Prop E broadens the responsibilities of the Civil Service Commission and changes the name to Civil Service and Employee Relations Commission. In addition to the current functions, the new Commission would administer the employee relations ordinance and for the first time, enforce existing charter prevailing wage provisions on city public work projects.

This is a needed improvement to the current Charter.

I urge you to join me in giving the Mayor and the Board of Supervisors the flexibility they need to improve City services while being fair to its workers.

FOR A BETTER RUN CITY GOVERNMENT, VOTE YES ON PROP E

For the Muni as well as all City departments to work more efficiently, we can’t keep doing things the way they have been done until now.

Prop E is designed to begin the process of allowing all City departments — Muni included — to make changes in management personnel. This is vitally needed and should be supported by all those who want to see more efficiency at City Hall.

Right now only the Police Department has the ability for the head of the department — the Chief — to hire and promote a new management team to insure diversity as well as excellence in all top management personnel.

Political patronage is gone at the Police Department — replaced with a diverse group of talented managers held accountable for their work product by your Chief.

Prop E will allow other departments to follow the Police Department model. Common sense says that this good provision will insure competence, more accountability as well as greater efficiency.

To really change things that need to be changed for the better — we need Prop E to pass.

Top 10 most outrageous things that Prop E WILL NOT do

10. Prop E WILL NOT cost $50,000,000.
   • Prop E could save the City money through improved negotiating opportunities.

9. Prop E WILL NOT raise your taxes — or anybody else’s.
   • It has a cap on how much is negotiable to ensure no increased taxes.

8. Prop E WILL NOT take general fund dollars away from AIDS research, the General Hospital, or anything else.
   • Retirement benefits come from the retirement system — not the general fund. Prop E frees up general fund resources and could mean more money for necessary City programs.

7. Prop E WILL NOT mean the business community will stop spending lots of money in a misleading campaign to confuse you.
   • Even though they helped create its provisions — now they are trashing it. Must be campaign time.

6. Prop E WILL NOT give the Mayor and the Board a blank check to grant huge increases to City employees.
   • It has safeguards to make sure your money is protected.

5. Prop E WILL NOT cost $75,000,000.
   • Common sense tells you so.

4. Prop E WAS NOT written in a back hallway without public discussion and input.
   • Five provisions in Prop E were written by those who now claim they don’t like the process.

3. Prop E WILL NOT fire City employees indiscriminately.
   • It grandfathers-in all current employees.

2. Prop E WILL NOT create world peace.
   • It will make City government work better, enforce prevailing wage and the merit system.

1. Prop E WILL NOT cost $100,000,000.
   • Really, it won’t.

Prop E WILL mean more efficiency and will bring fairness to the City’s negotiating process. That’s it.

FOR FAIRNESS, FOR EQUITY, VOTE YES ON PROP E

Women and people of color represent the lion’s share of City workers. Prop E is designed to insure that these workers can negotiate for retirement benefits. Prop E provides for development of a consistent policy for determining salaries, health benefits and retirement under one system for all City and County workers.

We have worked long and hard to diversify the City work force, to insure that people of color and women make a decent wage and are eligible for promotion opportunities. We should not turn back the hands of time — especially because big downtown businesses want to maintain the status quo.

Nothing in Prop E will open up the flood gates of excessive City costs. Prop E contains a provision that, even with negotiations, the benefits provided cannot exceed benefits already begin given by the average of the ten largest cities in the area. That’s it.

Prop E is about fairness. Prop E is about equity.

Finally, Prop E will insure that fair wages are paid for City projects. This is an important provision for our community to support.

The process was fair, the results are good. We need Prop E. We urge you to join us in supporting and voting Yes on Prop E.

SUPERVISOR BARBARA KAUFMAN SUPPORTS PROPOSITION E

I take Charter reform very seriously and support only those amendments that make sense.

I support Prop E for two reasons: accountability and fairness. Prop E will bring greater accountability to city government by giving the Mayor the authority to make mid-level management changes in order to positively affect public policy. Sometimes the wheels of government grind to a halt because the bureaucracy has stopped them. Prop E will shake up the bureaucracy and move these wheels forward, allowing the Mayor and the Board of Supervisors to get things done.

While accountability is important, so is fairness. Our City’s workers, the men and women who put themselves on the line for public safety and delivery of City services, deserve fairness. Police officers, firefighters and other City workers, who were hired in different years now have substantially different benefit packages. By standardizing the negotiating process we can create a level playing field for City workers. Passage of Prop E will bring San Francisco in line with other cities in California in dealing with retirement benefits.

Supervisor Barbara Kaufman

The current system of labor negotiations prevents The City from getting the best deal because retirement benefits are not on the bargaining table.

This measure will allow The City to include retirement benefits in negotiations in addition to salaries and work rules and will allow city officials to negotiate the best deal. It will also ensure that police, firefighters and other vital personnel receive fair compensation, making these jobs competitive positions that will attract the most qualified applicants.

POLICE DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES WILL IMPROVE WITH PROP E

The Mayor, the Police Chief and the San Francisco Police Commission all agree that reform is needed in the Police Department's disciplinary system. Prop E gives the Police Commission the power to make the changes needed to assure that disciplinary actions will be taken more promptly, that officers will be held accountable for their actions, and that a better system of accountability will be implemented throughout the Police Department.

Prop E gives necessary authority to the Police Commission to improve disciplinary procedures. The process right now is too cumbersome and time consuming, so that what should be routine disciplinary procedures take too long to enforce.

Rest assured, Prop E does not touch any provisions concerning the Office of Citizen's Complaints (OCC), crowd control policies or procedures applicable to cases involving allegations of excessive force, discrimination or cases involving serious injury or death. All of these would require voters' approval for changes to be made.

If you want to authorize the Chief of Police and the Police Commission to improve the SFPD's disciplinary system, give us the tools we need.

PROP E IS A FAIR AND NEEDED CHANGE

For the City to move forward in a fiscally responsible way, occasionally we have to make changes in the way we do business.

Prop E makes sense because it allows the City more flexibility in the way it negotiates with its workers. Currently, different classes of employees have different rights with respect to collective bargaining. Prop E will establish a consistent policy for determining salaries, health benefits and retirement under one system for all City and County employees.

Prop E makes fiscal sense because it contains a cap to ensure that the Retirement Fund remains solvent — protecting San Francisco’s investment in the fund.

It contains caps on the amount available to workers for benefits. This is not an unlimited benefit.

That’s why I urge you to join me in voting YES on Prop E.

Prop E broadens the responsibilities of the Civil Service Commission and changes the name to Civil Service and Employee Relations Commission. In addition to the current functions, the new Commission would administer the employee relations ordinance and for the first time, enforce existing charter prevailing wage provisions on city public work projects.

"We Need Prop E"

As a former President and member of the Civil Service Commission from 1988 – 1993, I enthusiastically urge a yes vote on Proposition "E". This charter amendment expands the powers and authority of the Civil Service Commission in a manner that protects the merit system. Under this new law, the prevailing wage requirements of our city charter would be enforced whereas, until now, no city entity has had that authority.

Proposition E requires that members of the Civil Service and Employee Relations Commission possess both the interests of labor and management on the subjects of employee relations and personnel administration. This positive change will assist the Commission in its deliberations and provide greater assurances of neutrality. VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION E.

Prop E is about fairness. Real change doesn’t diminish our rights — real change moves us forward towards the future.

I urge you to join me in supporting Prop E because it was drafted to correct some very real problems we didn’t fix in the Charter reform we approved last year. Mainly, it allows a more standard policy of negotiating with our police and firefighters along with other City employees. That means more efficient City government.

PROP E FEATURES STRONG PROTECTIONS FOR THE SAN FRANCISCO RETIREMENT SYSTEM

I am a trustee of the San Francisco Retirement System and a San Francisco taxpayer. This statement reflects my personal opinion, along with that of Board President Casciato that Prop E should be approved — it is not an official position of the Retirement Board.

Our Retirement system is very well funded, with assets over 109% of total liabilities, even though we consistently apply very conservative assumptions.

According to analysis prepared by Retirement System Actuary Kieran Murphy, Prop E’s strict controls on bargaining will:

• Restrict bargained retirement benefits to levels provided other California public employees,
• Safeguard the 100%- funded status of the Retirement System;
• Place the final decision on increasing retirement benefits in the hands of the Board of Supervisors and the Mayor, not an arbitrator,
• Ensure the tax-qualified status of the Retirement System.

These features build in strong protections for the Retirement system and City taxpayers, and will allow the City to provide more by negotiation from the Retirement System and less from its General Fund. That’s good for the City and General Fund-supported services.

San Francisco retirement benefits are not comparable to benefits provided elsewhere, and have not been improved in over 20 years. Some employee organizations are now negotiating alternative benefits paid from the City’s General Fund, to make up for their lower retirement benefits. That’s not good for the City.

Every jurisdiction that we know of in California bargains retirement benefits — except San Francisco, which requires a vote of the people to make even small changes in retirement benefits. This inflexible, outdated approach has hurt the City’s efforts to bargain equitable overall compensation packages.

I urge you to vote YES on Prop E.

CHARTER REFORM THAT MAKES GOOD SENSE — PROP E

Last year, after a long, exhaustive process, the voters approved major revisions to the Charter intended to make City government more efficient. The goal of this reform was to improve the delivery of vital City services by cutting duplication and eliminating some of the outdated sections of the document.

One major area of City government was omitted from the Charter reform last year — standardizing the negotiating process between the City and its employees.

That’s why Prop E is now before you. It takes up where last year’s reform left off.

We represent police officers, firefighters and City workers. We clearly have a stake in your YES vote. We also believe that Prop E is fair and fiscally responsible.

Prop E was subjected to three public hearings, hours and hours of meetings, and much give and take. Prop E was crafted after looking at how other cities deal with comparable issues, and in keeping with past practices of our City.

We believe that Prop E will bring more accountability and efficiency to the City work force. Prop E will bring fairness to the process as well.

FAIRNESS AND ACCOUNTABILITY ARE BEDROCKS OF GOOD MANAGEMENT

As a business person, I would never invest in or own a business which has the diffuse management accountability of the City and County of San Francisco. Prop E strengthens management’s hand by giving the power to negotiate to the City.

Currently, benefits for San Francisco Police Officers are significantly below those of other cities. I have personal knowledge of native San Franciscans whose hearts are in the City, but who have had to work in other departments because of family financial pressures. Common sense dictates that we must turn this inequity around if we are to continue to recruit the best possible new officers to protect our streets.

Beyond this management argument, there is a larger issue of fairness and justice for those officers currently serving us. The men and women of the Police Department risk their lives to protect us every day. Watching Jim Gueiff’s kids walk behind his casket at the funeral following his tragic death at Pine and Franklin Streets was a dramatic reminder of the pain and loss the families of the 91 officers who have lost their lives in the line of duty have had to endure.

The men and women of the San Francisco Police Department have always been there for us. A vote for Prop E, which will raise their benefits to parity with other departments, is not only fair — it is just. We should not be apologetic about this. Rather we should be proud to come through for these courageous men and women who deserve our support.

PROP E WILL HELP KEEP CITY HEALTH CARE COSTS DOWN

There have been many misleading statements made about Prop E in an effort to confuse the facts. Here are the facts:

- Prop E will establish a consistent policy for determining salaries, health benefits and retirement under one system for all City and County workers.
- Currently, workers have the right to bargain over how much health care costs can be reimbursed by the City. Prop E won’t change this.
- Because the City does not currently negotiate with health care carriers, it is forced to accept a plan that may not be as fiscally prudent as it should be. Employees are compelled to pay whatever costs for the plan are established. Prop E will change this and allow bargaining over the level of benefits — providing a more fiscally prudent management of health care costs for both the City and its workers.
- Prop E will allow workers the right to negotiate with health care carriers that certain drugs and treatments for AIDS and other diseases be included in their coverage.
- Prop E will allow workers to bargain for a plan that allows them to get their health care at San Francisco General Hospital, helping to keep this vital City service open.

Don’t be fooled. In a review of Prop E the City Attorney said it does not allow a separate health care trust. Prop E will allow cost containment of health benefits for workers. Workers will receive increased benefit opportunities if and only if they can make a better deal with a carrier. Instead of profits going to health care companies, Prop E can require that they reduce the costs to the City. This makes good business sense for the City.

PROP E MAKES GOOD BUSINESS SENSE

We, as members of the business community, urge you to vote YES on Prop E.

We do so for one overriding reason — this measure was worked out after a series of meetings with representatives from the business community and the Committee on Jobs who voiced their ideas and saw those ideas put into this final document submitted for voter approval.

Prop E contains fiscal controls to guarantee the sanctity of the retirement fund, and eliminate any possibility of higher taxes. To say anything else is just not true.

In particular, business community representatives were responsible for suggesting the following ideas included in Prop E:

- 90% cap: They proposed assurances that any retirement benefits negotiated will not cause the funded status of the retirement system to fall below 90%. This good idea exists in Prop E.
- Limit on Benefits: They proposed additional caps on the retirement benefits that could actually be negotiated. This good idea exists in Prop E. It provides that major components of any new benefit provisions under the retirement system may not exceed either the average components of the pension plans of the ten largest cities in California, or the average components of the PERS plan for state safety and miscellaneous employees. Other good ideas to strengthen the plan were added at the business community's suggestion. THE BUSINESS COMMUNITY PARTICIPATED IN THE PROCESS IT IS NOW COMPLAINING ABOUT.

Before the Committee on Jobs spends $500,000 to maintain the status quo, you should know the facts. Don't be fooled by the rhetoric.

We join Mayor Brown in urging you to support Prop E.

SAN FRANCISCO'S POLICE OFFICERS NEED PROP E

I have been privileged to serve San Francisco both as Police Chief and as a member of the Board of Supervisors. As Police Chief, I knew all too well how badly the retirement and death benefits of San Francisco's police compared to those anywhere else in the Bay Area and throughout California. I knew how badly the comparison hurt morale, and how hard it made it to recruit for our police force.

The chance to improve retirement benefits through collective bargaining was one of the major reasons I joined several other former Police Chiefs in supporting Proposition D in 1990. But due to a court ruling, retirement benefits still remain off-limits for collective bargaining. Prop E adds retirement benefits to all the other categories — salaries, other benefits, most working conditions — that the City now adjusts through collective bargaining.

The new measure includes several financial "caps" that limit benefits to no more than the average elsewhere and protect the funding of San Francisco's retirement system. It also allows the Board to insist that increased retirement benefits are "traded off" against more modest increases in salaries or other benefits, and to veto any arbitration awards that might fail to make appropriate trade-offs.

Prop E offers a sensible way of providing long overdue improvements in retirement benefits for police and other City employees, while allowing the City to make the necessary changes in the most efficient way.

I urge you to vote YES on Prop E.

PAID ARGUMENTS AGAINST PROPOSITION E

Proposition E is a $50,000,000 special interest give-away! This boondoggle removes San Francisco voters’ ability to approve (or disapprove) retirement benefit increases for city workers. Prop E abolishes voters’ rights. In 1976 voters overwhelmingly approved Proposition L, which developed a new formula for retirement benefits for city workers. I know; I was an author of that measure which was designed to control government spending. Proposition E is an indignity and affront to the citizenry of San Francisco. It was conceived in dark hallways and secret chambers by fat-catz lobbyists and lawyers representing bloated, top-heavy unions which want San Franciscans to sign a blank check by allowing the Board of Supervisors and Mayor to grant city employee increases. For shame!!! This measure was hidden from the public until literally the “11th hour”, and then ordered to the ballot by a supine Board of Supervisors which didn’t have the backbone to allow genuine public exposure or to say “no” to rapacious city employee unions.

As if repudiating the electoral process on retirement benefits weren’t enough, Prop E imposes a patronage system unnoticed in my 25 years of elected office serving San Franciscans. Proposition E removes civil service protections for 400 – 500 administrators, making them political appointees. Moreover, it abolishes the Civil Service Commission, the nonpolitical agency which administers the rules governing city employees and prevents favoritism. The late John Barbagelata and I fought to close costly loopholes which drained our city resources. We succeeded as vigilant watchdogs of our city’s coffers. Now, 20 years later, Proposition E undermines the electoral process and fundamental principles of sound public policy and fiscal responsibility. VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION E!

Stop the $50 million a year Giveaway: Vote NO on Prop. E

After five straight years of city budget deficits approaching $100 million, you would think City Hall would be focusing on how to control costs and improve efficiency to preserve city services, right? Guess again. Lawyers and lobbyists for the City’s biggest labor unions have given us Prop. E — a measure which would remove the requirement that San Francisco voters approve retirement benefit increases for city workers. The actuary for the City retirement system and the City Controller estimate the measure will cost $50 million per year in increased benefits for city employees, who already are among the highest paid workers in the state.

Prop. E also will dramatically increase the cost of providing health benefits to city workers. Currently, all city workers are covered by one health care plan. The unions which drafted Prop. E want each union and bargaining unit (there are 40 city unions) to be able to bargain for and administer its own health plan. This will eliminate the economies of scale of the current system and drive up costs.

Prop. E paves the way for patronage politics. Prop. E strips civil service protections for 400 managers in city government making them political appointees. At the same time, it eliminates the Civil Service Commission, the watch dog agency which administers the rules governing the employment of city workers. Prop. E is a cynical power grab. Vote NO.

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION E — A $50 MILLION DOLLAR GIVE-AWAY!

Proposition E is nothing but an insidious method by which San Francisco taxpayers relinquish literally all voting rights on pension and health benefits for city employees. And what’s the payoff for taking such an outrageous risk? There is none. The only profiteers of the measure are city politicians who incur inordinate power and city employees whose collective benefit increases will likely add up to $50 million per year — money that will be extracted from taxpayers’ pockets.

Ignoring the voice of the voter in determining the amount of compensation for city employees is fiscal lunacy. But that’s exactly what the lawyers and lobbyists who conjured up this plan intend. Removing the obstacle of a majority vote approval for pension and compensation changes paves a smooth road for excessive compensation benefiting only special interests. And while city employees skip down “Easy Street” to increased benefits, taxpayers endure a rocky road as they attempt to meet financial demands they never approved! The voice of the voter should be amplified in city government, not silenced — especially when it’s the voter who foots the bill. Do not lose your voice!!! Shout “NO” on Proposition E, and retain taxpayer oversight of city spending which has existed since 1932.

Quentin L. Kopp

Prop E is bad legislation. It will allow city employees to bargain for more than $1 billion in retirement benefits and eliminates the current voter approval safeguard. The result could increase city costs by $50 million per year.

Prop E abolishes the city’s long-standing Civil Service Commission and replaces it with a new commission less independent from city politics.

Prop E establishes a patronage-based hiring of over 400 city jobs further politicizing city government.

Prop E promises to be very expensive without benefit to the taxpayer. Vote No on E.

Join Supervisor Susan Leal: Vote No on Prop. E

I am urging you to vote against Prop. E for the same reasons I voted against placing it on the November ballot.

Prop. E will increase the cost of city government, threatening our ability to provide vital services. The City’s own financial analysts have determined Prop. E will allow the City to grant $50 to $100 million per year in enhanced retirement benefits without voter approval. These additional costs might impact the City’s General Fund, reducing our ability to deliver essential services such as public health.

Prop. E will bring about inefficiency and waste in the City employee’s healthcare and retirement plans. Under current law, all city employees are in centralized health and retirement plans. Prop. E will undermine these centralized plans and create dozens of less efficient plans, leading to increased administrative costs, higher premiums and lower benefits.

Vote No on Prop. E. Protect City Services.

Proposition E — A Myriad of Unanswered Questions

Proposition E would expand the collective bargaining process for city employee unions to include retirement benefits, among other things. The proposition was drafted behind closed doors and not made public until several days before the deadline for submitting measures for inclusion on the ballot.

The proposition is complex and far-reaching and insufficient time was allowed for its procedural and financial aspects to be analyzed and publicly debated. A myriad of questions remain concerning the implications of the proposition for San Francisco, particularly the anticipated cost of increased retirement benefits for city employees. Estimates from city officials range from an additional $50 million to $130 million a year for 20 years.

Proposition E should be further reviewed and changed, if necessary, to assure that it will not have significant adverse consequences for the city. It was placed on the ballot prematurely and should be rejected.

Vote NO on Proposition E! It's a power-grab that does nothing for the citizens of San Francisco. Think about it for a moment — what does it do for you? It takes away your power to control retirement benefits for City employees, it reduces the authority of the Civil Service Commission to set rules for those employees, and it makes 350 City jobs subject to political appointment. On top of all that, the Controller says it could cost $50 million to $100 million annually. How do you win?

This is the proposal that had so much bad notice in the newspapers. It got developed in private and had almost no review at the Board of Supervisors. The process was called "friggin pathetic" by one supervisor. Now it is before you for vote.

Do you want to depend on 350 at-will political appointees to manage the services you expect to receive from the City? Most of them will have little knowledge of the day-to-day operation of the City.

How do we improve government by making Personnel Officers, Food Service Managers, and Assistant Marina Managers political appointees? By repaying election supporters?

Politics belongs in the Mayor's office and the Board of Supervisor's office. Keep it out of the administration of the services you need daily. Vote No on making mid-managers political appointees.

How did Proposition E get on the ballot?

It was rushed through the Board of Supervisors after two public hearings, after months of closed meetings between the Mayor and some labor leaders to the exclusion of the Board, the City Attorney's Office, the Municipal Executives Association, the business community, neighborhoods, taxpayers, and the public.

Like most rush jobs, Proposition E is a costly mistake which will cost our overburdened taxpayers another $50,000,000 per year. But most of the cost of the legislation is not just in dollars and cents.

Proposition E, would create up to 380 new patronage jobs for the Mayor. Currently, these middle managers are protected under the Civil Service System and are represented by the Municipal Executives Association.

More ominously, Proposition E would replace the largely independent Civil Service Commission with a new Employee Relations Commission appointed by the Mayor, which would focus on disputes between city workers and the City, rather than supervising the time-honored civil service and merit systems. Those systems would be controlled jointly by the new commission, the Mayor, and the Board of Supervisors, ensuring the complete politicization of the process.

We could face a situation in the near future where the unions or special interests could do away with merit examinations altogether and all 25,000 city employees could become "at-will" employees of the Mayor's.

We don't need Chicago-Style politics in San Francisco

SPUR urges you to protect the civil service hiring system — VOTE NO on PROPOSITION E.

Proposition E will give control of the Civil Service Commission to the Mayor and allow the Board of Supervisors to interfere in adoption of rules governing the hiring city employees. It will permit patronage-based hiring of over 400 city employees.

Proposition E will allow the Board of Supervisors to grant city workers huge pension increases, at a cost of tens of millions of taxpayers' dollars, without any guarantee of improved services or salary savings.

SPUR favors full collective bargaining and new procedures for holding managers accountable for the best delivery of city services. Unfortunately, Proposition E is not the answer.

As a 25-year career civil service employee, and San Francisco resident and taxpayer, I urge No on Proposition E.

Don't be fooled by political flimflam. Buried under the glitzy camouflage of collective bargaining are unrelated political schemes. It's politics and deal-making at its unscrupulous best!

The "new" commission is unnecessary. This is simply political maneuvering to scrap the existing independent Commission and replace it with a panel and personnel system deviously designed to be vulnerable to special interest influence and political manipulation.

Evicting hundreds of managerial jobs from the competitive career service will allow politicians to fill high-paying positions based on "who" and not "what" one knows. San Francisco will regress to the moral scourge of a Nineteenth Century spoils system where political patronage, favoritism, and nepotism rule.

Filled with inconsistencies, inaccuracies, redundancies; drafted with selective input — it devastates management and promotes a political takeover of public employment.

Proposition E is a bad idea. Its placement on the ballot may meet the legal requirements, but it sure falls short in meeting the high standards that San Franciscans place on participatory democracy.

San Francisco Tomorrow

Minority and Women Business People Oppose Prop. E

Proposition E is bad for San Francisco's small minority- and women-owned businesses. Prop. E will take away San Francisco voters' ability to vote on costly benefits increases and increase the cost of San Francisco city government by as much as $50 million per year. This surely will result in new taxes directed at our community.

Prop. E eliminates the Civil Service Commission, the agency that protects the City against political patronage hiring and prevents City Hall from turning into Tammany Hall.

Prop. E sets up a new Employee Relations Commission which will have the power to levy fines and impose sanctions against small minority and women businesses which do business with the City. The City should be helping to grow minority- and women-owned businesses, not setting up new bureaucracies and burying us in more red-tape.

Please vote NO on Prop. E!

Vote No on Prop. E

As a San Francisco Supervisor, I focused on reducing waste and inefficiency in city government, saving a total of $82 million. I am deeply concerned about Proposition E, and I urged the Board of Supervisors not to place it on the ballot.

I support fair benefits for city workers. However, Prop. E eliminates the voters’ right to vote on potentially enormous benefits increases. Prop. E will cost voters between $50 and $100 million per year in increased pension benefits costs, according to the City’s own financial experts.

Prop. E eliminates the Civil Service Commission, which helps to determine the qualifications and exams for city job applicants, and dismisses the current commissioners. Prop. E also will strip civil service protections from nearly 500 high-paying city jobs, making them political appointments. Prop. E would return San Francisco to an era of patronage and the spoils system. Let’s not build a political machine with taxpayer money.

Prop. E would be disastrous for our City’s future. As a native San Franciscoan who cares deeply about the City, I emphatically urge you to vote no.

Prop. E is bad government

All of the undersigned have extensive experience in San Francisco city government — some as elected or appointed officials, others as professional managers. We all agree that Prop. E is bad government. Prop. E eliminates San Franciscans’ right to vote on costly retirement benefit increases, but offers them nothing in return. Read the Controller’s official statement. It says Prop. E will allow city employees unions to bargain for up to an estimated $1.1 billion in additional retirement benefits — benefits it will cost the city more than $50 million per year to pay off.

Prop. E eliminates the Civil Service Commission, the independent agency which administers the tests for city employment and ensures that city employees are chosen on the basis of merit, not patronage. Prop. E also strips the civil service rights of more than 450 city managers, making them political appointees.

Above all, the process by which Prop. E was placed on the ballot was profoundly undemocratic and an embarrassment to the city. Join us in voting No on Prop. E.

There is an old saying that laws are like sausages: Even if you like the end product, you certainly don’t want to see how either is actually made. The same is true of Proposition E — when you consider how it got on the ballot, you will lose your appetite:

- The measure was drafted by lawyers and lobbyists over three months of behind-closed-doors meetings.
- The measure was submitted to the Board of Supervisors without any review by the City Attorney’s office.
- The measure was rushed through the Board of Supervisors’ Rules Committee after just one public hearing. No analysis of the measure’s legal or cost impacts was available to the public.
- The measure was voted on by the Board of Supervisors after the official deadline for submission of ballot measures.
- At least one city union already has threatened to sue the city for violating state meet-and-confer laws in the rush to get the measure on the ballot.

All of the undersigned have worked tirelessly in support of clean and open government. The process which created Prop. E is an embarrassment to the City and a lesson in how not to make city law. Vote NO.

Don’t support backroom deals, Vote NO on Prop. E

All of the undersigned have worked for years in support of "sunshine" laws to prevent city officials from drafting laws in private and to make it easier for average San Franciscans to get information about important decisions and policies.

We are surprised and deeply disappointed by the process through which Prop. E, the collective bargaining revision measure, was placed on the ballot.

Prop. E was drafted behind closed doors by lawyers for several city unions, submitted to the Board of Supervisors’ rules committee before it could even be reviewed by the City Attorney, and pushed through the Board of Supervisors amidst a flurry of confusing amendments.

One supervisor called the process by which Prop. E was rushed to the ballot “frigging pathetic,” another compared it to the street hustlers’ game three-card monte.

While all the undersigned support fair pay and benefits for city workers, backroom deals like Prop. E erode public confidence in government. We urge you to vote no.

THE AUTHORS OF PROPOSITION E FORGOT OUR NEIGHBORHOODS

Proposition E, written by lobbyists behind closed doors without consulting any member of the public, was rushed through the Board of Supervisors with little concern for the public’s right to know. The authors of Proposition E apparently did not believe that those of us who live west of Twin Peaks matter.

Proposition E will remove from voters the ability to set retirement benefits for City Employees. This cherished right, a cornerstone of the City Charter, was established more than 50 years ago. If Proposition E wins, benefits will be negotiated behind closed doors and ratified by the Board of Supervisors — WITHOUT YOUR VOTE.

The Controller and the actuary for the City Retirement System say that Proposition E will cost San Francisco taxpayers $50,000,000 more per year. That’s frightening. We can’t afford this kind of backroom deal.

PROP E IS BAD GOVERNMENT.
The supporters of Prop E never explain why the voters are being asked to gut the City's civil service merit system.

As concerned citizens, we support fair pay, pensions and health benefits for city workers.

But, the City must protect the merit system, so city workers are hired and promoted on the basis of competence, not political spoils and patronage. Prop E would allow our current Mayor and future Mayors to appoint 400 middle management employees on a patronage basis, without any exams to test their ability.

Prop E discriminates against one union. Only managers represented by the Municipal Executives Association could be fired at will by the Mayor. Managers represented by other unions, including most Muni managers, would retain their job protection.

Also, Prop E would eliminate the independent Civil Service Commission, where commissioners now serve six year, staggered terms, to insulate the commissioners from political pressure. The only reason the sponsors of Prop E want to abolish the Independent Civil Service Commission is to remove its protection of the merit system. The Board of Supervisors can assign new duties to the Commission by ordinance. No charter amendment is necessary.

Prop E would be very expensive. Added pension costs could far exceed the $60 million estimated by the Retirement System's actuary.

San Francisco's Business Community Opposes Prop. E
The organizations and activists representing San Francisco's merchants, small businesses and major employers all agree: Prop. E is bad for San Francisco.

Read the City Controller's analysis of the measure: Prop E will give city employees groups the power to bargain for more than $1 billion in new retirement benefits without voter approval. The actuary for the City retirement system says Prop. E will cost the City an additional $50 – $100 million per year.

Prop. E will fragment the City's healthcare delivery system for city employees increasing costs and hurting efficiency.

Prop. E also will eliminate the City's Civil Service Commission, the watchdog which regulates the City's hiring and employment practices and prevents patronage hiring. Prop. E undermines the independence of the commission which is most vital to ensuring that city jobs are awarded based on merit, not politics.

Finally, Prop. E was placed on the ballot without sufficient review and due process. San Francisco's business community and financial experts would welcome the opportunity to come to the table and work out a better alternative. However, Prop. E is simply a bad law.

PAID ARGUMENTS AGAINST PROPOSITION E

Take a closer look at Prop. E
The undersigned are all strong proponents of organized labor and collective bargaining rights, but we are concerned about how Prop. E could undermine the current system for disciplining San Francisco police officers who break the rules and violate the rights of others.

The rules for disciplining police officers for misconduct are set in the City Charter; changing the rules would require a vote of the people. For years, the Police Officers Association has tried to limit the requirement that voters approve any changes to current police discipline procedures. The POA would like to negotiate disciplinary procedures as a part of contract negotiations, which take place behind closed doors. But disciplinary rules are not like salaries and benefits; they are there to protect the rights of others, and they don’t belong on the bargaining table.

Prop. E could allow the Police Department to change disciplinary procedures for certain types of misconduct, such as violation of search and seizure laws, without going to the voters.

That’s why we question the need for this charter amendment. During the entire three-year Charter Reform process, no one suggested changing the police discipline system. What is the compelling reason for watering down the voters’ ability to control the police discipline system? Why should we place ourselves on this slippery slope?

The vast majority of San Francisco police officers are well-trained professionals who take their enormous responsibilities seriously. The rules are there to protect San Franciscans from the few who don’t, and Prop. E appears to undermine the rules.

Five Reasons San Francisco’s Fiscal Watchdogs Urge you to vote NO on Prop. E

• It takes away voters’ rights. For more than 50 years, the City Charter has required that San Francisco voters approve retirement benefits increases for city workers. It is one of very few direct controls S.F. voters have over the cost of city government, and Prop. E eliminates it — without giving voters anything in return.

• It will cost $50 million per year. Prop. E could cost the city $50 million per year, or more than $1 billion over the next twenty years, according to the City Controller and the actuary for the retirement system.

• It will drive up healthcare costs for city workers. Currently, nearly all city workers are covered under a centralized, city-run health plan. But Prop. E will allow the City’s 40 public employee unions to bargain for separate health benefits and set up individual “health trusts.” Breaking the centralized system into dozens of smaller ones will hurt the City’s buying power, reduce economies of scale and drive up costs.

• It undermines a key City watchdog agency. Prop. E will eliminate the Civil Service Commission, the watchdog agency which oversees the rules governing employment in city government, and fire the current commissioners.

• It was written by lobbyists behind closed doors. Prop. E was drafted by lawyers and lobbyists for the City’s largest unions. It was rushed through the board in a process one supervisor called “legislative three-card monte” (San Francisco Chronicle, Wednesday, July 3).

San Francisco supports collective bargaining and fair benefits packages for city workers, but Prop. E is a giveaway. Vote No.

The Golden Gate Restaurant Association OPPOSES Proposition E
Proposition E has two major flaws.
First, the process of getting Prop E on the ballot was bad government at its worst. It was drafted by lobbyists for City employee unions with no input from other parties. The City Attorney was not given a chance for adequate review. Something as complicated as Prop E should have adequate public review BEFORE being placed on the ballot.
Second, Prop E is bad policy on its merits. San Francisco voters will lose their right to vote on retirement benefits for City employees. The potential costs of putting retirement benefits in the hands of City employee unions is staggering. Estimates run as high as $100 million in additional costs per year. City officials will look to us, the taxpayers, to foot the bill. Higher taxes only drive businesses and jobs out of town.
Protect San Francisco’s tax base. Vote NO on this boon for City employee unions.

Prop. E was developed in private by a small group of lawyers and lobbyists and rushed through the Board of Supervisors with almost no opportunity for public review.

The board of supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby submits to the qualified electors of said City and County at an election to be held therein on November 5, 1996, a proposal to amend the charter of said City and County by deleting section 10.100, amending sections A8.343, A8.403, A8.404, A8.409-1, A8.409-3, A8.409-4, A8.409-5, A8.590-4, A8.590-5, A8.590-6, A8.590-7, 11.100 and adding sections 11.103 and 11.104 so that the same shall read as follows:

NOTE: Additions or substitutions are indicated by bold face type; deletions are indicated by strike out type.

Section 1. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.343, to read as follows:

A8.343 FINE, SUSPENSION AND DISMISSAL IN POLICE AND FIRE DEPARTMENTS

Members of the uniformed ranks of the fire or the police department guilty of any offense or violation of the rules and regulations of their respective departments, shall be liable to be punished by reprimand, or by fine not exceeding one month’s salary for any offense, or by suspension for not to exceed three months, or by dismissal, after trial and hearing by the commissioners of their respective departments; provided, however, that the chief of each respective department for disciplinary purposes may suspend such member for a period not to exceed 10 days for violation of the rules and regulations of his department.

Any such member so suspended shall have the right to appeal such suspension to the fire commission or to the police commission, as the case may be, and have a trial and hearing on such suspension. Written notice of appeal must be filed within 10 days after such suspension and the hearing of said appeal must be held within 30 days after the filing of said notice of appeal. If the commission shall reverse or alter the finding of the chief, it shall in the case of a reversal and in other cases it may in its discretion, order that the member affected be paid salary for the time of his suspension. In the event the chief should exercise such power of suspension, the member involved shall not be subject to any further disciplinary action for the same offense.

Subject to the foregoing, members of the uniformed ranks of either department shall not be subject to dismissal, nor to punishment for any breach of duty or misconduct, except for cause, nor until after a fair and impartial trial before the commissioners of their respective departments, upon a verified complaint filed with such commission setting forth specifically the acts complained of, and after such reasonable notice to them as to time and place of hearings as such commission may, by rule, prescribe. The accused shall be entitled, upon hearing, to appear personally and by counsel; to have a public trial and to search and enforce, free of expense, the attendance of all witnesses necessary for his defense.

Notwithstanding any provisions of this charter, including this section, disciplinary procedures applicable to members of the ranks of the Police and Fire Departments may be changed, modified or established by the Police and Fire Commissions, as applicable after meeting and conferring with the appropriate recognized employee organization pursuant to charter section A8.590-4, but only after full public hearings before the board of supervisors and the Police and Fire Commissions. Provided however, that the provisions of Charter section 4.127 regarding the Office of Citizen Complaints may not be overriden except by amendment of the charter. Further provided, that in the following types of Police Department disciplinary cases, the provisions of Charter section A8.343 regarding disciplinary procedures shall continue to apply and may not be overriden except by amendment of the charter: (1) cases involving the San Francisco Police Department’s crowd control policies; (2) cases involving allegations of misconduct resulting in death or serious bodily injury or allegations of excessive force or; (3) cases involving allegations of racial or sexual discrimination or harassment or other unlawful discrimination. The Police Commission shall have the sole discretion to determine the applicability of Charter section A8.343 to a police disciplinary case based on the criteria enumerated above.

Section 2. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.403, to read as follows:

A8.403 COMPENSATION FOR REGISTERED NURSE CLASSIFICATIONS

The salary, conditions and benefits of employment of the various classifications of nurses required to possess a registered nurse license issued by the State of California as provided for in this section as compensation shall be determined and fixed annually as follows:

(a) On or before May 1, 1982, and each year thereafter, the civil service and employee relations commission shall certify to the board of supervisors for the acute care staff nurse classification the highest prevailing salary schedule in effect on April 15 of that year, and salary adjustments, if any, to be effective during the city and county’s next succeeding fiscal year, granted by collective bargaining agreement to comparable registered nurse employees in public and private employment in the counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Mateo, San Francisco and Santa Clara. Rates of pay for other registered nurse classifications shall reflect not less than the same relationships to the benchmark registered nurse classification that those classifications had in fiscal year 1980-1981 to the then benchmark classification.

(b) The board of supervisors shall on or before June 1, 1983, and each year thereafter, fix a salary schedule for each classification which shall not be in excess of the schedules certified by the civil service and employee relations commission, for each such classification, except as provided in Subsection (f) below, and provided, further, that no employee’s basic rate of pay shall be reduced to conform to the highest prevailing salary schedule except as provided for in Section A8.406;

c) The rates of pay fixed for each classification shall become effective at the beginning of the next succeeding fiscal year;

d) The terms "salary schedule" and "salary schedules" wherever used in this section are hereby defined and intended to include only the maximum rate of pay provided in each such salary schedule; the term "salary adjustments" shall mean an increase or decrease to the maximum rate of pay;

e) At the time the board of supervisors fixes the salary schedule as provided in (b) above, the board of supervisors may fix as conditions and benefits of employment other than salaries as compensation for each classification, conditions and benefits not to exceed the intent of those conditions and benefits granted by collective bargaining agreements to comparable classifications by the employer used for certification of the highest prevailing salary schedule by the civil service and employee relations commission.

The board of supervisors may establish such conditions and benefits notwithstanding other provisions or limitations of this charter, with the exception that such conditions and benefits shall not involve any change in the administration of or benefits of the retirement system, the administration or benefits of the health service system or vacation allowances provided elsewhere in this charter. Conditions and benefits of employment existing prior to July 1, 1982 may be continued by the board of supervisors;

(f) When the employer used for certification in Subsection (a) above, provides rates of pay during the current fiscal year in excess of those fixed by the board of supervisors for said current fiscal year, or vacation and health service benefits greater than such similar benefits provided by this charter for the staff nurse classification, the civil service and employee relations commission shall certify to the board of supervisors an amount not to exceed the difference of such salary and benefits converted to dollar values and the board of supervisors may provide additional salary, conditions and benefits of employment at a cost not to exceed said dollar value.

(g) Notwithstanding section (f) above, the board of supervisors may, after meeting and conferring with and reaching agreement with the employee organization certified as the representative for the classifications of nurses governed by this charter section, fix retirement benefits for each classification. No agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system shall be effective unless and until the following occur:

i. the parties secure, through the retirement board, an actuarial report of the cost and effect of any proposed changes in benefits under the retirement system, and;

ii. the retirement board certifies that any changes in benefits under the retirement system will not cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City’s agency (Continued on next page) account with the Public Employees' Retirement System to fall below 90%. With reference to the retirement system and the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System, the term funded status will mean a percentage equal to a fraction, the numerator of which is the actuarial value of assets and the denominator of which is the accrued actuarial liability. All agreements pursuant to this section and agreements or decisions pursuant to other charter sections covering classifications of employees not covered by this section submitted to the retirement board for certification within a calendar quarter shall be considered together and no agreements or decisions shall be implemented if all agreements or decisions, taken together, would cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System to fall below 90%.

iii. the retirement board certifies that the "age factor" and "cost of living adjustment" ("COLA") and "final compensation" components of any new benefit provisions under the retirement system do not exceed the higher of:

(a) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the PERS 2% at 50 plans for state safety employees and the PERS 2% at 60 plans for state non-safety employees as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered; or

(b) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the pension plans of the 10 largest cities in California by population, exclusive of San Francisco, as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered, and;

iv. the board of supervisors, after having made its own finding that implementation of the modifications to the retirement system resulting from the tax qualified status of the retirement system and a determination that the proposed modifications do not impose an unreasonable administrative burden on the retirement system, enacts an ordinance implementing the agreement. All such ordinances shall contain the following proviso:

In the event any proviso above is finally determined by the Internal Revenue Service or a court of competent jurisdiction to deprive the retirement system of its tax qualified status, then all provisions which would impair its tax qualified status are immediately null and void. Under no circumstances will any employee have a vested right to any benefit which becomes null and void in the manner described in the preceding sentence.

The board of supervisors, has full discretion to accept or reject, any agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system. In the event no agreement is reached, or the board of supervisors rejects any agreement, arbitration shall not be available.

Section 3. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended by amending section A8.404 to read as follows: A8.404 SALARIES AND BENEFITS OF CARMEN

The wages, conditions and benefits of employment as provided for in this section of the various classifications of employment of platform employees and coach or bus operators of the municipal railway as compensation shall be determined and fixed annually as follows:

(a) On or before the first Monday of August of each year, the civil service and employee relations commission shall certify to the board of supervisors for each classification of employment the average of the two highest wage schedules in effect on July 1st of that year for comparable platform employees and coach or bus operators of other surface street railway and bus systems in the United States operated primarily within the municipalities having each a population of not less than 500,000 as determined by the then most recent census taken and published by the director of the census of the United States, and each such system normally employing not less than 400 platform employees or coach or bus operators, or platform employees, coach and bus operators.

(b) The board of supervisors shall thereupon fix a wage schedule for each classification of platform employees and coach and bus operators of the municipal railway which shall not be in excess of the average of the two highest wage schedules so certified by the civil service and employee relations commission for each such classification.

(c) When, in addition to their usual duties, such employees are assigned duties as instructors of platform employees or coach or bus operators they shall receive additional compensation that shall be subject to negotiation in addition to the rate of pay to which they are otherwise entitled under the wage schedule as herein provided.

(d) The rates of pay fixed for platform employees and coach and bus operators as herein provided shall be effective from July 1st of the year in which such rates of pay are certified by the civil service and employee relations commission.

The terms "wage schedule" and "wage schedules" whenever in this section are hereby defined and intended to include only the maximum rate of pay provided in each such wage schedule.

(i) At the time the board of supervisors fixes the wage schedule as provided in (b) above, the board of supervisors may fix as conditions and benefits of employment other than wages as compensation for platform employees and coach or bus operators of the municipal railway, conditions and benefits not to exceed those conditions and benefits granted by collective bargaining agreements to the comparable platform employees and coach and bus operators of the two systems used for certification of the average of the two highest wage schedules by the civil service and employee relations commission. The board of supervisors may establish such conditions and benefits not involving other provisions or limitations of this chapter, with the exception that such conditions and benefits shall not involve any change in the administration of or benefits of the retirement system, the administration or benefits of the health service system or vacation allowances as provided elsewhere in this charter.

For all purposes of the retirement system as related to this section, the word "compensation" as used in Section A8.509 of this charter shall mean the "wage schedules" as fixed in accordance with paragraphs (a) and (b) above, including those wages that are fixed and paid as part of wages to platform employees, coach and bus operators of the municipal railway, but shall not include the value of those benefits paid into the fund established as herein provided. Provided that when in the two systems used for certification as provided above, vacation, retirement and health service benefits are greater than such similar benefits provided by this charter for platform employees, coach or bus operators of the municipal railway, then an amount not to exceed the difference of such benefits may be converted to dollar values and the amount equivalent to these dollar values shall be paid into a fund. The fund shall be established to receive and to administer said amounts representing the differences in values of the vacation, retirement and health service benefits, and to pay out benefits that shall be specifically determined by representatives of the city and county government and the representation of the organized platform employees and coach and bus operators of the municipal railway. The civil service and employee relations commission shall adopt rules for the establishment and general administration of the fund as herein provided. Such rules shall provide for a joint administration of the fund by representatives of the city and county government, which shall include representatives of the administrator of the agency responsible for the municipal railway and representatives of the organized platform employees, coach and bus operators of the municipal railway. Such rules may provide a procedure for final and binding arbitration of disputes which may arise between representatives of the city and county government and the representatives of the organized platform employees and coach and bus operators of the municipal railway. Such rules shall provide that all investments of the fund shall be of the character legal for insurance companies in California. Such rules and any amendments thereto shall be effective upon approval by the board of supervisors by ordinance.

(g) Notwithstanding any provisions of this charter, including other subparts of this section, the board of supervisors may, after meeting and conferring with and reaching agreement with the employee organization certified as the representative for municipal railway operators, fix wages and benefits of employment other than wages for platform employees and coach and bus operators of the municipal railway under this section for periods in excess of one year. Any ordinance fixing wages and benefits of employment other than wages adopted pursuant to this section for a period of more than one year shall contain a provision to the effect that during said period of time it shall be unlawful for the employees receiving the compensation so fixed to engage in a strike, work stoppage or conduct delaying or interfering with work at city and county facilities.

Wages and benefits of employment other than wages established under this section shall not in any year exceed the limits established under paragraphs (d) and (f) of this section.

(h) Notwithstanding the provision for certification of comparable public employee and bus operator wage levels in subsection (f) above, the board of supervisors may, after meeting and conferring with and reaching an agreement with the employee organization certified as the representative for classification of employees governed by this section, fix retirement benefits for each classification. No agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system shall be effective unless and until the following occur:

1. The parties secure, through the retirement board, an actuarial report of the cost and effect of any proposed changes in benefits under the retirement system, and
2. The retirement board certifies that any changes in benefits under the retirement system will not cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System to fall below 90%. With reference to the retirement system or the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System, the term funded status means a percentage equal to a fraction, the numerator of which is the actuarial value of assets and the denominator of which is the accrued actuarial liability. All agreements pursuant to this section and agreements or decisions pursuant to other charter sections covering classifications of employees not covered by this section submitted to the retirement board for certification within a calendar quarter shall be considered together and no agreements or decisions shall be implemented if all agreements or decisions, taken together, would cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System to fall below 90%, and
3. The retirement board certifies that the "age factors" and "cost of living adjustment" ("COLA") and "final compensation" components of any new benefit provisions under the retirement system do not exceed the higher of:
   (a) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the PERS 2% at 50 plans for state safety employees and the PERS 2% at 60 plans for state non-safety employees as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered; or
   (b) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the pension plans of the 10 largest cities in California by population, exclusive of San Francisco, as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered, and
4. The board of supervisors, after having made its own finding that implementation of the modifications to the retirement system present no risk to the tax-qualified status of the retirement system and a determination that the proposed modifications do not impose an unreasonable administrative burden on the retirement system, enacts an ordinance implementing the agreement. All such ordinances shall contain the following provisions:

In the event any provision above is finally determined by the Internal Revenue Service or a court of competent jurisdiction to deprive the retirement system of its tax qualified status, then all provisions which would impair its tax qualified status are immediately null and void. Under no circumstances will any employee have a vested right to any benefit which becomes null and void in the manner described in the preceding sentence.

The board of supervisors, has full discretion to accept or reject any agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system. In the event no agreement is reached, or the board of supervisors rejects any agreement, arbitration shall not be available.

(h) (i) Not later than the 25th day of August, the board of supervisors shall have the power and it shall be its duty, subject to the fiscal provisions of the charter but, without reference or amendment to the annual budget, to amend the annual appropriation ordinance and the annual salary ordinance as necessary to include the provisions for paying the rates of compensation and conditions and benefits other than wages fixed by the board of supervisors as in this section provided for platform employees and coach or bus operators for the then current fiscal year. On recommendation of the civil service and employee relations commission the board of supervisors shall establish a rate of pay for franchise train men and bus or coach operators at a level reflecting the current labor market but below the basic hourly rate for motorman, conductor and bus operator.

Section 4. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.409-1, to read as follows:

A8.409-1 EMPLOYEES COVERED

These Sections A8.409 through A8.409-6, inclusive, shall apply to all miscellaneous officers and employees and including employees of San Francisco Unified School District and San Francisco Community College District to the extent authorized by state law. The provisions of charter sections A8.400(h), A8.401, A8.401-1, and A8.407 are hereby repealed and shall be of no further force and effect. Employee organizations representing employees in classifications covered by sections A8.403 and A8.404 of this Charter may elect to include those classifications within the coverage of this part as a separate bargaining unit, provided, however, that the election shall not become effective without the written approval of the Mayor and Board of Supervisors. The election shall be irrevocable and such employees shall not thereafter be subject to the provisions of sections A8.403 and A8.404.

Employees in classifications not represented by a recognized employee organization shall be entitled to represent themselves with the city and county over wages, hours and other terms and conditions of employment to the extent required by state law and shall not be subject to the arbitration provisions of Section A8.409-4 of this charter. The Mayor annually shall propose all forms of compensation for unrepresented employees including salaries, hours, benefits, and other terms and conditions of employment subject to approval or disapproval of the board of supervisors. Consistent with other provisions of this charter, the civil service and employee relations commission may adopt rules and procedures relating to said unrepresented employees.

Except as otherwise provided by this charter, the Civil Service and Employee Relations Commission shall set the wages and benefits of all elected officials of the City and County of San Francisco as follows: wages shall be frozen for fiscal year 1994-95 and 1995-96 at the rates in effect on June 30, 1994, thereafter, wages and benefits may be adjusted on July 1 of each fiscal year to reflect upward change in the CPI as of the preceding January 1; however, wage increases may not exceed 4%. Benefits of elected officials may equal but may not exceed those benefits provided to any classification of miscellaneous officers and employees as of July 1 of each fiscal year.

In addition, subject to the approval or disapproval of the Board of Supervisors, the Mayor may create, for employees designated as management, a management compensation package that recognizes and provides incentives for outstanding managerial performance contributing to increased productivity and efficiency in the work force. In formulating such a package, the Mayor shall take into account data developed in conjunction with the civil service and employee relations commission regarding the terms of executive compensation in other public and private jurisdictions.

Section 5. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.409-3, to read as follows:

A8.409-3 OBLIGATION TO BARGAIN IN GOOD FAITH

Notwithstanding any other ordinances, rules or regulations of the city and county of San Francisco and its departments, boards and commissions, the city and county of San Francisco, through its duly authorized representatives, and recognized employee organizations representing classifications of employees covered by this part shall have the mutual obligation to bargain in good faith on all matters within the scope of representation as defined by Government Code Section 3504, relating to the wages, hours, benefits and other terms and conditions of city and county employment, including retirement and death allowances and health benefits subject to section A8.409-5, and further including the establishment of procedures for the resolution of grievances concerning interpretation or application of any agreement, and including agreements to provide binding arbitration of discipline and discharge; provided, however, that such obligation shall insofar as they affect compensation, those matters within the jurisdiction of the civil service and employee relations commission which establish, implement and regulate the civil service

merit system shall not be subject to bargaining under this part: the authority, purpose, definitions, administration and organization of the merit system and the civil service commission; policies, procedures and funding of the operations of the civil service commission and its staff; the establishment and maintenance of a classification plan including the classification and reclassification of positions and the allocation and reallocation of positions to the various classifications; status rights; the establishment of standards, procedures and qualifications for employment, recruitment, application, examination, selection, certification and appointment; the establishment, administration and duration of eligible lists; probationary status and the administration of probationary periods, except duration; pre-employment and fitness for duty medical examinations except for the conditions under which referrals for fitness for duty examinations will be made, and the imposition of new requirements; the designation of positions as exempt, temporary, limited tenure, part-time, seasonal or permanent; resignation with satisfactory service and reappointment; exempt entry level appointment of the handicapped; approval of payrolls; and conflict of interest. As to these matters, the Mayor, Board of Supervisors and Civil Service and Employee Relations Commission shall continue to be required to meet and confer pursuant to state law.

Unless and until agreement is reached through bargaining between authorized representatives of the city and county of San Francisco and authorized representatives of recognized employee organizations for the employee classifications covered by this part, or a determination is made through the procedure set forth in section A8.409-4 hereinafter provided, no existing wages, written terms or conditions of employment, fringe benefits, or long-standing past practices for said employees shall be altered, eliminated or changed except in cases of emergency. This paragraph shall be effective only until the approval of the first memorandum of understanding with a covered employee organization or six months from the effective date of this part whichever occurs sooner.

During the term of an MOU, disputes regarding changes in wages, hours, benefits and other terms and conditions of employment shall not be subject to the impasse procedures provided in this part, but may be subject to impasse arbitration.

No bargaining unit may be included in more than one memorandum of understanding with the city and county of San Francisco. Consistent with charter sections 3-100-2 and 3-102-11.100 and 11.101 and subject to the prior written approval of the Human Resources Director which shall not be unreasonably withheld, appointing officers shall have the authority to negotiate agreements with recognized employee representatives. Appointing officers shall consult and coordinate such negotiations with the Human Resources Director.

Such memoranda of understanding shall be restricted to non-economic items within the jurisdiction of the department appointing officer which do not conflict with a city-wide memorandum of understanding. Such memoranda of understanding shall come into full force and effect only upon approval by the mayor and thereafter by a majority vote of the board of supervisors or other appropriate governing body. Upon such approval, departmental memoranda of understanding shall be attached as appendices to the employee organization's city-wide memorandum of understanding as negotiated under this part. No memorandum of understanding negotiated pursuant to this paragraph during the term of a city-wide memorandum of understanding shall be subject to the arbitration provisions of this part until re-negotiation of the employee organization's city-wide memorandum of understanding.

Agreements reached pursuant to this part by the authorized representatives for the city and county of San Francisco, on behalf of its departments, boards and commissions, and the authorized representatives of recognized employee organizations, once adopted by ordinances of the board of supervisors, shall be binding on the city and county of San Francisco, and on its departments, boards, commissions, officers and employees and on the recognized employee organizations and their successors, and all employees in classifications they represent. Except as specifically set forth in this part, said agreements shall supersede any and all other conflicting procedures, provisions and formulae contained in this charter, in the ordinances of the board of supervisors, or in the rules or regulations of the city and county of San Francisco, relating to wages, hours, or other terms and conditions of employment.

Section 6. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended by amending section A8.409-4, to read as follows:

A8.409-4 IMPASSE RESOLUTION PROCEDURES

(a) Subject to Section A8.409-4(g), disputes pertaining to wages, hours, benefits or other terms and conditions of employment which remain unresolved after good faith bargaining between the city and county of San Francisco, on behalf of its departments, boards and commissions, and a recognized employee organization representing classifications of employees covered under this part shall be submitted to a three member mediation/arbitration board ("the board") upon the declaration of an impasse either by the authorized representative of the city and county of San Francisco or by the authorized representative of the recognized employee organization involved in the dispute; provided, however, that the arbitration procedures set forth in this part shall not be available to any employee organization that engages in a strike unless the parties mutually agree to engage in arbitration under this section. Should any employee organization engage in a strike either during or after the completion of negotiations and impasse procedures, the arbitration procedure shall cease immediately and no further impasse resolution procedures shall be required.

(b) Not later than January 20 of any year in which bargaining on an MOU takes place, representatives designated by the city and county of San Francisco and representatives of the recognized employee organization involved in bargaining pursuant to this part shall each select and appoint one person to the board. The third member of the board shall be selected by agreement between the city and county of San Francisco and the recognized employee organization, and shall serve as the neutral chairperson of the board.

In the event that the city and county of San Francisco and the recognized employee organization involved in bargaining cannot agree upon the selection of the chairperson within ten (10) days after the selection of the city and county and employee organization members of the board, either party may then request the American Arbitration Association or California State Mediation Service to provide a list of the seven (7) persons who are qualified and experienced as labor interest arbitrators. If the city and county and the employee organization cannot agree within three (3) days after receipt of such list on one of the seven (7) persons to act as the chairperson, they shall randomly determine which party strikes first, and shall alternately strike names from the list of nominees until one name remains and that person shall then become the chairperson of the board.

(c) Any proceeding convened pursuant to this section shall be conducted in conformance with, subject to, and governed by Title 9 of Part 3 of the California Code of Civil Procedure. The board may hold public hearings, receive evidence from the parties and, at the request of either party, cause a transcript of the proceedings to be prepared. The board, in the exercise of its discretion, may meet privately with the parties to mediate or mediate/arbitrate the dispute. The board may also adopt other procedures designed to encourage an agreement between the parties, expedite the arbitration hearing process, or reduce the cost of the arbitration process.

(d) In the event no agreement is reached prior to the conclusion of the arbitration hearings, the board shall direct each of the parties to submit, within such time limit as the board may establish, a last offer of settlement on each of the remaining issues in dispute. The board shall decide each issue by majority vote by selecting whichever last offer of settlement on that issue it finds by a preponderance of the evidence presented during the arbitration most nearly conforms to those factors traditionally taken into consideration in the determination of wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of public and private employment, including, but not limited to changes in the average consumer price index for goods and services; the wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of employment of employees performing similar services; the wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of employment of other employees in the city and county of San Francisco; health and safety of employees; the financial resources of the city and county of San Francisco; and other factors the board deems relevant.

including limitations on the amount and use of revenues and expenditures; revenue projections; the power to levy taxes and raise revenue by enhancements or other means; budgetary reserves; and the city’s ability to meet the costs of the decision of the arbitration board; and that any proposal to modify retirement or death allowances or with respect to health benefits proposals would not cause, if adopted, an undue proliferation of retirement, death allowance benefits, or health insurance plan benefits resulting in an unreasonable administrative burden on either the retirement or health systems of the city and county. In addition, the board shall issue written findings on each and every one of the above factors as they may be applicable to each and every issue determined in the award. Compliance with the above provisions shall be mandatory.

(e) To be effective the beginning of the next succeeding fiscal year, an agreement shall be reached or the board shall reach a final decision no later than sixty days before the date the Mayor is required to submit a budget to the board of supervisors, except by mutual agreement of the parties. After reaching a decision, the board shall serve a copy of its decision on the parties. The decision and findings of the arbitration board shall not be publically disclosed until ten (10) days after it is delivered to the parties. During that ten (10) day period the parties shall meet privately, attempt to resolve their differences, and by mutual agreement amend or modify the decision and findings of the arbitration board. At the conclusion of the ten (10) day period, which may be extended by mutual agreement between the parties, the decision and findings of the arbitration board, as it may be modified or amended by the parties, shall be publically disclosed for a period of fourteen (14) days after which time the decision shall be final and binding. Except as otherwise provided by this part, the arbitration decision shall supersede any and all other relevant formulae, procedures and provisions of this charter relating to wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of employment, and it shall be final and binding on the parties to the dispute. However, the decision of the board may be judicially challenged by either party.

Thereafter, the city and county of San Francisco, its designated officers, employees and representatives and the recognized employee organization involved in the dispute shall take whatever action necessary to carry out and effectuate the final decision.

(f) The expenses of any proceedings convened pursuant to this part, including the fees for the services of the chairperson of the board, the costs of preparation of the transcript of the proceedings and other costs directly related to and necessarily incurred during the conduct of the proceedings, as determined by the board, shall be borne equally by the parties. All other expenses, including attorneys fees incurred by any party, participant or arbitration panel member in the proceedings, shall be borne by the parties in whose favor they may incur or be borne by the party incurring such expenses.

(g) The impasse resolution procedures set forth in Section A8.409-4, or in any other provision of the charter, ordinance or state law shall not apply to any rules, policy, procedure, order or practice which relates or pertains to the purpose, goals or requirements of a consent decree, or which is necessary to ensure compliance with federal, state or local laws, ordinances or regulations. In the event the city acts on a matter it has determined relates to or pertains to a consent decree, or in the event the city acts to ensure compliance with federal, state, or local laws, ordinances or regulations, and the affected employee organization disputes said determination, that determination or action shall not be subject to arbitration, but may be challenged in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(h) The impasse resolution procedures set forth in section A8.409-4, or in any other section of the charter, shall not apply to any proposal pertaining to the right to strike.

(i) Charter sections A8.590-1 through A8.590-7 shall remain in full force and effect; provided, however, that the wages and other economic benefits and compensation of all classifications and employees covered by these sections shall be frozen for fiscal year 1995-96 at the rates in effect on June 30, 1995, except that wages and other economic benefits and compensation of all classifications of Airport Police shall be frozen for the fiscal year following expiration of the Memorandum of Understanding covering those classifications in effect on the effective date of this amendment.

(j) Subject to the election provisions of section A8.409-1, Charter sections A8.403 and A8.404 shall remain in full force and effect; provided, however, that the wages and other economic benefits and compensation of all classifications and employees covered by section A8.404 shall be frozen for fiscal year 1995-96 at the rates in effect on June 30, 1995.

Section 7. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.409-5 thereof, to read as follows:

A8.409-5 RETIREMENT BENEFITS

Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, Retirement and death allowances shall continue to be set and adjusted pursuant to Chapter Five of this Article, unless modified by an ordinance adopted pursuant to this section. However, death benefits and survivor allowances, retirement allowances, adjustments to retirement allowances and adjustments to continual allowances payable by the retirement system and based on fiscal year 1991-1992 wages and salaries covered by charter section A8.407, shall be calculated for all employees covered by charter sections A8.401 and A8.407 based on the rates certified by the civil service and employee relations commission to the board of supervisors as though the 1991-1992 salary standardization ordinance vetoed by the mayor had become law. No such payment shall exceed the maximum amount permitted by Section 415 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time, or the maximum amount which would still permit the retirement systems to preserve its tax-qualified status under Section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time. No agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system and the no decision of the mediation/arbitration board modifying benefits under the retirement system shall be effective unless and until after the following occur:

1. the parties secure, through the retirement board, an actuarial report of the cost and effect of any proposed changes in benefits under the retirement system, and;

2. the retirement board certifies that any proposed changes in benefits under the retirement system will not cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System to fall below 90%. With reference to the retirement system and the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System, the term funded status will mean a percentage equal to a fraction, the numerator of which is the actuarial value of assets and the denominator of which is the accrued actuarial liability. All agreements or decisions submitted to the retirement board for certification within a calendar quarter shall be considered together and no agreements or decisions shall be implemented if all agreements or decisions, taken together, would cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System to fall below 90%, and;

3. the retirement board certifies that the "age factor" and "cost of living adjustment" ("COLA") and "final compensation" components of any new benefit provisions under the retirement system do not exceed the higher of:

(a) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the PERS 2% at 50 plans for state safety employees and the PERS 2% at 60 plans for state non-safety employees as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered; or

(b) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the pension plans of the 10 largest cities in California by population, exclusive of San Francisco, as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered;

4. the board of supervisors, after having made its own finding that implementation of the modifications to the retirement system present no risk to the tax-qualified status of the retirement system and a determination that the proposed modifications do not impose an unreasonable administrative burden on the retirement system, enacts an ordinance implementing the agreement or decision of the mediation/arbitration board. All such ordinances shall contain the following proviso:

In the event any provision above is finally determined by the Internal Revenue Service or a court of competent jurisdiction to deprive the retirement system of its tax-qualified status, then all provisions which would impair its tax-qualified status are immediately null and void. Under no circumstances will any employee have a vested right to any benefit which becomes null and void in the manner described in the preceding sentence.

The board of supervisors has full discretion to accept or reject any agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system and any decision of the mediation/arbitration board modifying benefits under the retirement system.

Section 8. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.590-4, thereof to read as follows:

A8.590-4 OBLIGATION TO NEGOTIATE IN GOOD FAITH

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Charter, or of the ordinances, rules or regulations of the City and County of San Francisco and its departments, boards and commissions, the City and County of San Francisco, through its duly authorized representatives, and recognized employee organizations representing classifications of firefighters, police officers and airport police officers shall have the mutual obligation to negotiate in good faith on all matters within the scope of representation as defined by Government Code Sections 3500, et seq., relating to the wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of City and County employment including retirement and death allowances and health benefits subject to section A8.590-7 and further, including the establishment of procedures for the resolution of grievances concerning the interpretation or application of any negotiated agreement. Unless and until agreement is reached through negotiations between authorized representatives of the City and County of San Francisco and the recognized employee organization for the classifications of fire department, police department and airport police employees, or a determination is made through the impartial arbitration procedure hereinafter provided, no existing benefit, term or condition of employment for said fire department, police department or airport police employees shall be altered, eliminated or changed. Agreements reached by the duly authorized representatives for the City and County of San Francisco, its departments, boards and commissions and the recognized employee organizations pursuant to this Section shall be binding on the City and County of San Francisco, and on its departments, boards, commissions, officers and employees once adopted by the board of supervisors. Said agreements shall supersede any and all other conflicting procedures, provisions and formulas contained in this Charter relating to wages, hours, benefits or terms and conditions of employment.

Section 9. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.590-5 thereof, to read as follows:

A8.590-5 IMPESS RESOLUTION PROCEDURES

(a) Subject to section A8.590-5(g), disputes or controversies pertaining to wages, hours, benefits or terms and conditions of employment which remain unresolved after good faith negotiations between the City and County of San Francisco, its departments, boards and commissions and a recognized employee organization representing firefighters, police officers or airport police officers shall be submitted to a three-member board of arbitrators upon the declaration of an impasse either by the authorized representative of the City and County of San Francisco or by the recognized employee organization involved in the dispute.

(b) Representatives designated by the City and County of San Francisco and representatives of the recognized employee organization involved in the dispute shall select each and appoint one arbitrator to the board of arbitrators within three (3) days after either party has notified the other, in writing, that it desires to proceed to arbitration. The third member of the arbitration board shall be selected by agreement between the City and County of San Francisco and the employee organization, and shall serve as the neutral arbitrator and Chairperson of the Board. In the event that the City and County of San Francisco and the recognized employee organization involved in the dispute cannot agree upon the selection of the neutral arbitrator within ten (10) days from the date that either party has notified the other that it has declared an impasse, either party may then request the State Mediation and Conciliation Service of the State of California Department of Industrial Relations to provide a list of seven (7) persons who are qualified and experienced as labor arbitrators. If the City and County and the employee organization cannot agree within three (3) days after receipt of such list on one of seven (7) persons to act as the neutral arbitrator, they shall alternately strike names from the list of nominees until one name remains and that person shall then become the neutral arbitrator and Chairperson of the arbitration board.

(c) Any arbitration proceeding convened pursuant to this article shall be conducted in conformance with, subject to, and governed by Title 9 of Part 3 of the California Code of Civil Procedure. The arbitration board shall hold public hearings, receive evidence from the parties and cause a transcript of the proceedings to be prepared. The arbitration board, in the exercise of its discretion, may meet privately with the parties, immediately or mediate the issues in dispute. The arbitration board may also adopt such other procedures that are designed to encourage an agreement between the parties, expedite the arbitration hearing process, or reduce the costs of the arbitration process.

(d) In the event no agreement is reached prior to the conclusion of the arbitration hearings, the arbitration board shall direct each of the parties to submit, within such time limit as the arbitration board may establish, a last offer of settlement on each of the remaining issues in dispute. The arbitration board shall decide each issue by majority vote by selecting whichever last offer of settlement on that issue it finds most nearly conforms to those factors traditionally taken into consideration in the determination of wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of public and private employment, including, but not limited to: changes in the average consumer price index for goods and services; the wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of employment of employees performing similar services; the wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of other employees in the City and County of San Francisco; and the formulas provided for in this Charter for the establishment and maintenance of wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of employment. The impartial arbitration board shall also consider the financial condition of the City and County of San Francisco and its ability to meet the costs of the decision of the arbitration board and that any proposal to modify retirement or death allowances or with respect to health benefits proposals would not cause, if adopted, an undue proliferation of retirement, death allowance benefits, or health insurance plan benefits resulting in an unreasonable administrative burden on either the retirement or health systems of the city and county.

(e) After making a decision, the arbitration board shall mail or otherwise deliver a true copy of its decision to the parties. The decision of the arbitration board shall not be publicly disclosed and shall not be binding until ten (10) days after it is delivered to the parties. During that ten (10) day period the parties shall meet privately, attempt to resolve their differences, and by mutual agreement amend or modify the decision of the arbitration board. At the conclusion of the ten (10) day period, which may be extended by mutual agreement between the parties, the decision of the arbitration board, as it may be modified or amended by the parties, shall be publicly disclosed. Except as limited by Section A8.590-7, the arbitration decision, as it may be modified or amended by the parties, shall supersede any and all other relevant formulas, procedures and provisions of this Charter relating to wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of employment; and it shall be final and binding on the parties to the dispute, including the City and County of San Francisco, its commissions, departments, officers and employees. No other actions or procedural steps to confirm or approve the decision of the arbitration board shall be permitted or required. However, that decision shall be binding on the City and County of San Francisco, its designated officers, employees and representatives and the recognized employee organization involved in the dispute shall take whatever action that is necessary to carry out and effectuate the decision of the arbitration board.

(f) The expenses of any arbitration proceedings convened pursuant to these Charter sections this part including the fee for the services of the chairperson of the arbitration board, the costs of preparation of the transcript of the proceedings and other costs directly related to and necessarily incurred during the conduct of the proceedings, as determined by the arbitration board, shall be borne equally by the parties. All other expenses, including attorneys fees incurred by any party, participant or arbitration panel member in the proceedings, which the parties may incur are to be borne by the party incurring such expenses.

(g) The impasse resolution procedures set forth in Section A8.590-5 shall not apply to:
1. any dispute or controversy concerning the San Francisco Police Department’s crowd control policies;
2. any procedures or practices relating to the processing and disposition of complaints handled by the Office of Citizens’ Complaints; or matters relating to disciplinary actions involving members of the San Francisco police department and fire department covered by these sections; or matters covered by Charter section A8.343; and
3. any rule, policy, procedure, order or practice which relates or pertains to the purpose, goals or requirements of a consent decree, or which is necessary to ensure compliance with federal, state or local anti-discrimination laws, ordinances or regulations.

In the event the City acts on a matter it has determined relates to or pertains to a consent decree, or in the event the City acts to ensure compliance with federal, state, or local anti-discrimination laws, ordinances or regulations, and the affected employee organization disputes said determination, that determination or action shall not be subject to arbitration.

Section 10. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.590-6 thereof, to read as follows:
A8.590-6 RETIREE BENEFIT ADJUSTMENTS

No agreement reached by the parties and no decision of the arbitration board shall reduce the vested retirement benefits of retirees or employees of the fire department, police department or of the airport police officers. Retirement and death allowances shall continue to be set and adjusted pursuant to Chapter Five of this Article, except that the amount to which said allowances are set and adjusted shall not be less than the amount said allowances would be if the salaries of the uniformed forces in the police and fire departments continued to be set pursuant to Charter Section A8.590-5. Retirement and death allowances of retired members of the police and fire departments which have therefore been periodically adjusted pursuant to the provisions of this charter in relation to the salaries of active employees shall continue to be adjusted in the same manner, except that said allowances shall not be less than said allowances would be if the salaries of the uniformed forces of the police and fire departments continued to be set pursuant to charter section A8.405 and adjustments in said allowances continued to be made pursuant to charter section A8.599-6. Any agreement or decision of the arbitration board altering vested retirement benefits shall be subject to the written approval of the individual beneficiaries thereof.

Section 11. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.590-7 thereof, to read as follows:
A8.590-7 PRESERVATION OF TAX-BENEFITS RETIREMENT BENEFITS

(a) Sections 8.590-1 through 8.590-7, in their entirety, shall be subject to and limited by charter section 8.500 and any ordinances enacted pursuant thereto. Sections 8.590-1 through 8.590-7 shall be effective only to the extent that benefits authorized by or authorized pursuant to those sections do not have an adverse consequence on the tax treatment of benefits provided to any employee of the city and county.

(b) Any agreement reached by the parties or any decision of the arbitration board which authorizes a modification of any aspect of the retirement system or of any aspect of the provision for or delivery of retirement benefits shall not become effective until the following occurs:

1. The retirement board, acting in its fiduciary capacity, forwards the board of supervisors certification that implementation of the modifications presents no risk to the tax-qualified status of the retirement system. Such certification shall be based upon the advice of the general manager, the actuary of the retirement system, and any outside consultants that they may in their discretion retain.

2. After having received the certification referred to in the previous paragraph and after having made its own independent finding based on clear and convincing evidence that implementation of the modifications presents no risk to the tax-qualified status of the retirement system and will not increase the taxes of city and county employees, the board of supervisors, by a three-quarters vote, enacts an ordinance making the modifications effective.

(c) No agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system and no decision of the mediation/arbitration board modifying benefits under the retirement system shall be effective unless and until after the following occur:

1. The parties secure, through the retirement board, an actuarial report of the cost and effect of any proposed changes in benefits under the retirement system, and

2. The retirement board certifies that any proposed changes in benefits under the retirement system will not cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City’s agency account with the Public Employees’ Retirement System to fall below 90%. With reference to the retirement system and the City’s agency account with the Public Employees’ Retirement System, the term funded status will mean a percentage equal to a fraction, the numerator of which is the actuarial value of assets and the denominator of which is the accrued actuarial liability. All agreements or decisions submitted to the retirement board for certification within a calendar quarter shall be considered together and no agreements or decisions shall be implemented if all agreements or decisions, taken together, would cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City’s agency account with the Public Employees’ Retirement System to fall below 90%, and

3. The retirement board certifies that the “age factor” and “cost of living adjustment” (“COLA”) and “final compensation” components of any new benefit provisions under the retirement system do not exceed the higher of:

(a) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the PERS 2% at 50 plans for state safety employees and the PERS 2% at 60 plans for state non-safety employees as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered; or

(b) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the pension plans of the 10 largest cities in California by population, exclusive of San Francisco, as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered; and

4. The board of supervisors, after having made its own finding that implementation of the modifications to the retirement system present no risk to the tax-qualified status of the retirement system and a determination that the proposed modifications do not impose an unreasonable administrative burden on the retirement system, enacts an ordinance implementing the agreement or decision of the mediation/arbitration board. All such ordinances shall contain the following provisions:

In the event any provision above is finally determined by the Internal Revenue Service or a court of competent jurisdiction to deprive the retirement system of its tax qualified status, then all provisions which would impair its tax qualified status are immediately null and void. Under no circumstances will any employee have a vested right to any benefit which becomes null and void in the manner described in the preceding sentence.

The board of supervisors, has full discretion to accept or reject, any agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system and any decision of the mediation/arbitration board modifying benefits under the retirement system.

(e) Costs of any outside consultants retained by the city and county pursuant to this section shall be borne equally by the city and county and by the bargaining units concerned.

Section 12. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section 11.100 thereof, to read as follows:
SEC. 11.100. GENERAL

Subject to this Charter and consistent with state law, the Mayor through the Human Resources Director or his/her designee and in consultation with the Board of Supervisors shall be responsible for meeting and conferring with employees or their recognized employee organizations regarding salaries, working conditions, benefits and other terms and conditions of employment including retirement and death allowances and health benefits, to be embodied in memora

Subject to this Charter and consistent with state law, the Mayor through the Human Resources Director or his/her designee and in consultation with the Board of Supervisors shall be responsible for meeting and conferring with employees or their recognized employee organizations regarding salaries, working conditions, benefits and other terms and conditions of employment including retirement and death allowances and health benefits, to be embodied in memo

The Human Resources Director shall submit proposed memoranda of understanding including, where applicable, schedules of compensation, benefits and working conditions to the Mayor, who upon approval shall forward the proposed memoranda of understanding to the Board of Supervisors for determination by a majority vote. The Board of Supervisors shall have the power to accept or reject such memoranda of understanding. It shall be the duty of the Board of Supervisors, upon approval of any such memorandum of understanding to enact appropriate ordinances authorizing payment of any compensation or benefits or other terms and conditions of employment so approved.

Nothing in this section shall supersede any one or more provisions of the Charter for fixing compensation, except that the Board of Supervisors by motion may extend up to 30 days the date for final adoption of ordinances approving salary and benefits pursuant to such sections. Should the Board of Supervisors reject any memorandum of understanding and/or schedule of compensation and benefits, the Board of Supervisors shall by motion simultaneously extend by 60 days the date for final adoption of ordinances approving salary, benefits and/or working conditions pursuant to such sections.

Section 13. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended by adding section 11.103 thereof, to read as follows:

Section 11.103, CIVIL SERVICE AND EMPLOYEE RELATIONS COMMISSION

(a) There is hereby established a Civil Service and Employee Relations Commission of the city and county of San Francisco, consisting of five (5) members, appointed by the mayor in the manner set forth hereinafter, which shall implement and administer the Employee Relations Ordinance of the city and county of San Francisco, as contained in Administrative Code section 16.200, et seq. and, as well, shall enforce the prevailing wage provisions of charter section A7.204 and receive and adjudicate complaints alleging violations thereof. As well, the Commission shall assume the functions presently performed by the Civil Service Commission of the city and county of San Francisco as it existed immediately prior to the adoption of this charter amendment and subject to any modifications in the authority of said Commission by the enactment of any other charter revisions in the November 1996 municipal election. The members of the Commission shall possess the integrity and impartiality necessary to protect the public interest as well as the interests of the public, county and its employees, have experience and knowledge in the field of employee relations and personnel administration, including knowledge of prevailing wage principles and administration of a merit employment system, and shall reflect the interests of both management and labor on those subjects. Not fewer than two of the members of the Commission shall be women.

The persons so appointed shall, before taking office, make under oath and file in the office of the county clerk the following declaration: "I am opposed to appointments to the public service rewarded for political activity and will execute the office of civil service and employee relations commissioner in the spirit of this declaration."

One (1) of the persons selected by the mayor shall be designated as the Chairperson, and shall serve an initial term of three (3) years. Two (2) of the remaining Commission members shall be appointed for a two (2) year term, and the remaining two (2) shall be appointed for a one (1) year term. Thereafter, the regular term of office for all members of the Commission shall be three (3) years. All members shall be eligible for reappointment.

(b) The procedure for filling a vacancy resulting from the expiration of term, resignation, or death of a member of the Commission, shall be promulgated by the Commission. Any vacancy occurring during the term of office of any member of the Commission may be filled by the mayor from among those persons eligible to be appointed to the Commission. The person so appointed shall serve only for the balance of the term of the member from which the vacancy occurred and shall be eligible for appointment as a regular member of the Commission.

(c) The Commission shall meet regularly at least once each month and shall meet at other times upon the call of the Chairperson. Three members shall constitute a quorum and the votes of three members are required for action.

(d) A member of the Commission shall be removed by the mayor, with the consent of a majority of the board of supervisors, for continued neglect of duties or malfeasance in office. A member of the Commission may be so removed only after he/she has first been given a written statement of the charges against him/her at least ten (10) days prior to the action being taken on the charges, and may have an opportunity to be heard in person or through counsel. If a member of the Commission is so removed, a record of the proceedings, including the charges and the action taken on them, shall be filed with the Clerk to the board of supervisors.

(e) The Commission shall have the following duties and powers:

(1) To determine in disputed cases or otherwise to approve appropriate employee representation units.

(2) To arrange for and supervise the determination of certified employee representatives for appropriate units by means of elections, or such other method as the Commission may approve with mutual consent of the parties involved. The results of such elections or other approved representation determination procedures shall be certified by the Commission.

(3) To decide contested matters involving certification or decertification of employee organizations.

(4) To investigate charges of unfair employee relations practices or violations of the Employee Relations Ordinance, and to order such appropriate remedial action as the Commission deems necessary to effectuate the policies of said Ordinance, including, the issuance of cease and desist orders; provided, however, the Commission shall have no authority to order punitive or exemplary damages provided further, that in any case in which the charge alleges a violation of these provisions by the commission itself, or its agents, the Commission shall not hear the matter, and shall through rule-making, develop procedures for such cases to hearing by an independent hearing officers.

(5) To conduct investigations, hear testimony, and take evidence under oath at hearings on any matter subject to its jurisdiction.

(6) To administer oaths and to require the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers through the issuance of subpoenas.

(7) To issue revised recognition certifications of an employee organization in the event of a merger, amalgamation, or transfer of jurisdiction between two or more employee organizations.

(8) To certify, in appropriate cases by mutual agreement, a council of employee organizations as the majority representative of employees in an employee representation unit and to decide issues relating to such certifications.

(9) To delegate to one or more Commission members, employees, agents, or designated hearing officers, the power to conduct fact-finding hearings and to render proposed decisions to the Commission.

(10) To make recommendations to the mayor and the board of supervisors concerning any necessary or desirable revisions to the Employee Relations Ordinance of the city and county of San Francisco.

(11) Where the City Attorney certifies a conflict of interest exists, to employ independent counsel to advise it in its consideration of that matter.

(12) To enforce the prevailing wage provisions of charter section A7.204, to investigate and adjudicate complaints alleging violations thereof, to issue cease and desist orders, to petition the appropriate court to comply with its orders and/or enjoin contractors or subcontractors from working on projects and to impose such fines or penalties as are appropriate, including the withholding of payments to contractors or subcontractors and/or barring contractors or subcontractors from bidding on subsequent contracts for an appropriate period.

(13) Wherever the words "civil service commission" appear in this charter, they shall be replaced by the words "civil service and employee relations commission." The city attorney is hereby directed to conform the language of the charter as herein amended when next the charter is submitted for republication.

Section 14. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by adding section 11.104 thereof, to read as follows:

Section 11.104 EXEMPTION OF MANAGEMENT EMPLOYEES

(b) To abrogate to section 18.108, upon the effective date of this provision, all positions in classifications in the executive management bargaining unit shall be exempt from the civil service provisions of this charter and employees holding such positions shall serve at the pleasure of the appointing authority.

(b) All employees in the management unit who have permanent civil service status in their positions as of the effective date of this provision shall retain such status subject to the civil service provisions of this charter. When such positions become vacant, the civil service and employee relations commission shall have the power to determine that the position may become at-will upon a finding that such position has responsibility for managing a major function or rendering management advice to a high level administrative authority.

(c) Appointees to vacant positions in the management and executive management units shall meet the minimum qualifications necessary to perform the essential duties of the position.

Section 15. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by deleting the following section:

SEC. 10.100. CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

There is hereby established a Civil Service Commission which is charged with the duty of providing qualified persons for appointment to the service of the City and County.

The Commission shall consist of five members appointed by the Mayor, pursuant to Section 3.100, for six-year terms. Not less than two members of the Commission shall be women.

The persons so appointed shall, before taking office, make oath and file in the office of the County Clerk the following declaration: "I am opposed to appointments to the public service as a reward for political activity and will execute the office of Civil Service Commissioner in the spirit of this declaration."

A commissioner may be removed only upon charges preferred in the same manner as in this Charter provided for elective officers.

The regular meetings of the Commission shall be open to the public and held at such a time as will give the general public and employees of the City and County adequate time within which to appear before the Commission after the regular daily working hours of 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Such person or persons shall be given an opportunity to be heard by the Commission before final action is taken in any case involving such person or persons.

You can vote absentee in person at Room 109, 633 Folsom Street starting Tuesday, October 7 through Tuesday, November 5, during regular working hours — 8 a.m. — 5 p.m. Take advantage of this option if you will not be able to go to your polling place on election day.

Board of Supervisors Salaries

PROPOSITION F
Shall the salary paid to members of the Board of Supervisors be increased from $23,924 to $50,000, and shall Board members be permitted to receive City Retirement benefits?

YES  NO

Digest
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Members of the Board of Supervisors are paid a salary of $23,924 a year. Board members are not eligible for City retirement benefits.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition F is a charter amendment that would increase the salary of members of the Board of Supervisors to $50,000 a year. Board members would be eligible for City retirement benefits.

A "YES" VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to increase the salary of the Board of Supervisors from $23,924 to $50,000 a year, and make Board members eligible for City retirement benefits.

A "NO" VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to increase the salary of members of the Board of Supervisors and permit Board members to receive retirement benefits.

Controller's Statement on "F"
City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition F:

Should the proposed charter amendment be approved by the voters, in my opinion, it would increase the cost of government by approximately $287,000 annually for salaries plus related fringe benefits.

How Supervisors Voted on "F"
On July 15, 1996 the Board of Supervisors voted 10-0 to place Proposition F on the ballot.
The Supervisors voted as follows:
NO: None of the Supervisors present voted no.
ABSENT: Supervisor Leal.
PROPOSED'S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote Yes on Proposition F.
Fulfilling the duties and responsibilities necessary to effectively serve as a City and County Supervisor in San Francisco requires an extraordinary commitment of skill, participation and attention to detail in the community that far exceed the expectations of county supervisors and city council members in other Bay Area communities, although the position is described as part-time in the City Charter.

The average salary for members of Boards of Supervisors in the five Bay Area counties is $55,487. The last pay increase for San Francisco Board Members was in 1982. Members of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors currently receive $23,924 per year.

This Charter amendment sets the annual salary of Supervisors at $50,000, a reasonable amount, lower than the median for private industry positions of similar responsibility or for members of the Boards of Supervisors in five Bay Area counties.

Vote yes on Proposition F — to provide fair and equitable compensation for the San Francisco Board of Supervisors. Increasing the compensation for Supervisors would encourage even more qualified candidates to run who otherwise may be deterred by the current salary.

Board of Supervisors and Willie Lewis Brown, Jr., Mayor

REBUTTAL TO PROPOSED'S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

In their grandiose argument, the board of supervisors engages in such a fanciful description of their “duties and responsibilities” as to boggle the mind. They even claim that their required qualifications “far exceed the expectations of county supervisors...in other Bay Area communities” while ADMITTING the position is “described as part-time in the city charter.” It’s part-time for good reason: First, other counties have five supervisors, not 11. Secondly, other supervisors must perform quasi-administrative duties. Moreover, no city council member in the Bay Area is paid anything close to $50,000; most are paid $50 per meeting! Additionally, San Francisco supervisors are also paid extra for serving on the Golden Gate Bridge District (that winner), MTC, BCDC, the Smog District, and other agencies. They don’t tell you that.

Instead of simply extrapolating the local consumer price index increase from 1982 until 1996, which would produce $36,101, these politicos extract an arbitrary figure of $50,000, and claim that’s the worth of part-time service. It isn’t so, and it’s even less so now that the Mayor has been granted most of the power in the Charter, an action which ALL incumbent supervisors supported.

OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION F

PROPOSITION F IS A FARCE!

Taxpayers beware!! Proposition F is costly! According to the Controller, if Prop F is approved by voters, the increased cost to government will be at least $287,000 annually. This expense doesn't even include the fringe benefits also awarded with this sour morsel served up to San Francisco’s long suffering taxpayers.

Apparently, the arbitrariness of a salary increase doesn’t bother our illustrious supervisors. To them, $50,000 is a good, round number — why not $60,000?! Why not $80,000?! Any salary increase for part-time supervisors should be based on the consumer price index not some random amount. Raising supervisor salaries based on the CPI was approved by voters once, and should be used again. If the same voter approved formula were utilized, the merry band of pied pipers salary would be raised from $23,924 to $36,101, not $50,000! The mere fact that other counties supervisors are paid more is not pertinent because the responsibilities of San Francisco’s part-time elected officials are less than those of all other California county supervisors. Our “revised charter” clearly empowers the Mayor, as chief administrative officer with increased authority. It’s hardly necessary to reward supervisors with full-time pay for part-time work. San Francisco has a history and tradition of citizen legislators, whose job it is to legislate, not administer. Taxpayers know and respect the difference, and are willing to approve salary increases based on any change in the local consumer price index. Arbitrary, pie-in-the-sky numbers should be soundly defeated. VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION F!!

REBUTTAL TO OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION F

Even the opponents of Proposition F’s proposed salary increase for the Board of Supervisors agree that the current compensation is inadequate. Their only real argument is a quibble about how much of an increase is justified. Opponents argue for a lower increase based solely on their opinion that San Francisco ought to have only part-time supervisors.

The truth is our supervisors work far more than part-time hours. San Francisco Supervisors fulfill the duties of county supervisors as well as those of city council members. San Francisco Supervisors represent more than twice the number of citizens of any other Bay Area county supervisor. Additionally, the new city charter significantly increased, not decreased, the responsibilities of our supervisors. Board members routinely devote more than 50 hours a week carrying out their duties.

The salary level proposed by proposition F resulted from an extensive community outreach process conducted by the voter created Elections Task Force. They recommended a figure based on the average salary for members of Boards of Supervisors in the five Bay Area Counties, $55,487. Proposition F suggests a lower figure, $50,000. The last pay increase for San Francisco Board Members was in 1982. Because of this, most Supervisors, unless independently wealthy, must find ways to supplement their income without creating constant conflicts with the demands of their office. This necessity creates a major deterrent for many well qualified San Franciscans even considering serving as a member of the Board.

Board of Supervisors Salaries

PAID ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Our supervisors deserve a decent salary and Prop F's proposal is a fair one. While the Charter defines the job of supervisor as part-time, the demands of running the city require full-time attention. All of our supervisors work hard, long hours, making it difficult for them to maintain outside income. If we inhibit their ability to earn an income, then we should compensate them with a decent living salary. In addition, it would provide a financial incentive that would increase the pool of residents who would run for office and offer voters a wider choice. Prop F is fair and a good investment for San Francisco. Vote Yes on Prop F.

Although supervisors are technically classified as part-time positions, there is no limit on the number of hours we work to serve the public. My colleagues and I have never viewed our jobs as part-time and often work over 40 hours a week.

Because I step down from office due to term limits at the end of the year, I will not be affected by the salary increase if approved. But I hope you will join me in giving fair compensation to our public officials. VOTE YES ON PROP F.

PAID ARGUMENTS AGAINST PROPOSITION F

Proposition F stands for fat raises which constitute full-time pay for a part-time Board of Supervisors.

This scheme, promoted by citizen legislators, illustrates a fundamental error in their basic understanding of their own function and duty within our city government.

Unlike California's 57 other counties, San Francisco possesses full-time chief executive office as well as a chief administrative officer. The duties of the supervisors are legislative only, not administrative. In all other counties, no elected chief executive exists and county supervisors, logically, exercise quasi-administrative as well as legislative powers. Twice in San Francisco history a cabal of supervisors tried to abolish voter approval of their salary increases. We stopped them. As president of the Board of Supervisors in 1982, however, in the customary manner, I introduced a charter amendment increasing the salary by the amount of inflation since voters in 1964 had last raised the salary. The voters and I prevailed, and the concept of an increase based on the consumer price index standard was approved; the salary was boosted to exactly $23,924.

Our revised city charter relegates the Board of Supervisors to the bench with the game tempo controlled by the new, expanded responsibilities bestowed upon the mayor. Our charter relies on a strong, defined separation of powers among the legislative and executive branches of San Francisco government to prevent excesses.

The supervisors need to understand and respect their duties and responsibilities under the Charter. Perhaps in their quest for full-time work the supervisors should take a refresher course on San Francisco history! I urge voters to augment the "chapter" on feeding at the public trough and reject any arbitrary and capricious raise for Supervisors. Vote NO on Proposition F.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CHARTER AMENDMENT
PROPOSITION F

Describing and setting forth a proposal to the qualified voters of the City and County of San Francisco to amend the Charter of said city and county by amending Section 2.100 thereof, to set the salary for members of the Board of Supervisors at $50,000 per year, and by adding Section A8.502-1 thereto, to make members of the Board of Supervisors members of the Retirement System.

The Board of Supervisors hereby submits to the qualified voters of said city and county at an election to be held on November 5, 1996, a proposal to amend the Charter of said city and county by amending Section 2.100 thereof, and adding Section A8.502-1 thereto, so the same shall read as follows:

NOTE: Additions or substitutions are indicated by bold face type; deletions are indicated by strike-out type.

Section 1. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending Section 2.100, to read as follows:
SEC. 2.100. COMPOSITION AND SALARY.
The Board of Supervisors shall consist of eleven members elected at large. Members of the Board shall be paid a salary of $50,000 per year.

Section 2. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by adding Section A8.502-1, to read as follows:
SEC. A8.502-1. RETIREMENT OF MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.
Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections A8.501 and A8.502, members of the Board of Supervisors on January 9, 1997 or thereafter shall be members of the San Francisco City and County Employees' Retirement System under the same provisions that apply to miscellaneous employees entering the System on the same date.

Election of Supervisors — District Elections

PROPOSITION G
Shall the Board of Supervisors be elected by district, and shall there be district run-off elections if no candidate receives a majority of the votes cast in a district? YES NO

Digest
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The eleven members of the Board of Supervisors are elected City wide.

There is no requirement that candidates for the Board of Supervisors receive a majority of the votes cast, and there are no run-off elections for the Board. If, for example, six Board seats are up for election, the six candidates who receive the most votes are elected.

The candidate who gets the most votes becomes the Board President for two years.

Board members may be removed from office by the voters. A recall election is held if ten percent of all registered voters in the City sign a petition in support of the recall.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition G is a Charter amendment that would divide the City into eleven districts. Beginning in the year 2000, each of the districts would elect one member of the Board of Supervisors. Only residents of a district could run for or serve as the Supervisor from that district.

If no candidate received a majority of the votes cast within a district, there would be a run-off election in that district between the two candidates who received the most votes.

The Board would elect one of its members to serve as President for a two-year term.

The voters in a district could remove their supervisor from office. A recall election would be held if ten percent of the registered voters in that member’s district signed a petition in support of a recall.

The district boundaries could be changed every ten years by a task force appointed by the Mayor, the Board of Supervisors, and the Director of Elections.

A “YES” VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Board of Supervisors to be elected by district, with district run-off elections if no candidate receives a majority of the votes cast in the district.

A “NO” VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the Board of Supervisors to be elected by district.

Controller’s Statement on “G”

City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition G:

Should the proposed charter amendment be approved by the voters, in my opinion, it should have a minor effect, up to $50,000, on the cost of government for costs associated with developing and implementing new district boundaries. Should a run-off election be required there would also be a cost of about $50,000 per district.

How Supervisors Voted on “G”

On July 22, 1996 the Board of Supervisors voted 7-4 to place Proposition G on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisors Brown, Kaufman, Leal, and Teng.

Notice to Voters: Propositions G and H appear to conflict with each other. If both measures are approved by the voters, and if the two measures conflict, the one receiving the greater number of votes will become law.

Election of Supervisors — District Elections

PROponent's Argument in Favor of Proposition G

Vote Yes on Proposition G.
DISTRICT ELECTIONS WILL REDUCE THE COST OF ELECTIONS:

The cost of running for office in San Francisco has increased dramatically over the last 15 years. In 1994, candidates for the Board of Supervisors had to spend an average of $318,000 in citywide campaigns to be elected.

DISTRICT ELECTIONS WILL INCREASE NEIGHBORHOOD REPRESENTATION AND COOPERATION:

If you want Supervisors who reflect the rich diversity of San Francisco's neighborhoods and will work toward building unity among all our communities, support district elections.

DISTRICT ELECTIONS WILL MAKE ELECTED OFFICIALS MORE ACCOUNTABLE:

Citywide supervisors have to be accountable to their contributors, not to an identifiable district constituency of voters. District supervisors will have a better understanding of neighborhood issues. If you want supervisors more accountable to your individual concerns, support district elections.

DISTRICT ELECTIONS WILL HELP DEMOCRATIZE SAN FRANCISCO POLITICS:

For supervisors who will work for you on your problems, on the needs of your neighborhood and community, and in the interests of your City — support district elections.

Rebuttal to Proponent's Argument in Favor of Proposition G

Vote No on Proposition G

District Elections will not reduce the cost of elections — read the ordinance. There is nothing in it that affects the cost. In fact, you can spend more money in a smaller district further disenfranchising working people and communities of color.

District Elections will divide San Francisco into eleven competing districts, encouraging horsetrading and dealmaking further dividing communities rather than working together as a whole on behalf of all of San Francisco — every neighborhood!

Citywide elections have created a new dynamic in San Francisco in the 1990s. When we work as a coalition, we can not only elect a majority citywide but we have defeated incumbents who are out of touch with our diverse neighborhoods and communities.

We are one city — united in our celebration of cultural diversity, forward thinking, compassionate, tolerant and thoughtful. Let's not react like small-minded conservatives out of touch with the liberal traditions of our city. They seek to fool us into believing districts are progressive — THEY ARE REGRESSIVE, a step backward to troubled times in our city when deep divisions created one of the worst tragedies in San Francisco's history.

Send a strong message that you cherish a united San Francisco.

Election of Supervisors — District Elections

OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION G

District Elections made sense in the mid 1970s. In fact, we supported it then. However, in 1996, it’s a foolish step backwards. Our organization backed it in the 1970s because we needed to elect leaders like Harvey Milk who would unify progressive San Franciscans. But now that we have matured, our community and our coalition has grown citywide, and we believe district elections is divisive in 1996.

San Francisco is a united city of diverse neighborhoods, and we are all proud of that diversity. We are a generous, astute and involved city that cares passionately about our communities, our neighborhoods, and the issues of the day.

District Elections will hurt groups that are geographically dispersed, such as Gays/Lesbians, Asians and Pacific Islanders, Hispanics, and African Americans, by making them a minority in every district. The city-wide voting power of these groups will be eliminated under District Elections, probably resulting in fewer minorities on the Board. We do not consider this to be “progressive.”

We currently have the most diverse and progressive Board of Supervisors in our City’s history; further, we have a diverse group of candidates running for the Board this November. So why divide our City into eleven competing districts?

You, the citizen will go from having eleven Supervisors you can talk with, to just one. Don’t be fooled by well-meaning “progressives” who seek change for change’s sake — the San Francisco Republican Party has made support for District Elections its top priority this November. They want to elect a more conservative Board. San Francisco Supervisors Susan Leal, Mabel Teng, Amos Brown & Barbara Kaufman voted against putting district elections on the ballot. District elections will divided a united city. Don’t fall into a divisive Republican trap — Join us in voting NO on District Elections.

REBUTTAL TO OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION G

Election reform opponents want you to believe that districts are a “divisive Republican trap” — but they don’t mention that Proposition G is endorsed by the San Francisco Democratic Party.

Contrary to opponents’ misleading claims, district elections will actually empower members of our ethnic communities, encourage coalition building, and give our diverse neighborhoods their own voice in City government. The truth is that district elections introduced ethnic diversity and gay representation to the San Francisco Board of Supervisors. Since the repeal of districts, only one supervisor representing an ethnic community has ever been elected without first being elected under district elections or appointed by a mayor.

Politics in the 1990’s is almost exclusively about money. District elections will dramatically reduce the cost of campaigning — and the influence of special interests — because candidates will build neighborhood support instead of relying on expensive city-wide political mail campaigns. Candidates will actually walk their districts, talking to residents and business managers about local concerns like MUNI service, proposed construction of an unwanted chain store, crime in a neighborhood park, etc.

District elections offer a clear choice compared to our current system: neighborhood candidates directly accountable to voters about local concerns as opposed to the status quo — expensive, impersonal campaigns dominated by flashy political junk mail. Let’s reduce the role of money and big contributors in local politics. Please join the San Francisco Democratic Party and the San Francisco League of Conservation Voters in voting yes on Proposition G.

Election of Supervisors — District Elections

PAID ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

I urge a YES vote of Proposition G.

District Election of Supervisors will give San Franciscans direct accountability over their Supervisors. It will reduce, dramatically, the cost of campaigning. Neighborhood Supervisors must address issues of concern to residents of the City’s neighborhoods — not the interests of a few wealthy contributors. In three years under District Elections from 1970 through 1980 rent control was passed, commercial developers were charged for MUNI service, and the most extensive neighborhood rezoning in the City’s history, protecting affordable housing and historic buildings, was passed. District Election of Supervisors places the needs of residents and small business from all parts of San Francisco, at the center of public policy. It fosters coalitions between our diverse neighborhoods, producing good legislation and good policy.

I strongly urge a YES vote of Prop G.

Supervisor Sue Bierman

No candidate from a minority community has ever been elected to the Board under the current at-large system without first having been appointed to the Board by a Mayor or having held another office. Currently, many neighborhoods are not adequately represented on the Board, including the Excelsior, Sunset, the Mission, and Bayview Hunters Point.

To get elected under the current system, candidates must conduct expensive direct mail campaigns and buy onto slate cards controlled by the political machine, consultants, and special interests. The current system makes members of the Board accountable to the Mayor and the power-brokers, not to the voters.

District elections would empower minorities and the neighborhoods from the grassroots, reduce the costs of getting elected, and would return accountability to the voters.

As members of the Elections Task Force, we strongly urge you to reject the status quo and support District Elections, Proposition G.

We were appointed by the Mayor, Board of Supervisors, and the Registrar of Voters to examine the current system and alternative systems of electing members to the Board, and other related issues. After meeting weekly for eleven months in 1995 and holding eighteen public hearings throughout the City, we concluded that the current method of electing Supervisors was fatally flawed and that any of four alternative systems would be an improvement.

Two alternatives appear on the ballot.

We contracted with the Public Research Institute at San Francisco State to draft district maps based on strict criteria, and we revised the drafts several times based on public input. The Board of Supervisors had no say in the drawing of the lines, eliminating any possibility of a Conflict of Interest.

This July, the Board voted 7 to 4 to approve our District Election plan, which appears as Proposition G.

We believe that we remedied all the flaws of the District Elections plan of twenty years ago, and that the new plan will create a very diverse Board, will reduce the costs of running for office, and will make each member accountable to the voters and each neighborhood.

PAID ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

The current city-wide system of electing San Francisco's Supervisors has created a Board which is out of balance and which does not represent the broad spectrum of views held by San Francisco's voters.

Only one member of the Board comes from the business community, and only two members of the eleven member Board are moderates, even though 43% of San Franciscans voted for Frank Jordan and 48% supported Bill Fazio last November.

This imbalance has lead to bad public policy, such as Proposition B, and is the reason why we support a change to the current system of electing Supervisors, and why we support District Elections, Proposition G.

The Republican Party opposed District Elections in the 1970's because the system was flawed. Those flaws have been corrected by the City's Elections Task Force in 1995.

The Task Force develop detailed criteria for creating districts, and hired Professor Rich De Leon and his staff at San Francisco State University to draw the lines. De Leon's proposals were modified by the Task Force based on input at seven public hearings.

The districts created are geographically compact and are fair to all of our minorities, communities and our neighborhoods.

Under the old District Elections Plan, one could get elected to the Board with 24% of the vote. The new plan requires run-off elections if no one gets a majority.

Under the old plan, there were no spending limits. Our new Charter allows the board to reduce the spending caps if the voters approve District Elections.

For all of these reasons: to restore balance to the Board, create accountability to the voters, and reduce the cost of getting elected, we support District Elections.

Just imagine: dropping in to a Supervisor's office only a few blocks from home, discussing with him or her a problem on your block, and getting something done about it. When San Francisco had district elections, you could do just that, until big money interests repealed district elections by holding an August special election.

Twenty years later, there are many problems left to solve in our neighborhoods, and still a need for Supervisors who are more accessible and accountable. District elections also reduces the huge costs of campaigning, allowing grassroots activists to run and win. Vote Yes on Proposition G.

San Francisco is the only California county that elects its supervisors at-large. District election of supervisors will ensure that no neighborhoods of our city are ignored and underserved. When supervisors live throughout the city, the Board will become more intimately familiar with the everyday problems of ALL citizens. District elections will be more expensive, not less. First, there will be runoff elections, doubling costs to the City. Second, the Elections Task Force's own report states that the average cost per vote spent by major candidates was $4.87 in 1977 under district elections and only $3.15 in 1994. The report says that "per voter expenditures under district elections in 1979 for major candidates was 2.9 times as much as under the at-large system in 1994." Vote no on G!

TEXT OF PROPOSED CHARTER AMENDMENT
PROPOSITION G

Describing and setting forth a proposal to the qualified voters of the City and County of San Francisco to amend the Charter of said city and county by amending Sections 2.100 and 2.116, governing the composition of the Board of Supervisors and the selection of the President of the Board, by amending Sections 13.101, 13.102 and 14.103, governing terms of elective office, municipal runoff elections and recall of elective officers, and by adding Section 13.110, providing for the election of 11 supervisors from 11 districts, effective January 1, 2000.

The Board of Supervisors hereby submits to the qualified voters of said city and county at an election to be held on November 5, 1996, a proposal to amend the Charter of said city and county by amending Sections 2.100, 2.116, 13.101, 13.102 and 14.103 and adding Section 13.110, so that the same shall read as follows:

NOTE: Additions or substitutions are indicated by bold face type; deletions are indicated by strike-out type.

Section 1. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section 2.100 thereof, to read as follows:

SEC. 2.100. COMPOSITION AND SALARY.

The Board of Supervisors shall consist of eleven members elected by district—large. Members of the board shall be paid a salary of $23,924.

Section 2. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section 2.116, to read as follows:

SEC. 2.116. PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

At its regular meeting on the eighth day of January in odd-numbered years, the Board of Supervisors shall by majority vote elect one of its members as President for a two-year term. The position of President of the Board of Supervisors shall be assumed by the member who received the highest number of votes at the last preceding supervisorial election. If a vacancy in the office of President of the Board of Supervisors shall occur prior to the end of the term, the Board of Supervisors shall by majority vote elect one of its members to fill the unexpired portion of the term. The President shall preside at all meetings, appoint all standing and special committees, assign legislation to committees, and have such other powers and duties as may be assigned by the Board of Supervisors.

Section 3. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section 13.101 thereto, to read as follows:

SEC. 13.101. TERMS OF ELECTIVE OFFICE.

Except in the case of an appointment or election to fill a vacancy, the term of office of each elected officer shall commence at 12:00 noon on the eighth day of January following the date of the election.

Subject to the applicable provisions for municipal runoff elections, the elected officers of the City and County shall be elected as follows:

At the general municipal election in 1995 and every fourth year thereafter, a Mayor, a Sheriff and a District Attorney shall be elected.

At the statewide general election in 1996 and every fourth year thereafter, six members of the Board of Education and four members of the Board of Education and four members of the Governing Board of the Community College District shall be elected.

At the general municipal election in 1997 and every fourth year thereafter, a City Attorney and a Treasurer shall be elected.

At the statewide primary election in 1998 and every fourth year thereafter, an Assessor-Recorder and Public Defender shall be elected.

At the statewide general election in 1998 and every fourth year thereafter, five members of the Board of Supervisors, three members of the Board of Education and three members of the Governing Board of the Community College District shall be elected.

The election and terms of office of members of the Board of Supervisors shall be governed by Section 13.110.

Section 4. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section 13.102 thereof, to read as follows:

SEC. 13.102. MUNICIPAL RUNOFF ELECTIONS.

If no candidate for any elective office of the City and County, except the Board of Supervisors, the Board of Education and the Governing Board of the Community College District, receives a majority of the votes cast at an election for such office, the two candidates receiving the most votes shall qualify to have their names placed on the ballot for a municipal runoff election. If no candidate for Board of Supervisors receives a majority of the votes cast within the district, the two candidates from the district receiving the most votes shall qualify to have their names placed on the ballot for a district runoff election. A runoff election for the office of Mayor, Sheriff, District Attorney, City Attorney and Treasurer for a district runoff election for Supervisors shall be held on the second Tuesday of the next ensuing December. A runoff election for Assessor-Recorder and Public Defender shall be held at the next general election.

Section 5. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by adding section 13.110 thereto, to read as follows:

SEC. 13.110. ELECTION OF SUPERVISORS.

(a) The members of the board of supervisors shall be elected by district as set forth in this section.

(b) The city and county shall be divided into 11 supervisorial districts as set forth in this section. Beginning with the general municipal election in 2000, and until new districts are established pursuant to this section, these districts shall be used for the election or recall of the members of the board of supervisors, and for filling any vacancy in the office of member of the board of supervisors by appointment. Once new districts are established, those districts shall be used for the same purposes. No change in the boundary or location of any district shall operate to abolish or terminate the term of office of any member of the board of supervisors prior to the expiration of the term of office for which such member was elected or appointed.

(c) The 11 supervisorial districts shall be bounded and described as follows:

FIRST SUPERVISORIAL DISTRICT, shall comprise all of that portion of the city and county commencing at the point of intersection of the shoreline of the Pacific Ocean and a straight-line extension of Lincoln Way; thence easterly along Lincoln Way to Arguello Boulevard; thence northerly along Arguello Boulevard to Kazar Drive; thence easterly along Kazar Drive to Waller Street; thence easterly along Waller Street to Stanyan Street; thence northerly along Stanyan Street to Fulton Street; thence easterly along Fulton Street to Parker Avenue; thence northerly along Parker Avenue to Lone Mountain Terrace; thence westerly along Lone Mountain Terrace to Stanyan Boulevard; thence northerly along Stanyan Boulevard to Geary Boulevard; thence westerly along Geary Boulevard to Arguello Boulevard; thence northerly along Arguello Boulevard to Lake Street; thence westerly along Lake Street to Twenty-Seventh Avenue; thence southerly along Twenty-Seventh Avenue to California Street; thence westerly along California Street to its point of intersection with the eastern boundary of Lincoln Park; thence northerly along said boundary to the shoreline of the Pacific Ocean; thence westerly and southerly along said shoreline to the point of commencement. Unless specifically designated to the contrary, all references to streets, boulevards, drives, avenues, terraces and ways contained in the foregoing description shall refer to the center lines of said streets, boulevards, drives, avenues, terraces and ways, respectively.

TENTH SUPERVISORIAL DISTRICT, shall comprise all of that portion of the city and county commencing at the intersection of the southern boundary of the city and county and the center line of Carter Street; thence northerly along Carter Street to Geneva Avenue; thence northwesterly along Geneva Avenue to the point of intersection with a southerly straight-line extension of the boundary between Crocker-Amazon Playground and John McLaren Park; thence generally northerly along the western boundary of John McLaren Park to Burrows Street; thence easterly along Burrows Street to Harvard Street; thence southerly along Harvard Street to Beacon Street; thence easterly along Beacon Street to Oxford Street; thence southerly along Oxford Street to Wayland Street; thence easterly along Wayland Street to Cambridge Street; thence northerly along Cambridge Street to Felton Street; thence easterly along Felton Street to Amherst Street; thence northerly along Amherst Street to Silver Avenue; thence easterly along Silver Avenue to Colby Street; thence northerly along Colby Street to Sweeney Street; thence easterly along Sweeney Street to Bowdoin Street; thence northerly along Bowdoin Street and a northerly straight-line extension thereof to the center line of the Southern Freeway (Interstate Route 280); thence northeasterly along the center line of the Southern Freeway (Interstate Route 280) to the point of interchange with the James Lick Freeway (State Route 101); thence generally northerly along said center line of the James Lick Freeway (State Route 101) to Seventeenth Street; thence easterly along Seventeenth Street to Pennsylvania Street; thence northerly along Pennsylvania Street to Sixteenth Street; thence easterly along Sixteenth Street and a straight-line extension thereof to the point of intersection with the shoreline of San Francisco Bay; thence generally northerly along said shore line to the southern boundary of the city and county and including all piers south of said intersection; thence along the southern boundary of the city and county to the point of commencement. Unless specifically designated to the contrary, all references to streets, boulevards, drives, avenues, terraces and ways contained in the foregoing description shall refer to the center lines of said streets, boulevards, drives, avenues, terraces and ways, respectively.

ELEVENTH SUPERVISORIAL DISTRICT, shall comprise all of that portion of the city and county not otherwise described as constituting the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth or Tenth Supervisorial District.

(d) Within 60 days following publication of the decennial federal census in the year 2000 and every decennial federal census after that, the Director of Elections shall report to the Board of Supervisors on whether the existing districts continue to meet the requirements of federal and state law and the criteria for drawing districts lines set in the Charter.

The criteria for drawing districts lines are:

- Districts must conform to all legal requirements, including the requirement that they be equal in population. Population variations between districts should be limited to 1 percent from the statistical mean unless additional variations, limited to 5 percent of the statistical mean, are necessary to prevent dividing or diluting the voting power of minorities and/or to keep recognized neighborhoods intact provided, however, that the redistricting provided for herein shall conform to the rule of one person, one vote, and shall reflect communities of interest within the city and county.

If it is determined that the districts are in compliance with all legal requirements, including the requirement that they be equal in population, the elected supervisors as drawn will be valid for the next decade. If it is determined that any of the districts are not in compliance, the Board of Supervisors by ordinance shall convene and fund a nine-member elections task force. Three members shall be appointed by the Board of Supervisors, three members shall be appointed by the Mayor, and three members shall be appointed by the Director of Elections. The Director of Elections shall serve ex officio as a non-voting member. The task force shall be responsible for redrawing the district lines in accordance with the law and the criteria established in this Section, and shall make such adjustments as appropriate based on public input at public hearings. The Board of Supervisors may not revise the district boundaries established by the task force.

(e) Each member of the board of supervisors, commencing with the general municipal election in November, 2000, shall be elected by the electors within a supervisorial district, and must have resided in the district in which he or she is elected for a period of not less than 30 days immediately preceding the date he or she is elected to the office of supervisor, and must continue to reside therein during his or her incumbency, and upon ceasing to be such resident shall be removed from office.

(f) Notwithstanding any provisions of this section or any other section of the charter to the contrary, the respective terms of office of the members of the board of supervisors who shall hold office on the first day of January, 2001, shall expire at 12 o’clock noon on said date and the 11 persons elected as members of the board of supervisors at the general election in 2000 shall succeed to said offices on said eighth day of January, 2001. At that time, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall determine whether the supervisors elected from the even- or odd-numbered supervisorial districts at the general municipal election in 2000 shall have terms of office expiring at noon on the eighth day of January, 2003, and which shall have terms of office expiring at noon on the eighth day of January, 2005;
commencing, however, with the general municipal election in November, 2002, the terms of office of the supervisors elected from the even- or odd-numbered supervisorial districts, as the case may be, shall be for a term of four years and shall continue as such thereafter. Those members of the board of supervisors elected at the general election in 1998, and those elected at the general election 2000 who only serve an initial two-year term, shall not be deemed to have served a full term for purposes of the term limit established in section 2.101.

Section 6. The 1996 San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section 14.103 thereof, to read as follows:
SEC. 14.103. RECALL.
An elected official of the City and County, the City Administrator, the Controller, or any member of the Airports Commission, the Board of Education, the governing board of the Community College District, the Ethics Commission or the Public Utilities Commission may be recalled by the voters as provided by this Charter and by the laws of the State of California, except that no recall petitions shall be initiated with respect to any officer who has held office for less than six months.
A recall petition shall include the signatures of voters in a number equal to at least ten percent of registered voters of the City and County at time of the filing of the notice of intention to circulate the recall petitions. A recall petition for a member of the Board of Supervisors shall include signatures of voters from the district from which the Supervisor was elected in a number equal to at least ten percent of the registered voters of the district at the time of the filing of the notice of intention to circulate the recall petition. A recall petition shall state the grounds on which the recall is based.
Upon certifying the sufficiency of the recall petition’s signatures, the Director of Elections shall immediately call a special municipal election on the recall, to be held not less than 105 nor more than 120 days from the date of its calling unless it is within 105 days of a general municipal or statewide election, in which event the recall shall be submitted at such general municipal or statewide election.
Section 7. This measure is intended to be inconsistent with Proposition H, which provides for the at-large election of 11 supervisors using preference voting. If both measures receive a majority vote, only the measure receiving the higher number of votes will be adopted.
This measure shall take effect on January 1, 2000. Upon passage of this measure, the City Attorney shall take necessary steps to include both the current Charter provisions and the amendments effected by this measure as part of the text of the Charter. Election of Supervisors — Preference Voting

PROPOSITION H
Shall the Board of Supervisors be elected using preference voting? YES NO

Digest
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Board of Supervisors has eleven members who are elected city wide. Every two years, either 5 or 6 of the Board seats are up for election. Each voter may vote for as many candidates as there are seats to be filled, and the candidates with the most votes are elected. In each Board election, the candidate who gets the most votes becomes the Board President.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition H is a charter amendment that would require that members of the Board of Supervisors be elected using a system called preference voting. Instead of casting votes for each of the candidates the voter wanted elected, the voter would rank his or her choices for Supervisor in order of preference. The ballots would be counted in steps to tally the order of voter preferences. The number of votes needed to elect a Board member would be based on the total number of votes cast and the total number of Board seats up for election.

Under preference voting, each vote would be distributed among the voter's preferred candidates. First, the voter's entire vote would be given to his or her first-choice candidate. If a voter's first-choice candidate received more votes than needed for election, then part of that voter's vote would be given to that voter's second-choice candidate. If any other candidate then had more votes than needed for election, part of the votes for that candidate would be given to the voters' next-choice candidates. This process was completed and some Board seats were not filled, the candidate who received the fewest votes would be eliminated. Votes cast for the eliminated candidate would be given the voters' next-choice candidates. This two-step redistribution and elimination process would be repeated until all the Board seats were filled.

The same preference ballots will be used to elect the Board President. Candidates with the fewest votes would be eliminated, and their votes redistributed until only one candidate remained.

A “YES” VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Board of Supervisors to be elected using preference voting.

A “NO” VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to use preference voting to elect the Board of Supervisors.

Controller's Statement on “H”

City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition H:

Should the proposed charter amendment be approved by the voters, in my opinion, it should not increase the cost of government to hold elections except for some $100,000 in one-time programming costs to implement the preference voting process.

However, the City's voting system is already having a difficult time accommodating the size of our local ballots and preference voting may add to the need to buy or lease a new vote count system.

How Supervisors Voted on “H”

On July 22, 1996 the Board of Supervisors voted 10-1 to place Proposition H on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:
NO: Supervisor Bierman.

Notice to Voters: Propositions G and H appear to conflict with each other. If both measures are approved by the voters, and if the two measures conflict, the one receiving the greater number of votes will become law.
Election of Supervisors — Preference Voting

PROONENT’S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

Vote Yes on Proposition H.

Proposition H will usher in a new era of fair and representative government to San Francisco. Many believe the current voting system has not given adequate representation to the diverse elements of our City.

Proposition H is “State of the Art” Democracy

Proposition H will elect the Board of Supervisors by preference voting. Like district elections, preference voting reduces the number of votes needed to win elections. Candidates can win with votes from one section of the City or from several neighborhoods. However, with preference voting, candidates may also win votes from communities spread throughout the City, such as small business owners, tenants, gays and lesbians, ethnic groups, labor and many others.

Proposition H Promotes Coalition Building

Preference voting allows voters to rank candidates from allied communities and organizations. This keeps coalitions from splitting their vote among rival candidates. It allows citizens to vote for their favorite candidates rather than the “lesser of two evils.” Preference voting will decrease San Francisco's frequently divisive politics.

Proposition H will increase voter turnout.

Preference voting is used by over 30 million people in other U.S. cities and other nations. Voters in most of these places turn out in higher numbers because with preference voting, your vote counts!

Recent U.S. Supreme Court rulings have thrown at risk the traditional reliance on majority-minority districts to gain representation for minority voters. In this era of backlash against affirmative action, decades of voting rights litigation and activism have been tossed aside. New creative options must be explored, as a way to end run the current political climate and still provide crucial representation to the communities that have been disenfranchised by the recent Supreme Court rulings.

We are pleased that San Francisco is considering the adoption of preference voting as a means to elect its Board of Supervisors. Systems like preference voting hold out a great deal of promise to the traditional recipients of voting rights remedies, as well as other constituencies who are disenfranchised by the “winner take all” voting system.

Preference voting lowers the threshold of victory (the number of votes needed for election), and by doing so opens up races to various racial and political minorities, allows coalition-building, and allows more voters to help elect their favorite candidates.

Now is the time for cities and states to explore some of these proportional options like preference voting. San Francisco has an opportunity to be on the cutting edge of this issue of electoral reform and political representation in this era of backlash against the Voting Rights Act.

Preferencing Voting in San Francisco may stand as a national model of innovation that others can follow, in the current climate of judicial backlash against the remedies of minority vote dilution.

I would like to encourage you to give strong consideration to preference voting. I saw proportional representation at work in the South African elections two years ago, and I was impressed. I found it to be an “inclusive” system, giving everyone in South African society a stake in the outcome, rather than the “exclusive” system which is too often the result of “winner-take-all.” I believe San Francisco has an opportunity to reinvigorate a voting system that could serve as a model for the next century.

Minority representation on the Board in the last century has been minimal, and was almost exclusively due to mayoral appointments. At-large elections guarantee that minority communities remain dependent on the presence of a mayor who values diversity, and engender voter apathy and cynicism. Preference voting, on the other hand, institutionalizes a fair and full opportunity for each citizen to cast a meaningful vote in the election. Preference voting avoids the legal risks of district plans, and stimulates voting by underrepresented communities participating for the first time in a fair system where minority votes are no longer nullified by the majority vote.

Preference Voting retains a Board of Supervisors who represent the entire City and only changes the way we vote for them. Preference Voting is easy to use: voters simply rank their candidates in order of preference, 1st, 2nd, 3rd, etc. Voters can freely make their choices without worry of “wasting” votes. Communities that are spread out can vote together to win representation. Money and incumbency will have less influence than now. Vote YES on H.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CHARTER AMENDMENT
PROPOSITION H

Describing and setting forth a proposal to the qualified voters of the City and County of San Francisco to amend the Charter of said city and county by amending Sections 2.100 and 2.116 thereof, governing the composition of the Board of Supervisors and the selection of the President of the Board, by adding Sections 13.110 and 13.111 thereto, governing the use of preference ballots and the election of supervisors using preference ballots, and by establishing an effective date.

The Board of Supervisors hereby submits to the qualified voters of said city and county an election to be held on November 5, 1996, a proposal to amend the Charter of said city and county by amending Sections 2.100 and 2.116 thereof, by adding Sections 13.110 and 13.111 thereto, and by establishing an effective date, so that the same shall read as follows:

NOTE: Additions or substitutions are indicated by bold face type; deletions are indicated by strike-out type.

Section 1. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by adding section 2.100 thereof, to read as follows:
SEC. 2.100. COMPOSITION AND SALARY.
The Board of Supervisors shall consist of eleven members elected at large. Members of the board shall be paid a salary of $23,924.

Section 2. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by adding section 2.116, to read as follows:
SEC. 2.116. PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.
The position of President of the Board of Supervisors shall be chosen by a separate tabulation of the ballots cast at the last preceding supervisorial election. This tabulation shall conform to the rules defined in Section 13.111 for tabulation of preference ballots. All candidates that were not seated in the general election shall be eliminated prior to the tabulation process, and their ballots reallocated according to Section 13.111. At its regular meeting on the eighth day of January in odd-numbered years, the position of President of the Board of Supervisors shall be assumed by the member so elected who received the highest number of votes at the last preceding supervisorial election. If a vacancy in the office of President of the Board of Supervisors shall occur prior to the end of the term, the Board of Supervisors shall by a majority vote elect one of its members to fill the unexpired portion of the term. The President shall preside at all meetings, appoint all standing and special committees, assign legislation to committees, and have such other powers and duties as may be assigned by the Board of Supervisors.

Section 3. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by adding section 13.110 thereto, to read as follows:
SEC. 13.110. ELECTION OF SUPERVISORS.
The members of the board of supervisors shall be elected at large, using a preference ballot. Rules concerning elections using preference ballots outlined in Section 13.111 shall apply.

Section 4. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by adding section 13.111 thereto, to read as follows:
SEC. 13.111. TABULATION OF PREFERENCE BALLOTS.
For all election contests where preference ballots are used, the following shall apply:
(a) The ballot shall be designed to allow the voter to express a number of choices equal to or greater than the number of open seats and shall enable the voter to rank his or her choices according to preference.
(b) The vote represented by each ballot shall be allocated starting with the candidate listed as first preference on the ballot. If a candidate's total vote allocation is greater than the vote threshold defined in subsection (c), only that portion of the vote required to place the candidate at the vote threshold shall be applied to the candidate and the remainder shall be applied to the candidate and the remainder shall be applied to the candidate given the next preference ranking. Reallocation shall continue until no candidate has a vote allocation greater than the vote threshold or until it is not possible to reduce a candidate's vote allocation further.
If, after reducing all candidates' vote allocations to a value no greater than the vote threshold, there are open seats remaining to be filled, the candidate with the lowest vote allocation will be eliminated and the votes allocated to that candidate will be transferred to the next candidates recorded on the ballots according to the preference ranking.
This process shall continue until the number of candidates remaining matches the number of seats to be filled. Votes for the last candidate eliminated shall be transferred, and the election shall be declared at an end.

(c) The election threshold shall be determined by dividing the number of ballots cast for the office(s) in question by one (1) plus the number of vacant seats to be filled at the election. The next highest whole number is the election threshold.
(d) If at any stage of the ballot tabulation a ballot has either reached the vote threshold or been eliminated, and there remains a portion of the vote from that ballot which has not been allocated, the entire remaining vote for that ballot shall be allocated to the last candidate marked on the ballot who has not been eliminated.
(e) Any votes cast for eligible write-in candidates shall be tabulated in the same manner, provided that the voter assigns that candidate a ranked preference.
(j) The responsibility for ensuring that voting and tabulation occur in accordance with the rules specified herein resides with the Director of Elections.

Section 5. This measure shall take effect on January 1, 2000.

Police & Firefighter Personnel Policies

PROPOSITION I
Shall the Police Commission and Fire Commission establish the rules and procedures for recruiting, hiring, and promoting police officers and firefighters, and conduct civil service tests for these employees?

Digest
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: San Francisco police officers and firefighters are civil service employees. The Civil Service Commission sets the rules and procedures for recruiting, hiring, and promoting civil service employees. The Human Resources Department administers tests that determine eligibility for civil service employment. The Human Resources Department may hire private contractors to conduct these tests.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition I is a charter amendment that would transfer certain powers from the Civil Service Commission and the Human Resources Department to the Police Commission and the Fire Commission. The Police Commission and the Fire Commission would be permitted to set the rules and procedures for recruiting, hiring, and promoting police officers and firefighters. These rules and procedures must comply with state and federal law and promote City affirmative action policies. The Police Commission and the Fire Commission would be required to conduct civil service tests for police officers and firefighters at least once every four years. The Police and Fire Commissions could hire private contractors to conduct these tests.

A "YES" VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Police Commission and the Fire Commission rather than the Civil Service Commission, to establish the rules and procedures for recruiting, hiring, and promoting police officers and firefighters. You also want the Police Commission and the Fire Commission, rather than the Human Resources Department, to conduct civil service tests for these employees.

A "NO" VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want these powers to remain with the Civil Service Commission and the Human Resources Department.

Controller's Statement on "I"
City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition I:

Should the proposed charter amendment be approved by the voters, in my opinion, it should not affect the cost of government.

How Supervisors Voted on "I"
On July 15, 1996 the Board of Supervisors voted 10-0 to place Proposition I on the ballot.
The Supervisors voted as follows:
NO: None of the Supervisors present voted no.
ABSENT: Supervisor Leal.
PROONENT'S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION I

Vote Yes on Proposition I

Over the past decade, San Francisco's police and fire departments have made tremendous progress in meeting their hiring and promotional goals for minorities and women. We can expect within the next year or two that the consent decrees that have long governed both departments will be dissolved.

But our work is not done. The San Francisco charter itself contains a variety of antiquated rules that, historically, have contributed to the departments' employment problems.

This proposition will ensure that the City's promotion and examination procedures are efficient, fair, and above all, free of illegal discrimination.

Please take the additional step of updating our charter so that all San Franciscans continue to be proud of their police and fire departments.

Board of Supervisors

REBUTTAL TO PROONENT'S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION I

Reading the argument for Proposition I would lead the average voter to believe the measure is dictated by discriminatory practices or a court "consent" decree. That's not the substance of Proposition I; the substance is special treatment for the Police Department and Fire Department and exclusion of the Civil Service Commission from administration of hiring, promotion and bad conduct employment discharges. This measure has nothing to do with "updating our charter so that all San Franciscans continue to be proud of their police and fire departments."; we all are proud of our police and fire departments now. This measure involves special treatment, not enjoyed by any other classification of city employees. Instead of Civil Service Commission oversight, the only oversight would be by the police and fire commissions. Such unequal treatment isn't justified. Vote NO on Proposition I.

OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

Vote no on Proposition I! For over 60 years, uniformed members of the police and fire departments have been treated like other city employees insofar as the civil service system is concerned. Now, sponsors of Proposition I want to remove that salutary governance system and allow the police commission and fire commission sole authority to adopt rules for the testing, hiring and promotion of police and firefighters. No other city employee groups are regulated in such fashion.

VOTE “NO” ON PROPOSITION I

Proposition I is unnecessary and preferential in nature. There’s no sound reason for removing uniformed personnel from the pur-view of the Civil Service Commission or the Human Resources Department. Doing so would breed isolation and policies that favor uniformed personnel while not applying to non-uniformed city employees. VOTE “NO” ON PROPOSITION I.

KOPP’S GOOD GOVERNMENT COMMITTEE
State Senator Quentin L. Kopp

REBUTTAL TO OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

For well over the last decade, the hiring and promotion proce-dures for police and firefighters have been controlled by the federal courts, not by the Civil Service Commission.

procedures once the federal court orders are dissolved. The Police and Fire Commissions — the groups most knowledgeable about the particular needs of the police and fire departments — are best qualified to develop fair and non-discriminatory hiring and promotion procedures for uniformed personnel.

Proposition I not only will serve all the people of San Francisco with no additional cost to the City, but will better enable the City to avoid the illegal and costly problems that resulted in these court orders in the first place.

Vote Yes on Proposition I.

Board of Supervisors
PAID ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION I

YES on Proposition I

San Franciscans deserve outstanding Police and Fire Departments that are independent, thoroughly professional and manage their own personnel matters fairly and without prejudice.

A YES vote on Proposition I makes the Police and Fire Departments each solely responsible — and therefore fully accountable — for the recruitment and promotion of its members.

For years federal courts have exercised that authority. That oversight will end next year if the courts are satisfied that hiring and promotional opportunities continue to be open to all qualified men and women.

Progress under the courts toward greater equality of opportunity has been significant, but so has the cost over the years in taxpayer dollars.

Proposition I amends the City Charter to empower the two departments, with oversight from their respective commissions, to take over personnel management when the courts dissolve their consent decrees.

Authority for the day-to-day administration, under standards that are stringent and nondiscriminatory, will be squarely where it should be — with the men and women who daily combat crime and fight fires in San Francisco.

San Francisco police and firefighters are now hired and promoted under Federal Court Consent Decrees. Under these Decrees, fair and non-discriminatory test procedures have been developed.

PAID ARGUMENTS AGAINST PROPOSITION I

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION I — IT'S FOR INSIDERS

Proposition I is yet another charter amendment on the ballot which promotes patronage, favoritism and political backslapping to the detriment of the City. Specifically, Proposition I, transfers powers from nonpolitical agencies (the Civil Service Commission and the Human Resources Department) to the mayoral appointees of the Police and Fire Commissions.

Now, shockingly, recruiting, hiring, testing, and discipline matters will be transferred internally with oversight duties given to those least objective. Talk about the wolf guarding the hen house!!

Approval of Proposition I also abolishes voter approval of certain disciplinary procedures. If the elimination of a watchdog agency, empowerment of politically appointed commissions isn’t enough — Proposition I eliminates the Civil Service Commission and gives the mayor a brand new commission with lesser terms — three years instead of six years, a dangerous adaptation compared to the protection of a longer term for commissioners making hard decisions.

Proposition I is an advancement of a political, patronage system at the expense of public oversight. Vote NO on Proposition I.

Describing and setting forth a proposal to the qualified electors of the City and County of San Francisco to amend the Charter of said city and county by amending section 10.102 thereof, relating to the hiring and promotion of uniformed members of the San Francisco Police and Fire Departments.

The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby submits to the qualified electors of said city and county at an election to be held on November 5, 1996 a proposal to amend the Charter of said city and county by amending section 10.102 thereof to read as follows:

NOTE: Additions or substitutions are indicated by bold face type; deletions are indicated by strike-out type.

10.102 DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN RESOURCES.

The Department of Human Resources shall consist of a Human Resources Director and such employees as may be necessary to carry out its functions and duties.

Pursuant to and in accordance with policies, rules and procedures of the Civil Services Commission governing the merit system, the Department of Human Resources shall be the personnel department for the City and County and shall determine appointments on the basis of merit and fitness as shown by appropriate tests and, except as specifically set forth in this Charter, shall perform all tests, duties and functions previously performed by the Civil Service Commission, including but not limited to authority to recruit, select, certify, appoint, train, evaluate, administer employee discipline, discharge and other related personnel activities in order to maintain an effective and responsive workforce. Notwithstanding the provisions of Charter sections 10.100 and 10.101, the Police Commission and Fire Commission shall have the authority to adopt rules, policies and procedures governing the hiring and promotion of non-exempt uniformed personnel including but not limited to recruitment, applications, examinations, selection procedures, eligibility, duration of eligible lists, certification of eligibles, appointments, promotions, pre-employment and fitness for duty medical examinations, probationary status and the administration of probationary periods. However, the Police Commission and Fire Commission shall determine appointments to the non-exempt uniformed ranks of their respective departments on the basis of merit and fitness as shown by tests and/or selection procedures which are consistent with State and Federal laws and that promote the affirmative action policies of the City and County. The Police and Fire Commissions shall have the duty and obligation to administer examinations or other means of qualification for selection and appointment of uniformed personnel in their departments no less frequently than forty-eight (48) months apart for each non-exempt uniformed classification.

The Department of Human Resources shall be responsible for coordination of all state, local and federal health and safety mandates, programs and requirements relating to employees including but not limited to industrial hygiene programs, health and safety programs, OSHA compliance and return to work programs. Department heads shall coordinate such activities of employees under their jurisdiction with the Human Resources Director.

The Department of Human Resources shall be responsible for policy, management and administration of the worker’s compensation program and shall review and determine all applications for disability leave.

Subject to Section 11.100 hereof, the Department of Human Resources shall be responsible for management and administration of all labor relations of the City and County.

The Department of Human Resources shall be responsible for management and administration of all health services of employee. The transfer of such power and control to the Department of Human Resources shall occur no later than October 1, 1995.

Except for the purpose of inquiry, the Mayor shall deal with the administration of the civil service merit system solely through the Human Resources Director and the Civil Service Commission or their designees. The Mayor shall not dictate, suggest or interfere with the merit system activities of the Civil Service Commission or Human Resources Department. Administrative matters shall be dealt with only in the matter provided by this Charter, and any dictation, suggestion or interference herein prohibited shall constitute official misconduct; provided that nothing herein contained shall restrict the power of hearing and inquiry as provided in this Charter.
PROPOSITION J

Shall taxicab permit holders be permitted to sell their permits, and shall the City make other changes to the laws which regulate taxicabs?

YES

NO

by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City issues a limited number of taxicab permits. Permits are issued to individuals only, not to companies. Taxicab permits are the property of the City, and may not be sold.

A permit holder is required to personally drive the taxicab for a specified number of hours per year. When a permit holder is not driving the taxicab, he or she may charge a "lease fee" to another person or company for the right to operate the taxicab. That person or company may in turn, charge drivers an "operating fee" for the right to drive the taxicab for a particular shift. The City regulates taxi fares but does not regulate lease fees or operating fees.

Applicants for taxicab permits do not need to have experience driving a taxicab.

The City has a paratransit program which provides low-cost taxicab services to certain elderly and disabled persons.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition J is an ordinance that would allow a permit holder to transfer the permit to the qualified bidder offering the highest price. Taxicab permits would remain the property of the City. The City would approve all permit transfers. The City would receive $10,000, or 20% of the transfer price, whichever was greater, for each transfer.

For two years following passage of Proposition J, permit holders could transfer their permits only if they had held them for ten years or more.

The City would set maximum lease fees and operating fees based on average fees in effect on May 1, 1996. The City would determine these averages by conducting a survey. The City would then adjust these fees, and taxi fares, every two years based on changes in the cost of living.

Other provisions of Proposition J include:

- Permit holders who work as managers for taxicab companies would no longer be required to drive the taxicab for the specified number of hours per year.
- Before receiving a permit, applicants would be required to have at least five years experience driving taxicabs in San Francisco.
- The City would issue a limited number of additional permits to taxicab companies that participate in the paratransit program. Taxicabs using these permits could only be operated on weekdays, but would not be restricted to paratransit activity.
- Fines for illegal operation of a taxicab would be increased.

A "YES" VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to make these changes to the laws which regulate taxicabs.

A "NO" VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to make these changes to the laws which regulate taxicabs.

Controller’s Statement on "J"

City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition J:

Should the proposed measure be approved, in my opinion, the cost effect of the ordinance would be minimal. Some revenues will result from fees paid to the City for the transfer of existing taxicab licenses, the amount of which depends upon the number of licenses transferred. Additional costs to survey, regulate and adjust the number of taxi permits, taxi fares and lease and operating (gate) fees and monitor taxi operations may be incurred but these should be minimal.

How “J” Got on the Ballot

On July 26, 1996 the Department of Elections received a proposed ordinance signed by Supervisors Alioto, Brown, Hsieh, Katz, Kaufman, and Teng. The City Charter allows four or more Supervisors to place an ordinance on the ballot in this manner.
PROPOSER'S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

Proposition J: Comprehensive, Progressive Reform of San Francisco’s Taxi Industry

San Franciscans depend on a taxi system that works well for everyone.

San Francisco’s taxi industry faces many challenges: Neighborhoods not close to downtown need better taxi service, during busy times there aren’t enough cabs, and there is a need for increased paratransit service.

Today, many taxi drivers don’t have access to health and disability insurance. Drivers who want to own their own operating permit must wait twenty years to get one. If Proposition J passes everyone will benefit: passengers, cab companies, cab drivers and our City.

Proposition J will tackle those problems head on. It is a comprehensive, progressive reform measure. Proposition J will:

• create new taxi operating permits to put more cabs on the street during peak times;
• provide incentives for taxi companies to participate in the City’s paratransit program serving seniors and person with disabilities;
• require cab companies to offer drivers access to health and disability insurance;
• allow drivers who currently hold operating permits to sell them to qualified drivers (not taxi cab companies);
• require the Police Commission to monitor the transfer of operating permits and guard against profiteering;
• increase penalties against unlicensed limos and cabs that steal business away from legitimate cab drivers.

If you can’t get a cab when you need one, if you are tired of waiting endlessly for a cab, if you believe drivers should have a fair chance at earning a decent wage, if you believe in better paratransit service for seniors and the disabled, and if you believe that all drivers should have access to health insurance — Vote YES on Proposition J.

REBUTTAL TO PROPOSER’S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

If you want to hire wordsmiths to dissemble and deceive voters, the sponsors and slick campaign managers of Proposition J are your best bet. Reading their argument for Proposition J is like Alice in Wonderland!

It’s a joke to believe the misrepresentation that the police commission will “monitor” the sale of taxi cab permits and “guard against profiteering.” Profiteering is the underpinning of Proposition J. It’s the reason sponsors and their acquisitive campaign managers inveighed six weak supervisors to place it on the ballot, a devious effort to overturn the 1978 voter-adopted reform of a corrupt taxi cab permit system which allowed taxi cab companies to use city permits for personal financial gain. A bigger joke?: the assertion that only drivers with “five years experience” will purchase permits. Average drivers cannot — and should not — be forced to pay $100,000 — $200,000 for government permits! Proposition J is simple; the taxi cab moguls want to regress to a system which allowed them to profiteer at our expense. It’d be like selling privately for profit a residential parking permit. If they want the Police Department to issue additional permits, why not join those of us who have advocated more permits for years? The Mayor, for example, favors issuance of more taxi cab permits. That’s not the “gain”, however, represented by Proposition J. Proposition J is yet another taxi cab company “ripoff” which voters have thwarted five times since we reformed the system in 1978. Let’s not be fooled; vote NO on J.

State Senator Quentin L. Kopp
OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Proposition J is yet another of the efforts of the taxicab moguls to return to the pre-1978 system of using governmental permits as if that was private property. Proposition J would effectually allow taxicab companies to sell city taxicab permits privately, rather than return them to the Police Department for re-issuance at a nominal administrative cost to genuine taxicab drivers, some of whom have been waiting 17 years to obtain a permit to operate a taxicab in San Francisco.

VOTE “NO” ON PROPOSITION J

In June 1978, San Francisco voters approved Proposition K, which ended the power of taxicab companies to sell Police Department-issued taxicab permits for tens of thousands of dollars. (Today, in New York City for example, such permits are regularly sold for sums in excess of $100,000, and it’s almost impossible for the average driver to enter the taxicab industry). Four times thereafter measures to repeal Proposition K were rejected by voters, and by ever-increasing margins. Taxicab companies even tried to invalidate Proposition K in the courts and spent hundreds of thousands of dollars on attorneys for such futile purpose. The last such time a taxicab measure was on the ballot, taxicab companies and confederates reportedly spent $450,000 to defeat a taxicab driver-inspired initiative measure. Their ability to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars on ballot measures demonstrates their profits. Repealing the present system which forbids treatment of public permits as private assets, would generate permit prices of $100,000 and more. Real cab drivers would be excluded.

Vote “NO” on Proposition J and save the integrity of a Police Department permitting system which grants opportunity to cab drivers, not company executives, much less non-taxicab drivers like lawyers, doctors and businessmen.

KOPP’S GOOD GOVERNMENT COMMITTEE
State Senator Quentin L. Kopp
Chairman

REBUTTAL TO OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Currently, there are two ways that taxi drivers are allowed to drive in San Francisco: Drivers can obtain an operating permit — a license to drive a cab — free from the City. Drivers who want a City operating permit now wait up to 20 years to get one. Or, a driver can “rent”, for a fee, a permit from a current permit holder or taxi company. Drivers who “rent” make much less than those who have a City permit.

Proposition J will provide an additional way for a driver to receive a City permit. It will allow current permit holders to transfer their permits to working cab drivers. Proposition J prohibits permit transfers to companies. Further, it directs the Police Commission to oversee this system and to “protect against profiteering.” This new system increases access to the taxi industry for working drivers. Cab drivers win with Proposition J.

Proposition J’s other reforms include:
1) more cabs on the street at peak times by issuing new “restricted permits”;
2) increased participation in the City’s paratransit program to provide more service to seniors and disabled persons; and
3) a requirement that taxicab companies offer drivers access to health and disability insurance.

Vote Yes on Proposition J — for progressive, comprehensive reform to put more taxis on our streets, better serve San Francisco’s taxi customers, help stabilize the taxi industry, and help cab drivers secure their futures.

San Francisco Supervisors Support Proposition J

Proposition J provides comprehensive, progressive reform that is critical to the future of the City's taxi industry. It is a fair measure, crafted after months of discussion and negotiation from the public, the industry — management and labor, and elected officials.

Prop J will:
- Put more cabs on the street during regular business hours — the times when taxi cabs are needed most.
- Increase the number of paratransit taxi cabs for seniors and disabled citizens.
- Provide for drivers' access to group health and disability insurance.
- Limit fare charged to passengers by tying them to the rate of inflation.
- Provide opportunities for drivers to become permit owners by allowing the transfer of permits from current owners to qualified drivers.
- Place the Police Commission in charge of overseeing the transfer of operating permits.
- Generate revenue for the City without a tax increase.

Proposition J will bring long overdue reform to this important local industry.

Please join Supervisors Amos Brown, Tom Hsieh, Leslie Katz, Barbara Kaufman and Mable Teng in supporting this worthwhile measure.

Gate Control Benefits Drivers and Customers

Proposition J will finally put an end to the skyrocketing costs a driver must pay to rent a cab. In much the same way that rent control protects renters, gate control protects taxi drivers.

In addition, any increases in driver rental fees are tied to 50 percent of the rate of inflation. This results in a fair, not arbitrary, rate system for the drivers.

As progressives who have fought for San Francisco’s tenants and renters, we urge you to give taxi cab drivers and customers the same protections renters get by voting YES on Proposition J.

No Profiteering — Vote Yes on Proposition J!

Proposition J will allow for the limited transferability of taxi permits, for a fee, to qualified drivers (five year minimum driving experience). It cleans up the current waiting list by adding specific eligibility requirements. It is explicitly written to give the Police Commission authority to conduct and approve the transfer of the permits — publicly, at open Commission hearings.

The City will assess a transfer fee of $10,000 or 20% of the sale price of any permit. This fee will go into the City's general fund, adding revenue for important programs. All transfers will be done in the spirit of fairness and openness, under the watchful eye of the Police Commission. Prop J directs the Police Commission to protect against profiteering.

Proposition J is truly a progressive move in the right direction. Vote Yes on J.

Finally! Health Benefits for Cab Drivers

Proposition J, the progressive, comprehensive, taxi reform measure, will do what should have been done a long time ago — require cab companies to offer to drivers access to group health and disability benefits. Drivers who can rely on health and disability insurance will feel more secure about their jobs — and do a better job serving the public. Prop J also includes an important provision that protects drivers from losing their eligibility for a permit should they temporaroly not be able to drive (e.g. because of pregnancy, HIV, disability, etc.).

Drivers will benefit from a more stable taxi industry. And, under Prop J, qualified drivers will receive an opportunity to invest in the industry and in their own future by purchasing their own permits.

Proposition J gives taxi drivers a level playing field. That means better taxi service for all San Franciscans.

Join us in voting Yes on Proposition J.

Proposition J
Taxi Reform that All San Franciscans Can Support
Since 1978, voters have considered and rejected various taxi proposals that have been on the ballot. In addition to covering all aspects of this industry, Proposition J finally addresses a fundamental issue: Transferability of permits by those who hold them privately to qualified drivers who want to become permit owners. Prop J will restrict the permit waiting list in a fair way. Prop J requires five years of local driving experience — that empowers drivers who are committed to quality service and know the City well.

The Police Commission will oversee the transfer and sale of permits to ensure fairness and prevent profiteering. A fee imposed on the transfer of each permit will be the greater of $10,000 or 20% of the purchase price — making this an important revenue generator for the City’s general fund at a time when San Francisco could use additional resources.

The ability to transfer permits to qualified drivers and more revenue for the City all add up to one conclusion — Vote YES on Proposition J!

SAY YES TO PROP J
FOR MORE PARATRANSIT SERVICE
San Francisco’s senior and disabled communities rely on taxi cab paratransit service as a dependable transportation option. Proposition J will increase paratransit service for those who need it.

Under Proposition J, taxi cab companies who participate in the paratransit program will receive additional restricted permits to operate taxi cabs during peak times. Therefore, more taxi cab companies will have an incentive to provide paratransit service.

And, as more companies begin offering paratransit service, outlying neighborhoods will get better cab service. Customers won’t have to wait for taxi cabs that never show up.

The senior and disabled communities must have real transportation options. Without them, getting around the City can be difficult, if not impossible.

Proposition J will address this problem by providing more paratransit cabs to serve the senior and disabled communities. Vote yes on Prop J. It’s important to our community.

Progressive Taxi Reform — Fairness for Drivers — Better Service for Residents

Taxi measures have been on the ballot for as long as we can remember. But none will reform the industry as comprehensively and progressively as Proposition J.

We support Prop J because it will:

- Create “peak use” permits that put more cabs on the street when you need them — during regular business hours.
- Add more paratransit permits to assist seniors and the disabled.
- Provide job stability and access to group health and disability benefits for taxi drivers.
- Restrict eligibility of the waiting list to qualified local drivers with a minimum of five years of taxi driving experience.
- Allow for qualified drivers to purchase operating permits from a current permit holder.

Proposition J Will Provide Better Service to the African American Community

Have you ever tried getting taxi service in Bayview/Hunters Point, Ingleside or Western Addition? Clearly the limited number of cabs on the street, and the high demand for them downtown, means taxi cab drivers will continue to ignore our neighborhoods.

Prop J will change that. It will create a more diverse workforce, with experienced drivers committed to the taxi industry as a full-time profession. Prop J allows newly qualified drivers to get a permit immediately — not wait 20 years to obtain one from the City. It puts more taxi cabs on the street, including more taxi cabs for our seniors and disabled. That means better service for our neighborhoods and better service for our community.

The Taxi Cab Industry Support Proposition J

The taxi cab industry operates under guidelines that have not changed in nearly 20 years. Proposition J provides the reform necessary to address the current needs of drivers and customers.

A consensus document, crafted with input from the public, taxi cab drivers, and the taxi cab industry, Proposition J will help stabilize an industry that must provide customers with better service and stabilize working conditions for the whole industry.

Under Proposition J:
1. More cabs will be on the streets during busy times.
2. Drivers, for the first time, will have access to group health and disability insurance.
3. Qualified drivers will have the opportunity to purchase their own operating permits, rather than waiting 20 years to get one from the City. That means a more committed and more diverse taxi cab industry.
4. Any increases in driver rental fees will be tied to 50% of the rate of inflation.
5. Fare increases will be limited by and tied to the rate of inflation.

Please join us in supporting these important reforms that will improve and stabilize an industry that is important to San Francisco. Join us in supporting Proposition J.

As an economist, I was asked to prepare a study on the business implications of Proposition J. After studying the far-reaching reforms addressed in Proposition J, it is my opinion that Proposition J will provide tremendous economic benefits for taxicab drivers, permit holders and San Francisco, while reforming a system for the control and distribution of taxicab permits that is archaic, inefficient and unfair.

Prop J will put more cabs on the streets. Companies which participate in paratransit for seniors and the disabled will receive special restricted permits to put more cabs on the street during peak times. The number of new permits equals 10% of each company fleet of cabs or 60 more permits. At least 60 new cabs will serve San Francisco residents when they need them most. This provision demonstrates how the proper market incentives can work to serve the public good. Taxicab drivers will have the opportunity to invest in themselves and control their own economic future by purchasing an operating permit in a monitored, fair market process. Currently, drivers must wait up to 20 years for a permit from the City or continue to rent a taxi from a permit holder. These drivers are essentially modern day serfs, with no long-term stake in or commitment to the taxi industry. Under Proposition J, drivers can buy their own permit immediately, invest in themselves and realize a return on that investment.

If Prop J passes, the City will collect a fee for the transfer of a permit. The fee will be a minimum of $10,000 or 20% of the sale price. Based on a market value calculation and a reasonable expectation of approximately 30 permits transferring a year, the additional revenue to the City is estimated at between $600,000 and $900,000.

PAID ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

The Hospitality and Visitor Industry: We Need More Cabs for Better Service.

Visitors contribute millions of dollars to the City's economy each year. The tourism and hospitality industry relies on a strong taxi cab system so our visitors can discover our City easily and safely. Access to the City's great neighborhoods, stores, restaurants, and points of interest is critical for San Francisco to maintain its position as an important visitor and convention destination.

Proposition J supports the tourism and hospitality industry in several ways. Most importantly Prop J will put more taxi cabs on the street. In addition, it will help stabilize the taxi cab industry by encouraging more people to make driving a career, not just a transitional job. The reforms under Proposition J will attract more experienced, long-term drivers, increase the number of newer cabs and put more cabs on the street.

FAREPLAY FOR TAXI DRIVERS

A small group of taxi cab drivers opposes Proposition J apparently in the misguided belief that experienced, qualified drivers should not have an opportunity to own their own operating permits — and secure their financial future.

Why else would these opponents to Proposition J prefer that a qualified driver wait for 20 years to obtain a permit from the City when one finally becomes available, rather than buy one today? During that 20-year wait, a qualified driver must continue to pay "rent" — in the form of a "gate fee" — to a cab company for the privilege of using its permit to drive a cab. This rent comes right out of a driver's pocket, reducing his or her income.

And, when that driver finally gets a permit after waiting 20 years, he or she may be too old to drive a cab. How will that benefit cab drivers?

Under Proposition J, a qualified driver can, in effect, own "a piece of the rock" by purchasing a permit today and keeping a larger portion of fare income for himself or herself, rather than paying it to a cab company.

Why would someone pay rent for an apartment if he or she has an opportunity to buy a home? Similarly, why would a qualified driver want to continue to pay "rent" for a permit when he or she could buy one?

Give qualified drivers a chance to achieve the American dream by controlling their own financial destinies. Give them a chance to buy permits and keep more fare income for themselves. Give them a reason to commit to the taxi industry as a long-term profession to better serve all residents of San Francisco.

Vote Yes on Proposition J.

Proposition J is Good News for San Francisco’s Neighborhoods

Proposition J will put more cabs on the streets and in our neighborhoods — when and where we need them the most. It creates new peak use permits — permits for additional cabs to operate during regular business hours. Proposition J also creates an incentive for cab companies to provide more paratransit service, offering greater transit options for seniors and the disabled — mostly neighborhood residents who can’t always get a cab when they need one. These reforms are good news for our neighborhoods.

More cabs means better service for our neighborhoods — That’s why we urge you to vote Yes on Proposition J.

San Francisco Democrats Support Prop J — For Real Taxi Reform!

Democrats support progressive, comprehensive reform of the taxi industry. For drivers that will provide:

- Access for drivers to health and disability insurance.
- Better service to outer and neglected neighborhoods.
- Control of the lease/gate fees charged to taxi cab drivers, and fares charged to passengers, by tying increases to the rate of inflation.
- Revenue for the City’s general fund from fees on the sale of operating permits to qualified drivers.
- Put more cabs on the street during peak times.
- Clean up the waiting list of permit applicants for taxi cab permits by restricting eligibility to qualified drivers who have driven in San Francisco for five years.
- Direct the Police Commission to oversee the transfer process and prevent profiteering and unfair competition.

Prop J Enhances Transit Options for all San Franciscans

Many people would prefer to take taxi cabs to work, rather than drive, if they could count on the reliability and availability of taxi service. Proposition J will make that option a reality by improving taxi service in several ways:

- It will provide “peak time” operating permits, putting more taxis on the street, when and where you need them.
- It will provide more para-transit cabs for seniors and the disabled.
- It will give the Police Commission greater authority to penalize illegal and unlicensed vans, limos and taxis, ensuring public safety and safer cabs.
- It will encourage experienced drivers to stay in the industry by allowing them to purchase their own operating permits rather than wait 20 years to get one from the City.
- And, as a bonus, Prop J will generate more revenue for the City by assessing a minimum $10,000 transaction fee for every transferred permit.

As individuals committed to expanding transit options for all San Franciscans, we believe that Proposition J will improve taxi service by reforming the taxi industry. Vote YES on J.

Proposition J Is Good for San Francisco’s Businesses

From time to time, all businesses must change and adapt in order to secure a healthy future. The San Francisco taxi industry is no exception. To meet future challenges, taxi cab owners and drivers, working together with members of the public and City leaders, have crafted several common-sense reforms that will allow the taxi industry to remain a healthy, stable and vibrant part of our City’s economy.

- Prop J will put more cabs on the street during the busiest times.
- Prop J will restrict future cab fare increases.
- Prop J will provide drivers much needed access to group health and disability benefits.
- Prop J will create an incentive to expand paratransit programs for our disabled and senior citizens.
- Prop J will give qualified, experienced drivers a greater opportunity to buy, rather than rent, their own operating permits. (They can, in effect, own their own business and control their own destiny.)

Prop J is good for our cab industry and our City. Please join us in supporting Prop J.

PAID ARGUMENTS AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Proposition J is patently unfair. It should be soundly rejected by the voters of San Francisco.

Proposition J would allow current taxicab permit holders to take a public permit — a permit granted in the public interest by the City to that holder at minimal cost — and turn it into a speculative commodity to be sold to the highest bidder for their own enormous profit. Estimates range from $100,000 to $200,000.

NO new opportunities would be created for our hard-working drivers; but a few people will get a lot of money.

WE urge you to join us in rejecting this particularly pernicious special interest ploy. VOTE NO ON J.

Dear Voters:

Can you believe it? Cab companies are up to no good again.

Under current San Francisco taxicab law, taxi permits (medallions) can only be issued to applicants on a waiting list. Applicants receiving permits today have been waiting for 14 years.

Proposition J bypasses the waiting list by issuing taxicab permits directly to big cab companies. After having waited 14 years, permit applicants will get nothing. Big cab companies hope to get these permits by misleading the public.

In the interest of honor, justice, and the American way, I ask you to please vote no on Proposition J.

PAID ARGUMENTS AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Proposition J is ill-conceived, unjust and financially unsound:
- Taxi permit prices of $200,000 will result in a financial drain on the taxicab industry which will drive down the quality of service and the earnings of drivers.
- A new 20% sales tax on the transfer of taxicab permits, payable by the cab driver purchasing the permit, is confiscatory and unfair, and sets a bad precedent for taxing startup businesses.
Prop J is a step backwards and would close the door of opportunity to minorities, women and other drivers trying to break into the system.

Prop J is all about MONEY. Who gets it? Taxi permit holders get $200,000 each! Who pays it? Cab drivers and their passengers! How do permit holders justify this windfall? They don’t. They claim Prop J is all about better service and opportunity for cab drivers. It isn’t. It’s about selling city-owned permits for huge profits.
Prop J pulls the rug out from under long-term cab drivers who have played by the rules. It totally reverses city policy and puts the taxicab industry under the control of shady financiers instead of working cab drivers. No on J!

Proposition J would permanently restrict elderly and disabled users of subsidized paratransit scrip to certain cab companies which choose to accept the scrip.
When federal welfare funds are cut next year, all San Franciscans will have to help support social services. Participation in the paratransit program should be required of ALL taxicabs as a condition of their licenses.

Edward G. Evans, Chair, Senior and Disabled Concerns Committee, North of Market Planning Coalition

Labor condemns Proposition J, a scandalous get-rich-quick scheme put forward by cab companies and the taxicab permit holders who control them.
Cab companies have long treated their drivers with contempt, but this proposition takes the cake. It would force drivers to pay permit holders for city-owned taxicab permits which now are issued for free! The driver’s one way up in this dangerous, stressful and low-paying job will be blocked by an obstacle insurmountable for most: a permit purchase price in the neighborhood of $200,000.
Prop J’s other provisions are just window dressing for the permit scam. Drivers will earn less in real terms under the fraudulent gate control provisions of Prop J. The provision which is supposed to make health and disability benefits available to drivers is so vague and ambiguous as to be meaningless. (For that reason, it’s not even mentioned in the objective description at the head of this section.) Even if some cab companies do make coverage available, drivers will have to pay for every cent of it — and the price will be prohibitive.
Cab companies have done everything in their power to deprive drivers of employer-financed worker protections mandated by law: workers’ compensation, unemployment and disability benefits. Now they’re touting a poor substitute at the driver’s expense.

TEXT OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE

PROPOSITION J

ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR REGULATION OF TAXICAB OPERATIONS

An ordinance providing regulations, policies and procedures relating to the issuance of taxicab permits by the Police Commission; regulations for the establishment of rates of fare; limitations on lease, rental or hire agreements; provisions for limited transferability of permits; right to purchase, payment and disability coverage by taxicab drivers; providing for the issuance of regulations by the Chief of Police; respecting various provisions of Appendix F to the charter of the city and county and Part II, Chapter VIII, Article 16 of the San Francisco Municipal Code; and providing a severability clause.

Be it ordained by the people of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section 1. The people of the city and county shall adopt:

(a) Better Service. It is in the public interest to promote better taxi service for all San Franciscans. More taxis are needed during peak use times. Further, an emphasis on paratransit (disabled and senior transit services) is at the heart of this effort to reform the current service structure.

(b) Security and Opportunity for Cab Drivers. It is in the public interest to enhance the security of and economic opportunities for drivers within the taxi industry by creating guidelines as to how much drivers can be charged for rental and lease fees of taxis by the taxi companies and cooperatives. In addition, cab drivers should be able to participate in medical and insurance programs. Security and opportunities in the industry must include all of its stake holders: taxi companies, taxi cooperatives, permit holders, drivers and the public.

(c) Stable Industry. In order to promote a more stable taxi industry, it is important to encourage young people to join the industry. Since the passage of Proposition K in 1978, turnover of taxi permits (licenses to operate taxis) has been slower than expected, discouraging young people from joining the industry. The line for permit applicants is backlogged, forcing an applicant to wait twenty years to obtain a permit. In order to achieve greater participation, we need a more rapid turnover of taxicab permits.

The current system has created absentee owners who have forced up the price of permit fees. Drivers pay more for rental and lease fees paid to cab companies, while their meter rates have remained frozen.

This public interest ordinance reforming taxi operations addresses all of these issues.

Section 2. Taxicab Permits.

(a) In addition to those requirements and qualifications provided by law, the Police Commission shall only issue a permit to operate a taxicab to a natural person who has for five (5) of the ten (10) years immediately preceding the issuance of the permit actively driven a taxicab in the city and county, on a full-time basis; provided, however, permits may be issued pursuant to Section 7 of this Ordinance.

(b) Whether submitted before or after the effective date of this Ordinance, applications for taxicab permits shall be processed and considered in the order of their position on the list of applicants maintained by the Chief of Police. Such applications do not constitute nor do they create vested property interests in the applicant but are instead in the nature of an expectancy.

(c) Applications for and limitations upon the issuance of permits to operate a taxicab, including the active driver provisions of applicable law, shall continue to have no effect upon those natural persons who held one or more taxicab permits on June 6, 1978.

(d) Subject to approval of the Chief of Police, which approval shall not unreasonably be withheld, each color scheme permit holder may employ a reasonable number of managers to oversee its operations who also hold a permit to operate a taxicab. During the period of such employment, the requirement of active driving set forth in Appendix F to the charter of the city and county shall, if applicable, be suspended.

(e) The Police Commission may in its discretion suspend the requirement of active driving set forth in Appendix F to the charter of the city and county, if applicable, during any periods of disability or illness, incapacity due to age or other similar condition.

Section 3. Limitations on Rates of Fare and Related Charges.

(a) Any and all fees charged by or paid to a taxicab permit holder, whether by hire, rental or lease agreement in whatever form, for the privilege of operating said permit or permits (herein "lease fees") and any and all fees charged to or paid by a driver, directly or indirectly, for the privilege of operating a taxicab permit for a specified period (herein "operating fees") shall be governed by and are hereat subject to the provisions of this section.

(b) Except as otherwise expressly provided in this ordinance, no driver shall charge or be paid lease fees in excess of those being charged by or paid to said permit holder as of May 1, 1996, and no driver may be charged or compelled to pay operating fees in excess of those in effect as of May 1, 1996.

(c) Commencing March 1, 1997, and biennially thereafter, the Controller shall determine and certify the percentage of increase or decrease in the cost of living during the two-year period ending January 1 of that same year, as shown by the consumer price index (CPI), United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, Monthly Labor Review, or a successor publication. The rates of fare for taxicabs shall then be adjusted in accordance with the percentage change in the CPI, rounded upwards to the nearest cent, to take effect on April 1.

No single adjustment shall exceed 7.5% after aggregating the cumulative percentage change in the CPI since the last adjustment.

(d) On the same biennial schedule as rates of fare are adjusted, lease fees and operating fees may be adjusted upward and shall be adjusted downward if applicable, by no more than one-half of the percentage change certified by the Controller for rates of fare for taxicabs, rounded upwards to the nearest dollar.

(e) This section shall have no application to bona fide collective bargaining agreements setting compensation and benefits paid to taxicab drivers.

(f) When a taxicab permit or color scheme permit is first acquired after May 1, 1996, lease fees and operating fees shall not be charged or paid in excess of the established rate thereof as of May 1, 1996, adjusted upward or downward as appropriate under subsection 3(d) above.

With the assistance of the Controller, the Chief of Police shall determine the established rate for lease fees calculated monthly, and operating fees on a per shift basis, by ascertaining the average rates therefor as of May 1, 1996. These rates shall be determined by means of a survey of the existing taxicab fleet conducted within sixty days of the effective date of this ordinance.

Section 4. Transferability of Permits.

(a) For a two year period from and after the effective date of this Ordinance, a person who has held a taxicab permit for at least ten years may transfer the permit for consideration to a natural person who has held a taxicab permit for at least ten years.

(b) In order to transfer a taxicab permit as herein provided, the permit holder shall submit an application therefor to the Police Commission. On at least a biannual basis, the Commission (or its delegate) shall conduct a noticed public meeting where each permit for which an application for transfer has been received shall be made available to the person who (i) satisfies the criteria set forth in subsection 4(a) above, and (ii) offers the highest qualified bid therefor.

(c) No permit may be transferred unless and until (i) the city and county receives from the successful bidder a transfer fee in the amount of ten thousand dollars, or twenty percent of the consideration to be paid for the transfer of the permit, whichever is greater, and (ii) the Police Commission approves by resolution the transfer.

(d) The Police Commission shall issue guidelines to assist it in determining whether to accept a bid as qualified under this Ordinance. The guidelines shall include provisions designed to protect against profiteering in the transfer of permits and afford the maximum practicable access to the transfer process.

(e) After the expiration of the two year period provided in subsection 4(a) above, a permit may be transferred to a natural person who, at the time of the transfer, holds a position on the list of applicants for taxicab permits and who would be

qualified for the issuance of a permit to operate a taxicab under applicable law.

(f) Upon the death of a permit holder, the permit(s) held shall revert to the city and county by law, subject to reissuance at the discretion of the Police Commission.

(g) Permits authorized by Section 7 of this Ordinance shall not be subject to transfer as provided herein.

Section 5. Health and Disability Insurance.
All color scheme permit holders shall provide to persons engaged to operate taxicab permits, including permit holders, the opportunity to participate in group health and disability insurance programs sponsored or afforded by the color scheme permit holder.

Section 6. Rules and Regulations.
The Police Commission shall have the exclusive authority, subject to approval by the Board of Supervisors, to formulate, propose and adopt appropriate rules and regulations for the safe, efficient and lawful operation of taxicab permits, including provisions affecting training, education and testing of drivers; insurance; record keeping; and equipment deemed necessary for the safe transport of both drivers and passengers. The Commission shall also have the exclusive authority, subject to approval by the Board of Supervisors, to propose and adopt fee schedules consistent herewith for the issuance and renewal of various permits and licenses required by law for the operation of taxicabs.

Section 7. Restricted Permits.
(a) Subject to the restrictions set forth in this section, the Police Commission is hereby directed to issue permits to operate a taxicab in the name of each color scheme permit holder that, on a quarterly basis, is certified by the paratransit broker as a participant in good standing in the paratransit program of the city and county. These permits shall be subject to immediate revocation by resolution of the Police Commission in the event the permit holder is de-certified by the paratransit broker.

(b) The number of permits to be issued under this section shall at no time exceed 10% of the total taxicab fleet, calculated as of May 1, 1996. No color scheme permit holder shall be issued permits that exceed in number 10% of the total number of permits operated by the particular color scheme, calculated quarterly by the Chief of Police, rounded to the next lowest whole number. If fewer than 25 permits are operated, no permits as provided in this section shall be issued to the color scheme permit holder.

(c) Permits as in this section provided shall be continuously operated from 0600 on Monday through and including 0600 on Saturday, holidays excluded, and at no other times.

Section 8. Penalties.
(a) Any person violating a provision of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor or an infraction, to be charged in the discretion of the District Attorney. Upon conviction of an infraction, the maximum fine is $100 and/or community service. If convicted of a misdemeanor, the fine is $500, community service, and/or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than seven days.

(b) In the event that any person operating a limousine, van or unlicensed taxicab is found in violation of permitting or operational provisions of Part I, Chapter VIII, Article 16 of the San Francisco Code (Police Code), specifically Sections 1078, 1140 and related sections thereof, the person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine up to $1,000, imprisonment in the county jail for six months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

(c) Any person found in violation of the provisions of Section 3 of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine up to $5,000, imprisonment in the county jail for six months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 9. Severability.
If any section, subsection, subdivision, paragraph, clause or phrase of this Ordinance or any part thereof is for any reason held unconstitutional, invalid or ineffective by a court of competent jurisdiction, such decision shall not affect the validity or effectiveness of the remaining portions of this Ordinance or any part thereof. It is hereby declared that this Ordinance and each section, subsection, subdivision, paragraph, clause or phrase thereof, would have been passed irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, subdivisions, paragraphs, clauses or phrases had been declared unconstitutional, invalid or ineffective.

Section 10. Interpretation.
Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, rule or regulation to the contrary, the provisions of this ordinance shall govern and control the regulation and operation of taxicabs, taxicab permits and the other subjects generally and specifically referred to herein.

Section 11. Effective Date.
The effective date of this Ordinance is December 15, 1996.

OOPS!

Sometimes we make mistakes, but when we do we admit it.

With all the items that go into this pamphlet, it is possible we may have missed something or even made a mistake. If we did, we will publish a correction notice in three of the local papers just before election day. Watch for our ad:

October 29, 30, and 31

Look in the Public Notices section of the San Francisco Chronicle, San Francisco Examiner and San Francisco Independent.
Telephoning the Department of Elections

The Department of Elections now has special telephone lines for specific purposes:
To register to vote, call 554-4398;
To request an Absentee Ballot application, call 554-4399;
For information about becoming a Poll Worker, call 554-4385;
For election results on Election Night, call 554-4375; or
For all other information, call 554-4375.

For your convenience and because of the huge number of calls during the weeks leading up to the election, the Department of Elections uses automated information lines in addition to regular operators. If all operators are busy, callers may hear recorded messages which will direct them to leave their name, address and telephone number. Callers with touch tone phones may be asked to press numbers to direct their calls to the right desk. Callers with rotary phones may wait on the line for an operator or to leave a message.

AVOID LONG LINES — VOTE BY MAIL

It’s as easy as 1-2-3.

1. Complete the application on the back cover.
2. Put a 32¢ stamp where indicated.
3. Drop your completed application into a mailbox.

Within two weeks, you will receive your Absentee Ballot.

YOUR POLLING PLACE HAS PROBABLY CHANGED

We have increased the number of polling places for 1996. For the Mayoral elections we had 550 polling places. For the Presidential election, there will be 650 polling places. The location of your polling place is shown on the label on the back cover of the Voter Information Pamphlet which was sent to you.

Of the 7,000+ telephone calls received by the Department of Elections on Election Day, almost all are from voters asking where they should go to vote.

Remember on Election Day, take the back cover of your Voter Information Pamphlet with you. The address of your polling place is in the bottom left corner on the back cover of the Voter Information Pamphlet that was sent to you. You may also wish to write down the address of your polling place in the space provided on the Polling Place Card.

Voters who have access to the Internet, may look up their polling place location at http://www.ci.sf.ca.us/elections.

POLLS ARE OPEN FROM 7 AM TO 8 PM
PLEASE SEE THE LABEL ON THE BACK COVER FOR THE LOCATION OF YOUR POLLING PLACE.
OUTSTANDING POLL WORKERS

During the March 28th Presidential Primary Elections, a number of Poll Workers were honored for their outstanding performance. These poll workers were nominated by other Poll Workers, Voters or Field Election Deputies. Listed below are the honorees.

Angie Alarcon  Kathym Clement  Henry McElroy  Armistice L. Smith
Jean Applebaum  David Clisbee  Raymond Mosley  Stephen B. Tom
Susanne E. Barthell  Arabella Colton  Olga Ocalaghan  Alita M. Tsiliacos
James Bauer  Marie G. Conn  David Owen  Mildred Ward
Quanita Brand  Vida Edwards  Alissa Ozols  Dorothy M. Winters
Raymond A. Brand  Wanda Green  Russell L. Parent  Edward Yee
Andrew Chan  Bonnie Burke Jones  Alejandro Ramirez  Fuk S. Yu
Kam Ching  Barbara Landis  Jacqueline Sachs  Paula Zimmerman

Please help us acknowledge the good work that these poll workers have performed for all of us. Democracy is strong in San Francisco only because dedicated people like these poll workers have contributed their time, energy, and effort as their contribution to civic duty. Of course we cannot acknowledge every one who provided good services. Our plans are to honor the outstanding poll workers after each election.

As a volunteer poll worker you need to attend a two hour training session the weekend before the election. On election day you start at 6:30 a.m. and finish at approximately 9:00 p.m. Poll Workers who pick up and deliver ballot boxes as well as acting as the supervisor are reimbursed $79 for the day. Poll workers with lesser responsibilities are reimbursed $62 for the day. I urge all of you who can make time to volunteer one or two days each year to work at a polling place on election day.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO VOTERS
A New Election Law Affects YOU!

Dear Voter:

We often get asked the following questions:

• Are you taken off the voter roll if you don't vote?
• Why is someone still on the voter roll when they no longer live in San Francisco?

Under current law, registered voters remain on the voter roll unless our office receives written notification from the voter, the U.S. Postal Service, the health department or the court system that they are no longer at the address where they are registered to vote. Each year many San Franciscans move, but our office is not notified, so these people stay on the voter roll - and they are sent election material for every election.

Starting next year though, the rules will change. Recently, the state legislature passed a new law that affects voters who do not vote. This law goes into effect on January 1, 1997.

NEW LAW: Beginning January 1, 1997, as long as you vote at least once in four years, you will stay on the active voter list.

However, if you don't vote at all - not even once - in four consecutive years, and you have not verified or given us new information regarding your voter registration (e.g. address, name, political party affiliation), we will send you a forwardable "Alternate Residency Confirmation Postcard."

You will have 15 days to respond to this postcard, informing us that you are still at the same address, or you have moved to another San Francisco address, and you wish to continue to be a San Francisco voter. Once you have notified this office, you will stay on the active voter list.

If you do not respond to the postcard in 15 days, you will still qualify to vote; however, you will be placed on the inactive voter list and no election materials from the Department of Elections will be sent to you. When you go to vote, you will be asked to give us your current residence address and you may be asked to show identification. By voting, you will be restored to the active voter list, and our office will send you information about future elections.

If you do not respond to the postcard, and you do not vote any time between the time the postcard is sent and two federal general elections have been held, your voter registration will be cancelled (i.e. you will not be on the active or inactive voter roll), and you must re-register to vote.

In summary, if you vote at least once each 4 years, you will stay on the active voter roll. After 4 years of not voting, you will be on the inactive voter roll and you will not receive election materials from our office. If after another 4 years (i.e. a total of 8 years) you have not voted, and you have not responded to the "Alternate Residency Confirmation Postcard," and we have not received any information about your address, name, or political party affiliation during the 8 years, your voter registration will be cancelled, and you must re-register to vote.

Stay Active! Vote!

Germaine Q Wong
Director of Elections

(This notice is a legal prerequisite to using the new "alternate residency confirmation" procedure.)
Following are three examples of registered voters who either don't vote very often or don't vote at all.

Example #1: Voter A registered to vote in 1980.

- Between January 1, 1997 and December 31, 2000 (4 years), there are 7 elections, but she votes at only 1 of them.
- In May 2000, Voter A moves to a different San Francisco neighborhood.
- Voter A will continue on the active voter list.
- She will not be sent a postcard; however, if she hasn't given us her new address, election material, including her polling place location, will be sent to her old address.
- She will remain on the active voter roll as long as she votes at least once every four years.
- Voter A should notify our office about her address change so that we can send election information to the correct address.
- However, if she doesn't notify us, she will still be able to vote.
- She can either vote at our office or at the polling place for her new address. She cannot go to her old polling place to vote.
- When she goes to vote, if she hasn't already, she will need to give us her new address.

Example #2: Voter B registered to vote in 1971.

- Between January 1, 1997 and December 31, 2000 (4 years), he never votes.
- He continues to live at the same address 1971 address.
- Voter B will continue to be on the active voter list, but in January 2001 he will be sent a forwardable "Alternate Residency Confirmation Postcard."
- Voter B doesn't respond to the postcard.
- In March 2001 he will be placed on the inactive voter roll, and the Elections Office will not mail election materials to him. However, Voter B is still eligible to vote.
- The 2 federal general elections after the January 2001 postcard is sent will be November 2002 and November 2004.
- Voter B does not vote in any election between these 2 federal general elections.
- His voter registration will be cancelled effective December 2005, and he will need to re-register to vote.

ACCESS FOR THE DISABLED VOTER
by the Ballot Simplification Committee

BEFORE ELECTION DAY:

ABSENTEE VOTING — All voters may request that an absentee ballot be mailed to them, or they may vote in person at Room 109, 633 Folsom Street from October 7 through November 5. The office hours are:

- 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday;
- 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., Saturday and Sunday, November 2 and 3;
- 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Election Day, November 5.

In addition, voters with specified disabilities listed below may apply to become Permanent Absentee Voters. Ballots for all future elections will automatically be mailed to Permanent Absentee Voters.

TAPE RECORDINGS — The San Francisco Public Library for the Blind and Print Handicapped, 3150 Sacramento Street, produces and distributes tape-recorded copies of the Voter Information Pamphlet for use by visually impaired voters.

T.D.D. (TELECOMMUNICATIONS DEVICE FOR THE DEAF) — Hearing-impaired or speech-impaired voters who have a TDD may communicate with the San Francisco Department of Elections office by calling 554-4386.

ON ELECTION DAY:

ASSISTANCE — Persons unable to complete their ballot may bring one or two persons with them into the voting booth to assist them, or they may ask poll workers to provide assistance.

CURBSIDE VOTING — If architectural barriers prevent an elderly or disabled voter from entering the polling place, poll workers will bring the necessary voting materials to the voter in front of the polling place.

PARKING — If their polling place is in a residential garage, elderly and handicapped voters may park in the driveway while voting, provided they do not block traffic.

READING TOOLS — Every polling place has large-print instructions on how to vote and special sheets to magnify the type on the ballot.

SEATED VOTING — Every polling place has at least one voting booth which allows voters to vote while sitting in a chair or a wheelchair.

VOTING TOOLS — Every precinct has an easy-grip pen for signing the roster and an easy-grip tool for punching the ballot.

PERMANENT ABSENTEE VOTER
(PERMANENT VOTE-BY-MAIL) QUALIFICATIONS

If you are physically disabled, you may apply to be a permanent absentee voter. Once you are on our permanent absentee voter mailing list, we will automatically mail an absentee ballot to you for every election until you move, re-register, or do not vote. If you do not vote in a statewide election, you will no longer be a permanent absentee voter; however, you will remain on the voter roll, unless this office has been informed that you no longer live at the address at which you are registered.

To be a “Permanent Absentee Voter” you must have at least one of the following conditions:

___ Lost use of one or more limbs;
___ Lost use of both hands;
___ Unable to move about without the aid of an assistance device (e.g., cane, crutches, walker, wheelchair);
___ Suffering from lung disease, blindness or cardiovascular disease;
___ Significant limitation in the use of the lower extremities; or ___ Suffering from a diagnosed disease or disorder which substantially impairs or interferes with mobility.

To become a permanent absentee voter, complete the Absentee Ballot Application form on the back cover and return it to the Department of Elections, Room 109, 633 Folsom Street, San Francisco, CA 94107. Check the box that says “I apply to become a PERMANENT ABSENTEE VOTER” and sign your name where it says “Sign Here.”

If you move, re-register, or do not vote, you will need to apply again to be a Permanent Absentee Voter. In all other cases, you do not need to re-apply.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO PERMANENT ABSENTEE VOTERS

If you have already registered as a permanent absentee voter, your ballot will be mailed by the end of the last week in February. To find out if you are registered as a permanent absentee voter, please look at the eight digit number printed above the bar code above your address. If the number starts with a “P” then you are a permanent absentee voter. If you have not received your absentee ballot by October 21, please call 554-4375.
Important Facts About Absentee Voting
Also Known as Vote-By-Mail

APPLICATION FOR ABSENTEE BALLOT

Any voter may receive an absentee ballot. You no longer need a reason (e.g. illness, travel).
Any registered voter may request one.

Permanent Absentee Voters. The disabled may apply to become permanent absentee voters. A permanent absentee voter will automatically receive a ballot each election without having to apply each time. However, when a permanent absentee voter moves or re-registers, s/he must re-apply for permanent status. Frequent travellers are not eligible for permanent absentee voter status. They must apply for an absentee ballot for each election. An application to be a permanent absentee voter is on the back cover of this pamphlet.

Third Party Delivery of Absentee Ballot Applications. Unless you know and trust the person delivering your application for an absentee ballot, you should deliver or mail it directly to the Department of Elections. Political campaigns often ask voters to mail their applications to their campaign headquarters, and the campaigns then add the information you provide to their files and mailing lists. This may delay your application by as much as three weeks, causing you to miss the application deadline. If you receive an absentee ballot application from a campaign, we recommend that you mail it directly to the San Francisco Department of Elections.

Applications. We strongly recommend that voters use the application provided on the back cover of this voter information pamphlet and include the mailing label with the bar code. This form with the bar code on the label allows us to process your request more rapidly.

If you do not have that application form, you may send us another application form or a post card with your request for an absentee ballot. Please print your name, birthdate and residence address, the address where you want the ballot sent if it is different from your residence address, your day and night telephone numbers, your signature and the date you are making your request. You may "fix" your request to this office at (415) 554-4372.

RETURNING YOUR ABSENTEE BALLOT

To be counted, your ballot must arrive in the Department of Elections or any San Francisco polling place by 8 p.m. on Election Day. If your ballot arrives after that time, it will not be counted. A postmark on your absentee ballot return envelope before or on Election Day is not acceptable if the ballot arrives after 8 p.m. on Election Day.

Never make any identifying marks on your ballot card. Do not sign or initial your ballot card. Your ballot is no longer considered secret if there is such a mark, and thus it cannot be counted. This is also true for the write-in stub if you vote for a write-in candidate.

"Cleaning" your ballot card. After punching out the holes corresponding to your choices, you will notice that there are many little paper chips hanging from the back of your card. These hanging paper chips must be removed from the back of the card, or they will fall back into their holes as if you had never punched them, and thus those votes will not be counted.

You must sign your name on the Absentee Ballot Return Envelope. You must personally sign the envelope in the space provided. No one else, including individuals with the power of attorney, is permitted to sign for you. If your signature is not on the envelope, it will not be opened and the ballot will not be counted. Also, be sure not to damage the Bar Code that is printed on your Absentee Ballot Return Envelope. It helps us to process your ballot faster.

Third party delivery of ballots. If you do not mail your absentee ballot and are unable to deliver your ballot to the Department of Elections or a polling place, only your spouse, child, parent, grandparent, grandchild, sister or brother can return your absentee ballot for you. However, when you have your ballot returned by a third party, you and that person must complete the appropriate sections on the Absentee Ballot Return Envelope. Your ballot will not be counted unless those sections have been completed properly.

EMERGENCY VOTING

If you become ill or disabled within seven days of an election and are unable to go to your polling place, you may request in a written statement, signed under penalty of perjury, that a ballot can be delivered by your authorized representative. S/he will receive your ballot after presenting the statement at the Department of Elections. Most hospitals and many nursing homes provide assistance for their patients.

You or your authorized representative may return the ballot to the Department of Elections or to a polling place. If your authorized representative returns the ballot, the appropriate sections of the Absentee Ballot Return Envelope must be completed. THESE BALLOTS MAY NOT BE MAILED.
YOUR RIGHTS AS A VOTER
by the Ballot Simplification Committee

Q — Who can vote?
A — U.S. citizens, 18 years or older, and who are registered to vote in San Francisco on or before October 7, 1996.

Q — My 18th birthday is after October 7, but on or before November 5. May I vote in the November 5 election?
A — Yes, if your 18th birthday is on or before November 5, but after October 7, you can register to vote on or before October 7 and vote on November 5 — even though you were not 18 at the time you registered to vote.

Q — If I was arrested or convicted of a crime can I still vote?
A — You can vote as long as you are not in prison or on parole for a felony conviction.

Q — I have just become a U.S. citizen. Can I vote in the November 5 election?
A — If you became a U.S. citizen on or before October 7, you may vote in the election, but you must register to vote by October 7.

OR
If you became a U.S. citizen after October 7, but on or before October 29, you may register and vote at the Department of Elections office with proof of citizenship and proof of San Francisco residency.

Q — I have moved within the county but have not re-registered. Can I vote in this election?
A — Yes, but you must go to your new polling place and show proof of current residence.

Q — When do I vote?
A — Election Day is Tuesday, November 5, 1996. Your polling place will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Q — Where do I go to vote?
A — Go to your polling place. The address is on your mailing label on the back cover of this book.

Q — What do I do if my polling place is not open?
A — Check the label on the back of this book to make sure you have gone to the right place. Polling places often change. If you are at the right place, call the Department of Elections at 554-4375 to let them know the polling place is not open.

Q — If I don’t know what to do when I get to my polling place, is there someone there to help me?
A — Yes, the poll workers at the polling place will help you.

Q — Can I take my sample ballot or my own written list into the voting booth?
A — Yes. Deciding your votes before you go to the polls will help. You may wish to use the Polling Place Card which is on the inside back cover of this pamphlet.

Q — Can I vote for someone whose name is not on the ballot?
A — Yes, if the person is a qualified write-in candidate. Only "qualified" write-in candidates will be counted. You may ask your poll worker for a list of these candidates. You may vote for these candidates by writing their names on the long stub of the ballot provided for write-in votes. If you don’t know how to do this, you may ask your poll worker for help.

Q — Can a worker at the polling place ask me to take any tests?
A — No.

Q — Is there any way to vote instead of going to the polling place on election day?
A — Yes, you can vote before November 5 if you:
• Fill out and mail the Absentee Ballot application printed on the back cover of this book. Within three days after we receive your request, a vote-by-mail ballot will be sent to you. Your request must be received by the Director of Elections no later than October 29, 1996;

OR
• Go to the Office of the Department of Elections at 633 Folsom Street — Room 109 from October 7 through November 5. The office hours are: from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday; from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., the weekend before the election; and from 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Election Day, November 5.

Q — If I don’t use an application form, can I get an absentee ballot some other way?
A — You can send a note, preferably on a postcard, to the Director of Elections asking for a ballot. This note must include: your home address, the address where you want the ballot mailed, your birth date, your printed name and your signature. Your request must be received by the Department of Elections no later than October 29, 1996.

HOW TO VOTE ON THE VOTOMATIC VOTE RECORDER

STEP 1
Note: Si hace algun error, devuelva su tarjeta de voto y obtenga otra.

Using both hands, insert the ballot card all the way into the Votomatic.

Usando las dos manos, mete la tarjeta de voto completamente dentro del "Votomatic."

第一步
请双手持票向自动機能整張選票插入。

STEP 2
Be sure the two slots in the stub of your card fit down over the two red pins.

Paso 2. Asegúrese de que los dos orificios que hay al final de la tarjeta coincidan con las dos cabecitas rojas.

请把选票插入时，票尾之二孔，接合於二紅點之上。

STEP 3
Hold punch vertical (straight up). Punch straight down through the ballot card to indicate your choice. Do not use pen or pencil.

Para votar, sostenga el instrumento de votar y perfora con él la tarjeta de votar en el lugar de los candidatos de su preferencia. No use pluma ni lápiz.

第三步
请把電鉛貫穿擊針，由小孔內垂直插入打孔投票。

STEP 4
After voting, remove the ballot from the Votomatic, fold the ballot at the perforation and return it to the precinct official.

Después de votar, saque la tarjeta del Votomatic, doble la bileta a lo largo de las perforaciones y entregue la en el lugar oficial de voto.

第四步
投票之後，把選票取出，
沿虛線搭起選票交給選舉站監選員。
SAMPLE BALLOT
CONSOLIDATED PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION, NOVEMBER 5, 1996
CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO
BALLOT TYPE 96-7

INSTRUCTION TO VOTERS:
To vote for a candidate whose name appears on the ballot, use the blue stylus to punch the hole opposite the name of the candidate preferred. Where two or more candidates for the same office are to be elected, use the blue stylus to punch the hole opposite the names of all candidates for office for whom you desire to vote, not to exceed, however, the number of candidates to be elected.

To vote for a qualified write-in candidate, write the person's name and office in the blank space provided for that purpose on the long stub of that ballot card. If you do not know how to do this, ask a poll worker for help.

To vote for any measure, use the blue stylus to punch the hole opposite the "YES" or "NO" for that measure.

All distinguishing marks or erasures are forbidden and make the ballot void.
If you wrongly vote, tear, or deface this ballot, return it to the precinct board member to obtain another.

INSTRUCCIONES PARA LOS ELECTORES
Para votar por un candidato cuyo nombre aparezca en la balota, utlice el punzón azul para perforar el orificio que se encuentra al lado del nombre del candidato elegido. Cuando deben elegirse dos o más candidatos para el mismo puesto, utlice el punzón azul para perforar los orificios al lado de los nombres de todos los candidatos para este puesto pero los cuales usted desea votar, sin exceder la cantidad de candidatos que deben ser elegidos.

Para votar por un candidato calificado que no se aparece en las listas, escriba el nombre de la persona y el puesto en el espacio en blanco provisto para este propósito en el talón largo de la tarjeta de la balota. Si no sabe como hacer esto, pida que un trabajador del lugar de votacion le ayude.

Para votar por cualquier medida, utlice el punzón azul para perforar el orificio que se encuentra al lado de "SI" o "NO" para dicha medida.

Se prohíbe todo tipo de marca y borradora; esto anularía la balota.
Si usted se equivoca al votar, o si rompe y dana la balota, devuélva la al miembro del consejo del lugar de votacion y obtenga otra.

SAFE, CLEAN, RELIABLE WATER SUPPLY ACT. This act provides for a bond issue of nine hundred ninety-five million dollars ($995,000,000) to provide funds to ensure safe drinking water, increase water supplies, clean up pollution in rivers, streams, lakes, bays, and coastal areas, protect life and property from flooding, and protect fish and wildlife and makes changes in the Water Conservation and Water Quality Bond Law of 1986 and the Clean Water and Water Reclamation Bond Law of 1988 to further these goals. Fiscal Impact: General Fund cost of up to $1.8 billion to pay off both the principal ($995 million) and interest ($776 million). The average payment for principal and interest over 25 years would be up to $71 million per year.

YOUTHFUL AND ADULT OFFENDER LOCAL FACILITIES BOND ACT OF 1996. This act provides for a bond issue of seven hundred million dollars ($700,000,000) to provide funds for the construction, renovation, remodeling, and replacement of local juvenile and adult correctional facilities. Fiscal Impact: General Fund costs of $1.25 billion to repay principal and interest, with annual payments averaging $50 million for 25 years. Unknown costs, potentially millions of dollars annually, to counties to operate new facilities.

VETERAN’S BOND ACT OF 1996. This act provides for a bond issue of four hundred million dollars ($400,000,000) to provide farm and home aid for California veterans. Fiscal Impact: General Fund cost of about $700 million to pay off both the principal ($400 million) and interest (about $300 million) on the bonds, with an average annual payment for 25 years of about $28 million to retire this debt; costs offset by payments from participating veterans.

ATTORNEYS’ FEES, RIGHT TO NEGOTIATE, FRIVOLOUS LAWSUITS, INITIATIVE STATUTE. Except as allowed by laws in effect on January 1, 1995, prohibits restrictions on the right to negotiate amount of attorneys’ fees. Prohibits attorneys from charging excessive fees. Authorizes court to impose sanctions for filing frivolous lawsuit or pleading. Fiscal Impact: Unknown, but probably not significant, net fiscal impact on state and local governments.

212 CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS AND SPENDING LIMITS. REPEALS GIFT AND HONORARIA LIMITS. RESTRICTS LOBBYISTS. INITIATIVE STATUTE. Repeals gift/honoraria limits. Limits contributions to $200 in state and $100 in other campaigns. Imposes spending limits. Prohibits lobbyist contributions. Fiscal Impact: Costs of up to $4 million annually to state and local governments for implementation and enforcement; unknown, but probably not significant, state and local election costs. Increases state revenues about $6 million by eliminating tax deduction for lobbying.

NO 213

213 LIMITATION ON RECOVERY TO FELONS, UNINSURED MOTORISTS, DRUNK DRIVERS. INITIATIVE STATUTE. Denies recovery of all damages to convicted felons for crime-related injury. Denies recovery of noneconomic damages (e.g., pain, suffering) to drunk drivers, if convicted, and most uninsured motorists. Fiscal Impact: Probably minor net fiscal impact on state and local government.

YES 218
NO 220

214 HEALTH CARE. CONSUMER PROTECTION. INITIATIVE STATUTE. Regulates health care businesses. Prohibits discouraging health care professionals from informing patients or advocating treatment. Requires health care businesses to establish criteria for payment and facility staffing. Fiscal Impact: Increased state and local government costs for existing health programs and benefits, probably in the tens to hundreds of millions of dollars annually.

NO 226

215 MEDICAL USE OF MARIJUANA. INITIATIVE STATUTE. Exempts from criminal laws patients and defined caregivers who possess or cultivate marijuana for medical treatment recommended by a physician. TOP INCOME TAX BRACKETS. REINSTATEMENT. REVENUES TO LOCAL AGENCIES. INITIATIVE STATUTE. Retroactively reinstates highest tax rates on taxpayers with taxable income over $115,000 and $230,000 (current estimates) and joint taxpayers with taxable incomes over $230,000 and $460,000 (current estimates). Allocates revenue from those rates to local agencies. Fiscal Impact: Annual increase in state personal income tax revenues of about $700 million, with about half the revenues allocated to schools and half to other local governments.

VOTER APPROVAL FOR LOCAL GOVERNMENT TAXES. LIMITATIONS ON FEES, ASSESSMENTS, AND CHARGES. INITIATIVE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT. Requires a majority of voters to approve increases in general taxes. Requires property-related assessments, fees, charges be submitted to property owners for approval. Fiscal Impact: Short-term local government revenue losses of more than $100 million annually. Long-term local government revenue losses of potentially hundreds of millions of dollars annually. Comparable reductions in spending for local public services.

Candidates for Supervisor

ARTHUR M. JACKSON

My address is 201 Harrison Street #216
My occupation is Personnel Consultant
My age is 49

My qualifications for office are: 3+ years as President of the San Francisco Health Commission, the governing body of Public Health in San Francisco. 3+ years working on the city budget and management of the city’s largest department. I sit on the board of several non-profit organizations including seniors, business and youth activities. 26 years as a San Francisco businesswoman in the employment agency field gives me a clear understanding of the value of jobs and paychecks. I will represent all San Franciscans. While I am a person with a handicap I have the energy, the vision and the heart to be a great Supervisor.

Arthur M. Jackson

DR. LELAND YEE

My address is 1489 Dolores Street
My occupation is Educator/Education Commissioner
My age is 47

My qualifications for office are: As a parent and educator for 20 years, my goal is a government that cares about kids and families. We must create partnerships between business, schools, community organizations, and City government to meet the challenges of building a healthier, safer community.

Working together, we can:
• provide after-school programs to keep youth productive and out of trouble
• deliver health care, affordable housing, and childcare for working families
• expand recreation and job training programs to reduce gangs and violence
• remove guns from our streets
• make neighborhoods safe

When you see my “Bridge” sign, remember — that’s my approach to government!

MICHAEL YAKI

My address is 326 10th Avenue
My occupation is Member, SF Board of Supervisors
My age is 35
My qualifications for office are: Can a child grow up safe, healthy, well educated and civic-minded in San Francisco today? I’m working to make that answer “Yes”.
   Since joining the Board in February, I have:
   • organized the citywide Children and Youth Summit.
   • introduced and passed legislation to ban the sale of Saturday Night Specials in San Francisco.
   • sponsored legislation to put cleaner, quieter mini-buses on Muni lines in our neighborhoods.
   • sponsored the Displaced Worker Protection Act providing San Franciscans transitional support against “downsizing”.
   • requested a family health assessment for residents of the Bay View.
   I respectfully request your support to continue my work.

CARLOS PETRONI

My address is 3311½ Mission Street
My occupation is Immigrants/Labor Organizer
My age is 49
My qualifications for office are: I’m running on a draft platform to change San Francisco around. This platform includes 300 proposals for political reform, both campaign reform and proportional representation; unrestricted defense and expansion of immigrant rights; affirmative action; economic re-development for our neighborhoods; gays, lesbians, people of color and women equality; labor rights and environmental justice. For a free copy of the platform, call (415) 648-5257. We need to defend ourselves from Democrats and Republicans who attack us from Washington, Sacramento and downtown.

Robert Squeri

My address is 201 Harrison Street, #409
My occupation is Small Business Owner
My age is 49
My qualifications for office are: 1982 I was endorsed by over 22,000 voters. The issues then were Education, Crime, Transportation, and Businesses leaving the City. Are you better off now, having voted for divisive politics and salary increases? This has led to a system that produces over a Million Dollars for a party; but has no funds to provide for children the use of something we all take for granted “Towels”. As a Native; St. Ignatius Graduate, Local Businessman; be my partner and let’s bridge our communities and find what we have in common and not what makes us different. Have visions “Vote For Me!”

Candidates for Supervisor

MANUEL A. ROSALES

My address is 34 Shawnee
My occupation is Owner, Small Business
My age is 53
My qualifications for office are: I have lived in San Francisco since 1947; worked thirty-one years in banking, insurance, and investments; served on a dozen boards of community organizations; and am President of the California Hispanic Chambers of Commerce and a member of the San Francisco Redevelopment Commission.

We need to restore balance on the Board of Supervisors and to assert its independence from the Mayor.

As your supervisor, I will be your fiscal watchdog — protecting the rights of taxpayers and opposing reckless spending.

Together, we will streamline government, create jobs for San Franciscans, and promote community policing, youth opportunities, and housing for our working families.

Candidates for Supervisor

BARBARA KAUFMAN

My address is 1228 Montgomery Street #6
My occupation is Member, Board of Supervisors
My qualifications for office are: In 1992, I promised to be a "problem-solver" through reorganizing government, initiating better fiscal management, and creating a better economy. I've kept that promise by leading the successful campaign for a new city charter, creating incentives to attract new businesses, addressing public safety and health issues, and ensuring civil rights for all San Franciscans. In getting things done for San Francisco, I've earned the broad reaching support of environmentalists like Andy Nash, neighborhood activists like Evelyn Wilson, small business leaders like Stephen Cornell, and labor leaders like John Moylan. With your support, I'll continue to get things done!

Candidates for Supervisor

JOSEPH B. KONOPKA

My address is 544 Ashbury
My occupation is Consultant
My qualifications for office are: As President of RAD, the largest civilian patrol group in the State of California, I am extremely familiar with the effects of crime and violence. I will take the lead on the Board of Supervisors to ensure San Francisco deals firmly with crime. San Francisco must offer young people opportunities for jobs and careers along with positive recreational options. I will focus on creating well-paying jobs and promote small business. I will not support any increases in taxes. As Supervisor, I will represent all the residents of our City as a voice of reason and common sense.

SCOTT DURCANIN

My address is 856 Green Street
My occupation is Bank Investment Principal
My age is 33
My qualifications for office are: The Board of Supervisors are the citizens' representatives and, for democracy to prevail, all the people of the City must be represented. Supervisors need not, indeed should not, solely come from just one political party, one ideology, one district or even the professional politicians. As with business, I believe the Board of Supervisors should employ a balanced approach to the City's affairs — not one based upon political expediency. I am a regular citizen from outside politics; I pledge to the working people of San Francisco that I will be your voice of common sense in City Hall.

SHAWN O'HEARN

My address is 144 Noe
My age is 33
My qualifications for office are: As your supervisor, I will bring strong, vocal, progressive, honest, fiscally conservative and effective leadership to city hall.

Neighborhoods must be our top priority!
Neighborhoods directly impact the quality and enjoyment of our lives and our children's lives. Nothing is more important. We must:
• Establish commission for neighborhoods and give it power to make real change.
• Support small businesses that support unique character of our neighborhoods.
• Increase foot patrols.
• Make branch libraries “information centers” on neighborhood/citywide activities.

If I didn’t get the opportunity to personally speak with you please call me at home 252-7624 with any questions.

Thanks.

Candidates for Supervisor

VICTOR MARQUEZ

My address is 1950 Jones Street #2
My occupation is Civil Rights Advocate
My qualifications for office are: I went from the barrio to the boardroom — I know what it takes to turn communities around. That’s why I’ll fight for:
• Job training for youth.
• Smart crime and violence prevention.
• Making our schools safer.

As the executive director of a non-profit, I know how to forge partnerships and make every dollar count. I’ve helped thousands of renters, seniors, and immigrants improve their lives.

As Supervisor, I’ll be an independent advocate for a better MUNI, redouble the fight against AIDS/HIV, combat domestic violence, and most of all bring hope to our neighborhoods.

Maria Martinez

My address is 3331 17th Street
My occupation is Child Support Investigator
My qualifications for office are: I put people first, and have done so for over 30 years. Jobs are needed for the residents of our City to increase the tax base for safer and cleaner streets, Muni, housing, and health services. I will do everything to retain, create, and provide incentives for new jobs. As a congressional aide, teacher, analyst, businesswoman, and civic leader, I am qualified for Supervisor. I will work toward reinvesting in the residents of San Francisco, from the Marina to Bayview-Hunters Point. Your vote will put my experience to work at City Hall, and an end to San Francisco’s political gatekeepers.

SUSAN C. ZÁRATE
My address is 3756 20th Street
My occupation is Oil Refinery Operator
My age is 40
My qualifications for office are: Workers need an action program:
A SHORTER WORKWEEK — NO CUT IN PAY. DEFEND AFFIRMATIVE ACTION. EQUAL RIGHTS FOR IMMIGRANTS. DEFEND ABORTION RIGHTS. U.S. HANDS OFF CUBA.
Working people face a future of fascism and war as the crisis of capitalism deepens. The employers and their government are slashing the social wage to shore up their system. They scapegoat welfare recipients and immigrants to pave the way for deeper attacks on entitlements. They attack democratic rights.
Workers here and abroad need to unite and fight to defend ourselves. We will gain more confidence as we participate in future struggles.

DONNA CASEY
My address is 310 Walnut Street
My occupation is Non-profit/Business Consultant
My age is 47
My qualifications for office are: As a non-profit/business consultant and award-winning community volunteer, I have spent my entire life working to make our city a better place to live, work and visit.
I offer a real alternative to City Hall insiders because I have:
• Created educational opportunities for art and science students
• Run a respected San Francisco environmental agency
• Consulted for both local and international businesses.
These experiences have taught me the value of listening to people and working together to solve our common problems. I offer political independence, proven management skills and commitment to you, not rubber stamp politics.

ROBERT COLEMAN

My address is 440 Davis Court #2115
My occupation is Executive, Community Activist
My age is 40

My qualifications for office are: Genuine, proven leadership: as a budget-savvy Stanford MBA and executive, a progressive attorney, and 10-year champion of San Francisco neighborhoods, I understand the numbers and policy needs. As past president of San Francisco's largest community group, I helped save millions for renters.

I will continue to fight for affordable housing, less crime, improved healthcare, MUNI, schools, and youth and senior services.

Together we can build on our opportunities in high-tech, creative fields, and entrepreneurship, while promoting our cherished humane values.

Committed to trustworthiness and honor, I will be a representative of whom you can be personally proud.

Candidates for Board of Education

TOM YUEN

My address is 326 Ashton Avenue
My occupation is Police Officer/Parent
My age is 39
My qualifications for office are: During my 15 years as a San Francisco Police Officer I have witnessed the consequences when we fail to provide a safe non-violent atmosphere for our children. My priorities will be to ensure the highest level of education and standards for all students.

I will work for change to:
- Set higher standards for the education of all children
- Expand the Pre-School Program
- Increase the After School Programs and Activities for Grades K-12
- “Zero tolerance” for violence in and around our schools

STEVE PHILLIPS

My address is 439 Connecticut Street
My occupation is President, School Board
My age is 32
My qualifications for office are: In 1992, I said we had “A Chance for Change.” Seizing the moment, we have taken several steps in my first term:

- Lowering class sizes from 30 to 20 students in grades K-2
- Stopping the state from eliminating child care for 4,000 children
- Overhauling the operations at 8 poorly performing schools
- Providing schools with Internet access
- Hiring 500 new teachers

I seek a 2nd term to take the district into the 21st century with leadership driven by the moral obligation to continue to change so our schools work for ALL children from public housing to Pacific Heights.

ADAM SPARKS

My address is 161 Cresta Vista Drive
My occupation is Parent/Small Business Owner
My age is 45

My qualifications for office are: I'm a parent with a child in the public schools running for School Board, which is now filled with "political wannabees". Our kids spend 2 hours a day in forced busing programs that no parent wants. The $20,000,000 spent annually on busing could be better spent in our schools. Educational achievement has been replaced by Political Correctness. Violence has been tolerated in our schools for too long. If a student can't read his diploma, he shouldn't get to keep it. I want parents involved. I'm supported by Senator Quentin Kopp and Mayor Frank Jordan, now I am asking for yours.

MARY T. HERNANDEZ

My address is 1683 41st Avenue
My occupation is Community Lawyer/Mom
My age is 33

My qualifications for office are: I care too much about San Francisco's kids to stand for third-rate public schools. Our city's future depends on our children's quality of life — and bringing back quality schools.

I'm a mother of two young children, national children's advocate, and attorney for non-profit groups and small businesses. At Harvard University and Stanford Law, I was exposed to the finest education available. But my public school upbringing and hands-on experience guide my deep respect for the children's diverse, fundamental needs.

I'll provide a fresh voice for stronger schools, an expert's know-how, and a mother's desire to get the job done.

LAURANCE A. KISINGER

My address is 1000 Sutter St. #502
My occupation is Painter
My age is 59

My qualifications for office are: I'm running on a draft platform to change San Francisco around. This platform includes 300 proposals for political reform, both campaign reform and proportional representation; unrestricted defense and expansion of immigrant rights; affirmative action; economic re-development for our neighborhoods; gays, lesbians, people of color and women equality; labor rights and environmental justice. For a free copy of the platform, call (415) 648-5257. We need to defend ourselves from Democrats and Republicans who attack us from Washington, Sacramento, and Downtown.

MEAGAN LEVITAN

My address is 3018 Steiner Street
My occupation is Community Relations Specialist
My age is 31

My qualifications for office are: When will we start taking education and our children's future seriously?

As a native San Franciscan, I value an urban upbringing. I have devoted my personal and professional life to public service, and will bring a unique perspective to the Board. I will make children, teachers and parents the top priority of the San Francisco Unified School District by:

- making schools violence-free and structurally safe;
- ensuring prudent fiscal management;
- involving parents in Board decisions; and
- reducing class size without incurring additional expenses.

I am committed to excellence in our schools and I will serve with dedication and integrity.

Candidates for Board of Education

DAVID J. MARTZ

My address is 3426 20th Street
My occupation is Attorney
My qualifications for office are: that I care about children and believe that a solid education is crucial to their success in life. I believe the Board of Education and the community leaders of San Francisco should conduct a city-wide campaign to broadcast the importance of education to every person in the city, including to parents and children in each and every community. Our public schools, and our children, need caring, sacrificing volunteers. Individuals in the community must become more involved in our educational system and in the education of our children if we are to equip our children for successful, fulfilling lives.

JILL WYNNS

My address is 124 Brewster Street
My occupation is School Board Member, Child Advocate
My age is 48
My qualifications for office are: For fifteen years I have devoted myself to the children of San Francisco as a School Board member, public school parent and child advocate. I am proud to be endorsed by the teachers' union and to have the support of parents and community leaders.
Working at the state and national levels I have become a school finance expert and am working hard to secure critically needed funding for our schools.
As a responsive, resourceful, responsible board member I will continue to fight for:
• High academic standards
• Safe schools
• Equal opportunity
• Public school choice
• Counseling — peer programs
• Parent and community involvement
• Technology

RUFUS N. WATKINS

My address is 2060 O'Farrell St., Apt. 102.
My occupation is News Copy Clerk.
My age is 32.
My qualifications for office are: I attended San Francisco Public Schools and am a graduate of Baylor University. I have family members who are graduates and are currently enrolled in the SFUSD, which reinforces my innate understanding of past and present problems in the District.
My background, my experience as a former student, my persistence, and my enthusiastic involvement for the past 9 years in the community and government qualify me for this candidacy.
My platform is simple: preparation for children for the 21st century, civic pride in public schools, more parental involvement, teamwork, and most importantly, safe schools. I care!

JASON WONG

My address is 109 Lake Merced Hill, Suite 1B.
My occupation is Senior Criminal Investigator.
My qualifications for office are: I believe there needs to be a stronger voice for children of color and children who come from low income neighborhoods and families. In my profession, I have seen too many neglected children with few educational opportunities, and role models becoming adults in the criminal justice system. I am committed to ensuring that these children will receive the programs they need to succeed. As the son of immigrant parents, I value public education and know the importance of public input and consensus when making public policy decisions. Join my commitment in being a strong voice for every child.

EDDIE CHIN

My address is 1559 Funston Avenue
My occupation is Educator/Family Support
My qualifications for office are: As a parent, educator, and alumus, I have a deep commitment to the quality of education in the San Francisco Unified School District. After graduation, I earned a B.A., an M.A., and a law degree from local universities, and have taught at City College for 18 years.

I believe the school district has made progress in strengthening the schools, but improvements must still be made in the District’s technology-related instruction, as well as its relationship to parents, teachers, students, and financial management.

I plan to be an advocate for parents, teachers, and students and for firmer financial oversight.

RODEL E. RODIS

My address is 35 Paloma Avenue
My occupation is Attorney/College Board Member
My age is 44

My qualifications for office are: Teacher. Author. Attorney.

During my tenure, City College has improved dramatically to become the nation's largest, most respected Community College.

Our excellent curriculum opens opportunities for San Franciscans of all backgrounds preparing for four-year academic colleges; obtaining language skills and training for our local job market — including health care, tourism, computer sciences, law enforcement, auto mechanics; enriching the lives of people of all ages.

City College is essential in assuring our future prosperity.

I've led in improving educational quality, funding expansion, relieving overcrowding, budgeting scarce tax dollars wisely and resolving disputes.

I respectfully ask for your vote to continue.

JIM MAYO

My address is 255 Topaz Way
My occupation is Trustee of the Community College Board
My qualifications for office are: I have 15 years experience serving citizens of San Francisco in many civic and nonprofit organizations. As director of a nonprofit educational organization, I come into contact daily with youth who need a helping hand and guidance to help achieve their goals. As a College Board Trustee, I have fought to improve outreach programs to San Francisco residents and have made the collaboration between City College and San Francisco Unified and renovation of aged facilities top priorities. I have earned the support of a diverse cross section of San Franciscans including teachers, students, elected officials and neighborhood leaders. I hope to earn yours.

Candidates for BART Board, District #9

DAVID JENNINGS

My address is 555 27th St.
My occupation is Software Company Employee
My age is 31

My qualifications for office are: As a Gay Activist I have a commitment to public transportation as a way to stop the deterioration of our environment.

Society has grown overly reliant on automobiles, to the detriment of our environment. The daily commute is made up of single-occupant cars, all clogging the streets and freeways, releasing noxious fumes and filling our air with unhealthy pollutants.

I agree with environmental groups and activists including the Sierra Club that the answer is an affordable, efficient and environmentally-safe public transportation system. As a member of the BART Board, I would devote myself to improving ridership by making it easier for commuters to get out of their cars and onto BART, leading to more healthy air quality and a better environment.

My primary focus as a BART Board member would be to create the safest, most efficient system of public transportation possible. Together we can fulfill our shared vision and make a better, healthier environment for us all.

David Jennings

MICHAEL BERNICK

My address is 3961 Sacramento St.
My occupation is BART Director
My qualifications for office are: At the center of this BART race is one issue: the BART extension directly into San Francisco Airport. For eight years as your BART Director I’ve fought for this project, fought for an extension directly in the Airport rather than outside, as initially planned.

The battle is not over. The extension continues to be attacked by a hostile Congress, by the Airlines who don’t want to pay their fair share, and by some residents, including my opponent, who favor a station outside the Airport. I seek your support to complete the Airport project, and do so on schedule, the year 2000.

And with your support, I will continue other transit projects including achieving rapid rail service down the Peninsula, improving bike access, Poetry-on-BART, smart card technology.

Among my supporters:
Congresswoman Nancy Pelosi
Mayor Willie Brown Jr.
Sen. Quentin Kopp
Assessor Doris Ward
Assemblyman John Burton
Former Supervisor Harry Britt
Supervisor Kevin Shelley
Supervisor Barbara Kaufman
Supervisor Mabel Teng

Also, transit advocates:
Pat Norman, Health Professional
Wayne Friday, Commissioner
Adair Lara, Columnist
Carlotta del Portillo, Commissioner
Alicia Wang, Instructor
Lester Olmstead-Rose, Anti-Violence Coordinator

TOM RADULOVICH

My address is 4173 17th Street
My occupation is Environmental Designer
My qualifications for office are: San Francisco deserves an excellent public transit system, which is safe, reliable, and cost effective, and gets from place to place with a minimum of hassle. I have advocated public transit at the San Francisco League of Conservation Voters and the Sierra Club Joint Transportation Committee.

Maintaining high standards of service for the people who ride transit every day will be my first priority. BART riders are tired of late trains, broken escalators, and dirty stations. BART must also work together with Muni to coordinate fees, schedules and routes for faster, safer, more efficient service. I will also work to restore public trust in BART by increasing public oversight, and top-to-bottom reform of campaign finances and BART contracting.

Together we can make BART work better. I look forward to serving as your next BART director.

WHY CAN'T I GO TO ANY POLLING PLACE I WANT?

There's a polling place nearer my home than the one I'm assigned to. Why can't I go to that one? The polling place near my job is more convenient for me. Can I vote there?

You can't go to any polling place in San Francisco. However, because of recent changes in election laws, you are not limited to the polling place to which you are assigned. You may vote in any polling place which has the same ballot as the one for your polling place.

Please refer to the map on page 10 of the voter information pamphlet sent to you. You can go to any polling place in the shaded area of the map. (Note: You will be required to vote a provisional ballot if you go to a polling place that doesn't have your name on the Roster of Voters.)

To be sure that you are voting the correct ballot, it's best to vote:

1. on Election Day at the polling place where you are assigned (i.e. the address printed on the bottom left corner of the back page of the voter information pamphlet that was sent to you),

2. starting October 7, at the Department of Elections office (between 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, 9 am - 3 pm the weekend before the election, and 7 am - 8 pm on Election Day),

3. starting October 28, in the lobby of the temporary City Hall (War Memorial Building, 401 Van Ness Avenue, between 8:30 am - 4:30 pm Monday through Friday, and 7 am - 8 pm on Election Day), or

4. by absentee ballot - send in an application for an absentee ballot so that the Department of Elections receives it by October 29th.

If you aren't sure where to go to vote on election day, call us at 554. 4375.
DON'T LET THE WIND BLOW YOUR RECYCLABLE PAPER AWAY!

SAN FRANCISCO CURBSIDE RECYCLING HAVE YOU MOVED?

Did you write and inform the Department of Elections?
Re-register to vote by completing a new voter registration card?
Change your address with the DMV?

New federal and state elections laws now allow you to vote, even if you didn't notify the Department of Elections about your new address - if you moved within San Francisco and you were already a San Francisco registered voter.

However, do not go to your old polling place.

Go to the polling place for your new address, or vote at the Department of Elections office at 633 Folsom Street.

To vote, you will need to bring proof that you live at your new address: either a California driver's license or state identification card with your new address, or 2 documents which have your name and new residence address printed on each of them.

In addition, you will need to put your voted ballot into a pink provisional envelope after you have voted, so that we have your new address and we can verify your eligibility to vote.

Call our office at 554. 4375 for your new polling place and for a list of acceptable proof of new residence if you don't have a driver's license or state identification card.

Or, if you want to vote before election day, send in your application for an absentee ballot (it's on the back cover of your voter information pamphlet), or come to our office at 633 Folsom Street:

1. between October 7 and November 4, Monday - Friday, you can vote between 8:30 am and 4:30 pm.
2. on the weekend before election day, November 2 & 3, you can vote between 9 am and 3 pm.
3. on election day, November 5, you can vote between 7 am and 8 pm.

DO NOT GO TO YOUR OLD POLLING PLACE.
Rules For Arguments For and Against Ballot Measures

On the following pages, you will find information about local ballot measures. For each measure, a digest has been prepared by the Ballot Simplification Committee. This analysis includes a brief explanation of the way it is now, what each proposal would do, what a "Yes" vote means, and what a "No" vote means. There is a statement by the City's Controller about the fiscal impact or cost of each measure. There is also a statement of how the measure qualified to be on the ballot.

Following the ballot digest page, you will find arguments for and against each measure. All arguments are strictly the opinions of their authors. They have not been checked for accuracy by this office or any other City official or agency. Arguments and rebuttals are reproduced as they are submitted, including typographical and grammatical errors.

"Proponent's" and "Opponent's" Arguments

For each measure, one argument in favor of the measure ("Proponent's Argument") and one argument against the measure ("Opponent's Argument") are printed in the Voter Information Pamphlet free of charge.

The designation, "Proponent's Argument" and "Opponent's Argument" indicates only that the arguments were selected in accordance with criteria in Section 5.74.5 of the San Francisco Administrative Code and were printed free of charge. The Director of Elections does not edit the arguments, and the Director of Elections makes no claims as to the accuracy of statements in the arguments.

The "Proponent's Argument" and the "Opponent's Argument" are selected according to the following priorities:

"Proponent's Argument"

1. The official proponent of an initiative petition; or the Mayor, the Board of Supervisors, or four members of the Board, if the measure was submitted by same.
2. The Board of Supervisors, or any member or members designated by the Board.
3. The Mayor.
5. Any individual voter.

"Opponent's Argument"

1. For a referendum, the person who files the referendum petition with the Board of Supervisors.
2. The Board of Supervisors, or any member or members designated by the Board.
3. The Mayor.
5. Any individual voter.

Rebuttal Arguments

The author of a "Proponent's Argument" or an "Opponent's Argument," may also prepare and submit a rebuttal argument. Rebuttals are also the opinions of the author and are not checked for accuracy by the Director of Elections or any other City official or agency. Rebuttal arguments are printed below the corresponding "Proponent's Argument" and "Opponent's Argument."

Paid Arguments

In addition to the "Proponent's Arguments" and "Opponent's Arguments" which are printed without charge, any eligible voter, group of voters, or association may submit paid arguments.

Paid arguments are printed after the proponent's and opponent's arguments and rebuttals. All of the arguments in favor of a measure are printed together, followed by the arguments opposed to that measure. Paid arguments for each measure are not printed in any particular order; they are arranged to make the most efficient use of the space on each page.

Arguments and rebuttals are solely the opinions of their authors. Arguments and rebuttals are not checked for accuracy by the Director of Elections, or by any other City official or agency.
ARBITRATION (PROPOSITION E) — When two disputing parties agree to have their conflict settled by a neutral third party, the process is called "arbitration."

CHARTER AMENDMENT (PROPOSITIONS C, D, E, F, G, H) — The Charter is the City’s constitution. An amendment of the charter requires a vote of the people. The Charter cannot be changed without a vote of the people.

GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS (PROPOSITIONS A, B) — These bonds are used to pay for large public projects that do not raise revenue. For example, these bonds have been used to construct museums, police stations, jails, libraries, and other public facilities. A two-thirds majority of the voters must approve the sale of general obligation bonds. Once they are approved and sold, they are repaid by property taxes.

LOW-INCOME (PROPOSITION A) — A household of four persons whose combined income does not exceed $36,780 annually.

MODERATE-INCOME (PROPOSITION A) — A household of four persons whose combined income does not exceed $61,300 annually.

ORDINANCE (PROPOSITION J) — A law of the City and County, which is passed by the Board of Supervisors, or passed by the voters in an election.

RECALL ELECTION (PROPOSITION G) — A recall election is a way for voters to remove a public official from office. A recall election is held after a specified number of voters have signed a petition calling for such an election.
AN OVERVIEW OF SAN FRANCISCO'S DEBT

BACKGROUND

WHAT IS BOND FINANCING? Bond financing is a type of long-term borrowing used to raise money for projects. The City receives money by selling "bonds" to investors. The City must pay back to the investors the amount borrowed along with interest.

The money raised from bond sales is used to pay for large capital projects such as fire and police stations, libraries and major earthquake repairs. The City uses bond financing mainly because these buildings will last many years and their large dollar costs are difficult to pay for all at once.

Types of Bonds. There are two major kinds of bonds — Revenue and General Obligation.

Revenue bonds are paid back from revenues generated by bond-financed projects. For example, the airport can finance a major expansion through revenue bonds, which will be paid back from landing fees charged to airlines that use the improvements.

General Obligation bonds are used to pay for projects that benefit citizens but do not raise revenue (for example: police stations and jails, libraries, major park rehabilitation or cultural facility projects). General Obligation bonds must be approved by the voters. Once they are approved and sold, they are repaid by property taxes.

WHAT IS LEASE FINANCING? The City sometimes also asks the voters for permission to enter into lease financing arrangements. These arrangements exist when the City wants to borrow money, but intends to pay it back through its regular revenues. This means the City is not asking the voters to increase their property taxes or other specific revenue like water bills to pay for this debt. For example, the City enters into lease financing arrangements to buy police cars, fire trucks and other large equipment. We borrow the money through a separate Finance Corporation, pay a lease for three or four years and then own the vehicles or equipment. This allows the City to spread out the cost of assets that will last for several years or more.

At times we also enter into lease financing arrangements for major projects and the repayment is taken into consideration when the Mayor and the Board raise certain taxes. For example, the new 911 Center lease financing was approved by the voters with an expectation that a new 911 fee on phone service would be the source of repayment.

WHAT DOES IT COST TO BORROW? The City’s cost for borrowing depends on the interest rate paid on the debt and the number of years over which it is paid. Most large debt is paid off over a period of 10 to 20 years. Assuming an interest rate of 6%, the cost of paying off debt over 20 years is about $1.65 for each dollar borrowed — $1 for the dollar borrowed and 65 cents for the interest. These payments, however, are spread over the 20-year period, and so the cost after adjusting for inflation reduces the effective cost because future payments are made with cheaper dollars. Assuming a 4% future annual inflation rate, the cost of paying off debt in today’s dollars would be about $1.15 per $1 borrowed.

THE CITY’S CURRENT DEBT SITUATION

Legal Debt Limit. As of July 31, 1996, there was about $1.35 billion of general obligation debt authorized by the voters and either outstanding or unissued. Of this total, $799 million has been issued and is outstanding, leaving $548 million authorized to be issued in the future. The amount of bonds issued is less than the amount authorized since the City only issues the amount of debt that it needs at a given time.

The City Charter imposes a limit on the amount of debt the City can have outstanding at any given time. That limit is 3% of the assessed value of real and personal property in the City and County. The current limit is about $1.6 billion, so the City is well within the legal debt limit.

Debt payments. Total general obligation bond “debt service” during 1996 – 97 should be $84.7 million. (“Debt Service” is the annual repayment of a portion of monies borrowed plus the interest owed on all outstanding bonds.) This is paid by assessing 16.2 cents on every $100 of assessed property tax value. This means that a property owner with an assessed valuation of $250,000 would pay about $406 this year for debt service on the City’s outstanding general obligation bonds (and $2,500 for general City operations, schools, community college, children’s fund, library fund, open space and other government purposes — for a total tax bill of $2,906).

Prudent Debt Limit. Even though the City is well within its legal debt limit in issuing general obligation bonds, there is another “prudent” debt calculation made by bond rating agencies when they review the City’s financial health. These agencies look at both the general obligation debt and any other debt which uses the City’s tax base — including lease financing obligations and even the City’s share of debt for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District. Financially healthy cities with good bond ratings typically have low to moderate debt outstanding relative to their assessed property values (called the debt ratio).

The City currently has moderate debt by rating agency standards. Each time we ask the voters to approve debt, we try to forecast what that will do to our debt ratio. All bonds previously authorized by the voters plus the two bond measures on this November, 1996 ballot could be issued and the City would still have “moderate” debt. However, the City is approaching a level of debt that would be considered high by rating agencies. City officials are currently discussing which priority borrowings should be done in the future and still allow the City to maintain good credit ratings.

MEASURES ON THIS BALLOT

Should Proposition(s) A and/or B pass, and be issued, the City would be closer to its legal debt limit. The City would continue to have moderate debt for the purpose of its "prudent debt limit."

Prepared by the Office of the Controller
PROPOSITION A

AFFORDABLE HOUSING BONDS, 1996. To incur bonded indebtedness of $100,000,000 for the financing of (1) the development of housing affordable to low-income households in the City and County of San Francisco and (2) down-payment assistance to low- and moderate-income first-time home buyers, and all other costs necessary or convenient for the foregoing purposes.

YES  NO

Digest
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: State law requires that the City’s General Plan describe the City’s housing needs, set goals for providing housing, and develop programs to meet those goals. Some of those programs develop housing affordable to low-income households, and help those with low and moderate incomes buy their first homes. When the City provides money for these programs, larger amounts of money are frequently made available from federal, state and/or private sources. The City pays for its part of these programs with money from property taxes, hotel taxes, and other local sources. The City expects that these sources of money will not be enough to meet its future low- and moderate-income housing goals.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition A would allow the City to borrow $100 million by issuing general obligation bonds. The City would use the money to make loans or grants to develop housing affordable to low-income households, and to assist low- and moderate-income first-time home buyers. The Mayor and the Board of Supervisors would set the rules and procedures for making these loans and grants. The City intends to use these local dollars to get additional federal, state, and private funds for affordable housing.

The principal and interest on general obligation bonds are paid from property tax revenues. Proposition A would require an increase in the property tax to pay for the bonds. A two-thirds majority vote is required for passage.

A "YES" VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the City to issue general obligation bonds in the amount of $100 million to develop housing affordable to low-income households and to assist low- and moderate-income first-time home buyers.

A "NO" VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the City to issue bonds for these purposes.

Controller’s Statement on “A”

City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition A:

In my opinion, should the proposed bond issue be authorized and bonds issued at current interest rates I estimate the approximate costs to be:

- Bond redemption $100,000,000
- Bond interest 89,250,000
- Debt service requirement 189,250,000

Based on a single bond sale and level redemption schedules, the average annual debt requirement for twenty (20) years would be approximately $9,462,500 which is equivalent to one and eighty two hundredths cents ($0.0182) in the current tax rate. The increase in annual tax for the owner of a home with a net assessed value of $265,000 would amount to approximately $48.23. It should be noted, however, that these bonds will be sold in increments of no more than $20 million per year, therefore, the actual effect on the tax rate would be less than the maximum amount shown above.

How Supervisors Voted on “A”

On July 22, 1996 the Board of Supervisors voted 11-0 to place Proposition A on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: None of the Supervisors voted no.

ARGUMENTS FOR AND AGAINST THIS MEASURE IMMEDIATELY FOLLOW THIS PAGE. THE FULL TEXT BEGINS ON PAGE 75.
PROONENT’S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION A!

Affordable housing is a major building block to a healthy economy, and San Francisco’s citizens have consistently supported the development of housing affordable to low and moderate income households. Voters recognize that a shortage of affordable housing results in overpayment of rent and housing costs, overcrowding and homelessness.

Resources for developing permanently affordable housing, already inadequate to meet the need, are becoming scarcer. Federal funds are threatened by budget cuts; Local tax increment financing has reached the limits of its funding capacity. Unless new resources become available, less will be done to address housing needs than in prior years. If the measure is approved, the AFL-CIO National Housing Trust and some major banks and businesses have announced willingness to match loans and grants made from bond proceeds.

The proposed $100 million in bonds would be issued over five years ($20 million per year). Grants and loans would be made to eligible borrowers (1) to develop housing affordable to low-income households in San Francisco and (2) to assist with down payments for low and moderate income first-time homebuyers. The program would be administered through the Mayor’s Office of Housing, overseen by a Housing Committee appointed by the Mayor.

The Board of Supervisors will establish procedures and criteria for grants and loans under the program. Of the net bond proceeds, 85% would be dedicated to the development of affordable rental housing, and 15% to downpayment assistance loans for low and moderate income first-time homebuyers.

By approving these bonds, we can leverage federal and private dollars to develop permanently affordable housing and make it possible for City workers like firefighters, police officers and teachers to buy homes in the City rather than having to live far from their jobs.

REBUTTAL TO PROONENT’S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Proposition A was put on the ballot by so-called “non-profit affordable housing” developers. These people operate in a taxpayer-funded wonderland where the more a project costs, the larger their profit. However, since they are “non-profit” developers, they call their guaranteed profit a “developer’s fee.”

These developers spend more money building and rehabbing Single Room Occupancy Hotels (rooms with no kitchens or private bathrooms) in the Tenderloin and South of Market than luxury buildings cost in Pacific Heights. They are only “affordable” because taxpayers pay huge hidden subsidies to buy down the real rents.

The promoters of Proposition A call their projects “permanently affordable.” Again, this is false. These projects are permanently “unaffordable” — the public capital that has been squandered will never be recovered.

“Affordable” housing routinely costs more than San Francisco’s already high prices. This means only one unit gets created when two or three could be acquired at market prices. Taxpayers get robbed but never know because no watchdog agency assures we get real value for our money.

And maybe most importantly, the big losers are the truly needy who can’t afford to adequately house themselves and can’t get aid because “there is not enough money.” There is enough money, it’s just being poured down a rat hole.

No more money should be spent until this system is overhauled and the public is assured its tax dollars are doing the most good for the most people.

San Franciscans for Responsible Taxation
OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

PROP. A CHEATS BOTH TAXPAYERS AND THE LOW-INCOME RESIDENTS WE WOULD LIKE TO HELP.

Many San Franciscans clearly need assistance in meeting their housing costs. Unfortunately, Prop. A has no safeguards to keep the money from going to “non-profit, affordable housing” developers who are anything but, and have consistently squandered affordable housing dollars.

Prop. A allows these “non-profit” developers to add “development fees” i.e., guaranteed profits, right into their budgets. Something private developers can only dream of.

Would you call this affordable?
To describe these projects as “affordable housing” is misleading. The truth is that their actual costs are two to three times higher than San Francisco’s typical costs for similar buildings. Hence, we as taxpayers are subsidizing rents which are two to three times higher than San Francisco market rents.

Would you call this affordable?
In San Francisco private owners are paying $2 – $12 per square foot to retrofit brick buildings. Some non-profit developers are spending $55 – $80, of your money, per square foot.

Would you call this affordable?

In San Francisco, a five year old 185 unit building on lower Nob Hill, fully up to date, recently sold for $86 per square foot. Luxury buildings in Pacific Heights are selling for $125 – $175 per square foot. The non-profit developers are spending over $200 per square foot to acquire and retrofit South of Market single room occupancy hotels, with just a bedroom and no kitchen or bath.

The sad truth is over the past 10 to 20 years, hundreds of millions of dollars have been spent on subsidized housing in San Francisco, and because of the waste of developers and their fiscal mismanagement, only a fraction of San Francisco’s lower income residents who could have been helped, actually were.

Affordable housing should be affordable.

Vote No on Prop A

San Franciscans For Responsible Taxation

REBUTTAL TO OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

Affordable housing is key to San Francisco’s economic and social future. That’s why the Board unanimously voted to place Proposition A on the ballot and an unprecedented coalition has formed to support its passage.

All Proposition A expenditures will be managed by the Mayor’s Office of Housing following rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Supervisors. Loans for affordable housing development will be made to any developer, for-profit or non-profit, able to guarantee that the housing produced will be affordable for fifty years or the life of the building, which ever is longer. Annual reports, subject to local audit and public review, will be made.

The Opponents Argument claims of waste and mismanagement among church and community based non-profit affordable housing developers cries out for facts and not the “blue sky” numbers and mere invective supplied. These non-profit affordable housing developers are audited by both the City and the federal government and are subject to the Board’s Budget Analyst review. No such waste and mismanagement charged by the opponent to Proposition A has been found.

To the contrary, what has been found is that 15,000 units of permanently affordable housing has been produced by these non-profits providing over 40,000 San Franciscans safe, decent and affordable housing. The overwhelming majority of this housing receives no ongoing subsidies, paying its own way and generating tax revenue for the City.

Proposition A is a needed and sound investment in the City’s future. San Franciscans should Vote Yes on A.

PAID ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

The passage of Proposition A is of critical importance to San Francisco's future as a place to live, as a place to work and as a place deserving of our civic ideals.

San Francisco has among the highest housing costs in the nation, and they are getting higher. Less than one in ten can afford a home, less than half can afford an apartment. Housing costs are now a primary obstacle to economic growth and job creation. Without such economic growth and job creation, we cannot pay for the parks and MUNI busses, the branch libraries and neighborhood centers so necessary for humane urban life.

Proposition A’s funds will build 3,000 new apartments and offer homeownership to 1,000 families. It will leverage millions of dollars from outside the City, increasing its impact.

But most importantly, Proposition A will renew a social compact committing us, the people of the City of St. Francis, to our common future showing the rest of the nation, and more importantly ourselves, that our compassion and commitment to economic vitality are equal to our physical beauty.

Willie L. Brown, Jr.

Proposition A will provide affordable housing for low income first-time home buyers.

A Yes vote on Proposition A will allow more people to buy a home in San Francisco, a City that needs more affordable housing opportunities.

Vote Yes on Proposition A.

Supervisor Kevin Shelley

The true measure of a great city is the willingness of its residents to confront the hard issues facing them and together devise creative solutions. Proposition A's broad base of support — labor, business, neighborhoods, environmental and community groups, and the religious community — shows the nation San Francisco cares for their City's future. Proposition A will attract needed federal and private resources.

Since 1979 San Franciscans for Reasonable Growth has fought to keep San Francisco's economy and neighborhoods diverse. San Francisco's human and economic diversity is what makes it a great city. The key to keeping our economy viable and growing is what also ensures our cherished diversity — affordable housing.

In 1986 SFRG worked to pass Proposition M, which established City policy to preserve and expand affordable housing. For economic growth to benefit all San Franciscans, housing development must keep pace with work force growth. If it doesn't, more affluent residents drive out poorer residents — the City's entry level work force. And rents and housing prices go up.

Proposition A provides funds to create thousands of affordable housing units. Housing that meets residents' needs and keeps San Francisco economically competitive.

Housing Industry Supports Prop. A

There is a housing crisis in San Francisco that is especially acute in the case of affordable housing units.

Proposition A would raise $100 million from all the residents of San Francisco to be used for affordable rentals and home ownership opportunities. If used wisely these funds could go a long way to easing this crisis.

Funds would be used to acquire or construct rental units that would be affordable to San Franciscans who earn less than 60% of the City’s median income. The proceeds from loans would be recycled into the program for other loans and grants.

Funds would also be used for down payment assistance for first time homeowners who earn less than the median income. Again, the repayment of these loans would be returned to the program.

As members of the San Francisco housing industry we understand the importance of affordable housing to economic and community development. This bond would go a long way for San Francisco citizens with limited income, while giving them the opportunities home ownership can provide.

We urge you to vote Yes on Proposition A.

Affordable housing is a long term investment that yields lasting returns for the city as a whole. It creates jobs, stabilizes neighborhoods, and provides much needed new housing.

Affordable housing is a required component for the city's overall economic and community development. In the face of diminishing federal and state dollars for housing, it makes sound fiscal sense for the city to use general obligation bonds to create a fund to leverage other monies for housing development and home ownership opportunities. The League of Women Voters has long supported measures for increasing affordable housing. Current needs are great.

Between 1980 and 1990, the average cost of a single family home in San Francisco increased by 160% and average rents nearly doubled. By 1990, only 30% of households could afford to rent the average two bedroom apartment. Since 1990, homelessness among families receiving AFDC has increased 34%.

Existing resources for developing affordable housing are inadequate and uncertain in their availability. Budget constraints threaten federal funding. Local sources of financing, e.g., Redevelopment funds, are shrinking.

The League of Women Voters urges your Yes vote on A.

These bonds will directly help families and will be used by the City to obtain additional federal, state, and private funds for affordable housing.

The League of Women Voters

Your vote for Proposition A will continue the development of needed affordable housing, creating jobs, stabilizing neighborhoods, and providing housing for workers and their families.

Proposition A will insure that the City has the matching money necessary to secure even greater contributions of federal, state, and private monies for affordable housing developments.

Squandering $100 million of public funds isn’t going to solve our housing crunch. The fact is: Proposition A is just another example of cynical politicians using your money to buy votes from people who make their livings at the taxpayers’ expense.

But that’s not to say that we don’t need to take public action for more housing.

There’s plenty of space to build homes in the Bay Area, it’s just that local governments have artificially constrained land supply by refusing to authorize housing development...and driven up its cost even higher by imposing hideous review procedures.

The answer to our housing shortage lies in the region-wide reform of zoning rules and regulatory procedures, combined with the carrot of well-considered tax incentives...not the grease of tax subsidies.

Injecting $100 million of tax subsidies into the veins of politically-hooked “non-profit” builders will only stimulate them to overpay for land, labor and materials, making it more difficult for the free market to do its job. It’s time to put a stop to weird, distorted policies that artificially stifle housing production with one hand while driving up its costs with the other. Vote No on Proposition A

San Francisco does need affordable housing. What it does not need is the added burden of another bond issue to subsidize a bunch of insider contractors. Adding more to the tax burden of property owners will not make housing more affordable.

If the proponents of Proposition A were serious about creating affordable housing, rather than just getting more money to give away, they would fight to eliminate restrictions on mother-in-law apartments, eliminate the paperwork nightmare facing anyone who wants to build high-density housing, and eliminate zoning restrictions that limit developing under-utilized properties in the City as residential property.

San Francisco needs an open and affordable housing market not more Soviet-style public housing projects. Proposition A means less affordable housing and higher taxes. Vote NO on Proposition A.

Don’t be fooled by the Developers

We all recognize the need for more affordable housing in San Francisco. With the current housing crisis, we must all be dedicated to supporting intelligent and cost effective initiatives to provide housing.

Unfortunately, Proposition A is neither an intelligent answer to this crisis or a wise use of our tax dollars. San Franciscans should be deeply concerned by the lack of safeguards on the use of this $100 million and the poor track records of the “non-profit” developers who are supporting this campaign and stand to profit from its passage.

In the well intentioned rush to put Prop. A on the ballot, no safeguards mandating the wise use of the funds were included. This unfortunately plays right into the hands of these developers who have a history of building “affordable housing” that is anything but affordable. What they build is minimal units costing several times what it should. In recent cases these same “non-profit” developers have charged $60 a square foot for work others have completed at less than $10 per square foot.

To add insult to injury only 15% of these funds will be used for actual home ownership opportunities. The rest will be used to pay developers.

There is a housing crisis — but Prop. A is a rip off. Don’t be fooled by these for-profit “non-profit” developers. Let’s scrap this one and do it right.

CALLING AND PROVIDING FOR A SPECIAL ELECTION TO BE HELD IN THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1996, FOR THE PURPOSE OF SUBMITTING TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO PROPOSITIONS TO INCUR THE FOLLOWING BONDED DEBTS OF THE CITY AND COUNTY: (1) $73,300,000 FOR THE ACQUISITION, CONSTRUCTION AND/OR RECONSTRUCTION OF A NEW MUSEUM FACILITY TO REPLACE THE DE YOUNG MUSEUM; AND (2) $100,000,000 FOR THE FINANCING OF THE LOW-INCOME HOUSING AND DOWN-PAYMENT ASSISTANCE TO LOW AND MODERATE FIRST-TIME HOMEBUYERS; AND THAT THE ESTIMATED COSTS OF SAI Projects IS AND WILL BE TOO GREAT TO BE PAID OUT OF THE ORDINARY ANNUAL INCOME AND REVENUE OF THE CITY AND COUNTY AND WILL REQUIRE EXPENDITURES GREATER THAN THE AMOUNT ALLOWED THEREBY UNDER THE ANNUAL TAX LEVY; RECITING THE ESTIMATED COSTS OF SUCH PROJECTS, FIXING THE DATE OF ELECTION AND THE MANNER OF HOLDING SUCH ELECTION AND THE PROCEDURE FOR VOTING FOR OR AGAINST THE PROPOSITIONS; FIXING THE MAXIMUM RATE OF INTEREST ON SAID BONDS AND PROVIDING FOR THE REVENUE AND COLLECTION OF TAXES TO PAY BOTH PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST THEREOF; PRESCRIBING NOTICE TO BE GIVEN OF SUCH ELECTION; CONSOLIDATING THE SPECIAL ELECTION WITH THE GENERAL ELECTION; AND PROVIDING THAT THE ELECTION PRECINCTS, VOTING PLACES AND OFFICERS FOR ELECTION SHALL BE THE SAME AS FOR SUCH GENERAL ELECTION.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section 1. A special election is hereby called and ordered to be held in the City and County of San Francisco on Tuesday, the 5th day of November, 1996, for the purpose of submitting to the electors of the City and County propositions to incur bonded indebtedness of the City and County of San Francisco for the projects herein described in the amounts and for the purposes stated:

"DE YOUNG MUSEUM REPLACEMENT BONDS, 1996, $73,300,000 for the acquisition, construction and/or reconstruction of a new museum facility to replace the De Young Museum and all other works, property and structures necessary or convenient for the foregoing purposes."

"AFFORDABLE HOUSING BONDS, 1996, $100,000,000 for the financing of (1) the development of housing affordable to low-income households in the City and County of San Francisco and (2) down-payment assistance to low and moderate income first-time homebuyers, and all other costs necessary or convenient for the foregoing purposes."

Section 2. The estimated costs of the projects described in Section 1 hereof were fixed by the Board of Supervisors by the following resolutions and in the amount specified below:

De Young Museum Replacement Bonds, Resolution No. 571-96, $73,300,000; and Affordable Housing Bonds, Resolution No. 570-96, $100,000,000.

Said resolutions were passed by two-thirds or more of the Board of Supervisors and approved by the Mayor, and in each said resolution it was recited and found that the sum of money specified is too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the City and County in addition to the other annual expenses thereof or other funds derived from taxes levied for those purposes and will require expenditures greater than the amount allowed therefor by the annual tax levy.

The method and manner of payment of the estimated costs described herein are by the issuance of bonds of the City and County of San Francisco not exceeding the principal amounts specified.

Said estimates of cost as set forth in said resolutions are hereby adopted and determined to be the estimated costs of said improvements and financing, respectively.

Section 3. The special election hereby called and ordered to be held shall be held and conducted and the votes thereon received and canvassed, and the results thereof made and the results thereof ascertained, determined and declared as herein provided and in all particulars not herein recited said election shall be held according to the laws of the State of California and the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco providing for and governing elections in the City and County of San Francisco, and the polls for such election shall be and remain open during the time required by said laws.

Section 4. The special election hereby shall be and hereby is consolidated with the General Election of the City and County of San Francisco to be held Tuesday, November 5, 1996, and the voting precincts, polling places and offices of election for such General Election are hereby adopted, established, designated and named, respectively, as the voting precincts, polling places and officers of election for such special election hereby called, and reference is hereby made to the notice of election setting forth the voting precincts, polling places and officers of election for the General Election by the Registrar of Voters to be published in the official newspaper of the City and County on the date required under the laws of the State of California.

Section 5. The ballots to be used at the special election shall be the ballots to be used at the General Election. On the ballots to be used at such special election and on the punch card ballots used at said special election, in addition to any other matter required by law to be printed thereon, shall appear thereon each of the following and appear upon the ballot each as a separate proposition:

"DE YOUNG MUSEUM REPLACEMENT BONDS, to incur $73,300,000 of bonded indebtedness for the acquisition, construction and/or reconstruction of a new museum facility to replace the De Young Museum and all other works, property and structures necessary or convenient for the foregoing purposes."

"AFFORDABLE HOUSING BONDS, to incur $100,000,000 of bonded indebtedness for the financing of (1) the development of housing affordable to low-income households and (2) down-payment assistance to low and moderate income first-time homebuyers, and all other costs necessary or convenient for the foregoing purposes."

Each voter to vote in favor of the issuance of the foregoing bond propositions shall punch the ballot card in the hole after the word "YES" to the right of the proposition, and to vote against the proposition shall punch the ballot card in the hole after the word "NO" to the right of the proposition. If and to the extent that a numerical system is used at said special election, each voter to vote in favor of the proposition shall punch the ballot card in the hole after the number corresponding to a "YES" vote for the proposition and to vote against the proposition shall punch the ballot card in the hole after the number corresponding to a "NO" vote for the proposition.

On absentee voter ballots, the voter to vote in favor of any of the propositions hereby submitted shall punch the absentee ballot card in the hole after the word "YES" to the right of the proposition, and to vote against the proposition shall punch the absentee ballot card in the hole after the word "NO" to the right of the proposition. If and to the extent that a numerical system is used at said special election, each voter to vote in favor of any of the propositions shall punch the absentee ballot card in the hole after the number corresponding to a "YES" vote for the proposition and to vote against the proposition shall punch the absentee ballot card in the hole after the number corresponding to a "NO" vote for the proposition.

Section 6. If at such special election it shall appear that two-thirds of all the voters voting on either such proposition voted in favor of and authorized the incurring of a bonded indebtedness for the purposes set forth in such proposition, then such proposition shall have been accepted by the electors, and bonds authorized thereby shall be issued upon the order of the Board of Supervisors. Such bonds shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed twelve percent (12%) per annum.

The votes cast for and against for each proposition shall be counted separately and when two-thirds of the qualified electors, voting on such proposition, vote in favor thereof, such proposition shall be deemed adopted.

Section 7. For the purpose of paying the principal and interest on the bonds, the Board of Supervisors shall, at the time of fixing the general (Continued on next page)

PROPOSITION B

DE YOUNG MUSEUM REPLACEMENT BONDS, 1996. To incur bonded indebtedness of $73,300,000 for the acquisition, construction and/or reconstruction of a new museum facility to replace the de Young Museum, and all other works, property, and structures necessary or convenient for the foregoing purposes.

YES ☑️ NO ☑️

Digest
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The de Young Museum, located in Golden Gate Park, is owned by the City. The museum houses valuable art collections. The museum buildings are in danger of collapsing or being damaged in a major earthquake. In addition, the museum’s building systems, including fire safety and electrical, are old and in need of repair or replacement. The estimated cost of repairing and strengthening the existing museum buildings is $73.3 million.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition B would allow the City to borrow $73.3 million by issuing general obligation bonds to reconstruct or replace the de Young Museum buildings. The intent is to tear down these existing buildings and build a new de Young Museum in Golden Gate Park using this money and donations raised by the museum’s Trustees.

The principle and interest on general obligation bonds are paid out of property tax revenues. Proposition B would require an increase in the property tax to pay for the bonds. A two-thirds majority is required for passage.

A “YES” VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the City to issue general obligation bonds in the amount of $73.3 million to reconstruct the de Young Museum.

A “NO” VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the City to issue these bonds to reconstruct or replace the de Young Museum.

Controller’s Statement on “B”

City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition B:

In my opinion, should the proposed bond issue be authorized and bonds issued at current interest rates I estimate the approximate costs to be:

- Bond redemption $73,300,000
- Bond interest $50,027,250
- Debt service requirement $123,327,260

Based on a single bond sale and level redemption schedules, the average annual debt requirement for twenty (20) years would be approximately $6,166,363 which is equivalent to one and eighteen hundredths cents ($0.0118) in the current tax rate. The increase in annual tax for the owner of a home with a net assessed value of $265,000 would amount to approximately $31.27. It should be noted, however, that the City typically does not issue all authorized bonds at one time; if these bonds are issued over several years, the actual effect on the tax rate would be less than the maximum amount shown above.

How Supervisors Voted on “B”

On July 22, 1996 the Board of Supervisors voted 11-0 to place Proposition B on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

De Young Museum Bonds

PROPOSER'S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Vote Yes on Proposition B.

The de Young Museum in Golden Gate Park conserves our diverse art heritage and educates our children. Once a cultural jewel, today the building seriously threatens the safety of all who use it. The next earthquake could cause the buildings to collapse, resulting in serious injury or death.

The building poses other risks, including: inadequate fire protection; hazardous materials; insufficient plumbing, electrical and security systems; and no “climate control” to preserve its valuable art collections.

Museum Trustees have determined they could reduce costs, and better serve the community, by replacing entirely the existing weakened building. Bond revenues will finance only the required seismic and safety improvements. Private donors will contribute the additional funds needed to build a new museum building in the Park.

The new building will protect the City’s irreplaceable art, expand exhibition space and visitor services, improve access for seniors and the disabled, and increase the Museum’s acclaimed education programs for our children.

The new facility will set high standards for environmental sensitivity. Its design and modest scale will blend into its natural park setting. A reduced building “footprint” will create 1.7 acres of new open space. Design guidelines will strictly conform to the Park masterplan.

A Yes vote on Proposition B authorizes the sale of bonds to make the Museum safe; it does not approve any specific design or proposal. All proposals will be reviewed by the public.

Let the next generation experience the de Young Museum.

Vote Yes on Proposition B — save the de Young Museum in Golden Gate Park for our kids.

REBUTTAL TO PROPOSER'S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

We do not oppose the rebuilding of the de Young Museum.

We DO oppose constructing a multi-level 370-car garage and tunnel in Golden Gate Park.

We believe that voters should consider the following facts:

- While this bond measure does not prevent the use of public money to build a garage and tunnel, the Museum and its lobbyists have been promoting plans for a garage in their money-raising literature. However, the bond measure itself contains no mention of either the tunnel or garage — a deliberate withholding of information from the public. This is dishonest!

- A new museum without a garage will save taxpayers millions of dollars.

- Rebuilding the Conservatory of Flowers will cost less than the garage and tunnel. Let’s put our money into housing flowers, not into housing automobiles.

- The Mayor is developing a visionary plan for a shuttle service that would eliminate the need for a garage. He knows the City’s Master Plan prohibits garages in the Park. The City that touts “Transit First” must not build a garage in our Park.

Give the de Young Museum Trustees the same chance we gave the Giants, the chance to return to the drawing board and bring us a better proposal... a new de Young Museum in Golden Gate Park with no parking garage.

Save the de Young Museum AND Golden Gate Park for our kids.

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION B. It just doesn’t make sense!

De Young Museum Bonds

OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION B

Proposition B is BAD for Golden Gate Park. If it is passed, a 370-car multi-level parking garage will be constructed under the rebuilt de Young Museum. The garage will be linked to 10th Ave. and Fulton St. via an automobile and truck tunnel. The galleries will occupy 60,000 sq. ft. while the garage and tunnel will gobble up 162,600 sq. ft. Golden Gate Park is meant to serve as a “relief from urban pressures.” A parking garage in the Park violates the city’s General Plan.

Moreover, we have seen no drawings of the new museum as we did with the Library and Ballpark measures. Nor will we know its environmental impact on the Park until after the measure passes. No bank would approve a $73 million loan based on a “conceptual design.” Neither should we.

General obligation bonds should only be used when no alternative funding source exists. Needy projects, such as MUNI, and the rebuilding of Laguna Honda Hospital and the Youth Guidance Center, have no alternative funding.

Golden Gate Park is San Francisco’s open space treasure but it is fragile. The Park should not be degraded for the benefit of one institution. We must reject this measure and encourage the museums’ Trustees to design a project that is sensitive to Golden Gate Park.

DON’T VOTE IN THE DARK! VOTE NO ON PROP B. SEND THE TRUSTEES BACK TO THE DRAWING BOARD!

REBUTTAL TO OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION B

Rebuilding the de Young Museum is important for three reasons: First, the building is a seismic hazard, given the City’s worst rating, that could collapse in the next earthquake. Protection against potential injuries and loss of life, as well as nearly a billion dollars in City-owned art, is an important priority for San Francisco.

Second, if not fixed, the seismic safety problems may cause the de Young Museum to close. This would be a tremendous loss to all of San Francisco. The de Young is a keeper of our multi-cultural art heritage, educates nearly 100,000 children each year, and is the venue for many important exhibitions such as Teotihuacan and Monet.

Third, a new de Young museum will meet our City’s needs for the next hundred years. The new de Young will: increase safety for people and art; enhance all educational services and resources; put more art on view by almost doubling exhibition space; provide more accessibility for all San Franciscans; be a park-friendly facility, creating more open space for the park and a gathering place for all communities.

Join our two United States Senators, our two members of Congress, our two State Senators, our two members of the Assembly, neighborhood leaders, environmentalists, the Central Labor Council, the Chamber of Commerce and leaders from all of San Francisco’s communities — and support Proposition B.

Save the de Young in Golden Gate Park. Vote Yes on Proposition B.

We have united together, as Campaign Co-Chairs, to urge you to vote Yes on B to Save the de Young Museum in Golden Gate Park. For over 100 years the de Young Museum has been a part of our San Francisco community. It’s a place where families share together, children learn through art, and visitors from the Bay Area and the world enjoy a first rate museum.

But the City has given the de Young the worst seismic hazard rating because of the risk of structural collapse and significant safety hazard to staff, visitors, and the irreplaceable art. We must replace the de Young now or we could lose this City treasure forever.

Please join us in voting Yes on Proposition B to save the de Young Museum in Golden Gate Park.

Like many of you, we have concerns about the proposed parking facility. We do not endorse the plan for underground parking, but we enthusiastically endorse Proposition B. Proposition B authorizes the sale of bonds to make the museum safe; it does not approve any specific design or proposal. The design for the building and any proposed garage is a separate issue which will have to go through extensive public review and environmental study before it can be approved. Specific design proposals are not part of the vote on this bond.

If Proposition B fails, the de Young Museum might have to close its doors forever. We cannot let that happen. Please join us in voting Yes on B to save the de Young Museum in Golden Gate Park.

San Francisco women support Proposition B because it is the right priority for San Francisco. The de Young Museum has been an important part of our community for over 100 years. Dangerously weakened by the Loma Prieta earthquake, the Museum building poses a serious threat both to the safety of our children and to the priceless works of art they come to experience. Unless we rebuild the de Young now by passing Proposition B, we could lose this valuable resource forever.

The new de Young Museum will provide a safer and better museum for our families to visit in Golden Gate Park, with more education facilities for our kids and more gallery space.

SUPPORT REBUILDING THE DE YOUNG MUSEUM.

As members of the Latino community we strongly support rebuilding the de Young Museum. The Museum is the conservator of our multicultural art history. It reflects the cultural diversity of San Francisco and the world. The Museum enriches the quality of life for all visitors. It is a place where everyone is welcomed, a place where everyone can learn and grow.

The de Young Museum houses major collections of art from the pre-Columbian Americas to twentieth-century and contemporary American art. The oldest work of art at the Museum is found in the Art of the Americas. Exhibitions have included, Teotihuacan: City of the Gods; Art of the Americas; Musician and Shamans; Ancient West Mexican Figures; Rupert Garcia: Prints and Posters; Enrique Chagoya: Borders of the Spirit.

Rebuilding the de Young gives us the opportunity to create the best Museum of American Art in the country — expanding collections and gallery space for ancient and indigenous cultures that form American art. The new museum will be a place where we can be exposed to the work of our ancestors; providing inspiration and education for our youth and our community. It is an investment that will benefit all San Franciscans; and future generations to come.

As the author of the de Young Museum bond, I urge you to support this measure. The de Young Museum is a vitally important cultural resource and must be preserved for future generations. San Francisco’s cultural heritage is one of its greatest assets and the de Young serves as the touchstone of this rich heritage.

The de Young Museum desperately needs significant safety improvements to protect the public and to prevent earthquakes from destroying the building. We must act now to save the building if we want to preserve this cultural resource for our children.

A Yes vote on Proposition B will preserve the de Young Museum for all San Franciscans.
Vote Yes on B.

WE ARE UNITED IN OUR SUPPORT OF PROPOSITION B.

San Francisco is undergoing an exciting cultural renaissance. A new de Young Museum will be part of this vital rebirth of art and culture. A new de Young Museum in Golden Gate Park will delight and educate San Franciscans for another 100 years, just as it has for the past century. By rebuilding the de Young Museum, we will be rebuilding education, rebuilding the art experience, rebuilding our community. Rebuilding the de Young Museum is a priority for San Francisco. We ask all San Franciscans to join us in supporting this critical civil project.

VOTE YES ON B FOR A NEW DE YOUNG MUSEUM.

The de Young Museum is one of San Francisco's most treasured cultural, recreational, and educational facilities. The Democratic Party supports the mission of the de Young Museum: to educate our children, to preserve our multi-cultural heritage, and to provide art access to all San Franciscans.

The Museum, composed of eight different buildings patched together, is extremely vulnerable to earthquake damage. The de Young Museum must be made safe. A new de Young Museum will be a place where generations of San Franciscans from our diverse ethnic communities can bring their children to learn and experience their own cultural heritage.

Vote Yes on B to build a new de Young that will be safe for future generations.

San Francisco Democratic Party
The true source of funds used for the publication fee of this argument was Committee for a New de Young Museum.

A few individuals have come out against Proposition B, which would help fund a new de Young Museum, because the de Young will then raise private funds to build a parking garage which, they say, would degrade the Park and encourage cars. In fact, building an underground garage for the de Young Museum could be the foundation for a great environmental step forward in Golden Gate Park.

The garage is intended to make the Museum accessible to drivers on Sundays, when Kennedy Drive is closed to motor vehicles (de Young Museum attendance currently drops sharply on this traditionally most popular day for museum visitors).

With the garage in place, environmentalists and bicyclists can argue for closing even more of the Park more often to cars, enhancing the status of the Park as a recreational site rather than a traffic corridor without driving away museum visitors who come from far beyond the scope of local public transit.

Making the City a more viable place for bicycles and alternative transit is an important goal best served by voting Yes on Proposition B.

Proposition B is good business for San Francisco.
San Francisco's economy is dependent on the tourist industry. Tourist spending creates thousands of jobs and puts millions of dollars directly into our city treasury. Proposition B will save a major tourist attraction, the de Young Museum, and enhance the complex of Museums and attractions in Golden Gate Park.

The de Young Museum attracts over 500,000 tourists a year. These tourists pay fees to our City treasury and spend money at local businesses. We can't afford to lose this valuable addition to our cultural landscape.

YES ON B FOR EDUCATION

The de Young is dedicated to an extensive and innovative program of art education for people of all ages and interests. The Museum's youth programs and service to the public schools are nationally recognized. Nearly 100,000 school children visit the de Young every year. As part of their social studies curriculum, all of San Francisco's 5th graders are introduced, through the de Young, to the art of their ancestors and contemporaries. Education programs include: tours, art and art history classes, classroom presentations, families creating art together, concerts, internships, teacher training and materials, and jobs for low-income teenagers who are taught about art to inspire other children. The de Young has recently opened one of the few permanent exhibitions in any U.S. Museum dedicated to children and families. The Museum's location in Golden Gate Park allows children to learn about the works of nature as well as the works of art.

Proposition B will enable the new de Young to broaden its educational services. The new Museum will provide for an expanded library, a new children's gallery, multipurpose classrooms, and the technology for the 21st century.

YES ON B will expand the de Young Museum's award-winning education programs. Without Proposition B, the de Young may have to close its doors and we could lose this critical educational resource forever.

The de Young Museum, located in Golden Gate Park, has been a City landmark since 1895, providing education for children and tourist revenues for the community. It is the home to one of the best collections of American art in the West, as well as major collections from pre-Columbian Americas and Africa, and world-renowned holdings of textiles. In the past year nearly 900,000 visitors, including 90,000 children, enjoyed the de Young. Unfortunately, the de Young Museum is one of the City's most vulnerable buildings in the event of an earthquake and must be rebuilt.

Money from this bond will rebuild the de Young making it seismically safe and in compliance with current code requirements. Trustees and supporters are committed to raising the additional funds that exceed the City's obligation for mandatory seismic and code enforcement work. Museum trustees have recently completed one of the most successful public/private partnerships in San Francisco's history, the renovation of the Legion of Honor. Trustees are again committed to raising a substantial portion of this project in private funds. To date, more than $27 million has been pledged, over half the goal of $44 million.

A new museum will preserve the irreplaceable art collection; expand exhibition space, visitor services and educational programs; guarantee safety for staff and visitors; and improve disabled access. We are committed to a new museum that will complement its surroundings in Golden Gate Park, uniting, environmentally sensitive architecture with new technologies.

Please join supporters of the Museum and give your overwhelming support to Proposition B.

City Building Must Be Made Safe

The de Young Museum, owned by the City of San Francisco, is not strong enough to withstand the next earthquake, and must be made safe. The current de Young Museum is comprised of 8 separate buildings; the four main buildings are rated 4 by the City. This is the worst rating, meaning partial or total collapse is likely during an earthquake, posing appreciable life hazards to occupants. Damage would be so extensive as to not be able to be repaired. People visiting and working at the Museum — as well as the millions of dollars of irreplaceable art — must be protected by a new, safe building.

The existing Museum structure is seismically unsafe; has insufficient fire suppression and detection systems; contains hazardous materials; lacks the basic climate controls necessary for the preservation of the city’s valuable art collection; suffers from inadequate plumbing, electrical and security systems; is not fully accessible to the disabled; and regularly experiences overcrowding.

Please vote Yes on B to save the de Young Museum and make the building safe for the next generation.

TRUSTEES PLEDGE NEW “GREEN” BUILDING APPROPRIATE TO GOLDEN GATE PARK SETTING

In rebuilding the de Young Museum, the Board of Trustees will take the opportunity to create a building which will set a high standard for environmental sensitivity, preserving and enhancing the natural environment of Golden Gate Park.

Many people ask what the new building will look like. The Board of Trustees has committed to the following design elements in the new de Young Museum:

• Strict adherence to the Golden Gate Park Masterplan;
• An improved relationship between building and park setting, using a complementary building form and design, landscaping and other improvements;
• A decreased building footprint to open up 1.7 acres of new green space around the Museum;
• A landscaped sculpture garden between Museum and Tea Garden;
• A maintained or reduced building scale;
• A reconstructed Pool of Enchantment in appropriate area;
• Recycled, environmentally-appropriate building materials;
• Exterior materials and colors sympathetic to park environment and historic bandshell; and
• Energy efficient and environmentally-appropriate building systems and materials.

Any specific building design or proposal will go through extensive public review before approval.

Vote Yes on B to rebuild a new safer de Young Museum: it will protect visitors and the priceless art collection, provide more education and exhibition space, fit into and complement its park setting, and incorporate environmentally-sensitive technologies in an advanced “green” building.

EXPERTS SAY PROPOSITION B IS GOOD FISCAL POLICY

Sound financial planning and fiscal responsibility dictate the use of bonds to finance capital improvement projects for the City and County of San Francisco.

Most major construction projects are not funded through the annual budget. Costs of major projects are spread out over time, just as the benefits are spread out over the future.

Can the City afford to sell more bonds? The answer is yes. The City Charter authorizes a set amount of debt that is safe and fiscally sound. To be even safer, the City has set for itself a limit lower than that allowed by the Charter. And right now we have issued only half of the debt allowed by the Charter limit. Rating agencies, which look at our debt plan, City budget, and the general economy, consistently give us high ratings. On March 12, 1996, Moody’s Investors Service stated that the city’s “debt burden is moderate” and “debt practices are conservative.”

In fact, the City can’t afford not to sell new bonds. Many of our City buildings are deteriorating from age, and many were severely damaged by the Loma Prieta earthquake. We can’t afford to let our buildings continue to deteriorate. The price we pay later — both in the escalation of repair costs and the eventual threat to our safety — will be too great.

City officials carefully review every request that comes before them. Bonds are only placed on the ballot if they are the City’s highest priority and only if the City is capable of financing them. Bonds are the answer to a failing infrastructure, and are essential to a well-managed municipal budget.

The Franklin Delano Roosevelt Democratic Club for Persons With Disabilities and Seniors supports rebuilding the de Young Museum in Golden Gate Park.

The old de Young suffered significant damage in the earthquake of 1989, and, if it is not rebuilt, we are in real danger of losing the Museum entirely due to this seismic damage. The loss of the Museum would be a significant one to San Francisco, and to persons with disabilities in particular. A museum, especially one with the access considerations proposed, is a tremendous boon to the quality of life for persons with disabilities, because it is an open door to the multicultural history that we all share.

The plan for the new de Young specifically calls for integrating accessibility features throughout the new Museum. This will be much easier to achieve when starting from scratch, rather than trying to retrofit old and damaged buildings built over a long period of time. In addition, because it will be new construction, the Americans With Disabilities Act requirements for access will apply, ensuring better physical access for all persons with disabilities.

The planners of the new de Young are committed to providing both physical and programmatic access to the Museum. To ensure provision of the most accessible services possible, the planners will be consulting extensively with members of the disability community.

We believe that a new de Young Museum will be a great asset to the cultural life of San Francisco, and will be an inclusive and welcoming center of art, history and culture for persons with disabilities and seniors as well.

PROPOSITION B IS A GOOD INVESTMENT

Proposition B will provide valuable jobs and educational opportunities. A new de Young Museum is good business for San Francisco and an important investment in our future. Creating a new de Young will enable the Museum not only to better serve all San Franciscans and visitors, but also to better be able to contribute to our vital tourist economy. The new Museum will generate more tourist dollars for our local businesses, contributing taxes and fees to fund local programs, and providing employment opportunities.

The de Young Museum is administered by the Fine Arts Museum of San Francisco for the City and County of San Francisco and is the City’s oldest and most successful public/private partnership. Proposition B protects the investment that we, the taxpayers, have made in our public buildings and in the irreplaceable art and artifacts of the de Young Museum collection.

If we don’t replace the de Young now, the fiscal impact to our City will be much more severe in years to come.

Join us in voting YES ON B. It’s a good investment.

NEW DE YOUNG MUSEUM WILL BE ACCESSIBLE TO ALL

The de Young Museum contributes to the quality of life of all San Franciscans. The Museum opens our minds to our multicultural heritage and history. A new de Young Museum, replacing the current seismically weakened structure, will better protect all visitors and the priceless works of art, as well as providing complete access throughout. Persons with disabilities, as well as seniors, will find the Museum much easier to get to and to enjoy, with both the building and the programming accessible and welcoming.

If Prop B fails, the Museum may have to close its doors to everyone.

Support a more accessible de Young Museum, a safer de Young for the next 100 years. Vote Yes on B.

PAID ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Proposition B, the ballot measure to rebuild the de Young Museum, is supported by virtually every arts and cultural, ethnic and community group in the City. Its list of sponsors goes on for pages. The reason for this massive outpouring of support is that most San Franciscans understand the importance of the de Young Museum to our City’s history, economy and culture. Additionally, rebuilding the de Young will start the revitalization of Golden Gate Park.

As a Supervisor, I wrote the “Sunlight in the Parks” and the “Embarcadero Freeway Teardown” ordinances. I care deeply about the environment. This bond measure will help it. Rebuilding the de Young will eliminate an unattractive surface parking garage, return almost 1 1/2 acres of open space to the park and eliminate much of the surface driving in the Park by visitors to the Museum. It will result in cleaner Park air and a better Park environment.

The opposition consists primarily of a small group of anti-Museum partisans. Unlike the vast majority of San Franciscans, their real goal is to force the Museum out of Golden Gate Park. They know that the de Young Museum is seismically unsafe and that if the bond is defeated, the Museum will probably be forced to close forever.

If Proposition B fails, the Museum will lie closed and forlorn, like the Conservatory of Flowers nearby. We should preserve our heritage, not destroy it. The de Young is a great museum, it is our museum and it is a good public investment!

Vote to save the Park. Vote to save the de Young. Vote yes on B!

The de Young Museum is a cultural treasure and a major tourist attraction and brings in millions of tourist dollars into the City.

I have studied this issue and believe that Golden Gate Park is the best place for a rebuilt De Young Museum. Parking problems will be mitigated by building an underground parking lot at no expense to the taxpayers.

Environmentalists to Save the de Young

The de Young Museum has been in the Golden Gate Park for 100 years. It is a significant part of our cultural heritage. Polls show that San Franciscans overwhelmingly want the museum to stay in the park. As lifelong environmental activists, we agree and urge you to support the quake-safe reconstruction.

The de Young has committed to participate in a full community process in order to design a building in harmony with Golden Gate Park’s precious landscape. The new building will blend in with the park setting, and be of a resource conserving design and constructed using environmentally sensitive materials.

By shrinking the new building’s “footprint", and by closing the surface parking lot, the park will gain 1.7 acres of new green space.

The de Young is committed to reducing automobile traffic in the park. That’s why the museum, has implemented a proactive transportation management program including:

- shuttle service;
- $2 admission discounts for Muni patrons;
- employee trip reduction programs; and:
- safe and secure bicycle parking.

The garage is a separate matter. All alternatives to parking cars in the park will be considered. All aspects of the museum and any garage must go through a complete environmental review process.

The current building, with its high seismic risk poses serious threats to visitors, school children and staff, and to the priceless art collection. Proposition B provides the money to eliminate these threats. If it fails, the de Young will have to close its doors for years.

The African American community strongly supports Proposition B.

The de Young Museum houses the largest collection of African art on the West Coast. The African American community has benefited culturally and educationally by the ongoing work of the de Young Museum in highlighting the numerous contributions of Africans and African Americans to the artistic landscape of American art, including special exhibits from noted African American artists and special programming for Black History month.

The de Young serves all communities and neighborhoods in San Francisco through its educational mission. Every 5th grader in the SFUSD visits the de Young as part of their American history curriculum. African American youth take part as teachers and students in free Saturday morning art classes, and in the annual Youth Arts Festival.

Without Proposition B the de Young might have to close forever, and a powerful legacy of great African and African American art could be lost for good. Don't put our children, our art, and our priceless cultural heritage at risk.

SAY YES TO THE ARTS. VOTE YES ON B.
San Francisco loves the arts in all their diversity from the vibrant Mission District murals and community cultural centers to the downtown galleries and de Young Museum in Golden Gate Park. The arts employ one of every nine San Francisco workers and generate over $1 billion annually into San Francisco’s economy.

The de Young Museum is the educator of our children, the conservator of art from all the Americas, and the home of the West Coast’s premier collection of American art. For over 100 years generations of San Franciscans have come to learn about the history of the Americas through its art and to see such varied exhibits as King Tut, Teotihuacan, Monet or Beat Culture, currently on view.

A new de Young in Golden Gate Park will provide the City with provocative exhibitions, juxtaposing art from a variety of cultures and provide increased educational programs that will encourage a global awareness and understanding of art.

However, these programs are in jeopardy unless the deYoung can rebuild in Golden Gate Park. Seismic safety is of paramount concern as is the preservation of the museum's art collection, our greatest asset.

The de Young is an irreplaceable community resource that belongs to everyone.

Proposition B will make San Francisco a better place for our children. San Franciscans love the de Young Museum. We grew up there. It’s a place where families share together, children learn history through art education, and visitors from the Bay Area and the world enjoy cultural diversity of the American experience.

The de Young gives us a learning experience we never forget. Proposition B will assure that the important educational programs at the Museum will be able to expand and be easily used by all the children of San Francisco. Proposition B will also make the building safe — free of threat of collapse and fear of exposure to hazardous materials — for the nearly 100,000 children that visit the Museum every year. We must replace the de Young or we could lose this City treasure forever. Let the next generation grow up at the de Young.

A FRIEND OF THE ENVIRONMENT

Proposition B will fund a new facility that meets the needs of the de Young Museum, while respecting other Golden Gate Park users and the naturalistic environment of the Park. The new museum building will decrease the current building “footprint” and remove surface parking and paving. This will increase the Park’s green space by returning over 1.6 acres of recovered open space to the Park.

The location of the Museum is considered one of its primary assets. The de Young Museum is dedicated to ensuring this project is carried out with utmost respect for this historically important setting and preserving this unique environment. The new museum building will be designed with sensitivity to its park setting, and with environmentally sensitive building techniques and materials.

ENVIRONMENTAL AND TRANSPORTATION IMPROVEMENTS FOR GOLDEN GATE PARK

The Board of Trustees of the Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco and environmental leaders together support the following improvements to reduce motor vehicle traffic in Golden Gate Park:

1. Further closings of Golden Gate Park roads when adequate alternative means of access and parking are in place for museum visitors. Alternative means could include improved public transit (especially on weekends), a permanent shuttle system and convenient replacement parking underground for any parking spaces removed from the surface of Golden Gate Park, and underground access to the garage from Fulton Street.

2. A proactive employee vehicle trip reduction program that includes strong incentives for bicycling, transit use and ridesharing.

3. Continued support of the museum weekend visitor shuttle from the UCSF parking garage.

4. A proactive visitor vehicle trip reduction program including sales of Muni Fast Passes, day passes and maps at the Museum store, and transit access information on all publications and on the Museums’ Web site.

5. Increasing the adult admission discount with valid Muni Fast Pass or transfer to $2.00 (from $1.00) and publicizing widely.

The Trustees support working with the Mayor, Supervisors, all interested community groups, and other Park institutions to develop and help implement workable transportation alternatives for Golden Gate Park.

Based on the Museums’ continued support for existing transportation programs and their commitment to improving the program as outlined above, we urge you to VOTE YES ON B.

The California Academy of Sciences, Steinhart Aquarium, and Asian Art Museum combine with the M.H. de Young Museum to create a museum complex in Golden Gate Park which serves San Franciscans and attracts visitors from around the world. San Francisco, like many major American cities, follows a world-wide tradition of locating museums in public parks. Generations of San Franciscans and city visitors—from all walks of life—have enjoyed the broad range of recreational and cultural activities in Golden Gate Park; the de Young is an essential part of this park experience.

San Franciscans overwhelmingly support keeping the de Young in Golden Gate Park. A new de Young in Golden Gate Park supports the Museum's educational mission; renews its commitment to serve the diverse populations of our community; respects other park users and preserves the naturalistic environment of the park.

Please Vote Yes on Proposition B. The Museum is a treasure for families from all walks of life to enjoy. It is a haven where we can feast our eyes and rest our spirits in a peaceful setting away from the urban jungle. The Museum is one of the best bargains in our City. Children under 12 are always admitted free.

The Museum's permanent collection includes the Africa, Oceania, and Ancient Americas Galleries. There is art of profound sacredness spanning 35 centuries on display this very minute. This art speaks to us from civilizations whose daily lives were imbued with Nature and a spiritual way of being.

This art touches us across space and time to tell us of people laughing, dancing, praying, playing instruments, and enjoying their pets—all in a time before cement, engines, smog, cars, and pollution. It is that very purity, the state of the Mother Earth during which this art was made, that makes this art sacred. Their only appropriate place within San Francisco is to remain in a woodland setting like Golden Gate Park.

Many of the nearly 100,000 children who visit the Museum each year are inspired to become artists themselves or to inquire further into ancestral cultures and perhaps walk with more understanding and respect in their lives.

Let us honor the ancestors whose art we are privileged to gaze upon, and the generations who will follow us, by building a new home for these gifts within the Park.

The de Young Museum serves as the conservator of our multi-cultural art history, a center for educating children, and a destination for tourists who visit San Francisco. Please vote Yes on Prop. B / The museum is the one human institution that may be located, and in fact is best located in a park. The museum provides recreation and contemplation for the human mind, the same way that the park provides recreation and contemplation for the human body. Ideally, in Nature, the mind and the body are not separate.

• Keeping the De Young Museum in Golden Gate Park also preserves the elegant symmetrical design of the little “Museum Circle” in the Park — the Academy of Science Museum and the Steinhardt Aquarium face the De Young Museum on the South and the North of the outdoor Spreckels Bandshell, then the outdoor museums of the Stybing Arboretum and the Rhododendron Dell complete this Museum Circle on the West and the East. Remember that Golden Gate Park is one of the most cleverly and beautifully designed parks in the world. Also remember that a true return to nature in Golden Gate Park would recreate the vast desert of sand dunes that was there before Golden Gate Park was created.

• Central Park in New York City, which surprisingly is 300 acres smaller than Golden Gate Park, even though it serves a City over ten times as large as San Francisco, also contains two major museums.

• Arguments that the Museum will encourage automobile use to the Park are utterly bogus since Museum visitors only account for 5% of the Park visitors. Besides, an educational institution as essential, as democratic and as fragile as the Museum is scarcely the place to fight America’s uncontrollable love-affair with the automobile /

Guarantee the future of San Francisco’s most prized institutions, the de Young Museum. Join SPUR in supporting Proposition B. A new museum building will provide more space for exhibits, while increasing open space in the park by reducing the “footprint” of the building.

After Proposition B is passed, building plans and environmental studies will be developed and the public will have many opportunities to affect the project’s design and mitigation measures.

Importantly, the de Young Museum has already agreed to implement an aggressive transportation management plan to reduce cars in Golden Gate Park and to support closure of park roadways.

SPUR urges a YES vote on Proposition B.

The Golden Gate Restaurant Association supports Proposition B. Tourism is a vital part of San Francisco’s economy.

The average visitor to San Francisco spends roughly $130 per day here.

Cultural amenities like the de Young add to San Francisco’s popularity. The de Young Museum houses an outstanding collection of art; its record of popular exhibitions is unsurpassed on the West Coast. It has the highest attendance of any art museum in the city, and is popular both with San Franciscans and tourists.

Choosing to rebuild, rather than renovate, is cost-effective. Proposition B would finance $73.3 million of the demolition and reconstruction costs with general obligation bonds; with the remainder funded by private monies.

A huge parking garage and tunnel in Golden Gate Park? That’s what museum officials are planning! More space is devoted to the garage and tunnel than the museum’s galleries and education facilities. Garages attract more cars and pollution. Vote NO on further destruction of Golden Gate Park by automobiles. Vote NO on Proposition B.

Passage of Proposition B will allow construction of an unprecedented 370-car parking garage and automobile/truck tunnel in Golden Gate Park. The new museum will include 60,000 sq. ft. for galleries and 162,600 sq. ft. for the garage/tunnel.

Proposition B doesn’t prevent public funds from being spent on constructing the garage.

Parking garages are inappropriate in our parks and encourage increased automobile use and more congestion. The $11.5 million for the garage could instead expand the museum’s shuttle or improve MUNI service to the park.

Proposition B is Bad for Golden Gate Park.

Haight Ashbury Neighborhood Council (HANC)

I oppose Proposition B because the de Young Trustees want to build an underground parking garage if it passes. They pay lip service to transit and the UCSP shuttle but are unwilling to do what it takes to create a sustainable city.

I want cars out of Golden Gate Park. Underground parking just sweeps the problem under the rug. Out of town visitors should park offsite and take a shuttle to the museum. If they are too lazy to do that, then sustainability cannot be achieved.

If the de Young wants to stay, THE GARAGE MUST GO!!!!!

Clayton Mansfield

The increasingly busy de Young museum is adding a flood of automobiles to the park. Permanently closing JFK Drive as favored by walkers, skaters, bicyclists and even some politicians would certainly cut museum attendance. The two uses are not compatible.

A downtown museum served by BART and MUNI would be vastly more user friendly, particularly for children, seniors and those with special needs, groups that tend to use public transportation.

A building designed with terraces and open green spaces, as in Oakland, could bring a park into the city and not, as proposed, intrude a city into a park.

A no vote is not against a new museum, but to put it where it belongs, downtown.

Vote No on Proposition B.

Large urban parks have two purposes: to provide nature scenes and recreation areas. Parks were never intended to be homes for museums or parking garages.

Also, the exclusive trustees ask us to pay $73.3 million for a new museum, while offering to raise only $40 million. They should be raising at least $100 million and asking us for the rest. We have far greater needs for those millions of dollars. Make the trustees raise more money as we made the Giants pay their way.

Don't believe the exclusive trustees and powerful politicians who depend on others' money.

Rebuilding the de Young is good. Prop B is bad. Prop B is a $73.3 million GENERAL OBLIGATION bond — the most precious tool a city has to fund public improvements. San Francisco is near its safe bonding limit. Prop B can take money away from other projects which have no other sources of funds. Examples: RECREATION CENTERS, HOSPITALS AND PARKS.

The de Young can be financed by private donations and revenue bonds, not general obligation bonds. The new SF Museum of Modern Art raised 100% in private money.

The de Young has options. Children, frail and elderly don't. NO on B.

Pinky Kushner

De Young trustees claim that a parking garage is needed to rectify a 10% reduction in museum attendance during JFK Drive closures. Currently JFK Drive is closed on Sundays; future closures may include Saturdays.

Why permit the precedent-setting construction of a parking garage and car and truck tunnel in Golden Gate Park in order to correct a small decline in museum attendance for two days a week? Imaginative transit and parking planning will enable the de Young to meet its weekend attendance goal without doing damage to Golden Gate Park.

De Young trustees need to seek more environmentally friendly ways to increase attendance.

PROTECT GOLDEN GATE PARK. If Proposition B passes, a 370-car garage will be constructed in our irreplaceable Park. PROPOSITION C
Shall the City increase the cost of living adjustments paid to most city retirees?

YES  NO

Digest
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: San Francisco operates its own retirement system for City employees. The City pays for retirement benefits from three sources: earnings on retirement system investments; contributions from current City employees and contributions from the City.

Each year, the retirement system estimates its investment earnings. In years when the actual investment earnings exceed that estimate, the above-estimate earnings are used to offset years when investment income is less than predicted. This money is also used to reduce the City’s contribution to the retirement system.

Most City retirees receive an annual retirement benefits increase called a cost of living adjustment (COLA). For most of these retirees, the COLA is limited to 2% of their original retirement benefit.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition C is a charter amendment that would increase the COLA paid to most City retirees. This measure would create a Reserve Account. If the retirement system’s investment earnings in any year exceeded the estimate, the above-estimate earnings would be deposited in the Reserve Account. Once the total in the Reserve Account became high enough, it would be used to increase the COLA for that year to 3% of current benefits. Most retirees who retired before 1980 would receive an additional increase based on the number of years they were retired.

The Reserve Account would not be used to offset years of below-estimate investment income, or to reduce the City’s contributions to the retirement system. However, when the Reserve Account had enough money to fund three years of COLA increases, any additional money would be used to offset below-estimate years and to reduce the City’s contributions to the retirement system.

A “YES” VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to use above-estimate retirement earnings to increase the COLA paid to most City retirees.

A “NO” VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to use this method to increase the COLA paid to most City retirees.

Controller’s Statement on “C”
City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition C:

Should voters approve the proposed charter amendment, in my opinion, it would affect the cost of government by using surplus retirement revenues to fund cost of living allowances for retired employees instead of being used to reduce future City contributions or pay for increased benefits for current employees.

Under the proposal, investment earnings in any year greater than what the Retirement Board had projected would go into a reserve account until there was enough to fund the next three years’ cost of living allowances. The increased allowances would only be paid if there were sufficient funds in the reserve account. If earnings were lower than expected for several years and there were insufficient funds in the reserve account, all the previous cost of living adjustments subject to this proposal would be taken away and only the previously authorized pension would be paid.

If this proposal was in effect this year, the City would set aside about $26 million and pay out $8 million the first year, $9 million the second year and $11 million the third year. These numbers would continue to grow in the future in most years; for example, we project the pay out in year ten (10) to be $24 million (in 1996 dollars).

RETIRING EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

PROponent's Argument in Favor of Proposition C

Vote for Proposition C. Proposition C provides fairness for retired City employees. Employees retired 30 or more years now receive an average pension of $550 per month. Inflation has so eroded the purchasing power that these pensioners live below the poverty level.

Proposition C provides for $3.00 per month per service year of retirement increase for retirees who retired prior to 12/31/79 who have lost 35-50% of their purchasing power.

Proposition C provides for a cost of living adjustment ("COLA") up to 3% for all retirees including police and fire.

Based on current surveys of state and local government employee retirement systems, the average COLA was above 3%.

Funding is provided 100% from excess investment earnings on the retirement fund.

We believe this proposition is both reasonable and affordable.

HALT SKYROCKETING PENSIONS!!!

(1) Proposition C Advocates Forget:

- Retired City employees are already drawing Social Security benefits with built-in cost-of-living increases.
- So-called "surplus" retirement funds for Proposition C are needed to guard against insurance actuarial miscalculations.

(2) Proposition C Is One of San Francisco's Many Wasteful Spending Proposals:

- Proposal F—supported by our greedy Board of Supervisors—calls for the PART-TIME SUPERVISORS' annual salaries to BALLOON from $23,900 to $50,000.
- School Superintendent Waldemar Rojas illegally donated $400 of public funds to an election campaign changing a San Francisco street name. (3/23/96 Chronicle: "DA Investigates Rojas Ballot Measure Donation")
- Appellate Court's Kadel vs. SFUSD lawsuit was filed against the Board of Education's poorly designed and terribly located 500 Corbett Rooftop School Annex:
- Equipped with NO PARKING and a NOisy AND DIS-

RUPTIVE FIFTH FLOOR ROOFTOP PLAYGROUND, the OVERSIZED AND WIDELY-HATED ANNEX PLANS called for 240 STUDENTS to be shoehorned into a half-acre campus (13 times the State Board of Education's students-to-acreage MAXIMUM).

—The POTENTIALLY "KID-KILLING" HIGHRISE SCHOOL is located on the deadly Corbett Avenue "BLIND AUTOMOBILE TURN"...across the street from the highly dangerous 495 - 505 Corbett CLIFF STAIRS.

OPPOSE PROPOSITION C:

- Freely giving away public money is “POPULAR”.
- Freely giving away public money at first glance appears to be “NICE”.
- Mass giveaways of public money make great theater . . . at least for awhile.
- That’s what the Broadway musical “EVITA” is all about:

For a time, Eva and Juan Peron were very “popular” people in Argentina. Eva was the President’s beautiful wife, supposedly spending all her time giving away other people’s money on public charities. Juan?: He was the “generous” local dictator . . . er . . . President. That’s what that rousing Peronista labor song “A NEW ARGENTINA!” is about in “EVITA”!

When the exquisite Eva Peron suddenly died of cancer at only 33 years of age, her picture was on all the postage stamps. Thousands of petitions poured into Rome and called upon the Pope to canonize her as a saint of the Roman Catholic Church. That’s what the haunting “EVITA”’’ hymn “DON’T CRY FOR ME ARGENTINA!” represents.

The Vatican stayed diplomatically silent on Eva’s alleged “sainthood”.

When the Argentine military finally revolted against President Juan Peron in the early 1950’s, no angels came to his rescue. Juan fled the country . . . retiring on his Swiss bank accounts. He left the Argentine economy a shambles for a generation. Later, he came back. He ruined the economy again — but this time died in office.

- Like Argentina, the City and County of San Francisco is in debt up to its ears. We are a generous and free-spending City.
- In fact, our bonded indebtedness is larger than that of many fair-sized nations of Europe, Asia, Africa, or Latin America.
- We have to draw the line SOMEWHERE.
- Proposition C is a good place to start.

REBUTTAL TO OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION C

We should improve benefits for retired City Employees. Its fair. Retired City employees are living at the poverty level after a career of public service.

Proposition C provides $3 per month per service year for those retired prior to 1979.

Proposition C provides a 3% cost of living adjustment for all retirees including police and fire — equal treatment for all retirees.

Surveys of other public retirement systems show that this protection is a common and accepted plan feature.

The Retirement Fund is more than 100% funded. Proposition C does not change this.

We can afford this help.

PAID ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Proposition C is fair to the retiree and to the City.
Retired City employees are entitled to fairness. They dedicated themselves to serving the public.
Inflation has eroded their purchasing power as much as 50%.
Many of them receive $550 per month or less.
They live below the poverty line.
They were promised their benefits would be increased once the Retirement Fund was 100% funded.
Now, the Fund is more than 100% funded. This year, the City pays 0% — NOTHING — into the Fund for uniformed employees and a minimal 1.83% for other employees while employees continue to contribute 7% or more of their pay into the Fund.
Proposition C corrects the unfairness.
Proposition C pays $3 per service year for those retired prior to 1979 and provides a 3% cost-of-living adjustment protection for all retirees — miscellaneous and uniformed.
It's time for fairness.
It's time for equity.
It's time to keep the promise!

Prop C is fiscally irresponsible. It is questionable business practice to funnel “excess earnings” into a Reserve Account to fund additional benefits, as required by the legislation, without specifying how to balance the general retirement fund in years of below-expected earnings. The city controller projects that cost in 10 years would be about $24 million in 1996 dollars. Vote No on C.

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION C!

Proposition C is one of several ill-conceived Charter amendments on the ballot which will cost the taxpayers our hard-earned dollars. It bestows automatic retirement benefit increases on city employees.

One reason for federal and state deficits is that very same practice of adding benefits and expenses each year by an automatic cost of living “adjustment”. We mustn’t allow shoddy fiscal policies like those which afflict federal and state government to debase San Francisco. Proposition C indisputably increases the cost of government by using surplus retirement funds to confer cost of living “adjustments” on retired employees. Common sense dictates that any surplus funds be used to reduce future contributions from taxpayers or pay increased benefits for the 25,000 current city employees. The City Controller finds an increased cost to taxpayers of $26,000,000 over the next three years. It’s peculiar that after years of deficit spending caused in part by high pension costs, the first signs of economic recovery and health are marred by various special interests groups vying for every extra cent rather than embracing a cautious fiscal approach.

Proposition C represents increased, foolhardy spending just as revenues are rising. Let’s take the approach of fiscal responsibility and reject fiscal management dominated by political paybacks and favors. Proposition C is reckless — it should be resoundingly rejected. Vote NO on Proposition C.

Describing and setting forth a proposal to the qualified electors of the City and County of San Francisco to amend the Charter of said City and County by adding Section A8.526-1 thereto, relating to a supplemental cost of living benefit for retirees and their survivors.

The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby submits to the qualified electors of said City and County at an election to be held therein on November 5, 1996, a proposal to amend the Charter of said City and County by adding Section A8.526-1 thereto, to read as follows:

NOTE: The entire section is new.

A8.526-1 SUPPLEMENTAL COST OF LIVING BENEFIT

Starting on July 1, 1997, the Retirement Board shall establish in the Retirement Fund a Reserve Account. Funds in this Reserve Account shall be used to provide supplemental cost of living benefit adjustments to retirement allowances in addition to cost of living adjustments now provided for in the Charter. Funds placed in this Reserve Account shall consist of all earnings of the Retirement Fund in the previous fiscal year which are in excess of the expected earnings on the actuarial value of the assets. The expected earnings are the earnings projected by the actuarial assumption for return on assets that was in place for that fiscal year. The maximum amount of funds to be placed in this Reserve Account shall not exceed the amount of funds projected to be necessary to fund benefits provided pursuant to this section for that fiscal year and the following two fiscal years.

The funds in this Reserve Account shall be used solely to provide supplemental cost of living benefit adjustments as follows:

(a) On July 1, 1997 and on July 1 of each succeeding year, if there are sufficient funds in this Reserve Account, each retirement allowance or death allowance payable on account of a member who died, including retirement allowances subject to change when the salary rate of a member is changed, shall be increased by an amount equal to three percent (3%) of the allowance, less the amount of any cost of living adjustment provided pursuant to Section 8.526 and less the amount of any cost of living adjustment, payable in that fiscal year, which is the result of a change in the salary of the member.

(b) On July 1, 1997, if there are sufficient funds in this Reserve Account, each retirement allowance payable to or account of a member who was retired on or before December 31, 1979 as a member under Sections 8.507 or 8.509 or 8.584 shall be increased by a monthly amount equal to $3 for each complete year of retirement. In computing years of retirement, the Retirement System shall count completed fiscal years between the member's effective date of retirement and June 30, 1997.

The supplemental cost of living benefit adjustments described above will not be paid in any fiscal year in which there are insufficient funds in the Reserve Account on July 1 to pay for full supplemental payments for that year. In that event, pensions will revert to the level they would have been if supplemental cost of living benefit adjustments had never been made.

If supplemental cost of living benefit adjustments are not made in any fiscal year, then, in subsequent years, excess earnings will be accumulated in this Reserve Account until there are sufficient funds to pay full year's supplemental cost of living benefit adjustment. Subsequent supplemental cost of living benefit adjustments will be based on the reduced pension level described above; that is, on the level pensions would have been if supplemental cost of living benefit adjustments had never been made.

Remember to VOTE on Election Day, Tuesday November 5, 1996. Your polling place is open from 7:00 in the morning to 8:00 in the evening.
Firefighter Retirement Benefits

PROPOSITION D
Shall the City increase pension benefits for firefighters hired after 1976?

YES  ➡  NO  ➡

Digest
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Firefighters receive a pension based on their years of service and their salary. Under the City’s Charter, firefighters hired before November 2, 1976 receive greater pension benefits than firefighter’s hired after that date. Firefighters hired after 1976 may receive a pension of up to 70% of their final salary. Any firefighter hired after 1976 who retires because of a job related disability receives a pension of 50% of final salary, regardless of degree of disability. “Final salary” means the average salary earned during the firefighter’s last three years of service.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition D is a charter amendment that would increase pension benefits for firefighters hired after 1976. A firefighter could receive pension benefits of up to 75% of final salary. A disabled firefighter could receive a pension between 50% and 90% of final salary, based on the degree of disability. “Final salary” would be redefined as the salary earned during the firefighter’s last year of service.

A “YES” VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to increase pension benefits for firefighters hired after 1976.

A “NO” VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to make these increases in pension benefits.

Controller’s Statement on “D”

City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition D:

Should the proposed charter amendment be approved by the voters, in my opinion, it would increase the cost of government by an amount, estimated by the Retirement System actuary, of approximately $3.5 million per year for the next 20 years, thereafter dropping to about half that amount.

However, the net amount the City actually has to contribute to the Retirement System for firefighters will also depend on salary increases. For example, the 1996-98 contract for firefighters granted lower salary increases than had been expected by the retirement system which reduces the City’s contribution to the retirement plan from what had been projected by about $2 million per year for the next 15 years. If salary increases in the future are lower than the 4.5% estimated, they could offset some or all of the costs of this increase in benefits.

Firefighter Retirement Benefits

PROONENT’S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION D

Vote Yes on Proposition D.
No city in California has more capable or committed firefighters than San Francisco. Unfortunately, our firefighters’ retirement plan is lower than other major California cities.
This proposal simply brings retirement benefits for our firefighters up to the prevailing statewide level.
It also ensures that the new generation of firefighters, hired after 1976, will receive the same level of disability payments as other San Francisco firefighters when they are injured in the course of their often dangerous duties.

At a time when San Francisco taxpayers are saving an estimated $40 million per year because of reduced contributions to the City’s retirement fund, this modest proposal will enable us to be fair to firefighters without substantial increase in taxpayer costs.
Our firefighters put their lives on the line to protect us. This is our chance to treat them fairly without jeopardizing the City’s finances.

Vote Yes on Proposition D.

Board of Supervisors

REBUTTAL TO PROONENT’S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION D

There’s no legitimate question that San Francisco firefighters are capable and committed. That, however, is not the point of opposition to Proposition D. The measure reverses a sound fiscal policy adopted by voters 20 years ago to cure a cost runaway which constituted an enormous drain on San Francisco taxpayers. Prior to the 1976 voter modification of the firefighters’ retirement benefits, inordinately high payments were enshrined in the Charter. The controller stated in 1976 that $21,347,000 would be saved by the reform, which Proposition D attempts to undo. Reversing that salutary voter action will inevitably lead to pension payments which far exceed those of most San Francisco private sector workers and other city employees.

Because of the popularity of firefighters, it’s always been difficult for Board of Supervisors members to resist the impulse to grant higher benefits. It was only because of the resolve of the 1976 Board of Supervisors, led by the late John Barbagelata, that the present system of payments, including monthly payments of up to 70 percent of the average three year highest firefighter salary, was established. It’s axiomatic that those who forget history’s lessons are designed to repeat mistakes. Let’s not return to the pre-1976 excesses which afflicted San Francisco’s fiscal affairs. Vote NO on Proposition D.

State Senator Quentin L. Kopp
San Francisco Taxpayers Association
OPPONENT'S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION D

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION D!

Proposition D would undo city employee compensation and benefit reforms which were scrupulously studied and approved by voters 20 years ago to stop excessive payments of taxpayer dollars. The charter amendment relating to retirement benefits for firefighters and police officers was overwhelmingly approved by voters on November 2, 1976. It provides retired firefighters with a pension payment of up to 70 percent of the firefighters average final compensation, which, in turn, is the average base salary during the three years highest consecutive pay period. There aren’t many pension plans as high as that. This proposal would raise the retirement allowance to 75 percent of an average member’s final year compensation. Our city controller states that Proposition D would increase taxpayers costs by $3,500,000 per year for the next 20 years. Thus, final compensation would be based on the highest one year average pay rather than the highest three years as is the case presently. The average compensation of firefighters is $57,000 per year. If a firefighter obtains disability retirement, the benefit would range from 50 percent to 90 percent of final compensation, depending on the severity of the injury, rather than the current 50 percent of final compensation disability benefit provided in the state retirement system and by the Charter reform of 1976.

VOTE “NO” ON PROPOSITION D!

The inordinate costs which were averted by the 1976 Charter reform will re-occur if Proposition D is approved. Don’t permit those careful, hard-fought taxpayer reforms instituted by the late Supervisor John Barbagelata to be overcome through data manipulation. The present retirement system is sensible and superior to private industry retirement systems. It should be retained. Vote “No” on Proposition D!

State Senator Quentin L. Kopp
SAN FRANCISCO TAXPAYERS ASSOCIATION

REBUTTAL TO OPPONENT'S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION D

The present retirement system for San Francisco firefighters is unfair and needs to be replaced. When voters approved the current pension system in 1976, they clearly intended to ensure that San Francisco firefighters would receive the average pension benefit prevailing in California, and no higher. That is exactly the same intention Proposition D has today. Proposition D does not undo this past legislation — it simply updates it.

Proposition D is necessary because San Francisco firefighters' retirement benefits have fallen below the prevailing California level.

Proposition D also corrects the unfair two-tier pension system which was an unintended consequence of the 1976 reforms. This system discriminates against the new generation of firefighters — many of whom are minorities and women — and gives these firefighters only 50% disability payments even if they are blinded or otherwise severely incapacitated in the line of duty.

Proposition D is also fair to taxpayers. In fact, firefighters have volunteered $2 million in wage concessions in order to make this new, fair pension system affordable for the City.

The aims of Proposition D are clear: to bring San Francisco firefighters up to the prevailing level of pension benefits paid to firefighters in other California cities, and to correct the imbalance which makes newer firefighters second class citizens in the pension system.

Proposition D is for the men and women who put their lives on the line to protect us.

Please support fairness and your firefighters and vote Yes on Proposition D.

Every firefighter in this city swears a sacred bond — to risk his or her life to save the lives of endangered citizens. They uphold their bond in the line of duty every day.

Now it is our turn to honor this bond by voting Yes on Proposition D.

This proposal is about fairness — it brings retirement benefits for San Francisco firefighters up to the prevailing statewide level.

It also ensures that firefighters hired since 1976 — including the vast majority of women and minority firefighters — receive exactly the same retirement and disability benefits as those hired before.

It does this at little cost to taxpayers and in a manner that is affordable to the City.

That's fair treatment for those who risk their lives for us.

Taxpayers should know that Proposition D is not a “gift” from the City to firefighters.

This proposal was preceded by significant wage concessions made by Fire Fighters in negotiations that took place during my administration.

These concessions currently save San Francisco taxpayers $2 million per year — almost 60% of the cost of Proposition D.

Firefighters made these concessions in order to equalize their pension system with the 90% of California firefighters who receive the same benefits called for in Proposition D.

As a former San Francisco Police Chief and Mayor, I assure you that Proposition D is fair, fiscally sound and important for our long-term fire safety.

TAX WATCHDOGS SEE NO CAUSE FOR ALARM
As long-time tax watchdogs, we’d be the first to sound the alarm if we thought Prop D was just another attack on the taxpayers.
In fact, it’s just the opposite. The $1.5 million annual cost of this proposal will give taxpayers a far greater return by securing the safety brought to us by the state’s finest fire-fighting force.
Recent budget reports show that San Francisco has a surplus in our retirement trust. Because of this, annual city payments have been reduced by $40 million.
That doesn’t mean it’s time to raid the hen house. But it does give us the opportunity to keep our firefighting capability strong by correcting an unfair disparity in retirement benefits for firefighters — without endangering our finances.

Firefighters are essential to the safety of our City. These men and women put their lives on the line every day to ensure our safety and well-being. Yet our San Francisco firefighters receive lower benefits than those provided by other major California cities.

Proposition D corrects this inequity. It allows us to improve retirement benefits for our newer firefighters, at a time when the city retirement trust has a surplus. The city already provides generous salaries and a retirement benefits package that was agreed to by both the city and employees. All city employees are fully informed of this compensation package at the time of hire. Prop D would set a bad precedent by allowing different employee groups to request more generous benefits than others, placing upward pressure on city costs. The city controller estimates the net cost to the city would be about $1.5 million per year. Vote No on D.

Describing and setting forth a proposal to the qualified electors of the City an County of San Francisco to amend the Charter of said City and County by amending Appendix A.8.588 thereof, relating to retirement benefits for firefighters.

The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby submits to the qualified electors of said city and county at an election to be held therein on November 5, 1996 a proposal to amend the Charter of said city and county by amending Appendix A.8.588 to read as follows:

NOTE: Additions or substitutions are indicated by bold face type; deletions are indicated by strike-out type.

A.8.588 Members of the Fire Department After November 1, 1976

Those persons who become members of the fire department, as defined in Section 8.588-1, on or after November 2, 1976, shall be members of the system subject to the provisions of Sections 8.588, 8.588-1, 8.588-2, 8.588-3, 8.588-4, 8.588-5, 8.588-6, 8.588-7, 8.588-8, 8.588-9, 8.588-10, 8.588-11, 8.588-12, 8.588-13, and 8.588-14 (which shall apply to members under Section 8.588) in addition to the provisions contained in Sections 3.670 to 3.672, both inclusive, and Sections 8.500, 8.510, 8.520 and 8.526 of this charter, notwithstanding the provisions of any other section of this charter, and shall not be subject to any of the provisions of Sections 8.586 or 8.585 of this charter.

A.8.588-1 Definitions

The following words and phrases as used in this section, Section 8.588 and Sections 8.585-2 through 8.588-14, unless a different meaning is primarily required by the context, shall have the following meanings:

"Retirement allowance," "death allowance" or "allowance," shall mean equal monthly payments, beginning to accrue upon the date of retirement, or upon the day following the date of death, as the case may be, and continuing for life unless a different term of payment is definitely provided by the context.

"Compensation," as distinguished from benefits under the Workers' Compensation Insurance and Safety Act of the State of California, shall mean the remuneration payable in cash, by the city and county, without deduction except for absence from duty, for time during which the individual receiving such remuneration is a member of the fire department, but excluding remuneration paid for overtime. Subject to requirement that it be payable in cash and that overtime be excluded, "compensation" for pension purposes may be defined in a collective bargaining agreement.

"Compensation earmarked" shall mean the compensation which would have been earned had the member received compensation without interruption throughout the period under consideration and at the rates of remuneration attached at that time to the ranks or positions held by him or her during such period, it being assumed that during any absence, he or she was in the rank or position held by him or her at the beginning of the absence, and that prior to becoming a member of the fire department, he or she was in the rank or position first held by him or her in such department.

"Benefit" shall include "allowance," "retirement allowance," "death allowance" and "death benefit."

"Final compensation" shall mean the average monthly compensation earmarked by a member during any one three-consecutive years of credited service in which his or her average compensation is the highest.

For the purpose of Sections 8.588 through 8.588-14, the terms "member of the fire department," "member of the department," or "member" shall mean any officer or employee of the fire department employed after November 1, 1976 who was or shall be subject to the charter provisions governing entrance requirements of members of the uniformed force of said department and said terms shall further mean persons employed after November 1, 1976 at an age not greater than the maximum age that prescribed for entrance into employment in said uniformed perform duties now performed under the titles of pilot of fireboats, marine engineer of fireboats; provided, however, that said terms shall not include any person who has not satisfactorily completed such course of training as may be required by the fire department prior to assignment to active duty with said department.

"Retirement system" or "system" shall mean San Francisco City and County Employees' Retirement System as created in Section 8.500 of the charter.

"Retirement board" shall mean "retirement board" as created in Section 3.670 of the charter.

"Charter" shall mean the charter of the City and County of San Francisco.

Words used in the masculine gender shall include the feminine and neuter gender, and singular numbers shall include the plural and the plural the singular.

"Interest" shall mean interest at the rate adopted by the retirement board.

A.8.588-2 Service Retirement

Any member of the fire department who completes at least twenty-five (25) years of service in the aggregate and attains the age of fifty (50) years, said service to be computed under Section 8.588-10, may retire for service at his or her option. A member retired after meeting the service and age requirements in the sentence next preceding, shall receive a retirement allowance equal to the larger of (a) two percent of final compensation for each of the first twenty-five (25) years of service, then three percent of final compensation for each year of service rendered in excess of twenty-five (25) years or (b) fifty (50)-percent of the final compensation of said member, as defined in Section 8.588-1, plus an allowance at the rate of three percent of said final compensation for each year of service rendered in excess of twenty-five (25) years; provided, however, that such retirement allowance shall not exceed seventy (70) percent of said member's final compensation. If, at the date of retirement for service, or retirement for disability, resulting from an injury received in the performance of duty, said member has no spouse, children or dependent parents, who would qualify for the continuance of the allowance after the death of said member, or with respect to the portion of the allowance which would not be continued regardless of dependents, or upon retirement for disability resulting from other causes, with respect to all of the allowance and regardless of dependents at retirement, a member retired under this section or Section 8.588-3, may elect before the first payment of the retirement allowance is made, to receive the actuarial equivalent of his or her allowance or the portion which would not be continued regardless of dependents, as the case may be, partly in a lesser allowance to be received by him throughout his or her life, and partly in other benefits payable after his or her death to another person or persons, provided that such election shall be subject to all the provisions prescribed by the board of supervisors to govern similar elections by other members of the retirement system, including the character and amount of such other benefits: the percent of final compensation (as defined in Section 8.588-1) set forth opposite his or her age at retirement, taken to the preceding completed quarter year, for each year of service, as computed under Section 8.588-10: Retirement Age Percent for Each Year of Credited Service

In no event, however, shall such a retirement allowance exceed seventy-five (75) percent of a member's final compensation.

A.8.588-3 Retirement for Incapacity

Any member of the fire department who becomes incapacitated for the performance of his or her duty by reason of any bodily injury received in, or illness caused by the performance of his or her duty, shall be retired. If he or she is not qualified for service retirement, he or she shall receive a retirement allowance equal to-percent of the final compensation of said member, as defined in Section 8.588-1. In an amount which shall be equal to the same percentage of the final compensation of said member, as defined in Section 8.585-1, as his percentage of disability is determined to be. The percentage of disability shall be as determined by the Workers’ Compensation Appeals Board of the State of California upon referral from the retirement board for that purpose; provided that the retirement board may, by five affirmative votes, adjust the percentage of disability as determined by said appeals board; and provided, further, that such retirement allowance shall be in an amount not less than 50 percent nor more than 90 percent of the final compensation of said member, as defined in Section 8.585-1. Said allowance shall be paid to him or her until the date upon which said member would have completed at least twenty-five (25) years of service in the aggregate and attained the age of fifty (50) years qualified for service retirement had he or she lived and rendered service without interruption in the rank held by him or her at death, and such allowance shall be equal to three-fourths of the retirement allowance which the member would have received if he or she had been retired for service on the date of death, but such allowance shall not be less than 50 percent of the final compensation earnable by said member immediately preceding death. If death occurs prior to qualification for service retirement, the allowance payable shall be equal to the compensation of said member at the date of death, until the date upon which said member would have completed at least twenty-five (25) years of service in the aggregate and attained the age of fifty (50) years qualified for service retirement, had he or she lived and rendered service without interruption in the rank held by him or her at death, and such allowance shall be equal to three-fourths of the retirement allowance said member would have received if retired for service on said date, based on the final compensation he or she would have received prior to said date, had he or she lived and rendered service as assumed, but such allowance shall not be less than fifty percent of such final compensation.

If, at the time of retirement because of disability, he or she is qualified as to age and service for retirement under Section 8.588-2, or he or she shall receive an allowance equal to the retirement allowance which he or she would receive if retired under Section 8.588-2, but not less than 50 percent of said final compensation. Any member of the fire department who becomes incapacitated for performance of his or her duties due to reason of a cause not included under the provisions of the immediately preceding sentences, and who shall have completed at least 10 years of service in the aggregate, computed as provided in Section 8.588-10, shall be retired upon an allowance of 1-1/2 percent of the final compensation of said member as defined in Section 8.588-1 for each year of service, provided that said allowance shall not be less than 33-1/3 percent of said final compensation. The question of retiring a member under this section may be brought before the retirement board on said board’s own motion, by recommendation of the fire commission or by said member or his or her guardian. If his or her disability shall cease, his or her retirement allowance shall cease and he or she shall be restored to the service in the rank he or she occupied at the time of his or her retirement.

A8.588-4 Death Allowance
If a member of the fire department shall die before or after retirement by reason of an injury received in, or illness caused by the performance of his or her duty, a death allowance, in lieu of any allowance, payable under any other section of the charter or by ordinance, on account of death resulting from injury received in or illness caused by the performance of duty, shall be paid, beginning on the date next following the date of death, to his or her surviving wife throughout her life or until her remarriage. If the member, at the time of death, was qualified for service retirement, but he or she had not retired, the allowance payable shall be equal to three-fourths of the retirement allowance which the member would have received if he or she had been retired for service on the date of death, but such allowance shall not be less than 50 percent of the final compensation earnable by said member immediately preceding death. If death occurs prior to qualification for service retirement, the allowance payable shall be equal to the compensation of said member at the date of death, until the date upon which said member would have completed at least twenty-five (25) years of service in the aggregate and attained the age of fifty (50) years qualified for service retirement, had he or she lived and rendered service without interruption in the rank held by him or her at death, and such allowance shall be equal to three-fourths of the retirement allowance said member would have received if retired for service on said date, based on the final compensation he or she would have received prior to said date, had he or she lived and rendered service as assumed, but such allowance shall not be less than fifty percent of such final compensation. If he or she had retired prior to death, for service or for disability resulting from injury received in, or illness caused by the performance of duty, the allowance payable shall be equal to three-fourths of the retirement allowance of the member, except that if he or she was a member under Section 8.588 and retirement was for such disability, and if death occurred prior to qualification for the service retirement allowance, the allowance continued shall be adjusted upon the date at which said member would have completed at least twenty-five (25) years of service in the aggregate and attained the age of fifty (50) years qualified for service retirement, in the same manner as it would have been adjusted had the member not died.

If there be no surviving wife entitled to an allowance hereunder, or if she dies or remarries before every child of such deceased member attains the age of 18 years, then the allowance which the surviving wife would have received had she lived and not remarried shall be paid to his or her child or children under said age, collectively, until every such child dies or attains said age, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of 18 years. Should said member leave no surviving wife and no children under the age of 18 years, but leave a parent or parents dependent upon him or her for support, the parents so dependent shall collectively receive a monthly allowance equal to that which a surviving wife otherwise would have received, during such dependency. No allowance, however, shall be paid under this section to a surviving wife following the death of a member unless she was married to the member prior to the date of the injury or onset of the illness which results in death.

A8.588-5 Payment to Surviving Dependents
Upon the death of a member of the fire department resulting from any cause other than an injury received in, or illness caused by performance of duty one-half of the retirement allowance to which the member would have been entitled if he or she had retired for service at the date of death or one-half of the retirement allowance as it was at his or her death, as the case may be, shall be continued through out his or her life or until remarriage to his or her surviving wife, or
(b) if his or her death occurred after the completion of at least 25 years of service in the aggregate but prior to the attainment of the age of 50 years, one-half of the retirement allowance to which he or she would have been entitled under Section 8.588-2 if he or she had attained the age of 50 years on the date of his or her death shall be continued throughout life or until remarriage to his surviving wife, or
(c) his or her death occurred after retirement for disability by reason of injury received in or illness caused by performance of duty, three-fourths of his or her retirement allowance as it was at his or her death shall be continued throughout life or until remarriage to his surviving wife, except that, if death occurred prior to qualification for service retirement allowance, the allowance continued shall be adjusted upon the date on which said member would have completed at least twenty-five (25) years of service in the aggregate and attained the age of fifty (50) years qualified for service retirement, in the same manner as it would have been adjusted had the member not died, or
(d) if his or her death occurred after completion of at least 10 years of service in the aggregate, computed as provided in Section 8.588-10, an allowance in an amount equal to the retirement allowance to which the member would have been entitled pursuant to Section 8.588-3 if he or she had retired on the date of death because of incapacity for performance of duty shall be paid throughout life or until remarriage to his surviving wife. If there be no surviving wife entitled to an allowance hereunder, or if she dies or remarries before every child of such deceased member attains the age of 18 years, then the allowance which the surviving wife would have received had she lived and not remarried shall be paid to his or her child or children under said age, collectively, to continue until every such child dies or attains said age, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of 18 years. Should said member leave no surviving wife and no children, under age of 18 years, but leave a child or children, regardless of age, dependent upon him or her for support because partially or totally disabled and unable to earn a livelihood or a parent or parents dependent upon him or her for support, the child or children and the parents so dependent shall collectively receive a monthly allowance equal to that which a surviving wife otherwise would have received, during such dependency. No allowance, however, shall be paid under this section to a surviving wife unless she was married to the member prior to the date of the injury or onset of the illness which results in death if he or she had not retired, or unless she was married to the member at least one year prior to his or her retirement if he or she had retired.

As used in this section and Section 8.588-4 "surviving wife" shall mean and include a surviving spouse, and shall also mean and include a spouse who has remarried since the death of the member, but whose remarriage has been terminated by death, divorce or annulment within five years after the date of such remarriage and who has not thereafter again remarried.

The surviving wife, in the event of death of the member after qualification for but before service retirement, may elect before the first payment of the allowance, to receive the benefit provided in Section 8.588-8, in lieu of the allowance which otherwise would be continued to her under this section. If there be no surviving wife, the guardian of the eligible child or children may make such an election, and if there be no such children, the dependent parent or parents may make such election. "Qualified for service retirement," "qualification for service retirement" or "qualified as to age and service for retirement," as used in this section and other sections to which persons who are members under Section 8.588 are subject, shall mean completion of 25 years of service and attainment of age 50, said service to be computed under Section 8.588-10.

A.8.588-6 Adjustment of Allowances

Every retirement or death allowance payable to or on account of any member under Section 8.588 shall be adjusted in accordance with the provisions of Subsection (b) of Section 8.526 of this charter.

A.8.588-7 Adjustment for Compensation Payments

That portion of any allowance payable because of the death or retirement of any member of the fire department which is provided by contributions of the city and county, shall be reduced in the manner fixed by the board of supervisors, by the amount of any benefits other than medical benefits, payable by the city and county to or on account of such person, under any workers' compensation law or any other general law and because of the injury or illness resulting in said death or retirement. Such portion which is paid because of death or retirement which resulted from injury received in, or illness caused by performance of duty, shall be considered as in lieu of all benefits, other than medical benefits, payable to or on account of such person under such law and shall be in satisfaction and discharge of the obligation of the city and county to pay such benefits.

A.8.588-8 Death Benefit

If a member of the fire department shall die, before retirement from causes other than an injury received in, or illness caused by the performance of duty, or regardless of cause if no allowance shall be payable under Section 8.588-4 or 8.588-5 preceding, a death benefit shall be paid to his or her estate or designated beneficiary, the amount of which and the conditions for the payment of which shall be determined in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors for the death benefit of other members of the retirement system.

Upon the death of a member after retirement and regardless of the cause of death, a death benefit shall be paid to his or her estate or designated beneficiary the amount of which and the conditions for the payment of which shall be determined in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors for the death benefit of other members of the retirement system.

A.8.588-9 Refunds and Redeposits

Should any member of the fire department cease to be employed as such a member, through any cause other than death or retirement or transfer to another office or department, all of his or her contributions, with interest credited thereon, shall be refunded to him or her subject to the conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors to govern similar terminations of employment of other members of the retirement system. If he or she shall again become a member of the department, he or she shall redeposit in the retirement fund the amount refunded to him or her. Should a member of the fire department become an employee of any other office or department, his or her accumulated contribution account shall be adjusted by payments to or from him or her as the case may be to make the accumulated contributions credited to him or her at the time of change equal to the amount which would have been credited to him or her if he or she had been employed in said other office or department at the rate of compensation received by him or her in the fire department and he or she shall receive credit for service for which said contributions were made, according to the charter section under which his or her membership in the retirement system continues.

A.8.588-10 Computation of Service

The following time shall be included in the computation of the service to be credited to a member of the fire department for the purpose of determining whether such member qualified for retirement and calculating benefits, excluding, however, any time, the contributions for which were withdrawn by said member upon termination of his or her service while he or she was a member under any other charter section, and not redeposited upon re-entry into service:

(a) Time during and for which said member is entitled to receive compensation because of services as a member of the police or fire department under Section 8.586 and 8.588 respectively.

(b) Time prior to November 2, 1976 during which said member was entitled to receive compensation while a member of the police or fire department under any other section of the charter, provided that accumulated contributions on account of such service previously refunded are redeposited with interest from the date of refund to the date of redeposit at times and in the manner fixed by the retirement board; and solely for the purpose of determining qualification for retirement under Section 8.588-3 for disability not resulting from injury received in, or illness caused by performance of duty, time during which said member serves and receives compensation because of services rendered in other offices and departments.

(c) Time during which said member is absent from a status included in Subsection (a) next preceding, by reason of service in the armed forces of the United States of America, or by reason of any other service included in Section 8.520 of the charter, during any war in which the United States was or shall be engaged or during other national emergency, and for which said member contributed or contributes to the retirement system or for which the city and county contributed or contributes on his or her account.

A.8.588-11 Sources of Funds

All payments provided for members under Section 8.588 shall be made from funds derived from the following sources, plus interest earned on said funds:

(a) There shall be deducted from each payment of compensation made to a member under Section 8.588 a sum equal to seven percent of such payment of compensation. The sum so deducted shall be paid forthwith to the retirement system. Said contribution shall be credited to the individual account of the member from whose salary it was deducted, and the total of said contributions, together with interest credited thereon in the same manner as is prescribed by the board of supervisors for crediting interest to contributions of other members of the retirement system, shall be applied to provide part of the retirement allowance granted to, or allowance granted on account of said member, or shall be paid to said member or his or her estate or beneficiary as provided in Sections 8.588-8, 8.588-9 and 8.588-10.

(b) The city and county shall contribute to the retirement system such amounts as may be necessary, when added to the contributions referred to in Subsection (a) of this Section 8.588-11, to provide the benefits payable to members under Section 8.588. Such contributions of the city and county to provide the portion of the benefits hereunder shall be made in annual installments, and the installment to be paid in any year shall be determined by the application of a percentage to the total compensation paid during said year to persons who are members under Section 8.588, said percentage to be determined by the ratio of the value on November 2, 1976, or at the later date of a periodical actuarial valuation and investigation into the experience under the system, of the benefits thereafter to be paid to or on account of members under Section 8.588 from contributions of the city and county, less the amount of such contributions plus accumulated interest thereon, then held by said system to provide said benefits on account of service rendered by respective members after said date, to the value on said respective dates of salaries thereafter payable to said members. Said values shall be determined by the actuary, who shall take into account the interest which shall be earned on said contributions, the compensation (Continued on next page) experience of members, and the probabilities of separation by all causes, of members from service before retirement and of death after retirement. Said percentage shall be changed only on the basis of said periodical actuarial valuation and investigation into the experience under the system. Said actuarial valuation shall be made every even-numbered year and said investigation into the experience under the system shall be made every odd-numbered year.

(c) To promote the stability of the retirement system through a joint participation in the result of variations in the experience under mortality, investment and other contingencies, the contributions of both members and the city and county held by the system to provide benefits for members under Section 8.588, shall be a part of the fund in which all other assets of said system are included.

A8.588-12 Right to Retire

Upon the completion of the years of service set forth in Section 8.588-2 as requisite to retirement, a member of the fire department shall be entitled to retire at any time thereafter in accordance with the provisions of said Section 8.588-2, and except as provided in the following paragraph, nothing shall deprive said member of said right.

Any member of the fire department convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude committed in connection with his or her duties as a member of the fire department shall, upon termination of his or her employment pursuant to the provisions of this charter, forfeit all rights to any benefits under the retirement system except refund of his or her accumulated contributions; provided, however, that if such member is qualified for service retirement by reason of service and age under the provisions of Section 8.588-2, he or she shall have the right to elect, without right of revocation and within 90 days of the termination of his or her employment, whether to withdraw all of his or her accumulated contributions or to receive as his or her sole benefit under the retirement system an annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his or her accumulated contributions at the time of such termination of employment.

A8.588-13 Limitation on Employment During Retirement

(a) Except as provided in Section 8.511 of this charter and in Subsection (b) of this section, no person retired as a member under Section 8.588 for service or disability and entitled to receive a retirement allowance under the retirement system shall be employed in any capacity by the city and county, nor shall such person receive any payment for services rendered to the city and county after retirement.

(b) (1) Service as an election officer or juror, or in the preparation for or giving testimony as an expert witness for or on behalf of the city and county before any court or legislative body shall be affected by the provisions of Subsection (a) of this section.

(2) The provisions of Subsection (a) shall not prevent such retired person from serving on any board or commission of the city and county and receiving the compensation for such office, provided said compensation does not exceed $100 per month.

(3) If such retired person is elected or appointed to a position or office which subjects him/her him or her to membership in the retirement system under Section 8.588, he/she-he or she shall re-enter membership under Section 8.588 and his/her his or her retirement allowance shall be canceled immediately upon his/her his or her re-entry. The provisions of Subsection (a) of this section shall not prevent such person from receiving the compensation for such position or office. The rate of contributions of such member shall be the same as that for other members under Section 8.588. Such member's individual account shall be credited with an amount which is the actuarial equivalent of his/her his or her annuity at the time of his/her his or her re-entry, but the amount thereof shall not exceed the amount of his/her his or her accumulated contributions at the time of his/her his or her retirement. Such member shall also receive credit for his/her his or her service as it was at the time of his/her his or her retirement.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this charter to the contrary, should any person retired for disability engage in a gainful occupation prior to attaining the age of 55 years, the retirement board shall reduce that part of his/her his or her monthly retirement allowance which is provided by contributions of the city and county to an amount which, when added to the amount of the compensation earnable, at the time he/she he or she engages in the gainful occupation, by such person if he/she he or she held the position which he/she he or she held at the time of his or her retirement, or, if that position has been abolished, the compensation earnable by the member if he/she he or she held the position from which he/she he or she was retired immediately prior to its abolition.

Any section or part of any section in this charter, insofar as it should conflict with the provisions of Sections 8.588 through 8.588-13 or with any part thereof, shall be superseded by the contents of said sections. In the event that any word, phrase, clause or section of said sections shall be adjudged unconstitutional, the remainder thereof shall remain in full force and effect.

A8.588-15 Vesting

Notwithstanding any provisions of this charter to the contrary should any member of the fire department who is a member of the Retirement System under Charter Section 8.586 with five years of credited service, cease to be so employed, through any cause other than death or retirement, he or she shall have the right to elect, without right of revocation and within 90 days after termination of said service, to allow his or her accumulated contributions including interest to remain in the retirement fund and to receive a retirement benefit, calculated at termination, defined as that proportion of the normal service retirement benefit that his or her accrued service credit bears to 25 years, payable beginning at age 50.

Digest
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Certain rules governing the City's employee and labor relations are set in the City Charter. These include:
- Most retirement benefits for City workers are set in the Charter.
- The Charter authorizes the Health Services Board to set health benefits for City employees.
- Certain disciplinary procedures used by the Police Commission and the Fire Commission are set in the Charter.

Under the Charter, the Civil Service Commission makes rules for the hiring and promotion of City employees. Members of this Commission serve six-year terms.

Under the Charter, many City employees who work as managers are hired under the civil service process and can be fired only for cause, such as poor performance or misconduct.

The Charter can only be changed by the voters.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition E is a Charter amendment that would change certain rules governing the City's employee and labor relations.
- City employee unions could bargain with the City for changes in retirement benefits. Unresolved issues would be settled through arbitration. Changes in retirement benefits would be submitted to the Board of Supervisors, rather than to the voters, for approval or disapproval.
- The Charter would prohibit the City from approving changes that exceeded certain financial limits.
- City employee unions could bargain with the City for health benefits. Unresolved issues would be settled through arbitration. Changes in health benefits would not require approval by the Health Services Board.
- The Police Commission and the Fire Commission could change certain disciplinary procedures without voter approval. Proposition E would not change the powers and procedures of the Office of Citizens Complaints. Voter approval would still be needed to change disciplinary procedures in police misconduct cases involving crowd control, serious injury or death, excessive force, or illegal discrimination.

The Civil Service Commission would be replaced by a new Civil Service and Employee Relations Commission. Members of the new Commission would serve three-year terms. The new Commission would perform the same duties as the old Commission. In addition, the new Commission would enforce the City Charter requirement that contractors for public works projects pay prevailing wages.

Some City employees who work as high-level managers would be hired outside the civil service process and could be fired without cause. The new Commission would decide whether other managers also could be hired outside the civil service process and could be fired without cause. These changes would not apply to the City workers who currently hold these management jobs.

A "YES" VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to make these changes in the laws governing employee and labor relations.

A "NO" VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to make these changes.

Controller's Statement on "E"

City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition E:

In my opinion, the principal cost of this proposed charter amendment would come from allowing the City and employee unions to bargain over retirement benefits. As a result of this new authority, the cost of government could increase or decrease, depending on the outcome of future negotiations. However, it is likely that increased retirement benefits will be negotiated.

The proposal establishes two cost limits to what can be negotiated. One limit would require that the retirement system be at least 90% funded. Currently the retirement system has assets worth 109% of liabilities. The difference between 109% and 90% funding would allow for benefits to be negotiated worth $1.1 billion or approximately $100 million per year in additional costs.

A second limitation is that benefits cannot be negotiated which would be higher than certain state retirement plans or the average of some components of the plans in effect in the largest 10 Cities in California. Matching to the state plans would cost about $50 million more per year than the City currently contributes. It is unclear how to calculate the average of the costs of plans in the largest 10 cities so the effect of this limit is unknown.

The City's contributions to the retirement plans are also dependent on salary increases and return on the investment of funds in the retirement system. To the extent salaries are increased less than a projected 4.5% annually or investment return is greater than 8.25%, the City's contribution would be lower than shown above.

Other proposed changes in this charter amendment would, in my opinion, have little or no direct impact on the cost of government.

How Supervisors Voted on "E"

On July 29, 1996 the Board of Supervisors voted 8-1 to place Proposition E on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisor Leal.
ABSENT: Supervisors Alioto and Hsieh.

PROponent's Argument in Favor of Proposition E

Vote Yes on Proposition E.
San Franciscans desire and deserve a more efficient city government. Efficiency means maximum performance at minimal cost. True reform of government requires voters to understand and embrace conscientious change.

Let’s be sensible. Under the current City Charter, the City has no power to negotiate with labor unions on health and retirement benefits. These benefits are “locked in” and can only be changed through a costly and time-consuming charter amendment. A good contract for both the City and for employees cannot be negotiated when only half the issues are on the table.

All matters affecting City employees, including salary, work rules and health and retirement benefits should be subject to collective bargaining. This allows for give and take at the bargaining table and allows both sides to negotiate effectively. In addition, this measure is fiscally restrained, with important safeguards that place a cap on retirement benefits.

This is simply good business.
The City also needs hiring jurisdiction over some mid- and top-level management employees. Current jobholders are protected by the Charter whether they perform well or not. The merit system should be employed for all workers in supervisory positions. Under this measure, no current employee can be fired. When the position is vacated, the new employee will be subject to the merit system.

This is simply good management.

REButtal to Proponent's Argument in Favor of Proposition E

Vote No on Proposition E.
Contrary to the claims of its sponsors, Prop. E does nothing to guarantee increased performance in city government.

Prop. E will do the following:
• Abrogate San Franciscans’ right to vote on costly retirement and health benefit increases.
• Allow city employees to bargain for more than $1,000,000,000 in new retirement benefits without voter approval. This will increase the cost of government by $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 per year, according to the City Controller and the actuary for the city retirement system.
• Eliminate the Civil Service Commission, the independent watchdog which ensures that city jobs are not dispensed through patronage, and fire the current commission.
• Eliminate civil service protections for hundreds of city positions, making them political appointments. The city already has the power to remove managers if they fail to perform, and the Mayor already has 350 non-civil service appointments. Prop. E is a mechanism for dispensing spoils jobs.

Prop. E was drafted in private by lobbyists for two city unions. It was rushed through the Board of Supervisors with little regard for the public’s right-to-know and the City’s open meeting laws.

I strongly urge you to vote No on Prop. E.

OPPONENT'S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION E

This ARROGANT POWER-GRAB was DENOUNCED BY the MUNICIPAL EXECUTIVES ASSOCIATION, representing some 350 managers of City departments whose CIVIL SERVICE PROTECTIONS ARE POLITICALLY THREATENED.

Objected Municipal Executives Association President, Vitaly Troyan:

"I received a new draft (of this legislation) at 10 this morning (July 29th); I came in at 3 and was given another draft; then I was given another at 4, and I hope things haven't changed since then. Why are we in such a rush?" (7/30/96 Examiner.)

Commented business-oriented COMMITTEE ON JOBS President Doug Shorenstein at the chaotic July 29th Supervisors' ballot hearing:

"There has been no due process....(T)he process has been hijacked."

The Examiner paraphrased his as follows:

"(The legislation offers)...little to protect the public from skyrocketing city pension costs — and higher taxes....He complained the proposal had been railroaded through without enough consideration of potential costs."

The proposal would fire current Civil Service Commissioners, allowing Mayor Willie Brown to "pack" the Commission.

Supervisors grumbled about "nearly impossible to understand...amendments...... inserted into the 43-page document..." and asked a Deputy City Attorney whether the various amendments violated CALIFORNIA'S OPEN MEETING LAWS.

Material changes were made by amendments WITHOUT PRIOR PUBLIC NOTICE, union leaders being given the right to negotiate their city employees out of the San Francisco health insurance fund....a dangerous power.

Warned Supervisor Susan Leal, voting against this measure:

"(T)his process is going to be a black eye to all of us...We have amendments just flying around....It's embarrassing, and it's probably going to be defeated in November."

REBUTTAL TO OPPONENT'S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION E

Proposition E was a collaborative effort. It was written after several negotiating sessions with a variety of interests, including labor unions and business leaders. Many of the suggestions — from both labor and the Committee on Jobs — were incorporated into the final draft. To claim that the measure is the result of one interest group or another is plain wrong.

Proposition E had more than adequate airing in the form of public hearings. The proposal was introduced publicly to the Board of Supervisors in July and was heard at three more public hearings during the month before being adopted by the full Board. Dozens of people testified and had input in the process.

The measure includes an important financial safeguard by placing a cap on retirement benefits. The benefits negotiated cannot exceed the amount paid to California workers under the Cal-PERS system and/or the amount equal to the average benefits paid by the ten largest cities in California, excluding San Francisco. There is no "open-ended retirement benefits" threat.

The power of the Civil Service Commission is not threatened. The new commission created by this measure retains all its current authority but finally gets the teeth to enforce the City's prevailing wage requirements for city projects.

Vote Yes on Proposition E for greater efficiency and fairness.

MAYOR BROWN URGES A YES VOTE ON PROP E

I have pledged to make city government work more efficiently. Not just Muni — but every City department.

We all want this.

I can't do this without reforming some of the fundamental ways in which we conduct City business while always respecting the voters' rights.

To hire the best, to work the hardest, to fix what needs to be fixed, we need to change some things. First off, the merit system has to be employed for all city workers in supervisory positions. Prop E gives me a few of the tools I need to start the process — without jeopardizing current employees.

Prop E permits city employee unions to do what employee union who engage in collective bargaining can do throughout California — negotiate over retirement benefits. I'm sure you'll agree with me that this is imminently fair. It is also good business sense.

Prop E was written after many negotiating sessions with interested parties, including representatives from the business community. Their suggestions — many of which were major — were incorporated into the final draft adopted by the Board of Supervisors for voter approval.

These provisions and others insure the fiscal integrity of the Retirement system and will give the City greater flexibility to negotiate the most equitable and fiscally wise contract. In fact, Prop E could very well save the City money through improved negotiating opportunities.

Join me in working for the real change we need at City Hall. For a better, more efficient City government, join me in voting YES on Prop E.

Mayor Willie L. Brown, Jr.

PROE IS A FAIR AND NEEDED CHANGE

For the City to move forward in a fiscally responsible way, occasionally we have to make changes in the way we do business. Prop E makes sense because it allows the City more flexibility in the way it negotiates with its workers. Currently, different classes of employees have different rights with respect to collective bargaining. Prop E will establish a consistent policy for determining salaries, health benefits and retirement under one system for all City and County employees.

Prop E makes fiscal sense because it contains a cap to ensure that the Retirement Fund remains solvent — protecting San Franciscan's investment in the fund.

It contains caps on the amount available to workers for benefits. This is not an unlimited benefit.

That's why I urge you to join me in voting YES on Prop E.

Prop E broadens the responsibilities of the Civil Service Commission and changes the name to Civil Service and Employee Relations Commission. In addition to the current functions, the new Commission would administer the employee relations ordinance and for the first time, enforce existing charter prevailing wage provisions on city public work projects.

This is a needed improvement to the current Charter.

I urge you to join me in giving the Mayor and the Board of Supervisors the flexibility they need to improve City services while being fair to its workers.

I urge you to Vote Yes on Prop E.

FOR A BETTER RUN CITY GOVERNMENT, VOTE YES ON PROP E

For the Muni as well as all City departments to work more efficiently, we can’t keep doing things the way they have been done until now.

Prop E is designed to begin the process of allowing all City departments — Muni included — to make changes in management personnel. This is vitally needed and should be supported by all those who want to see more efficiency at City Hall.

Right now only the Police Department has the ability for the head of the department — the Chief — to hire and promote a new management team to insure diversity as well as excellence in all top management personnel. Political patronage is gone at the Police Department — replaced with a diverse group of talented managers held accountable for their work product by your Chief.

Prop E will allow other departments to follow the Police Department model. Common sense says that this good provision will insure competence, more accountability as well as greater efficiency.

To really change things that need to be changed for the better — we need Prop E to pass.

Top 10 most outrageous things that Prop E WILL NOT do

10. Prop E WILL NOT cost $50,000,000.
   • Prop E could save the City money through improved negotiating opportunities.

9. Prop E WILL NOT raise your taxes — or anybody else’s.
   • It has a cap on how much is negotiable to ensure no increased taxes.

8. Prop E WILL NOT take general fund dollars away from AIDS research, the General Hospital, or anything else.
   • Retirement benefits come from the retirement system — not the general fund. Prop E frees up general fund resources and could mean more money for necessary City programs.

7. Prop E WILL NOT mean the business community will stop spending lots of money in a misleading campaign to confuse you.
   • Even though they helped create its provisions — now they are trashing it. Must be campaign time.

6. Prop E WILL NOT give the Mayor and the Board a blank check to grant huge increases to City employees.
   • It has safeguards to make sure your money is protected.

5. Prop E WILL NOT cost $75,000,000.
   • Common sense tells you so.

4. Prop E WAS NOT written in a back hallway without public discussion and input.
   • Five provisions in Prop E were written by those who now claim they don’t like the process.

3. Prop E WILL NOT fire City employees indiscriminately.
   • It grandfathers in all current employees.

2. Prop E WILL NOT create world peace.
   • It will make City government work better, enforce prevailing wage and the merit system.

1. Prop E WILL NOT cost $100,000,000.
   • Really, it won’t.
Prop E WILL mean more efficiency and will bring fairness to the City’s negotiating process. That’s it.

FOR FAIRNESS, FOR EQUITY, VOTE YES ON PROP E

Women and people of color represent the lion’s share of City workers. Prop E is designed to insure that these workers can negotiate for retirement benefits. Prop E provides for development of a consistent policy for determining salaries, health benefits and retirement under one system for all City and County workers.

We have worked long and hard to diversify the City work force, to insure that people of color and women make a decent wage and are eligible for promotion opportunities. We should not turn back the hands of time — especially because big downtown businesses want to maintain the status quo.

Nothing in Prop E will open up the flood gates of excessive City costs. Prop E contains a provision that, even with negotiations, the benefits provided cannot exceed benefits already begin given by the average of the ten largest cities in the area. That’s it.

Prop E is about fairness. Prop E is about equity.

Finally, Prop E will insure that fair wages are paid for City projects. This is an important provision for our community to support.

The process was fair, the results are good. We need Prop E. We urge you to join us in supporting and voting Yes on Prop E.

SUPERVISOR BARBARA KAUFMAN SUPPORTS PROPOSITION E

I take Charter reform very seriously and support only those amendments that make sense.

I support Prop E for two reasons: accountability and fairness.

Prop E will bring greater accountability to city government by giving the Mayor the authority to make mid-level management changes in order to positively affect public policy. Sometimes the wheels of government grind to a halt because the bureaucracy has stopped them. Prop E will shake up the bureaucracy and move these wheels forward, allowing the Mayor and the Board of Supervisors to get things done.

While accountability is important, so is fairness. Our City’s workers, the men and women who put themselves on the line for public safety and delivery of City services, deserve fairness. Police officers, firefighters and other City workers, who were hired in different years now have substantially different benefit packages.

By standardizing the negotiating process we can create a level playing field for City workers. Passage of Prop E will bring San Francisco in line with other cities in California in dealing with retirement benefits.

Supervisor Barbara Kaufman

The true source of funds used for the publication fee of this argument was Committee for Yes on E.

The current system of labor negotiations prevents The City from getting the best deal because retirement benefits are not on the bargaining table.

This measure will allow The City to include retirement benefits in negotiations in addition to salaries and work rules and will allow city officials to negotiate the best deal. It will also ensure that police, firefighters and other vital personnel receive fair compensation, making these jobs competitive positions that will attract the most qualified applicants.

POLICE DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES WILL IMPROVE WITH PROP E

The Mayor, the Police Chief and the San Francisco Police Commission all agree that reform is needed in the Police Department’s disciplinary system. Prop E gives the Police Commission the power to make the changes needed to assure that disciplinary actions will be taken more promptly, that officers will be held accountable for their actions, and that a better system of accountability will be implemented throughout the Police Department.

Prop E gives necessary authority to the Police Commission to improve disciplinary procedures. The process right now is too cumbersome and time consuming, so that what should be routine disciplinary procedures take too long to enforce.

Rest assured, Prop E does not touch any provisions concerning the Office of Citizen’s Complaints (OCC), crowd control policies or procedures applicable to cases involving allegations of excessive force, discrimination or cases involving serious injury or death. All of these would require voters’ approval for changes to be made.

If you want to authorize the Chief of Police and the Police Commission to improve the SFPD’s disciplinary system, give us the tools we need.

“We Need Prop E”

As a former President and member of the Civil Service Commission from 1988 – 1993, I enthusiastically urge a yes vote on Proposition “E”. This charter amendment expands the powers and authority of the Civil Service Commission in a manner that protects the merit system. Under this new law, the prevailing wage requirements of our city charter would be enforced whereas, until now, no city entity has had that authority.

Proposition E requires that members of the Civil Service and Employee Relations Commission possess both the interests of labor and management on the subjects of employee relations and personnel administration. This positive change will assist the Commission in its deliberations and provide greater assurances of neutrality. VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION E.

Prop E is about fairness.
Real change doesn’t diminish our rights — real change moves us forward towards the future.

I urge you to join me in supporting Prop E because it was drafted to correct some very real problems we didn’t fix in the Charter reform we approved last year. Mainly, it allows a more standard policy of negotiating with our police and firefighters along with other City employees. It gives the Police Commission the right to correct disciplinary regulations they can’t correct now, and it will promote the merit system for management employees.

That means more efficient City government.

PROP E FEATURES STRONG PROTECTIONS FOR THE SAN FRANCISCO RETIREMENT SYSTEM

I am a trustee of the San Francisco Retirement System and a San Francisco taxpayer. This statement reflects my personal opinion, along with that of Board President Casiato that Prop E should be approved — it is not an official position of the Retirement Board.

Our Retirement system is very well funded, with assets over 109% of total liabilities, even though we consistently apply very conservative assumptions.

According to analysis prepared by Retirement System Actuary Kieran Murphy, Prop E’s strict controls on bargaining will:

• Restrict bargained retirement benefits to levels provided other California public employees,
• Safeguard the 100%+ funded status of the Retirement System;
• Place the final decision on increasing retirement benefits in the hands of the Board of Supervisors and the Mayor, not an arbitrator,
• Ensure the tax-qualified status of the Retirement System.

These features build in strong protections for the Retirement system and City taxpayers, and will allow the City to provide more by negotiation from the Retirement System and less from its General Fund. That’s good for the City and General Fund-supported services.

San Francisco retirement benefits are not comparable to benefits provided elsewhere, and have not been improved in over 20 years. Some employee organizations are now negotiating alternative benefits paid from the City’s General Fund, to make up for their lower retirement benefits. That’s not good for the City.

Every jurisdiction that we know of in California bargains retirement benefits — except San Francisco, which requires a vote of the people to make even small changes in retirement benefits. This inflexible, outdated approach has hurt the City’s efforts to bargain equitable overall compensation packages.

I urge you to vote YES on Prop E.

CHARTER REFORM THAT MAKES GOOD SENSE — PROP E

Last year, after a long, exhaustive process, the voters approved major revisions to the Charter intended to make City government more efficient. The goal of this reform was to improve the delivery of vital City services by cutting duplication and eliminating some of the outdated sections of the document.

One major area of City government was omitted from the Charter reform last year — standardizing the negotiating process between the City and its employees.

That’s why Prop E is now before you. It takes up where last year’s reform left off.

We represent police officers, firefighters and City workers. We clearly have a stake in your YES vote. We also believe that Prop E is fair and fiscally responsible.

Prop E was subjected to three public hearings, hours and hours of meetings, and much give and take. Prop E was crafted after looking at how other cities deal with comparable issues, and in keeping with past practices of our City.

We believe that Prop E will bring more accountability and efficiency to the City work force. Prop E will bring fairness to the process as well.

FAIRNESS AND ACCOUNTABILITY ARE BEDROCKS OF GOOD MANAGEMENT

As a business person, I would never invest in or own a business which has the diffuse management accountability of the City and County of San Francisco. Prop E strengthens management's hand by giving the power to negotiate to the City.

Currently, benefits for San Francisco Police Officers are significantly below those of other cities. I have personal knowledge of native San Franciscans whose hearts are in the City, but who have had to work in other departments because of family financial pressures. Common sense dictates that we must turn this inequity around if we are to continue to recruit the best possible new officers to protect our streets.

Beyond this management argument, there is a larger issue of fairness and justice for those officers currently serving us. The men and women of the Police Department risk their lives to protect us every day. Watching Jim Gueff's kids walk behind his casket at the funeral following his tragic death at Pine and Franklin Streets was a dramatic reminder of the pain and loss the families of the 91 officers who have lost their lives in the line of duty have had to endure.

The men and women of the San Francisco Police Department have always been there for us. A vote for Prop E, which will raise their benefits to parity with other departments, is not only fair — it is just. We should not be apologetic about this. Rather we should be proud to come through for these courageous men and women who deserve our support.

PROPE WILL HELP KEEP CITY HEALTH CARE COSTS DOWN

There have been many misleading statements made about Prop E in an effort to confuse the facts. Here are the facts:

- Prop E will establish a consistent policy for determining salaries, health benefits and retirement under one system for all City and County workers.
- Currently, workers have the right to bargain over how much health care costs can be reimbursed by the City. Prop E won't change this.
- Because the City does not currently negotiate with health care carriers, it is forced to accept a plan that may not be as fiscally prudent as it should be. Employees are compelled to pay whatever costs for the plan are established. Prop E will change this and allow bargaining over the level of benefits — providing a more fiscally prudent management of health care costs for both the City and its workers.
- Prop E will allow workers the right to negotiate with health care carriers that certain drugs and treatments for AIDS and other diseases be included in their coverage.
- Prop E will allow workers to bargain for a plan that allows them to get their health care at San Francisco General Hospital, helping to keep this vital City service open.

Don't be fooled. In a review of Prop E the City Attorney said it does not allow a separate health care trust. Prop E will allow cost containment of health benefits for workers. Workers will receive increased benefit opportunities if and only if they can make a better deal with a carrier. Instead of profits going to health care companies, Prop E can require that they reduce the costs to the City.

This makes good business sense for the City. Vote Yes on Prop E.

PROP E MAKES GOOD BUSINESS SENSE
We, as members of the business community, urge you to vote YES on Prop E.

We do so for one overriding reason — this measure was worked out after a series of meetings with representatives from the business community and the Committee on Jobs who voiced their ideas and saw those ideas put into this final document submitted for voter approval.

Prop E contains fiscal controls to guarantee the sanctity of the retirement fund, and eliminate any possibility of higher taxes. To say anything else is just not true.

In particular, business community representatives were responsible for suggesting the following ideas included in Prop E:

- 90% cap: They proposed assurances that any retirement benefits negotiated will not cause the funded status of the retirement system to fall below 90%. This good idea exists in Prop E.

- Limit on Benefits: They proposed additional caps on the retirement benefits that could actually be negotiated. This good idea exists in Prop E. It provides that major components of any new benefit provisions under the retirement system may not exceed either the average components of the pension plans of the ten largest cities in California, or the average components of the PERS plan for state safety and miscellaneous employees.

Other good ideas to strengthen the plan were added at the business community’s suggestion. THE BUSINESS COMMUNITY PARTICIPATED IN THE PROCESS IT IS NOW COMPLAINING ABOUT.

Before the Committee on Jobs spends $500,000 to maintain the status quo, you should know the facts. Don’t be fooled by the rhetoric.

We join Mayor Brown in urging you to support Prop E.

SANT FRANCISCO’S POLICE OFFICERS NEED PROP E
I have been privileged to serve San Francisco both as Police Chief and as a member of the Board of Supervisors. As Police Chief, I knew all too well how badly the retirement and death benefits of San Francisco’s police compared to those anywhere else in the Bay Area and throughout California. I knew how badly the comparison hurt morale, and how hard it made it to recruit for our police force.

The chance to improve retirement benefits through collective bargaining was one of the major reasons I joined several other former Police Chiefs in supporting Proposition D in 1990. But due to a court ruling, retirement benefits still remain off-limits for collective bargaining. Prop E adds retirement benefits to all the other categories — salaries, other benefits, most working conditions — that the City now adjusts through collective bargaining.

The new measure includes several financial “caps” that limit benefits to no more than the average elsewhere and protect the funding of San Francisco’s retirement system. It also allows the Board to insist that increased retirement benefits are “traded off” against more modest increases in salaries or other benefits, and to veto any arbitration awards that might fail to make appropriate trade-offs.

Prop E offers a sensible way of providing long overdue improvements in retirement benefits for police and other City employees, while allowing the City to make the necessary changes in the most efficient way.

I urge you to vote YES on Prop E.

PAID ARGUMENTS AGAINST PROPOSITION E

Proposition E is a $50,000,000 special interest give-away! This boondoggle removes San Francisco voters' ability to approve (or disapprove) retirement benefit increases for city workers. Prop E abolishes voters' rights. In 1976 voters overwhelmingly approved Proposition L, which developed a new formula for retirement benefits for city workers. I know; I was an author of that measure which was designed to control government spending. Proposition E is an indignity and affront to the citizenry of San Francisco. It was conceived in dark hallways and secret chambers by fat-cat lobbyists and lawyers representing bloated, top-heavy unions which want San Franciscans to sign a blank check by allowing the Board of Supervisors and Mayor to grant city employee increases. For shame!!! This measure was hidden from the public until literally the "11th hour"; and then ordered to the ballot by a supine Board of Supervisors which didn't have the backbone to allow genuine public exposure or to say "no" to rapacious city employee unions.

As if repudiating the electoral process on retirement benefits weren't enough, Prop E imposes a patronage system untested in my 25 years of elected office serving San Franciscans. Proposition E removes civil service protections for 400 - 500 administrators, making them political appointees. Moreover, it abolishes the Civil Service Commission, the nonpolitical agency which administers the rules governing city employees and prevents favoritism.

The late John Barbagelata and I fought to close costly loopholes which drained our city resources. We succeeded as vigilant watchdogs of our city's coffers. Now, 20 years later, Proposition E undermines the electoral process and fundamental principles of sound public policy and fiscal responsibility. VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION E!!

Stop the $50 million a year Giveaway: Vote NO on Prop. E

After five straight years of city budget deficits approaching $100 million, you would think City Hall would be focusing on how to control costs and improve efficiency to preserve city services, right?

Guess again. Lawyers and lobbyists for the City's biggest labor unions have given us Prop. E — a measure which would remove the requirement that San Francisco voters approve retirement benefit increases for city workers. The actuary for the City retirement system and the City Controller estimate the measure will cost $50 million per year in increased benefits for city employees, who already are among the highest paid workers in the state.

Prop. E also will dramatically increase the cost of providing health benefits to city workers. Currently, all city workers are covered by one health care plan. The unions which drafted Prop. E want each union and bargaining unit (there are 40 city unions) to be able to bargain for and administer its own health plan. This will eliminate the economies of scale of the current system and drive up costs.

Prop. E paves the way for patronage politics. Prop. E strips civil service protections for 400 managers in city government making them political appointees. At the same time, it eliminates the Civil Service Commission, the watch dog agency which administers the rules governing the employment of city workers.

Prop. E is a cynical power grab. Vote NO.

PAID ARGUMENTS AGAINST PROPOSITION E

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION E — A $50 MILLION DOLLAR GIVE-AWAY!

Proposition E is nothing but an insidious method by which San Francisco taxpayers relinquish literally all voting rights on pension and health benefits for city employees. And what’s the payoff for taking such an outrageous risk? There is none. The only profiteers of the measure are city politicians who incur inordinate power and city employees whose collective benefit increases will likely add up to $50 million per year — money that will be extracted from taxpayers’ pockets.

Ignoring the voice of the voter in determining the amount of compensation for city employees is fiscal lunacy. But that’s exactly what the lawyers and lobbyists who conjured up this plan intend. Removing the obstacle of a majority vote approval for pension and compensation changes paves a smooth road for excessive compensation benefiting only special interests. And while city employees skip down “Easy Street” to increased benefits, taxpayers endure a rocky road as they attempt to meet financial demands they never approved! The voice of the voter should be amplified in city government, not silenced — especially when it’s the voter who foots the bill. Do not lose your voice!!! Shout “NO” on Proposition E, and retain taxpayer oversight of city spending which has existed since 1932.

Quentin L. Kopp
Kopp’s Good Government Committee

Cheryl Arenson

Prop E is bad legislation. It will allow city employees to bargain for more than $1 billion in retirement benefits and eliminates the current voter approval safeguard. The result could increase city costs by $50 million per year.

Prop E abolishes the city’s long-standing Civil Service Commission and replaces it with a new commission less independent from city politics.

Prop E establishes a patronage-based hiring of over 400 city jobs further politicizing city government.

Prop E promises to be very expensive without benefit to the taxpayer. Vote No on E.

Join Supervisor Susan Leal: Vote No on Prop. E

I am urging you to vote against Prop. E for the same reasons I voted against placing it on the November ballot.

Prop. E will increase the cost of city government, threatening our ability to provide vital services. The City’s own financial analysts have determined Prop. E will allow the City to grant $50 to $100 million per year in enhanced retirement benefits without voter approval. These additional costs might impact the City’s General Fund, reducing our ability to deliver essential services such as public health.

Prop. E will bring about inefficiency and waste in the City employee’s healthcare and retirement plans. Under current law, all city employees are in centralized health and retirement plans. Prop. E will undermine these centralized plans and create dozens of less efficient plans, leading to increased administrative costs, higher premiums and lower benefits.

Vote No on Prop. E. Protect City Services.

Proposition E — A Myriad of Unanswered Questions

Proposition E would expand the collective bargaining process for city employee unions to include retirement benefits, among other things. The proposition was drafted behind closed doors and not made public until a few days before the deadline for submitting measures for inclusion on the ballot.

The proposition is complex and far-reaching and insufficient time was allowed for its procedural and financial aspects to be analyzed and publicly debated. A myriad of questions remain concerning the implications of the proposition for San Francisco, particularly the anticipated cost of increased retirement benefits for city employees. Estimates from city official range from an additional $50 million to $130 million a year for 20 years.

Proposition E should be further reviewed and changed, if necessary, to assure that it will not have significant adverse consequences for the city. It was placed on the ballot prematurely and should be rejected.

Vote NO on Proposition E! It's a power-grab that does nothing for the citizens of San Francisco. Think about it for a moment — what does it do for you? It takes away your power to control retirement benefits for City employees, it reduces the authority of the Civil Service Commission to set rules for those employees, and it makes 350 City jobs subject to political appointment. On top of all that, the Controller says it could cost $50 million to $100 million annually. How do you win?

This is the proposal that had so much bad notice in the newspapers. It got developed in private and had almost no review at the Board of Supervisors. The process was called "friggin pathetic" by one supervisor. Now it is before you for vote.

Do you want to depend on 350 at-will political appointees to manage the services you expect to receive from the City? Most of them will have little knowledge of the day-to-day operation of the City.

How do we improve government by making Personnel Officers, Food Service Managers, and Assistant Marina Managers political appointees? By repaying election supporters?

Politics belongs in the Mayor's office and the Board of Supervisor's office. Keep it out of the administration of the services you need daily. Vote No on making mid-managers political appointees.

How did Proposition E get on the ballot?

It was rushed through the Board of Supervisors after two public hearings, after months of closed meetings between the Mayor and some labor leaders to the exclusion of the Board, the City Attorney's Office, the Municipal Executives Association, the business community, neighborhoods, taxpayers, and the public.

Like most rush jobs, Proposition E is a costly mistake which will cost our overburdened taxpayers another $50,000,000 per year. But most of the cost of the legislation is not just in dollars and cents.

Proposition E would create up to 380 new patronage jobs for the Mayor. Currently, these middle managers are protected under the Civil Service System and are represented by the Municipal Executives Association.

More ominously, Proposition E would replace the largely independent Civil Service Commission with a new Employee Relations Commission appointed by the Mayor, which would focus on disputes between city workers and the City, rather than supervising the time-honored civil service and merit systems. Those systems would be controlled jointly by the new commission, the Mayor, and the Board of Supervisors, ensuring the complete politicization of the process.

We could face a situation in the near future where the unions or special interests could do away with merit examinations altogether and all 25,000 city employees could become "at-will" employees of the Mayor's.

Don't be fooled by political flimflam. Buried under the glitzy camouflage of collective bargaining are unrelated political schemes. It's politics and deal-making at its unscrupulous best!

The "new" commission is unnecessary. This is simply political maneuvering to scrap the existing independent Commission and replace it with a panel and personnel system deviously designed to be vulnerable to special interest influence and political manipulation.

Evicting hundreds of managerial jobs from the competitive career service will allow politicians to fill high-paying positions based on "who" and not "what" one knows. San Francisco will regress to the moral scourge of a Nineteenth Century spoils system where political patronage, favoritism, and nepotism rule.

Filled with inconsistencies, inaccuracies, redundancies; drafted with selective input - it devastates management and promotes a political takeover of public employment.

Proposition E is bad for San Francisco's small minority- and women-owned businesses. Prop. E will take away San Francisco voters' ability to vote on costly benefits increases and increase the cost of San Francisco city government by as much as $50 million per year. This surely will result in new taxes directed at our community.

Prop. E eliminates the Civil Service Commission, the agency that protects the City against political patronage hiring and prevents City Hall from turning into Tammany Hall.

Prop. E sets up a new Employee Relations Commission which will have the power to levy fines and impose sanctions against small minority and women businesses which do business with the City. As a San Francisco Supervisor, I focused on reducing waste and inefficiency in city government, saving a total of $82 million. I am deeply concerned about Proposition E. and I urged the Board of Supervisors not to place it on the ballot.

I support fair benefits for city workers. However, Prop. E eliminates the voters’ right to vote on potentially enormous benefits increases. Prop. E will cost voters between $50 and $100 million per year in increased pension benefits costs, according to the City’s own financial experts.

Prop. E eliminates the Civil Service Commission, which helps to determine the qualifications and exams for city job applicants, and dismisses the current commissioners. Prop. E also will strip civil service protections from nearly 500 high-paying city jobs, making them political appointments. Prop. E would return San Francisco to an era of patronage and the spoils system. Let’s not build a political machine with taxpayer money.

Prop. E would be disastrous for our City’s future. As a native San Franciscan who cares deeply about the City, I emphatically urge you to vote no.

Prop. E is bad government
All of the undersigned have extensive experience in San Francisco city government — some as elected or appointed officials, others as professional managers. We all agree that Prop. E is bad government. Prop. E eliminates San Franciscans’ right to vote on costly retirement benefit increases, but offers them nothing in return. Read the Controller’s official statement. It says Prop. E will allow city employees unions to bargain for up to an estimated $1.1 billion in additional retirement benefits — benefits it will cost the city more than $50 million per year to pay off.

Prop. E eliminates the Civil Service Commission, the independent agency which administers the tests for city employment and ensures that city employees are chosen on the basis of merit, not patronage. Prop. E also strips the civil service rights of more than 450 city managers, making them political appointees.

There is an old saying that laws are like sausages: Even if you like the end product, you certainly don’t want to see how either is actually made. The same is true of Proposition E — when you consider how it got on the ballot, you will lose your appetite:

• The measure was drafted by lawyers and lobbyists over three months of behind-closed-doors meetings.
• The measure was submitted to the Board of Supervisors without any review by the City Attorney’s office.
• The measure was rushed through the Board of Supervisors’ Rules Committee after just one public hearing. No analysis of the measure’s legal or cost impacts was available to the public.
• The measure was voted on by the Board of Supervisors after the official deadline for submission of ballot measures.
• At least one city union already has threatened to sue the city for violating state meet-and-confer laws in the rush to get the measure on the ballot.

All of the undersigned have worked tirelessly in support of clean and open government. The process which created Prop. E is an embarrassment to the City and a lesson in how not to make city law. Vote NO.

All of the undersigned have worked for years in support of “sunshine” laws to prevent city officials from drafting laws in private and to make it easier for average San Franciscans to get information about important decisions and policies.

We are surprised and deeply disappointed by the process through which Prop. E, the collective bargaining revision measure, was placed on the ballot.

Prop. E was drafted behind closed doors by lawyers for several city unions, submitted to the Board of Supervisors’ rules committee before it could even be reviewed by the City Attorney, and pushed through the Board of Supervisors amidst a flurry of confusing amendments.

One supervisor called the process by which Prop. E was rushed to the ballot “frigging pathetic,” another compared it to the street hustlers’ game three-card monte.

PROP E IS BAD GOVERNMENT.
The supporters of Prop E never explain why the voters are being asked to gut the City's civil service merit system. As concerned citizens, we support fair pay, pensions and health benefits for city workers.

But, the City must protect the merit system, so city workers are hired and promoted on the basis of competence, not political spoils and patronage. Prop E would allow our current Mayor and future Mayors to appoint 400 middle management employees on a patronage basis, without any exams to test their ability.

Prop E discriminates against one union. Only managers represented by the Municipal Executives Association could be fired at will by the Mayor. Managers represented by other unions, including most Muni managers, would retain their job protection.

Also, Prop E would eliminate the independent Civil Service Commission, where commissioners now serve six year, staggered terms, to insulate the commissioners from political pressure. The only reason the sponsors of Prop E want to abolish the Independent Civil Service Commission is to remove its protection of the merit system. The Board of Supervisors can assign new duties to the Commission by ordinance. No charter amendment is necessary.

Prop E would be very expensive. Added pension costs could far exceed the $60 million estimated by the Retirement System's actuary.

San Francisco's Business Community Opposes Prop. E
The organizations and activists representing San Francisco's merchants, small businesses and major employers all agree:

Prop. E is bad for San Francisco.

Read the City Controller's analysis of the measure: Prop. E will give city employees groups the power to bargain for more than $1 billion in new retirement benefits without voter approval. The actuary for the City retirement system says Prop. E will cost the City an additional $50 - $100 million per year.

Prop. E will fragment the City's healthcare delivery system for city employees increasing costs and hurting efficiency.

Prop. E also will eliminate the City's Civil Service Commission, the watchdog which regulates the City's hiring and employment practices and prevents patronage hiring. Prop. E undermines the independence of the commission which is most vital to ensuring that city jobs are awarded based on merit, not politics.

Finally, Prop. E was placed on the ballot without sufficient review and due process. San Francisco's business community and financial experts would welcome the opportunity to come to the table and work out a better alternative. However, Prop. E is simply a bad law.

PAID ARGUMENTS AGAINST PROPOSITION E

Take a closer look at Prop. E

The undersigned are all strong proponents of organized labor and collective bargaining rights, but we are concerned about how Prop. E could undermine the current system for disciplining San Francisco police officers who break the rules and violate the rights of others.

The rules for disciplining police officers for misconduct are set in the City Charter; changing the rules would require a vote of the people. For years, the Police Officers Association has tried to lift the requirement that voters approve any changes to current police discipline procedures. The POA would like to negotiate disciplinary procedures as a part of contract negotiations, which take place behind closed doors. But disciplinary rules are not like salaries and benefits; they are there to protect the rights of others, and they don’t belong on the bargaining table.

Prop. E could allow the Police Department to change disciplinary procedures for certain types of misconduct, such as violation of search and seizure laws, without going to the voters.

That’s why we question the need for this charter amendment. During the entire three-year Charter Reform process, no one suggested changing the police discipline system. What is the compelling reason for watering down the voters’ ability to control the police discipline system? Why should we place ourselves on this slippery slope?

The vast majority of San Francisco police officers are well-trained professionals who take their enormous responsibilities seriously. The rules are there to protect San Franciscans from the few who don’t, and Prop. E appears to undermine the rules.

Five Reasons San Francisco’s Fiscal Watchdogs Urge you to vote NO on Prop. E

• It takes away voters’ rights. For more than 50 years, the City Charter has required that San Francisco voters approve retirement benefits increases for city workers. It is one of very few direct controls S.F. voters have over the cost of city government, and Prop. E eliminates it — without giving voters anything in return.

• It will cost $50 million per year. Prop. E could cost the city $50 million per year, or more than $1 billion over the next twenty years, according to the City Controller and the actuary for the retirement system.

• It will drive up healthcare costs for city workers. Currently, nearly all city workers are covered under a centralized, city-run health plan. But Prop. E will allow the City’s 40 public employee unions to bargain for separate health benefits and set up individual “health trusts.” Breaking the centralized system into dozens of smaller ones will hurt the City’s buying power, reduce economies of scale and drive up costs.

• It undermines a key City watchdog agency. Prop. E will eliminate the Civil Service Commission, the watchdog agency which oversees the rules governing employment in city government, and fire the current commissioners.

• It was written by lobbyists behind closed doors. Prop. E was drafted by lawyers and lobbyists for the City’s largest unions. It was rushed through the board in a process one supervisor called “legislative three-card monte” (San Francisco Chronicle, Wednesday, July 3).

San Francisco supports collective bargaining and fair benefits packages for city workers, but Prop. E is a giveaway. Vote No.

PAID ARGUMENTS AGAINST PROPOSITION E

The Golden Gate Restaurant Association OPPOSES Proposition E
Proposition E has two major flaws.
First, the process of getting Prop E on the ballot was bad government at its worst. It was drafted by lobbyists for City employee unions with no input from other parties. The City Attorney was not given a chance for adequate review. Something as complicated as Prop E should have adequate public review BEFORE being placed on the ballot.
Second, Prop E is bad policy on its merits. San Francisco voters will lose their right to vote on retirement benefits for City employees. The potential costs of putting retirement benefits in the hands of City employee unions is staggering. Estimates run as high as $100 million in additional costs per year. City officials will look to us, the taxpayers, to foot the bill. Higher taxes only drive businesses and jobs out of town.

Vote No on Prop. E
Prop. E asks voters to surrender their right to vote on pension and health benefits increases for city employees — yet it offers the citizens of San Francisco nothing in return. The City’s own fiscal experts say the measure is likely to increase the cost of government by as much as $50 million per year.
Prop. E was developed in private by a small group of lawyers and lobbyists and rushed through the Board of Supervisors with almost no opportunity for public review.
Prop. E is an unwise law created through an unfair process. Vote No.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CHARTER AMENDMENT
PROPOSITION E

The board of supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby submits to the qualified electors of said City and County at an election to be held therein on November 5, 1996, a proposal to amend the charter of said City and County by deleting section 10.100, amending sections A8.343, A8.403, A8.404, A8.409-1, A8.409-3, A8.409-4, A8.409-5, A8.590-4, A8.590-5, A8.590-6, A8.590-7, 11.100 and adding sections 11.103 and 11.104 so that the same shall read as follows:

NOTE: Additions or substitutions are indicated by bold face type; deletions are indicated by strike-out type.

Section 1. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.343, to read as follows:

A8.343 FINE, SUSPENSION AND DISMISSAL IN POLICE AND FIRE DEPARTMENTS

Members of the uniformed ranks of the fire or the police department guilty of any offense or violation of the rules and regulations of their respective departments, shall be liable to be punished by reprimand, or by fine not exceeding one month’s salary for any offense, or by suspension for not to exceed three months, or by dismissal, after trial and hearing by the commissioners of their respective departments; provided, however, that the chief of each respective department for disciplinary purposes may suspend such member for a period not to exceed 10 days for violation of the rules and regulations of his department. Any such member so suspended shall have the right to appeal such suspension to the fire commission or to the police commission, as the case may be, and have a trial and hearing on such suspension. Written notice of appeal must be filed within 10 days after such suspension and the hearing of said appeal must be held within 30 days after the filing of said notice of appeal. If the commission shall reverse or alter the finding of the chief, it shall in the case of a reversal and in other cases it may in its discretion, order that the member affected be paid salary for the time of his suspension. In the event the chief should exercise such power of suspension, the member involved shall not be subject to any further disciplinary action for the same offense.

Subject to the foregoing, members of the uniformed ranks of either department shall not be subject to dismissal, nor to punishment for any breach of duty or misconduct, except for cause, nor until after a fair and impartial trial before the commissioners of their respective departments, upon a verified complaint filed with such commission setting forth specifically the acts complained of, and after such reasonable notice to them as to time and place of hearings as such commission may, by rule, prescribe. The accused shall be entitled, upon hearing, to appear personally and by counsel; to have a public trial; and to secure and enforce, free of expense, the attendance of all witnesses necessary for his defense.

Notwithstanding any provisions of this charter, including this section, disciplinary procedures applicable to members of the ranks of the Police and Fire Departments may be changed, modified or established by the Police and Fire Commissions, as applicable after meeting and conferring with the appropriate recognized employee organization pursuant to charter section A8.590-4, but only after full public hearings before the board of supervisors and the Police and Fire Commissions.

Provided however, that the provisions of Charter section 4.127 regarding the Office of Citizen Complaints may not be overridden except by amendment of the charter. Further provided, that in the following types of Police Department disciplinary cases, the provisions of Charter section A8.343 regarding disciplinary procedures shall continue to apply and may not be overridden except by amendment of the charter: (1) cases involving the San Francisco Police Department’s crowd control policies; (2) cases involving allegations of misconduct resulting in death or serious bodily injury or allegations of excessive force or; (3) cases involving allegations of racial or sexual discrimination or harassment or other unlawful discrimination. The Police Commission shall have the sole discretion to determine the applicability of Charter section A8.343 to a police disciplinary case based on the criteria enumerated above.

Section 2. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.403, to read as follows:

A8.403 COMPENSATION FOR REGISTERED NURSE CLASSIFICATIONS

The salary, conditions and benefits of employment of the various classifications of nurses required to possess a registered nurse license issued by the State of California as provided for in this section as compensation shall be determined and fixed annually as follows:

(a) On or before May 1, 1982, and each year thereafter, the civil service and employee relations commission shall certify to the board of supervisors for the acute care staff nurse classification the highest prevailing salary schedule in effect on April 15 of that year, and salary adjustments, if any, to be effective during the city and county’s next succeeding fiscal year, granted by collective bargaining agreement to comparable registered nurses in public and private employment in the counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Mateo, San Francisco and Santa Clara. Rates of pay for other registered nurse classifications shall reflect not less than the same relationships to the benchmark registered nurse classification that those classifications had in fiscal year 1980-1981 to the then benchmark classification.

(b) The board of supervisors shall on or before June 1, 1982, and each year thereafter, fix a salary schedule for each classification which shall not be in excess of the schedules certified by the civil service and employee relations commission, for each such classification, except as provided in Subsection (f) below, and provided, further, that no employee’s basic rate of pay shall be reduced to conform to the highest prevailing salary schedule except as provided for in Section A8.406;

(c) The rates of pay fixed for each classification shall become effective at the beginning of the next succeeding fiscal year;

(d) The terms “salary schedule” and “salary schedules” wherever used in this section are hereby defined and intended to include only the maximum rate of pay provided in each such salary schedule; the term “salary adjustments” shall mean an increase or decrease to the maximum rate of pay;

(e) At the time the board of supervisors fixes the salary schedule as provided in (b) above, the board of supervisors may fix as conditions and benefits of employment other than salaries as compensation for each classification, conditions and benefits not to exceed the intent of those conditions and benefits granted by collective bargaining agreements to comparable classifications by the employing entity for certification of the highest prevailing salary schedule by the civil service and employee relations commission.

The board of supervisors may establish such conditions and benefits notwithstanding other provisions or limitations of this charter, with the exception that such conditions and benefits shall not involve any change in the administration of or benefits of the retirement system, the administration or benefits of the health service system or vacation allowances provided elsewhere in this charter. Conditions and benefits of employment existing prior to July 1, 1982 may be continued by the board of supervisors;

(f) When the employer used for certification in Subsection (a) above, provides rates of pay during the current fiscal year in excess of those fixed by the board of supervisors for said current fiscal year, or vacation and health service benefits greater than such similar benefits provided by this charter for the staff nurse classification, the civil service and employee relations commission shall certify to the board of supervisors an amount not to exceed the difference of such salary and benefits converted to dollar values and the board of supervisors may provide additional salary, conditions and benefits of employment at a cost not to exceed said dollar value.

(g) Notwithstanding section (f) above, the board of supervisors may, after meeting and conferring with and reaching agreement with the employee organization certified as the representative for the classifications of nurses governed by this charter section, fix retirement benefits for each classification. No agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system shall be effective unless and until the following occur:

i. the parties secure, through the retirement board, an actuarial report of the cost and effect of any proposed changes in benefits under the retirement system, and;

ii. the retirement board certifies that any changes in benefits under the retirement system will not cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City’s agency (Continued on next page)
account with the Public Employees' Retirement System to fall below 90%. With reference to the retirement system and the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System, the term funded status will mean a percentage equal to a fraction, the numerator of which is the actuarial value of assets, and the denominator of which is the accrued actuarial liability. All agreements pursuant to this section and agreements or decisions pursuant to other charter sections covering classifications of employees not covered by this section submitted to the retirement board for certification within a calendar quarter shall be considered together and no agreements or decisions shall be implemented if all agreements or decisions, taken together, would cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System to fall below 90%, and:

(a) the retirement board certifies that the "age factor" and "cost of living adjustment" ("COLA") and "final compensation" components of any new benefit provisions under the retirement system do not exceed the higher of:

- the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the PERS 2% at 50 plans for state safety employees and the PERS 2% at 60 plans for state non-safety employees as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered; or

- the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the pension plans of the 10 largest cities in California by population, exclusive of San Francisco, as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered, and;

(b) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the pension plans of the 10 largest cities in California by population, exclusive of San Francisco, as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered, and;

iv. the board of supervisors, after having made its own finding that implementation of the modifications to the retirement system present no risk to the tax-qualified status of the retirement system and a determination that the proposed modifications do not impose an unreasonable administrative burden on the retirement system, enacts an ordinance implementing the agreement. All such ordinances shall contain the following provisions:

In the event any provision above is finally determined by the Internal Revenue Service or a court of competent jurisdiction to deprive the retirement system of its tax-qualified status, then all provisions which would impair its tax-qualified status are immediately null and void. Under no circumstances will any employee have a vested right to any benefit which becomes null and void in the manner described in the preceding sentence.

The board of supervisors, has full discretion to accept or reject, any agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system. In the event no agreement is reached, or the board of supervisors rejects any agreement, arbitration shall not be available.

Section 3. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended by amending section A8.404 to read as follows:

A8.404 SALARIES AND BENEFITS OF CARMEN

The wages, conditions and benefits of employment as provided for in this section of the various classifications of employment of platform employees and coach or bus operators of the municipal railway as compensation, shall be determined and fixed annually as follows:

(a) On or before the first Monday of August of each year, the civil service and employee relations commission shall certify to the board of supervisors for each classification of employment the average of the two highest wage schedules in effect on July 1st of that year for comparable platform employees and coach or bus operators of other surface street railway and bus systems in the United States operated primarily within the municipalities having each a population of not less than 500,000 as determined by the then most recent census taken and published by the director of the census of the United States, and each such system normally employing not less than 400 platform employees or coach or bus operators, or platform employees, coach and bus operators.

(b) The board of supervisors shall thereupon fix a wage schedule for each classification of platform employees and coach and bus operators of the municipal railway which shall not be in excess of the average of the two highest wage schedules so certified by the civil service and employee relations commission for each such classification.

(c) When, in addition to their usual duties, such employees are assigned duties as instructors of platform employees or coach or bus operators they shall receive additional compensation that shall be subject to negotiation in addition to the rate of pay to which they are otherwise entitled under the wage schedule as herein provided.

(d) The rates of pay fixed for platform employees and coach and bus operators as herein provided shall be effective from July 1st of the year in which such rates of pay are certified by the civil service and employee relations commission.

(e) The terms "wage schedule" and "wage schedules" wherever used in this section are hereby defined and intended to include only the maximum rate of pay provided in each such wage schedule.

(f) At the time the board of supervisors fixes the wage schedule as provided in (b) above, the board of supervisors may fix as conditions and benefits of employment other than wages as compensation for platform employees and coach or bus operators of the municipal railway, conditions and benefits not to exceed those conditions and benefits granted by collective bargaining agreements to the comparable platform employees and coach or bus operators of the two systems used for certification of the average of the two highest wage schedules by the civil service and employee relations commission. The board of supervisors may establish such conditions and benefits notwithstanding other provisions or limitations of this charter, with the exception that such conditions and benefits shall not involve any change in the administration of or benefits of the retirement system, the administration or benefits of the health service system or vacation allowances as provided elsewhere in this charter.

The wages, conditions and benefits of employment as related to this section, the word "compensation" as used in Section A8.509 of this charter shall mean the "wage schedules" as fixed in accordance with paragraphs (a) and (b) above, including those differentials established and paid as part of wages to platform employees and coach and bus operators of the municipal railway, but shall not include the value of those benefits paid into the fund established as herein provided. Provided that when in the two systems used for certification as provided above, vacation, retirement and health service benefits are greater than such similar benefits provided by this charter for platform employees, coach or bus operators of the municipal railway, then an amount not to exceed the difference of such benefits may be converted to dollar values and the amount equivalent to these dollar values shall be paid into a fund. The fund shall be established to receive and to administer said amounts representing the differences in values of the vacation, retirement and health service benefits, and to pay out benefits that shall be jointly determined by representatives of the city and county government and the representatives of the organized platform employees and coach and bus operators of the municipal railway. The civil service and employee relations commission shall adopt rules for the establishment and general administration of the fund as herein provided. Such rules shall provide for a joint administration of the fund by representatives of the city and county government, which shall include representatives of the administrator of the agency responsible for the municipal railway and representatives of the organized platform employees, coach and bus operators of the municipal railway. Such rules may provide a procedure for final and binding arbitration of disputes which may arise between representatives of the city and county government and the representatives of the organized platform employees and coach and bus operators of the municipal railway. Such rules shall provide that all investments of the fund shall be of the character legal for insurance companies in California. Such rules and any amendments thereto shall be effective upon approval by the board of supervisors by ordinance.

(g) Notwithstanding any provisions of this charter, including other subparts of this section, the board of supervisors may, after meeting and conferring with and reaching agreement with the employee organization certified as the representative for municipal railway operators, fix wages and benefits of employment other than wages for platform employees and coach and bus operators of the municipal railway under this section for periods in excess of one year. Any ordinance fixing wages and benefits of employment other than wages adopted pursuant to this section for a period of more than one year shall contain a provision to the effect that during said period of time it shall be unlawful for the employees receiving the compensation so fixed to engage in a strike, work stoppage or conduct delaying or interfering with work at city and county facilities.

Wages and benefits of employment other than wages established under this section shall not in any year exceed the limits established under paragraphs (b) and (f) of this section.

(b) Notwithstanding the provision for certification of comparable plant employee and bus operator wage levels in subsection (f) above, the board of supervisors may, after meeting and conferring with and reaching agreement with the employee organization certified as the representative for classifications of employees governed by this section, fix retirement benefits for each classification. No agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system shall be effective unless and until the following occur:

i. the parties secure, through the retirement board, an actuarial report of the cost and effect of any proposed changes in benefits under the retirement system, and

ii. the retirement board certifies that any changes in benefits under the retirement system will not cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System to fall below 90%. With reference to the retirement system and the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System, the term funded status will mean a percentage equal to a fraction, the numerator of which is the actuarial value of assets and the denominator of which is the accrued actuarial liability. All agreements pursuant to this section and agreements or decisions pursuant to other charter sections covering classifications of employees not covered by this section submitted to the retirement board for certification within a calendar quarter shall be considered together and no agreements or decisions shall be implemented if all agreements or decisions, taken together, would cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System to fall below 90%, and,

iii. the retirement board certifies that the "age factor" and "cost of living adjustment" ("COLA") and "final compensation" components of any new benefit provisions under the retirement system do not exceed the higher of:

(a) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the PERS 2% at 50 plans for state safety employees and the PERS 2% at 60 plans for state non-safety employees as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered; or

(b) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the pension plans of the 10 largest cities in California by population, exclusive of San Francisco, as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered; and

iv. the board of supervisors, after having made its own finding that implementation of the modifications to the retirement system present no risk to the tax-qualified status of the retirement system and a determination that the proposed modifications do not impose an unreasonable administrative burden on the retirement system, enacts an ordinance implementing the agreement. All such ordinances shall contain the following proviso:

In the event any provision above is finally determined by the Internal Revenue Service or a court of competent jurisdiction to deprive the retirement system of its tax qualified status, then all provisions which would impair its tax qualified status are immediately null and void. Under no circumstances will any employee have a vested right to any benefit which becomes null and void in the manner described in the preceding sentence.

The board of supervisors, with full discretion to accept or reject, any agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system. In the event no agreement is reached, or the board of supervisors rejects any agreement, arbitration shall not be available.

(b) Not later than the 25th day of August, the board of supervisors shall have the power and it shall be its duty, subject to the fiscal provisions of the charter but, without reference or amendment to the annual budget, to appropriate funds to pay the annual salary ordinance as necessary to include the provisions for paying the rates of compensation and conditions and benefits other than wages fixed by the board of supervisors as in this section provided for platform employees and coach or bus operators for the then current fiscal year.

On recommendation of the civil service and employee relations commission the board of supervisors shall establish a rate of pay for trainee platform men and bus or coach operators at a level reflecting the current labor market but below the basic hourly rate for motorman, conductor and bus operator.

Section 4. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.409-1, to read as follows:

A8.409-1 EMPLOYEES COVERED

These Sections A8.409 through A8.409-6, inclusive, shall apply to all miscellaneous officers and employees and including employees of San Francisco Unified School District and San Francisco Community College District to the extent authorized by state law. The provisions of charter sections A8.400(h), A8.401, A8.401-1, and A8.407 are hereby repealed and shall be of no further force and effect. Employee organizations representing employees in classifications covered by section A8.403 and A8.404 of this Charter may elect to include those classifications within the coverage of this part as a separate bargaining unit. Provided, however, that the election shall not become effective without the written approval of the Mayor and Board of Supervisors. The election shall be irrevocable and such employees shall not thereafter be subject to the provisions of section A8.403 and A8.404.

Employees in classifications not represented by a recognized employee organization shall be entitled to represent themselves with the city and county over wages, hours and other terms and conditions of employment to the extent required by state law and shall not be subject to the arbitration provisions of section A8.409-4 of this Charter. The Mayor annually shall propose all forms of compensation for unrepresented employees including salaries, hours, benefits, and other terms and conditions of employment subject to approval or disapproval of the board of supervisors. Consistent with other provisions of this charter, the civil service and employee relations commission may adopt rules and procedures relating to said unrepresented employees.

Except as otherwise provided by this charter, the Civil Service and Employee Relations Commission shall set the wages and benefits of all elected officials of the City and County of San Francisco as follows: wages shall be frozen for fiscal year 1994-95 and 1995-96 at the rates in effect on June 30, 1994, thereafter, wages and benefits may be adjusted on July 1 of each fiscal year to reflect upward change in the CPI as of the preceding January 1; however, wage increases may not exceed 5%. Benefits of elected officials may equal but may not exceed those benefits provided to any classification of miscellaneous officers and employees as of July 1 of each fiscal year.

In addition, subject to the approval or disapproval of the Board of Supervisors, the Mayor may create, for employees designated as management, a management compensation package that recognizes and provides incentives for outstanding managerial performance contributing to increased productivity and efficiency in the work force. In formulating such a package, the Mayor shall take into account data developed in conjunction with the civil service and employee relations commission regarding the terms of executive compensation in other public and private jurisdictions.

Section 5. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.409-3, to read as follows:

A8.409-3 OBLIGATION TO BARGAIN IN GOOD FAITH

Notwithstanding any other ordinances, rules or regulations of the city and county of San Francisco and its departments, boards and commissions, the city and county of San Francisco, through its duly authorized representatives, and recognized employee organizations representing classifications of employees covered by this part shall have the mutual obligation to bargain in good faith on all matters within the scope of representation as defined by Government Code Section 3504, relating to the wages, hours, benefits and other terms and conditions of city and county employment, including retirement and death allowances and health benefits subject to section A8.409-5, and further including the establishment of procedures for the resolution of grievances concerning the interpretation or application of any agreement, and including agreements to provide binding arbitration of discipline and discharge; provided, however, that, except insofar as they affect compensation, these matters within the jurisdiction of the civil service and employee relations commission which establish, implement and regulate the civil service (Continued on next page) merit system shall not be subject to bargaining under this part: the authority, purpose, definitions, administration and organization of the merit system and the civil service commission; policies, procedures and funding of the operations of the civil service commission and its staff; the establishment and maintenance of a classification plan including the classification and reclassification of positions and the allocation and reallocation of positions to the various classifications; status rights; the establishment of standards, procedures and qualifications for employment, recruitment, application, examination, selection, certification and appointment; the establishment, administration and duration of eligible lists; probationary status and the administration of probationary periods, except duration; pre-employment and fitness for duty medical examinations except for the conditions under which referrals for fitness for duty examinations will be made, and the imposition of new requirements; the designation of positions as exempt, temporary, limited tenure, part-time, seasonal or permanent; resignation with satisfactory service and reappointment; exempt entry level appointment of the handicapped; approval of payrolls; and conflict of interest. As to these matters, the Mayor, Board of Supervisors and Civil Service and Employee Relations Commission shall continue to be required to meet and confer pursuant to state law.

Unless and until agreement is reached through bargaining between authorized representatives of the city and county of San Francisco and authorized representatives of recognized employees organizations for the employee classifications covered by this part, or a determination is made through the procedure set forth in section A8.409-4 hereinafter provided, no existing wages, written terms or conditions of employment, fringe benefits, or long-standing past practices for said employees shall be altered, eliminated or changed except in cases of emergency. This paragraph shall be effective only until the approval of the first memorandum of understanding with a covered employee organization or six months from the effective date of this part whichever occurs sooner.

During the term of an MOU, disputes regarding changes in wages, hours, benefits and other terms and conditions of employment shall not be subject to the impasse procedures provided in this part, but may be subject to grievance arbitration.

No bargaining unit may be included in more than one memorandum of understanding with the city and county of San Francisco. Consistent with charter sections 3.100-2 and 3.103-11.100 and 11.101 and subject to the prior written approval of the Human Resources Director which shall not be unreasonably withheld, appointing officers shall have the authority to negotiate agreements with recognized employee representatives. Appointing officers shall consult and coordinate such negotiations with the Human Resources Director. Such memorandum of understanding shall be restricted to non-economic items within the jurisdiction of the department appointing officer which do not conflict with a city-wide memorandum of understanding. Such memoranda of understanding shall come into full force and effect only upon approval by the mayor and thereafter by a majority vote of the board of supervisors or other appropriate governing body. Upon such approval, departmental memoranda of understanding shall be attached as appendices to the employee organization’s city-wide memorandum of understanding as negotiated under this part. No memorandum of understanding negotiated pursuant to this paragraph during the term of a city-wide memorandum of understanding shall be subject to the arbitration provisions of this part until re-negotiation of the employee organization’s city-wide memorandum of understanding.

Agreements reached pursuant to this part by the authorized representatives for the city and county of San Francisco, on behalf of its departments, boards and commissions, and the authorized representatives of recognized employee organizations, once adopted by ordinance of the board of supervisors, shall be binding on the city and county of San Francisco, and on its departments, boards, commissions, officers and employees and on the recognized employee organizations and their successors, and all employees in classifications they represent. Except as specifically set forth in this part, said agreements shall supersede any and all other conflicting procedures, provisions and formulas contained in this charter, in the ordinances of the board of supervisors, or in the rules or regulations of the city and county of San Francisco, relating to wages, hours, or other terms and conditions of employment.

Section 6. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended by amending section A8.409-4, to read as follows: A8.409-4 IMPASS RESOLUTION PROCEDURES

(a) Subject to Section A8.409-4(g), disputes pertaining to wages, hours, benefits or other terms and conditions of employment which remain unresolved after good faith bargaining between the city and county of San Francisco, or on behalf of its departments, boards and commissions, and a recognized employee organization representing classifications of employees covered under this part shall be submitted to a three-member mediation/arbitration board ("the board") upon the declaration of an impasse either by the authorized representative of the city and county of San Francisco or by the authorized representative of the recognized employee organization involved in the dispute; provided, however, that the arbitration procedures set forth in this part shall not be available to any employee organization that engages in a strike unless the parties mutually agree to engage in arbitration under this section. Should any employee organization engage in a strike either during or after the completion of negotiations and impasse procedures, the arbitration procedure shall cease immediately and no further impasse resolution procedures shall be required.

(b) Not later than January 1, 20X2 of any year in which bargaining on an MOU takes place, representatives designated by the city and county of San Francisco and representatives of the recognized employee organization involved in bargaining pursuant to this part shall each select and appoint one person to the board. The third member of the board shall be selected by agreement between the city and county of San Francisco and the recognized employee organization, and shall serve as the neutral chairperson of the board.

In the event that the city and county of San Francisco and the recognized employee organization involved in bargaining cannot agree upon the selection of the chairperson within ten (10) days after the selection of the city and county and employee organization members of the board, either party may then request the American Arbitration Association or California State Mediaion Service to provide a list of the seven (7) persons who are qualified and experienced as labor interest arbitrators. If the city and county and the employee organization cannot agree within three (3) days after receipt of such list on one of the seven (7) persons to act as the chairperson, they shall randomly determine which party strikes first, and shall alternately strike names from the list of nominees until one name remains and that person shall then become the chairperson of the board.

(c) Any proceeding convened pursuant to this section shall be conducted in conformance with the rules of the American Arbitration Association or California State Mediation Service and the California Code of Civil Procedure. The board may hold public hearings, receive evidence from the parties and, at the request of either party, cause a transcript of the proceedings to be prepared. The board, in the exercise of its discretion, may meet privately with the parties to mediate or mediate/arbitrate the dispute. The board may also adopt other procedures designed to encourage an agreement between the parties, expedite the arbitration hearing process, or reduce the cost of the arbitration process.

(d) In the event no agreement is reached prior to the conclusion of the arbitration hearings, the board shall direct each of the parties to submit, within such time limit as the board may establish, a last offer of settlement on each of the remaining issues in dispute. The board shall decide each issue by majority vote by selecting whichever last offer of settlement on that issue it finds by a preponderance of the evidence presented during the arbitration most nearly conforms to those factors traditionally taken into consideration in the determination of wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of public and private employment, including, but not limited to: changes in the average consumer price index for goods and services; the wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of employment of employees performing similar services; the wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of employment of other employees of the city and county of San Francisco; health and safety of employees; the financial resources of the city and county of San Francisco, including a joint report to be issued annually on the City's financial condition for the next three fiscal years from the Controller, the Mayor's budget analyst and the budget analyst for the board of supervisors; other demands on the city and county's resources.

including limitations on the amount and use of revenues and expenditures; revenue projections; the power to levy taxes and raise revenue by enhancements or other means; budgetary reserves; and the city’s ability to meet the costs of the decision of the arbitration board; and that any proposal to modify retirement or death allowances or with respect to health benefits proposals would not cause, if adopted, an undue proliferation of retirement, death allowance benefits, or health insurance plan benefits resulting in an unreasonable administrative burden on either the retirement or health systems of the city and county. In addition, the board shall issue written findings on each and every one of the above factors as they may be applicable to each and every issue determined in the award. Compliance with the above provisions shall be mandatory.

(c) To be effective the beginning of the next succeeding fiscal year, an agreement shall be reached or the board shall reach a final decision no later than sixty days before the date the Mayor is required to submit a budget to the board of supervisors, except that the agreement of the parties. After reaching a decision, the board shall serve by certified mail or by hand delivery a true copy of its decision to the parties. The decision and findings of the arbitration board shall not be publicly disclosed until ten (10) days after it is delivered to the parties. During that ten (10) day period the parties shall meet privately, attempt to resolve their differences, and by mutual agreement amend or modify the decision and findings of the arbitration board. At the conclusion of the ten (10) day period, which may be extended by mutual agreement between the parties, the decision and findings of the arbitration board, as it may be modified or amended by the parties, shall be publicly disclosed for a period of fourteen (14) days after which time the decision shall be final and binding. Except as otherwise provided by this part, the arbitration decision shall supersede any and all other relevant formulas, procedures, and provisions of this charter relating to wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of employment, and it shall be final and binding on the parties to the dispute. However, the decision of the board may be judicially challenged by either party.

Thereafter, the city and county of San Francisco, its designated officers, employees and representatives and the recognized employee organization involved in the dispute shall take whatever action necessary to carry out and effectuate the final decision.

(f) The expenses of any proceedings convened pursuant to this part, including the fee for the services of the chairperson of the board, the costs of preparation of the transcript of the proceedings and other costs directly related to and necessarily incurred during the conduct of the proceedings, as determined by the board, shall be borne equally by the parties. All other expenses, including attorneys fees incurred by any party, participant or arbitration panel member in the proceedings, which the parties may incur are to be borne by the party incurring such expenses.

(g) The impasse resolution procedures set forth in Section A8.409-4, or in any other provision of the charter, ordinance or state law shall not apply to any rule, policy, procedure, order or practice which relates to or pertains to the purpose, goals or requirements of a consent decree, or which is necessary to ensure compliance with federal, state or local laws, ordinances or regulations. In the event the city acts on a matter it has determined to or pertains to a consent decree, or in the event the city acts to ensure compliance with federal, state, or local laws, ordinances or regulations, and the affected employee organization disputes said determination, that determination or action shall not be subject to arbitration, but may be challenged in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(b) The impasse resolution procedures set forth in section A8.409-4, or in any other section of the charter, shall not apply to any proposal pertaining to the right to strike.

(i) Charter sections A8.590-1 through A8.590-7 shall remain in full force and effect; provided, however, that the wages and other economic benefits and compensation of all classifications and employees covered by these sections shall be increasingly adjusted for the fiscal year 1995-96 at the rates in effect on June 30, 1995, except that wages and other economic benefits and compensation of all classifications of Airport Police shall be frozen for the fiscal year following expiration of the Memorandum of Understanding covering those classifications in effect on the effective date of this amendment.

(j) Subject to the election provisions of section A8.409-1, Charter sections A8.403 and A8.404 shall remain in full force and effect; provided, however, that the wages and other economic benefits and compensation of all classifications of employees covered by section A8.404 shall be frozen for fiscal year 1995-96 at the rates in effect on June 30, 1995.

Section 7. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.409-5 of the charter, as follows: A8.409-5 RETIREMENT BENEFITS

Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, Retirement and death allowances shall continue to be set and adjusted pursuant to Chapter Five of this Article, unless modified by an ordinance adopted pursuant to this section. However, death benefits and survivor allowances, retirement allowances, adjustments to retirement allowances and adjustments to continuant allowances payable by the retirement system and based on fiscal year 1991-1992 wages and salaries covered by chapter section A8.407, shall be calculated for all employees covered by charter sections A8.401 and A8.407 based on the rates certified by the civil service and employee relations commission to the board of supervisors as though the 1991-1992 salary standardization ordinance vetoed by the mayor had become law. No such payment shall exceed the maximum amount permitted by Section 415 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time, or the maximum amount which would still permit the retirement system to preserve its tax-qualified status under Section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time.

No agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system and no decision of the mediation/arbitration board modifying benefits under the retirement system shall be effective unless and until after the following occur:

1. The parties secure, through the retirement board, an actuarial report of the cost and effect of any proposed changes in benefits under the retirement system, and;
2. The retirement board certifies that any proposed changes in benefits under the retirement system will not cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System to fall below 90%. With reference to the retirement system and the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System, the term funded status shall mean a percentage equal to a fraction, the numerator of which is the actuarial value of assets and the denominator of which is the accrued actuarial liability. All agreements or decisions submitted to the retirement board for certification within a calendar quarter shall be considered together and new agreements or decisions shall be implemented if all agreements or decisions, taken together, would cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City's agency account with the Public Employees' Retirement System to fall below 90%, and;
3. The retirement board certifies that the "age factor" and "cost of living adjustment" ("COLA") and "final compensation" components of any new benefit provisions under the retirement system do not exceed the higher of:
   (a) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the PERS 2% at 50 plans for state safety employees and the PERS 2% at 60 plans for state non-safety employees as appropriated to the particular classification to be covered; or
   (b) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the pension plans of the 10 largest cities in California by population, exclusive of San Francisco, as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered, and.

In the event any provision above is finally determined by the Internal Revenue Service or a court of competent jurisdiction to deprive the retirement system of its tax-qualified status, then all provisions which would impair its tax-qualified status are immediately null and void.

and void. Under no circumstances will any employee have a vested right to any benefit which becomes null and void in the manner described in the preceding sentence.

The board of supervisors has full discretion to accept or reject any agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system and any decision of the mediation/arbitration board modifying benefits under the retirement system.

Section 8. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.590-4, thereof, to read as follows:

A8.590-4 OBLIGATION TO NEGOTIATE IN GOOD FAITH

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Charter, or of the ordinances, rules or regulations of the City and County of San Francisco and its departments, boards and commissions, the City and County of San Francisco, through its duly authorized representatives, and recognized employee organizations representing classifications of police officers and airport police officers shall have the mutual obligation to negotiate in good faith on all matters within the scope of representation as defined by Government Code Sections 3500, et seq., relating to the wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of City and County employment including retirement and death allowances and health benefits subject to section A8.590-7 and further, including the establishment of procedures for the resolution of grievances concerning the interpretation or application of any negotiated agreement. Unless and until agreement is reached through negotiations between authorized representatives of the City and County of San Francisco and the recognized employee organization (a) for the classifications of fire department, police department and airport police employees, or a determination is made through the impartial arbitration procedure hereinafter provided, no existing benefit, term or condition of employment for said fire department, police department or airport police employees shall be altered, eliminated or changed. Agreements reached by the duly authorized representatives for the City and County of San Francisco, its departments, boards and commissions and the recognized employee organizations pursuant to this Section shall be binding on the City and County of San Francisco and on its departments, boards, commissions, officers and employees once adopted by the board of supervisors. Said agreements shall supersede any and all other conflicting procedures, provisions and formulas contained in this Charter relating to wages, hours, benefits or terms and conditions of employment.

Section 9. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.590-5 thereof, to read as follows:

A8.590-5 IMPASSE RESOLUTION PROCEDURE

(a) Subject to section A8.590-5(g), disputes or controversies pertaining to wages, hours, benefits or terms and conditions of employment which remain unresolved after good faith negotiations between the City and County of San Francisco, its departments, boards and commissions and a recognized employee organization representing firefighters, police officers or airport police officers shall be submitted to a three-member board of arbitrators upon the declaration of an impasse either by the authorized representative of the City and County of San Francisco or by the recognized employee organization involved in the dispute. The arbitrators shall confer for the purpose of reaching an agreement or finding a solution to the dispute. If the arbitrators shall not agree, they shall select an arbitrator to determine the issue in dispute. If the arbitrator shall not be able to select an arbitrator within thirty (30) days of the appointment of the arbitrators, the City and County shall be deemed to have reached an agreement on the issue in dispute.

(b) Representatives designated by the City and County of San Francisco and representatives of the recognized employee organization involved in the dispute shall each select and appoint one arbitrator to the board of arbitrators within three (3) days after either party has notified the other, in writing, that it desires to proceed to arbitration. The third member of the arbitration board shall be selected by agreement between the City and County of San Francisco and the employee organization, and shall serve as the neutral arbitrator and Chairperson of the Board. In the event that the City and County of San Francisco and the employee organization are unable to agree on the appointment of the neutral arbitrator, the City and County of San Francisco may designate a neutral arbitrator. The arbitrators shall be selected from a list of neutrals maintained by the State of California, Department of Industrial Relations. The arbitrators shall be selected by the parties in the same manner as the members of the arbitration board. The arbitration board shall be composed of three (3) members, one selected by each of the parties to the arbitration and the third selected by the panel of neutrals.

(c) Any arbitration proceeding convened pursuant to this article shall be conducted in conformance with, subject to, and governed by Title 9 of Part 3 of the California Code of Civil Procedure. The arbitration board shall hold public hearings, receive evidence from the parties and cause a transcript of the proceedings to be prepared. The arbitration board, in the exercise of its discretion, may meet privately with the parties, mediate or mediate the issues in dispute. The arbitration board may also adopt such other procedures that are designed to encourage an agreement between the parties, expedite the arbitration hearing process, or reduce the costs of the arbitration process.

(d) In the event no agreement is reached prior to the conclusion of the arbitration hearings, the arbitration board shall direct each of the parties to submit, within such time limit as the arbitration board may establish, a last offer of settlement on each of the remaining issues in dispute. The arbitration board shall decide each issue by majority vote selecting whichever last offer of settlement on each issue finds most nearly conforms to those factors traditionally taken into consideration in the determination of wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of public and private employment, including, but not limited to: changes in the average consumer price index for goods and services; the wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of employment of employees performing similar services; the wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of other employees in the City and County of San Francisco; and the formulas provided for in this Charter for the establishment and maintenance of wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of employment. The Board shall consider the financial condition of the City and County of San Francisco and its ability to meet the costs of the decision of the arbitration board and that any proposal to modify retirement or death allowances or with respect to health benefits proposals would not cause, if adopted, an undue proliferation of retirement, death allowance benefits, or health insurance plan benefits resulting in an unreasonable administrative burden on either the retirement or health systems of the city and county.

(e) After reaching a decision, the arbitration board shall mail or otherwise deliver a true copy of its decision to the parties. The decision of the arbitration board shall not be publicly disclosed and shall not be binding until ten (10) days after it is delivered to the parties. During that ten (10) day period the parties shall meet privately, attempt to resolve their differences, and by mutual agreement amend or modify the decision of the arbitration board. At the conclusion of the ten (10) day period, which may be extended by mutual agreement between the parties, the decision of the arbitration board, as it may be modified or amended by the parties, shall be publicly disclosed. Except as limited by section A8.590-7 the arbitration decision, as it may be modified or amended by the parties, shall supersede any and all other relevant formulas, procedures and provisions of this Charter relating to wages, hours, benefits and terms and conditions of employment; and it shall be final and binding on the parties to the dispute, including the City and County of San Francisco, its commissions, departments, officers and employees. No other actions or procedural steps to confirm or approve the decision of the arbitration board shall be permitted or required; provided, however, that the City and County of San Francisco, its designated officers, employees and representatives and the recognized employee organization involved in the dispute shall take whatever action is necessary to carry out and effectuate the decision of the arbitration board.

(f) The expenses of any arbitration proceedings convened pursuant to these Charter sections shall include the fee for the services of the chairperson of the arbitration board, the costs of preparation of the transcript of the proceedings and other costs directly related to and necessarily incurred during the conduct of the proceedings, as determined by the arbitration board, shall be paid by the parties. All other expenses, including attorneys fees incurred by any party, participant or arbitration panel member in the proceedings, which the parties may incur are to be borne by the party incurring such expenses.

(g) The impasse resolution procedures set forth in Section A8.590-5 shall not apply to:
1. any dispute or controversy concerning the San Francisco Police Department’s crowd control policies;
2. any procedures or practices relating to the processing and disposition of complaints handled by the Office of Citizens’ Complaints; or matters relating to disciplinary procedures that apply to disciplinary actions involving members of the San Francisco police department and fire department covered by these sections; or matters covered by Charter section A8.343; and
3. any rule, policy, procedure, order or practice which relates to or pertains to the purpose, goals or requirements of a consent decree, or which is necessary to ensure compliance with federal, state or local anti-discrimination laws, ordinances or regulations.

In the event the City acts on a matter it has determined relates to or pertains to a consent decree, or in the event the City acts to ensure compliance with federal, state, or local anti-discrimination laws, ordinances or regulations, and the affected employee organization disputes said determination, that determination or action shall not be subject to arbitration.

Section 10. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.590-6 thereof, to read as follows:

A8.590-6 RETIREE BENEFIT ADJUSTMENTS

No agreement reached by the parties and no decision of the arbitration board shall reduce the vested retirement benefits of retirees or employees of the fire department, police department or of the airport police officers. Retirement and death allowances shall continue to be set and adjusted pursuant to Chapter Five of this Article, except that the amount to which said allowances are set and adjusted shall not be less than the amount said allowances would be if the salaries of the uniformed forces in the police and fire departments continued to be set pursuant to Charter Section 8.405—Retirement and death allowances of retired members of the police and fire departments which heretofore been periodically adjusted pursuant to the provisions of this charter in relation to the salaries of active employees shall continue to be adjusted in the same manner, except that said allowances shall not be less than said allowances would be if the salaries of the uniformed forces of the police and fire departments continued to be set pursuant to charter section A8.405 and adjustments in said allowances continued to be made pursuant to charter section A8.589-6. Any agreement or decision of the arbitration board altering vested retirement benefits shall be subject to the written approval of the individual beneficiaries thereof.

Section 11. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section A8.590-7 thereof, to read as follows:

A8.590-7 PRESERVATION OF TAX-BENEFITS RETIREMENT BENEFITS

(c) Sections 8.590-1 through 8.590-7—in their entirety—shall be subject to and limited by charter section 8.590 and any ordinances enacted pursuant thereto. Sections 8.590-1 through 8.590-7 shall be effective only to the extent that benefits authorized by or authorized pursuant to those sections do not have an adverse impact on the tax treatment of benefits provided to any employee of the city and county.

(b) Any agreement reached by the parties or any decision of the arbitration board which authorizes a modification of any aspect of the retirement system or of any aspect of the proviso for or delivery of retirement benefits shall not become effective until the following occur:

1. The retirement board, acting in its fiduciary capacity, forwards to the board of supervisors certification that implementation of the modifications presents no risk to the tax-qualified status of the retirement system. Such certification shall be based upon the advice of the general manager, the actuary of the retirement system, and any outside consultants that they may in their discretion retain;

2. After having received the certification referred to in the previous paragraph and after having made its own independent finding based on clear and convincing evidence that implementation of the modifications presents no risk to the tax-qualified status of the retirement system and will not increase the taxes of city and county employees, the board of supervisors, by a three-quarters vote, enacts an ordinance making the modifications effective.

(a) No agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system and no decision of the mediation/arbitration board modifying benefits under the retirement system shall be effective unless and until after the following occur:

1. the parties secure, through the retirement board, an actuarial report of the cost and effect of any proposed changes in benefits under the retirement system, and

2. the retirement board certifies that any proposed changes in benefits under the retirement system will not cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City’s agency account with the Public Employees’ Retirement System to fall below 90%. With reference to the retirement system and the City’s agency account with the Public Employees’ Retirement System, the term funded status will mean a percentage equal to a fraction, the numerator of which is the actuarial value of assets and the denominator of which is the accrued actuarial liability. All agreements or decisions submitted to the retirement board for certification within a calendar quarter shall be considered together, and no agreements or decisions shall be implemented if all agreements or decisions, taken together, would cause the funded status of the retirement system or the City’s agency account with the Public Employees’ Retirement System to fall below 90%, and,

3. the retirement board certifies that the “age factor” and “cost of living adjustment” ("COLA") and “final compensation” components of any new benefit provisions under the retirement system do not exceed the higher of:

(a) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the PERS 2% at 50 plans for state safety employees and the PERS 2% at 60 plans for state non-safety employees as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered; or

(b) the average age factor, COLA and final compensation components, taken item by item, of the pension plans of the 10 largest cities in California by population, exclusive of San Francisco, as appropriate to the particular classification to be covered; and

iv. the board of supervisors, after having made its own finding that implementation of the modifications to the retirement system present no risk to the tax-qualified status of the retirement system and a determination that the proposed modifications do not impose an unreasonable administrative burden on the retirement system, enacts an ordinance implementing the agreement or decision of the mediation/arbitration board. All such ordinances shall contain the following proviso:

In the event any provision above is finally determined by the Internal Revenue Service or a court of competent jurisdiction to deprive the retirement system of its tax qualified status, then all provisions which would impair its tax qualified status are immediately null and void. Under no circumstances will any employee have a vested right to any benefit which becomes null and void in the manner described in the preceding sentence.

The board of supervisors, has full discretion to accept or reject, any agreement reached by the parties modifying benefits under the retirement system and any decision of the mediation/arbitration board modifying benefits under the retirement system.

(b) Costs of any outside consultants retained by the city and county pursuant to this section shall be borne equally by the city and county and by the bargaining units concerned.

Section 12. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section 11.100 thereof, to read as follows:

SEC. 11.100. GENERAL.

Subject to this Charter and consistent with state law, the Mayor through the Human Resources Director or his/her designee and in consultation with the Board of Supervisors shall be responsible for meeting and conferring with employees or their recognized employee organizations regarding salaries, working conditions, benefits and other terms and conditions of employment including retirement and death allowances and health benefits, to be embodied in memoranda of understanding. The Human Resources Director shall assume day-to-day administration of all labor relations responsibilities previously vested in the Mayor or Board of Supervisors.

The Human Resources Director shall submit proposed memoranda of understanding including, where applicable, schedules of compensation, benefits and working conditions to the Mayor, who upon approval shall forward the proposed memoranda of understanding to the Board of Supervisors for determination by a majority vote. The Board of Supervisors shall have the power to accept or reject such memoranda of understanding. It shall be the duty of the Board of Supervisors, upon approval of any such memoranda of understanding to enact appropriate ordinances authorizing payment of any compensation or benefits or other terms and conditions of employment so approved.

Nothing in this section shall supersede any dates specified in this Charter for fixing compensation, except that the Board of Supervisors by motion may extend up to 30 days the date for final adoption of ordinances approving salary and benefits pursuant to such sections. Should the Board of Supervisors reject any memorandum of understanding and/or schedule of compensation and benefits, the Board of Supervisors shall, by motion simultaneously extend by 60 days the date for final adoption of ordinances approving salary, benefits and/or working conditions pursuant to such sections.

Section 13. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by adding section 11.103 thereof, to read as follows:

Section 11.103. CIVIL SERVICE AND EMPLOYEE RELATIONS COMMISSION

(a) There is hereby established a Civil Service and Employee Relations Commission of the city and county of San Francisco, consisting of five (5) members, appointed by the mayor in the manner set forth hereinafter, which shall implement and administer the Employee Relations Ordinance of the city and county of San Francisco, as contained in Administrative Code section 16.200, et seq., and, as well, shall enforce the prevailing wage provisions of charter section A7.204 and receive and adjudicate complaints alleging violations thereof. As well, the Commission shall assume the functions presently performed by the Civil Service Commission of the city and county of San Francisco as it existed immediately prior to the adoption of this charter amendment and subject to any modifications in the authority of said Commission by the enactment of any other charter revisions.

The members of the Commission shall possess the integrity and impartiality necessary to protect the public interest as well as the interests of the city and county and its employees, have experience and knowledge in the field of employee relations and personnel administration, including knowledge of prevailing wage principles and administration of a merit employment system, and shall reflect the interests of both management and labor on those subjects. Not fewer than two of the members of the Commission shall be women.

The persons so appointed shall, before taking office, make their oath and file in the office of the county clerk the following declaration: "I am opposed to appointments to the public service as a reward for political activity and will execute the office of civil service and employee relations commissioner in the spirit of this declaration."

One (1) of the persons selected by the mayor shall be designated as the Chairperson, and shall serve an initial term of three (3) years. Two (2) of the remaining Commission members shall be appointed for a two (2) year term, and the remaining two (2) shall be appointed for a one (1) year term. Thereafter, the regular term of office for all members of the Commission shall be three (3) years. All members shall be eligible for reappointment.

(b) The procedure for filling a vacancy resulting from expiration of a Commission member's term of office, or any circumstance in which a member of the Commission resigns, or becomes disabled from serving on said Commission, shall be initiated at least thirty (30) days prior to the expiration of said term, or within thirty (30) days of the knowledge of the vacancy. Each member of the Commission shall hold office until his/her successor is appointed. If a vacancy occurs during a term of office, the appointee to that vacancy shall hold office for the remainder of the term and until his/her successor is appointed.

(c) The Commission shall meet regularly at least once each month and shall meet at other times upon the call of the Chairperson. Three members shall constitute a quorum and the votes of three members are required for action.

(d) A member of the Commission shall be removed by the mayor, with the consent of a majority of the board of supervisors, for continued neglect of duties or malfeasance in office.

(e) The Commission shall have the following duties and powers:

(1) To determine in disputed cases or otherwise to approve appropriate employee representation units.

(2) To arrange for and supervise the determination of certified employee representatives for appropriate units by means of elections, or such other method as the Commission may approve with mutual consent of the parties involved. The results of such elections or other approved representation determination procedures shall be certified by the Commission.

(3) To decide contested matters involving certification or decertification of employee organizations.

(4) To investigate charges of unfair employment practices or violations of the Employee Relations Ordinance, and to order such appropriate remedial action as the Commission deems necessary to effectuate the policies of said Ordinance, including the issuance of cease and desist orders; provided, however, the Commission shall have no authority to order punitive or exemplary damages provided further, that in any case in which the charge alleges a violation of these provisions by the commission itself, or its agents, the commission shall not hear the matter, and shall through rule-making, develop procedures for such cases to hearing by an independent hearing officers.

(5) To conduct investigations, hear testimony, and take evidence under oath at hearings on any matter subject to its jurisdiction.

(6) To administer oaths and to require the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers through the issuance of subpoenas.

(7) To issue revised recognition certifications of an employee organization in the event of a merger, amalgamation, or transfer of jurisdiction between two or more employee organizations.

(8) To certify, in appropriate cases by mutual agreement, a council of employee organizations as the majority representative of employees in an employee representation unit and to decide issues relating to such certifications.

(9) To delegate to one or more Commission members, employees, agents, or designated hearing officers, the power to conduct fact-finding hearings and to render proposed decisions to the Commission.

(10) To make recommendations to the mayor and the board of supervisors concerning any necessary or desirable revisions to the Employee Relations Ordinance of the city and county of San Francisco.

(11) Where the City Attorney certifies a conflict of interest exists, to employ independent counsel to advise it in its consideration of that matter.

(12) To enforce the prevailing wage provisions of charter section A7.204, to investigate and adjudicate complaints alleging violations thereof, to issue cease and desist orders, to petition the appropriate court to comply with its orders and/or enjoin contractors or subcontractors from working on projects and to impose such fines or penalties as are appropriate, including the withholding of payments to contractors or subcontractors and/or barring contractors or subcontractors from bidding on subsequent contracts for an appropriate period.

(f) Wherever the words "civil service commission" appear in this charter, they shall be replaced by the words "civil service and employee relations commission." The city attorney is hereby directed to conform the language of the charter as herein amended when the next charter is submitted for republication.

Section 14. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by adding section 11.104 thereof, to read as follows:

Section 11.104 EXEMPTION OF MANAGERIAL EMPLOYEES

(a) Subject to charter section 18.108, upon the effective date of this provision, all positions in classifications in the executive management (Continued on next page) bargaining unit shall be exempt from the civil service provisions of this charter and employees holding such positions shall serve at the pleasure of the appointing authority.

(b) All employees in the management unit who have permanent civil service status in their positions as of the effective date of this provision shall retain such status subject to the civil service provisions of this charter. When such positions become vacant, the civil service and employee relations commission shall have the power to determine that the position may become at-will upon a finding that such position has responsibility for managing a major function or rendering management advice to a high level administrative authority.

(c) Appointees to vacant positions in the management and executive management units shall meet the minimum qualifications necessary to perform the essential duties of the position.

Section 15. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by deleting the following section:

SEC. 10:106; CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

There is hereby established a Civil Service Commission which is charged with the duty of providing qualified persons for appointment to the service of the City and County.

The Commission shall consist of five members appointed by the Mayor, pursuant to Section 3:106, for six-year terms. Not less than two members of the Commission shall be women.

The persons so appointed shall, before taking office, make under oath and file in the office of the County Clerk the following declaration: "I am opposed to appointments to the public service as a reward for political activity and will execute the office of Civil Service Commissioner in the spirit of this declaration."

A commissioner may be removed only upon charges preferred in the same manner as in this Charter provided for elective officers.

The regular meetings of the Commission shall be open to the public and held at such a time as will give the general public and employees of the City and County adequate time within which to appear before the Commission after the regular daily working hours of 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Such persons or persons shall be given an opportunity to be heard by the Commission before final action is taken in any case involving such person or persons.

You can vote absentee in person at Room 109, 633 Folsom Street starting Tuesday, October 7 through Tuesday, November 5, during regular working hours — 8 a.m. – 5 p.m.

PROPOSITION F
Shall the salary paid to members of the Board of Supervisors be increased from $23,924 to $50,000, and shall Board members be permitted to receive City Retirement benefits?

YES
NO

Digest
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Members of the Board of Supervisors are paid a salary of $23,924 a year. Board members are not eligible for City retirement benefits.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition F is a charter amendment that would increase the salary of members of the Board of Supervisors to $50,000 a year. Board members would be eligible for City retirement benefits.

A "YES" VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to increase the salary of the Board of Supervisors from $23,924 to $50,000 a year, and make Board members eligible for City retirement benefits.

A "NO" VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to increase the salary of members of the Board of Supervisors and permit Board members to receive retirement benefits.

Controller's Statement on "F"
City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition F:
Should the proposed charter amendment be approved by the voters, in my opinion, it would increase the cost of government by approximately $287,000 annually for salaries plus related fringe benefits.

How Supervisors Voted on "F"
On July 15, 1996 the Board of Supervisors voted 10-0 to place Proposition F on the ballot.
The Supervisors voted as follows:
NO: None of the Supervisors present voted no.
ABSENT: Supervisor Leal.
Board of Supervisors Salaries

PROONENT’S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote Yes on Proposition F.

Fulfilling the duties and responsibilities necessary to effectively serve as a City and County Supervisor in San Francisco requires an extraordinary commitment of skill, participation and attention to detail in the community that far exceed the expectations of county supervisors and city council members in other Bay Area communities, although the position is described as part-time in the City Charter.

The average salary for members of Boards of Supervisors in the five Bay Area counties is $55,487. The last pay increase for San Francisco Board Members was in 1982. Members of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors currently receive $23,924 per year. This Charter amendment sets the annual salary of Supervisors at $50,000, a reasonable amount, lower than the median for private industry positions of similar responsibility or for members of the Boards of Supervisors in five Bay Area counties.

Vote yes on Proposition F — to provide fair and equitable compensation for the San Francisco Board of Supervisors. Increasing the compensation for Supervisors would encourage even more qualified candidates to run who otherwise may be deterred by the current salary.

REBUTTAL TO PROONENT’S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

In their grandiose argument, the board of supervisors engages in such a fanciful description of their “duties and responsibilities” as to boggle the mind. They even claim that their required qualifications “far exceed the expectations of county supervisors...in other Bay Area communities” while ADMITTING the position is “described as part-time in the city charter.” It’s part-time for good reason: First, other counties have five supervisors, not 11. Secondly, other supervisors must perform quasi-administrative duties. Moreover, no city council member in the Bay Area is paid anything close to $50,000; most are paid $50 per meeting! Additionally, San Francisco supervisors are also paid extra for serving on the Golden Gate Bridge District (that winner!), MTC, BCDC, the Smog District, and other agencies. They don’t tell you that.

Instead of simply extrapolating the local consumer price index increase from 1982 until 1996, which would produce $36,101, these politicos extract an arbitrary figure of $50,000, and claim that’s the worth of part-time service. It isn’t so, and it’s even less so now that the Mayor has been granted most of the power in the Charter, an action which ALL incumbent supervisors supported. Vote NO on Proposition F.

OPPONENT'S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION F

PROPOSITION F IS A FARCE!

Taxpayers beware!! Proposition F is costly! According to the Controller, if Prop F is approved by voters, the increased cost to government will be at least $287,000 annually. This expense doesn't even include the fringe benefits also awarded with this sour morsel served up to San Francisco's long suffering taxpayers.

Apparently, the arbitrariness of a salary increase doesn't bother our illustrious supervisors. To them, $50,000 is a good, round number — why not $60,000?! Why not $80,000?! Any salary increase for part-time supervisors should be based on the consumer price index, not some random amount. Raising supervisor salaries based on the CPI was approved by voters once, and should be used again. If the same voter approved formula were utilized, the merry band of pied pipers salary would be raised from $23,924 to $36,101, not $50,000!!

The mere fact that other counties supervisors are paid more is not pertinent because the responsibilities of San Francisco's part-time elected officials are less than those of all other California county supervisors. Our "revised charter" clearly empowers the Mayor, as chief administrative officer, with increased authority. It's hardly necessary to reward supervisors with full-time pay for part-time work. San Francisco has a history and tradition of citizen legislators, whose job it is to legislate, not administer. Taxpayers know and respect the difference, and are willing to approve salary increases based on any change in the local consumer price index. Arbitrary, pie-in-the-sky numbers should be soundly defeated. VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION F!!

REBUTTAL TO OPPONENT'S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION F

Even the opponents of Proposition F's proposed salary increase for the Board of Supervisors agree that the current compensation is inadequate. Their only real argument is a quibble about how much of an increase is justified. Opponents argue for a lower increase based solely on their opinion that San Francisco ought to have only part-time supervisors.

The truth is our supervisors work far more than part-time hours. San Francisco Supervisors fulfill the duties of county supervisors as well as those of city council members. San Francisco Supervisors represent more than twice the number of citizens of any other Bay Area county supervisor. Additionally, the new city charter significantly increased, not decreased, the responsibilities of our supervisors. Board members routinely devote more than 50 hours a week carrying out their duties.

The salary level proposed by proposition F resulted from an extensive community outreach process conducted by the voter created Elections Task Force. They recommended a figure based on the average salary for members of Boards of Supervisors in the five Bay Area Counties, $35,487. Proposition F suggests a lower figure, $50,000. The last pay increase for San Francisco Board Members was in 1982. Because of this, most Supervisors, unless independently wealthy, must find ways to supplement their income without creating constant conflicts with the demands of their office. This necessity creates a major deterrent for many well qualified San Franciscans even considering serving as a member of the Board.

PAID ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Our supervisors deserve a decent salary and Prop F’s proposal is a fair one. While the Charter defines the job of supervisor as part-time, the demands of running the city require full-time attention. All of our supervisors work hard, long hours, making it difficult for them to maintain outside income. If we inhibit their ability to earn an income, then we should compensate them with a decent living salary. In addition, it would provide a financial incentive that would increase the pool of residents who would run for office and offer voters a wider choice. Prop F is fair and a good investment for San Francisco. Vote Yes on Prop F.

Although supervisors are technically classified as part-time positions, there is no limit on the number of hours we work to serve the public. My colleagues and I have never viewed our jobs as part-time and often work over 40 hours a week.

Because I step down from office due to term limits at the end of the year, I will not be affected by the salary increase if approved. But I hope you will join me in giving fair compensation to our public officials. VOTE YES ON PROP F.

Proposition F stands for fat raises which constitute full-time pay for a part-time Board of Supervisors.

This scheme, promoted by citizen legislators, illustrates a fundamental error in their basic understanding of their own function and duty within our city government.

Unlike California’s 57 other counties, San Francisco possesses full-time chief executive officer as well as a chief administrative officer. The duties of the supervisors are legislative only, not administrative. In all other counties, no elected chief executive exists and county supervisors, logically, exercise quasi-administrative as well as legislative powers. Twice in San Francisco history a cabal of supervisors tried to abolish voter approval of their salary increases. We stopped them. As president of the Board of Supervisors in 1982, however, in the customary manner, I introduced a charter amendment increasing the salary by the amount of inflation since voters in 1964 had last raised the salary. The voters and I prevailed, and the concept of an increase based on the consumer price index standard was approved; the salary was boosted to exactly $23,924.

Our revised city charter relegates the Board of Supervisors to the bench with the game tempo controlled by the new, expanded responsibilities bestowed upon the mayor. Our charter relies on a strong, defined separation of powers among the legislative and executive branches of San Francisco government to prevent excesses.

The supervisors need to understand and respect their duties and responsibilities under the Charter. Perhaps in their quest for full-time work the supervisors should take a refresher course on San Francisco history! I urge voters to augment the “chapter” on feeding at the public trough and reject any arbitrary and capricious raise for Supervisors. Vote NO on Proposition F.

PROPOSITION G

Shall the Board of Supervisors be elected by district, and shall there be district run-off elections if no candidate receives a majority of the votes cast in a district? YES NO

Digest
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The eleven members of the Board of Supervisors are elected City wide.

There is no requirement that candidates for the Board of Supervisors receive a majority of the votes cast, and there are no run-off elections for the Board. If, for example, six Board seats are up for election, the six candidates who receive the most votes are elected.

The candidate who gets the most votes becomes the Board President for two years.

Board members may be removed from office by the voters. A recall election is held if ten percent of all registered voters in the City sign a petition in support of the recall.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition G is a Charter amendment that would divide the City into eleven districts. Beginning in the year 2000, each of the districts would elect one member of the Board of Supervisors. Only residents of a district could run for or serve as the Supervisor from that district.

If no candidate received a majority of the votes cast within a district, there would be a run-off election in that district between the two candidates who received the most votes.

The Board would elect one of its members to serve as President for a two-year term.

The voters in a district could remove their supervisor from office. A recall election would be held if ten percent of the registered voters in that member’s district signed a petition in support of a recall.

The district boundaries could be changed every ten years by a task force appointed by the Mayor, the Board of Supervisors, and the Director of Elections.

A “YES” VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Board of Supervisors to be elected by district, with district run-off elections if no candidate receives a majority of the votes cast in the district.

A “NO” VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the Board of Supervisors to be elected by district.

Controller’s Statement on “G”
City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition G:

Should the proposed charter amendment be approved by the voters, in my opinion, it should have a minor effect, up to $50,000, on the cost of government for costs associated with developing and implementing new district boundaries. Should a run-off election be required there would also be a cost of about $50,000 per district.

How Supervisors Voted on “G”
On July 22, 1996 the Board of Supervisors voted 7-4 to place Proposition G on the ballot.
The Supervisors voted as follows:
YES: Supervisors Alioto, Ammiano, Bierman, Hsieh, Katz, Shelley, and Yaki.
NO: Supervisors Brown, Kaufman, Leal, and Teng.

Notice to Voters: Propositions G and H appear to conflict with each other. If both measures are approved by the voters, and if the two measures conflict, the one receiving the greater number of votes will become law.

PROPONENT’S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

Vote Yes on Proposition G.

DISTRICT ELECTIONS WILL REDUCE THE COST OF ELECTIONS:
The cost of running for office in San Francisco has increased dramatically over the last 15 years. In 1994, candidates for the Board of Supervisors had to spend an average of $318,000 in citywide campaigns to be elected.

DISTRICT ELECTIONS WILL INCREASE NEIGHBORHOOD REPRESENTATION AND COOPERATION:
If you want Supervisors who reflect the rich diversity of San Francisco’s neighborhoods and will work toward building unity among all our communities, support district elections.

DISTRICT ELECTIONS WILL MAKE ELECTED OFFICIALS MORE ACCOUNTABLE:
Citywide supervisors have to be accountable to their contributors, not to an identifiable district constituency of voters. District supervisors will have a better understanding of neighborhood issues. If you want supervisors more accountable to your individual concerns, support district elections.

DISTRICT ELECTIONS WILL HELP DEMOCRATIZE SAN FRANCISCO POLITICS:
For supervisors who will work for you on your problems, on the needs of your neighborhood and community, and in the interests of your City — support district elections.

District Elections will not reduce the cost of elections — read the ordinance. There is nothing in it that affects the cost. In fact, you can spend more money in a smaller district further disenfranchising working people and communities of color.

District Elections will divide San Francisco into eleven competing districts, encouraging horsetrading and dealmaking further-dividing communities rather than working together as a whole on behalf of all of San Francisco — every neighborhood!

Citywide elections have created a new dynamic in San Francisco in the 1990s. When we work as a coalition, we can not only elect a majority citywide but we have defeated incumbents who are out of touch with our diverse neighborhoods and communities.

Citywide elections have produced important progressive leaders like Mayor Willie Brown, Assemblywoman Carole Migden, Board of Supervisors President Kevin Shelley, Supervisors Mabel Teng and Susan Leal.

We are one city — united in our celebration of cultural diversity, forward thinking, compassionate, tolerant and thoughtful. Let’s not react like small-minded conservatives out of touch with the liberal traditions of our city. They seek to fool us into believing districts are progressive — THEY ARE REGRESSIVE, a step backward to troubled times in our city when deep divisions created one of the worst tragedies in San Francisco’s history.

Send a strong message that you cherish a united San Francisco.

Election of Supervisors —
District Elections

OPPONENT'S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION G

District Elections made sense in the mid 1970s. In fact, we supported it then. However, in 1996, it's a foolish step backwards. Our organization backed it in the 1970s because we needed to elect leaders like Harvey Milk who would unify progressive San Franciscans. But now that we have matured, our community and our coalition has grown citywide, and we believe district elections is divisive in 1996.

San Francisco is a united city of diverse neighborhoods, and we are all proud of that diversity. We are a generous, astute and involved city that cares passionately about our communities, our neighborhoods, and the issues of the day.

District Elections will hurt groups that are geographically dispersed, such as Gays/Lesbians, Asians and Pacific Islanders, Hispanics, and African Americans, by making them a minority in every district. The city-wide voting power of these groups will be eliminated under District Elections, probably resulting in fewer minorities on the Board. We do not consider this to be "progressive."

We currently have the most diverse and progressive Board of Supervisors in our City’s history; further, we have a diverse group of candidates running for the Board this November. So why divide our City into eleven competing districts?

You, the citizen will go from having eleven Supervisors you can talk with, to just one. Don’t be fooled by well-meaning "progressives" who seek change for change's sake — the San Francisco Republican Party has made support for District Elections its top priority this November. They want to elect a more conservative Board. San Francisco Supervisors Susan Leal, Mabel Teng, Amos Brown & Barbara Kaufman voted against putting district elections on the ballot. District elections will divided a united city. Don't fall into a divisive Republican trap — Join us in voting NO on District Elections.

Alice B. Toklas Lesbian & Gay Democratic Club

REBUTTAL TO OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION G

Election reform opponents want you to believe that districts are a "divisive Republican trap" — but they don’t mention that Proposition G is endorsed by the San Francisco Democratic Party.

Contrary to opponents' misleading claims, district elections will actually empower members of our ethnic communities, encourage coalition building, and give our diverse neighborhoods their own voice in City government. The truth is that district elections introduced ethnic diversity and gay representation to the San Francisco Board of Supervisors. Since the repeal of districts, only one supervisor representing an ethnic community has ever been elected without first being elected under district elections or appointed by a mayor.

Politics in the 1990's is almost exclusively about money. District elections will dramatically reduce the cost of campaigning — and the influence of special interests — because candidates will build neighborhood support instead of relying on expensive city-wide political mail campaigns. Candidates will actually walk their districts, talking to residents and business managers about local concerns like MUNI service, proposed construction of an unwanted chain store, crime in a neighborhood park, etc.

District elections offer a clear choice compared to our current system: neighborhood candidates directly accountable to voters about local concerns as opposed to the status quo — expensive, impersonal campaigns dominated by flashy political junk mail. Let's reduce the role of money and big contributors in local politics. Please join the San Francisco Democratic Party and the San Francisco League of Conservation Voters in voting yes on Proposition G.

Election of Supervisors — District Elections

PAID ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

I urge a YES vote of Proposition G.
District Election of Supervisors will give San Franciscans direct accountability over their Supervisors. It will reduce, dramatically, the cost of campaigning. Neighborhood Supervisors must address issues of concern to residents of the City’s neighborhoods — not the interests of a few wealthy contributors. In three years under District Elections from 1970 through 1980 rent control was passed, commercial developers were charged for MUNI service, and the most extensive neighborhood rezoning in the City’s history, protecting affordable housing and historic buildings, was passed. District Election of Supervisors places the needs of residents and small business from all parts of San Francisco, at the center of public policy. It fosters coalitions between our diverse neighborhoods, producing good legislation and good policy.
I strongly urge a YES vote of Prop G.

Supervisor Sue Bierman

No candidate from a minority community has ever been elected to the Board under the current at-large system without first having been appointed to the Board by a Mayor or having held another office.
Currently, many neighborhoods are not adequately represented on the Board, including the Excelsior, Sunset, the Mission, and Bayview Hunters Point.
To get elected under the current system, candidates must conduct expensive direct mail campaigns and buy onto slate cards controlled by the political machine, consultants, and special interests.
The current system makes members of the Board accountable to the Mayor and the power-brokers, not to the voters.
District elections would empower minorities and the neighborhoods from the grassroots, reduce the costs of getting elected, and would return accountability to the voters.

As members of the Elections Task Force, we strongly urge you to reject the status quo and support District Elections, Proposition G.
We were appointed by the Mayor, Board of Supervisors, and the Registrar of Voters to examine the current system and alternative systems of electing members to the Board, and other related issues.
After meeting weekly for eleven months in 1995 and holding eighteen public hearings throughout the City, we concluded that the current method of electing Supervisors was fatally flawed and that any of four alternative systems would be an improvement.
Two alternatives appear on the ballot.
We contracted with the Public Research Institute at San Francisco State to draft district maps based on strict criteria, and we revised the drafts several times based on public input. The Board of Supervisors had no say in the drawing of the lines, eliminating any possibility of a Conflict of Interest.
This July, the Board voted 7 to 4 to approve our District Election plan, which appears as Proposition G.
We believe that we remedied all the flaws of the District Elections plan of twenty years ago, and that the new plan will create a very diverse Board, will reduce the costs of running for office, and will make each member accountable to the voters and each neighborhood.

PAID ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

The current city-wide system of electing San Francisco's Supervisors has created a Board which is out of balance and which does not represent the broad spectrum of views held by San Francisco's voters.

Only one member of the Board comes from the business community, and only two members of the eleven member Board are moderates, even though 43% of San Franciscans voted for Frank Jordan and 48% supported Bill Fazio last November.

This imbalance has lead to bad public policy, such as Proposition E, and is the reason why we support a change to the current system of electing Supervisors, and why we support District Elections, Proposition G.

The Republican Party opposed District Elections in the 1970's because the system was flawed. Those flaws have been corrected by the City's Elections Task Force in 1995.

The Task Force develop detailed criteria for creating districts, and hired Professor Rich De Leon and his staff at San Francisco State University to draw the lines. De Leon's proposals were modified by the Task Force based on input at seven public hearings. The districts created are geographically compact and are fair to all of our minorities, communities and our neighborhoods.

Under the old District Elections Plan, one could get elected to the Board with 24% of the vote. The new plan requires run-off elections if no one gets a majority.

Under the old plan, there were no spending limits. Our new Charter allows the board to reduce the spending caps if the voters approve District Elections.

For all of these reasons: to restore balance to the Board, create accountability to the voters, and reduce the cost of getting elected, we support District Elections.

Just imagine: dropping in to a Supervisor's office only a few blocks from home, discussing with him or her a problem on your block, and getting something done about it. When San Francisco had district elections, you could do just that, until big money interests repealed district elections by holding an August special election.

Twenty years later, there are many problems left to solve in our neighborhoods, and still a need for Supervisors who are more accessible and accountable. District elections also reduces the huge costs of campaigning, allowing grass roots activists to run and win.

District elections will be more expensive, not less. First, there will be runoff elections, doubling costs to the City. Second, the Elections Task Force’s own report states that the average cost per vote spent by major candidates was $4.87 in 1977 under district elections and only $3.15 in 1994. The report says that “per voter expenditures under district elections in 1979 for major candidates was 2.9 times as much as under the at-large system in 1994.” Vote no on G!

Map of 11 Proposed Districts
Describing and setting forth a proposal to the qualified voters of the City and County of San Francisco to amend the Charter of said city and county by amending Sections 2.100 and 2.116, governing the composition of the Board of Supervisors and the selection of the President of the Board, by amending Sections 13.101, 13.102 and 14.103, governing terms of elective office, municipal runoff elections and recall of elective officers, and by adding Section 13.110, providing for the election of 11 supervisors from 11 districts, effective January 1, 2000.

The Board of Supervisors hereby submits to the qualified voters of said city and county at an election to be held on November 5, 1996, a proposal to amend the Charter of said city and county by amending Sections 2.100, 2.116, 13.101, 13.102 and 14.103 and adding Section 13.110, so that the same shall read as follows:

NOTE: Additions or substitutions are indicated by bold face type; deletions are indicated by strike out type.

Section 1. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section 2.100 thereof, to read as follows:

SEC. 2.100. COMPOSITION AND SALARY.

The Board of Supervisors shall consist of eleven members elected by district-at-large. Members of the board shall be paid a salary of $23,924.

Section 2. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section 2.116, to read as follows:

SEC. 2.116. PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

At its regular meeting on the eighth day of January in odd-numbered years, the Board of Supervisors shall by majority vote elect one of its members as President for a two-year term.

The position of President of the Board of Supervisors shall be assumed by the member who received the highest number of votes at the last preceding Supervisorial election.

If a vacancy occurs in the office of President of the Board of Supervisors shall occur prior to the end of the term, the Board of Supervisors shall by majority vote elect one of its members to fill the unexpired portion of the term. The President shall preside at all meetings, appoint all standing and special committees, assign legislation to committees, and have such other powers and duties as may be assigned by the Board of Supervisors.

Section 3. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section 13.101 thereto, to read as follows:

SEC. 13.101. TERMS OF ELECTIVE OFFICE.

Except in the case of an appointment or election to fill a vacancy, the term of office of each elected officer shall commence at 12:00 noon on the eighth day of January following the date of the election.

Subject to the applicable provisions for municipal runoff elections, the elected officers of the City and County shall be elected as follows:

At the general municipal election in 1995 and every fourth year thereafter, a Mayor, a Sheriff and a District Attorney shall be elected.

At the statewide general election in 1996 and every fourth year thereafter, six members of the Board of Supervisors, four members of the Board of Education and four members of the Governing Board of the Community College District shall be elected.

At the general municipal election in 1997 and every fourth year thereafter, a City Attorney and a Treasurer shall be elected.

At the statewide primary election in 1998 and every fourth year thereafter, an Assessor-Recorder and Public Defender shall be elected.

At the statewide general election in 1998 and every fourth year thereafter, five members of the Board of Supervisors, three members of the Board of Education and three members of the Governing Board of the Community College District shall be elected.

The election and terms of office of members of the Board of Supervisors shall be governed by Section 13.110.

Section 4. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section 13.102 thereof, to read as follows:

SEC. 13.102. MUNICIPAL RUNOFF ELECTIONS.

If no candidate for any elective office of the City and County, except the Board of Supervisors, the Board of Education and the Governing Board of the Community College District, receives a majority of the votes cast at an election for such office, the two candidates receiving the most votes shall qualify to have their names placed on the ballot for a municipal runoff election. If no candidate for Board of Supervisors receives a majority of the votes cast within the district, the two candidates from the district receiving the most votes shall qualify to have their names placed on the ballot for a district runoff election. A runoff election for the office of Mayor, Sheriff, District Attorney, City Attorney and Treasurer, or a district runoff election for Board of Supervisors, shall be held on the second Tuesday of the next ensuing December. A runoff election for Assessor-Recorder and Public Defender shall be held at the next general election.

Section 5. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by adding section 13.110 thereto, to read as follows:

SEC. 13.110. ELECTION OF SUPERVISORS.

(a) The members of the board of supervisors shall be elected by district as set forth in this section.

(b) The city and county shall be divided into 11 Supervisorial districts as set forth in this section. Beginning with the general municipal election in 2000, and until new districts are established pursuant to this section, these districts shall be used for the election or recall of the members of the board of supervisors, and for filling any vacancy in the office of member of the board of supervisors by appointment. Once new districts are established, these districts shall be used for the same purposes. No change in the boundary or location of any district shall operate to abolish or terminate the term of office of any member of the board of supervisors prior to the expiration of the term of office for which such member was elected or appointed.

(c) The 11 supervisorial districts shall be bounded and described as follows:

Unless specifically designated to the contrary, all references to streets, boulevards, drives, avenues, terraces and ways contained in the foregoing description shall refer to the center lines of said streets, boulevards, drives, avenues, terraces and ways, respectively.

ELEVENTH SUPERVISORIAL DISTRICT, shall comprise all of that portion of the city and county not otherwise described as constituting the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth or Tenth Supervisorial Districts.

(d) Within 60 days following publication of the decennial federal census in the year 2000 and every decennial federal census after that, the Director of Elections shall report to the Board of Supervisors on whether the existing districts continue to meet the requirements of federal and state law and the criteria for drawing districts lines set in the Charter.

The criteria for drawing districts lines are:

- Districts must conform to all legal requirements, including the requirement that they be equal in population. Population variations between districts should be limited to 1 percent from the statistical mean unless additional variations, limited to 5 percent of the statistical mean, are necessary to prevent dividing or diluting the voting power of minorities and/or to keep recognized neighborhoods intact; provided, however, that the redistricting provided for herein shall conform to the rule of one person, one vote, and shall reflect communities of interest within the city and county.

If it is determined that the districts are in compliance with all legal requirements, including the requirement that they be equal in population, the current districts as drawn will be valid for the next decade. If it is determined that any of the districts are not in compliance, the Board of Supervisors by ordinance shall convene and fund a nine-member election task force. Three members shall be appointed by the Board of Supervisors, three members shall be appointed by the Mayor, and three members shall be appointed by the Director of Elections. The Director of Elections shall serve ex officio as a non-voting member. The task force shall be responsible for redrawing the district lines in accordance with the law and the criteria established in this Section, and shall make such adjustments as appropriate based on public input at public hearings. The Board of Supervisors may not revise the district boundaries established by the task force.

(e) Each member of the board of supervisors, commencing with the general municipal election in November, 2000, shall be elected by the electors within a supervisorial district, and must have resided in the district in which he or she is elected for a period of not less than 30 days immediately preceding the date he or she files a declaration of candidacy for the office of supervisor, and must continue to reside therein during his or her incumbency, and upon ceasing to be such resident shall be removed from office.

(f) Notwithstanding any provisions of this section or any other section of the charter to the contrary, the respective terms of office of the members of the board of supervisors who shall hold office on the eighth day of January, 2001, shall expire at 12 o'clock noon on said date and the 11 persons elected as members of the board of supervisors at the general election in 2000 shall succeed to said offices on said eighth day of January, 2001. At that time, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall determine whether the supervisors elected from the even- or odd-numbered supervisorial districts at the general municipal election in 2000 shall have terms of office expiring at noon on the eighth day of January, 2003, and which shall have terms of office expiring at noon on the eighth day of January, 2005;
commencing, however, with the general municipal election in November, 2002, the terms of office of the supervisors elected from the even- or odd-numbered supervisorial districts, as the case may be, shall be for a term of four years and shall continue as such thereafter. Those members of the board of supervisors elected at the general election in 1998, and those elected at the general election 2000 who only serve an initial two-year term, shall not be deemed to have served a full term for purposes of the term limit established in section 2.101.

Section 6. The 1996 San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by amending section 14.103 thereof, to read as follows:
SEC. 14.103. RECALL.
An elected official of the City and County, the City Administrator, the Controller, or any member of the Airports Commission, the Board of Education, the governing board of the Community College District, the Ethics Commission or the Public Utilities Commission may be recalled by the voters as provided by this Charter and by the laws of the State of California, except that no recall petitions shall be initiated with respect to any officer who has held office for less than six months.

A recall petition shall include the signatures of voters in a number equal to at least ten percent of registered voters of the City and County at time of the filing of the notice of intention to circulate the recall petitions. A recall petition for a member of the Board of Supervisors shall include signatures of voters from the district from which the Supervisor was elected in a number equal to at least ten percent of the registered voters of the district at the time of the filing of the notice of intention to circulate the recall petition. A recall petition shall state the grounds on which the recall is based.

Upon certifying the sufficiency of the recall petition’s signatures, the Director of Elections shall immediately call a special municipal election on the recall, to be held not less than 105 nor more than 120 days from the date of its calling unless it is within 105 days of a general municipal or statewide election, in which event the recall shall be submitted at such general municipal or statewide election.

Section 7. This measure is intended to be inconsistent with Proposition H, which provides for the at-large election of 11 supervisors using preference voting. If both measures receive a majority vote, only the measure receiving the higher number of votes will be adopted.

This measure shall take effect on January 1, 2000. Upon passage of this measure, the City Attorney shall take necessary steps to include both the current Charter provisions and the amendments effected by this measure as part of the text of the Charter. On or after January 1, 2000, the City Attorney shall take necessary steps to delete the former Charter provisions from subsequent editions of the Charter.
Election of Supervisors — Preference Voting

PROPOSITION H

Shall the Board of Supervisors be elected using preference voting?

YES  NO

Digest

by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Board of Supervisors has eleven members who are elected citywide. Every two years, either 5 or 6 of the Board seats are up for election. Each voter may vote for as many candidates as there are seats to be filled, and the candidates with the most votes are elected. In each Board election, the candidate who gets the most votes becomes the Board President.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition H is a charter amendment that would require that members of the Board of Supervisors be elected using a system called preference voting. Instead of casting votes for each of the candidates the voter wanted elected, the voter would rank his or her choices for Supervisor in order of preference. The ballots would be counted in steps to tally the order of voter preferences. The number of votes needed to elect a Board member would be based on the total number of votes cast and the total number of Board seats up for election.

Under preference voting, each vote would be distributed among the voter’s preferred candidates. First, the voter’s entire vote would be given to his or her first-choice candidate. If a voter’s first-choice candidate received more votes than needed for election, then part of that voter’s vote would be given to that voter’s second-choice candidate. If any other candidate then had more votes than needed for election, part of the votes for that candidate would be given to the voters’ next-choice candidates. If this process was completed and some Board seats were not filled, the candidate who received the fewest votes would be eliminated. Votes cast for the eliminated candidate would be given the voters’ next-choice candidates. This two-step redistribution and elimination process would be repeated until all the Board seats were filled.

The same preference ballots will be used to elect the Board President. Candidates with the fewest votes would be eliminated, and their votes redistributed until only one candidate remained.

A “YES” VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Board of Supervisors to be elected using preference voting.

A “NO” VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to use preference voting to elect the Board of Supervisors.

Controller’s Statement on “H”

City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition H:

Should the proposed charter amendment be approved by the voters, in my opinion, it should not increase the cost of government to hold elections except for some $100,000 in one-time programming costs to implement the preference voting process.

However, the City’s voting system is already having a difficult time accommodating the size of our local ballots and preference voting may add to the need to buy or lease a new vote count system.

How Supervisors Voted on “H”

On July 22, 1996 the Board of Supervisors voted 10-1 to place Proposition H on the ballot.

The Supervisors voted as follows:

NO: Supervisor Bieren.

Notice to Voters: Propositions G and H appear to conflict with each other. If both measures are approved by the voters, and if the two measures conflict, the one receiving the greater number of votes will become law.
PROPOSITION'S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

Vote Yes on Proposition H.
Proposition H will usher in a new era of fair and representative government to San Francisco. Many believe the current voting system has not given adequate representation to the diverse elements of our City.

Proposition H is “State of the Art” Democracy
Proposition H will elect the Board of Supervisors by preference voting. Like district elections, preference voting reduces the number of votes needed to win elections. Candidates can win with votes from one section of the City or from several neighborhoods. However, with preference voting, candidates may also win votes from communities spread throughout the City, such as small business owners, tenants, gays and lesbians, ethnic groups, labor and many others.

Proposition H Promotes Coalition Building
Preference voting allows voters to rank candidates from allied communities and organizations. This keeps coalitions from splitting their vote among rival candidates. It allows citizens to vote for their favorite candidates rather than the “lesser of two evils.” Preference voting will decrease San Francisco’s frequently divisive politics.

Proposition H will increase voter turnout.
Preference voting is used by over 30 million people in other U.S. cities and other nations. Voters in most of these places turn out in higher numbers because with preference voting, your vote counts!

Recent U.S. Supreme Court rulings have thrown at risk the traditional reliance on majority-minority districts to gain representation for minority voters. In this era of backlash against affirmative action, decades of voting rights litigation and activism have been tossed aside. New creative options must be explored, as a way to end run the current political climate and still provide crucial representation to the communities that have been disenfranchised by the recent Supreme Court rulings.

We are pleased that San Francisco is considering the adoption of preference voting as a means to elect its Board of Supervisors. Systems like preference voting hold out a great deal of promise to the traditional recipients of voting rights remedies, as well as other constituencies who are disenfranchised by the “winner take all” voting system.

Preference voting lowers the threshold of victory (the number of votes needed for election), and by doing so opens up races to various racial and political minorities, allows coalition-building, and allows more voters to help elect their favorite candidates.

Now is the time for cities and states to explore some of these proportional options like preference voting. San Francisco has an opportunity to be on the cutting edge of this issue of electoral reform and political representation in this era of backlash against the Voting Rights Act.

Preference Voting in San Francisco may stand as a national model of innovation that others can follow, in the current climate of judicial backlash against the remedies of minority vote dilution.

I would like to encourage you to give strong consideration to preference voting. In South Africa elections two years ago, and I was impressed. I found it to be an “inclusive” system, giving everyone in South African society a stake in the outcome, rather than the “exclusive” system which is too often the result of “winner-take-all.” I believe San Francisco has an opportunity to reinvigorate a voting system that could serve as a model for the next century.

The current at-large, majority rule method of electing San Francisco’s Supervisors allows the machine and a handful of consultants and monied interests undue influence on the composition of the Board.

While we believe that district elections may allow more democracy than the present system, we are convinced that preference voting offers the best opportunity for the working people of San Francisco to have a real voice in local government. Vote Yes on Proposition H!

Minority representation on the Board in the last century has been minimal, and was almost exclusively due to mayoral appointments. At-large elections guarantee that minority communities remain dependent on the presence of a mayor who values diversity, and engender voter apathy and cynicism. Preference voting, on the other hand, institutionalizes a fair and full opportunity for each citizen to cast a meaningful vote in the election. Preference voting avoids the legal risks of district plans, and stimulates voting by underrepresented communities participating for the first time in a fair system where minority votes are no longer nullified by the majority vote.

Preference Voting retains a Board of Supervisors who represent the entire City and only changes the way we vote for them. Preference Voting is easy to use; voters simply rank their candidates in order of preference, 1st, 2nd, 3rd, etc. Voters can freely make their choices without worry of “wasting” votes. Communities that are spread out can vote together to win representation. Money and incumbency will have less influence than now. Vote YES on H.

The Green Party’s values promote grass-roots democracy, social justice, and diversity. Preference voting will help us achieve them! It’s simple — voters just rank candidates in order of preference, 1, 2, 3, 4. It gives fair representation to the majority and minority communities. Democracy, justice, diversity. Let’s try it! Vote YES on Proposition H.

Election of Supervisors — Preference Voting

PAID ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

The political status quo has caused the decline of this once great City. Citizens watch helplessly as high-priced politicians squander our tax money and hand out favors to pressure groups. Why? Because without Preference Voting, politicians CAN safely ignore them. Take San Francisco back from the politicians. Vote Yes on H.

Only one racial minority Candidate has won election to our Board of Supervisors under the current system without having first been appointed. Minority constituencies shouldn’t have to depend upon mayoral appointment to ensure representation. Preference voting’s transferable ballot prevents communities of interest from splitting their votes among rival candidates; it also encourages coalition-building. Vote yes of H.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CHARTER AMENDMENT
PROPOSITION H

Describing and setting forth a proposal to the qualified voters of the City and County of San Francisco to amend the Charter of said city and county by amending Sections 2.100 and 2.116 thereof, governing the composition of the Board of Supervisors and the selection of the President of the Board, by adding Sections 13.110 and 13.111 thereto, governing the use of preference ballots and the election of supervisors using preference ballots, and by establishing an effective date so that the same shall read as follows:

NOTE: Additions or substitutions are indicated by bold face type; deletions are indicated by strikeout type.

Section 1. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by adding section 2.100 thereof, to read as follows:

SEC. 2.100. COMPOSITION AND SALARY.

The Board of Supervisors shall consist of eleven members; elected at large. Members of the board shall be paid a salary of $23,924.

Section 2. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by adding section 2.116, to read as follows:

SEC. 2.116. PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

The position of President of the Board of Supervisors shall be chosen by a separate tabulation of the ballots cast at the last preceding supervisorial election. This tabulation shall conform to the rules defined in Section 13.111 for tabulation of preference ballots. All candidates that were not seated in the general election shall be eliminated prior to the tabulation process, and their ballots reallocated according to Section 13.111. At its regular meeting on the eighth day of January in odd-numbered years, the position of President of the Board of Supervisors shall be assumed by the member so elected who received the highest number of votes at the last preceding Supervisorial election. If a vacancy in the office of President of the Board of Supervisors shall occur prior to the end of the term, the Board of Supervisors shall by a majority vote elect one of its members to fill the unexpired portion of the term. The President shall preside at all meetings, appoint all standing and special committees, assign legislation to committees, and have such other powers and duties as may be assigned by the Board of Supervisors.

Section 3. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by adding section 13.110 thereto, to read as follows:

SEC. 13.110. ELECTION OF SUPERVISORS.

The members of the board of supervisors shall be elected at large, using a preference ballot. Rules concerning elections using preference ballots outlined in Section 13.111 shall apply.

Section 4. The San Francisco Charter is hereby amended, by adding section 13.111 thereto, to read as follows:

SEC. 13.111. TABULATION OF PREFERENCE BALLOTS.

For all election contests where preference ballots are used, the following shall apply:

(a) The ballot shall be designed to allow the voter to express a number of choices equal to or greater than the number of open seats and shall enable the voter to rank his or her choices according to preference.

(b) The vote represented by each ballot shall be allocated starting with the candidate listed as first preference on the ballot. If a candidate's total vote allocation is greater than the vote threshold defined in subsection (c), only that portion of the vote required to place the candidate at the vote threshold shall be applied to the candidate and the remainder shall be applied to the candidate given the next preference ranking. Reallocation shall continue until no candidate has a vote allocation greater than the vote threshold or until it is not possible to reduce a candidate's vote allocation further.

If, after reducing all candidates' vote allocations to a value no greater than the vote threshold, there are open seats remaining to be filled, the candidate with the lowest vote allocation will be eliminated and the votes allocated to that candidate will be transferred to the next candidates recorded on the ballots according to the preference ranking. This process shall continue until the number of candidates remaining matches the number of seats to be filled. Votes for the last candidate eliminated shall be transferred, and the election shall be declared at an end.

(c) The election threshold shall be determined by dividing the number of ballots cast for the office(s) in question by one (1) plus the number of vacant seats to be filled at the election. The next highest whole number is the election threshold.

(d) If at any stage of the ballot tabulation a ballot shows more than one candidate with the same preference, the unapplied vote percentage shall be divided among the candidates. If one of the candidates so specified passes the vote threshold and becomes elected, or if one of the candidates is eliminated, that candidate shall have preference ranking ahead of the other candidate(s) at the same preference level, so that the process of vote allocation will apply the remaining percentage of the vote to the candidate(s) remaining at that preference level.

(e) If at any stage of the tabulation a ballot does not show any clearly marked choice, the vote for that ballot shall pass to the next clearly indicated preference.

(f) Regardless of how many candidates are marked on a ballot, no vote shall be allocated to more than the number of preferences defined for the ballot.

(g) If all the candidates selected on a ballot have either reached the vote threshold or been eliminated and there remains a portion of the vote from that ballot which has not been allocated, the entire remaining vote for that ballot shall be allocated to the last candidate marked on the ballot who has not been eliminated.

(h) Any votes cast for eligible write-in candidates shall be tabulated in the same manner, provided that the voter assigns that candidate a ranked preference.

(i) In the case of a tie between candidates occurring at any stage in the tabulation, the tie shall be resolved in favor of the candidate who received the most votes at the previous stage of the tabulation. In the case of a tie to which a previous stage does not apply, the tie shall be resolved in accordance with the election laws of the State of California.

(j) The responsibility for ensuring that voting and tabulation occur in accordance with the rules specified herein resides with the Director of Elections.

Section 5. This measure shall take effect on January 1, 2000.

PROPOSITION I

Shall the Police Commission and Fire Commission establish the rules and procedures for recruiting, hiring, and promoting police officers and firefighters, and conduct civil service tests for these employees?

YES  ➔  NO  ➔

Digest
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: San Francisco police officers and firefighters are civil service employees. The Civil Service Commission sets the rules and procedures for recruiting, hiring, and promoting civil service employees. The Human Resources Department administers tests that determine eligibility for civil service employment. The Human Resources Department may hire private contractors to conduct these tests.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition I is a charter amendment that would transfer certain powers from the Civil Service Commission and the Human Resources Department to the Police Commission and the Fire Commission. The Police Commission and the Fire Commission would be permitted to set the rules and procedures for recruiting, hiring, and promoting police officers and firefighters. These rules and procedures must comply with state and federal law and promote City affirmative action policies. The Police Commission and the Fire Commission would be required to conduct civil service tests for police officers and firefighters at least once every four years. The Police and Fire Commissions could hire private contractors to conduct these tests.

A "YES" VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want the Police Commission and the Fire Commission rather than the Civil Service Commission, to establish the rules and procedures for recruiting, hiring, and promoting police officers and firefighters. You also want the Police Commission and the Fire Commission, rather than the Human Resources Department, to conduct civil service tests for these employees.

A "NO" VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want these powers to remain with the Civil Service Commission and the Human Resources Department.

Controller's Statement on "I"
City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition I:

Should the proposed charter amendment be approved by the voters, in my opinion, it should not affect the cost of government.

PROPONENT’S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION I

Vote Yes on Proposition I

Over the past decade, San Francisco’s police and fire departments have made tremendous progress in meeting their hiring and promotional goals for minorities and women. We can expect within the next year or two that the consent decrees that have long governed both departments will be dissolved.

But our work is not done. The San Francisco charter itself contains a variety of antiquated rules that, historically, have contributed to the departments’ employment problems.

This proposition will ensure that the City’s promotion and examination procedures are efficient, fair, and above all, free of illegal discrimination.

Please take the additional step of updating our charter so that all San Franciscans continue to be proud of their police and fire departments.

Board of Supervisors

REBUTTAL TO PROPONENT’S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION I

Reading the argument for Proposition I would lead the average voter to believe the measure is dictated by discriminatory practices or a court “consent” decree. That’s not the substance of Proposition I; the substance is special treatment for the Police Department and Fire Department and exclusion of the Civil Service Commission from administration of hiring, promotion and bad conduct employment discharges. This measure has nothing to do with “updating our charter so that all San Franciscans continue to be proud of their police and fire departments.”; we all are proud of our police and fire departments now. This measure involves special treatment, not enjoyed by any other classification of city employees. Instead of Civil Service Commission oversight, the only oversight would be by the police and fire commissions. Such unequal treatment isn’t justified. Vote NO on Proposition I.

OPPONENT'S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

Vote no on Proposition I! For over 60 years, uniformed members of the police and fire departments have been treated like other city employees insofar as the civil service system is concerned. Now, sponsors of Proposition I want to remove that salutary governance system and allow the police commission and fire commission sole authority to adopt rules for the testing, hiring and promotion of police and firefighters. No other city employee groups are regulated in such fashion.

VOTE "NO" ON PROPOSITION I
Proposition I is unnecessary and preferential in nature. There's no sound reason for removing uniformed personnel from the purview of the Civil Service Commission or the Human Resources Department. Doing so would breed isolation and policies that favor uniformed personnel while not applying to non-uniformed city employees. VOTE "NO" ON PROPOSITION I.

KOPP'S GOOD GOVERNMENT COMMITTEE

REBUTTAL TO OPPONENT'S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION I

For well over the last decade, the hiring and promotion procedures for police and firefighters have been controlled by the federal courts, not by the Civil Service Commission.

...procedures once the federal court orders are dissolved. The Police and Fire Commissions — the groups most knowledgeable about the particular needs of the police and fire departments — are best qualified to develop fair and non-discriminatory hiring and promotion procedures for uniformed personnel.

Proposition I not only will serve all the people of San Francisco with no additional cost to the City, but will better enable the City to avoid the illegal and costly problems that resulted in these court orders in the first place.

Vote Yes on Proposition I.

PAID ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION 1

YES on Proposition I
San Franciscans deserve outstanding Police and Fire Departments that are independent, thoroughly professional and manage their own personnel matters fairly and without prejudice.

A YES vote on Proposition I makes the Police and Fire Departments each solely responsible — and therefore fully accountable — for the recruitment and promotion of its members.

For years federal courts have exercised that authority. That oversight will end next year if the courts are satisfied that hiring and promotional opportunities continue to be open to all qualified men and women.

Progress under the courts toward greater equality of opportunity has been significant, but so has the cost over the years in taxpayer dollars.

Proposition I amends the City Charter to empower the two departments, with oversight from their respective commissions, to take over personnel management when the courts dissolve their consent decrees.

Authority for the day-to-day administration, under standards that are stringent and nondiscriminatory, will be squarely where it should be — with the men and women who daily combat crime and fight fires in San Francisco.

San Francisco police and firefighters are now hired and promoted under Federal Court Consent Decrees. Under these Decrees, fair and non-discriminatory test procedures have been developed.

PAID ARGUMENTS AGAINST PROPOSITION I

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION I — IT'S FOR INSIDERS
Proposition I is yet another charter amendment on the ballot which promotes patronage, favoritism and political backslapping to the detriment of the City. Specifically, Proposition I, transfers powers from nonpolitical agencies (the Civil Service Commission and the Human Resources Department) to the mayoral appointees of the Police and Fire Commissions.

Now, shockingly, recruiting, hiring, testing, and discipline matters will be transferred internally with oversight duties given to those least objective. Talk about the wolf guarding the hen house!!

Approval of Proposition I also abolishes voter approval of certain disciplinary procedures. If the elimination of a watchdog agency, empowerment of politically appointed commissions isn't enough — Proposition I eliminates the Civil Service Commission and gives the mayor a brand new commission with lesser terms — three years instead of six years, a dangerous adaptation compared to the protection of a longer term for commissioners making hard decisions.

Proposition I is an advancement of a political, patronage system at the expense of public oversight. Vote NO on Proposition I.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CHARTER AMENDMENT
PROPOSITION I

Describing and setting forth a proposal to the qualified electors of the City and County of San Francisco to amend the Charter of said city and county by amending section 10.102 thereof, relating to the hiring and promotion of uniformed members of the San Francisco Police and Fire Departments.

The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby submits the qualified electors of said city and county at an election to be held on November 5, 1995 a proposal to amend the Charter of said city and county by amending section 10.102 thereof to read as follows:

NOTE: Additions or substitutions are indicated by bold face type; deletions are indicated by strike-out type.

10.102. DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN RESOURCES.

The Department of Human Resources shall consist of a Human Resources Director and such employees as may be necessary to carry out its functions and duties.

Pursuant to and in accordance with policies, rules and procedures of the Civil Services Commission governing the merit system, the Department of Human Resources shall be the personnel department for the City and County and shall determine appointments on the basis of merit and fitness as shown by appropriate tests and, except as specifically set forth in this Charter, shall perform all tests, duties and functions previously performed by the Civil Service Commission, including but not limited to authority to recruit, select, certify, appoint, train, evaluate, administer employee discipline, discharge and other related personnel activities in order to maintain an effective and responsive workforce. Notwithstanding the provisions of Charter sections 10.100 and 10.101, the Police Commission and Fire Commission shall have the authority to adopt rules, policies and procedures governing the hiring and promotion of non-exempt uniformed personnel including but not limited to recruitment, applications, examinations, selection procedures, eligibility, duration of eligible lists, certification of eligibles, appointments, promotions, pre-employment and fitness for duty medical examinations, probationary status and the administration of probationary periods. However, the Police Commission and Fire Commission shall determine appointments to the non-exempt uniformed ranks of their respective departments on the basis of merit and fitness as shown by tests and/or selection procedures which are consistent with State and Federal laws and that promote the affirmative action policies of the City and County. The Police and Fire Commissions shall have the authority to enter into personal services contract with private contractors for the performance of the testing duties and functions to accomplish the purposes of this section. The Police and Fire Commissions shall have the duty and obligation to administer examinations or other means of qualification for selection and appointment of uniformed personnel in their departments no less frequently than forty-eight (48) months apart for each non-exempt uniformed classification.

The Department of Human Resources shall be responsible for coordination of all state, local and federal health and safety mandates, programs and requirements relating to employees including but not limited to industrial hygiene programs, health and safety programs, OSHA compliance and return to work programs. Department heads shall coordinate such activities of employees under their jurisdiction with the Human Resources Director.

The Department of Human Resources shall be responsible for policy, management and administration of the worker’s compensation program and shall review and determine all applications for disability leave.

Subject to Section 11.100 hereof, the Department of Human Resources shall be responsible for management and administration of all labor relations of the City and County.

The Department of Human Resources shall be responsible for management and administration of all health services of employee. The transfer of such power and control to the Department of Human Resources shall occur no later than October 1, 1995.

Except for the purpose of inquiry, the Mayor shall deal with the administration of the civil service merit system solely through the Human Resources Director and the Civil Service Commission or their designees. The Mayor shall not dictate, suggest or interfere with the merit system activities of the Civil Service Commission or Human Resources Department. Administrative matters shall be dealt with only in the matter provided by this Charter, and any dictation, suggestion or interference herein prohibited shall constitute official misconduct; provided that nothing herein contained shall restrict the power of hearing and inquiry as provided in this Charter.
PROPOSITION J

Shall taxicab permit holders be permitted to sell their permits, and shall the City make other changes to the laws which regulate taxicabs?

YES  NO

Digest
by Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City issues a limited number of taxicab permits. Permits are issued to individuals only, not to companies. Taxicab permits are the property of the City, and may not be sold.

A permit holder is required to personally drive the taxicab for a specified number of hours per year. When a permit holder is not driving the taxicab, he or she may charge a "lease fee" to another person or company for the right to operate the taxicab. That person or company may, in turn, charge drivers an "operating fee" for the right to drive the taxicab for a particular shift. The City regulates taxi fares but does not regulate lease fees or operating fees.

Applicants for taxicab permits do not need to have experience driving a taxicab.

The City has a paratransit program which provides lower-cost taxicab services to certain elderly and disabled persons.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition J is an ordinance that would allow a permit holder to transfer the permit to the qualified bidder offering the highest price. Taxicab permits would remain the property of the City. The City would approve all permit transfers. The City would receive $10,000, or 20% of the transfer price, whichever was greater, for each transfer. For two years following passage of Proposition J, permit holders could transfer their permits only if they had held them for ten years or more.

The City would set maximum lease fees and operating fees based on average fees in effect on May 1, 1996. The City would determine these averages by conducting a survey. The City would then adjust these fees, and taxi fares, every two years based on changes in the cost of living.

Other provisions of Proposition J include:
- Permit holders who work as managers for taxicab companies would no longer be required to drive the taxicab for the specified number of hours per year.
- Before receiving a permit, applicants would be required to have at least five years experience driving taxicabs in San Francisco.
- The City would issue a limited number of additional permits to taxicab companies that participate in the para transit program. Taxicabs using these permits could only be operated on weekdays, but would not be restricted to paratransit activity.
- Fines for illegal operation of a taxicab would be increased.

A "YES" VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to make these changes to the laws which regulate taxicabs.

A "NO" VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to make these changes to the laws which regulate taxicabs.

Controller's Statement on "J"

City Controller Edward Harrington has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition J:

Should the proposed measure be approved, in my opinion, the cost effect of the ordinance would be minimal. Some revenues will result from fees paid to the City for the transfer of existing taxicab licenses, the amount of which depends upon the number of licenses transferred. Additional costs to survey, regulate and adjust the number of taxi permits, taxi fares and lease and operating (gate) fees and monitor taxi operations may be incurred but these should be minimal.

How "J" Got on the Ballot

On July 26, 1996 the Department of Elections received a proposed ordinance signed by Supervisors Alioto, Brown, Hsieh, Katz, Kaufman, and Teng. The City Charter allows four or more Supervisors to place an ordinance on the ballot in this manner.

PROONENT’S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

Proposition J: Comprehensive, Progressive Reform of San Francisco’s Taxi Industry

San Franciscans depend on a taxi system that works well for everyone.

San Francisco’s taxi industry faces many challenges: Neighborhoods not close to downtown need better taxi service, during busy times there aren’t enough cabs, and there is a need for increased paratransit service.

Today, many taxi drivers don’t have access to health and disability insurance. Drivers who want to own their own operating permit must wait twenty years to get one. If Proposition J passes everyone will benefit: passengers, cab companies, cab drivers and our City.

Proposition J will tackle those problems head on. It is a comprehensive, progressive reform measure. Proposition J will:

- create new taxi operating permits to put more cabs on the street during peak times;
- provide incentives for taxi companies to participate in the City’s paratransit program serving seniors and persons with disabilities;
- require cab companies to offer drivers access to health and disability insurance;
- allow drivers who currently hold operating permits to sell them to qualified drivers (not taxi cab companies);
- require the Police Commission to monitor the transfer of operating permits and guard against profiteering;
- increase penalties against unlicensed limos and cabs that steal business away from legitimate cab drivers.

If you can’t get a cab when you need one, if you are tired of waiting endlessly for a cab, if you believe drivers should have a fair chance at earning a decent wage, if you believe in better paratransit service for seniors and the disabled, and if you believe that all drivers should have access to health insurance — Vote YES on Proposition J.

REBUTTAL TO PROONENT’S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

If you want to hire wordsmiths to dissemble and deceive voters, the sponsors and slick campaign managers of Proposition J are your best bet. Reading their argument for Proposition J is like Alice in Wonderland!

It’s a joke to believe the misrepresentation that the police commission will “monitor” the sale of taxicab permits and “guard against profiteering.” Profiteering is the underpinning of Proposition J. It’s the reason sponsors and their acquisitive campaign managers inveighed six weak supervisors to place it on the ballot, a devious effort to overturn the 1978 voter-adopted reform of a corrupt taxicab permit system which allowed taxicab companies to use city permits for personal financial gain. A bigger joke?: the assertion that only drivers with “five years experience” will purchase permits. Average drivers cannot — and should not — be forced to pay $100,000 – $200,000 for government permits! Proposition J is simple; the taxicab moguls want to regress to a system which allowed them to profiteer at our expense. It’d be like selling privately for profit a residential parking permit. If they want the Police Department to issue additional permits, why not join those of us who have advocated more permits for years? The Mayor, for example, favors issuance of more taxicab permits. That’s not the “gain”, however, represented by Proposition J. Proposition J is yet another taxicab company “ripoff” which voters have thwarted five times since we reformed the system in 1978. Let’s not be fooled; vote NO on J.

State Senator Quentin L. Kopp

Arguments printed on this page are the opinion of the authors and have not been checked for accuracy by any official agency.
OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Proposition J is yet another of the efforts of the taxicab moguls to return to the pre-1978 system of using governmental permits as if that was private property. Proposition J would effectually allow taxicab companies to sell city taxicab permits privately, rather than return them to the Police Department for re-issuance at a nominal administrative cost to genuine taxicab drivers, some of whom have been waiting 17 years to obtain a permit to operate a taxicab in San Francisco.

VOTE “NO” ON PROPOSITION J

In June 1978, San Francisco voters approved Proposition K, which ended the power of taxicab companies to sell Police Department-issued taxicab permits for tens of thousands of dollars. (Today, in New York City for example, such permits are regularly sold for sums in excess of $100,000, and it’s almost impossible for the average driver to enter the taxicab industry). Four times thereafter measures to repeal Proposition K were rejected by voters, and by ever-increasing margins. Taxicab companies even tried to invalidate Proposition K in the courts and spent hundreds of thousands of dollars on attorneys for such futile purpose. The last such time a taxicab measure was on the ballot, taxicab companies and confederates reportedly spent $450,000 to defeat a taxicab driver-inspired initiative measure. Their ability to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars on ballot measures demonstrates their profits. Repealing the present system which forbids treatment of public permits as private assets, would generate permit prices of $100,000 and more. Real cab drivers would be excluded.

Vote “NO” on Proposition J and save the integrity of a Police Department permitting system which grants opportunity to cab drivers, not company executives, much less non-taxicab drivers like lawyers, doctors and businessmen.

KOPP’S GOOD GOVERNMENT COMMITTEE

State Senator Quentin L. Kopp
Chairman

REBUTTAL TO OPPONENT’S ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Currently, there are two ways that taxi drivers are allowed to drive in San Francisco: Drivers can obtain an operating permit — a license to drive a cab — free from the City. Drivers who want a City operating permit now wait up to 20 years to get one. Or, a driver can “rent”, for a fee, a permit from a current permit holder or taxi company. Drivers who “rent” make much less than those who have a City permit.

Proposition J will provide an additional way for a driver to receive a City permit. It will allow current permit holders to transfer their permits to working cab drivers. Proposition J prohibits permit transfers to companies. Further, it directs the Police Commission to oversee this system and to “protect against profiteering.” This new system increases access to the taxi industry for working drivers. Cab drivers win with Proposition J.

Proposition J’s other reforms include:
1) more cabs on the street at peak times by issuing new “restricted permits”;
2) increased participation in the City’s paratransit program to provide more service to seniors and disabled persons; and
3) a requirement that taxicab companies offer drivers access to health and disability insurance.

Vote Yes on Proposition J — for progressive, comprehensive reform to put more taxis on our streets, better serve San Francisco’s taxi customers, help stabilize the taxi industry, and help cab drivers secure their futures.

San Francisco Supervisors Support Proposition J

Proposition J provides comprehensive, progressive reform that is critical to the future of the City’s taxi industry. It is a fair measure, crafted after months of discussion and negotiation from the public, the industry — management and labor, and elected officials.

Prop J will:

• Put more cabs on the street during regular business hours — the times when taxi cabs are needed most.
• Increase the number of paratransit taxi cabs for seniors and disabled citizens.
• Provide for drivers access to group health and disability insurance.
• Limit fare charged to passengers by tying them to the rate of inflation.
• Provide opportunities for drivers to become permit owners by allowing the transfer of permits from current owners to qualified drivers.
• Place the Police Commission in charge of overseeing the transfer of operating permits.
• Generate revenue for the City without a tax increase.

Proposition J will bring long overdue reform to this important local industry.

Please join Supervisors Amos Brown, Tom Hsieh, Leslie Katz, Barbara Kaufman and Mable Teng in supporting this worthwhile measure.

Gate Control Benefits Drivers and Customers

Proposition J will finally put an end to the skyrocketing costs a driver must pay to rent a cab. In much in the same way that rent control protects renters, gate control protects taxi drivers.

In addition, any increases in driver rental fees are tied to 50 percent of the rate of inflation. This results in a fair, not arbitrary, rate system for the drivers.

As progressives who have fought for San Francisco’s tenants and renters, we urge you to give taxi cab drivers and customers the same protections renters get by voting YES on Proposition J.

No Profiteering — Vote Yes on Proposition J!

Proposition J will allow for the limited transferability of taxi permits, for a fee, to qualified drivers (five year minimum driving experience). It cleans up the current waiting list by adding specific eligibility requirements. It is explicitly written to give the Police Commission authority to conduct and approve the transfer of the permits — publicly, at open Commission hearings.

The City will assess a transfer fee of $10,000 or 20% of the sale price of any permit. This fee will go into the City’s general fund, adding revenue for important programs. All transfers will be done in the spirit of fairness and openness, under the watchful eye of the Police Commission. Prop J directs the Police Commission to protect against profiteering.

Proposition J is truly a progressive move in the right direction. Vote Yes on J.

Finally! Health Benefits for Cab Drivers

Proposition J, the progressive, comprehensive, taxi reform measure, will do what should have been done a long time ago — require cab companies to offer to drivers access to group health and disability benefits. Drivers who can rely on health and disability insurance will feel more secure about their jobs — and do a better job serving the public. Prop J also includes an important provision that protects drivers from losing their eligibility for a permit should they temporarily not be able to drive (e.g. because of pregnancy, HIV, disability, etc.).

Drivers will benefit from a more stable taxi industry. And, under Prop J, qualified drivers will receive an opportunity to invest in the industry and in their own future by purchasing their own permits.

Health Benefits — Employee Ownership — Better Service — A Stable Work Environment.

Prop J will restrict the permit waiting list in a fair way. Prop J requires five years of local driving experience — that empowers drivers who are committed to quality service and know the City well. The Police Commission will oversee the transfer and sale of permits to ensure fairness and prevent profiteering. A fee imposed on the transfer of each permit will be the greater of $10,000 or 20% of the purchase price — making this an important revenue generator for the City’s general fund at a time when San Francisco could use additional resources. Progressive Taxi Reform — Fairness for Drivers — Better Service for Residents

Taxi measures have been on the ballot for as long as we can remember. But none will reform the industry as comprehensively and progressively as Proposition J.

We support Prop J because it will:

• Create "peak use" permits that put more cabs on the street when you need them — during regular business hours.
• Add more paratransit permits to assist seniors and the disabled.
• Provide job stability and access to group health and disability benefits for taxi drivers.
• Restrict eligibility of the waiting list to qualified local drivers with a minimum of five years of taxi driving experience.
• Allow for qualified drivers to purchase operating permits from a current permit holder.

Join progressive San Franciscans from every community and neighborhood by voting Yes on Proposition J.

Proposition J Will Provide Better Service to the African American Community

Have you ever tried getting taxi service in Bayview/Hunters Point, Ingleside or Western Addition? Clearly the limited number of cabs on the street, and the high demand for them downtown, means taxi cab drivers will continue to ignore our neighborhoods.

Prop J will change that. It will create a more diverse workforce, with experienced drivers committed to the taxi industry as a full-time profession. Prop J allows newly qualified drivers to get a permit immediately — not wait 20 years to obtain one from the City. It puts more taxi cabs on the street, including more taxi cabs for our seniors and disabled. That means better service for our neighborhoods and better service for our community.

Join African American leaders in saying YES to progressive taxi reform — YES on Proposition J.

Proposition J Will Help Fund City Services Without Raising Your Taxes

Proposition J will generate new revenue for the City's general fund. Under Proposition J, each time a taxi operating permit is transferred, the City will collect a minimum of $10,000 in fees. Over the next several years, hundreds of these operating permits will be transferred. That means millions of dollars for the City's general fund.

Vote Yes on J. It means more revenue for City services.

The Taxi Cab Industry Support Proposition J

The taxi cab industry operates under guidelines that have not changed in nearly 20 years. Proposition J provides the reform necessary to address the current needs of drivers and customers.

A consensus document, crafted with input from the public, taxi cab drivers, and the taxi cab industry, Proposition J will help stabilize an industry that must provide customers with better service and stabilize working conditions for the whole industry.

Under Proposition J:
1. More cabs will be on the streets during busy times.
2. Drivers, for the first time, will have access to group health and disability insurance.
3. Qualified drivers will have the opportunity to purchase their own operating permits, rather than waiting 20 years to get one from the City. That means a more committed and more diverse taxi cab industry.
4. Any increases in driver rental fees will be tied to 50% of the rate of inflation.
5. Fare increases will be limited by and tied to the rate of inflation.

Please join us in supporting these important reforms that will improve and stabilize an industry that is important to San Francisco.

As an economist, I was asked to prepare a study on the business implications of Proposition J. After studying the far-reaching reforms addressed in Proposition J, it is my opinion that Proposition J will provide tremendous economic benefits for taxi cab drivers, permit holders and San Francisco, while reforming a system for the control and distribution of taxi cab permits that is archaic, inefficient and unfair.

Prop J will put more cabs on the streets. Companies which participate in paratransit for seniors and the disabled will receive special restricted permits to put more cabs on the street during peak times. The number of new permits equals 10% of each company fleet of cabs or 60 more permits. At least 60 new cabs will serve San Francisco residents when they need them most. This provision demonstrates how the proper market incentives can work to serve the public good.

Taxi cab drivers will have the opportunity to invest in themselves and control their own economic future by purchasing an operating permit in a monitored, fair market process. Currently, drivers must wait up to 20 years for a permit from the City or continue to rent a taxi from a permit holder. These drivers are essentially modern day serfs, with no long-term stake in or commitment to the taxi industry. Under Proposition J, drivers can buy their own permit immediately, invest in themselves and realize a return on that investment.

If Prop J passes, the City will collect a fee for the transfer of a permit. The fee will be a minimum of $10,000 or 20% of the sale price. Based on a market value calculation and a reasonable expectation of approximately 30 permits transferring a year, the additional revenue to the City is estimated at between $600,000 and $900,000.

The Hospitality and Visitor Industry: We Need More Cabs for Better Service.

Visitors contribute millions of dollars to the City's economy each year. The tourism and hospitality industry relies on a strong taxi cab system so our visitors can discover our City easily and safely. Access to the City's great neighborhoods, stores, restaurants, and points of interests is critical for San Francisco to maintain its position as an important visitor and convention destination.

Proposition J supports the tourism and hospitality industry in several ways. Most importantly, Prop J will put more taxi cabs on the street. In addition, it will help stabilize the taxi cab industry by encouraging more people to make driving a career, not just a transitional job. The reforms under Proposition J will attract more experienced, long-term drivers, increase the number of newer cabs and put more cabs on the street.

FAREPLAY FOR TAXI DRIVERS

A small group of taxicab drivers opposes Proposition J apparently in the misguided belief that experienced, qualified drivers should not have an opportunity to own their own operating permits — and secure their financial future.

Why else would these opponents to Proposition J prefer that a qualified driver wait for 20 years to obtain a permit from the City when one finally becomes available, rather than buy one today? During that 20-year wait, a qualified driver must continue to pay "rent" — in the form of a "gate fee" — to a cab company for the privilege of using its permit to drive a cab. This rent comes right out of a driver's pocket, reducing his or her income.

And, when that driver finally gets a permit after waiting 20 years, he or she may be too old to drive a cab. How will that benefit cab drivers?

Under Proposition J, a qualified driver can, in effect, own "a piece of the rock" by purchasing a permit today and keep a larger portion of fare income for himself or herself, rather than paying it to a cab company.

Why would someone pay rent for an apartment if he or she has an opportunity to buy a home? Similarly, why would a qualified driver want to continue to pay "rent" for a permit when he or she could buy one?

Give qualified drivers a chance to achieve the American dream by controlling their own financial destinies. Give them a chance to buy permits and keep more fare income for themselves. Give them a reason to commit to the taxi industry as a long-term profession to better serve all residents of San Francisco.

Vote Yes on Proposition J.

Proposition J is Good News for San Francisco’s Neighborhoods
Proposition J will put more cabs on the streets and in our neighborhoods — when and where we need them the most. It creates new peak use permits — permits for additional cabs to operate during regular business hours. Proposition J also creates an incentive for cab companies to provide more paratransit service, offering greater transit options for seniors and the disabled — mostly neighborhood residents who can’t always get a cab when they need one. These reforms are good news for our neighborhoods.

More cabs means better service for our neighborhoods — That’s why we urge you to vote Yes on Proposition J.

San Francisco Democrats Support Prop J — For Real Taxi Reform!
Democrats support progressive, comprehensive reform of the taxi industry. For drivers that will provide:
• Access for drivers to health and disability insurance.
• Better service to outer and neglected neighborhoods.
• Control of the lease/gate fees charged to taxi cab drivers, and fares charged to passengers, by tying increases to the rate of inflation.
• Revenue for the City’s general fund from fees on the sale of operating permits to qualified drivers.
• Put more cabs on the street during peak times.
• Clean up the waiting list of permit applicants for taxi cab permits by restricting eligibility to qualified drivers who have driven in San Francisco for five years.
• Direct the Police Commission to oversee the transfer process and prevent profiteering and unfair competition.

Prop J Enhances Transit Options for all San Franciscans
Many people would prefer to take taxi cabs to work, rather than drive, if they could count on the reliability and availability of taxi service. Proposition J will make that option a reality by improving taxi service in several ways:

- It will provide "peak time" operating permits, putting more taxis on the street, when and where you need them.
- It will provide more paratransit cabs for seniors and the disabled.
- It will give the Police Commission greater authority to penalize illegal and unlicensed vans, limos and taxis, ensuring public safety and safer cabs.
- It will encourage experienced drivers to stay in the industry by allowing them to purchase their own operating permits rather than wait 20 years to get one from the City.
- And, as a bonus, Prop J will generate more revenue for the City by assessing a minimum $10,000 transaction fee for every transferred permit.

As individuals committed to expanding transit options for all San Franciscans, we believe that Proposition J will improve taxi service by reforming the taxi industry. Vote YES on J.

Proposition J is Good for San Francisco's Businesses
From time to time, all businesses must change and adapt in order to secure a healthy future. The San Francisco taxi industry is no exception. To meet future challenges, taxi cab owners and drivers, working together with members of the public and City leaders, have crafted several common-sense reforms that will allow the taxi industry to remain a healthy, stable and vibrant part of our City's economy.

- Prop J will put more cabs on the street during the busiest times.
- Prop J will restrict future cab fare increases.
- Prop J will provide drivers much needed access to group health and disability benefits.
- Prop J will create an incentive to expand paratransit programs for our disabled and senior citizens.
- Prop J will give qualified, experienced drivers a greater opportunity to buy, rather than rent, their own operating permits. (They can, in effect, own their own business and control their own destiny.)

Prop J is good for our cab industry and our City. Please join us in supporting Prop J.

Dear Voters:
Can you believe it? Cab companies are up to no good again.
Under current San Francisco taxicab law, taxi permits (medallions) can only be issued to applicants on a waiting list. Applicants receiving permits today have been waiting for 14 years.
Proposition J bypasses the waiting list by issuing taxicab permits directly to big cab companies. After having waited 14 years, permit applicants will get nothing. Big cab companies hope to get these permits by misleading the public.

In the interest of honor, justice, and the American way, I ask you to please vote no on Proposition J.

PAID ARGUMENTS AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Proposition J is ill-conceived, unjust and financially unsound:
• Taxicab permit prices of $200,000 will result in a financial drain on the taxicab industry which will drive down the quality of service and the earnings of drivers.
• A new 20% sales tax on the transfer of taxicab permits, payable by the cab driver purchasing the permit, is confiscatory and unfair, and sets a bad precedent for taxing startup businesses.
Prop J is a step backwards and would close the door of opportunity to minorities, women and other drivers trying to break into the system.

Vote NO on J.

The true source of funds used for the publication fee of this argument was Committee Against Permit Profiteering.

Prop J is all about MONEY. Who gets it? Taxi permit holders get $200,000 each! Who pays it? Cab drivers and their passengers! How do permit holders justify this windfall? They don’t. They claim Prop J is about better service and opportunity for cab drivers. It isn’t. It’s about selling city-owned permits for huge profits.
Prop J pulls the rug out from under long-term cab drivers who have played by the rules. It totally reverses city policy and puts the taxi industry under the control of shady financiers instead of working cab drivers. No on J!

Committee Against Permit Profiteering
The true source of funds used for the publication fee of this argument was Committee Against Permit Profiteering.

Proposition J would permanently restrict elderly and disabled users of subsidized paratransit scrip to certain cab companies which choose to accept the scrip.
When federal welfare funds are cut next year, all San Franciscans will have to help support social services. Participation in the paratransit program should be required of ALL taxicabs as a condition of their licenses.

Vote NO on J — the scheme that locks out reform.

Edward G. Evans, Chair, Senior and Disabled Concerns Committee, North of Market Planning Coalition

(Affiliation for identification purposes only)

Labor condemns Proposition J, a scandalous get-rich-quick scheme put forward by cab companies and the taxicab permit holders who control them.

Cab companies have long treated their drivers with contempt, but this proposition takes the cake. It would force drivers to pay permit holders for city-owned taxicab permits which now are issued for free! The driver’s one way up in this dangerous, stressful and low-paying job will be blocked by an obstacle insurmountable for most: a permit purchase price in the neighborhood of $200,000.
Prop J’s other provisions are just window dressing for the permit scam. Drivers will earn less in real terms under the fraudulent gate control provisions of Prop J. The provision which is supposed to make health and disability benefits available to drivers is so vague and ambiguous as to be meaningless. (For that reason, it’s not even mentioned in the objective description at the head of this section.) Even if some cab companies do make coverage available, drivers will have to pay for every cent of it — and the price will be prohibitive.
Cab companies have done everything in their power to deprive drivers of employer-financed worker protections mandated by law: workers’ compensation, unemployment and disability benefits. Now they’re touting a poor substitute at the driver’s expense.

Labor urges you to vote NO! on Proposition J.

In an industry increasingly populated by people of color, Prop J is a shameless attempt by cab companies to disenfranchise those very drivers it purports to help. Only the independently wealthy driver will be able to afford a $200,000 permit.

Vote NO on Prop J.

ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR REGULATION OF TAXICAB OPERATIONS

An ordinance providing regulations, policies and procedures relating to the issuance of taxicab permits by the Police Commission; regulations for the establishment of rates of fare; limitations on lease, rental or hire agreements; provisions for limited transferability of permits; right to purchase health and disability coverage by taxicab drivers; providing for the issuance of regulations by the Chief of Police; respecting various provisions of Appendix F to the charter of the city and county and Part II, Chapter VIII, Article 16 of the San Francisco Municipal Code; and providing a severability clause.

Be it ordained by the people of the City and County of San Francisco: Section 1. The people of the city and county find that:
(a) Better Service. It is in the public interest to promote better taxi service for all San Franciscans. More taxis are needed during peak use times. Further, an emphasis on paratransit (disabled and senior transit services) is at the heart of this effort to reform the current service structure.
(b) Security and Opportunity for Cab Drivers. It is in the public interest to enhance the security of and economic opportunities for drivers within the taxi industry by creating guidelines as to how much drivers can be charged for rental and lease fees of taxis by the taxi companies and cooperatives. In addition, cab drivers should be able to participate in medical and insurance programs. Security and opportunities in the industry must include all of its stake holders: taxi companies, taxi cooperatives, permit holders, drivers and the public.
(c) Stable Industry. In order to promote a more stable taxi industry, it is important to encourage young people to join the industry. Since the passage of Proposition K in 1978, turnover of taxi permits (licenses to operate taxis) has been slower than expected, discouraging young people from joining the industry. The line for permit applicants is backlogged, forcing an applicant to wait twenty years to obtain a permit. In order to achieve greater participation, we need a more rapid turnover of taxicab permits. The current system has created absentee owners who have forced up the price of permit fees. Drivers pay more for rental and lease fees paid to cab companies, while their meter rates have remained frozen.
This public interest ordinance reforming taxicab operations addresses all of these issues.
Section 2. Taxicab Permits.
(a) In addition to those requirements and qualifications provided by law, the Police Commission shall only issue a permit to operate a taxicab to a natural person who has for five (5) of the ten (10) years immediately preceding the issuance of the permit actively driven a taxicab in the city and county, on a full-time basis; provided, however, permits may be issued pursuant to Section 7 of this Ordinance.
(b) Whether submitted before or after the effective date of this Ordinance, applications for taxicab permits shall be processed and considered in the order of their position on the list of applicants maintained by the Chief of Police. Such applications do not constitute nor do they create vested property interests in the applicant but are instead in the nature of an expectancy.
(c) Qualifications for and limitations upon the issuance of permits to operate a taxicab, including the active driver provisions of applicable law, shall continue to have no effect upon those natural persons who held one or more taxicab permits on June 6, 1978.
(d) Subject to approval of the Chief of Police, which approval shall not unreasonably be withheld, each color scheme permit holder may employ a reasonable number of managers to oversee its operations who also hold a permit to operate a taxicab. During the period of such employment, the requirement of active driving set forth in Appendix F to the charter of the city and county shall, if applicable, be suspended.
(e) The Police Commission may in its discretion suspend the requirement of active driving set forth in Appendix F to the charter of the city and county, if applicable, during any periods of disability or illness, incapacity due to age or other similar condition.
Section 3. Limitations on Rates of Fare and Related Charges.
(a) Any and all fees charged by or paid to a taxicab permit holder, whether by hire, rental or lease agreement in whatever form, for the privilege of operating said permit or permits (hereinafter "lease fees") and any and all fees charged or paid by a driver, directly or indirectly, for the privilege of operating a taxicab permit for a specified period (hereinafter "operating fees") shall be governed by and are hereafter subject to the provisions of this section.
(b) Except as otherwise expressly provided in this section, no permit holder shall charge or be paid lease fees in excess of those being charged by or paid to said permit holder as of May 1, 1996, and no driver may be charged or compelled to pay operating fees in excess of those in effect as of May 1, 1996.
(c) Commencing March 1, 1997, and biennially thereafter, the Controller shall determine and certify the percentage of increase or decrease in the cost of living during the two-year period ending January 1 of that same year, as shown by the consumer price index (CPI), United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, Monthly Labor Review, or a successor publication. The rates of fare for taxicabs shall then be adjusted in accordance with the percentage change in the CPI, rounded upwards to the nearest cent, to take effect on April 1.
No single adjustment shall exceed 7.5% after aggregating the cumulative percentage change in the CPI since the last adjustment.
(d) On the same biennial schedule as rates of fare are adjusted, lease fees and operating fees may be adjusted upward and shall be adjusted downward if applicable, by no more than one-half of the percentage change certified by the Controller for rates of fare for taxicabs, rounded upwards to the nearest dollar.
(e) This section shall have no application to bona fide collective bargaining agreements setting compensation and benefits paid to taxicab drivers.
(f) When a taxicab permit or color scheme permit is first acquired after May 1, 1996, lease fees and operating fees shall not be charged or paid in excess of the established rate thereof as of May 1, 1996, adjusted upward or downward as appropriate under subsection 3(a) above.
With the assistance of the Controller, the Chief of Police shall determine the established rate for lease fees calculated monthly, and operating fees on a per shift basis, by ascertaining the average rates therefor as of May 1, 1996. These rates shall be determined by means of a survey of the existing taxicab fleet conducted within sixty days of the effective date of this ordinance.
Section 4. Transferability of Permits.
(a) For a two year period from and after the effective date of this Ordinance, a person who has held a taxicab permit for at least ten years may transfer the permit for consideration to a natural person who (i) as of May 1, 1996 held a position on the list of applicants for taxicab permits maintained by the Chief of Police, and (ii) at the time of the transfer would be qualified for the issuance of a permit to operate a taxicab under subsection 2(a) above and applicable law.
No transfer may be made to a person who already possesses a taxicab permit, nor may any permit so transferred be maintained in more than one name.
(b) In order to transfer a taxicab permit as herein provided, the permit holder shall submit an application therefor to the Police Commission. On at least a biannual basis, the Commission (or its delegate) shall conduct a noticed public meeting where each permit for which an application for transfer has been received shall be made available to the person who (i) satisfies the criteria set forth in subsection 4(a) above, and (ii) offers the highest qualified bid therefor.
(c) No permit may be transferred unless and until (i) the city and county receives from the successful bidder a transfer fee in the amount of ten thousand dollars, or twenty percent of the consideration to be paid for the transfer of the permit, whichever is greater, and (ii) the Police Commission approves by resolution the transfer.
(d) The Police Commission shall issue guidelines to assist in determining whether to accept a bid as qualified under this Ordinance. The guidelines shall include provisions designed to protect against profiteering in the transfer of permits and afford the maximum practicable access to the transfer process.
(e) After the expiration of the two year period provided in subsection 4(a) above, a permit may be transferred to a natural person who, at the time of the transfer, holds a position on the list of applicants for taxicab permits and who would be

qualified for the issuance of a permit to operate a taxicab under applicable law.

(f) Upon the death of a permit holder, the permit(s) held shall revert to the city and county by law, subject to reissuance at the discretion of the Police Commission.

(g) Permits authorized by Section 7 of this Ordinance shall not be subject to transfer as provided herein.

Section 5. Health and Disability Insurance.

All color scheme permit holders shall provide to persons engaged to operate taxicab permits, including permit holders, the opportunity to participate in group health and disability insurance programs sponsored or afforded by the color scheme permit holder.

Section 6. Rules and Regulations.

The Police Commission shall have the exclusive authority, subject to approval by the Board of Supervisors, to formulate, propose and adopt appropriate rules and regulations for the safe, efficient and lawful operation of taxicab permits, including provisions affecting training, education and testing of drivers; insurance; record keeping; and equipment deemed necessary for the safe transport of both drivers and passengers. The Commission shall also have the exclusive authority, subject to approval by the Board of Supervisors, to propose and adopt fee schedules consistent herewith for the issuance and renewal of various permits and licenses required by law for the operation of taxicabs.

Section 7. Restricted Permits.

(a) Subject to the restrictions set forth in this section, the Police Commission is hereby directed to issue permits to operate a taxicab in the name of each color scheme permit holder that, on a quarterly basis, is certified by the paratransit broker as a participating in good standing in the paratransit program of the city and county. These permits shall be subject to immediate revocation by resolution of the Police Commission in the event the permit holder is decertified by the paratransit broker.

(b) The number of permits to be issued under this section shall at no time exceed 10% of the total taxicab fleet, calculated as of May 1, 1996. No color scheme permit holder shall be issued permits that exceed in number 10% of the total number of permits operated by the particular color scheme, calculated quarterly by the Chief of Police, rounded to the next lowest whole number. If fewer than 25 permits are operated, no permits as provided in this section shall be issued to the color scheme permit holder.

(c) Permits as in this section provided shall be continuously operated from 0600 on Monday through and including 0600 on Saturday, holidays excluded, and at no other times.

Section 8. Penalties.

(a) Any person violating a provision of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor or an infraction, to be charged in the discretion of the District Attorney. Upon conviction of an infraction, the maximum fine is $100 and/or community service. If convicted of a misdemeanor, the fine is $500, community service, and/or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than seven days.

(b) In the event that any person operating a limousine, van or unlicensed taxicab is found in violation of permitting or operational provisions of Part II, Chapter VIII, Article 16 of the San Francisco Code (Police Code), specifically Sections 1078, 1140 and related sections thereof, the person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine up to $1,000, imprisonment in the county jail for six months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

(c) Any person found in violation of the provisions of Section 3 of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine up to $5,000, imprisonment in the county jail for six months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 9. Severability.

If any section, subsection, subdivision, paragraph, clause or phrase of this Ordinance or any part thereof is for any reason held unconstitutional, invalid or ineffective by a court of competent jurisdiction, such decision shall not affect the validity or effectiveness of the remaining portions of this Ordinance or any part thereof. It is hereby declared that this Ordinance and each section, subsection, subdivision, paragraph, clause or phrase thereof, would have been passed irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, subdivisions, paragraphs, clauses or phrases had been declared unconstitutional, invalid or ineffective.

Section 10. Interpretation.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, rule or regulation to the contrary, the provisions of this ordinance shall govern and control the regulation and operation of taxicabs, taxicab permits and the other subjects generally and specifically referred to herein.

Section 11. Effective Date.

The effective date of this Ordinance is December 15, 1996.

2. Put a 32¢ stamp where indicated.
3. Drop your completed application into a mailbox.
Within two weeks, you will receive your Absentee Ballot.

YOUR POLLING PLACE HAS PROBABLY CHANGED

We have increased the number of polling places for 1996. For the Mayoral elections we had 550 polling places. For the Presidential election, there will be 650 polling places. The location of your polling place is shown on the label on the back cover of the Voter Information Pamphlet which was sent to you.

Of the 7,000+ telephone calls received by the Department of Elections on Election Day, almost all are from voters asking where they should go to vote.

Remember on Election Day, take the back cover of your Voter Information Pamphlet with you. The address of your polling place is in the bottom left corner on the back cover of the Voter Information Pamphlet that was sent to you. You may also wish to write down the address of your polling place in the space provided on the Polling Place Card.

Voters who have access to the Internet, may look up their polling place location at http://www.ci.sf.ca.us/elections.
