policy against investing pension funds with organizations that do business in South Africa.

How “J” Got on Ballot

On August 24 Registrar of Voters Jay Patterson certified that the initiative petition on South African investment policy had a sufficient number of signatures to be placed on the ballot.

Julianne Malveaux, the official proponent of the petition drive, had gathered 11,404 signatures which she turned in to the Registrar on August 8.

A random check of the petition showed that 8,520 of the signatures were valid. This is more than the 7,332 signatures needed to qualify an initiative declaration of policy for the ballot.

Controller’s Statement on “J”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition J:

“Should the proposed initiative measure be adopted, in my opinion, it would not, in and of itself, affect the cost of government. However, as a product of its application, investment income may be affected in an indeterminate but possibly substantial amount.”

POLLS ARE OPEN FROM 7 A.M. TO 8 P.M.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

We support removing city pension funds from companies that do business with South Africa because we believe the city of San Francisco should not support the reprehensible institution of apartheid. Non-whites in South Africa are denied freedom of association, freedom of mobility, freedom of speech, and voting rights. San Franciscans support this inequality when city pension funds are invested in companies that do business with South Africa.

This investment is also a very risky investment since any civil unrest in South Africa may lower the value of the investment. Other investment possibilities will equal or exceed current yields on the pension portfolio.

We support this initiative because we support equal rights for all, and because we believe in prudent investment of city pension funds.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

By supporting Proposition J, San Franciscans join citizens from fourteen other cities, including Washington, D.C., Boston, and Berkeley, in removing city pension funds from companies that do business with South Africa. Our support strikes a blow against the apartheid policy that has denied Black and non-white people equal rights in South Africa.

Removing pension funds from South Africa makes good economic sense. International investment advisors recommend against such investment because of the frailty of the South African political situation. Significantly, none of the cities that have divested funds from South Africa have had lower earnings since divestment.

It is both morally just and fiscally sound to vote YES for Proposition J!

As Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, I am proud that we were the first state in the nation to vote to sell from our public pension fund portfolio all investments in firms doing business in South Africa. Since the passage of this landmark legislation, it has been our experience that divestiture makes not only a strong moral statement against apartheid, but divestiture has proven to have had no negative impact on our pension earnings.

I urge San Franciscans to give serious consideration to both the moral and the financial arguments as you consider divestiture as a policy of your great city.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

For over a decade individuals and institutional investors, including local and state governments, universities, foundations, churches, Taft-Hartley pension funds and health and welfare plans have refused to invest in, and divested from corporations and financial institutions economically supporting apartheid in South Africa. They are investing and earning competitive returns in housing, small business, alternative energy, and other socially productive investments which create employment and prevent capital from being exported to South Africa.

It is fiduciarily irresponsible to risk beneficiaries' pension assets by investing in companies in South Africa.

Many trade and corporate risk analysts have recommended no investment exposure in South Africa. The Rockefeller Study Commission on U.S. policy toward Southern Africa, recently recommended no new corporate investments in that white, minority ruled country.

Vote to create jobs, housing and small business in your community, not apartheid in South Africa. Vote YES on Proposition J.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

"For the sake of the children of all South Africans, black and white, for God's sake, for the sake of world peace, the international community must take action, it must exert pressure on South Africa—political pressure, diplomatic pressure and above all, economic pressure.”
(Bishop Desmond Tutu, General Secretary-South African Council of Churches, 1981)

The apartheid system continues because of Western support. The South African Council of Churches has said “foreign investors must know they are investing to buttress one of the most vicious systems since Nazism.” As members of the international religious community, we can no longer let others make decisions which contradict all that we believe in. We urge San Franciscans to vote yes on Proposition J as a specific, responsible way to express their moral rejection of apartheid.

The Rainbow Coalition and all members, support this initiative. Stop investments of San Francisco pension funds in companies that do business in South Africa.

Support Human Rights. People have a right to know that their pension funds are being used to support a racist, repressive, apartheid system, that denies basic human and civil rights to 24 million Africans. We have a right to know that a Black man can be detained in the South African penal system for as long as two years, for not having identification. That Black people are denied the right to vote, buy or sell land, and the right to live or work where they choose. Support Human Rights. Vote in favor of prop. J.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

San Francisco CSPEES supports the removal of city pension fund investments from firms that profit from apartheid.

The government of South Africa, like the government of El Salvador, denies its people the most basic human rights: freedom from arbitrary arrest and torture; freedom of speech and association; and the right to a decent standard of living.

In 1983, San Franciscans said no to military aid to El Salvador. In 1984, let us say no to investments in South Africa.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION J

Apartheid continues to be used to enslave black working people in South Africa. International labor has consistently condemned apartheid, and agrees that divestment from South Africa is an effective means of pressure.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

For the Black majority, apartheid in South Africa means no right to vote, unionize or speak out. Those who resist are murdered, tortured and imprisoned. Nelson Mandela, leader of the African National Congress, has been imprisoned for over twenty years. Apartheid is fascism!

U.S. companies investing in South Africa profit from low wages paid to Black workers, and play a key role in keeping apartheid alive. Say NO to apartheid and racism—Vote YES on Prop J.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

The Joint Council of the Service Employees International Union has unanimously endorsed this proposal. The Union took this action because of the economic oppression of citizens by the South African Government, because of the termination of trade union rights and the arrest of union leaders, and because of the moral "Crime against humanity" of Apartheid.

Timothy J. Twomey

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

South African apartheid is condemned the world over. Even the Reagan Administration expresses opposition.

Yet South Africa and apartheid continue to flourish, subjecting all non-whites to the vilest humiliations, discrimination, and exploitation.

San Francisco supports apartheid through our investment of municipal pension funds in companies that do business in South Africa. By their very presence there, these companies maintain the status quo. Otherwise, the ruling white minority would not welcome these investments! We allow apartheid to continue, despite all the rhetoric we direct at South Africa.

San Franciscans can make responsible investments elsewhere. Voting YES on J, we join other cities in cutting the taproot—foreign finance—which allows the horrors of South Africa to go on, and on, and on... End it! Vote YES, against apartheid!

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, as follows:

(c) The maximum principal amount of the Bonds proposed to be issued is $104,000,000.

Section 3. The Board of Supervisors hereby submits to the qualified voters of the City and County of San Francisco at said special revenue bond election the proposition set forth in Section 1 of this resolution, and designates and refers to said proposition in the form of ballot hereafter prescribed for use at said election.

(b) Said special revenue bond election shall be held and conducted, and the votes thereon canvassed and the returns thereof made, and the result thereof ascertained and determined as herein provided, and in all particulars not described by the resolution, said special election shall be held and the votes canvassed pursuant to law for general municipal elections in the City and County pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 32 of the San Francisco Administrative Code.

The Bonds are to be revenue bonds, payable exclusively from the revenues of the Enterprise and such other funds from any source as may be legally available for such purpose and may be used by the City and County for such purpose without incurring indebtedness. The Bonds are not to be secured by the taxing power of the City and County, and shall be issued under Section 7.312 of the Charter of the City and County. The principal of and interest on the Bonds and any premiums upon the redemption of any thereof shall not constitute a debt of the City and County, nor a legal or equitable pledge, charge, lien or encumbrance upon any of its property, or upon any of its income, receipts or revenues except the revenues of the Enterprise and any other funds that may be legally applied, pledged or otherwise made available to their payment. The Bonds, if authorized, shall be special obligations of the Public Utilities Commission and shall be secured by a pledge and shall be a charge upon, and shall be payable, as to the principal thereof, interest thereon, and any premiums upon the redemption of any thereof, solely from and secured by a lien upon the revenues of the Enterprise and such funds as may be described in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the Bonds.

The Bonds shall not constitute or evidence indebtedness of the City and County but shall constitute and evidence only an indebtedness of the Public Utilities Commission payable solely out of revenues received by the Public Utilities Commission from San Francisco Water Department facilities operated or controlled by it. The Bonds shall not be included in the bonded debt limit provided for in Section 6.401 of the Charter.

Section 5. This resolution shall be printed in the voters' pamphlet and mailed to each registered voter pursuant to Section 9.105 of the Charter of the City and County.

In no event shall a member’s retirement allowance exceed seventy-five percent of his average final compensation.

Before the first payment of a retirement allowance is made, a member retired under this subsection or subsection G (e) of this section, may elect to receive the actual equivalent of his allowance, partly in an allowance to be received by him throughout his life, and partly in other benefits payable after his death to another person or persons, provided that such election shall be subject to all the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors to govern similar elections by other members of the retirement system, including the character and amount, of such other benefits, provided, however, that at any time within thirty 30 days after the date on which his compulsory retirement would otherwise have become effective, a member who has attained the age of sixty-five 65 years may elect, without right to revocation, to withdraw his accumulated contributions, said election to be in writing and on a form furnished by the retirement system and filed at the office of said system and a member so electing shall be considered as having terminated his membership in said system on the date immediately preceding the date on which his compulsory retirement would otherwise have become effective and he shall be paid forthwith his accumulated contributions, with interest credited thereon. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 8514 of the charter, the portion of service retirement allowance provided by the city and county’s contributions shall be not less than one hundred (100) dollars per month upon retirement after thirty years of service and after attaining the age of sixty years, and provided further that as to any member within fifteen years of more of service at the compulsory retirement age of sixty-five, the portion of the service retirement allowance provided by the city and county’s contribution shall be such that the total retirement allowance shall not be less than one hundred (100) dollars per month, in the calculations under this subsection of the retirement allowance of a member having credit for service in a position in the evening schools and service in any other position, separate retirement allowances shall be calculated, in the manner prescribed for each class of service, the average final compensation in each case being that for the respective class of service; provided that the aggregate retirement allowance shall be taken into account in applying the provisions of this subsection providing for a minimum retirement allowance. Part time service and compensation shall be reduced to full time service and compensation in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, and when so reduced shall be applied on full time service and compensation in the calculation of retirement allowances.

E (c) Any member who becomes incapacitated for performance of duty because of disability determined by the retirement board to be of extended and uncertain duration, and who shall have completed at least ten years of service credited in the retirement system in the aggregate, computed as provided in subsection E (g) hereof, shall be retired upon an allowance of one and eight-tenths percent of the average final compensation of said member, as defined in subsection A (a) hereof for each year of credited service, if such retirement allowance exceeds forty percent of his average final compensation; otherwise one and eight-tenths percent of his average final compensation multiplied by the number of years of city-service which would be credited to him were such city-service to continue until attainment by him of age sixty, but such retirement allowance shall not exceed forty percent of such average final compensation. In the calculation under this subsection of the retirement allowance of a member having credit for service in a position in the evening schools and service in any other position, separate retirement allowance shall be calculated, in the manner prescribed for each class of service, the average final compensation in each case being that for the respective class of service; provided that the average final compensation upon which the minimum total retirement allowance is calculated in such case shall be based on the compensationearable by the member in the class of service rendered by him during the one (1) year immediately preceding his retirement. Part time service and compensation shall be reduced to full time service and compensation in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, and when so reduced shall be applied as full time service and compensation in the calculation of retirement allowances. The question of retiring a member under this subsection may be brought before the retirement board on said board's own motion, by recommendation of any commissioner or board, or by said member or his guardian. If his disability shall cease, his retirement allowance shall cease, and he shall be restored to service in the position or classification he occupied at the time of his retirement.

D (d) No modification of benefits provided in this section shall be made because of any amounts payable to or on account of any member under workers' compensation laws of the State of California.

E (e) If a member shall die, before his retirement, regardless of cause:

(1) If no benefit is payable under subdivision (2) of this subsection E (e):

(A) Regardless of cause, a death benefit shall be paid to his or her member's estate or designated beneficiary consisting of the compensation earnable by him or her member during the six months immediately preceding death, plus his or her member's contributions and interest credited thereon.

(B) If a member sustains a traumatic bodily injury through external and violent means in the course and scope of employment and death results within 180 days of such injury, an additional insurance benefit of twelve months of compensation earnable shall be paid to the member's estate or designated beneficiary.

(2) If, at the date of his death, he was qualified for service retirement by reason of service and age under the provisions of subsection E (b) of this section, and he has designated as beneficiary his surviving spouse, who was married to him for at least one full year immediately prior to the date of his death, one-half of the retirement allowance to which the member would have been entitled if he had retired for service on the date of his death shall be paid to such surviving spouse who was his designated beneficiary at the date of his death, until such spouse's death or remarriage, or if there be no surviving spouse, to the unmarried child or children of such member under the age of eighteen years, collectively, until every such child dies, marries or attains the age of eighteen years, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of eighteen years. If, at the date of such surviving spouse, who was receiving an allowance under this subdivision (2), there be one or more unmarried children of such member under the age of eighteen years, such allowance shall continue to such child or children collectively, until every such child dies, marries or attains the age of eighteen years, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of eighteen years. If the total of the payments of allowance made pursuant to this subdivision (2) is less than the benefit which was otherwise payable under subdivision (1) of this subsection, the amount of said benefit payable under subdivision (1) less an amount equal to the total of the payments of allowance made pursuant to this subdivision (2) shall be paid in a lump sum as follows:

n (A) If the person last entitled to said allowance is the remarried surviving spouse of such member, to such spouse.

h (B) Otherwise, to the surviving children of the member, share and share alike, or if there are no such children, to the estate of the person last entitled to said allowance.

The surviving spouse may elect, on a form provided by the retirement system and filed in the office of the retirement system before the first payment of the allowance provided herein, to receive the benefit provided in subdivision (1) of this subsection in lieu of the allowance which otherwise would be payable under the provisions of this subdivision. If a surviving spouse, who was entitled to make the election herein provided, shall die before or after making such election but before receiving any payment pursuant to such election, then the legally appointed guardian of the unmarried children of the member under the age of eighteen years may make the election herein provided before any benefit has been paid under this subsection E (e), and for on behalf of such children if in his judgment it appears to be in their interest and advantage and the election so made shall be binding and conclusive upon all parties in interest.

If any person other than such surviving spouse have and be paid a community property interest in any portion of any benefit provided under this subsection E (e), any allowance payable under this subdivision (2) shall be reduced by the actuarial equivalent, at the date of the member's death, of the amount of benefits paid to such other person.

Upon the death of a member after retirement and regardless of the cause of death, a death benefit shall be paid to his estate or designated beneficiary in the manner and subject to the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors for the payment of a similar death benefit upon the death of other retired members;

P (I) Should any miscellaneous member cease to be employed as such a member, through any cause other than death or retirement, all of his contributions, with interest credited thereon, shall be refunded to him subject to the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors to cover similar terminations of employment and unemployment with and without receipt of withdrawn accumulated contributions of other members of the retirement system, provided that if such member is entitled to be credited with at least ten years of service or if his accumulated contributions exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), he shall have the right to elect, without right of revocation and within ninety (90) days after said termination of service, or if the termination was by lay-off, ninety (90) days after the retirement board determines the termination to be permanent, whether to allow his accumulated contributions to remain in the retirement fund and to receive benefits only as provided in this paragraph. Failure to make such election shall be deemed an irrevocable election to withdraw his accumulated contributions. A person who elects to allow his accumulated contributions to remain in the retirement fund shall be subject to the same age requirements as apply to other members under this section for service retirement but he shall not be subject to a minimum service requirement. Upon the qualification of such member for retirement by reason of age, he shall be entitled to receive a retirement allowance which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions and an equal amount of the contributions of the city and county, plus one and two-thirds (1 2/3) percent of his average final compensation for each year of service credited to him as rendered prior to his first membership in the retirement system. Upon the death of such member prior to retirement, his contributions with interest credited thereon shall be paid to his estate or designated beneficiary.

\( G \) (g) The following time and service shall be included in the computation of the service to be credited to a member for the purpose of determining whether such member qualifies for retirement and calculating benefits:

(1) Time during which said member is a member of the retirement system and during and for which said member is entitled to receive compensation because of services as a miscellaneous office or employee.

(2) Service in the fire and police departments which is not credited as service of a member under this section shall count under this section upon transfer of a member of either of such departments to employment entitling him to membership in the retirement system under this section, provided that the accumulated contribution standing to the credit of such member shall be adjusted by refund to the member or by payment of the member to bring the account at the time of such transfer to the amount which would have been credited to him had the member been a miscellaneous employee throughout the period of his service in either of such departments at the compensation he received in such departments.

(3) Time during which said member is absent from a status included in paragraphs (1) or (2) next preceding which is not deemed absence from service under the provisions of section 8.520 of the charter and for which such member is entitled to receive credit as service for the city and county by virtue of contributions made in accordance with the provisions of such section.

(4) Prior service determined and credited as prescribed by the board of supervisors for persons who are members under section 8.507.

(5) The board of supervisors, by ordinance enacted by a three-fourths vote of its members, may provide for the crediting as service under the retirement system of service, other than military service, rendered as an employee of the federal government and services rendered as an employee of the State of California or any public entity or public agency in the State of California. Said ordinance shall provide that all contributions required as the result of the crediting of such service shall be made by the member and that no contributions therefore shall be required of the city and county.

\( H \) (ii) All payments provided under this section shall be made from funds derived from the following sources, plus interest earned on said funds:

(1) There shall be deducted from each payment of compensation made to a member under section 8.507 a sum equal to seven and one-half (7 1/2) percent of such payment of compensation. The sum so deducted shall be paid forthwith to the retirement system. Said contribution shall be credited to the individual account of the member from whose salary it was deducted, and the total of said contributions, together with interest credited thereon in the same manner as is prescribed by the board of supervisors for crediting interest to contributions of other members of the retirement system, shall be applied to provide part of the retirement allowance granted to, or allowance granted on account of said member under section 8.509, or shall be paid to said member or his estate or beneficiary as provided in sections 8.509(c) and 8.509(f).

(2) Contributions based on time included in paragraphs (1) and (3) of subsection \( G \) (g), and deducted prior to July 1, 1947, from compensation of persons who become members under this section, and standing with interest thereon, to the credit of such members on the records of the retirement system on said date, shall continue to be credited to the individual accounts of said members and shall be combined with and administered in the same manner as the contributions deducted after said date.

(3) The total contributions, with interest thereon, made by or charged against the city and county and standing to its credit, on July 1, 1948, in the accounts of the retirement system, on account of persons who become members under this section, shall be applied to provide the benefits under this section.

(4) The city and county shall contribute to the retirement system such amounts as may be necessary, when added to the contributions referred to in the preceding paragraphs of this subsection \( H \) (ii), to provide the benefits payable under this section. Such contributions of the city and county to provide the portion of the benefits hereunder which shall be based on service rendered by each member prior to the date upon which his rate of contribution is determined in paragraph (1), subsection \( H \) (ii), shall not be less during any fiscal year than the amount of such benefits paid during said year. Such contributions of the city and county to provide the portion of the benefits hereunder which shall be based on service rendered by respective members on and after the date stated in the next preceding sentence, shall be made in annual installments, and the installment to be paid in any year shall be determined by the application of a percentage to the total salaries paid during said year, to persons who are members under this section, said percentage to be the ratio of the value of the effective date hereof, or at the later date of a periodical actuarial valuation and investigation into the experience under the system, of the benefits hereunder to be paid under this section, from contributions of the city and county, less the amount of such contributions, and plus accumulated interest thereon, than held by said system to provide said benefits, on account of service rendered by respective members after the date stated in the sentence next preceding, to the value at said respective dates of salaries therefor payable to said members. Said values shall be determined by the actuary, who shall take into account the interest which shall be earned on said contributions, the compensation experience of members, and the probability of separation by all causes, of members from service before retirement and of death after retirement. Said percentage shall be changed only on the basis of said periodical actuarial valuation and investigation into the experience under the system. Said actuarial valuation shall be made every even-numbered year and said investigation into the experience under the system shall be made every odd-numbered year.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subdivision 5 (4), any additional liabilities created by the amendments of this section 8.509 contained in the proposition therefore submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1973, shall be amortized over a period of thirty 30 years.

(5) To promote the stability of the retirement system, through a joint participation in the result of variations in the experience under mortality, investment and other contingencies, the contributions of both members and the city and county, held by the system to provide the benefits under this section, shall be a part of the fund in which all other assets of said system are included. Nothing in the section shall affect the obligations of the city and county to pay to the retirement system any amounts which may or shall become due under the provision of the charter prior to the effective date hereof, and which are represented on July 1, 1947, in the accounts of said system by debits against the city and county.

4 (i) Upon the completion of the years of service set forth in Subsection B (b) of this section as requisite to retirement, a member shall be entitled to retire at any time thereafter in accordance with the provisions of said subsection B (b), and nothing shall deprive said member of said right.

5 (j) No person retired under this section, for service or disability and entitled to receive a retirement allowance under the retirement system, shall serve in any elective or appointive position in the city and county service, including membership on boards and commissions, nor shall such persons receive any payment for service rendered to the city and county after retirement, provided that service as a election officer or juror shall not be affected by this section.

6 (k) Any section or part of any section in this charter, insofar as it should conflict with this section, or with any part thereof, shall be superseded by the contents of this section. In the event that any word, phrase, clause or subsection of this section shall be adjudged unconstitutional, the remainder thereof shall remain in full force and effect.

7 (l) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections B (a), c (c), F (f) and (f) (i) of this section, any member convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, committed in connection with his duties as an officer or employee of the City and County of San Francisco, shall, upon his removal from office or employment pursuant to the provisions of this charter, forfeit all rights to any benefits under the retirement system except refund of his accumulated contributions; provided, however, that if such member is qualified for service retirement by reason of service and age under the provisions of subsection B (b) of this section, he shall have the right to elect, without right of revocation and within ninety 90 days after his removal from office or employment, whether to withdraw all of his accumulated contributions or to receive as his sole benefit under the retirement system an annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions at the time of such removal from office or employment.

(M) The amendments of this section contained in the proposition therefore submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1973, shall be effective on the first day of the month next following their ratification by the State Legislature. Said amendments do not and shall not increase any allowance first in effect prior to the effective date of said amendments, no shall they give any person retired prior to said effective date, or his successors in interest, any claim against the city and county for any increase in any retirement allowance paid or payable for time prior to said effective date.

The amendment of Section 8.509 contained in the proposition submitted to the electorate on November 2, 1982 shall be effective July 1, 1983.

(m) The amendments of this section contained in the proposition submitted to the electorate on November 6, 1984 are hereby declared to be prospective and shall not give any person a claim against the city and county relating to a death prior to ratification of this amendment by the State Legislature.

made shall be binding and conclusive upon all parties in interest.

For the purpose of the civil service commission's survey and certification the rates contained in said certification shall be the average of the maximum rates paid to each police officer or patrolman patrol officer classification performing the same or essentially the same duties as police officers or patrolmen patrol officers in the City and County of San Francisco.

Thereupon the board of supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its

(2) for the first, second and third year of service for firemen firefighters shall be established in accordance with the general percentage differential between seniority steps found in the salary ranges included in the cities certified by the civil service commission for the same class;

(3) for said members of the fire department other than firemen firefighters shall include the same percent of adjustment as that established by said ordinance for firemen firefighters in the fourth year of service; and

(4) shall be set at the dollar amount nearest the fractional amount which may result from percentage adjustment specified in this section, half dollars being taken to the next higher dollar amount.

The expression “rates of compensation” as used in this section, in relation to said survey, is hereby declared to apply only to a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, and does not include such working benefits as might be set up by any other city by way of holidays, vacations, other permitted absences for any type whatsoever, overtime, night or split shift, or pay for specialized services within a classification or rank, or other premium pay differentials of any type whatsoever. The foregoing enumeration is not exclusive, but it is the intent of this section that nothing other than a basic amount of wages, with included range scales, is to be included within the meaning of “rates of compensation”.

Working benefits and premium pay differentials of any type shall be allowed or paid to members of the fire department referred to herein only as is otherwise provided in this charter. The expression “members of the fire department” does not include members of the fire commission.

The absence of any officer or member of the fire department on military leave of absence, as defined by section 8,361 of this charter, shall be reckoned a part of his such member’s service under the city and county, for the purpose of computing years of service in gaining added compensation as provided in this charter.

On the recommendation of the chief of department, the commission may reward any officer or member of the department for heroic or meritorious conduct, the form or amount of said award to be discretionary with the fire commission, but not to exceed one month’s salary in any one instance.

Such rates shall not exceed the highest average rate of compensation fixed pursuant to subsections (a) (1), (2) and (3) and (c) (1), (2) and (3) above, whether it be paid to police officers, patrol officers, officers or firemen; firefighters; provided, further, that the minimum rate of compensation attached to the rank of sergeant in the police department shall be equal to the rate of compensation attached to the rank of lieutenant in the fire department.

(e) Not later than the 25th day of August the board of supervisors shall have the power and it shall be its duty, subject to the fiscal provisions of the charter but, without reference or amendment to the annual budget, to amend the annual appropriation ordinance and the annual salary ordinance as necessary to include the provisions of paying the rates of compensation fixed by the board of supervisors as in this section provided for uniformed members of the police and fire departments for the then current fiscal year.

(f) Not later than the first day of August of each year, the civil service commission shall determine and certify to the board of supervisors the percentage of increase or decrease in the cost of living during the twelve-month period ending March 31st of that same year as shown by the Consumer Price Index, All Items San Francisco, and the percentage of increase or decrease in the cost of living during the same period as shown by the Consumer Price Index, All Items, in the cities included in the certified report of said commission. The Consumer Price Index referred to herein is defined as that certain index issued by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and published in the Monthly Labor Review or a successor publication. In the event the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics discontinues the compilation and publication of said indexes, the board of supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to appoint a statistical fact finding committee to determine the same data pursuant to the methods heretofore used by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. The cost of living adjustments as hereafter provided shall be based upon the percentage of such increases or decreases. The board of supervisors may, in addition to the rates of compensation as established herein, and at the same time said rates of compensation are established, increase said rates of compensation by an amount equal to the difference between the average cost of living increase of the cities included in the certified report of the civil service commission and the actual cost of living increase for San Francisco. In the event the board of supervisors elects not to grant such cost of living increase in any year in which any such increase might be granted, the board of supervisors shall, upon a written request filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors not later than the 10th day of September of said year by representatives of the uniformed members of the police and fire departments, as designated by the police and fire commissions, respectively, submit the question of said cost of living increase to the qualified electors of the city and county at the next succeeding city-wide election. In the event said cost of living increase is approved by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon, said cost of living increase shall be effective as of the first day of the then current fiscal year.

(g) Notwithstanding any of the provisions contained in this section, no uniformed member of the police or fire department employed before July 1, 1976, whose compensation is fixed pursuant to the formula contained herein, shall suffer a salary reduction by the application of any new compensation schedules, and the rates for fiscal year 1975-76 shall continue until such time as the new schedules equal or exceed the current salary increment schedules, provided, however, that such time shall not be extended beyond June 30, 1982, and provided further that this prohibition against reduction of compensation for the designated employees shall not be deemed to supersede the provisions of section 8.406 of this charter.

(h) Notwithstanding any of the provisions contained in this section, no uniformed member of the police or fire department, whose compensation is fixed pursuant to the formula contained herein, shall suffer a salary reduction by the application of the compensation schedules provided for herein. Provided, however, that this prohibition against reduction of compensation for the designated employees shall not be deemed to supersede the provisions of section 8.406 of this charter.

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT VOTING

You can vote for any candidate, regardless of party. This is a General Election and you can vote for any candidate on your ballot. Political party restrictions only apply at Primary Elections (in June).

Do not vote for more than the authorized number of candidates or none of your votes for that contest will be counted. Most candidate contests specify "Vote for one" but you can vote for up to six supervisors and up to four School and College Board members. If you make a mistake and vote for more than six candidates for supervisor you can get a replacement ballot.

If you move, you must re-register. The most common complaint we get on election day is that someone can't vote because they have moved and not re-registered. If you have moved, your name will probably not be on the rolls anymore and even if it is, it is not legal to vote using your old polling place (except in certain rare circumstances). Next time you move, don't leave your vote behind; remember to re-register.

You don't have to be sick or out-of-town to get an absentee ballot. Any voter can request an absentee ballot for any reason, or for no reason. To become a "permanent" absentee voter you must be disabled but ordinary absentee voters do not have to have a reason.

Your registration will not necessarily be cancelled if you don't vote but chances of that happening will increase if you don't vote. After the election, we will send a postcard confirming the address of all nonvoters. If the Post Office or the current resident says you don't live there anymore, your registration will be cancelled. No one is automatically cancelled for not voting at any election.

It is not necessary to re-register before each election. Your registration is permanent and will remain in effect until you move, die or are convicted of a felony.

POLL WORKERS NEEDED

Earn $49 to $58 (plus bonuses)!
Meet Your Neighbors!
Serve Your Community!

There is a shortage of poll workers in most San Francisco neighborhoods. Voters who are interested in this important work are encouraged to apply as soon as possible at the Registrar’s Office at City Hall. If you apply while there still is a large selection of vacancies, it is probable that you will be assigned to a poll in your own neighborhood.

The Registrar is trying to build a permanent corps of polling officials, therefore housewives and retired people, as well as others who are interested in community service are particularly urged to apply.

The higher-paying and more responsible positions will be reserved for persons who apply in person. Others may mail in the application form provided below:

(The workday is from 6:45 a.m. to about 8:30 p.m., with breaks for lunch and dinner.)

EXTRA APPLICATION FOR ABSENTEE BALLOT

Since this page would have been blank anyway, we have used the space to reprint an extra copy of the absentee ballot application form.

Your "real" absentee ballot application appears as a postcard inserted into this book. We would prefer that you use the postcard form because it is easier to process and less likely to get lost.

If two persons in your household are requesting absentee ballots, you may put both postcard forms into an envelope in order to save postage.

The disabled may apply as permanent absentee voters by completing the little box at the bottom of the form. Disabilities that qualify for permanent absentee status include circulatory problems and mobility impairments as well as more severe disabilities.

If you have not yet received your absentee ballot, then you are probably not on our permanent absentee mailing list. The permanent absentee voters' ballots were mailed out the week of October 9th.
